^{18^c}Then was the LORD jealous for his land, and ^dhad pity on his people. ¹⁹And the LORD answered and said unto his people, Behold, ^eI will send you corn, and wine, and oil, ^eand ye shall be satisfied therewith: and I will no more make you a reproach among the nations: ²⁰but I will remove far off from you the northern army, and will drive him into a land barren and desolate, ⁶his forepart ⁷into ^fthe eastern sea, and his hinder part ⁷into ^gthe western sea; and ^hhis stink shall come up, and his ill savour shall come up, because he hath done great things. ²¹Fear not, O land, be glad and rejoice; for ⁱthe LORD hath done great things. ²²Be not afraid, ^jye beasts of the field; for ^kthe pastures of the wilderness do spring, ¹for the tree beareth her fruit, the fig tree and ^lthe vine do yield their strength. ^{23^m}Be glad then, ye children of Zion, and ^mrejoice in the LORD your God: for he giveth you ⁿthe former rain ⁸in just measure, and he causeth to come down for you the rain, ⁿthe former rain and ^othe latter rain, ⁹in the first month. ²⁴And the floors shall be full of wheat, and the fats shall overflow with wine and oil. ²⁵And I will restore to you the years that ^pthe locust hath eaten, ^pthe cankerworm, and ^pthe caterpillar, and ^pthe palmerworm, ^qmy great army which I sent among you. ²⁶And ^rye shall eat in plenty and be satisfied, and shall praise the name of the LORD your God, that hath dealt wondrously with you: and my people ^sshall never be ashamed. ^{27^t}And ye shall know that I am ^uin the midst of Israel,

and that ^vI am the LORD your God, ^wand there is none else: and my people ^sshall never be ashamed.

28^x And it shall come to pass afterward, that ^yI will pour out my spirit upon all flesh; and ^zyour sons and ^ayour daughters shall prophesy, your old men shall dream dreams, your young men shall see visions: 29 and ^balso upon the servants and upon the handmaids in those days will I pour out my spirit. 30 And I will shew ^cwonders in the heavens ^cand in the earth, blood, and fire, and pillars of smoke. 31 ^dThe sun shall be turned into darkness, ^eand the moon into blood, ^fbefore the great and terrible day of the LORD come. 32 And it shall come to pass, that ^gwhosoever shall call on the name of the LORD shall be delivered: ^hfor in mount Zion and in Jerusalem there shall be those that escape, as the LORD hath said, and ⁱamong ⁱthe remnant those whom the LORD doth call. 1 For, be-

3 hold, ^jin those days, and in that time, when I shall bring again the captivity of Judah and Jerusalem, 2 ^kI will gather all nations, and will bring them down into ^lthe valley of Jehoshaphat; and ^mI will plead with them there for my people and for my heritage Israel, whom they have scattered among the nations, and parted my land. 3 And ⁿthey have cast lots for my people: and have given a boy for an harlot, and sold a girl for wine, that they might drink. 4 Yea, and what are ye to me, ^oO Tyre, and Zidon, and all ^pthe regions of Philistia? 2 will ye render me recompence? and if ye recompense me, swiftly and speedily ^qwill I return your ³recompence upon your own head. 5 Forasmuch ^ras ye have taken my silver and my gold, and have carried into your temples my goodly pleasant things; 6 ^sthe children also of Judah and the children of Jerusalem have ye sold unto the sons of the Grecians, that ye might remove them far from their border: 7 behold, I will stir them up out of the place whither ye have sold them, and ^twill return your ²recompence upon your own head; 8 and I will sell your sons and your daughters into the hand of the children of Judah, and they shall sell them to the men of ^tSheba, to a nation far off: for the LORD hath spoken it.

9 Proclaim ye this among the nations; ⁴prepare war: stir up the mighty men; let all the men of war draw near, let them come up. 10 ^vBeat your plowshares into swords, and ^vyour pruning-hooks into spears: let the weak say, I am strong. 11 ⁵Waste ye, and come, all ye nations round about, and gather yourselves together: ^xthither cause thy mighty ones to come down, O LORD. 12 Let the nations bestir themselves, and come up to ^ythe valley of ⁶Jehoshaphat: ^zfor there will I sit to judge all the nations round about. 13 ^aPut ye in the sickle, ^bfor the ⁷harvest is ripe: ^ccome, ⁸tread ye; ^cfor the winepress is full, the fats overflow; for their wickedness is great. 14 ^dMultitudes, multitudes in the valley of decision! for ^ethe day of the LORD is near in the valley of decision. 15 ^fThe sun and the moon are darkened, and the stars withdraw their shining. 16 ^gAnd the LORD shall roar from Zion, and ^gutter his voice from Jerusalem; ^hand the heavens and the earth shall shake: but the LORD will be ⁱa refuge unto his people, and a strong hold to the children of Israel. 17 ^jSo shall ye know that I am the LORD your God, ^kdwelling in Zion ^jmy holy mountain: then shall Jerusalem be holy, and ^mthere shall no strangers pass through her any more. 18 And it shall come to pass in that day, ⁿthat the mountains shall drop down sweet wine, and the hills shall flow with milk, and ^oall the brooks of Judah shall flow with waters; ^pand a fountain shall come forth of the house of the LORD, and shall water ⁹the valley of ^qShittim. 19 ^rEgypt shall be a desolation, and ^sEdom shall be a desolate wilderness, ^tfor the violence done to the children of Judah, because they have shed innocent blood in their land. 20 ^uBut Judah shall ¹⁰abide for ever, and Jerusalem from generation to generation. 21 And ^vI will ¹¹cleanse their blood that I have not cleansed: ^kfor the LORD dwelleth in Zion.

I THE words of a Amos, who was among the b herdmen of c Tekoa, which he saw concerning Israel d in the days of e Uzziah king of Judah, and in the days of f Jeroboam the son of Joash king of Israel, two years before g the earthquake.

2 And he said, h The LORD shall roar from Zion, and utter his voice from Jerusalem; and i the ¹pastures of the shepherds shall mourn, and the j top of k Carmel shall wither.

3 Thus saith the LORD: l For three transgressions of m Damascus, yea, for four, m I will not ²turn away ³the punishment thereof; because they have threshed n Gilead with threshing instruments of iron: 4 but I will send a fire into the house of p Hazael, and it shall devour the palaces of p Ben-hadad. 5 And I will q break the bar of m Damascus, and cut off r the inhabitant from the valley of s Aven, and him that holdeth the sceptre from t the house of s Eden: and the people of t Syria shall go into captivity unto u Kir, saith the LORD.

6 Thus saith the LORD: v For three transgressions of v Gaza, yea, for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because w they carried away captive z the whole people, to deliver them up to Edom: 7 but I will send a fire on the wall of v Gaza, and it shall devour the palaces thereof: 8 and I will cut off the inhabitant from x Ashdod, and him that holdeth the sceptre from Ashkelon; and I will turn mine hand against Ekron, and the remnant of the Philistines shall perish, saith the Lord God.

9 Thus saith the LORD: y For three transgressions of z Tyre, yea, for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because they delivered up z the whole people to Edom, and remembered not ⁸the brotherly covenant: 10 but I will send a fire on the wall of z Tyre, and it shall devour the palaces thereof.

11 Thus saith the LORD: y For three transgressions of a Edom, yea, for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; a because he did pursue his brother with the sword, b and c did cast off all pity, c and his anger did tear perpetually, c and he kept his wrath for ever: 12 but I will send a fire upon d Teman, and it shall devour the palaces of e Bozrah.

13 Thus saith the LORD: y For three transgressions of the children of f Ammon, yea, for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because g they have ripped up the women with child of h Gilead, that they might enlarge their border: 14 but I will kindle a fire in the wall of i Rabbah, j and it shall devour the palaces thereof, with shouting in the day of battle, j with a tempest in the day of the whirlwind: 15 and k their king shall go into captivity, he and his princes together, saith the LORD.

1 Thus saith the LORD: y For three transgressions of l Moab, yea, for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because m he burned the bones of the king of Edom into lime: 2 but I will send a fire upon Moab, and it shall devour the palaces of n Kerioth; and Moab shall die with tumult, with shouting, and with the sound of the trumpet: 3 and o I will cut off the judge from the midst thereof, and will slay o all the princes thereof with him, saith the LORD.

4 Thus saith the LORD: p For three transgressions of Judah, yea, for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; q because they have rejected the law of the LORD, and have not kept his statutes, and r their lies have caused them to err, after the which their fathers did walk: 5 but s I will send a fire upon Judah, and it shall devour the palaces of Jerusalem.

6 Thus saith the LORD: p For three transgressions of Israel, yea, for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because t they have sold the righteous for u silver, and the needy for a pair of shoes: ⁷ that pant after ^v the dust of the earth on the head of the poor, and ^w turn aside the way of the meek: and ^x a man and his father will go unto the same ¹ maid, to profane my holy name: ⁸ and they lay themselves down beside every altar upon clothes ^v taken in pledge, and in the house of their God they drink the wine of such as have been fined. ⁹ Yet ² destroyed I the Amorite before them, ^a whose height was like the height of the cedars, and he was strong as the oaks; yet ^b I destroyed his fruit from above, and his roots from beneath. ¹⁰ ^c Also I brought you up out of the land of Egypt, ^d and led you forty years in the wilderness, ^e to possess the land of the Amorite. ¹¹ And I raised up of your sons for prophets, and of your young men for ^e Nazirites. Is it not even thus, O ye children of Israel? saith the LORD. ¹² But ye gave the Nazirites ^f wine to drink; and commanded the prophets, saying, ^g Prophecy not. ¹³ Behold, ² I will press ^{you} in your place, as a cart presseth that is full of sheaves. ¹⁴ ^h And ³ flight shall perish from the swift, ⁱ and the strong shall not strengthen his force, ^j neither shall the mighty deliver ^k himself: ¹⁵ neither shall he stand that handleth the bow; and he that is ^j swift of foot shall not deliver ^{himself}: ^k neither shall he that rideth the horse deliver ⁴ himself: ¹⁶ and he that is courageous among the mighty shall flee away naked in that day, saith the LORD.

¹ Hear this word that the LORD hath spoken against you, O children of Israel, against ^m the whole family which I brought up out of the land of Egypt, saying, ² ⁿ You only have I known of all the families of the earth: ^o therefore I will visit upon you all your iniquities. ³ Shall two walk together, except they have ⁵ agreed? ⁴ Will a lion roar in the forest, when he hath no prey? will a young lion cry out of his den, if he have taken nothing? ⁵ Can a bird fall in a snare upon the earth, where no gin is set for him? shall a snare spring up from the ground, and have taken nothing at all? ⁶ ^p Shall the trumpet be blown in a city, and the people not be afraid? ^q shall evil befall a city, and the LORD hath not done it? ⁷ Surely the Lord God will do nothing, ^r but he revealeth his secret unto his servants the prophets. ⁸ The lion hath roared, who will not fear? ^s the Lord God hath spoken, who can but prophesy?

4^a Come to Beth-el, and transgress; to ^rGilgal, and multiply transgression; ^qand bring your ^ssacrifices every morning, and your tithes every three days; ⁵and ¹offer a sacrifice of thanksgiving of ^tthat which is leavened, and proclaim ^ufreewill offerings and publish them: ^vfor this liketh you, O ye children of Israel, saith the LORD God. 6 And I also have given you cleanness of teeth in all your cities, and ^wwant of bread in all your places: ^xyet have ye not returned unto me, saith the LORD. 7 And I also ^yhave withholden the rain from you, when there were yet three months to the harvest: ^zand I caused it to rain upon one city, and caused it not to rain upon another city: one piece was rained upon, and the piece whereupon it rained not withered. 8 So two or three cities ^awandered unto one city to drink water, and were not satisfied: ^xyet have ye not returned unto me, saith the LORD. 9^b I have smitten you with blasting and mildew: the multitude of your gardens and your vineyards and your fig trees and your olive trees hath ^cthe palmerworm devoured: ^xyet have ye not returned unto me, saith the LORD. 10 I have sent among you the pestilence ^dafter the manner of Egypt: your young men have I slain with the sword, ²and ^ehave carried away your horses; and ^fI have made the stink of your camp to come up even into your nostrils: ^xyet have ye not returned unto me, saith the LORD. 11 I have overthrown ^{some} among you, ^gas when God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah, and ye were ^has a brand plucked out of the burning: ^xyet have ye not returned unto me, saith the LORD. 12 Therefore thus will I do unto thee, O Israel: and because I will do this unto thee, prepare to meet thy God, O Israel. 13 For, lo, ⁱhe that formeth the mountains, and createth the wind, and ^jdeclareth unto man what is his thought, ^kthat maketh the morning darkness, and ^ltreadeth upon the high places of the earth; ^mthe LORD, the God of hosts, is his name.

1 Hear ye this word which I ⁿtake up for a lamentation over you, O house of Israel. 2^o The virgin of Israel is fallen; she shall no more rise: she ³is cast down upon her land; there is none to raise her up. 3 For thus saith the Lord God: The city that went forth a thousand shall have an hundred left, and that which went forth an hundred shall have ten left, to the house of Israel. 4 For thus saith the LORD unto the house of Israel, ^pSeek ye me, and ye shall live: ⁵but seek not ^qBeth-el, nor enter into ^rGilgal, and pass not to ^sBeer-sheba: for ^tGilgal shall surely go into captivity, and ^uBeth-el shall ⁴come to nought. 6^p Seek the LORD, and ye shall live; ^slest he break out like fire in the house of Joseph, and it devour and there be none to quench it in ^uBeth-el: 7^t ye who turn judgement to wormwood, and cast down righteousness to the earth; ⁸seek him that maketh the ^uPleiades and Orion, and turneth ⁵the shadow of death into the morning, and ^vmaketh the day dark with night; that ^wcalleth for the waters of the sea, ^wand poureth them out upon the face of the earth; ^xthe LORD is his name; 9^y that ⁶bringeth sudden destruction upon the strong, so that destruction cometh upon the fortress. 10^z They hate him that reproveth ^ain the gate, and they ^babhor him that speaketh uprightly. 11 Forasmuch therefore as ye ^ctrample upon the poor, and take exactions from him of wheat: ^dye have built houses of hewn stone, but ye shall not dwell in them; ^dye have planted pleasant vineyards, but ye shall not drink the wine thereof. 12 For I know how manifold are your transgressions and how mighty are your sins; ye that afflict the just, that ^etake a bribe, and that ^fturn aside the needy ^ain the gate from their right. 13 Therefore he that is prudent shall ^gkeep silence in such a time; ^hfor it is an evil time. 14ⁱ Seek good, and not evil, that ye may live: and so the LORD, ^jthe God of hosts, shall be with you, as ye say. 15^k Hate the evil, and love the good, and establish judgement ^ain the gate: ^lit may be that the LORD, the God of hosts, will be gracious unto the remnant of Joseph. ¹⁶Therefore thus saith the LORD, ^jthe God of hosts, the Lord: ^mWailing shall be in all the broad ways; and they shall say in all the streets, Alas! alas! and they shall call the husbandman to mourning, ¹and ^msuch as are skilful of lamentation to wailing. ¹⁷And in all vineyards shall be wailing: for ⁿI will pass through the midst of thee, saith the LORD. ¹⁸Woe unto you that desire ^othe day of the LORD! wherefore would ye have the day of the LORD? ^pit is darkness, and not light. ¹⁹^qAs if a man did flee from a lion, and a bear met him; ²or went into the house and leaned his hand on the wall, and a serpent bit him. ²⁰^pShall not the day of the LORD be darkness, and not light? even very dark, and no brightness in it? ²¹^rI hate, I despise your feasts, and I ^swill take no delight in your solemn assemblies. ²²^sYea, though ye offer me ⁴your burnt offerings and meal offerings, I will not accept them: neither will I regard the ⁵peace offerings of your fat beasts. ²³Take thou away from me the noise of thy songs; for I will not hear ^tthe melody of thy viols. ²⁴But let judgement roll down as waters, and righteousness as a ⁶mighty stream. ²⁵^uDid ye bring unto me sacrifices and ⁷offerings in the wilderness forty years, O house of Israel? ²⁶^vYea, ^wye ⁸have borne ⁹Siccuth your king and ¹⁰Chiun your images, the star of your god, which ye made to yourselves. ²⁷^xTherefore will I cause you to go into captivity beyond ^yDamascus, saith the LORD, whose name is ^jthe God of hosts.

6 ¹^zWoe to them that are at ease in Zion, and to them that are secure in ^athe mountain of Samaria, ^bthe notable men of ^cthe chief of the nations, to whom the house of Israel come! ²Pass ye unto ^dCalneh, and see; and from thence go ye to ^eHamath the great: then go down to ^fGath of the Philistines: ^gbe they better than these kingdoms? or is their border greater than your border? ³^hYe

that put far away the evil day, ⁱand cause the ¹¹seat of violence to come near; ⁴^jthat lie upon ^kbeds of ivory, ^jand stretch themselves upon their couches, and eat the lambs out of the flock, ^land the calves out of the midst of the stall; ⁵^mthat sing idle songs to the sound of the viol; ^mthat devise for themselves instruments of music, ¹²like David; ⁶ⁿthat drink ¹³wine in bowls, and ^oanoint themselves with the chief ointments; but they are not grieved for the affliction of Joseph. ⁷^pTherefore now shall they go captive with the first that go captive, and the revelry of them that stretched themselves shall pass away. ⁸^qThe Lord GOD hath sworn by himself, saith the LORD, the God of hosts: I abhor ^rthe ¹⁴excellency of Jacob, and hate his palaces: ^stherefore will I deliver up the city with all that is therein. ⁹And it shall come to pass, ^tif there remain ten men in one house, that they shall die. ¹⁰And when a man's ¹⁵uncle shall take him up, ^ueven he that burneth him, to bring out the bones out of the house, and shall say unto him that is in the innermost parts of the house, Is there yet any with thee? and he shall say, No; then shall he say, ^vHold thy peace; for we may not make mention of the name of the LORD. ¹¹For, behold, the LORD commandeth, and ¹⁶^wthe great house shall be smitten with breaches, and the little house with clefts. ¹²Shall horses run upon the rock? will one plow ^{there} with oxen? ^xthat ye have turned judgement into ^ygall, ^xand the fruit of righteousness into wormwood: ¹³ye which rejoice in a thing of nought, which say, ^zHave we not taken to us horns by our own strength? ¹⁴For, behold, ^aI will raise up against you a nation, O house of Israel, saith the LORD, the God of hosts; and they shall afflict you from the ^bentering in of Hamath unto the brook of ^cthe Arabah.

Thus saith the Lord God ^a concerning Edom: ^b We have heard tidings from the LORD, and an ambassador is sent among the nations, saying, Arise ye, and let us rise up against her in battle. ² Behold, I have made thee small among the nations: thou art greatly despised. ³ ^c The pride of thine heart hath deceived thee, O thou that dwellest in the clefts of ¹ the rock, whose habitation is high; ^d that saith in his heart, Who shall bring me down to the ground? ⁴ Though thou mount on high as the eagle, and though thy nest be set among the stars, I will bring thee down from thence, saith the LORD. ⁵ If ^e thieves came to thee, if robbers by night, (how art thou cut off!) would they not steal till they had enough? if ^e grapegatherers came to thee, would they not leave some gleanings? ⁶ How are ² the things of Esau searched out! how are his hidden treasures sought up! ⁷ All the men of thy confederacy have ³ brought thee on thy way, even to the border: the men that were at peace with thee have deceived thee, and prevailed against thee; ⁴ they that eat thy bread lay a ⁵ snare under thee: there is none understanding ⁶ in him. ⁸ Shall I not in that day, saith the LORD, destroy the wise men out of Edom, and understanding out of ^j the mount of Esau? ⁹ And thy mighty men, ^k O Teman, shall be dismayed, to the end that every one may be cut off from ^j the mount of Esau by slaughter. ¹⁰ For the violence done to thy brother Jacob shame shall cover thee, ^m and thou shalt be cut off for ever. ¹¹ ⁿ In the day that thou stoodest ⁷ on the other side, ^o in the day that strangers carried away his ⁸ substance, and foreigners entered into his gates, ^p and cast lots upon Jerusalem, even thou wast as one of them. ¹² But look not thou on the day of thy

JONAH.

1 Now the word of the LORD I came unto ^aJonah the son of Amittai, saying, 2 Arise, go to ^bNineveh, that ^cgreat city, and cry against it; ^dfor their wickedness is come up before me. 3 But Jonah ^erose up to flee unto ^fTarshish from the presence of the LORD; and he went down to ^gJoppa, and found a ship going to ^fTarshish: so he paid the fare thereof, and went down into it, to go with them unto ^fTarshish ^hfrom the presence of the LORD. 4 But ⁱthe LORD ¹sent out a great wind into the sea, and there was a mighty tempest in the sea, so that the ship was like ^jto be broken. 5 Then the mariners were afraid, and ^kcried every man unto his god; and ^lthey cast forth the wares that were in the ship into the sea, to lighten it unto them. But Jonah was gone down into the innermost parts of the ship; and he lay, and was fast asleep. 6 So the shipmaster came to him, and said unto him, What meanest thou, O sleeper? arise, ^kcall upon thy God, ^mif so be that God will think upon us, that we perish not. 7 And they said every one to his fellow, Come, and let us ⁿcast lots, that we may know for whose cause this evil is upon us. So they cast lots, and the lot fell upon Jonah. 8 Then said they unto him, Tell us, we pray thee, for whose cause this evil is upon us; what is thine occupation? and whence comest thou? what is thy country? and of what people art thou? 9 And he said unto them, I am an Hebrew; and I fear ^othe LORD, the God of heaven, ^pwhich hath made the sea and the dry land. 10 Then were the men exceedingly afraid, and said unto him, What is this that thou hast done? For the men knew that ^hhe fled from the presence of the LORD, because he had told them. 11 Then said they unto him, What shall we do unto thee, that the sea may be calm unto us? for the sea grew more and more tempestuous. 12 And he said unto them, Take me up, and cast me forth into the sea; so shall the sea be calm unto you; ^qfor I know that for my sake this great tempest is upon you. 13 Nevertheless the men rowed hard to get them back to the land; but they could not: for the sea grew more and more tempestuous against them. 14 Wherefore they cried unto the LORD, and said, We beseech thee, O LORD, we beseech thee, let us not perish for this man's life, and ^rlay not upon us innocent blood: ^sfor thou, O LORD, hast done as it pleased thee. 15 So they took up Jonah, and cast him forth into the sea: ^tand the sea ceased from her raging. 16 Then the men feared the LORD exceedingly; ^uand they offered a sacrifice unto the LORD, ^vand made vo^{cs}. 17 And the LORD prepared a great fish to swallow up Jonah; ^wand Jonah was in the belly of the fish three days and three nights. 1 Then 2 Jonah prayed unto the LORD his God out of the fish's belly.

2 And he said,
^xI called ²by reason of mine affliction unto the LORD,
And he answered me;
^yOut of the belly of ³hell cried I, ^zAnd thou heardest my voice.

The deep was round about me;
The weeds were wrapped about my head.
6 I went down to the bottoms of the mountains;
The earth with her bars closed upon me for ever:
Yet hast thou brought up my life ^gfrom ⁴the pit, O LORD my God.
7 ^hWhen my soul fainted within me, I remembered the LORD:

10 And the LORD spake unto the fish, and it vomited out Jonah upon the dry land.

¹ And the word of the LORD came unto Jonah the second time, saying, 2 Arise, go unto

ⁿ Nineveh, that great city, and I preach unto it the preaching that I bid thee. 3 So Jonah arose, and went unto Nineveh, according to the word of the LORD. Now ⁿ Nineveh was ^{2o} an exceeding great city, of three days' journey. 4 And Jonah began to enter into the city a day's journey, and he cried, and said, Yet forty days, and ^p Nineveh shall be overthrown. 5 ^q And the people of Nineveh believed God; ^r and they proclaimed a fast, and ^s put on sackcloth, from the greatest of them even to the least of them. 6 ^s And the tidings reached the king of Nineveh, and ^t he arose from his throne, and laid his robe from him, and covered him with sackcloth,

^u and sat in ashes. 7 And he made proclamation and ⁴ published through Nineveh ^v by the decree of the king and his nobles, saying, Let neither man nor ^w beast, herd nor flock, taste any thing: let them not feed, nor drink water: 8 but let them be covered with sackcloth, both man and ^w beast, and let them cry mightily unto God: yea, ^x let them turn every one from his evil way, and from ^y the violence that is in their hands. 9 ^z Who knoweth whether God will not turn and repent, ^a and turn away from his fierce anger, that we perish not? 10 And God saw their works, ^b that they turned from their evil way; ^b and God repented of the evil, which he said he would do unto them; and he did it not. ¹ But it displeased Jonah exceedingly, and ^c he was angry.

4 ² And he prayed unto the LORD, and said, I pray thee, O LORD, was not this my saying, when I was yet in my country? ^d Therefore I

⁵ hastened to flee unto Tarshish: for I knew that ^e thou art a gracious God, and full of compassion, slow to anger, and plenteous in mercy, ^e and repentest thee of the evil. 3 ^j Therefore now, O LORD, take, I beseech thee, my life from me; ^g for it is better for me to die than to live.

4 And the LORD said, ^{6h} Doest thou well to be angry? 5 Then Jonah went out of the city, and sat on the east side of the city, and there ⁱ made him a booth, and sat under it in the shadow, till he might see what would become of the city.

6 And the LORD God prepared a ⁷ gourd, and made it to come up over Jonah, that it might be a shadow over his head, to deliver him from his evil case. So Jonah was exceeding glad because of the gourd.

7 But God prepared a worm when the morning rose the next day, and it smote the gourd, that it withered.

8 And it came to pass, when the sun arose, that God prepared a sultry ^j east wind; ^k and the sun beat upon the head of Jonah, that he ^l fainted, and requested for himself that he might die, and said, ^g It is better for me to die than to live. 9 And God said to Jonah, ^m Doest thou well to be angry for the gourd? And he said, I do well to be angry even unto death. 10 And the LORD said, Thou hast had pity on the gourd, for the which thou hast not laboured, neither madest it grow; which came up in a night, and perished in a night: 11 and should not I have pity on ⁿ Nineveh, that great city; wherein are more than sixscore thousand persons that cannot discern between their right hand and their left hand; and also much ^o cattle?

MICAH.

I THE word of the LORD that came to ^aMicah ^bthe Morashtite ^cin the days of Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah, which he saw ^dconcerning ^eSamaria and Jerusalem.

²Hear, ye peoples, all of you; ^ghearken, O earth, and ¹all that therein is; and ^hlet the LORD God be witness ²against you, ⁱthe LORD from his holy temple. ³For, behold, ^jthe LORD cometh forth out of ^khis place, and will come down, and ^ltread upon the high places of the earth. ⁴And ^mthe mountains shall be molten under him, and the valleys shall be cleft, as wax before the fire, as waters that are poured down a steep place. ⁵For ⁿthe transgression of Jacob is all this, and for the sins of the house of Israel. ^oWhat is the transgression of Jacob? is it not ^eSamaria? and what are ^pthe high places of Judah? are they not Jerusalem? ⁶Therefore I will make ^eSamaria ^qas an heap of the field, and as the plantings of a vineyard: and I will pour down the stones thereof ^rinto the valley, and I will ^sdiscover the foundations thereof. ⁷And ^tall her graven images shall be beaten to pieces, and ^uall her hires shall be burned with fire, and all her idols will I lay desolate: for ^vthe hire of an harlot hath she gathered them, and unto the hire of an harlot shall they return. ⁸For this will I wail and howl, I will go ^wstripped and naked: I will make a wailing ^xlike the jackals, and a mourning ^ylike the ostriches. ⁹For her wounds are incurable: for it is come even unto Judah; it reacheth unto the gate of my people, even to Jerusalem. ¹⁰Tell it not in ^bGath, weep not at all: at ³Beth-le-Aphrah ⁴have I rolled myself in the dust. ¹¹Pass ye away, O ⁵inhabitant of Shaphir, ^din nakedness and shame: the ⁵inhabitant of Zaanan is not come forth; the wailing of Beth-ezel shall take from you the ⁶stay thereof. ¹²For the ⁵inhabitant of Maroth

¹Woe to them that devise 2 iniquity and work evil ⁿupon their beds! when the morning is light, they practise it, because it is in the power of their hand. ²And they covet fields, and ^oseize them; and houses, and take them away: and they oppress a man and his house, even a man and his heritage. ³Therefore thus saith the LORD: Behold, against ^pthis family do I devise an evil, from which ye shall not remove your necks, ^qneither shall ye walk haughtily; ^rfor it is an evil time. ⁴In that day ^sshall they take up a parable against you, and lament ¹⁰with a doleful lamentation, and say, We be utterly spoiled: ^the changeth the portion of my people: ^uhow doth he ¹¹remove it from me! ^vto the rebellious he divideth our fields. ⁵Therefore thou shalt have none ^vthat shall cast the line by lot in the congregation of the LORD. ⁶¹²Prophecy ye not, ^{thus}they prophesy. ^xThey shall not prophesy ¹³to these: ^yreproaches shall not depart. ⁷¹⁴Shall it be said, O house of Jacob, ^xis the spirit of the LORD ¹⁵straitened? are these his doings? 12 I will surely assemble, O Jacob, all of thee; ^fI will surely gather ^gthe remnant of Israel; I will put them together as the sheep of ^hBozrah: ⁱas a flock in the midst of their pasture, they shall make great noise by reason of the multitude of men. 13 ^jThe breaker is gone up before them: they have broken forth and passed on to the gate, ^kand are gone out thereat: and their king is passed on before them, and ^lthe LORD at the head of them.

3 ^mAnd I said, ⁿHear, I pray you, ye heads of Jacob, and rulers of the house of Israel: ^ois it not for you to know judgement? ^pwho hate the good, and love the evil; ^qwho pluck off their skin from off them, and their flesh from off their bones; ^rwho also eat the flesh of my people; and they flay their skin from off them, and break their bones: yea, they chop them in pieces, as for the pot, and as flesh within the caldron. 4 ^sThen shall they cry unto the LORD, but he will not answer them: yea, ^the will hide his face from them at that time, according as they have wrought evil in their doings. 5 Thus saith the LORD concerning ^uthe prophets that make my people to err; that bite with their teeth ^vand cry, Peace; and whoso putteth not into their mouths, they even ^wprepare war against him: 6 Therefore ^xit shall be night unto you, that ye shall have no vision; and it shall be dark unto you, that ye shall not divine; and ^ythe sun shall go down upon the prophets, and the day shall be black over them. 7 ^zAnd the seers shall be ashamed, and the diviners confounded; ¹yea, they shall all cover their lips: for ²there is no answer of God. 8 But ³I truly am full of power ⁴by the spirit of the LORD, and of judgement, and of might, to declare unto Jacob ⁵his transgression, and to Israel his sin. 9 ^aHear this, I pray you, ye heads of the house of Jacob, and rulers of the house of Israel, ^bthat abhor judgement, and pervert all equity. 10 ^cThey build up Zion with blood, and Jerusalem with iniquity. 11 ^dThe heads thereof judge for reward, and ^ethe priests thereof teach for hire, and ^fthe prophets thereof divine for money: ^gyet will they lean upon the LORD, and ^hsay, Is not the LORD in the midst of us? ⁱno evil shall come upon us. 12 Therefore ^jshall Zion for your sake be plowed as a field, and Jerusalem ^kshall become heaps, and ^lthe mountain of the house ^mas the high places of a forest.

4 ⁿBut in the latter days it shall come to pass, that the mountain of the LORD's house shall be established ^oin the top of the mountains, and it shall be exalted above the hills; and peoples shall flow unto it. 2 And many nations shall go and say, Come ye, and let us go up to the mountain of the LORD, and to the house of the God of Jacob; and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths: for out of Zion shall go forth ^pthe law, and the word of the LORD from Jerusalem. 3 And he shall judge ^qbetween ^rmany peoples, and shall ^sreprove strong nations afar off; and they shall ^tbeat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruninghooks: nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more. 4 ^uBut they shall sit every man under his vine and under his fig tree; ^vand none shall make them afraid: ^wfor the mouth of the LORD of hosts hath spoken it. 5 For ^xall the peoples ^ywill walk every one in the name of his god, and ^zwe will walk in the name of the LORD our God for ever and ever.

6 ^aIn that day, saith the LORD, ^bwill I assemble her ^cthat halteth, and I will gather her that is driven away, and her that I have afflicted;

of the earth: for the LORD hath a controversy with his people, and he will plead with Israel. 3 O my people, ^wwhat have I done unto thee? and ^xwherein have I wearied thee? testify against me. 4 For ^yI brought thee up out of the land of Egypt, and ^zredeemed thee out of the house of bondage; and I sent before thee Moses, Aaron, and ^aMiriam. 5 O my people, remember now ^bwhat Balak king of Moab consulted, and what Balaam the son of Beor answered him; remember from ^cShittim unto ^dGilgal, that ye may know ^ethe righteous acts of the LORD. 6 ^fWherewith shall I come before the LORD, and bow myself before ^gthe high God? shall I come before him with burnt offerings, with calves of a year old? 7 ^hWill the LORD be pleased with thousands of rams, or with ten thousands of rivers of oil? ⁱshall I give my firstborn for my transgression, the fruit of my body for the sin of my soul? 8 He hath shewed thee, O man, what is good; and ^jwhat doth the LORD require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to ^kwalk humbly with thy God?

9 The voice of the LORD crieth unto the city, and the man of wisdom will ^lsee ^lthy name: hear ye ^mthe rod, and who hath appointed it. 10 Are there yet the treasures of wickedness in the house of the wicked, and the scant ⁿmeasure that is abominable? 11 Shall I be pure ⁿwith wicked balances, and with a bag of deceitful weights? 12 For the rich men thereof are ^ofull of violence, and the inhabitants thereof ^phave spoken lies, and ^qtheir tongue is deceitful in their mouth. 13 Therefore I also have smitten thee with a grievous wound; ^rI have made thee desolate because of thy sins. 14 ^sThou shalt eat, but not be satisfied; and thy ^thumiliation shall be in the midst of thee: and thou shalt remove, but shalt not carry away safe; and that which thou carriest away will I give up to the sword. 15 ^uThou shalt sow, but shalt not reap: thou shalt tread the olives, but shalt not anoint thee with oil; and the vintage, but shalt not drink the wine. 16 For the statutes of ^vOmri are kept, and all the works of the house of ^vAhab, and ye walk in their counsels: that I should make thee ^wa desolation, and the inhabitants thereof ^wan hissing; and ye shall bear ^xthe reproach of my people.

1 Woe is me! for I am ^yas 7 when they have gathered the summer fruits, as the grape gleanings of the vintage: there is no cluster to eat; ^zmy soul desireth ^zthe firstripe fig. 2 ^aThe godly man is perished out of the earth, and ^bthere is none upright among men: ^cthey all lie in wait for blood; they hunt ^devery man his brother with a net. 3 ^eTheir hands are upon that which is evil to do it diligently; ^fthe prince asketh, and ^gthe judge ^gis ready for a reward; and the great man, he uttereth the mischief of his soul: thus they weave it together.

4 The best of them is ^has a brier: ^hthe most upright is worse than a thorn hedge: the day of ⁱthy watchmen, even thy visitation, is come; ^jnow shall be their perplexity. 5 ^kTrust ye not in a friend, ^kput ye not confidence in a ^lguide: keep ^mthe doors of thy mouth from her that lieth in thy bosom. 6 For ⁿthe son dishonoureth the father, the daughter riseth up against her mother, the daughter in law against her mother in law; ^oa man's enemies are the men of his own house.

7 But as for me, ^oI will look unto the LORD; ^pI will wait for the God of my salvation: my God will hear me. 8 ^qRejoice not against me, O ^qmine enemy: ^qwhen I fall, I shall arise; ^rwhen I sit in darkness, the LORD shall be a light unto me. 9 ^uI will bear the indignation of the LORD, because I have sinned against him; until ^vhe plead my cause, and execute judgement for me: ^whe will bring me forth to the light, and I shall behold his righteousness. 10 Then ^xmine enemy shall see it, and shame shall cover her; which ^ysaid unto me, Where is the LORD thy God? ^zMine eyes shall behold her; now shall she be trodden down ^aas the mire of the streets. 11 ^bA day for building thy walls! in that day shall ^cthe

image; ^k I will make thy grave; ⁱ for thou art vile. ¹⁵ ^j Behold, upon the mountains ^k the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace! ^l Keep thy feasts, O Judah, ^m perform thy vows: ⁿ for ¹ the wicked one shall no more pass through thee; he is utterly cut off.

¹ ^o He that dasheth in pieces ² is come up before thy face: ^p keep the munition, watch the way, make thy loins strong, fortify thy power mightily. ² For ^q the LORD bringeth again the excellency of Jacob, as the excellency of Israel: for the emptiers have emptied them out, and ^r marred their vine branches. ³ The shield of his mighty men is made red, ^s the valiant men are in scarlet: the chariots ^t flash with steel in the day of his preparation, and the ³ spears are shaken terribly. ⁴ ^t The chariots rage in the streets, they jostle one against another in the broad ways: the appearance of them is like torches, they run like the lightnings. ⁵ He remembereth ^u his worthies: ^v they stumble in their march; they make haste to the wall thereof, and the mantelet is prepared. ⁶ ^w The gates of the rivers are opened, and the palace is ^x dissolved. ⁷ ⁴ And Huzzab is ^y uncovered, she is carried away, and her handmaids ⁵ ^z mourn as with the voice of doves, ^a tabering upon their ⁶ breasts. ⁸ But ^b Nineveh hath been ⁷ from of old like a pool of water: yet they flee away; Stand, stand, ^c they cry; but ^c none ⁸ looketh back. ⁹ Take ye the spoil of silver, take the spoil of gold: for there is none end of the store, the ⁹ glory of all pleasant furniture. ¹⁰ ^d She is empty, and void, and waste: and ^e the heart melteth, and ^f the knees smite together, and ^g anguish is in all loins, and ^h the faces of them all are waxed pale. ¹¹ Where is the den of the lions, and the feeding place of ⁱ the young lions, where the lion ¹⁰ and the lioness walked, the lion's whelp, and ^j none made them afraid? ¹² ^k The lion did tear in pieces enough for his whelps, and strangled for his lionesses, and filled his caves ^l with prey, and his dens with ravin. ¹³ ^m Behold, I am against thee, saith the LORD of hosts, and ⁿ I will burn her chariots in the smoke, and the sword shall devour thy young lions: and I will cut off thy prey from the earth, and ^o the voice of thy messengers shall no more be heard.

¹ ^p Woe to ² the bloody city! it ³ is all full of lies and rapine; ^q the prey departeth not. ² The noise of the whip, and the noise of ^r the rattling of wheels; and ^s prancing horses, and ^t jumping chariots; ³ the horseman ¹¹ mounting, and the flashing sword, and ^u the glittering spear; ^v and a multitude of slain, and a great heap of carcases: and there is none end of the corpses; they stumble upon their corpses: ⁴ because of the multitude of the whoredoms of the well favoured ^w harlot, ^x the mistress of witchcrafts, that selleth nations through her whoredoms, and families through her witchcrafts. ⁵ ^m Behold, I am against thee, saith the LORD of hosts, and ^y I will discover thy skirts ¹² upon thy face; and I will shew the nations ^z thy nakedness, and the kingdoms thy shame. ⁶ And I will cast abominable filth upon thee, and ^a make thee vile, and will set thee as ^b a gazing-stock. ⁷ And it shall come to pass, that all they that look upon thee ^c shall flee from thee, and say, ^d Nineveh is laid waste: ^e who will bemoan her? ^f whence shall I seek comforters for thee? ⁸ ^o Art thou better than ^h No-amon, that was situated ⁱ among the ¹³ rivers, that had the waters round about her; whose rampart was ¹⁴ the sea, and her wall ¹⁵ was of the sea? ⁹ ^j Ethiopia and Egypt were her strength, and it was infinite; ^k Put and ^l Lubim were thy helpers. ¹⁰ ^m Yet was she carried away, she went into captivity: ⁿ her young children also were dashed in pieces at the top of all the streets: and ^o they cast lots for her honourable men, ^p and all her great men were bound in chains. ¹¹ ^q Thou also shalt be drunken, thou shalt be hid; ^r thou also shalt seek ¹⁶ a strong hold because of the enemy. ¹² All thy fortresses shall be ^s like fig trees

I ¹^a THE ⁵burden which Habakkuk the prophet did see.

² O LORD, ^bhow long shall I cry, and thou wilt not hear? I cry out unto thee ^cof violence, and thou wilt not save. ³ Why dost thou shew me iniquity, and ⁶look upon perverseness? for spoiling ^cand violence are before me: and there is strife, and contention riseth up. ⁴ Therefore the law is slacked, and judgement ⁷doth never go forth: ^jfor the wicked doth compass about the righteous; therefore judgement goeth forth perverted. ⁵ Behold ye among the nations, and regard, and wonder marvellously: ^hfor ⁸I work a work in your days, which ye will not believe though it be told you. ⁶ For, lo, ⁱI raise up the Chaldeans, that bitter and hasty nation; ^jwhich march through the breadth of the earth, ^kto possess dwelling places that are not theirs. ⁷ They are terrible and dreadful: ^ltheir judgement and their dignity proceed from themselves. ⁸ Their horses also are swifter than leopards, and are more fierce than ⁿthe evening wolves; and their horsemen ¹⁰spread themselves: yea, their horsemen come from far; ^othey fly as an eagle that hasteth to devour.

¹ I will ^h stand upon my watch, ² and set me upon the ² tower, and will ⁱ look forth to see ^j what he will speak ³ with me, and what I shall answer concerning my complaint. ² And the LORD answered me, and said, ^k Write the vision, and make it plain upon tables, that he may run that readeth it. ³ For ^l the vision is yet for the appointed time, and it ⁴ hasteth toward the end, and shall not lie: though it tarry, ^m wait for it; because ⁿ it will surely come, it will not delay. ⁴ Behold, his soul is puffed up, it is not ⁵ upright in him: but ^o the just shall live ⁶ by his faith. ⁵ ⁷ Yea, moreover, wine is ^p a treacherous dealer, a haughty man, and ⁸ that keepeth not at home; who enlargeth his desire ^q as ⁹ hell, and he is as death, ^r and cannot be satisfied, but ^s gathereth unto him all nations, and heapeth unto him all peoples. ⁶ Shall not all these ^t take up a parable against him, and a taunting ¹⁰ proverb against him, and say, ^u Woe to him ^v that increaseth that which is not his! ^w how long? and ^x that ladeth himself with pledges! ⁷ ^u Shall they not rise up suddenly that shall ¹¹ bite thee, and awake that shall ¹² vex thee, and thou shalt be for booties unto them? ⁸ ² Because thou hast spoiled many nations, all the remnant of the peoples shall spoil thee; ^a because of men's blood, and ^a for the violence done to the land, to the city and to all that dwell therein.

⁹ ^u Woe to ^b him that getteth an evil gain for his house, ^c that he may ^d set his nest on high, that he may be delivered from the hand of evil! ¹⁰ Thou hast consulted shame to thy house, ^e by cutting off many peoples, and ^f hast sinned against thy soul. ¹¹ For ^g the stone shall cry out of the wall, and the beam out of the timber shall answer it.

¹² ^u Woe to him ^h that buildeth a town with blood, and stablisheth a city by iniquity! ¹³ Behold, is it not of the LORD of hosts that ⁱ the peoples labour for the fire, and the nations weary themselves for vanity? ¹⁴ ^j For the earth shall be filled with the knowledge of ^k the glory of the LORD, as the waters cover the sea.

¹⁸ ^s What profiteth the graven image, that the maker thereof hath graven it; the molten image, and ^t the teacher of lies, that the maker of ¹⁷ his work trusteth therein, to make ^u dumb idols? ¹⁹ ^v Woe unto him ^w that saith to the wood, Awake; to the dumb stone, Arise! ZEPHANIAH.

I THE word of the LORD which came unto Zephaniah the son of Cushi, the son of Gedaliah, the son of Amariah, the son of Hezekiah, ^a in the days of ^b Josiah the son of Amon, king of Judah.

² I will utterly consume all things from off the face of the ground, saith the LORD. ³ I will consume ^d man and beast; I will consume the fowls of the heaven, and ^d the fishes of the sea, and ^e the stumbling blocks with the wicked; and I will ^f cut off man from off the face of the ground, saith the LORD. ⁴ And I will stretch out mine hand upon Judah, and upon all the inhabitants of Jerusalem; ^g and I will cut off the remnant of Baal from this place, and the name of the ^h Chemarim with the priests; ⁵ and ⁱ them that worship the host of heaven upon the housetops; and ^j them that worship, which swear to the LORD and swear by ^{1k} Malcam; ⁶ and ^l them that are turned back from following the LORD; and ^m those that have not sought the LORD, nor inquired after him.

⁷ Hold thy peace at the presence of the Lord God: for ^o the day of the LORD is at hand: for ^p the LORD hath prepared a sacrifice, he hath ^q sanctified his guests. ⁸ And it shall come to pass in the day of the LORD's sacrifice, that ^r I will ² punish the princes, and the king's sons, and ^s all such as are clothed with foreign apparel. ⁹ And in that day I will ² punish all those ^t that leap over the threshold, which fill their master's house with violence and deceit. ¹⁰ And in that day, saith the LORD, there shall be the noise of a cry from ^u the fish gate, and ^v an howling from ^w the ³ second quarter, and a great crashing from the hills. ¹¹ ^x Howl, ye inhabitants of ⁴ Maktesh, for all ^{5y} the people of Canaan are undone: all they that were laden with silver are cut off. ¹² And it shall come to pass at that time, that ^z I will search Jerusalem ^a with ⁶ candles; and I will ² punish the men ^b that are ⁷ settled on their lees, ^c that say in their heart, The LORD will not do good, neither will he do evil. ¹³ And their wealth shall become ^d a spoil, and their houses a desolation: yea, ^e they shall build houses, but shall not inhabit them; and ^f they shall plant vineyards, but shall not drink the wine thereof. ¹⁴ ^g The great day of the LORD is near, it is near and hasteth greatly, even the voice of the day of the LORD; ^h the mighty man crieth there bitterly. ¹⁵ That day is ⁱ a day of wrath, a day of trouble and distress, a day of ^j wasteness and desolation, ^k a day of darkness and gloominess, ^k a day of clouds and thick darkness, ¹⁶ ^l a day of the trumpet and alarm, ^m against the fenced cities, and against the high ⁸ⁿ battlements. ¹⁷ And ^o I will bring distress upon men, that they shall walk ^p like blind men, because they have sinned against the LORD: and ^q their blood shall be poured out as dust, and their flesh ^r as dung. ¹⁸ ^s Neither their silver nor their gold shall be able to deliver them in ^t the day of the LORD's wrath; but ^t the whole land shall be devoured by ^u the fire of his jealousy: ^v for he shall make an end, yea, a ⁹ terrible end, of all them that dwell in the land.

HAGGAI.

¹ In the second year of Darius the king, in the sixth month, in the first day of the month, came the word of the LORD by Haggai the prophet unto ² Zerubbabel the son of ³ Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and to ⁴ Joshua the son of ⁵ Jehozadak, the high priest, saying, ² Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, saying, This people say, ³ It is not the time for us to come, the time for the LORD's house to be built. ³ Then came the word of the LORD ⁴ by Haggai the prophet, saying, ⁴ Is it a time for you yourselves to dwell in your cieled houses, while ⁵ this house lieth waste? ⁵ Now therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts: ⁶ Consider your ways. ⁶ Ye have sown much, and bring in little; ⁷ ye eat, but ye have not enough; ye drink, but ye are not filled with drink; ye clothe you, but there is none warm; and he that ⁸ earneth wages earneth wages to put it into a bag with holes. ⁷ Thus saith the LORD of hosts: ⁸ Consider your ways. ⁸ Go up to the ⁹ mountain, and bring wood, and build the house; and ⁹ I will take pleasure in it, and ¹⁰ I will be glorified, saith the LORD. ⁹ Ye looked for much, and, lo, it came to little; and when ye brought it home, ¹⁰ I did ¹¹ blow upon it. Why? saith the LORD of hosts. Because of mine house ¹¹ that lieth waste, while ye run every man to his own house. ¹⁰ Therefore ¹² for your sake the heaven is stayed from dew, and the earth is stayed from her fruit. ¹¹ And ¹² I called for a drought upon the land, and upon the mountains, and upon ¹³ the corn, and upon the wine, and upon the oil, and upon that which the ground bringeth forth, and upon men, and upon cattle, and ¹⁴ upon all the labour of the hands.

¹² Then ¹³ Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, and ¹⁴ Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, with all ¹⁵ the remnant of the people, obeyed the voice of the LORD their God, and the words of Haggai the prophet, as the LORD their God had sent him; and the people did fear before the LORD. ¹³ Then spake Haggai ¹⁴ the LORD's messenger in the LORD's message unto the people, saying, ¹⁵ I am with you, saith the LORD. ¹⁴ And ¹⁵ the LORD stirred up the spirit of ¹⁶ Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and the spirit of ¹⁷ Joshua the son of Jehozadak, the high priest, and the spirit of all ¹⁸ the remnant of the people; and they came and ¹⁹ did work in the house of the LORD of

I In the eighth month, ^a in the second year of Darius, came the word of the LORD unto ^b Zechariah the son of ^c Berechiah, the son of ^d Iddo, the prophet, saying, 2 ^e The LORD hath been sore displeased with your fathers. 3 Therefore say thou unto them, Thus saith the LORD of hosts: ^f Return unto me, saith the LORD of hosts, and ^g I will return unto you, saith the LORD of hosts. 4 ^h Be ye not as your fathers, ⁱ unto whom the former prophets cried, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, ^j Return ye now from your evil ways, and from your evil doings: but ^k they did not hear, nor hearken unto me, saith the LORD. 5 ^l Your fathers, where are they? and ^m the prophets, do they live for ever? 6 ⁿ But my words and my statutes, which I commanded ^o my servants the prophets, did they not ^p overtake your fathers? and they turned and said, ^q Like as the LORD of hosts thought to do unto us, according to ^r our ways, and according to ^s our doings, so hath he dealt with us.

7 Upon the four and twentieth day of the eleventh month, which is the month ^t Shebat, in the second year of Darius, came the word of the LORD unto ^b Zechariah the son of ^c Berechiah, the son of ^d Iddo, the prophet, saying, 8 I saw in the night, and behold ^e a man riding upon a red horse, and he stood among the myrtle trees that were in the ^f bottom; and behind him there were ^g horses, red, sorrel, and white. 9 Then said I, O my lord, what are these? And ^h the angel that talked with me said unto me, I will shew thee what these be. 10 And ⁱ the man that stood among the myrtle trees answered and said, ^j These are they whom the LORD hath sent to ^k walk to and fro through the earth. 11 And they answered ^l the angel of the LORD that stood among the myrtle trees, and said, ^m We have walked to and fro through the earth, and, behold, all the earth sitteth still, and ⁿ is at rest. 12 Then ^o the angel of the LORD answered and said, ^p O LORD of hosts,

^q how long wilt thou not ^r have mercy on Jerusalem and on the cities of Judah, against which thou hast had indignation these ^s three-score and ten years? 13 And the LORD answered ^t the angel that talked with me with ^u good words, even comfortable words. 14 So ^v the angel that talked with me said unto me, Cry thou, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts: ^w I am jealous for Jerusalem and for Zion with a great jealousy. 15 ^x And I am very sore displeased with the nations that are ^y at ease: ^z for I was but a little displeased, ^{aa} and they ^{ab} helped forward the affliction. 16 Therefore thus saith the LORD: ^{ac} I am returned to Jerusalem with mercies; ^{ad} my house shall be built in it, saith the LORD of hosts, and ^{ae} a line shall be stretched forth over Jerusalem. 17 Cry yet again, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts: ^{af} My cities ^{ag} through prosperity shall yet be spread abroad; ^{ah} and the LORD shall yet comfort Zion, and shall yet ^{ai} choose Jerusalem.

18 And I lifted up mine eyes, and saw, and behold ^{aj} four horns. 19 And I said unto ^{ak} the angel that talked with me, What be these? And he answered me, ^{al} These are the horns which have scattered Judah, Israel, and Jerusalem. 20 And the LORD shewed me four smiths. 21 Then said I, What come these to do? And he spake, saying, ^{am} These are the horns which scattered Judah, so that no man did lift up his head: but these are come ^{an} to fray them, to cast down the horns of the nations, ^{ao} which lifted up their horn against the land of Judah to scatter it.

2 And I lifted up mine eyes, and saw, and behold ^{ap} a man with a measuring line in his hand. 2 Then said I, Whither goest thou? And he said unto me, ^{aq} To measure Jerusalem, to see what is the breadth thereof, and what is the length thereof. 3 And, behold, ^{ar} the angel that talked with me went forth, and another angel went out to meet him, ^{as} and said unto him, Run, speak to this young man, say-

"as villages without walls, by reason of ^v the multitude of men and cattle therein. ⁵ For I, saith the LORD, will be unto her ^w a wall of fire round about, and I will be the glory in the midst of her. ⁶ Ho, ho, ^x flee from the land of the north, saith the LORD: for I have ^y spread you abroad as the four winds of the heaven, saith the LORD. ⁷ ^z Ho Zion, escape, thou that dwellest with the daughter of Babylon. ⁸ For thus saith the LORD of hosts: ² After glory hath he sent me unto the nations which spoiled you: ^a for he that toucheth you toucheth ^b the apple of his eye. ⁹ For, behold, ^c I will shake mine hand over them, ^d and they shall be a spoil to those that served them: and ^e ye shall know that the LORD of hosts hath sent me. ¹⁰ ^f Sing and rejoice, O daughter of Zion: for, ^g lo, I come, ^h and I will dwell in the midst of thee, saith the LORD. ¹¹ ⁱ And many nations shall join themselves to the LORD in that day, and shall be my people: ^h and I will dwell in the midst of thee, and ^e thou shalt know that the LORD of hosts hath sent me unto thee. ¹² ^j And the LORD shall inherit Judah as his portion in the holy land, and shall yet ^k choose Jerusalem. ¹³ ^l Be silent, all flesh, before the LORD: for he is waked up out of his holy habitation.

¹ And he shewed me ^m Joshua the high priest standing before the angel of the LORD, ⁿ and ³ Satan standing at his right hand to be his adversary. ² And the LORD said unto Satan, ^o The LORD rebuke thee, O Satan; yea, the LORD that hath ^p chosen Jerusalem rebuke thee: is not this ^q a brand plucked out of the fire? ³ Now ^m Joshua was ^r clothed with filthy garments, and stood before the angel. ⁴ And he answered and spake unto ^s those that stood before him, saying, ^t Take the filthy garments from off him. And unto him he said, Behold, ^u I have caused thine iniquity to pass from thee, and ^v I will clothe thee with rich apparel. ⁵ And ⁴ I said, ^w Let them set a fair ⁵ mitre upon his head. So they set a fair ⁵ mitre upon his head, and clothed him with garments; and the angel of the LORD stood by. ⁶ And the angel of the LORD protested unto ^m Joshua, saying, ⁷ Thus saith the LORD of hosts: If thou wilt walk in my ways, and if thou wilt ^x keep my charge, then thou also shalt ^y judge my house, and shalt also keep my courts, and I will give thee ⁶ a place of access among ^z these that stand by. ⁸ Hear now, O Joshua the high priest, thou and thy fellows that sit before thee; for ^a they are men which are a ⁷ sign: for, behold, I will bring forth ^b my servant ^c the ⁸ Branch. ⁹ For behold, ^d the stone that I have set before Joshua; upon one stone are ^e seven eyes: behold, I will ^f engrave the graving thereof, saith the LORD of hosts, and ^g I will remove the iniquity of that land in one day. ¹⁰ In that day, saith the LORD of hosts, shall ye call every man his neighbour ^h under the vine and under the fig tree.

¹ And ⁱ the angel that talked with me came again, ^j and waked me, as a man that is wakened out of his sleep. ² And he said unto me, What seest thou? And I said, I have seen, and behold, ^k a candlestick all of gold, with its bowl upon the top of it, and its ^l seven lamps thereon; ⁹ there are seven pipes to each of the lamps, which are upon the top thereof: ³ and ^m two olive trees by it, one upon the right side of the bowl, and the other upon the left side thereof. ⁴ And I answered and spake to ⁱ the angel that talked with me, saying, What are these, my lord? ⁵ Then the angel that talked with me answered and said unto me, ⁿ Knowest thou not what these be? And I said, No, my lord. ⁶ Then he answered and spake unto me, saying, This is the word of the LORD unto ^o Zerubbabel, saying, ^p Not by ¹⁰ might, nor by power, but by my spirit, saith the LORD of hosts. ⁷ Who art thou, ^q O great mountain? before ^o Zerubbabel ^r thou shalt become a plain: and he shall bring forth ^s the head stone with shoutings of Grace, grace, unto it. ⁸ Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, ⁹ ^t The hands of ^o Zerubbabel have laid the foundation of this house; his hands shall also ^u finish it; ^v and thou shalt know that the LORD of hosts hath sent me unto you. ¹⁰ ^w For who hath despised the day of small things? for they shall rejoice, and shall see ^x the plummet in the hand of ^o Zerubbabel, even ^y these seven, ^y which are the eyes of the LORD; ^z they run to and fro through the whole earth. ¹¹ Then answered I, and said unto him, What are these ^m two olive trees upon the right side of the candlestick and upon the left side thereof? ¹² And I answered the second time, and said unto him, What be these ^m two olive branches, ¹ which are beside the two golden spouts, that empty ² the golden oil out of themselves? ¹³ And he answered me and said, ^a Knowest thou not what these be? And I said, No, my lord. ¹⁴ Then said he, ^b These are the two sons of oil, that stand by ^c the LORD of the whole earth.

¹ Then again I lifted up mine ⁵ eyes, and saw, and behold, a flying ^d roll. ² And he said unto me, What seest thou? And I answered, I see a flying ^d roll; the length thereof is twenty cubits, and the breadth thereof ten cubits. ³ Then said he unto me, This is ^e the curse that goeth forth over the face of the whole land: for every one that ^f stealeth shall be purged out ³ on the one side according to it; and every one that ^g sweareth shall be purged out ³ on the other side according to it. ⁴ I will cause it to go forth, saith the LORD of hosts, and it shall enter into the house of the thief, and into the house of ^h him that sweareth falsely by my name: and ⁱ it shall abide in the midst of his house, and ^j shall consume it with the timber thereof and the stones thereof.

⁵ ^k Then the angel that talked with me went forth, and said unto me, ^l Lift up now thine eyes, and see what is this that goeth forth. ⁶ And I said, What is it? And he said, This is ^m the ephah that goeth forth. He said moreover, This is their ⁴ resemblance in all the land: ⁷ (and behold, there was lifted up a ⁵ talent of lead;) and this is a woman sitting in the midst of the ephah. ⁸ And he said, This is Wickedness; and he cast her down into the midst of the ephah: and he cast ⁿ the weight of lead upon the mouth thereof. ⁹ Then lifted I up mine eyes, and saw, and behold, there came forth two women, and ⁿ the wind was in their wings; now they had wings like the wings of a stork: and they lifted up the ephah between the earth and the heaven. ¹⁰ Then said I to the angel that talked with me, Whither do these bear the ephah? ¹¹ And he said unto me, To build her an house in the ^o land of Shinar: and when it is ⁶ prepared, she shall be set there ⁷ in her own place.

⁶ ¹ And again I lifted up mine eyes, and saw, and behold, there came four chariots out from between ⁸ two mountains; and the mountains were mountains of ^p brass. ² In the first chariot were ^q red horses; and in the second chariot ^r black horses; ³ and in the third chariot ^s white horses; and in the fourth chariot grised ⁹ bay horses. ⁴ Then I answered and said unto ^t the angel that talked with me, What are these, my lord? ⁵ And the angel answered and said unto me, ^u These are the four ¹⁰ winds of heaven, which go forth from ¹¹ ^v standing before ^w the LORD of all the earth. ⁶ The chariot wherein are the black horses goeth forth toward ^x the north country; and the white went forth after them; and the grised went forth toward ^y the south country. ⁷ And the ¹² bay went forth, and sought to go that they might ^z walk to and fro through the earth: and he said, Get you hence, ^z walk to and fro through the earth. ⁸ So they walked to and fro through the earth. ⁸ Then cried he upon me, and spake unto me, saying, Behold, they that go toward ^x the north country have quieted my spirit in ^x the north country.

⁹ And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, ¹⁰ Take of them of the captivity, even of ^a Heldai, of Tobijah, and of ^b Jedaiah; and come thou the same day, and go into the house of Josiah the son of ^c Zephaniah, whither they are come from Babylon; ¹¹ yea, take of them silver and gold, and make ¹³ crowns, ^d and set them upon the head of ^e Joshua

¹ And it came to pass in ^s the ⁷ fourth year of king Darius, that the word of the LORD came unto Zechariah in the fourth day of the ninth month, even in ^t Chislev. ² ⁷ Now they of Beth-el had sent Sharezer and Regem-melech, and their men, ^u to intreat the favour of the LORD, ³ and ^v to speak unto the priests of the house of the LORD of hosts, and to ^w the prophets, saying, Should I weep in ^x the fifth month, ^y separating myself, as I have done these so many years? ⁴ Then came the word of the LORD of hosts unto me, saying, ⁵ Speak unto all the people of the land, and to the priests, saying, When ye fasted and mourned in ^x the fifth and in ^y the seventh month, even these ^z seventy years, ^a did ye at all fast ^a unto me, even to me? ⁶ ^b And when ye eat, and when ye drink, ⁸ do not ye eat for yourselves, and drink for yourselves? ⁷ ^c Should ye not hear the words which the LORD hath cried ^d by the former prophets, when Jerusalem was inhabited and in prosperity, ^e and the cities thereof round about her, and the ^e South and the ^e lowland were inhabited?

⁸ And the word of the LORD came unto Zechariah, saying, ⁹ Thus hath

the LORD of hosts spoken, saying, ^f Execute true judgement, and shew mercy and compassion every man to his brother: ¹⁰ and ^g oppress not the widow, nor the fatherless, the stranger, ^h nor the poor; and ⁱ let none of you imagine evil against his brother in your heart. ¹¹ But ^j they refused to hearken, ^k and ⁹ pulled away the shoulder, and ¹⁰ stopped their ears, that they should not hear. ¹² Yea, ⁱ they made their hearts as an adamant stone, ^m lest they should hear the law, and the words which the LORD of hosts had sent ^m by his spirit by the hand of ⁿ the former prophets: ^o therefore came there great wrath from the LORD of hosts. ¹³ ^p And it came to pass that, as he cried, and they would not hear; ^p so they shall cry, and I will not hear, said the LORD of hosts; ¹⁴ ^q but I will scatter them with a whirlwind among all ^r the nations whom they have not known. ^s Thus the land was desolate after them, ^t that no man passed through nor returned: ^u for they laid the ¹¹ pleasant land desolate.

¹ And the word of the LORD of hosts came to me, saying, ² Thus saith the LORD of hosts: ^v I am jealous for Zion with great jealousy, and I am jealous for her with great fury. ³ Thus saith the LORD: ^w I am returned unto Zion, and ^x will dwell in the midst of Jerusalem: ^y and Jerusalem shall be called The city of truth; ^z and the mountain of the LORD of hosts The holy mountain. ⁴ Thus saith the LORD of hosts: There shall yet ^a old men and old women ¹² dwell in the streets of Jerusalem, every man with his staff in his hand ¹³ for very age. ⁵ And the streets of the city shall be full of boys and girls playing in the streets thereof. ⁶ Thus saith the LORD of hosts: ^b If it be marvellous in the eyes of the remnant of this people in those days, ^c should it also be marvellous in mine eyes? saith the LORD of hosts. ⁷ Thus saith the LORD of hosts: Behold, ^d I will save my people ^e from the east country, and from the west country: ⁸ and I will bring them, and they shall dwell in the midst of Jerusalem; ^f and they shall be my people, and I will be their God, ^g in truth and in righteousness. ^g Thus saith the LORD of hosts: ^h Let your hands be strong, ye that hear in these days these words from the mouth of ⁱ the prophets, which were in ^j the day that the foundation of the house of the LORD of hosts was laid, even the temple, that it might be built. ¹⁰ For before those days ^k there was no hire for man, nor any hire for beast; neither was there any peace to him that went out or came in because of the adversary: for I set all men every one against his neighbour. ¹¹ But now I will not be unto the remnant of this people as in the former days, saith the LORD of hosts. ¹² ⁱ For there shall be the seed of peace; the vine shall give her fruit, and the ground shall give her increase, ^m and the heavens shall give their dew; ⁿ and I will cause the remnant of this people to inherit all these things. ¹³ And it shall come to pass that, as ^o ye were a curse among the nations, O house of Judah and house of Israel, ^d so will I save you, and ^p ye shall be a blessing: ^q fear not, but ^h let your hands be strong. ¹⁴ For thus saith the LORD of hosts: ^r As I thought to do evil unto you, when your fathers ^s provoked me to wrath, saith the LORD of hosts, and I ^t repented not; ¹⁵ so again have I thought in these days to do good unto Jerusalem and to the house of Judah: ^q fear ye not. ¹⁶ These are the things that ye shall do; ^u Speak ye every man the truth with his neighbour; ^v execute the judgement of ^w truth and peace in your gates: ¹⁷ and ^x let none of you imagine evil in your hearts against his neighbour; and ^y love no false oath: for all these are things that I hate, saith the LORD.

¹⁸ And the word of the LORD of hosts came unto me, saying, ¹⁹ Thus saith the LORD of hosts: The fast of the ^z fourth month, and the fast of the ^a fifth, and the fast of the ^b seventh, and the fast of the ^c tenth, shall be to the house of Judah ^d joy and gladness, and cheerful feasts; therefore love ^e truth and peace.

²⁰ Thus saith the LORD of hosts: It shall yet come to pass, that there shall come peoples, and the inhabitants of ² many cities: ²¹ and the inhabitants of one city shall go to another, saying, ^f Let us go speedily ^g to intreat the favour of the LORD, and to seek the LORD of hosts: I will go also. ²² Yea, ^f many peoples and strong nations shall come to seek the LORD of hosts in Jerusalem, and ^g to intreat the favour of the LORD. ²³ Thus saith the LORD of hosts: In those days it shall come to pass, that ^h ten men shall take hold, ⁱ out of all the languages of the nations, shall even take hold of the skirt of him that is a Jew, saying, We will go with you, for ^j we have heard that God is with you.

⁹ Rejoice greatly, O daughter of Zion; shout, O daughter of Jerusalem: ^e behold, ^f thy king cometh unto thee: he is just, and ¹having ²salvation; ³lowly, and riding upon an ass, even upon a colt the foal of an ass. ¹⁰And ⁴I will cut off the chariot from Ephraim, and ⁵the horse from Jerusalem, and the battle bow shall be cut off; and ⁷he shall speak peace unto the nations: and ⁸his dominion shall be from sea to sea, and from ⁹the River to the ends of the earth. ¹¹As for thee also, because of ¹²the blood of thy covenant ¹³I have sent forth thy prisoners out of ¹⁴the pit wherein is no water. ¹⁵Turn you to the strong hold, ye ¹⁶prisoners of hope: even to-day do I declare that ¹⁷I will render double unto thee. ¹⁸For ¹⁹I have bent Judah for me, I have filled the bow with Ephraim; and I will stir up thy sons, O Zion, against thy sons, ²⁰O ²¹Greece, and will make thee as the sword of a mighty man. ²²And the LORD shall be seen over them, and ²³his arrow shall go forth as the lightning: and ²⁴the LORD God shall blow the trumpet, and shall go with ²⁵whirlwinds ²⁶of the south. ²⁷The LORD of hosts ²⁸shall defend them; and ²⁹they shall devour, ³⁰and shall tread down the sling stones; and ³¹they shall drink, and make a noise as through wine: and they shall be filled like bowls, ³²like the corners of the altar. ³³And the LORD their God shall save them in that day as ³⁴the flock of his people: for ³⁵they shall be ³⁶as the stones of a crown, ³⁷lifted on high over his land. ³⁸For how great is ³⁹his ⁴⁰goodness, and how great is ⁴¹his beauty! ⁴²corn shall make the young men flourish, and new wine the maids.

¹Ask ye ²of the LORD rain IO in the time of ³the latter rain, ⁴even of the LORD ⁵that maketh lightnings; and ⁶he shall give them showers of rain, to every one grass in the field. ⁷For ⁸the teraphim ⁹have spoken vanity, and the diviners have seen a lie; and ¹⁰they have told false dreams, they comfort in vain: therefore ¹¹they go their way like sheep, they are afflicted, because there is no shepherd. ¹²Mine anger is kindled against the shepherds, and ¹³I will punish the he-goats: for ¹⁴the LORD of hosts hath visited his flock the house of Judah, and shall make them as his goodly horse in the battle. ⁴From him shall come forth ⁵the corner stone, from him ⁶the nail, from him the battle bow, from him every ⁷exactor together. ⁸And they shall be as mighty men, ⁹treading down their enemies in the mire of the streets in the battle; and they shall fight, because the LORD is with them: ¹⁰and the riders on horses shall be confounded. ¹¹And ¹²I will strengthen the house of Judah, and ¹³I will save the house of Joseph, and ¹⁴I will ¹⁵bring them again, ¹⁶for I have mercy upon them; and they shall be as though I had not cast them off: for ¹⁷I am the LORD their God, and I will hear them. ¹⁸And they of Ephraim shall be like a mighty man, and ¹⁹their heart shall rejoice as through wine: yea, their children shall see it, and rejoice; their heart shall be glad in the LORD. ²⁰I will hiss for them, and ²¹gather them; for I have redeemed them: and ²²they shall increase as they have increased. ²³And I will sow them among the peoples; and ²⁴they shall remember me in far countries: and they shall live with their children, and shall return. ²⁵I will bring them again also out of the land of Egypt, and gather them out of Assyria; and ²⁶I will bring them into the land of Gilead and Lebanon; and ²⁷place shall not be found for them. ²⁸And ²⁹he shall pass through the sea of affliction, and shall smite ³⁰the waves in the sea, ³¹and all the depths of the Nile shall dry up: and the pride of Assyria shall be brought down, and ³²the sceptre of Egypt shall depart away. ³³And ³⁴I will strengthen them in the LORD; and ³⁵they shall walk up and down in his name, saith the LORD.

II Open thy doors, ²O Lebanon, that the fire may devour thy cedars. ³Howl, O fir tree, for the cedar is fallen, because the ⁴goodly ones are spoiled: howl, ⁵O ye oaks of Bashan, for the ⁶strong forest is come down. ⁷A voice of ⁸the howling of ⁹the shepherds! for their glory is spoiled: a voice of the roaring of ¹⁰young lions! ¹¹for the pride of Jordan is spoiled. 4 Thus said the LORD my God: 'Feed the flock of slaughter; 5^u whose ¹possessioners slay them, and hold themselves not guilty; and they that sell them say, Blessed be the LORD, for ^vI am rich: and ²their own shepherds pity them not. 6 For ^wI will no more pity the inhabitants of the land, saith the LORD: but, lo, I will deliver the men every one into his neighbour's hand, and into the hand of his king: and they shall smite the land, and out of their hand I will not deliver them. 7^x So I fed the flock of slaughter, verily ³^y the poor of the flock. And I took unto me two staves; the one I called ⁴^z Beauty, and the other I called ⁵^a Bands; ^xand I fed the flock. 8 And ^bI cut off the three shepherds in one month; for my soul was weary of them, and their soul also loathed me. 9 Then said I, I will not feed you: ^cthat that dieth, let it die; and ^dthat that is to be cut off, let it be cut off; and let them which are left eat every one the flesh of another. 10 And I took ^dmy staff Beauty, and cut it asunder, that I might break my covenant which I had made with all the peoples. 11 And it was broken in that day: and ⁷thus ³^y the poor of the flock that gave heed unto me knew that it was the word of the LORD. 12 And I said unto them, If ye think good, give me my hire; and if not, forbear. So they weighed for my hire ^ethirty pieces of silver. 13 And the LORD said unto me, Cast it ⁸unto the potter, ^fthe goodly price that I was prised at of them. And I took the ^ethirty pieces of silver, and cast them ⁸unto the potter, in the house of the LORD. 14 Then I cut asunder ⁹mine other staff, even Bands, that I might break the brotherhood between Judah and Israel. 15 And the LORD said unto me, Take unto thee yet again the instruments of ^ha foolish shepherd. 16 For, lo, I will raise up a shepherd in the land, ⁱwhich shall not ⁹visit those that be ¹⁰cut off, neither shall seek ¹¹those that be scattered, nor heal that that is broken; neither shall he feed that which ¹²is sound, but ^jhe shall eat the flesh of the fat, and shall tear their hoofs in pieces. 17^k Woe to the worthless shepherd ^lthat leaveth the flock! the sword shall be upon his arm, and ^mupon his right eye: his arm shall be clean dried up, and his right eye shall be utterly darkened.

I 2 ¹ⁿThe ¹³burden of the word of the LORD concerning Israel.

Thus saith the LORD, ^owhich stretcheth forth the heavens, and ²layeth the foundation of the earth, and ^oformeth the spirit of man within him: 2 Behold, I will make Jerusalem ²a cup of reeling unto ^rall the peoples round about, and ¹⁴^s upon Judah also ¹⁵shall it be in the siege against Jerusalem. 3 And it shall come to pass ^tin that day, that I will make Jerusalem ^ua burdensome stone for all the peoples; ^vall that burden themselves with it shall be sore wounded; and ^rall the nations of the earth shall be gathered together against it. 4^t In that day, saith the LORD, ^wI will smite every horse ^xwith astonishment, and his rider ^xwith madness: and ^yI will open mine eyes upon the house of Judah, and will smite every horse of the peoples ^xwith blindness. 5 And the chieftains of Judah shall say in their heart, The inhabitants of Jerusalem are my strength in the LORD of hosts their God. 6^t In that day will I make the chieftains of Judah ^zlike a pan of fire among wood, and like a torch of fire among sheaves; and ^athey shall devour all the peoples round about, on the right hand and on the left: and ^bJerusalem shall yet again dwell in her own place, even in Jerusalem. 7 The LORD also shall save the tents of Judah first, that the glory of the house of David and the glory of the inhabitants of Jerusalem be not magnified above Judah. 8^t In that day ^cshall the LORD defend the inhabitants of Jerusalem; and ^dhe ¹⁶that is feeble among them at that day shall be as David; and the house of David shall be as God, ^eas the angel of the LORD before them. 9 And it shall come to pass ^tin that day, that ^fI will seek to destroy all the nations that come against Jerusalem. 10 And ⁹I will pour upon

MALACHI.

I ¹^aTHE ¹burden of the word of the LORD to Israel by ²^bMalachi.

²^cI have loved you, saith the LORD. ^dYet ye say, Wherein hast thou loved us? ³Was not Esau ^eJacob's brother? saith the LORD: yet ^fI loved Jacob; ³but Esau I hated, and ^gmade his mountains a desolation, and gave his heritage to the jackals of the wilderness. ⁴⁴Whereas Edom saith, We are ⁵beaten down, but we will return and build the waste places; thus saith the LORD of hosts, They shall build, but I will throw down: and men shall call them The border of wickedness, and The people against whom the LORD hath indignation for ever. ⁵And ^hyour eyes shall see, and ye shall say, The LORD ⁶is magnified ⁷beyond the border of Israel.

⁶ⁱA son honoureth his father, and a servant his master: if then I be ^ja father, where is mine honour? and if I be ^ka master, where is my fear? saith the LORD of hosts unto you, ¹O priests, that despise my name. ^dAnd ye say, Wherein have we despised thy name? ⁷^mYe offer polluted ⁿbread upon mine altar. ^dAnd ye say, Wherein have we polluted thee? In that ye say, ^oThe table of the LORD is contemptible. ⁸^pAnd when ye offer the blind for sacrifice, it is no evil! and when ye offer the lame and sick, it is no evil! Present it now unto thy governor; will he be pleased with thee? or will he accept thy person? saith the LORD of hosts. ⁹And now, I pray you, ^qintreat the favour of God, that he may be gracious unto us: this hath been ⁸by your means: ^rwill he ⁹accept any of your persons? saith the LORD of hosts. ¹⁰^sOh that there were one among you that would shut the doors, that ye might not kindle fire on mine altar in vain! I have no pleasure in you, saith the LORD of hosts, ^tneither will I accept an offering at your hand. ¹¹For from the rising of the sun even unto the going down of the same ^umy name ¹⁰^vis great among the Gentiles; and in every place ¹¹incense is offered unto my name, and a pure offering: for ^umy name ¹⁰^vis great among the Gentiles, saith the LORD of hosts. ¹²But ye profane it, in that ye say, ^wThe table of the LORD is polluted, and the fruit thereof, even his meat, is contemptible. ¹³Ye say also, Behold, ^xwhat a weariness is it! and ye have snuffed at it, saith the LORD of hosts; and ^yye have brought that which was taken by violence, and the lame, and the sick; thus ye bring the offering: should I accept this of your hand? saith the LORD. ¹⁴But cursed be the deceiver, which hath in his flock ^za male, and ^avoweth, and sacrificeth unto the Lord a blemished thing: for ^bI am a great king, saith the LORD of hosts, and my name is ^cterrible among the Gentiles.

¹And now, ^dO ye priests, ²^ethis commandment is for you. ²^fIf ye will not hear, and if ye will not lay it to heart, to give glory unto my name, saith the LORD of hosts, then will I send ^gthe curse upon you, and I will curse ^hyour blessings: yea, I have cursed them already, because ye do not lay it to heart. ³Behold, ⁱI will rebuke ¹²the seed for your sake, and ^jwill spread dung upon your faces, even ^kthe dung of your ¹³sacrifices; and ye shall be taken away ¹⁴with it. ⁴And ye shall know that I have sent ^lthis commandment unto you, that ^mmy covenant might be with Levi, saith the LORD of hosts. ⁵My covenant was with him of life and ⁿpeace; and I gave them to him ^othat he might fear, and he feared me, and stood in awe of my name. ⁶^pThe law of truth was in his mouth, and unrighteousness was not found in his lips: he walked with me in peace and uprightness, and did ^qturn many away from iniquity. ⁷For ^rthe priest's lips should keep knowledge, and they should seek the law at his mouth: for he is ^sthe messenger of the LORD of hosts. ⁸ But ye are turned aside out of the way; [†] ye have caused many to stumble in the law; ye have corrupted ^u the covenant of Levi, saith the LORD of hosts. ⁹ Therefore ^v have I also made you contemptible and base before all the people, according as ye have not kept my ways, but ^w have had respect of persons in the law.

¹⁷ ^j Ye have wearied the LORD with your words. ^d Yet ye say, Wherein have we wearied him? In that ^k ye say, Every one that doeth evil is good in the sight of the LORD, and he delighteth in them; or ^l where is the God of judgement?

⁷ ^b From the days of your fathers ye have turned aside from mine ordinances, and have not kept them. ^c Return unto me, and I will return unto you, saith the LORD of hosts. ^d But ye say, Wherein shall we return? ⁸ Will a man rob God? yet ye rob me. ^d But ye say, Wherein have we robbed thee? ^e In tithes and ⁷ offerings. ⁹ ^f Ye are cursed with the curse; for ye rob me, even this whole nation. ¹⁰ ^g Bring ye the whole tithe into the storehouse, that there may be meat in mine house, and ^h prove me now herewith, saith the LORD of hosts, if I will not open you ⁱ the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it. ¹¹ And I will rebuke ^j the devourer for your sakes, and he shall not destroy the fruits of your ground; neither shall your vine cast her fruit before the time in the field, saith the LORD of hosts. ¹² And ^k all nations shall call you

APPENDIX.

The American Old Testament Revision Company, while recognizing the cordial acceptance given to many of their suggestions, present the following instances in which they differ from the English Company, as of sufficient importance to be appended to the Revision in accordance with the original agreement.

CLASSES OF PASSAGES.

- I. Substitute the Divine name "Jehovah" wherever it occurs in the Hebrew text, for "the LORD" and "God" and omit the marg. to "the LORD" at Gen. ii. 4, and "Heb. Jehovah" from the marg. at Ex. iii. 15; also substitute "Jehovah" for "the LORD" or "Jah" wherever the latter occurs in the Hebrew text, and retain or insert "Heb. Jah" in the marg.; where "Jehovah" immediately follows, viz. in Is. xii. 2, xxvi. 4, read "Jehovah, even Jehovah" and omit "Jehovah" from the marg.
- II. Substitute "Sheol" wherever it occurs in the Hebrew text, for the renderings "the grave" "the pit" and "hell" and omit these renderings from the marg.
- III. Substitute "a" for "an", "my" for "mine" and "thy" for "thine" wherever followed by "h" aspirated.
- IV. Substitute "who" or "that" for "which" when used of persons.
- V. Substitute "are" for "be" in the present indicative, and omit "for" before infinitives.
- VI. Omit from the margin all renderings from the LXX, Vulgate, and other ancient Versions or "authorities"
- VII. The following substitutions are preferred, with the necessary inflectional variations :
 - "adder" for "basilisk"
 - "annul" for "disannul"
 - "ascent" for "going up" when used as a noun.
 - "astonished" for "astondied"
 - "a year old" for "of the first year"
 - "base man" for "man of Belial" or "son of B."; "base woman" for "daughter of Belial"; "base men" for "men of Belial" "sons of B." or "children of B."
 - "before" for "afore"; also for "or ever" except in Ps. xc. 2; Eccl. xii. 1, 2, 6.
 - "blow the trumpet" for "blow with (or, "blow up") the trumpet"
 - "boil" "boiled" for "seethe" "sod" "sodden"
 - "bonds" for "bands" in Job xxxix. 5, and elsewhere uniformly for the same Hebrew word.
 - "capital" for "chapiter"
 - "chiefs" for "dukes"
 - "contend" for "plead" in Judg. vi. 31 (three times) and so wherever the latter rendering represents the same Hebrew verb unless followed by "cause", except in Is. i. 17. But substitute "enter into judgment" for "plead" in Jer. xxv. 31; Ezek. xvii. 20; xx. 35, 36 (twice).
 - "courses" for "rows" of timber or stone.
 - "devise" for "imagine" in Ps. x. 2; xxi. 11; cxi. 2; Hos. vii. 15; Nah. i. 9, 11; Zech. vii. 10; viii. 17.
 - "diminish" for "minish"
 - "encamp" for "camp"; also, for "pitch" when used intransitively.

REVISERS' PREFACE TO THE NEW TESTAMENT.

THE English Version of the New Testament here presented to the reader is a Revision of the Translation published in the year of Our Lord 1611, and commonly known by the name of the Authorised Version.

That Translation was the work of many hands and of several generations. The foundation was laid by William Tyndale. His translation of the New Testament was the true primary Version. The Versions that followed were either substantially reproductions of Tyndale's translation in its final shape, or revisions of Versions that had been themselves almost entirely based on it. Three successive stages may be recognised in this continuous work of authoritative revision: first, the publication of the Great Bible of 1539-41 in the reign of Henry VIII; next, the publication of the Bishops' Bible of 1568 and 1572 in the reign of Elizabeth; and lastly, the publication of the King's Bible of 1611 in the reign of James I. Besides these, the Genevan Version of 1560, itself founded on Tyndale's translation, must here be named; which, though not put forth by authority, was widely circulated in this country, and largely used by King James' Translators. Thus the form in which the English New Testament has now been read for 270 years was the result of various revisions made between 1525 and 1611; and the present Revision is an attempt, after a long interval, to follow the example set by a succession of honoured predecessors.

I. Of the many points of interest connected with the Translation of 1611, two require special notice; first, the Greek Text which it appears to have represented; and secondly, the character of the Translation itself.

1. With regard to the Greek Text, it would appear that, if to some extent the Translators exercised an independent judgement, it was mainly in choosing amongst readings contained in the principal editions of the Greek Text that had appeared in the sixteenth century. Wherever they seem to have followed a reading which is not found in any of those editions, their rendering may probably be traced to the Latin Vulgate. Their chief guides appear to have been the later editions of Stephanus and of Beza, and also, to a certain extent, the Complutensian Polyglott. All these were founded for the most part on manuscripts of late date, few in number, and used with little critical skill. But in those days it could hardly have been otherwise. Nearly all the more ancient of the documentary authorities have become known only within the last two centuries; some of the most important of them, indeed, within the last few years. Their publication has called forth not only improved editions of the Greek Text, but a succession of instructive discussions on the variations which have been brought to light, and on the best modes of distinguishing original readings from changes introduced in the course of transcription. While therefore it has long been the opinion of all scholars that the commonly received text needed thorough revision, it is but recently that materials have been acquired for executing such a work with even approximate completeness.

2. The character of the Translation itself will be best estimated by considering the leading rules under which it was made, and the extent to which these rules appear to have been observed.

The primary and fundamental rule was expressed in the following terms:— 'The ordinary Bible read in the Church, commonly called the Bishops' Bible, to be followed, and as little altered as the truth of the Original will permit.' There was, however, this subsequent provision:— 'These translations to be used, when they agree better with the text than the Bishops' Bible: Tyndale's, Matthew's, Coverdale's, Whitchurch's, Geneva.' The first of these rules, which was substantially the same as that laid down at the revision of the Great Bible in the reign of Elizabeth, was strictly observed. The other rule was but partially followed. The Translators made much use of the Genevan Version. They do not however appear to have frequently returned to the renderings of the other Versions named in the rule, where those Versions differed from the Bishops' Bible. On the other hand, their work shews evident traces of the influence of a Version not specified in the rules, the Rhemish, made from the Latin Vulgate, but by scholars conversant with the Greek Original.

Another rule, on which it is stated that those in authority laid great stress, related to the rendering of words that admitted of different interpretations. It was as follows:— 'When a word hath divers significations, that to be kept which hath been most commonly used by the most of the ancient fathers, being agreeable to the propriety of the place and the analogy of the faith.' With this rule was associated the following, on which equal stress appears to have been laid:— 'The old ecclesiastical words to be kept, viz. the word Church not to be translated Congregation, &c.' This latter rule was for the most part carefully observed; but it may be doubted whether, in the case of words that admitted of different meanings, the instructions were at all closely followed. In dealing with the more difficult words of this class, the Translators appear to have paid much regard to traditional interpretations, and especially to the authority of the Vulgate; but, as to the large residue of words which might properly fall under the rule, they used considerable freedom. Moreover they profess in their Preface to have studiously adopted a variety of expression which would now be deemed hardly consistent with the requirements of faithful translation. They seem to have been guided by the feeling that their Version would secure for the words they used a lasting place in the language; and they express a fear lest they should 'be charged (by scoffers) with some unequal dealing towards a great number of good English words,' which, without this liberty on their part, would not have a place in the pages of the English Bible. Still it cannot be doubted that they carried this liberty too far, and that the studied avoidance of uniformity in the rendering of the same words, even when occurring in the same context, is one of the blemishes in their work.

A third leading rule was of a negative character, but was rendered necessary by the experience derived from former Versions. The words of the rule are as follows:— 'No marginal notes at all to be affixed, but only for the explanation of the Hebrew or Greek words which cannot without some circumlocution so briefly and fitly be expressed in the text.' Here again the Translators used some liberty in their application of the rule. Out of more than 760 marginal notes originally appended to the Authorised Version of the New Testament, only a seventh part consists of explanations or literal renderings; the great majority of the notes being devoted to the useful and indeed necessary purpose of placing before the reader alternative renderings which it was judged that the passage or the words would fairly admit. The notes referring to variations in the Greek Text amount to about thirty-five.

Of the remaining rules it may be sufficient to notice one, which was for the most part consistently followed:— 'The names of the prophets and the holy writers, with the other names of the text, to be retained, as nigh as may be, accordingly as they were vulgarly used.' The Translators had also the liberty, in 'any place of special obscurity,' to consult those who might be qualified to give an opinion.

Passing from these fundamental rules, which should be borne in mind by any one who would rightly understand the nature and character of the Authorised Version, we must call attention to the manner in which the actual work of the translation was carried on. The New Testament was assigned to two separate Companies, the one consisting of eight members, sitting at Oxford, the other consisting of seven members, sitting at Westminster. There is no reason to believe that these Companies ever sat together. They communicated to each other, and likewise to the four Companies to which the Old Testament and the Apocrypha had been committed, the results of their labours; and perhaps afterwards reconsidered them: but the fact that the New Testament was divided between two separate bodies of men involved a grave inconvenience, and was beyond all doubt the cause of many inconsistencies. These probably would have been much more serious, had it not been provided that there should be a final supervision of the whole Bible, by selected members from Oxford, Cambridge, and Westminster, the three centres at which the work had been carried on. These supervisors are said by one authority to have been six in number, and by another twelve. When it is remembered that this supervision was completed in nine months, we may wonder that the incongruities which remain are not more numerous.

The Companies appear to have been occupied in the actual business of revision about two years and three quarters.

Such, so far as can be gathered from the rules and modes of procedure, is the character of the time-honoured Version which we have been called upon to revise. We have had to study this great Version carefully and minutely, line by line; and the longer we have been engaged upon it the more we have learned to admire its simplicity, its dignity, its power, its happy turns of expression, its general accuracy, and, we must not fail to add, the music of its cadences, and the felicities of its rhythm. To render a work that had reached this high standard of excellence still more excellent, to increase its fidelity without destroying its charm, was the task committed to us. Of that task, and of the conditions under which we have attempted its fulfilment, it will now be necessary for us to speak.

REVISERS' PREFACE TO THE NEW TESTAMENT.

II. The present Revision had its origin in action taken by the Convocation of the Province of Canterbury in February 1870, and it has been conducted throughout on the plan laid down in Resolutions of both Houses of the Province, and, more particularly, in accordance with Principles and Rules drawn up by a special Committee of Convocation in the following May. Two Companies, the one for the revision of the Authorised Version of the Old Testament, and the other for the revision of the same Version of the New Testament, were formed in the manner specified in the Resolutions, and the work was commenced on the twenty-second day of June 1870. Shortly afterwards, steps were taken, under a resolution passed by both Houses of Convocation, for inviting the co-operation of American scholars; and eventually two Committees were formed in America, for the purpose of acting with the two English Companies, on the basis of the Principles and Rules drawn up by the Committee of Convocation.

The fundamental Resolutions adopted by the Convocation of Canterbury on the third and fifth days of May 1870 were as follows:—

'1. That it is desirable that a revision of the Authorised Version of the Holy Scriptures be undertaken.

'2. That the revision be so conducted as to comprise both marginal renderings and such emendations as it may be found necessary to insert in the text of the Authorised Version.

'3. That in the above resolutions we do not contemplate any new translation of the Bible, or any alteration of the language, except where in the judgement of the most competent scholars such change is necessary.

'4. That in such necessary changes, the style of the language employed in the existing Version be closely followed.

'5. That it is desirable that Convocation should nominate a body of its own members to undertake the work of revision, who shall be at liberty to invite the co-operation of any eminent for scholarship, to whatever nation or religious body they may belong.'

The Principles and Rules agreed to by the Committee of Convocation on the twenty-fifth day of May 1870 were as follows:—

'1. To introduce as few alterations as possible into the Text of the Authorised Version consistently with faithfulness.

'2. To limit, as far as possible, the expression of such alterations to the language of the Authorised and earlier English Versions.

'3. Each Company to go twice over the portion to be revised, once provisionally, the second time finally, and on principles of voting as hereinafter is provided.

'4. That the Text to be adopted be that for which the evidence is decidedly preponderating; and that when the Text so adopted differs from that from which the Authorised Version was made, the alteration be indicated in the margin.

'5. To make or retain no change in the Text on the second final revision by each Company, except two thirds of those present approve of the same, but on the first revision to decide by simple majorities.

'6. In every case of proposed alteration that may have given rise to discussion, to defer the voting thereupon till the next Meeting, whensoever the same shall be required by one third of those present at the Meeting, such intended vote to be announced in the notice for the next Meeting.

'7. To revise the headings of chapters and pages, paragraphs, italics, and punctuation.

'8. To refer, on the part of each Company, when considered desirable, to Divines, Scholars, and Literary Men, whether at home or abroad, for their opinions.'

These rules it has been our endeavour faithfully and consistently to follow. One only of them we found ourselves unable to observe in all particulars. In accordance with the seventh rule, we have carefully revised the paragraphs, italics, and punctuation. But the revision of the headings of chapters and pages would have involved so much of indirect, and indeed frequently of direct interpretation, that we judged it best to omit them altogether.

Our communications with the American Committee have been of the following nature. We transmitted to them from time to time each several portion of our First Revision, and received from them in return their criticisms and suggestions. These we considered with much care and attention during the time we were engaged on our Second Revision. We then sent over to them the various portions of the Second Revision as they were completed, and received further suggestions, which, like the former, were closely and carefully considered. Last of all, we forwarded to them the Revised Version in its final form; and a list of those passages in which they desire to place on record their preference of other readings and renderings will be found at the end of the volume. We gratefully acknowledge their care, vigilance, and accuracy; and we humbly pray that their labours and our own, thus happily united, may be permitted to bear a blessing to both countries, and to all English-speaking people throughout the world.

The whole time devoted to the work has been ten years and a half. The First Revision occupied about six years; the Second, about two years and a half. The remaining time has been spent in the consideration of the suggestions from America on the Second Revision, and of many details and reserved questions arising out of our own labours. As a rule, a session of four days has been held every month (with the exception of August and September) in each year from the commencement of the work in June 1870. The average attendance for the whole time has been sixteen each day; the whole Company consisting at first of twenty-seven, but for the greater part of the time of twenty-four members, many of them residing at great distances from London. Of the original number four have been removed from us by death.

At an early stage in our labours, we entered into an agreement with the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge for the conveyance to them of our copyright in the work. This arrangement provided for the necessary expenses of the undertaking; and procured for the Revised Version the advantage of being published by Bodies long connected with the publication of the Authorised Version.

III. We now pass onward to give a brief account of the particulars of the present work. This we propose to do under the four heads of Text, Translation, Language, and Marginal Notes.

1. A revision of the Greek Text was the necessary foundation of our work; but it did not fall within our province to construct a continuous and complete Greek Text. In many cases the English rendering was considered to represent correctly either of two competing readings in the Greek, and then the question of the text was usually not raised. A sufficiently laborious task remained in deciding between the rival claims of various readings which might properly affect the translation. When these were adjusted, our deviations from the text presumed to underlie the Authorised Version had next to be indicated, in accordance with the fourth rule; but it proved inconvenient to record them in the margin. A better mode however of giving them publicity has been found, as the University Presses have undertaken to print them in connexion with complete Greek texts of the New Testament.

In regard of the readings thus approved, it may be observed that the fourth rule, by requiring that 'the text to be adopted' should be 'that for which the evidence is decidedly preponderating,' was in effect an instruction to follow the authority of documentary evidence without deference to any printed text of modern times, and therefore to employ the best resources of criticism for estimating the value of evidence. Textual criticism, as applied to the Greek New Testament, forms a special study of much intricacy and difficulty, and even now leaves room for considerable variety of opinion among competent critics. Different schools of criticism have been represented among us, and have together contributed to the final result. In the early part of the work every various reading requiring consideration was discussed and voted on by the Company. After a time the precedents thus established enabled the process to be safely shortened; but it was still at the option of every one to raise a full discussion on any particular reading, and the option was freely used. On the first revision, in accordance with the fifth rule, the decisions were arrived at by simple majorities. On the second revision, at which a majority of two thirds was required to retain or introduce a reading at variance with the reading presumed to underlie the Authorised Version, many readings previously adopted were brought again into debate, and either reaffirmed or set aside.

Many places still remain in which, for the present, it would not be safe to accept one reading to the absolute exclusion of others. In these cases we have given alternative readings in the margin, wherever they seem to be of sufficient importance or interest to deserve notice. In the introductory formula, the phrases 'many ancient authorities,' 'some ancient authorities,' are used with some latitude to denote a greater or lesser proportion of those authorities which have a distinctive right to be called ancient. These ancient authorities comprise not only Greek manuscripts, some of which were written in the fourth and fifth centuries, but versions of a still earlier date in different languages, and also quotations by Christian writers of the second and following centuries.

2. We pass now from the Text to the Translation. The character of the Revision was determined for us from the outset by the first rule, 'to introduce as few alterations as possible, consistently with faithfulness.' Our task was revision, not re-translation. •

REVISERS' PREFACE TO THE NEW TESTAMENT.

In the application however of this principle to the many and intricate details of our work, we have found ourselves constrained by faithfulness to introduce changes which might not at first sight appear to be included under the rule.

The alterations which we have made in the Authorised Version may be roughly grouped in five principal classes. First, alterations positively required by change of reading in the Greek Text. Secondly, alterations made where the Authorised Version appeared either to be incorrect, or to have chosen the less probable of two possible renderings. Thirdly, alterations of obscure or ambiguous renderings into such as are clear and express in their import. For it has been our principle not to leave any translation, or any arrangement of words, which could adapt itself to one or other of two interpretations, but rather to express as plainly as was possible that interpretation which seemed best to deserve a place in the text, and to put the other in the margin.

There remain yet two other classes of alterations which we have felt to be required by the same principle of faithfulness. These are, — Fourthly, alterations of the Authorised Version in cases where it was inconsistent with itself in the rendering of two or more passages confessedly alike or parallel. Fifthly, alterations rendered necessary by consequence, that is, arising out of changes already made, though not in themselves required by the general rule of faithfulness. Both these classes of alterations call for some further explanation.

The frequent inconsistencies in the Authorised Version have caused us much embarrassment from the fact already referred to, namely, that a studied variety of rendering, even in the same chapter and context, was a kind of principle with our predecessors, and was defended by them on grounds that have been mentioned above. The problem we had to solve was to discriminate between varieties of rendering which were compatible with fidelity to the true meaning of the text, and varieties which involved inconsistency, and were suggestive of differences that had no existence in the Greek. This problem we have solved to the best of our power, and for the most part in the following way.

Where there was a doubt as to the exact shade of meaning, we have looked to the context for guidance. If the meaning was fairly expressed by the word or phrase that was before us in the Authorised Version, we made no change, even where rigid adherence to the rule of translating, as far as possible, the same Greek word by the same English word might have prescribed some modification.

There are however numerous passages in the Authorized Version in which, whether regard be had to the recurrence (as in the first three Gospels) of identical clauses and sentences, to the repetition of the same word in the same passage, or to the characteristic use of particular words by the same writer, the studied variety adopted by the Translators of 1611 has produced a degree of inconsistency that cannot be reconciled with the principle of faithfulness. In such cases we have not hesitated to introduce alterations, even though the sense might not seem to the general reader to be materially affected.

The last class of alterations is that which we have described as rendered necessary by consequence; that is, by reason of some foregoing alteration. The cases in which these consequential changes have been found necessary are numerous and of very different kinds. Sometimes the change has been made to avoid tautology; sometimes to obviate an unpleasing alliteration or some other infelicity of sound; sometimes, in the case of smaller words, to preserve the familiar rhythm; sometimes for a convergence of reasons which, when explained, would at once be accepted, but until so explained might never be surmised even by intelligent readers.

This may be made plain by an example. When a particular word is found to recur with characteristic frequency in any one of the Sacred Writers, it is obviously desirable to adopt for it some uniform rendering. Again, where, as in the case of the first three Evangelists, precisely the same clauses or sentences are found in more than one of the Gospels, it is no less necessary to translate them in every place in the same way. These two principles may be illustrated by reference to a word that perpetually recurs in St. Mark's Gospel, and that may be translated either 'straightway,' 'forthwith,' or 'immediately.' Let it be supposed that the first rendering is chosen, and that the word, in accordance with the first of the above principles, is in that Gospel uniformly translated 'straightway.' Let it be further supposed that one of the passages of St. Mark in which it is so translated is found, word for word, in one of the other Gospels, but that there the rendering of the Authorised Version happens to be 'forthwith' or 'immediately.' That rendering must be changed on the second of the above principles; and yet such a change would not have been made but for this concurrence of two sound principles, and the consequent necessity of making a change on grounds extraneous to the passage itself.

REVISERS' PREFACE TO THE NEW TESTAMENT.

This is but one of many instances of consequential alterations which might at first sight appear unnecessary, but which nevertheless have been deliberately made, and are not at variance with the rule of introducing as few changes in the Authorised Version as faithfulness would allow.

There are some other points of detail which it may be here convenient to notice. One of these, and perhaps the most important, is the rendering of the Greek aorist. There are numerous cases, especially in connexion with particles ordinarily expressive of present time, in which the use of the indefinite past tense in Greek and English is altogether different; and in such instances we have not attempted to violate the idiom of our language by forms of expression which it could not bear. But we have often ventured to represent the Greek aorist by the English preterite, even where the reader may find some passing difficulty in such a rendering, because we have felt convinced that the true meaning of the original was obscured by the presence of the familiar auxiliary. A remarkable illustration may be found in the seventeenth chapter of St. John's Gospel, where the combination of the aorist and the perfect shews, beyond all reasonable doubt, that different relations of time were intended to be expressed.

Changes of translation will also be found in connexion with the aorist participle, arising from the fact that the usual periphrasis of this participle in the Vulgate, which was rendered necessary by Latin idiom, has been largely reproduced in the Authorised Version by 'when' with the past tense (as for example in the second chapter of St. Matthew's Gospel), even where the ordinary participial rendering would have been easier and more natural in English.

In reference to the perfect and the imperfect tenses but little needs to be said. The correct translation of the former has been for the most part, though with some striking exceptions, maintained in the Authorised Version: while with regard to the imperfect, clear as its meaning may be in the Greek, the power of expressing it is so limited in English, that we have been frequently compelled to leave the force of the tense to be inferred from the context. In a few instances, where faithfulness imperatively required it, and especially where, in the Greek, the significance of the imperfect tense seemed to be additionally marked by the use of the participle with the auxiliary verb, we have introduced the corresponding form in English. Still, in the great majority of cases we have been obliged to retain the English preterite, and to rely either on slight changes in the order of the words, or on prominence given to the accompanying temporal particles, for the indication of the meaning which, in the Greek, the imperfect tense was designed to convey.

On other points of grammar it may be sufficient to speak more briefly.

Many changes, as might be anticipated, have been made in the case of the definite article. Here again it was necessary to consider the peculiarities of English idiom, as well as the general tenor of each passage. Sometimes we have felt it enough to prefix the article to the first of a series of words to all of which it is prefixed in the Greek, and thus, as it were, to impart the idea of definiteness to the whole series, without running the risk of overloading the sentence. Sometimes, conversely, we have had to tolerate the presence of the definite article in our Version, when it is absent from the Greek, and perhaps not even grammatically latent; simply because English idiom would not allow the noun to stand alone, and because the introduction of the indefinite article might have introduced an idea of oneness or individuality, which was not in any degree traceable in the original. In a word, we have been careful to observe the use of the article wherever it seemed to be idiomatically possible: where it did not seem to be possible, we have yielded to necessity.

As to the pronouns and the place they occupy in the sentence, a subject often overlooked by our predecessors, we have been particularly careful; but here again we have frequently been baffled by structural or idiomatical peculiarities of the English language which precluded changes otherwise desirable.

In the case of the particles we have met with less difficulty, and have been able to maintain a reasonable amount of consistency. The particles in the Greek Testament are, as is well known, comparatively few, and they are commonly used with precision. It has therefore been the more necessary here to preserve a general uniformity of rendering, especially in the case of the particles of causality and inference, so far as English idiom would allow.

Lastly, many changes have been introduced in the rendering of the prepositions, especially where ideas of instrumentality or of mediate agency, distinctly marked in the original, had been confused or obscured in the translation. We have however borne in mind the comprehensive character of such prepositions as 'of' and 'by,' the one in reference to agency and the other in reference to means, especially in the English of the seventeenth century; and have rarely made any change where the true meaning of the original as expressed in the Authorised Version would be apparent to a reader of ordinary intelligence.

3. We now come to the subject of Language.

The second of the rules, by which the work has been governed, prescribed that the alterations to be introduced should be expressed, as far as possible, in the language of the Authorised Version or of the Versions that preceded it.

To this rule we have faithfully adhered. We have habitually consulted the earlier Versions; and in our sparing introduction of words not found in them or in the Authorised Version we have usually satisfied ourselves that such words were employed by standard writers of nearly the same date, and had also that general hue which justified their introduction into a Version which has held the highest place in the classical literature of our language. We have never removed any archaisms, whether in structure or in words, except where we were persuaded either that the meaning of the words was not generally understood, or that the nature of the expression led to some misconception of the true sense of the passage. The frequent inversions of the strict order of the words, which add much to the strength and variety of the Authorised Version, and give an archaic colour to many felicities of diction, have been seldom modified. Indeed, we have often adopted the same arrangement in our own alterations; and in this, as in other particulars, we have sought to assimilate the new work to the old.

In a few exceptional cases we have failed to find any word in the older stratum of our language that appeared to convey the precise meaning of the original. There, and there only, we have used words of a later date; but not without having first assured ourselves that they are to be found in the writings of the best authors of the period to which they belong.

In regard of Proper Names no rule was prescribed to us. In the case of names of frequent occurrence we have deemed it best to follow generally the rule laid down for our predecessors. That rule, it may be remembered, was to this effect, 'The names of the prophets and the holy writers, with the other names of the text, to be retained, as high as may be, accordingly as they were vulgarly used.' Some difficulty has been felt in dealing with names less familiarly known. Here our general practice has been to follow the Greek form of names, except in the case of persons and places mentioned in the Old Testament: in this case we have followed the Hebrew.

4. The subject of the Marginal Notes deserves special attention. They represent the results of a large amount of careful and elaborate discussion, and will, perhaps, by their very presence, indicate to some extent the intricacy of many of the questions that have almost daily come before us for decision. These Notes fall into four main groups: first, notes specifying such differences of reading as were judged to be of sufficient importance to require a particular notice; secondly, notes indicating the exact rendering of words to which, for the sake of English idiom, we were obliged to give a less exact rendering in the text; thirdly, notes, very few in number, affording some explanation which the original appeared to require; fourthly, alternative renderings in difficult or debateable passages. The notes of this last group are numerous, and largely in excess of those which were admitted by our predecessors. In the 270 years that have passed away since their labours were concluded, the Sacred Text has been minutely examined, discussed in every detail, and analysed with a grammatical precision unknown in the days of the last Revision. There has thus been accumulated a large amount of materials that have prepared the way for different renderings, which necessarily came under discussion. We have therefore placed before the reader in the margin other renderings than those which were adopted in the text, wherever such renderings seemed to deserve consideration. The rendering in the text, where it agrees with the Authorised Version, was supported by at least one third, and, where it differs from the Authorised Version, by at least two thirds of those who were present at the second revision of the passage in question.

A few supplementary matters have yet to be mentioned. These may be thus enumerated, — the use of Italics, the arrangement in Paragraphs, the mode of printing Quotations from the Poetical Books of the Old Testament, the Punctuation, and, last of all, the Titles of the different Books that make up the New Testament, — all of them particulars on which it seems desirable to add a few explanatory remarks.

(a) The determination, in each place, of the words to be printed in italics has not been by any means easy; nor can we hope to be found in all cases perfectly consistent. In the earliest editions of the Authorised Version the use of a different type to indicate supplementary words not contained in the original was not very frequent, and cannot easily be reconciled with any settled principle. A review of the words so printed was made, after a lapse of some years, for the editions of the Authorised Version published at Cambridge in 1629 and 1638. Further, though slight, modifications were introduced at intervals between 1638 and the more systematic revisions undertaken respectively by Dr. Paris in the Cambridge Edition of 1762, and by Dr. Blayney in the Oxford Edition of 1769. None of them however rest on any higher authority than that of the persons who from time to time superintended the publication. The last attempt to bring the use of italics into uniformity and consistency was made by Dr. Scrivener in the Paragraph Bible published at Cambridge in 1870-73. In succeeding to these labours, we have acted on the general principle of printing in italics words which did not appear to be necessarily involved in the Greek. Our tendency has been to diminish rather than to increase the amount of italic printing; though, in the case of difference of readings, we have usually marked the absence of any words in the original which the sense might nevertheless require to be present in the Version; and again, in the case of inserted pronouns, where the reference did not appear to be perfectly certain, we have similarly had recourse to italics. Some of these cases, especially when there are slight differences of reading, are of singular intricacy, and make it impossible to maintain rigid uniformity.

(b) We have arranged the Sacred Text in paragraphs, after the precedent of the earliest English Versions, so as to assist the general reader in following the current of narrative or argument. The present arrangement will be found, we trust, to have preserved the due mean between a system of long portions which must often include several separate topics, and a system of frequent breaks which, though they may correctly indicate the separate movements of thought in the writer, often seriously impede a just perception of the true continuity of the passage. The traditional division into chapters, which the Authorised Version inherited from Latin Bibles of the later middle ages, is an illustration of the former method. These paragraphs, for such in fact they are, frequently include several distinct subjects. Moreover they sometimes, though rarely, end where there is no sufficient break in the sense. The division of chapters into verses, which was introduced into the New Testament for the first time in 1551, is an exaggeration of the latter method, with its accompanying inconveniences. The serious obstacles to the right understanding of Holy Scripture, which are interposed by minute subdivision, are often overlooked; but if any one will consider for a moment the injurious effect that would be produced by breaking up a portion of some great standard work into separate verses, he will at once perceive how necessary has been an alteration in this particular. The arrangement by chapters and verses undoubtedly affords facilities for reference: but this advantage we have been able to retain by placing the numerals on the inside margin of each page.

(c) A few words will suffice as to the mode of printing quotations from the Poetical Books of the Old Testament. Wherever the quotation extends to two or more lines, our practice has been to recognise the parallelism of their structure by arranging the lines in a manner that appears to agree with the metrical divisions of the Hebrew original. Such an arrangement will be found helpful to the reader; not only as directing his attention to the poetical character of the quotation, but as also tending to make its force and pertinence more fully felt. We have treated in the same way the hymns in the first two chapters of the Gospel according to St. Luke.

(d) Great care has been bestowed on the punctuation. Our practice has been to maintain what is sometimes called the heavier system of stopping, or, in other words, that system which, especially for convenience in reading aloud, suggests such pauses as will best ensure a clear and intelligent setting forth of the true meaning of the words. This course has rendered necessary, especially in the Epistles, a larger use of colons and semicolons than is customary in modern English printing.

(e) We may in the last place notice one particular to which we were not expressly directed to extend our revision, namely, the titles of the Books of the New Testament. These titles are no part of the original text; and the titles found in the most ancient manuscripts are of too short a form to be convenient for use. Under these circumstances, we have deemed it best to leave unchanged the titles which are given in the Authorised Version as printed in 1611.

We now conclude, humbly commending our labours to Almighty God, and praying that his favour and blessing may be vouchsafed to that which has been done in his name. We recognised from the first the responsibility of the undertaking; and through our manifold experience of its abounding difficulties we have felt more and more, as we went onward, that such a work can never be accomplished by organised efforts of scholarship and criticism, unless assisted by Divine help.

We know full well that defects must have their place in a work so long and so arduous as this which has now come to an end. Blemishes and imperfections there are in the noble Translation which we have been called upon to revise; blemishes and imperfections will assuredly be found in our own Revision. All endeavours to translate the Holy Scriptures into another tongue must fall short of their aim, when the obligation is imposed of producing a Version that shall be alike literal and idiomatic, faithful to each thought of the original, and yet, in the expression of it, harmonious and free. While we dare to hope that in places not a few of the New Testament the introduction of slight changes has cast a new light upon much that was difficult and obscure, we cannot forget how often we have failed in expressing some finer shade of meaning which we recognised in the original, how often idiom has stood in the way of a perfect rendering, and how often the attempt to preserve a familiar form of words, or even a familiar cadence, has only added another perplexity to those which already beset us.

Thus, in the review of the work which we have been permitted to complete, our closing words must be words of mingled thanksgiving, humility, and prayer. Of thanksgiving, for the many blessings vouchsafed to us throughout the unbroken progress of our corporate labours; of humility, for our failings and imperfections in the fulfilment of our task; and of prayer to Almighty God, that the Gospel of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ may be more clearly and more freshly shewn forth to all who shall be readers of this Book.

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO S. MATTHEW.

I ¹ ^aTHE book of the ² generation of Jesus Christ, ^b the son of David, ^c the son of Abraham.

² ^d Abraham begat Isaac; and ^e Isaac begat Jacob; and ^f Jacob begat Judah and his brethren; ³ and ^g Judah begat Perez and Zerah of Tamar; and Perez begat Hezron; and Hezron begat ^h Ram; ⁴ and ⁱ Ram begat Amminadab; and Amminadab begat Nahshon; and Nahshon begat Salmon; ⁵ and Salmon begat Boaz of ^j Rahab; and Boaz begat Obed of Ruth; and Obed begat Jesse; ⁶ and ^k Jesse begat David the king.

And ^l David begat Solomon of ^m her that had been the wife of Uriah; ⁷ and ⁿ Solomon begat Rehoboam; and Rehoboam begat Abijah; and Abijah begat ^o Asa; ⁸ and ^p Asa begat Jehoshaphat; and Jehoshaphat begat Joram; ⁹ and Joram begat Uzziah; ¹⁰ and Uzziah begat Jotham; and Jotham begat Ahaz; and Ahaz begat Hezekiah; ¹¹ and Hezekiah begat Manasseh; and Manasseh begat ^q Amon; and ^r Amon begat Josiah; ¹² and ^s Josiah begat ^t Jechoniah and his brethren, at the time of the ^u carrying away to Babylon.

¹³ And after the ^v carrying away to Babylon, ^w Jechoniah begat ^x Shealtiel; and ^y Shealtiel begat Zerubbabel; ¹⁴ and Zerubbabel begat Abiud; and Abiud begat Eliakim; and Eliakim begat Azor; ¹⁵ and Azor begat Sadoc; and Sadoc begat Achim; and Achim begat Eliud; ¹⁶ and Eliud begat Eleazar; and Eleazar begat Matthan; and Matthan begat Jacob; ¹⁷ and Jacob begat ^z Joseph the husband of Mary, of whom was born Jesus, who is called Christ.

¹⁸ So all the generations from Abraham unto David are fourteen generations; and from David unto the ^{aa} carrying away to Babylon fourteen generations; and from the

¹⁹ Now the ^{ad} birth ^{ae} of ^{af} Jesus Christ was on this wise: ^{ag} When his mother Mary had been betrothed to Joseph, before they came together she was found with child ^{ah} of the ^{ai} Holy Ghost. ²⁰ And Joseph her husband, being a righteous man, and not willing ^{aj} to make her a public example, was minded to put her away privily. ²¹ But when he thought on these things, behold, ^{ak} an angel of the Lord appeared unto him in a dream, saying, Joseph, thou son of David, fear not to take unto thee Mary thy wife: for that which is ^{al} conceived in her is of the Holy Ghost. ²² And she shall bring forth a son; and ^{am} thou shalt call his name JESUS; ^{an} for it is he that shall save his people from their sins. ²³ ^{ao} Now all this is come to pass, ^{ap} that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Lord through the prophet, saying,

²⁴ Behold, the virgin shall be with child, and shall bring forth a son,

And they shall call his name ^{aq} Immanuel;

which is, being interpreted, God ^{ar} with us. ²⁵ And Joseph arose from his sleep, and did as the angel of the Lord commanded him, and took unto him his wife; ²⁶ and knew her not till she had brought forth a son: and ^{as} he called his name JESUS.

scribes of the people, he inquired of them where ^p the Christ should be born. 5 And they said unto him, In Bethlehem of Judæa: for thus it is written ¹ by the prophet,

6 ² And thou Bethlehem, land of Judah,

Art in no wise least among the princes of Judah:

For out of thee shall come forth a governor,

Which shall be ^r shepherd of my people Israel.

7 Then Herod privily called the ² wise men, and learned of them carefully ³ what time the star appeared. 8 And he sent them to Bethlehem, and said, Go and search out carefully concerning the young child; and when ye have found him, bring me word, that I also may come and worship him. 9 And they, having heard the king, went their way; and lo, the star, which they saw in the east, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young child was. 10 And when they saw the star, they rejoiced with exceeding great joy. 11 And they came into the house and saw the young child with Mary his mother; and they fell down and worshipped him; and opening their treasures ^s they offered unto him gifts, ^t gold and ^u frankincense and ^v myrrh. 12 And ^w being warned of God ^x in a dream that they should not return to Herod, they departed into their own country another way.

13 Now when they were departed, behold, ^y an angel of the Lord appeareth to Joseph in a dream, saying, Arise and take the young child and his mother, and flee into Egypt, and be thou there until I tell thee: for Herod will seek the young child to destroy him. 14 And he arose and took the young child and his mother by night, and departed into Egypt; 15 and was there until the death of Herod: ^z that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Lord through the prophet, saying, ^a Out of Egypt did I call my son. 16 Then Herod, when he saw that he was mocked of the ² wise men, was exceeding wroth, and sent forth, and slew all the male children that were in Bethlehem, and in all the borders thereof, from two years old and under, according to the time which he had carefully learned of the ² wise men. 17 ^b Then was fulfilled that which was spoken ¹ by Jeremiah the prophet, saying, 18 ^c A voice was heard in Ramah, Weeping and great mourning, Rachel weeping for her children; And she would not be comforted, because they ^d are not.

19 But when Herod was dead, behold, an angel of the Lord appeareth in a dream to Joseph in Egypt, 20 saying, Arise and take the young child and his mother, and go into the land of Israel: for ^e they are dead that sought the young child's life. 21 And he arose and took the young child and his mother, and came into the land of Israel. 22 But when he heard that Archelaus was reigning over Judæa in the room of his father Herod, he was afraid to go thither; and ^f being warned of God in a dream, he withdrew into the parts of Galilee, 23 and came and dwelt in a city called ^g Nazareth: ^h that it might be fulfilled which was spoken ¹ by the prophets, that he should be called a Nazarene.

1 And ⁱ in those days cometh ³ ^j John the Baptist, preaching in ^k the wilderness of Judæa, 2 saying, ^l Repent ye; for ^m the kingdom of heaven is at hand. 3 For this is he that was spoken of ¹ by Isaiah the prophet, saying,

ⁿ The voice of one crying in the wilderness,

^o Make ye ready the way of the Lord,

Make his paths straight.

4 Now John himself had ^p his raiment of camel's hair, and a leathern girdle about his loins; and his food was ^q locusts and ^r wild honey. 5 Then went out unto him Jerusalem, and all Judæa, and all the region round about Jordan; 6 and they were baptized of him in the river Jordan, ^s confessing their sins. 7 But when he saw many of ^t the Pharisees and ^u Sadducees coming to his baptism, he said unto them, ^v Ye offspring of ^w vipers, who warned you to flee from ^x the wrath to come? 8 Bring forth therefore fruit ^y worthy of ⁴ repentance: 9 and think not to say within yourselves,

^z We have Abraham to our father: for I say unto you, that God is able of ^a these stones to raise up children unto Abraham. ¹⁰ And even now is the axe laid unto the root of the trees: ^b every tree therefore that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire. ¹¹ ^c I indeed baptize you ¹ with water ^d unto repentance: but ^e he that cometh after me is mightier than I, whose shoes I am not ² worthy to bear: he shall baptize you ^{1f} with the Holy Ghost and with ^g fire: ¹² whose ^h fan is in his hand, and he will thoroughly cleanse his threshing-floor; and he will ⁱ gather his wheat into the garner, ^j but the chaff he will burn up with ^k unquenchable fire.

¹³ ^l Then cometh Jesus ^m from Galilee to the Jordan unto John, to be baptized of him. ¹⁴ But ⁿ John would have hindered him, saying, I have need to be baptized of thee, and comest thou to me? ¹⁵ But Jesus answering said unto him, Suffer ³ it now: for thus it becometh ^o us to fulfil all righteousness. Then he suffereth him. ¹⁶ And Jesus, when he was baptized, went up straightway from the water: and lo, ^p the heavens were opened ⁴ unto him, and he ^q saw the Spirit of God descending as a dove, and coming upon him; ¹⁷ and lo, ^r a voice out of the heavens, saying, ^{5s} This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.

¹ ^t Then was Jesus led up of ⁴ the Spirit into the wilderness ^u to be tempted of the devil.

² And when he had fasted ^v forty days and forty nights, he afterward ^w hungered. ³ And ^x the tempter came and said unto him, If thou art ^y the Son of God, command that ^z these stones become ⁶ bread. ⁴ But he answered and said, ^a It is written, ^b Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God. ^{5c} Then the devil taketh him into ^d the holy city; and he set him on the ⁷ pinnacle of the temple, ⁶ and saith unto him, If thou art the Son of God, cast thyself down: for it is written,

And on their hands they shall bear thee up,
 Lest haply thou dash thy foot against a stone.

⁷ Jesus said unto him, Again ^f it is written, ^g Thou shalt not ^h tempt the Lord thy God. ⁸ ⁱ Again, the devil taketh him unto an exceeding high mountain, and sheweth him all the kingdoms of the world, and the glory of them; ⁹ and he said unto him, All these things will I give thee, if thou wilt fall down and worship me. ¹⁰ Then saith Jesus unto him, Get thee hence, ^j Satan: for ^k it is written, ^l Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and ^m him only shalt thou serve. ¹¹ Then the devil leaveth him; and behold, ⁿ angels came and ministered unto him.

¹² Now when he heard that ^o John was delivered up, ^p he withdrew into Galilee; ¹³ and leaving ^q Nazareth, he came and dwelt in ^r Capernaum, which is by ^s the sea, in the borders of ^t Zebulun and Naphthali: ¹⁴ ^u that it might be fulfilled which was spoken ⁸ by Isaiah the prophet, saying,

¹⁵ ^v The land of Zebulun and the land of Naphtali,
⁹ Toward the sea, beyond Jordan,

^w Galilee of the ¹⁰ Gentiles,

¹⁶ ^x The people which sat in darkness

Saw a great light,
 And to them which sat in the region and ^y shadow of death,
 To them did light spring up.

¹⁷ ^z From that time ^a began Jesus to preach, and to say, ^b Repent ye; for the kingdom of heaven is at hand.

^{18c} And walking by ^d the sea of Galilee, he saw two brethren, Simon who is called Peter, and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the sea; for they were fishers. ¹⁹ And he saith unto them, Come ye after me, and I will make you ^e fishers of men. ²⁰ And they straightway left the nets, and followed him. ²¹ And going on from thence he saw other two brethren, ¹¹ James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, in the boat with Zebedee their father, mending their nets; and he called them. ²² And they straightway left the boat and their father, and followed him.

23^f And ¹ Jesus went about in all Galilee, ^g teaching in their synagogues, and ^h preaching the ² gospel of the kingdom, and ⁱ healing all manner of disease and all manner of sickness among the people. 24 And the report of him went forth into all ^j Syria: and ^k they brought unto him all that were sick, holden with divers diseases and ^l torments, ³ ^l possessed with devils, and ^m epileptic, and ⁿ palsied; and he healed them. 25^o And there followed him great multitudes from Galilee and ^p Decapolis and Jerusalem and Judæa and from beyond Jordan.

1 And seeing the multitudes, 5^a he went up into the mountain: and when he had ^r sat down, his disciples came unto him: 2 and ^s he opened his mouth and taught them, saying,

3^t Blessed are ^u the poor ^v in spirit: for ^w theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

4^x Blessed are ^y they that mourn: for they shall be comforted.

5 Blessed are ^z the ^y meek: for they ^y shall inherit the earth.

6 Blessed are they that hunger and ^a thirst ^a after righteousness: for they shall be filled.

7 Blessed are ^b the merciful: for they shall obtain mercy.

8 Blessed are ^c the pure in heart: for ^d they shall see God.

9 Blessed are ^e the peacemakers: for ^f they shall be called ^g sons of God.

10^h Blessed are they that have been persecuted for righteousness' sake: for ^w theirs is the kingdom of heaven. 11ⁱ Blessed are ye when men shall reproach you, and persecute you, and say all manner of evil against you falsely, ^j for my sake. 12^k Rejoice, and be exceeding glad: for great is your reward in heaven: for ^l so persecuted they the prophets which were before you.

13 Ye are the salt of the earth: ^m but if the salt have lost its savour, wherewith shall it be salted?

it is thenceforth good for nothing, but to be cast out and trodden under foot of men. 14ⁿ Ye are the light of the world. A city set on a hill cannot be hid. 15^o Neither do men light a lamp, and put it under the bushel, but on the stand; and it shineth unto all that are in the house. 16 Even so let your light shine before men, ^p that they may see your good works, and ^q glorify your Father which is in heaven.

17^r Think not that I came to destroy ^s the law or the prophets: I came not to destroy, but ^t to fulfil. 18 For verily I say unto you, ^u Till heaven and earth pass away, one jot or one tittle shall in no wise pass away from the law, till all things be accomplished. 19^v Whosoever therefore shall break ^w one of these least commandments, and shall teach men so, shall be called least ^x in the kingdom of heaven: but whosoever shall do and teach them, he shall be called great ^x in the kingdom of heaven. 20 For I say unto you, that except your righteousness shall exceed ^y the righteousness of the scribes and Pharisees, ye ^z shall in no wise enter into the kingdom of heaven.

21^a Ye have heard that it was said to them of old time, ^b Thou shalt not kill; and whosoever shall kill shall be in danger of ^c the judgement: 22 but I say unto you, that ^d every one who is angry with his brother ^e shall be in danger of ^c the judgement; and whosoever shall say to his brother, ^f Raca, shall be in danger of ^e the council; and whosoever shall say, ^g Thou fool, shall be in danger ^h of ^g the ^h hell of fire. 23ⁱ If therefore ⁱ thou art offering thy gift at the altar, and there rememberest that thy brother hath aught against thee, 24 leave there thy gift before the altar, and go thy way, first be reconciled to thy brother, and then come and offer thy gift. 25^j Agree with thine adversary quickly, whiles thou art with him in the way; lest haply the adversary deliver thee to the judge, and the judge ^k deliver thee to the officer, and thou be cast into prison. 26 Verily I say unto thee, ^k Thou shalt by no means come out thence,

³⁸ Ye have heard that it was said, ^bAn eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth: ³⁹ but I say unto you, ^cResist not ⁵him that is evil: but ^dwhosoever ^esmiteth thee on thy right cheek, turn to him the other also. ⁴⁰ And ^fif any man would go to law with thee, and take away thy coat, let him have thy cloke also. ⁴¹ And whosoever shall ⁶compel thee to go one mile, go with him twain. ⁴² Give to him that asketh thee, and ^hfrom him that would borrow of thee turn not thou away.

⁴³ Ye have heard that it was said,

^jThou shalt love thy neighbour, and ^khate thine enemy: ⁴⁴ but I say unto you, ^lLove your enemies, and ^mpray for them that persecute you; ⁴⁵ that ye may be sons of your Father which is in heaven: for he maketh his sun to rise on the evil and the good, and ^osendeth rain on the just and the unjust. ⁴⁶ For if ye love them that love you, what reward have ye? do not even the ⁷publicans the same? ⁴⁷ And if ye salute your brethren only, what do ye more than others? do not even ^qthe Gentiles the same? ⁴⁸ Ye therefore shall be ^sperfect, ^tas your heavenly Father is perfect.

⁶ Take heed that ye ^udo not your righteousness before men, ^vto be seen of them: else ye have no reward with your Father which is in heaven.

² When therefore thou doest alms, sound not a trumpet before thee, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may ^xhave glory of men. Verily I say unto you, They have ^yreceived their reward. ³ But when thou doest alms, let not thy left hand know what thy right hand doeth: ⁴ that thine alms may be in secret: ^zand thy Father which seeth in secret shall recompense thee.

⁵ And when ye pray, ye shall not be as the hypocrites: for they love ^ato stand and pray in the synagogues and in the corners of the streets, that they may be seen of men. ^b Verily I say unto you, They have received their reward. ⁶ But thou, when thou prayest, ^center into thine inner chamber, and having shut thy door, pray to thy Father which is in secret, ^dand thy Father which seeth in secret shall recompense thee. ⁷ And in praying use not vain repetitions, as ^ethe Gentiles do: for ^fthey think that they shall be heard ^gfor their much speaking. ⁸ Be not therefore like unto them: ^hfor ⁸your Father knoweth what things ye have need of, before ye ask him. ⁹ After this manner therefore pray ye: ^jOur Father which art in heaven, ^kHallowed be ^lthy name. ¹⁰ Thy kingdom come. ⁿThy will be done, ^oas in heaven, so on earth. ¹¹ Give us ^qthis day ⁹our daily bread. ¹² And forgive us our debts, as we also have forgiven our debtors. 13 And ^rbring us not into temptation, but ^sdeliver us from ¹the evil ^{one}. ²14 ^vFor if ye forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you. 15 ^wBut if ye forgive not men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses.

16 Moreover ^xwhen ye fast, be not, as the hypocrites, of a sad countenance: for they disfigure their faces, that they may be seen of men to fast. ^yVerily I say unto you, They have received their reward. 17 But thou, when thou fastest, ^zanoint thy head, and wash thy face; 18 that thou be not seen of men to fast, but of thy Father which is in secret: ^aand thy Father, which seeth in secret, shall recompense thee.

19 ^bLay not up for yourselves treasures upon the earth, where ^cmoth and rust doth consume, and where thieves ^dbreak through and steal: 20 ^bbut lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth consume, and where thieves do not ^ebreak through nor steal: 21 for where thy treasure is, there will thy heart be also. 22 ^eThe lamp of the body is the eye: if therefore thine eye be single, thy whole body shall be full of light. 23 ^eBut if ^fthine eye be evil, thy whole body shall be full of darkness. If therefore the light that is in thee be darkness, how great is the darkness!

24 ^gNo man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the ^{one}, and love the other; or else he will hold to one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and ^hmammon. 25 ⁱTherefore I say unto you, ^jBe not anxious for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink; nor yet for your body, what ye shall put on. Is not the life more than the food, and the body than the raiment? 26 ^kBehold the birds of the heaven, that they sow not, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns; and your heavenly Father feedeth them. ^lAre not ye of much more value than they? 27 And which of you by being anxious can add one cubit unto his ^mstature? 28 And why are ye anxious concerning raiment? Consider the lilies of the field,

how they grow; they toil not, neither do they spin: 29 yet I say unto you, that ⁿeven Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these. 30 But if God doth so clothe the grass of the field, which to-day is, and to-morrow is cast into the oven, shall he not much more clothe you, O ye of little faith? 31 Be not therefore anxious, saying, What shall we eat? or, What shall we drink? or, Wherewithal shall we be clothed? 32 For after all these things do ^pthe Gentiles seek; ^qfor your heavenly Father knoweth that ye have need of all these things. 33 But ^rseek ye first ^shis kingdom, and his righteousness; ^tand all these things shall be added unto you. 34 ^uBe not therefore anxious for the morrow: for the morrow will be anxious for itself. Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof.

7 ^vJudge not, that ye be not judged. 2 ^wFor with what judgement ye judge, ye shall be judged: and ^xwith what measure ye mete, it shall be measured unto you. 3 And why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye, but ^yconsiderest not the beam that is in thine own eye? 4 Or how wilt thou say to thy brother, Let me cast out the mote out of thine eye; and lo, the beam is in thine own eye? 5 Thou hypocrite, cast out first the beam out of thine own eye; and then shalt thou see clearly to cast out the mote out of thy brother's eye.

6 ^zGive not that which is holy unto ^athe dogs, neither cast your ^bpearls before the swine, lest haply they trample them under their feet, and turn and rend you.

7 ^cAsk, ^dand it shall be given you; ^eseek, and ye shall find; ^fknock, and it shall be opened unto you: 8 for every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened. 9 Or what man is there of you, who, if his son shall ask him for ^ga loaf, will give him ^ha stone; 10 or if he shall ask for a fish, will give him a serpent? 11 If ye then, ⁱbeing evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children, how much more shall ^jyour Father which is in heaven give good things to them that ask him?

12ⁱ All things therefore whatsoever ye would that men should do unto you, even so do ye also unto them: for this is ^jthe law and the prophets.

13^k Enter ye in by the narrow gate: for wide ^lis the gate, and broad is the way, that leadeth to destruction, and many be they that enter in thereby. 14² For narrow is the gate, and straitened ^lthe way, that leadeth unto life, and ^mfew be they that find it.

15ⁿ Beware of false prophets, which come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly are ^oravening wolves. 16^p By their fruits ye shall know them. Do men gather grapes of thorns, or figs of thistles? 17 Even so ^qevery good tree bringeth forth good fruit; but the corrupt tree bringeth forth evil fruit. 18 A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit. 19^r Every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire. 20 Therefore ^sby their fruits ye shall know them. 21^s Not every one that ^tsaith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall ^uenter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that ^vdoeth the will of my Father which is in heaven. 22^w Many will say to me ^xin that day, Lord, Lord, did we not ^yprophesy by thy name, and ^zby thy name cast out ³devils, and by thy name do many ⁴mighty works? 23^w And then will I profess unto them, I ^anever knew you: ^bdepart from me, ^cye that work iniquity. 24^d Every one therefore which heareth these words of mine, and doeth them, shall be likened unto ^ea wise man, which built his house upon the rock: 25 and the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell not: for it was founded upon the rock. 26 And every one that heareth these words of mine, and doeth them not, shall be likened unto ^ea foolish man, which built his house upon the sand: 27 and the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and smote upon that house; and it fell: and great was the fall thereof.

28 And it came to pass, when Jesus ended these words, ^fthe multitudes were astonished at his teaching: 29^g for he taught them as ^hone having authority, and not as their scribes.

8 ⁱAnd when he was come down from the mountain, ^hgreat multitudes followed him. 2ⁱ And behold, there came to him a leper and ^jworshipped him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean. 3 And he stretched forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will; be thou made clean. And straightway his leprosy was cleansed. 4 And Jesus saith unto him, ^kSee thou tell no man; but go thy way, ^lshew thyself to the priest, and ^moffer the gift that Moses commanded, ⁿfor a testimony unto them.

5 And ^owhen he was entered into Capernaum, there came unto him a centurion, beseeching him, 6 and saying, Lord, my ^oservant lieth in the house sick of the palsy, grievously tormented. 7 And he saith unto him, I will come and heal him. 8 And the centurion answered and said, Lord, I am not ^oworthy that thou shouldest come under my roof: but ^ponly say ^qthe word, and my ^oservant shall be healed. 9 For I also am a man ^ounder authority, having under myself soldiers: and I say to this one, Go, and he goeth; and to another, Come, and he cometh; and to my ^oservant, Do this, and he doeth it. 10 And when Jesus heard it, ^qhe marvelled, and said to them that followed, Verily I say unto you, ¹⁰I have not found so great ^rfaith, no, not in Israel. 11 And I say unto you, that ^smany shall come from the east and the west, and shall ¹¹sit down with Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, in the kingdom of heaven: 12^t but the sons of the kingdom ^ushall be cast forth into the outer darkness: ^vthere shall be the weeping and gnashing of teeth. 13 And Jesus said unto the centurion, Go thy way; ^was thou hast believed, ^{so}be it done unto thee. ^xAnd the ^oservant was healed in that hour.

wife's mother lying sick of a fever. 15 And he ^a touched her hand, and the fever left her; and she arose, and ministered unto him. 16 And when even was come, they brought unto him many ^{1 b} possessed with devils: and he cast out the spirits ^c with a word, and healed all that were sick: 17 ^d that it might be fulfilled which was spoken ² by Isaiah the prophet, saying, ^e Himself took our infirmities, and bare our diseases.

18 Now ^f when Jesus saw great multitudes about him, ^g he gave commandment to depart unto the other side. 19 ^h And there came ³ a scribe, and said unto him, ⁴ Master, I will follow thee whithersoever thou goest. 20 And Jesus saith unto him, The foxes have holes, and the birds of the heaven ^{5 i} have nests; but the Son of man hath not where to lay his head. 21 And another of the disciples said unto him, Lord, suffer me first to go and bury my father. 22 But Jesus saith unto him, Follow me; and leave ^j the dead to bury their own dead.

23 ^k And when he was entered into a boat, his disciples followed him. 24 And behold, there arose a great tempest in the sea, insomuch that the boat was covered with the waves: but ^l he was asleep. 25 And they came to him, and awoke him, saying, ^m Save, Lord; we perish. 26 And he saith unto them, Why are ye ⁿ fearful, ^o O ye of little faith? Then he arose, and ^p rebuked the winds and the sea; and ^q there was a great calm. 27 And the men ^r marvelled, saying, What manner of man is this, that even ^s the winds and the sea obey him?

28 ^t And when he was come to the other side into the country of the Gadarenes, there met him two ^{1 u} possessed with devils, coming forth out of the tombs, exceeding fierce, so that no man could pass by that way. 29 And behold, they ^v cried out, saying, ^w What have we to do with thee, ^x thou Son of God? art thou come hither to torment us ^y before the time? 30 Now there was afar off from them a herd of many swine feeding. 31 And the ⁶ devils besought him, saying, If thou cast us out, send us away into the herd of swine. 32 And he said unto them, Go. And they came out, and went into the swine: and behold, the whole herd rushed down the steep into the sea, and perished in the waters. 33 And they that fed them fled, and went away into the city, and told everything, and what was befallen to them that were ^{1 z} possessed with devils. 34 And behold, all the city came out to meet Jesus: and when they saw him, ^a they besought ^{him} that he would depart from their borders.

1 And he entered into a boat, and crossed over, and came into ^b his own city. 2 ^c And behold, they brought to him a man sick of the palsy, lying on a bed: and Jesus ^d seeing their faith said unto the sick of the palsy, ⁷ Son, ^e be of good cheer; ^f thy sins are forgiven. 3 And behold, certain of the scribes said within themselves, ^g This man blasphemeth. 4 And Jesus ^{8 h} knowing their thoughts said, Wherefore think ye evil in your hearts? 5 For whether is easier, to say, Thy sins are forgiven; or to say, Arise, and walk? 6 But that ye may know that the Son of man hath ⁹ power on earth to forgive sins (then saith he to the sick of the palsy), Arise, and take up thy bed, and go unto thy house. 7 And he arose, and departed to his house. 8 But when the multitudes saw it, ⁱ they were afraid, and ^j glorified God, which had ^j given such ⁹ power unto men.

9 ^k And as Jesus passed by from thence, he saw a man, called ^l Matthew, sitting at the place of toll: and he saith unto him, Follow me. And he arose, and followed him.

10 And it came to pass, as he ¹⁰ sat at meat in the house, behold, many ^m publicans and sinners came and sat down with Jesus and his disciples. 11 And when the Pharisees saw it, they said unto his disciples, ⁿ Why eateth your ⁴ Master with ^m the publicans and sinners? 12 But when he heard it, he said, They that are ¹¹ whole have no need of a physician, but they that are sick. 13 But go ye and learn ^o what ^{this} meaneth, ^p I desire mercy, and not sacrifice: for ^q I came not to call the righteous, ^r but sinners.

ciples of John, saying, ^tWhy do we and ^uthe Pharisees fast ¹oft, but thy disciples fast not? ¹⁵And Jesus said unto them, ^vCan the sons of the bridechamber mourn, as long as the bridegroom is with them? but ^wthe days will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken away from them, and ^xthen will they fast. ¹⁶And no man putteth a piece of undressed cloth upon an old garment; for that which should fill it up taketh from the garment, and a worse rent is made. ¹⁷Neither do ^{men} put new wine into old ²wine-skins: else the skins burst, and the wine is spilled, and the skins perish: but they put new wine into fresh wine-skins, and both are preserved.

¹⁸While he spake these things unto them, behold, there came ³a ruler, and ^aworshipped him, saying, My daughter is even now dead: but come and lay thy hand upon her, and she shall live. ¹⁹And Jesus arose, and followed him, and ^{so}did his disciples. ²⁰And behold, a woman, ^bwho had an issue of blood twelve years, came behind him, and touched ^cthe border of his garment: ²¹for she said within herself, If I do but touch his garment, I shall be ⁴made whole. ²²But Jesus turning and seeing her said, Daughter, ^dbe of good cheer; thy faith hath ⁵made thee whole. ^eAnd the woman was ⁴made whole from that hour. ²³And when Jesus came into the ruler's house, and saw ^fthe flute-players, and the crowd making a tumult, ²⁴he said, Give place: for ^gthe damsel is not dead, but ^hsleepeth. And they laughed him to scorn. ²⁵But ⁱwhen the crowd was put forth, he entered in, and ^jtook her by the hand; and the damsel arose. ²⁶And ⁶the fame hereof went forth into all that land.

²⁷And as Jesus passed by from thence, two blind men followed him, crying out, and saying, Have mercy on us, ^lthou son of David. ²⁸And when he was come into the house, the blind men came to him: and Jesus saith unto them, Believe ye that I am able to do this? They say unto him, Yea, Lord. ²⁹Then touched he their eyes, saying, ⁿAccording to your faith be it done unto you. ³⁰And their eyes were opened. And Jesus ⁷strictly charged them, saying, ^oSee that no man know it. ³¹But they went forth, and spread abroad his fame in all that land.

³²And as they went forth, behold, ^qthere was brought to him a dumb man ^rpossessed with a ⁸devil. ³³And when the ⁸devil was cast out, the dumb man spake: and the multitudes ^smarvelled, saying, It was never so seen in Israel. ³⁴But the Pharisees said, ⁹By the prince of the ¹⁰devils casteth he out ¹⁰devils. ³⁵And Jesus went about all the cities and the villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of disease and all manner of sickness. ³⁶But ^uwhen he saw the multitudes, ^vhe was moved with compassion for them, because they were distressed and scattered, ^was sheep not having a shepherd. ³⁷Then saith he unto his disciples, The harvest truly is plenteous, but the labourers are few. ³⁸Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he ^zsend forth labourers into his harvest. ¹And he called unto him his twelve disciples, and gave them authority over unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal all manner of disease and all manner of sickness.

Go not into ^{any} way of the Gentiles, and enter not into any city of ^fthe Samaritans: ⁶but go rather to ^hthe lost sheep of ⁱthe house of Israel. ⁷And as ye go, preach, saying, ^jThe kingdom of heaven is at hand. ⁸Heal the sick, raise the dead, cleanse the lepers, cast out ¹⁰devils: ^lfreely ye received, freely give. ⁹Get you no gold, nor silver, nor brass in your ¹³purses; ¹⁰no wallet for ^{your} journey, neither two coats, nor shoes, nor staff:

you. ³⁰And their eyes were opened. And Jesus ⁷strictly charged them, saying, ^oSee that no man know it. ³¹But they went forth, and spread abroad his fame in all that land.

he departed thence to teach and preach in their cities.

² Now when John heard ^o in the prison the works of ^p the Christ, he sent by ^q his disciples, and said unto him, ³ Art thou ^r he that cometh, or ^s look we for another? ⁴ And Jesus answered and said unto them, Go your way and tell John the things which ye do hear and see: ⁵ ^t the blind receive their sight, and the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear, and the dead are raised up, and ^u the poor have ^v good tidings preached to them. ⁶ And blessed is he, whosoever shall ^w find none occasion of stumbling in me. ⁷ And as these went their way, Jesus began to say unto the multitudes concerning John, What went ye out ^x into the wilderness to behold? ^y a reed shaken with the wind? ⁸ But what went ye out for to see? a man clothed in soft raiment? Behold, they that wear soft raiment are in kings' houses. ⁹ ² But wherefore went ye out? to see ^z a prophet? Yea, I say unto you, and much more than a prophet. ¹⁰ This is he, of whom it is written,

^a Behold, I send my messenger before thy face,
Who shall prepare thy way before thee.

¹¹ Verily I say unto you, Among them that are born of women there hath not arisen a greater than John the Baptist: yet he that is ³ but little in the kingdom of heaven is greater than he. ¹² And ^a from the days of John the Baptist until now the kingdom of heaven suffereth violence, and men of violence take it by force. ¹³ ^a For all the prophets and the law prophesied until John. ¹⁴ And if ye are willing to receive ⁴ it, this is ^b Elijah, which is to come. ¹⁵ ^c He that hath ears ⁵ to hear, let him hear. ¹⁶ But whereunto shall I liken this generation? It is like unto children sitting in the market-places, which call unto their fellows, ¹⁷ and say, We piped unto you, and ye did not dance; we wailed, and ye did not ⁶ mourn. ¹⁸ For John came ^d neither eating ^e nor drinking, and they say, He hath a ⁷ devil. ¹⁹ The Son of man came ^f eating and drinking, and they say, Behold, a gluttonous man, and a winebibber, ^g a friend of ^h publicans and sinners! And ⁱ wisdom ⁸ is justified by her ⁹ works.

²⁰ ^j Then began he to upbraid the cities wherein most of his ¹⁰ mighty works were done, because they repented not. ²¹ ^k Woe unto thee, Chorazin! woe unto thee, Bethsaida! for if the ¹⁰ mighty works had been done in ^l Tyre and Sidon which were done in you, they would have repented long ago in sackcloth and ashes. ²² ^m Howbeit I say unto you, it shall be more tolerable for ^k Tyre and Sidon in ⁿ the day of judgement, than for you. ²³ And thou, Capernaum, ^o shalt thou be exalted unto heaven? thou shalt ¹¹ go down unto ^p Hades: for if the ¹⁰ mighty works had been done in Sodom which were done in thee, it would have remained until this day. ²⁴ ^m Howbeit I say unto you, that ^q it shall be more tolerable for the land of Sodom in ⁿ the day of judgement, than for thee.

²⁵ ^r At that season Jesus answered and said, I ¹² thank thee, O Father, ^s Lord of heaven and earth, that ^t thou didst hide these things from the wise and understanding, and didst ^u reveal them unto babes: ²⁶ yea, Father, ¹³ for so ^v it was well-pleasing in thy sight, ²⁷ ^w All things have been delivered unto me of my Father: and no one knoweth the Son, ^x save the Father; neither doth any know the Father, save the Son, and he ^y to whomsoever the Son willeth to reveal him. ²⁸ ^z Come unto ^a me, all ye that labour and are ^b heavy laden, and I will give you rest. ²⁹ Take my ^c yoke upon you, and ^d learn of me; for I am ^e meek and lowly in heart: and ^f ye shall find rest unto your souls. ³⁰ For ^g my yoke is easy, and my burden is light.

it is not lawful to do upon the sabbath. ³ But he said unto them, ¹ Have ye not read what David did, when he was an hungred, and they that were with him; ⁴ how he entered into the house of God, and ¹ did eat ^m the shewbread, which it was not lawful for him to eat, neither for them that were with him, but only for the priests? ⁵ Or have ye not read ⁿ in the law, how that on the sabbath day the priests in the temple profane the sabbath, and are guiltless? ⁶ But I say unto you, ^o that ² one greater than the temple is here. ⁷ But if ye had known ^p what this meaneth, ^q I desire mercy, and not sacrifice, ye would not have condemned the guiltless. ⁸ For ^r the Son of man is lord of the sabbath.

⁹ And he departed thence, and ^s went into their synagogue: ¹⁰ and behold, a man having a withered hand. And they asked him, saying, ^t Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath day? ^u that they might accuse him. ¹¹ And he said unto them, What man shall there be of you, that shall have one sheep, and ^v if this fall into a pit on the sabbath day, will he not lay hold on it, and lift it out? ¹² ^w How much then is a man of more value than a sheep! Wherefore ^x it is lawful to do good on the sabbath day. ¹³ Then saith he to the man, Stretch forth thy hand. And ^y he stretched it forth; and it was restored whole, as the other. ¹⁴ But the Pharisees went out, and ^z took counsel against him, how they might destroy him. ¹⁵ And Jesus perceiving ^{it} ^a withdrew from thence: and ^b many followed him; and he healed them all, ¹⁶ and ^c charged them that they should not make him known: ¹⁷ ^d that it might be fulfilled which was spoken ³ by Isaiah the prophet, saying, ¹⁸ ^e Behold, my ^f servant whom I have chosen; ^g My beloved in whom my soul is well pleased: ^h I will put my Spirit upon him, And he shall declare judgement to the Gentiles. ¹⁹ He shall not strive, nor cry aloud;

Neither shall any one hear his voice in the streets. ²⁰ A bruised reed shall he not break, And smoking flax shall he not quench, Till he send forth judgement unto victory.

²¹ ⁱ And in his name shall the Gentiles hope.

²² ^j Then was brought unto him ⁴ one possessed with a devil, blind and dumb: and he healed him, inasmuch that the dumb man spake and saw. ²³ ^k And all the multitudes were amazed, and said, ^k Is this the son of David? ²⁴ But when the Pharisees heard it, they said, This man doth not cast out ⁵ devils, ^l but ⁶ by Beelzebub the prince of the ⁵ devils. ²⁵ And ^m knowing their thoughts ⁿ he said unto them, Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation; and every city or house divided against itself shall not stand: ²⁶ and if Satan casteth out Satan, he is divided against himself; how then shall his kingdom stand? ²⁷ And if I ⁶ by Beelzebub cast out ⁵ devils, ⁶ ^o by whom do ^p your sons cast them out? therefore shall they be your judges. ²⁸ But if I ⁶ ^q by the Spirit of God cast out ⁵ devils, then is ^r the kingdom of God come upon you. ²⁹ Or ^s how can one enter into the house of the strong man, and spoil his goods, except he first bind the strong man? and then ^t he will spoil his house. ³⁰ ^u He that is not with me is against me; and he that gathereth not with me scattereth. ³¹ ^v Therefore I say unto you, Every sin and blasphemy shall be forgiven ⁷ unto men; but ^w the blasphemy against the Spirit shall not be forgiven. ³² And whosoever shall speak a word ^x against the Son of man, ^y it shall be forgiven him; but ^w whosoever shall speak against the Holy Spirit, it shall not be forgiven him, neither in ^z this ⁸ world, nor in that which is to come. ³³ ^a Either make the tree good, and its fruit good; or make the tree corrupt, and its fruit corrupt: ^b for the tree is known by its fruit. ³⁴ ^c Ye offspring of vipers, how can ye, ^d being evil, speak good things? ^e for out of the abun-

³⁸ Then certain of the scribes and Pharisees answered him, saying, ¹ Master, ^jwe would see a sign from thee. ³⁹ But he answered and said unto them, ^k An evil and ^ladulterous generation seeketh after a sign; and there shall no sign be given to it but the sign of Jonah the prophet: ⁴⁰ for ^mas Jonah was three days and three nights in the belly of the ² whale; ⁿso shall the Son of man be three days and three nights in the heart of the earth. ⁴¹ ^o The men of Nineveh shall stand up in the judgement with this generation, and ^pshall condemn it: for ^qthey repented at the preaching of Jonah; and behold, ³^r a greater than Jonah is here. ⁴² ^s The queen of the south shall rise up in the judgement with this generation, and shall condemn it: for she came from the ends of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon; and behold, ³^r a greater than Solomon is here.

⁴³ But ^tthe unclean spirit, when ⁴he is gone out of the man, passeth through ^uwaterless places, seeking rest, and findeth it not. ⁴⁴ Then ⁴he saith, I will return into my house whence I came out; and when ⁴he is come, ⁴he findeth it empty, swept, and garnished. ⁴⁵ Then goeth ⁴he, and taketh with ⁵himself seven other spirits more evil than ⁵himself, and they enter in and dwell there: and ^vthe last state of that man cometh worse than the first. Even so shall it be also unto this ^wevil generation.

⁴⁶ While he was yet speaking to the multitudes, behold, ^xhis mother and his ^ybrethren stood without, seeking to speak to him. ⁴⁷ ⁶ And one said unto him, Behold, thy mother and thy brethren stand without, seeking to speak to thee. ⁴⁸ But he answered and said unto him that told him, Who is my mother? and who are my brethren? ⁴⁹ And he stretched forth his hand towards his disciples, and said, Behold, my mother and my brethren! ⁵⁰ For ^zwhosoever shall ^ado the will of my Father which is in heaven, he is my brother, and sister, and mother.

¹⁰ And the disciples came, and said unto him, Why speakest thou unto them in parables? ¹¹ And he answered and said unto them, ^kUnto you it is given ^lto know ^mthe mysteries of the kingdom of heaven, but to them it is not given. ¹² ⁿFor whosoever hath, to him shall be given, and he shall have abundance: but whosoever hath not, ^ofrom him shall be taken away even that which he hath. ¹³ Therefore speak I to them in parables; because ^pseeing they see not, and hearing they hear not, ^qneither do they understand. ¹⁴ And unto them is fulfilled the prophecy of Isaiah, which saith,

And their ears are ^sdull of hearing,

And ^ttheir eyes they have closed;

Lest haply they should perceive
with their eyes,

And hear with their ears,
And ^uunderstand with their heart,

And ^vshould turn again,

And I should heal them.

¹⁶ But ^wblessed are your eyes, for they see; and your ears, for they hear. ¹⁷ ^wFor verily I say unto

you, ^xthat many prophets and righteous men desired to see the things which ye see, and saw them not;
and to hear the things which ye hear, and heard them not. ¹⁸ ^yHear
then ye the parable of the sower.

¹⁹ When any one heareth the word of ^zthe kingdom, and ^aunderstandeth it not, ^{then} cometh ^bthe evil ^{one}, and snatcheth away that which hath been sown in his heart. This is he that was sown by the way

side. ²⁰ And he that was sown upon the rocky places, this is he that heareth the word, and straightway ^cwith joy receiveth it; ²¹ yet

hath he not root in himself, but ^dendureth for a while; and when tribulation or persecution ariseth
because of the word, straightway

^ehe stumbleth. ²² And he that was sown among the thorns, this is

he that heareth the word; and ^fthe care of ^gthe ¹world, and ^hthe deceitfulness of riches, choke the word, and he becometh unfruitful.

²³ And he that was sown upon the good ground, this is he that hear-eth the word, and ^aunderstandeth

it; who verily ⁱbeareth fruit, and bringeth forth, some ^ja hundredfold, some sixty, some thirty.

²⁴ Another parable set he before them, saying, ^kThe kingdom of heaven is likened unto a man that sowed good seed in his field: ²⁵ but while men slept, his enemy came and sowed ²tares also among the wheat, and went away. ²⁶ But when the blade sprang up, and brought forth fruit, then appeared

the tares also. ²⁷ And the ³servants
of the householder came and said

unto him, Sir, didst thou not sow good seed in thy field? whence then hath it tares? ²⁸ And he said unto them, ⁴An enemy hath done this.

And the ³servants say unto him, Wilt thou then that we go and gather them up? ²⁹ But he saith, ¹Nay; lest haply while ye gather up the tares, ye root up the wheat with them. ³⁰ Let both grow together until the harvest: and in the time of the harvest I will say to the reapers, Gather up first the tares, and bind them in bundles to burn them: but ^mgather the wheat into my barn.

³¹ Another parable set he before them, saying, ⁿThe kingdom of heaven is like unto ^oa grain of mustard seed, which a man took,

and sowed in his field: ³² which indeed is less than all seeds; but when it is grown, it is greater than the herbs, and becometh a tree, so that the birds of the heaven come

and lodge in the branches thereof.

³³ Another parable spake he unto them; ^pThe kingdom of heaven is like unto leaven, which a woman took, and hid in ^qthree ⁵measures

of meal, till it was ^rall leavened.

³⁴ ^sAll these things spake Jesus
in parables unto the multitudes;

and without a parable spake he nothing unto them: ³⁵ that it might be fulfilled which was spoken ^tby

the prophet, saying,

¹I will open my mouth in parables;

^uI will utter things hidden ^vfrom
the foundation ⁷of the world.

³⁶ Then he left the multitudes, and went into ^wthe house: and his disciples came unto him, saying, ^xExplain unto us the parable of the tares of the field. ³⁷ And he answered and said, He that soweth

the good seed is the Son of man; ³⁸ and the field is the world; and the good seed, these are ^ythe sons of the kingdom; and the tares are ^zthe sons of the evil ^{one}; ³⁹ and the enemy that sowed them is the devil: and ^athe harvest is ⁸^bthe

end of the world; and the reapers

are angels. ⁴⁰ As therefore the tares ^care gathered up and burned with fire; so shall it be in ⁸^bthe end of the world. ⁴¹ ^dThe Son of man shall send forth his angels, and they shall gather out of his kingdom all

^ethings that cause stumbling, and ^fthem that do iniquity, ⁴² ^gand

⁴⁷Again, the kingdom of heaven is ^plike unto a ²net, that was cast into the sea, and ^qgathered of every kind: ⁴⁸which, when it was filled, ^rthey drew up on the beach; and they sat down, and gathered the good into vessels, but the bad they cast away. ⁴⁹So shall it be in ^sthe end of the world: the angels shall come forth, and ^tsever the wicked from among the righteous, ⁵⁰and shall cast them into the furnace of fire: ^uthere shall be the weeping and gnashing of teeth.

⁵³And it came to pass, when Jesus had finished these parables, he departed thence. ⁵⁴^zAnd coming into ^ahis own country ^bhe taught them in their synagogue, insomuch that ^cthey were astonished, and said, Whence hath this man this wisdom, and these ⁴mighty works? ⁵⁵^dIs not this ^ethe carpenter's son? is not his mother called Mary? and ^fhis brethren, James, and Joseph, and Simon, and Judas? ⁵⁶And his sisters, are they not all with us? try, and in his own house. ⁵⁸And he did not many ⁴mighty works there ⁱbecause of their unbelief.

¹³Now when Jesus heard ^uit, ^uhe withdrew from thence in a boat, to a desert place apart: and when the multitudes heard ^{thereof}, they followed him ⁶on foot from the cities. ¹⁴And he came forth, and ^vsaw a great multitude, and ^whe had compassion on them, and healed their sick. ¹⁵And when even was come, the disciples came to him, saying, The place is desert, and the time is already past; ^wsend the multitudes away, that they may go into the villages, and buy themselves food. ¹⁶But Jesus said unto them, They have no need to go away; ^xgive ye them to eat. ¹⁷And they say unto him, We have here but five loaves, and two fishes. ¹⁸And he said, Bring them hither to me. ¹⁹And he commanded the multi-

³² ^p And Jesus called unto him his disciples, and said, ^q I have compassion on the multitude, because they continue with me now three days and have nothing to eat: and I would not send them away fasting, lest haply they faint in the way. ³³ And the disciples say unto him,

them not beware of the leaven of 1 bread, but of ^m the teaching of the Pharisees and Sadducees.

13 ⁿ Now when Jesus came into the parts of Cæsarea Philippi, he asked his disciples, saying, Who do men say ² that the Son of man is?

14 And they said, Some say ^o John the Baptist; some, ^p Elijah: and others, Jeremiah, or one of the prophets. 15 He saith unto them, But who say ye that I am? 16 And Simon
Peter answered and said, ^q Thou art
^r the Christ, ^s the Son of ^t the living God. 17 And Jesus answered and said unto him, ^u Blessed art thou, ^v Simon Bar-Jonah: for ^w flesh and blood hath not revealed it unto thee, ^x but my Father which is in heaven. 18 And I also say unto thee, that ^y thou art ³ Peter, and ^z upon this ⁴ rock I will build my church; and ^a the gates of ^b Hades shall not prevail against it. 19 I will give unto thee ^c the keys of the kingdom of heaven: and ^d whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven. 20 ^e Then charged he the disciples that they should tell no man that he was the Christ.

21 ^f From that time began ⁵ Jesus to shew unto his disciples, how that ^h he must go unto Jerusalem,
and ⁱ suffer many things of the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be killed, and ^j the third day be raised up. 22 And Peter took him,
and began to rebuke him, saying, ^k Be it far from thee, Lord: this shall never be unto thee. 23 But he turned, and said unto Peter, ^l Get thee behind me, Satan: thou art ^m a stumblingblock unto me: for thou
ⁿ mindest not the things of God,
but the things of men. 24 Then said Jesus unto his disciples, If any man would come after me, let him ^o deny himself, and ^p take up his cross, and follow me. 25 For ^p whosoever would save his ⁷ life shall lose it: and whosoever shall lose his ⁷ life for my sake shall find it.

26 For ^q what shall a man be profited, if he shall gain the whole world, and forfeit his ⁷ life? or ^r what shall a man give in exchange for his ⁷ life? 27 ^s For the Son of man shall come in the glory of his Father with ^t his angels; and ^u then shall he render unto every man according to his ⁸ deeds. 28 Verily I say unto you, There be some of them that stand here, which shall in no wise ^v taste of death, ^w till they see the Son of man ^x coming in his kingdom.

17 ^y And after six days Jesus taketh with him ^z Peter,
and James, and John his brother, and bringeth them up into a high mountain apart: 2 and he was ^a transfigured before them: and ^b his face did shine as the sun, and ^c his garments became white as the light.
3 And behold, there appeared unto them Moses and Elijah talking with him. 4 And Peter answered, and said unto Jesus, Lord, it is good for us to be here: if thou wilt, I will make here three ⁹ ^d tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elijah. 5 While he was yet speaking, behold, ^e a bright cloud overshadowed them:
and behold, ^e a voice out of the cloud, saying, ^f This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased;
^g hear ye him. 6 And when ^h the disciples heard it, ⁱ they fell on their face, and were sore afraid. 7 And Jesus came and ^j touched them and said, Arise, and ^k be not afraid.
8 And lifting up their eyes, they saw no one, save Jesus only.

9 ^l And as they were coming down from the mountain, Jesus commanded them, saying, ^m Tell the vision to no man, until the Son of man be risen from the dead. 10 And his disciples asked him, saying,
Why then say the scribes ⁿ that Elijah must first come? 11 And he answered and said, Elijah indeed
cometh, and ^o shall restore all things:
12 but I say unto you, that Elijah
is come already, and they knew him not, but ^p did unto him whatsoever they listed. ^q Even so shall
the Son of man also suffer of them.
^r 13 Then understood the disciples that he spake unto them of John the Baptist.

14 ^s And when they were come to

the multitude, there came to him a man, kneeling to him, and saying, 15 Lord, have mercy on my son: for he is ^tepileptic, and suffereth grievously: for oft-times he falleth into the fire, and oft-times into the water. 16 And I brought him to thy disciples, and ^uthey could not cure him. 17 And Jesus answered and said, O ^vfaithless and ^wperverse generation, ^whow long shall I be with you? how long shall I bear with you? bring him hither to me. 18 And Jesus ^xrebuked him; and the ¹devil went out from him: and ^ythe boy was cured from that hour. 19 Then came the disciples to Jesus apart, and said, Why could not we cast it out? 20 And he saith unto them, ^zBecause of your little faith: for ^averily I say unto you, ^bIf ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, ^cye shall say unto this mountain, Remove hence to yonder place; and it shall remove; and ^dnothing shall be impossible unto you.²

22 ^eAnd while they ³abode in Galilee, Jesus said unto them, The Son of man shall be delivered up into the hands of men; 23 and they shall kill him, and ^fthe third day he shall be raised up. And they were exceeding sorry.

24 And ^gwhen they were come to Capernaum, they that received ^hthe ⁴half-shekel came to Peter, and said, Doth not your ⁵master pay the ⁴half-shekel? 25 He saith, Yea. And when he came into the house, Jesus spake first to him, saying, ⁱWhat thinkest thou, Simon? the kings of the earth, from whom do they receive ^jtoll or ^jtribute? from their sons, or from strangers? 26 And when he said, From strangers, Jesus said unto him, Therefore the sons are free. 27 But, lest we ^kcause them to stumble, go thou to the sea, and cast a hook, and take up the fish that first cometh up; and when thou hast opened his mouth, thou shalt find a ⁶shekel: that take, and give unto them for me and thee.

18 ^lIn that hour came the disciples unto Jesus, saying, Who then is ⁷greatest in the kingdom of heaven? 2 And he called to him a little child, and set him in the midst of them, 3 and said, Verily I say unto you, Except ye ^mturn, and ⁿbecome as little children, ye ^oshall in no wise enter into the kingdom of heaven. 4 ^pWhosoever therefore shall humble himself as this little child, the same is the ⁷greatest in the kingdom of heaven. 5 And ^qwhoso shall receive one such little child in my name receiveth me: 6 but ^rwhoso shall cause one of these little ones which believe on me to stumble, it is profitable for him that ^aa great millstone should be hanged about his neck, and that he should be sunk in the depth of the sea. 7 Woe unto the world because of ^soccasions of stumbling! ^tfor it must needs be that the occasions come; ^ubut woe to that man through whom the occasion cometh! 8 ^vAnd if thy hand or thy foot causeth thee to stumble, cut it off, and cast it from thee: it is good for thee to enter into life maimed or halt, rather than having two hands or two feet to be cast into ^wthe eternal fire. 9 ^vAnd if thine eye causeth thee to stumble, pluck it out, and cast it from thee: it is good for thee to enter into life with one eye, rather than having two eyes to be cast into the ⁹v hell of fire. 10 See that ye despise not ^xone of these little ones; for I say unto you, that in heaven ^ytheir angels do always ^zbehold the face of my Father which is in heaven.¹⁰ 12 ^aHow think ye? ^bif any man have a hundred sheep, and one of them be gone astray, doth he not leave the ninety and nine, and go unto the mountains, and seek that which goeth astray? 13 And if so be that he find it, verily I say unto you, he rejoiceth over it more than over the ninety and nine which have not gone astray. 14 Even so ^cit is not ¹¹the will of ¹²your Father which is in heaven, that one of these little ones should perish.

more, that ⁹at the mouth of two witnesses or three every word may be established. ¹⁷And if he refuse to hear them, ^htell it unto the ¹church: and if he refuse to hear the ¹church also, ⁱlet him be unto thee as ^jthe Gentile and ^jthe publican. ¹⁸Verily I say unto you, ^kWhat things soever ye shall bind on earth shall be bound in heaven: and what things soever ye shall loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven. ¹⁹Again I say unto you, that if two of you shall ^lagree on earth as touching anything that they shall ask, ^mit shall be done for them of my Father which is in heaven. ²⁰For where two or three are ⁿgathered together in my name, ^othere am I in the midst of them.

²¹Then came Peter, and said to him, Lord, how oft ^pshall my brother sin against me, and I forgive him? ^quntil seven times? ²²Jesus saith unto him, I say not unto thee, Until seven times; but, Until ^{2r}seventy times seven. ²³Therefore is the kingdom of heaven likened unto a certain king, which would ^smake a reckoning with his ³servants. ²⁴And when he had begun to reckon, one was brought unto him, which owed him ^tten thousand ^{4u}talents. ²⁵^vBut forasmuch as he had not wherewith to pay, his lord commanded him ^wto be sold, and his wife, and ^xchildren, and all that he had, and payment to be made. ²⁶The ⁵servant therefore fell down and ^yworshipped him, saying, Lord, have patience with me, and I will pay thee all. ²⁷And the lord of that ⁵servant, being moved with compassion, released him, and ^vforgave him the ⁶debt. ²⁸But that ⁵servant went out, and found one of his fellow-servants, which owed him a hundred ^{7z}pence: and he laid hold on him, and took him by the throat, saying, Pay what thou owest. ²⁹So his fellow-servant fell down and besought him, saying, Have patience with me, and I will pay thee. ³⁰And he would not: but went and cast him into prison, till he should pay that which was due. ³¹So when his fellow-servants saw what was done, they were exceeding sorry, and came and told unto their lord all that was done. ³²Then his lord called him unto him, and saith to him, Thou wicked ⁵servant, I forgave thee all that debt, because thou besoughtest me: ³³^ashouldst not thou also have had mercy on thy fellow-servant, even as I had mercy on thee? ³⁴^bAnd his lord was wroth, and delivered him to the tormentors, ^ctill he should pay all that was due. ³⁵^dSo shall also my heavenly Father do unto you, if ye forgive not every one his brother ^efrom your hearts.

¹And it came to pass 19 when Jesus had finished these words, he departed from ^fGalilee, and ^gcame ^hinto the borders of Judæa beyond Jordan; ² and ⁱgreat multitudes followed him; and he healed them there.

³And there came unto him ⁸Pharisees, ^jtempting him, and saying, ^kIs it lawful for a man to put away his wife for every cause? ⁴And he answered and said, ^lHave ye not read, that he which ⁹made them from the beginning made them male and female, ⁵and said, ^mFor this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife; and ⁿthe twain shall become one flesh? ⁶So that they are no more twain, but one flesh. ^oWhat therefore God hath joined together, let not man put asunder. ⁷They say unto him, ^pWhy then did Moses command to give a bill of divorcement, and to put her away? ⁸He saith unto them, Moses for your ^qhardness of heart suffered you to put away your wives: but from the beginning it hath not been so. ^{9r}And I say unto you, Whosoever shall put away his wife, ¹⁰except for fornication, and shall marry another, committeth adultery; ¹¹and he that marrieth her when she is put away committeth adultery. ¹⁰The disciples say unto him, If the case of the man is so with his wife, it is not expedient to marry. ¹¹But he said unto them, ^sAll men cannot receive this saying, but ^tthey to ^uwhom it is given. ¹²For there are eunuchs, which were so born from their mother's womb: and there are

eunuchs, which were made eunuchs by men: and there are eunuchs, ^v which made themselves eunuchs for the kingdom of heaven's sake. He that is able to receive it, let him receive it.

¹³ ^w Then were there brought unto him little children, that he should lay his hands on them, and pray: and the disciples ^x rebuked them.

¹⁴ But Jesus said, ^y Suffer the little children, and ^z forbid them not, to come unto me: for of such is the kingdom of heaven. ¹⁵ And he laid his hands on them, and departed thence.

¹⁶ ^a And behold, one came to him and said, ¹² Master, what good thing shall I do, that I may ^b have ^c eternal life? ¹⁷ And he said unto him, ³ Why askest thou me concerning that which is good? One there is who is good: but ^d if thou wouldest enter into life, keep the commandments. ¹⁸ He saith unto him, Which? And Jesus said, ^e Thou shalt not kill, Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not bear false witness, ¹⁹ Honour thy father and thy mother: and, ^f Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. ²⁰ The young man saith unto him, ^g All these things have I observed: what lack I yet? ²¹ Jesus said unto him, If thou wouldest be ^h perfect, go, ⁱ sell that thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have ^j treasure in heaven: and come, follow me. ²² ^k But when the young man heard the saying, he went away sorrowful: for he was one that had great possessions.

have? ²⁸ And Jesus said unto them, Verily I say unto you, that ye which have followed me, in the regeneration ^r when the Son of man shall sit on the throne of his glory, ^s ye also shall sit upon twelve thrones ^t judging the twelve tribes of Israel. ²⁹ ^u And every one that hath left houses, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, ⁴ or children, or lands, for my name's sake, shall receive ⁵ a hundredfold, and shall ^v inherit eternal life. ³⁰ But ^w many shall be last that are first; and ^x first that are last. ¹ For the king-

20 dom of heaven is like unto a man that is a householder, which went out early in the morning to hire labourers into his vineyard. ² And when he had agreed with the labourers for ^a a ⁶ penny a day, he sent them into his vineyard. ³ And he went out about the third hour, and saw others standing in the marketplace idle; ⁴ and to them he said, Go ye also into the vineyard, and whatsoever is right I will give you. And they went their way. ⁵ Again he went out about the sixth and the ninth hour, and did likewise. ⁶ And ^z about the eleventh hour he went out, and found others standing; and he saith unto them, Why stand ye here all the day idle? ⁷ They say unto him, Because no man hath hired us. He saith unto them, Go ye also into the vineyard. ⁸ And ^a when even was come, the lord of the vineyard saith unto his ^b steward, Call the labourers, and pay them their hire, beginning from the last unto the first. ⁹ And when they came that were hired about the eleventh hour, they received every man a ⁶ penny. ¹⁰ And when the first came, they supposed that they would receive more; and they likewise received every man a ⁶ penny. ¹¹ And when they received it, they murmured against the householder, ¹² saying, These last have spent but one hour, and thou hast made them equal unto us, which have borne the burden of the day and ^c the ⁷ scorching heat. ¹³ But he answered and said to one of them, ^d Friend, I do thee no wrong: didst not thou agree with me for a

1 penny? 14 Take up ^e that which is thine, and go thy way; it is my will to give unto this last, even as unto thee. 15 ^f Is it not lawful for me to do what I will with mine own? or ^g is thine eye evil, because I am good? 16 So ^h the last shall be first, and the first last.

17 ⁱ And as Jesus was going up to Jerusalem, he took the twelve disciples apart, and in the way he said unto them, 18 Behold, ^j we go up to Jerusalem; and the Son of man shall be delivered unto the chief priests and scribes; and they shall ^k condemn him to death, 19 and shall ^l deliver him unto the Gentiles ^m to mock, and to scourge, and ⁿ to crucify; and ^o the third day he shall be raised up.

20 ^p Then came to him ^q the mother of the sons of Zebedee with her sons, ^r worshipping him, and asking a certain thing of him.

21 And he said unto her, What wouldest thou? She saith unto him, Command that these my two sons ^s may sit, one on thy right hand, and one on thy left hand, ^t in thy kingdom. 22 But Jesus answered and said, ^u Ye know not what ye ask. Are ye able ^v to drink the cup that I am about to drink? They say unto him, We are able. 23 He saith unto them, ^w My cup indeed ^x ye shall drink: but to sit on my right hand, and on ^y my left hand, is not mine to give, ^z but it is for them for whom it hath been ^{aa} prepared of my Father. 24 And when the ten heard it, they were moved with indignation concerning the two brethren. 25 But Jesus called them unto him, and said, ^{ab} Ye know that the rulers of the Gentiles ^{ac} lord it over them, and their great ones exercise authority over them. 26 ^{ad} Not so shall it be among you: but whosoever would become great among you shall be your ^{ae} minister; 27 and whosoever would be first among you shall be your ^{af} servant: 28 even as the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but ^{ag} to minister, and ^{ah} to give his life a ransom for ^{ai} many.

29 ^{aj} And as they went out from

Jericho, a great multitude followed him. 30 And behold, two blind men sitting by the way side, when they heard that Jesus was passing by, cried out, saying, Lord, have mercy on us, thou ^j son of David. 31 And the multitude ^k rebuked them, that they should hold their peace: but they cried out the more, saying, Lord, have mercy on us, thou son of David. 32 And Jesus stood still, and called them, and said, What will ye that I should do unto you? 33 They say unto him, Lord, that our eyes may be opened. 34 And Jesus, being moved with compassion, touched their eyes: and straightway they received their sight, and followed him.

1 ⁱ And when they drew 2 I nigh unto Jerusalem, and came unto Bethphage, unto ^m the mount of Olives, then Jesus ⁿ sent two disciples, 2 saying unto them, Go into the village that is over against you, and straightway ye shall find an ass tied, and a colt with her: loose ^o them, and bring ^o them unto me. 3 And if any one say aught unto you, ye shall say, The Lord hath need of them; and straightway he will send them. 4 Now this is come to pass, ^o that it might be fulfilled which was spoken ^q by the prophet, saying,

5 ^p Tell ye the daughter of Zion, Behold, thy King cometh unto thee, ^q Meek, and riding upon an ass, And upon a colt the foal of an ass.

6 And the disciples went, and did even as Jesus appointed them, 7 and brought the ass, and the colt, and put on them their garments; and he sat thereon. 8 And the most part of the multitude ^r spread their garments in the way; and others cut branches from the trees, and spread them in the way. 9 And the multitudes that went before him, and that followed, cried, saying, ^s Hosanna to ^t the son of David: ^u Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord; Hosanna ^v in the highest. 10 And ^w when he was come into Jerusalem, all the city was stirred, saying, Who is this? 11 And the multitudes said, This is ^x the prophet, Jesus, ^y from Nazareth of Galilee.

12^z And Jesus entered into the temple ¹of God, and cast out all them that sold and bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of ^athe money-changers, and the seats of them that sold ^bthe doves; ¹³ and he saith unto them, It is written, ^cMy house shall be called a house of prayer: but ^dye make it a den of robbers. ¹⁴ ^eAnd the blind and the lame came to him in the temple: and he healed them. ¹⁵ ^fBut when the chief priests and the scribes saw the wonderful things that he did, and the children that were crying in the temple and saying, ^gHosanna to the son of David; they were moved with indignation, ¹⁶ and said unto him, Hearst thou what these are saying? And Jesus saith unto them, Yea: ^hdid ye never read, ⁱOut of the mouth of ^jbabes and sucklings thou hast perfected praise? ¹⁷ And ^jhe left them, and ^kwent forth out of the city to ^lBethany, and lodged there.

^yfrom heaven or from men? And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven; he will say unto us, ²Why then did ye not believe him? ²⁶ But if we shall say, From men; ^awe fear the multitude; for all hold John as ^ba prophet. ²⁷ And they answered Jesus, and said, We know not. He also said unto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I do these things. ²⁸ ^cBut what think ye? A man had two sons; and he came to the first, and said, ⁴Son, go work to-day in ^dthe vineyard. ²⁹ And he answered and said, I will not: but afterward he ^erepented himself, and went. ³⁰ And he came to the second, and said likewise. And he answered and said, I go, sir: and went not. ³¹ Whether of the twain did the will of his father? They say, The first. Jesus saith unto them, Verily I say unto you, that ^fthe publicans and ^gthe harlots go into ^hthe kingdom of God before you. ³² For John came unto you ⁱin the way of righteousness, and ^jye believed him not: but ^kthe publicans and the harlots believed him: and ye, when ye saw it, did not even ^erepent yourselves afterward, that ye might believe him.

³³ ^lHear another parable: There was a man that was a householder, which planted ^ma vineyard, ⁿand set a hedge about it, and digged a winepress in it, and built a tower, and ^olet it out to husbandmen, and ^pwent into another country. ³⁴ And when the season of the fruits drew near, he sent his ⁵servants to the husbandmen, ^oto receive ⁶his fruits. ³⁵ ^qAnd the husbandmen took his ⁵servants, and beat one, and killed another, and ^rstoned another. ³⁶ ^sAgain, he sent other ⁵servants more than the first: and they did unto them in like manner. ³⁷ But afterward he sent unto them his son, saying, They will reverence my son. ³⁸ But the husbandmen, when they saw the son, said among themselves, ^tThis is the heir; come, ^ulet us kill him, and take his inheritance. ³⁹ And they took him, and ^vcast him forth out of the vineyard, and killed him. ⁴⁰ ^wWhen therefore the lord of the vineyard shall come, what will he do unto those husband-

men? 41 They say unto him, ^x He will miserably destroy those miserable men, and ^y will let out the vineyard unto other husbandmen, which shall render him the fruits in their seasons. 42 Jesus saith unto them, ^z Did ye never read in the scriptures,

^a The stone which the builders rejected,

The same was made the head of the corner :

This was from the Lord,

And it is marvellous in our eyes ?

43 Therefore say I unto you, ^x The kingdom of God ^b shall be taken away from you, and shall be given to a nation ^c bringing forth the fruits thereof. 44 ¹ And ^d he that falleth on this stone shall be broken to pieces: but ^e on whomsoever it shall fall, ^f it will scatter him as dust.

45 And when the chief priests and the Pharisees heard his parables, they perceived that he spake of them. 46 And ^g when they sought to lay hold on him, ^h they feared the multitudes, because they took him for ⁱ a prophet.

¹ And Jesus answered and 22 ^j spake again in parables unto them, saying, 2 ^k The kingdom of heaven is likened unto a certain king, which made ^l a marriage feast for his son, 3 and ^m sent forth his ² servants to call them that were bidden to the marriage feast: and they would not come. 4 ⁿ Again he sent forth other ² servants, saying, Tell them that are bidden, Behold, I have made ready my ^o dinner: ^p my oxen and my fatlings are killed, and all things are ready: come to the marriage feast. 5 But ^q they made light of it, and went their ways, one to his own farm, another to his merchandise: 6 and the rest laid hold on his ² servants, and ^r entreated them shamefully, and ^s killed them. 7 But the king was wroth; and he sent his armies, and ^t destroyed those murderers, and burned their city. 8 Then saith he to his ² servants, The wedding is ready, but they that were bidden were not ^u worthy. 9 Go ye therefore unto ^v the partings of the highways, and as many as ye shall find, bid to the marriage feast. 10 And those ² servants went out into the highways, and ^w gathered together all as many as they found, both bad and good: and the wedding was filled with guests. 11 But when the king came in to behold the guests, he saw there ^x a man which had not on a wedding-garment: 12 and he saith unto him, ^y Friend, how camest thou in hither not having a wedding-garment? And he was speechless. 13 Then the king said to the ³ servants, Bind him hand and foot, and ^z cast him out into the outer darkness; ^z there shall be the weeping and gnashing of teeth. 14 For many are ^a called, but few ^a chosen.

15 ^b Then went the Pharisees, and took counsel how ^c they might ensnare him in his talk. 16 And they send to him ^d their disciples, with ^e the Herodians, saying, 4 Master, ^f we know that thou art true, and teachest ^g the way of God in truth, and carest not for any one: for ^h thou regardest not the person of men. 17 Tell us therefore, What thinkest thou? Is it lawful to give ⁱ tribute unto ^j Cæsar, or not? 18 But Jesus perceived their wickedness, and said, Why ^k tempt ye me, ye hypocrites? 19 Shew me the tribute money. And they brought unto him a ⁵ penny. 20 And he saith unto them, Whose is this image and superscription? 21 They say unto him, Cæsar's. Then saith he unto them, ^l Render therefore unto Cæsar the things that are Cæsar's; and unto God the things that are God's. 22 And when they heard it, they marvelled, and ^m left him, and went their way.

23 On that day there came to him ⁿ Sadducees, ⁶ o which say that there is no resurrection: and they asked him, 24 saying, 4 Master, Moses said, ^p If a man die, having no children, his brother ⁷ shall marry his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother. 25 Now there were with us seven brethren: and the first married and deceased, and having no seed left his wife unto his brother; 26 in like manner the second also, and the third, unto the ⁸ seventh. 27 And after them all the woman died. 28 In the resurrection therefore whose wife shall she be of the seven? for they all had her. 29 But Jesus answered and said unto them, Ye

They say unto him, ⁱ The son of David. ⁴³ He saith unto them, How then doth David ^j in the Spirit call him Lord, saying, ⁴⁴ *"The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, Till I put thine enemies underneath thy feet?"

⁴⁵ If David then calleth him Lord, ⁱ how is he his son? ⁴⁶ And no one was able to answer him a word, ⁿ neither durst any man from that day forth ask him any more questions."

23 "Then ^o spake Jesus to the multitudes and to his disciples, ² saying, ^p The scribes and the Pharisees ^q sit on Moses' seat: ³ all things therefore whatsoever they bid you, ^r these do and observe: ^r but do not ye after their works; ^s for they say, and do not."

by ^x the throne of God, and by ^y him that sitteth thereon.

23 ^z Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ^a ye tithe mint and ¹ anise and ^b cummin, and have left undone the weightier matters of the law, ^c judgement, and mercy, and faith: ^d but these ye ought to have done, and not to have left the other undone. 24 Ye blind guides, which strain out the gnat, and swallow ^e the camel.

25 ^f Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ^g ye cleanse the outside of ^h the cup and of the platter, but within they are full from ⁱ extortion and excess. 26 Thou blind Pharisee, cleanse first the inside of ^h the cup and of the platter, that the outside thereof may become clean also.

27 ^j Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye are like unto ^k whited sepulchres, which outwardly appear beautiful, but inwardly are full of dead men's bones, and of ^l all uncleanness. 28 Even so ye also ^m outwardly appear righteous unto men, but inwardly ye are full of ⁿ hypocrisy and iniquity.

29 ^o Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye build the sepulchres of the prophets, and garnish the tombs of the righteous, 30 and say, If we had been in the days of our fathers, we should not have been partakers with them in the blood of the prophets. 31 Wherefore ye witness to yourselves, that ye are ^p sons of them that slew the prophets. 32 ^q Fill ye up then the measure of your fathers. 33 Ye serpents, ^r ye offspring of vipers, how shall ye escape the judgement of ^s hell? 34 ^t Therefore, behold, ^u I send unto you ^v prophets, and wise men, and ^w scribes: ^x some of them shall ye kill and crucify; and ^x some of them shall ye ^y scourge in your synagogues, and ^z persecute from city to city: 35 that upon you may come all ^a the righteous blood shed on the earth, from the blood of ^b Abel the righteous unto the blood of ^c Zachariah son of Barachiah, ^d whom ye slew between ^e the sanctuary and ^f the altar. 36 Verily I say unto you, ^g All these things shall come upon this generation.

37 ^h O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, which killeth the prophets, and stoneth them that are sent unto her! ⁱ how often would I have ^k gathered ^l thy children together, ^m even as a hen gathereth her chickens ⁿ under her wings, and ^o ye would not! 38 Behold, ^p your house is left unto you ^q desolate. 39 For I say unto you, Ye shall not see me henceforth, till ye shall say, ^r Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord.

1 ^r And Jesus went out from the temple, and was going on his way; and his disciples came to him to shew him the buildings of the temple. 2 But he answered and said unto them, See ye not all these things? verily I say unto you, ^s There shall not be left here one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down.

3 And as he sat on ^t the mount of Olives, the disciples came unto him ^u privately, saying, Tell us, ^v when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign of thy ^w coming, and of ^x the end of the world?

4 And Jesus answered and said unto them, ^y Take heed that no man lead you astray. 5 For ^z many shall come in my name, saying, I am ^a the Christ; and shall lead many astray. 6 And ye shall hear of wars and rumours of wars: see that ye ^b be not troubled: for ^c these things ^c must needs come to pass; but the end is not yet. 7 For ^d nation shall rise against nation, and ^e kingdom against kingdom: and there shall be ^f famines and earthquakes in divers places. 8 But all these things are the beginning of ^g travail. 9 Then ^h shall they deliver you up ⁱ unto tribulation, and ^j shall kill you: and ^k ye shall be hated of all the nations for my name's sake. 10 And then shall many stumble, and shall ^l deliver up one another, and shall hate one another. 11 And many ^m false prophets shall arise, ⁿ and shall lead many astray. 12 And because iniquity shall be multiplied, ^o the love of the many shall wax cold. 13 ^p But he that endureth to the end, the same shall be saved. 14 And ^q this gospel of the kingdom ^r shall be preached in the whole ^r world ^r for a testimony ^sunto all the nations; and ^tthen shall the end come.

15 When therefore ye see the abomination of desolation, ^uwhich was spoken of ¹by Daniel the prophet, standing in ²the holy place (^wlet him that readeth understand), ¹⁶then let them that are in Judæa flee unto the mountains: ¹⁷let him that is on ^vthe housetop not go down to take out the things that are in his house: ¹⁸and let him that is in the field not return back to take his cloke. ¹⁹But ^zwoe unto them that are with child and to them that give suck in those days! ²⁰And pray ye that your flight be not in the winter, neither on a sabbath: ²¹for then shall be ^agreat tribulation, ^bsuch as hath not been from the beginning of the world until now, no, nor ever shall be. ²²And except those days had been shortened, no flesh would have been saved: but for ^cthe elect's sake those days shall be shortened. ²³^dThen if any man shall say unto you, Lo, here is the Christ, or, Here; believe ^eit not. ²⁴For there shall arise ^efalse Christs, and ^ffalse prophets, and ^gshall shew great signs and wonders; ^hso as to lead astray, if possible, even the elect. ²⁵Behold, ^hI have told you beforehand. ²⁶If therefore they shall say unto you, Behold, ⁱhe is in the wilderness; go not forth: Behold, he is in the inner chambers; believe ^jit not. ²⁷^jFor as the lightning cometh forth from the east, and is seen even unto the west; so shall be the ^kcoming of the Son of man. ²⁸^kWheresoever the carcase is, there will the ^leagles be gathered together.

²⁹But immediately, after ^mthe tribulation of those days, ⁿthe sun shall be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light, and ^othe stars shall fall from heaven, and the powers of the heavens shall be shaken: ³⁰and then ^pshall appear ^qthe sign of the Son of man in heaven: and then ^rshall all the tribes of the earth mourn, and ^sthey shall see the Son of man coming on the clouds of heaven ^twith power and great glory. ³¹And ^uhe shall send forth his angels ⁷with ^aa great sound of ^va trumpet, and they shall ^wgather together ^xhis elect from ^ythe four winds, ^zfrom one end of heaven to the other.

³²Now from the fig tree learn her parable: when her branch is now become tender, and putteth forth its leaves, ye know that the summer is nigh; ³³even so ye also, when ye see all these things, know ye that ⁹he is nigh, even ^aat the doors. ³⁴^bVerily I say unto you, This generation shall not pass away, till all these things be accomplished. ³⁵^cHeaven and earth shall pass away, but ^dmy words shall not pass away. ³⁶But of that day and hour ^eknoweth no one, not even the angels of heaven, ¹⁰^fneither the Son, ^gbut the Father only. ³⁷^hAnd as were the days of Noah, ⁱso shall be the ⁵coming of the Son of man. ³⁸^hFor as in those days which were before the flood they were eating and drinking, ^jmarrying and giving in marriage, until ^kthe day that Noah entered into the ark, ³⁹and they knew not until the flood came, and took them all away; ⁱso shall be the ⁵coming of the Son of man. ⁴⁰ⁱThen shall two men be in the field; one is taken, and one is left: ⁴¹^mtwo women shall be grinding ⁿat the mill; one is taken, and one is left. ⁴²^oWatch therefore: for ye know not on what day ^pyour Lord cometh. ⁴³¹¹^qBut know this, that if the master of the house had known in what watch ^rthe thief was coming, he would have watched, and would not have suffered his house to be ¹²^sbroken through. ⁴⁴Therefore be ye also ^tready: for in an hour that ye think not ^uthe Son of man cometh. ⁴⁵Who then is ^vthe faithful and ^wwise ¹³servant, whom his lord hath set over his household, to give them their food in due season? ⁴⁶^xBlessed is that ¹³servant, whom his lord when he cometh shall find so doing. ⁴⁷Verily I say unto you, that ^yhe will set him over all that he hath. ⁴⁸But if that evil ¹³servant shall say in his heart, My lord ^ztarrieth; ⁴⁹and shall begin to beat his fellow-servants, and shall eat and drink with ^athe drunken; ⁵⁰the lord of that ¹³servant shall come ^bin a day when he expecteth not, and in an hour when he knoweth not, ⁵¹ and shall ¹ cut him asunder, and appoint his portion with the hypocrites: ^c there shall be the weeping and gnashing of teeth.

¹ Then shall the kingdom 25 of heaven be likened unto ^d ten virgins, which took their ² lamps, and went forth to meet ^e the bridegroom. ² And five of them were foolish, and five were ^w wise. ³ For the foolish, when they took their ² lamps, took no oil with them: ⁴ but the wise took oil in their vessels with their ² lamps. ⁵ Now while the bridegroom ^f tarried, they all slumbered and slept. ⁶ But ^g at midnight there is a cry, Behold, the bridegroom! Come ye forth to meet him. ⁷ Then all those virgins arose, and ^h trimmed their ² lamps. ⁸ And the foolish said unto the wise, Give us of your oil; for our ² lamps are going out. ⁹ But the wise answered, saying, Peradventure there will not be enough for us and you: go ye rather to them that sell, and buy for yourselves. ¹⁰ And while they went away to buy, the bridegroom came; and ⁱ they that were ready went in with him to ^j the marriage feast: and ^k the door was shut. ¹¹ Afterward come also the other virgins, saying, 'Lord, Lord, open to us. ¹² But he answered and said, Verily I say unto you, ^m I know you not. ¹³ Watch therefore, for ye ^o know not the day nor the hour.

¹⁴ For ^q it is as when a man, ^r going into another country, called his own ³ servants, and delivered unto them his goods. ¹⁵ And unto one he gave five ^s talents, to another two, to another one; ^t to each according to his several ability; and he ^u went on his journey. ¹⁶ Straightway he that received the five talents went and traded with them, and made other five talents. ¹⁷ In like manner he also that ^v received the two gained other two. ¹⁸ But he that received the one went away and ^w digged in the earth, and hid his lord's money. ¹⁹ Now ^x after a long time the lord of those ³ servants cometh, and ^y maketh a reckoning with them. ²⁰ And he that received the five talents came and brought other five talents, saying, Lord, thou deliveredst unto me five talents: lo, I have gained other five talents. ²¹ His lord said unto him, Well done, good and ^z faithful ⁴ servant: ^y thou hast been faithful over a few things, ² I will set thee over many things: enter thou into ^a the joy of thy lord. ²² And he also that ^z received the two talents came and said, Lord, thou deliveredst unto me two talents: lo, I have gained other two talents. ²³ His lord said unto him, Well done, good and faithful ⁴ servant; thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will set thee over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy lord. ²⁴ And he also that had received the one talent came and said, Lord, I knew thee that thou art ^b a hard man, reaping ^c where thou didst not sow, and gathering where thou didst not scatter: ²⁵ and I was afraid, and went away and hid thy talent in the earth: lo, ^d thou hast thine own. ²⁶ But his lord answered and said unto him, Thou ^e wicked and ^e slothful ⁴ servant, thou knewest that I reap where I sowed not, and gather where I did not scatter; ²⁷ thou oughtest therefore to have put my money to the bankers, and at my coming I should have received back mine own with interest. ²⁸ Take ye away therefore the talent from him, and give it unto him that hath the ten talents. ²⁹ For unto every one that hath shall be given, and he shall have abundance: but from him that hath not, even that which he hath shall be taken away. ³⁰ And ^g cast ye out ^h the unprofitable ⁴ servant into the outer darkness: ^g there shall be the weeping and gnashing of teeth.

³¹ But when the Son of man shall come in his glory, and all the angels with him, ^j then shall he sit on the throne of his glory: ³² and before him ^k shall be gathered ^l all the nations: and ^m he shall separate them one from another, as the shepherd separateth ⁿ the sheep from the ⁵ goats: ³³ and he shall set the sheep on his right hand, but the ⁵ goats on the left. ³⁴ Then shall ^o the King say unto ^p them on his right hand, Come, ye ^q blessed of my Father, ^r inherit ^s the kingdom ^t prepared for you ^u from the foundation of the world: ³⁵ for ^v I was an hungred, and

26 ¹ And it came to pass, when Jesus had finished all these words, he said unto his disciples, ^{2m} Ye know that after two days ⁿ the passover cometh, and ^o the Son of man ^p is delivered up to be crucified. ^{3q} Then were gathered together the chief priests, and the elders of the people, unto ^r the court of the high priest, who was called ^s Caiaphas ; ^{4t} and they took counsel together that they might take Jesus by subtilty, and kill him. ⁵ But they said, Not during the feast, ^u lest a tumult arise among the people.

^{6v} Now when Jesus was in ^w Bethany, in the house of Simon the leper, ⁷ there came unto him a woman having ² an alabaster cruse of exceeding precious ointment, and she poured it upon his head, as he sat at meat. ⁸ But when the disciples saw it, they had indignation, saying, To what purpose is this waste ? ⁹ For this ointment might have been sold for much, and ^x given to the poor. ¹⁰ But ^y Jesus perceiving it said unto them, Why trouble ye the woman ? for she hath wrought a good work upon me. ¹¹ For ^z ye have the poor always with you ; but ^a me ye have not always. ¹² For in that she ³ poured this ointment upon my body, she did it ^b to prepare me for burial. ¹³ Verily I say unto you, Wheresoever ^{4c} this gospel shall be preached in the whole world, that also which this woman hath done shall be spoken of ^d for a memorial of her.

^{14e} Then one of the twelve, who was called ^f Judas Iscariot, went unto the chief priests, ¹⁵ and said, What are ye willing to give me, and I will deliver him unto you ? And they ^g weighed unto him ^h thirty pieces of silver. ¹⁶ And from that time he sought opportunity ⁱ to deliver him unto them.

^{17j} Now on ^k the first day of unleavened bread the disciples came to Jesus, saying, Where wilt thou that we make ready for thee to eat the passover ? ¹⁸ And he said, Go into the city to such a man, and say unto him, ^l The ⁵ Master saith, ^m My time is at hand ; I keep the passover at thy house with my disciples. ¹⁹ And the disciples did as Jesus appointed them ; and they made ready the passover. ²⁰ⁿ Now when even was come, he was sitting at meat with the twelve ⁶ disciples ; ²¹ and as they were eating, ^o he said, Verily I say unto you, that one of you shall betray me. ²² And they were exceeding sorrowful, and began to say unto him every one, Is it I, Lord ? ²³ And he answered and said, ^p He that dipped his hand with me in the dish, the same shall betray me. ²⁴ The Son of man goeth, ^q even as it is written of him : but ^r woe unto that man through whom the Son of man is betrayed ! ^s good were it ⁷ for that man if he had not been born. ²⁵ And Judas, which betrayed him, answered and said, Is it I, ^tRabbi? He saith unto him, ^uThou hast said. ²⁶^vAnd as they were eating, Jesus took ¹bread, and ^wblessed, and brake it; and he gave to the disciples, and said, Take, eat; ^xthis is my body. ²⁷And he took ²a cup, and ^ygave thanks, and gave to them, saying, Drink ye all of it; ²⁸for ^xthis is my ^zblood of ³the ⁴covenant, which is shed for ^amany ^bunto remission of sins.

²⁹But I say unto you, I will not drink henceforth of this fruit of the vine, until that day when I drink it new with you ^cin my Father's kingdom.

³⁰^dAnd when they had sung a hymn, ^ethey went out unto ^fthe
mount of Olives.

³¹Then saith Jesus unto them,
All ye shall be ⁵^goffended in me
this night: for it is written, I will ^hsmite the shepherd, and the sheep
of the flock shall be scattered abroad. ³²But after I am raised up, ⁱI will go before you into Galilee. ³³But ^jPeter answered and said unto him, If all shall be ⁵^goffended in thee, I will never be ⁵offended. ³⁴^kJesus said unto him, Verily I say unto thee, that this night, ^lbefore the cock crow, thou shalt deny me thrice. ³⁵^mPeter
saith unto him, Even if I must die
with thee, ^{yet} will I not deny thee.
Likewise also said all the disciples.

³⁶ⁿThen cometh Jesus with them
^eunto ⁶a place called Gethsemane,
and saith unto his disciples, Sit ye
here, while I go yonder and pray.
³⁷And he took with him ^oPeter and ^pthe two sons of Zebedee, and began to be sorrowful and sore troubled. ³⁸Then saith he unto them, ^qMy soul is exceeding sorrowful, even unto death: abide ye here, and ^rwatch with me. ³⁹And
he went forward a little, and fell on his face, ^sand prayed, saying, O my Father, if it be possible, let ^tthis cup pass away from me:
^unevertheless, not as I will, but as thou wilt. ⁴⁰And he cometh unto the ^vdisciples, and findeth them
sleeping, and saith unto Peter,
What, could ye not watch with me
one hour? ⁴¹⁷Watch and ^vpray,
that ye ^wenter not into temptation:
the spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak. ⁴²Again a second time he went away, and prayed, saying, O my Father, if this cannot pass away, except I drink it, ^xthy

will be done. ⁴³And he came again
and found them sleeping, for ^ytheir eyes were heavy. ⁴⁴And he left them again, and went away, and prayed ^za third time, saying again
the same words. ⁴⁵Then cometh
he to the disciples, and saith unto them, Sleep on now, and take your rest: behold, ^athe hour is at hand,
and ^bthe Son of man is betrayed
into the hands of sinners. ⁴⁶Arise, let us be going: behold, he is at hand that betrayeth me.

⁴⁷^cAnd while he yet spake, lo, ^dJudas, one of the twelve, came,
and with him a great multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests and elders of the people. ⁴⁸Now he that betrayed him gave them a sign, saying, Whomsoever I shall kiss, that is he: take him. ⁴⁹And straightway he came to Jesus, and said, Hail, ^eRabbi;
and ⁸^fkissed him. ⁵⁰And Jesus said unto him, ^gFriend, ^hdo that for which thou art come. Then they came and laid hands on Jesus, and took him. ⁵¹And behold, one of them that were with Jesus stretched out his hand, and drew his ⁱsword,
and smote the ⁹servant of the high priest, and struck off his ear.
⁵²Then saith Jesus unto him, Put up again thy sword into its place:
for ^jall they that take the sword
shall perish with the sword. ⁵³Or ^kthinkest thou that I cannot beseeh my Father, and he shall even now send me ^lmore than twelve ^mlegions of angels? ⁵⁴ⁿHow then should the scriptures be fulfilled,
that thus it must be? ⁵⁵In that hour said Jesus to the multitudes,
Are ye come out as against a robber with swords and staves to seize me? ^oI sat daily in the temple ^pteaching, and ye took me not.
⁵⁶But ⁿall this is come to pass,
that the scriptures of the prophets might be fulfilled. ^qThen all the disciples left him, and fled.

⁵⁷^rAnd ^sthey that had taken Jesus led him away to the house of ^tCaiaphas the high priest, where the scribes and the elders were gathered together. ⁵⁸But ^uPeter
followed him afar off, unto ^tthe

court of the high priest, and entered in, and sat with ^v the officers, to see the end. 59 Now the chief priests and the whole ^w council sought false witness against Jesus, that they might put him to death; 60 and they found it not, ^y though many false witnesses came. But afterward came ^z two, 61 and said, This man said, ^a I am able to ^b destroy the ¹ temple of God, and to build it in three days. 62 And the high priest stood up, and said unto him, Answerest thou nothing? what is it which these witness against thee? 63 ^c But Jesus held his peace. ^d And the high priest said unto him, ^e I adjure thee by ^f the living God, that thou ^g tell us whether thou be ^h the Christ, ⁱ the Son of God. 64 Jesus saith unto him, ^j Thou hast said: nevertheless I say unto you, Henceforth ^k ye shall see the Son of man ^l sitting at the right hand of power, and ^k coming on the clouds of heaven. 65 Then the high priest ^m rent his garments, saying, ⁿ He hath spoken blasphemy: what further need have we of witnesses? behold, now ye have heard the blasphemy: 66 what think ye? They answered and said, ^o He is ² worthy of death. 67 Then ^p did they spit in his face and buffet him: ^q and some ^r smote him ³ with the palms of their hands, 68 saying, Prophecy unto us, thou ^s Christ: who is he that struck thee? 69 ^t Now Peter was sitting without ^u in the court: and a maid came unto him, saying, Thou also wast with Jesus the Galilæan. 70 But he denied before them all, saying, I know not what thou sayest. 71 And when he was gone out into the porch, another ^v maid saw him, and saith unto them that were there, This man also was with Jesus ^v the Nazarene. 72 And again he denied with an oath, I know not the man. 73 And after a little while they that stood by came and said to Peter, Of a truth thou also art ^w one of them; for ^w thy speech bewrayeth thee. 74 Then began he to curse and to swear, I know not the man. And straightway the cock crew. 75 And Peter remembered the word which Jesus had said, ^x Before the cock crow, thou shalt ^y deny me thrice. And he went out, and wept bitterly.

27 ¹ ^z Now when morning was come, all the chief priests and the elders of the people ^a took counsel against Jesus to put him to death: ² and they bound him, and ^b led him away, and ^c delivered him up to ^d Pilate the governor.

³ Then ^e Judas, which betrayed him, when he saw that he was condemned, ^f repented himself, and brought back ^g the thirty pieces of silver to the chief priests and elders, ⁴ saying, I have sinned in that I betrayed ⁴ ^h innocent blood. But they said, What is that to us? ⁱ see thou ^{to it}. ⁵ And he cast down the pieces of silver into ^j the sanctuary, and departed; and ^k he went away and hanged himself. 6 And the chief priests took the pieces of silver, and said, It is not lawful to put them into ^l the ⁵ treasury, since it is the price of blood. 7 And they took counsel, and bought with them the potter's field, to bury strangers in. 8 Wherefore ^m that field was called, The field of blood, ⁿ unto this day. 9 ^o Then was fulfilled that which was spoken ⁶ by Jeremiah the prophet, saying, ^p And ⁷ they took the thirty pieces of silver, the price of him that was priced, ⁸ whom ^{cert}tain of the children of Israel did price; ¹⁰ and ⁹ they gave them for the potter's field, as the Lord appointed me.

¹¹ ^q Now Jesus stood before the governor: and the governor asked him, saying, Art thou ^r the King of the Jews? And Jesus said unto him, ^s Thou sayest. ¹² ^t And when he was accused by the chief priests and elders, he answered nothing. ¹³ Then saith Pilate unto him, ^u Hearest thou not how many things they witness against thee? ¹⁴ And he gave him no answer, not even to one word: insomuch that the governor marvelled greatly. ¹⁵ ^v Now at ¹⁰ the feast the governor was wont to release unto the multitude one prisoner, whom they would. ¹⁶ And they had then a notable prisoner, called Barabbas. ¹⁷ When therefore they were gathered together, Pilate said unto them, Whom will ye that I release unto you? Barabbas, or ^w Jesus which is called Christ? ¹⁸ For he knew that ^x for envy they had delivered him up. ¹⁹ And while he was sitting on ^y the judgement-seat, his wife sent unto him, saying, Have thou nothing to do with ^z that righteous man: for I have suffered many things this day ^a in a dream because of him. ²⁰ Now the chief priests and the elders persuaded the multitudes that they should ^b ask for Barabbas, and destroy Jesus. ²¹ But the governor answered and said unto them, Whether of the twain will ye that I release unto you? And they said, Barabbas. ²² Pilate saith unto them, What then shall I do unto Jesus which is called Christ? ^c They all say, Let him be crucified. ²³ And he said, Why, ^d what evil hath he done? But they cried out exceedingly, saying, Let him be crucified. ²⁴ So when Pilate saw that he prevailed nothing, but rather that ^e a tumult was arising, he took water, and ^f washed his hands before the multitude, saying, I am innocent ¹ of the blood of ^g this righteous man: ^h see ye to it. ²⁵ And all the people answered and said, ⁱ His blood be on us, and ^j on our children. ²⁶ Then released he unto them Barabbas: but Jesus he ^k scourged and delivered to be crucified.

³² And ^u as they came out, they found a man of Cyrene, Simon by name: him they ^{5v} compelled to go with them, that he might ^t bear his cross. ³³ ^w And when they were come unto a place called Golgotha, that is to say, The place of a skull, ³⁴ ^x they gave him wine to drink mingled with ^y gall: and when he had tasted it, he would not drink. ³⁵ And when they had crucified him, ^z they parted his garments among them, casting lots: ³⁶ and they sat and ^a watched him there. ³⁷ And they set up over his head his accusation written, THIS IS JESUS ^b THE KING OF THE JEWS. ³⁸ Then are there crucified with him two ^c robbers, ^d one on the right hand, and one on the left. ³⁹ And ^e they that passed by ^f railed on him, ^g wagging their heads, ⁴⁰ and saying, ^h Thou that destroyest the ⁶ temple, and buildest it in three days, save thyself: ⁱ if thou art ^j the Son of God, come down from the cross. ⁴¹ In like manner also the chief priests mocking ^{him}, with the scribes and elders, said, ⁴² ^k He saved others; ⁷ himself he cannot save. ^m He is the King of Israel; let him now come down from the cross, and we will believe on him. ⁴³ ⁿ He trusteth on God; let him deliver him now, if he desireth him: for he said, I am the Son of God. ⁴⁴ ^o And the robbers also that were crucified with him cast upon him the same reproach.

⁴⁵ Now from the sixth hour there was darkness over all the ⁸ land until the ninth hour. ⁴⁶ And about the ninth hour Jesus ^p cried with a loud voice, saying, ^q Eli, Eli, lama sabachthani? that is, My God, my God, ⁹ why hast thou forsaken me? ⁴⁷ And some of them that stood there, when they heard it, said, This man calleth Elijah. ⁴⁸ And straightway one of them ran, and took a sponge, and filled it with ^r vinegar, and put it on a reed, and ^s gave him to drink. ⁴⁹ And the rest said, Let be; let us see whether Elijah cometh to save him. ¹⁰ ⁵⁰ And Jesus ^t cried again with a loud voice, and ^u yielded up his spirit. ⁵¹ And behold, ^v the veil of the ⁶ temple was rent in twain from the top to the bottom; and ^w the earth did quake; and the rocks were rent; ⁵² and the tombs were opened; and many bodies of ^xthe saints ^ythat had fallen asleep were raised; ⁵³and coming forth out of the tombs after his resurrection they entered into ^zthe holy city and appeared unto many. ⁵⁴^aNow the centurion, and they that were with him ^bwatching Jesus, when they saw the earthquake, and the things that were done, feared exceedingly, saying, ^cTruly this was ^{1 d}the Son of God. ⁵⁵And ^emany women were there beholding ^ffrom afar, which had followed Jesus from Galilee, ^gministering unto him: ⁵⁶among whom was ^hMary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James and Joses, and ⁱthe mother of the sons of Zebedee.

⁵⁷ⁱAnd when even was come, there came a rich man from Arimathea, named Joseph, who also himself was Jesus' disciple: ⁵⁸this man went to Pilate, and asked for the body of Jesus. Then Pilate commanded it to be given up. ⁵⁹And Joseph took the body, and wrapped it in a clean linen cloth, ⁶⁰and ^jlaid it in his own new tomb, ^kwhich he had hewn out in the rock: and he rolled ^la great stone to the door of the tomb, and departed. ⁶¹And Mary Magdalene was there, and ^mthe other Mary, sitting over against the sepulchre.

⁶²Now on the morrow, which is the day after ⁿthe Preparation, the chief priests and the Pharisees were gathered together unto Pilate, ⁶³saying, Sir, we remember that ^othat deceiver said, while he was yet alive, ^pAfter three days I rise again. ⁶⁴Command therefore that the sepulchre be made sure until the third day, ^qlest haply his disciples come and steal him away, and say unto the people, He is risen from the dead: and the last error will be worse than the first. ⁶⁵Pilate said unto them, ²Ye have ^ra guard: go your way, ³make it as sure as ye can. ⁶⁶So they went, and made the sepulchre sure, ^ssealing the stone, the guard being with them.

28 ^tNow late on the sabbath day, as it began to dawn toward the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalene and ^uthe other Mary to see the sepulchre.

²And behold, there was a great earthquake; for ^van angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled away the stone, and sat upon it. ³^wHis appearance was as lightning, and ^xhis raiment white as snow: ⁴and for fear of him the watchers did quake, and ^ybecame as dead men. ⁵And the angel answered and said unto the women, Fear not ye: for I know that ye seek Jesus, which hath been crucified. ⁶He is not here; for he is risen, ^zeven as he said. Come, see the place ^awhere the Lord lay. ⁷And go quickly, and tell his disciples, He is risen from the dead; and lo, ^bhe goeth before you into Galilee; there shall ye see him: lo, I have told you. ⁸And they departed quickly from the tomb ^cwith fear and great joy, and ran to bring his disciples word. ⁹And behold, Jesus ^dmet them, saying, All hail. And they came and ^etook hold of his feet, and ^fworshipped him. ¹⁰Then saith Jesus unto them, Fear not: ^ggo tell ^hmy brethren that they depart into Galilee, and there shall they see me.

¹¹Now while they were going, behold, some of ⁱthe guard came into the city, and told unto the chief priests all the things that were come to pass. ¹²And when they were assembled with the elders, and had taken counsel, they gave large money unto the soldiers, ¹³saying, Say ye, ^jHis disciples came by night, and stole him away while we slept. ¹⁴And if this ^kcome to ^lthe governor's ears, we will ^mpersuade him, and rid you of care. ¹⁵So they took the money, and did as they were taught: and this saying was spread abroad among the Jews, and continueth ¹until this day.

¹⁶But the eleven disciples ⁿwent into Galilee, unto the mountain where Jesus had appointed them. ¹⁷And when they saw him, they ^oworshipped him: but some doubted. ¹⁸And Jesus came to them and spake unto them, saying, ^pAll authority hath been given unto me ^qin heaven and on earth. ¹⁹^rGo ye therefore, and ^smake disciples of ^tall the nations, ^ubaptizing them ^vinto ^wthe name of the Father and

I ¹ THE beginning of the gospel of Jesus Christ, ^{3a} the Son of God.

^{2b} Even as it is written ⁴ in Isaiah
the prophet,

^c Behold, I send my messenger
before thy face,

Who shall prepare thy way;

^{3d} The voice of one crying in the wilderness,

^e Make ye ready the way of the Lord,

Make his paths straight;

^{4f} John came, who baptized in ^g the wilderness and preached ^h the baptism of ⁱ repentance ^j unto remission of sins. ⁵ And there went out

unto him all the country of Judæa,
and all they of Jerusalem; and they were baptized of him in the river Jordan, ^k confessing their sins. ⁶ And John was ^l clothed with camel's hair, and ^l had a leathern girdle about his loins, and did eat ^m locusts and ⁿ wild honey. ⁷ And he preached,

saying, ^o There cometh after me he
that is mightier than I, the latchet of whose shoes I am not ⁵ worthy to stoop down and unloose. ^{8p} I baptized you ⁶ with water; but ^q he shall baptize you ⁶ with the ⁷ Holy Ghost.

^{9r} And it came to pass in those days, that Jesus ^s came from Nazareth of Galilee, and was baptized of John ⁸ in the Jordan. ¹⁰ And straightway coming up out of the water, he ^t saw ^u the heavens rent

asunder, ^v and the Spirit as a dove descending upon him: ¹¹ and ^w a voice came out of the heavens, ^x Thou art my beloved Son, in thee

I am well pleased.

^{12y} And straightway the Spirit
driveth him forth into the wilderness. ^{13z} And he was in the wilderness forty days ² tempted of ^a Satan; and he was with the wild beasts; and ^b the angels ministered unto him.

^{14c} Now after that John was delivered up, Jesus ^d came into Galilee, preaching ^e the gospel of God, ¹⁵ and saying, ^f The time is fulfilled,

and ^g the kingdom of God is at hand:
^h repent ye, and believe in the gospel.

¹⁶ⁱ And passing along by the sea of Galilee, he saw Simon and Andrew the brother of Simon casting

a net in the sea: for they were fishers.

¹⁷ And Jesus said unto them, Come ye after me, and I will make you to become ^j fishers of men. ¹⁸ And straightway they left the nets, and followed him. ¹⁹ And going on a little further, he saw James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, who also were in the boat mending the nets. ²⁰ And straightway he called them: and they left their father

Zebedee in the boat with the hired servants, and went after him.

^{21k} And they go into Capernaum;
and straightway ^l on the sabbath

day ^m he entered into the synagogue
and taught. ²² And ⁿ they were astonished at his teaching: ⁿ for he taught them as having authority,

and not as the scribes. ²³ And straightway there was in their synagogue a man with an unclean spirit; and he cried out, ²⁴ saying,

^o What have we to do with thee,
thou Jesus of Nazareth? art thou

come to destroy us? ^p I know thee who thou art, ^q the Holy One of

God. ²⁵ And Jesus ^r rebuked ⁹ him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him. ²⁶ And the unclean spirit, ^{10s} tearing him and ^t crying

with a loud voice, came out of him.

²⁷ And they were all ^u amazed, insomuch that they questioned among themselves, saying, What is this?

^v a new teaching! with authority

29 ^w And straightway, ¹ when they were come ^x out of the synagogue, they came into the house of Simon and Andrew, with James and John.

30 Now ^y Simon's wife's mother lay sick of a fever; and straightway they tell him of her: 31 and he came and ^z took her by the hand, and raised her up; and the fever left her, and she ministered unto them.

32 And at even, when the sun did set, they brought unto him all that were sick, and them that were ^{2a} possessed with devils. 33 And all the city was gathered together at the door. 34 ^b And he healed many that were sick with divers diseases, and cast out many ³ devils; and ^c he suffered not the ³ devils to speak, because they knew him ⁴.

35 ^d And in the morning, a great while before day, he rose up and went out, and departed into a desert place, and ^e there prayed. 36 And Simon and they that were with him followed after him; 37 and they found him, and say unto him, ^f All are seeking thee. 38 And he saith unto them, Let us go elsewhere into the next towns, that I may preach there also; for ^g to this end came I forth. 39 ^h And ⁱ he went into their synagogues throughout all Galilee, preaching and casting out ³ devils.

40 ^j And there cometh to him a leper, beseeching him, ⁵ and ^k kneeling down to him, and saying unto him, ^l If thou wilt, thou canst make me clean. 41 And being moved with compassion, he stretched forth his hand, and touched him, and saith unto him, I will; be thou made clean. 42 And straightway the leprosy departed from him, and he was made clean. 43 And ^m he ⁶ strictly charged him, and straightway sent him out, 44 and saith unto him, ⁿ See thou say nothing to any man: but go thy way, ^o shew thyself to the priest, and ^p offer for thy cleansing the things which Moses commanded, ^q for a testimony unto them. 45 ^r But he went out, and began to publish it much, and to spread abroad the ⁷ matter, inso-much that ⁸ Jesus could no more openly enter into ⁹ a city, but was without in ^s desert places: and ^t they came to him from every quarter.

1 And when he entered again 2 into ^u Capernaum after some days, it was noised that he was ¹⁰ in the house. 2 And many were gathered together, so that there was no longer room ^v for them, no, not even about the door: and he spake the word unto them. 3 ^v And they come, bringing unto him a man sick of the palsy, borne of four. 4 And when they could not ¹¹ come nigh unto him for the crowd, ^w they uncovered the roof where he was: and when they had broken it up, they let down the bed whereon the sick of the palsy lay. 5 And Jesus ^x seeing their faith saith unto the sick of the palsy, ¹² Son, ^y thy sins are forgiven. 6 But there were certain of the scribes sitting there, and reasoning in their hearts, 7 Why doth this man thus speak? ^z he blasphemeth: ^a who can forgive sins but one, even God? 8 And straightway Jesus, ^b perceiving in his spirit that they so reasoned within themselves, saith unto them, Why reason ye these things in your hearts? 9 Whether is easier, to say to the sick of the palsy, Thy sins are forgiven; or to say, Arise, and take up thy bed, and walk? 10 But that ye may know that ^c the Son of man hath ¹³ power on earth to forgive sins (he saith to the sick of the palsy), 11 I say unto thee, Arise, take up thy bed, and go unto thy house. 12 And he arose, and straightway took up the bed, and went forth before them all; inso-much that they were all amazed, and ^d glorified God, saying, We never saw it on this fashion.

13 And he went forth again by the sea side; and ^e all the multitude resorted unto him, and he taught them. 14 ^f And as he passed by, he saw ^g Levi the son of Alphæus sitting at the place of toll, and he saith unto him, Follow me. And he arose and followed him. 15 And it came to pass, that he was sitting at meat in his house, and many

¹*h* publicans and sinners sat down with Jesus and his disciples: for there were many, and they followed him. ¹⁶ And ¹*i* the scribes ²of the Pharisees, when they saw that he was eating with the sinners and publicans, said unto his disciples, ³*h* He eateth ⁴and drinketh with publicans and sinners. ¹⁷ And when Jesus heard it, he saith unto them, They that are ⁵whole have no need of a physician, but they that are sick: ⁷*j* I came not to call the righteous, ^kbut sinners.

¹⁸ And ¹*l* John's disciples and the Pharisees were fasting: and they come and say unto him, ^mWhy do John's disciples and ⁿthe disciples of the Pharisees fast, but thy disciples fast not? ¹⁹ And Jesus said unto them, ^oCan the sons of the bride-chamber fast, while the bridegroom is with them? as long as they have the bridegroom with them, they cannot fast. ²⁰ But ^pthe days will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken away from them, and ^qthen will they fast in that day. ²¹ No man seweth a piece of undressed cloth on an old garment: else that which should fill it up taketh from it, the new from the old, and a worse rent is made. ²² And no man putteth new wine into old ^rwine-skins: else the wine will burst the skins, and the wine perisheth, and the skins: but they put new wine into fresh wine-skins.

²³ ^sAnd it came to pass, that he was going on the sabbath day through the cornfields; and his disciples ⁷*t* began, as they went, to pluck the ears of corn. ²⁴ And the Pharisees said unto him, Behold, ^uwhy do they on the sabbath day ^vthat which is not lawful? ²⁵ And he said unto them, ^wDid ye never read ^xwhat David did, when he had need, and was an hungry, he, and they that were with him? ²⁶ How he entered into the house of God ⁸when ^yAbiathar was high priest, and did eat ^zthe shewbread, which it is not lawful to eat save for the priests, and gave also to them that were with him? ²⁷ And he said unto them, ^aThe sabbath was made for man, and ^bnot man for the sabbath: ²⁸so that ^cthe Son of man is lord even of the sabbath.

¹*d* And ^ehe entered again into 3 the synagogue; and there was a man there which had his hand withered. ² And ^fthey watched him, whether he would heal him on the sabbath day; that they might accuse him. ³ And he saith unto the man that had his hand withered, ⁹Stand forth. ⁴ And he saith unto them, ⁹Is it lawful on the sabbath day to do good, or to do harm? to save a life, or to kill? But they held their peace. ⁵ And when he had ^hlooked round about on them with anger, being grieved at ⁱthe hardening of their heart, he saith unto the man, Stretch forth thy hand. And ^jhe stretched it forth: and his hand was restored. ⁶ ^kAnd the Pharisees went out, and straightway with ¹the Herodians ^ktook counsel against him, how they might destroy him.

¹³ ^zAnd he goeth up into the mountain, and calleth unto him ^awhom he himself would: and they went unto him. ¹⁴ ^zAnd he appointed twelve, ¹³that they might be with him, and that he might send them forth to preach, ¹⁵^zand to have authority to cast out ¹⁴devils: ¹⁶¹⁵ ^band Simon ^che surnamed Peter; ¹⁷ and ^dJames the son of Zebedee, and John the brother of

James; and them he surnamed Boanerges, which is, ^eSons of thunder: ¹⁸and Andrew, and Philip, and Bartholomew, and ^fMatthew, and Thomas, and James the son of Alphæus, and Thaddæus, and Simon the ¹Cananaean, ¹⁹and Judas Iscariot, which also betrayed him.

And he cometh ²⁰into a house. ²⁰And the multitude cometh together again, ^hso that they could not so much as eat bread. ²¹And when ^jhis friends heard it, they went out to lay hold on him: for they said, He ^kis beside himself. ²²And ^lthe scribes which came down from Jerusalem said, ^mHe hath Beelzebub, and, ³By the prince of the ⁴devils casteth he out the ⁴devils. ²³ⁿAnd he called them unto him, and said unto them in parables, How can Satan cast out Satan? ²⁴And if a kingdom be divided against itself, that kingdom cannot stand. ²⁵And if a house be divided against itself, that house will not be able to stand. ²⁶And if Satan hath risen up against himself, and is divided, he cannot stand, but hath an end. ²⁷But ^ono one can enter into the house of the strong man, and spoil his goods, except he first bind the strong man; and ^pthen he will spoil his house. ²⁸^qVerily I say unto you, All their sins shall be forgiven unto the sons of men, and their blasphemies wherewith soever they shall blaspheme: ²⁹but whosoever shall ^rblaspheme against the Holy Spirit hath never forgiveness, but is guilty of an eternal sin: ³⁰because they said, He hath an unclean spirit.

³¹^sAnd there come his mother and his ^tbrethren; and, standing without, they sent unto him, calling him. ³²And a multitude was sitting about him; and they say unto him, Behold, thy mother and thy brethren without seek for thee. ³³And he answereth them, and saith, Who is my mother and my brethren? ³⁴And ^ulooking round on them which sat round about him, he saith, Behold, my mother and my brethren! ³⁵For ^vwhosoever shall ^wdo the will of God, the same is my brother, and sister, and mother.

¹And again ^xhe began to ⁴teach by the sea side. And there is gathered unto him a very great multitude, ^yso that he entered into a boat, and sat in the sea; and all the multitude were by the sea on the land. ²And ^zhe taught them many things in parables, and said unto them in his teaching, ³Hearken: Behold, ^athe sower went forth to sow: ⁴and it came to pass, as he sowed, some seed fell by the way side, and the birds came and devoured it. ⁵And other fell on the rocky ground, where it had not much earth; and straightway it sprang up, because it had no deepness of earth: ⁶and ^bwhen the sun was risen, it was scorched; and because it had no root, ^cit withered away. ⁷And other fell among ^dthe thorns, and the thorns grew up, and choked it, and it yielded no fruit. ⁸And others fell into the good ground, and yielded fruit, growing up and increasing; and brought forth, thirtyfold, and sixtyfold, and ^ea hundredfold. ⁹And he said, ^fWho hath ears to hear, let him hear.

¹⁰And ^gwhen he was alone, they that were about him with the twelve asked of him the parables. ¹¹And he said unto them, ^hUnto you is given ⁱthe mystery of the kingdom of God: but unto ^jthem that are without, all things are done in parables: ¹²^kthat ^lseeing they may see, and not perceive; and hearing they may hear, and not understand; lest haply they ^mshould turn again, and it should be forgiven them. ¹³ⁿAnd he saith unto them, Know ye not this parable? and how shall ye know all the parables? ¹⁴^oThe sower soweth ^pthe word. ¹⁵And these are they by the way side, where the word is sown; and when they have heard, straightway cometh Satan, and taketh away the word which hath been sown in them. ¹⁶And these in like manner are they that are sown upon the rocky places, who, when they have heard the word, straightway receive it ^qwith joy; ¹⁷and they have no root in themselves, but ^rendure for a while; then, when tribulation or persecution ariseth because of the word, straightway ^sthey stumble. ¹⁸And others are they that are sown among the thorns; these are they that have heard the word, ¹⁹and ^tthe cares of ^uthe ⁵world, and ^vthe deceitfulness of riches, and the lusts of other things entering in, choke the word, and it becometh unfruitful. ²⁰ And those are they that were sown upon the good ground; such as hear the word, and accept it; and ^w bear fruit, ^a thirtyfold, and sixtyfold, and a hundredfold.

²¹ ^v And he said unto them, ² Is the lamp brought to be put under the bushel, or under the bed, and not to be put on the stand? ²² ^a For there is nothing hid, save that it should be manifested; neither was anything made secret, but that it should come to light. ²³ ^b If any man hath ears to hear, let him hear. ²⁴ And he said unto them, Take heed what ye hear: ^c with what measure ye mete it shall be measured unto you: and more shall be given unto you. ²⁵ ^d For he that hath, to him shall be given: and he that hath not, from him shall be taken away even that which he hath.

²⁶ And he said, ^e So is the kingdom of God, as if a man should cast seed upon the earth; ²⁷ and should sleep and rise night and day, and the seed should spring up and grow, ^f he knoweth not how. ²⁸ The earth ¹ beareth fruit of herself; first the blade, then the ear, then the full corn in the ear. ²⁹ But when the fruit ² is ripe, straightway ^g he ³ putteth forth the sickle, because the harvest is come.

³⁰ ^h And he said, How shall we liken the kingdom of God? or in what parable shall we set it forth? ³¹ ⁱ It is like ⁱ a grain of mustard seed, which, when it is sown upon the earth, though it be less than all the seeds that are upon the earth, ³² yet when it is sown, groweth up, and becometh greater than all the herbs, and putteth out great branches; so that the birds of the heaven can lodge under the shadow thereof.

³⁵ ^p And on that day, when even was come, he saith unto them, Let us go over unto the other side. ³⁶ And leaving the multitude, they take him with them, ^q even as he was, in the boat. And other boats were with him. ³⁷ And there ariseth a great storm of wind, and the waves ^r beat into the boat, inso-much that the boat was now filling. ³⁸ And he himself was in the stern, asleep on the cushion: and they awake him, and say unto him, ⁵ Master, carest thou not that we perish? ³⁹ And he awoke, and ^s rebuked the wind, and said unto the sea, Peace, be still. And the wind ceased, and ^t there was a great calm. ⁴⁰ And he said unto them, Why are ye ^u fearful? have ye not yet faith? ⁴¹ And they feared exceedingly, and said one to another, ^v Who then is this, that even ^w the wind and the sea obey him?

¹ ^x And they came to the other side of the sea, into the country of the Gerasenes. ² And when he was come out of the boat, straightway there met him out of the tombs a man with an unclean spirit, ³ ^y who had his dwelling in the tombs: and no man could any more bind him, no, not with a chain; ⁴ because that he had been often bound with fetters and chains, and the chains had been rent asunder by him, and the fetters broken in pieces: and no man had strength to tame him. ⁵ And always, night and day, in the tombs and in the mountains, he was crying out, and cutting himself with stones. ⁶ And when he saw Jesus from afar, he ran and ^z worshipped him; ⁷ and ^a crying out with a loud voice, he saith, ^b What have I to do with thee, Jesus, ^c thou Son of ^d the Most High God? ^e I adjure thee by God, torment me not. ⁸ For he said unto him, Come forth, thou unclean spirit, out of the man. ⁹ And he asked him, What is thy name? And he saith unto him, My name is ^f Legion; for we are many. ¹⁰ And he besought him much that he would not send them away out of the country. ¹¹ Now there was there on the mountain side a great herd of swine feeding. ¹² And they besought him, saying, Send us into the swine, that we may enter into them. ¹³ And he gave them leave. And the unclean spirits came out, and entered into the swine: and the herd rushed down the steep into the sea, in number about two thousand; and they were choked

in the sea. ¹⁴ And they that fled, and told it in the city, and in the country. And they came to see what it was that had come to pass. ¹⁵ And they come to Jesus, and behold ¹ him that was possessed with devils sitting, ² clothed and in his right mind, even him that had ³ the legion: and they were afraid. ¹⁶ And they that saw it declared unto them how it befell ¹ him that was possessed with devils, and concerning the swine. ¹⁷ And ² they began to beseech him to depart from their borders. ¹⁸ And as he was entering into the boat, he that had been possessed with ² devils besought him that he might be with him. ¹⁹ And he suffered him not, but saith unto him, Go to thy house unto thy friends, and ³ tell them how great things the Lord hath done for thee, and how he had mercy on thee. ²⁰ And he went his way, and began to publish in ⁴ Decapolis how great things Jesus had done for him: and all men did marvel.

²⁵ And a woman, ⁵ which had an issue of blood twelve years, ²⁶ and had suffered many things of many physicians, and had spent all that she had, and was nothing bettered, but rather grew worse, ²⁷ having heard the things concerning Jesus, came in the crowd behind, and touched his garment. ²⁸ For she said, If I touch but his garments, I shall be ³ made whole. ²⁹ ² And straightway the fountain of her blood was dried up; and she felt in her body that she was healed of her ⁴ plague. ³⁰ And straightway Jesus, perceiving in himself that

⁵ the power proceeding from him had gone forth, turned him about in the crowd, and said, Who touched my garments? ³¹ And his disciples said unto him, Thou seest the multitude thronging thee, and sayest thou, Who touched me? ³² And he looked round about to see her that had done this thing. ³³ But the woman fearing and trembling, knowing what had been done to her, came and fell down before him, and told him all the truth. ³⁴ And he said unto her, Daughter, ⁶ thy faith hath ⁵ made thee whole; ⁷ go in peace, and be whole of thy ⁴ plague.

³⁵ While he yet spake, they come from ⁸ the ruler of the synagogue's house, saying, Thy daughter is dead: why ⁹ troublest thou ² the ⁶ Master any further? ³⁶ But Jesus, ⁷ not heeding the word spoken, saith unto ⁸ the ruler of the synagogue, Fear not, only believe. ³⁷ And he suffered no man to follow with him, save ⁹ Peter, and James, and ¹⁰ John the brother of James. ³⁸ And they come to the house of the ruler of the synagogue; and he beholdeth a tumult, and many weeping and wailing greatly. ³⁹ And when he was entered in, he saith unto them, ¹¹ Why make ye a tumult, and weep? the child is not dead, but ¹² a sleepeth. ⁴⁰ And they laughed him to scorn. But he, ¹³ having put them all forth, taketh the father of the child and her mother and them that were with him, and goeth in where the child was. ⁴¹ And ¹⁴ taking the child by the hand, he saith unto her, Talitha cumi; which is, being interpreted, Damsel, I say unto thee, ¹⁵ Arise. ⁴² And straightway the damsel rose up, and walked; for she was twelve years old. And they were amazed straightway with a great amazement. ⁴³ And ¹⁶ he charged them much that no man should know this: and he commanded that some-thing should be given her to eat.

¹⁷ ¹ And he went out from thence; and he cometh into ¹⁸ his own country; and his disciples follow him. ² And ¹⁹ when the sabbath was come, he began to teach in the synagogue: and ²⁰ many hearing him were astonished, saying, Whence hath this man these things?

And others said, It is ^da prophet, even as one of the prophets. ¹⁶ But Herod, when he heard thereof, said, John, whom I beheaded, he is risen. ¹⁷ ^e For Herod himself had sent forth and laid hold upon John, and ^fbound him in prison for the sake of Herodias, his brother Philip's wife: for he had married her. ¹⁸ ^e For John said unto Herod, ^gIt is not lawful for thee to have thy brother's wife. ¹⁹ And Herodias ^hset herself against him, and desired to kill him; and she could not; ²⁰ for Herod ⁱfeared John, knowing that he was a righteous man and a holy, and kept him safe. And when he heard him, he ⁹was much perplexed; and he ^jheard him gladly. ²¹ And when a convenient day was come, that Herod ^kon his birthday ^lmade a supper to his lords, and the ¹⁰high captains, and the chief men of Galilee; ²² and when ¹¹the daughter of Herodias herself came in and danced, ¹²she pleased Herod and them that sat at meat with him; and the king said unto the damsel, Ask of me whatsoever thou wilt, and I will give it thee. ²³ And he swore unto her, Whatsoever thou shalt ask of me, I will give it thee, ^munto the half of my kingdom. ²⁴ And she went out, and said unto her mother, What shall I ask? And she said, The head of John ⁸the Baptist. ²⁵ And she came in straightway with haste unto the king, and asked, saying, I will that thou forthwith give me in a charger the head of John ⁸the Baptist. ²⁶ And the king was exceeding sorry; but for the sake of his oaths, and of them that sat at meat, he would not reject her. ²⁷ And straightway the king sent forth a soldier of his guard, and commanded to bring his head: and he went and beheaded him in the prison, ²⁸and brought his head in a charger, and gave it to the damsel; and the damsel gave it to her mother. ²⁹ And when ⁿhis disciples heard thereof, they came and took up his corpse, and laid it in a tomb.

God, and hold fast the tradition of men. ⁹And he said unto them, Full well do ye ^hreject the commandment of God, that ye may keep your tradition. ¹⁰For Moses said, ⁱHonour thy father and thy mother; and, ^jHe that speaketh evil of father or mother, let him ¹die the death: ¹¹but ye say, If a man shall say to his father or his mother, That wherewith thou mightest have been profited by me is ^kCorban, that is to say, Given to God; ¹²ye no longer suffer him to do aught for his father or his mother; ¹³ⁱmaking void the word of God by your tradition, which ye have delivered: and many such like things ye do. ¹⁴And he called to him the multitude again, and said unto them, ^mHear me all of you, and understand: ¹⁵ⁿthere is nothing from without the man, that going into him can defile him: but the things which proceed out of the man are those that defile the man. ¹⁷And when he was entered ^ointo the house from the multitude, ^phis disciples asked of him the parable. ¹⁸And he saith unto them, ^qAre ye so without understanding also? Perceive ye not, that whatsoever from without goeth into the man, ^{it} cannot defile him; ¹⁹because it goeth not into his heart, ^rbut into his belly, and goeth out into the draught? ^s*This he said*, making all meats clean. ²⁰And he said, ^tThat which proceedeth out of the man, that defileth the man. ²¹For from within, out of the heart of men, ³^uevil thoughts proceed, fornications, ²²thefts, ^vmurders, adulteries, covetings, wickednesses, deceit, ^wlawlessness, ^xan evil eye, ^yrailing, ^zpride, ^afoolishness: ²³^ball these evil things proceed from within, and defile the man.

²⁴And from thence he arose, and went away into the borders of Tyre ⁴and Sidon. And he entered into a house, and would have no man know it: and he could not be hid. ²⁵But straightway a woman, whose little daughter had an unclean spirit, having heard of him, came and fell down at his feet. ²⁶^cNow the woman was a ^d⁵Greek, ^ea Syro-phenician by race. And she besought him that he would cast forth the ⁶devil out of her daughter. ²⁷And he said unto her, Let the children ^ffirst be filled: for it is not meet to take the children's ⁷bread and ^gcast it to the dogs. ²⁸But she answered and saith unto him, Yea, Lord: even the dogs under the table eat of the children's ^hcrumbs. ²⁹And he said unto her, For this saying ⁱgo thy way; the ⁶devil is gone out of thy daughter. ³⁰And she went away unto her house, and found the child laid upon the bed, and the ⁶devil gone out.

³¹^jAnd again he went out from the borders of Tyre, and came through Sidon unto ^kthe sea of Galilee, through the midst of the borders of ^lDecapolis. ³²And they bring unto him ^mone that was deaf, and ⁿhad an impediment in his speech; and they beseech him to ^olay his hand upon him. ³³And ^ohe took him aside from the multitude privately, and put his fingers into his ears, and ^ohe spat, and touched his tongue; ³⁴and ^plooking up to heaven, ^qhe sighed, and saith unto him, Ephphatha, that is, Be opened. ³⁵^mAnd his ears were opened, and the bond of his tongue was loosed, and he spake plain. ³⁶And ^rhe charged them that they should tell no man: but ^sthe more he charged them, so much the more a great deal they published it. ³⁷And they were ^tbeyond measure astonished, saying, He hath done all things well: he maketh even the deaf to hear, and the dumb to speak.

8 ¹^uIn those days, when there was again a great multitude, and they had nothing to eat, he called unto him his disciples, and saith unto them, ²^vI have compassion on the multitude, because they continue with me now three days, and have nothing to eat: ³and if I send them away fasting to their home, they will faint in the way; and some of them are come from far. ⁴And his disciples answered him, Whence shall one be able to fill these men with ⁸bread here in a desert place? ⁵And he asked them, How many loaves have ye? And they said, ^wSeven. ⁶And he commandeth the multitude to sit down on the ground: and he took the seven loaves, and ^xhaving given thanks, he brake, and gave to his disciples, to set before them; and they set them before the multitude.

7 And they had a few small fishes: and ^y having blessed them, he commanded to set these also before them. 8 And ^z they did eat, and were filled: and they took up, of broken pieces that remained over, ^w seven baskets. 9 And they were about four thousand: and he sent them away. 10 And straightway he entered into ^a the boat with his disciples, and came into the parts of ^b Dalmanutha.

11 ^c And the Pharisees came forth, and began to question with him, ^d seeking of him ^e a sign from heaven, ^f tempting him. 12 And ^g he sighed deeply ^h in his spirit, and saith, Why doth this generation seek a sign? verily I say unto you, There shall no sign be given unto this generation. 13 And ⁱ he left them, and again entering into the boat departed to the other side.

14 And they forgot to take bread; and they had not in the boat with them more than one loaf. 15 And he charged them, saying, Take heed, ^j beware of ^k the leaven of the Pharisees and the leaven of ^l Herod. 16 And they reasoned one with another, ¹ saying, ² We have no bread. 17 And ^m Jesus perceiving it saith unto them, Why reason ye, because ye have no bread? ⁿ do ye not yet perceive, ^o neither understand? ^o have ye your heart hardened? 18 ^p Having eyes, see ye not? and having ears, hear ye not? and do ye not remember? 19 When I brake ^a the five loaves among the five thousand, how many ³ baskets full of broken pieces took ye up? They say unto him, Twelve. 20 And when ^r the seven among the four thousand, how many ³ basketfuls of broken pieces took ye up? And they say unto him, Seven. 21 And he said unto them, Do ye not yet understand?

22 And they come ^s unto Bethsaida. And they bring to him a blind man, and beseech him to touch him. 23 And ^t he took hold of the blind man by the hand, and brought him out of the village; and when ^u he had ^v spit on his eyes, and ^v laid his hands upon him, he asked him,

Seest thou aught? 24 And he looked up, and said, I see men; for I behold them as trees, walking. 25 Then again he laid his hands upon his eyes; and he looked stedfastly, and was restored, and saw all things clearly. 26 And he sent him away to his home, saying, ^w Do not even enter into the village.

27 ^x And Jesus went forth, and his disciples, into the villages of Cæsarea Philippi: and in the way he asked his disciples, saying unto them, Who do men say that I am? 28 And they told him, saying, ^y John the Baptist: and others, ^z Elijah; but others, One of the prophets. 29 And he asked them, But who say ye that I am? Peter answereth and saith unto him, ^a Thou art ^b the Christ. 30 ^c And he charged them that they should tell no man of him. 31 ^d And he began to teach them, that ^e the Son of man must ^f suffer many things, and ^g be rejected by the elders, and the chief priests, and the scribes, and be killed, and ^h after three days rise again. 32 And he spake the saying ⁱ openly. And Peter took him, and began to rebuke him. 33 But he turning about, and seeing his disciples, rebuked Peter, and saith, ^j Get thee behind me, Satan: for thou ^k mindest not the things of God, but the things of men. 34 And he called unto him the multitude with his disciples, and said unto them, If any man would come after me, let him ^l deny himself, and ^m take up his cross, and follow me. 35 For ^m whosoever would save his ⁴ life shall lose it; and whosoever shall lose his ⁴ life for my sake ⁿ and the gospel's shall save it. 36 ^o For what doth it profit a man, to gain the whole world, and forfeit his ⁴ life? 37 For ^p what should a man give in exchange for his ⁴ life? 38 For ^q whosoever shall be ashamed of me and of my words in this ^r adulterous and sinful generation, the Son of man also shall be ashamed of him, ^s when he cometh in the glory of his Father with ^t the holy angels. 1 And he said 9 unto them, Verily I say unto you, There be some here of them that stand by, which shall in no wise "taste of death," till they see the kingdom of God come w with power.

2^x And after six days Jesus taketh with him v Peter, and James, and John, and bringeth them up into a high mountain apart by themselves: and he was ^ztransfigured before them: 3 and ^ahis garments became glistening, exceeding white; so as no fuller on earth can whiten them. 4 And there appeared unto them Elijah with Moses: and they were talking with Jesus. 5 And Peter answereth and saith to Jesus, ^bRabbi, it is good for us to be here: and let us make three ^{1c}tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elijah. 6 For ^dhe wist not what to answer; for they became sore afraid. 7 And there came ^ea cloud overshadowing them: and there came ^ea voice out of the cloud, ^fThis is my beloved Son: ^ghear ye him. 8 And suddenly looking round about, they saw no one any more, save Jesus only with themselves.

9^h And as they were coming down from the mountain, ⁱhe charged them that they should tell no man what things they had seen, ^jsave when the Son of man should have risen again from the dead. 10^k And they kept the saying, ^lquestioning among themselves what the rising again from the dead should mean. 11 And they asked him, saying, ²The scribes say ^mthat Elijah must first come. 12 And he said unto them, Elijah indeed cometh first, and ⁿre-storeth all things: and ^ohow is it written of the Son of man, that he should ^psuffer many things and ^qbe set at nought? 13 But I say unto you, that Elijah is come, and ^rthey have also done unto him whatsoever they listed, even as it is written of him.

14^s And when they came to the disciples, they saw a great multitude about them, and scribes questioning with them. 15 And straightway all the multitude, when they saw him, ^twere greatly amazed, and running to him saluted him. 16 And he asked them, What question ye with them? 17 And one of the multitude answered him, ³Master, I brought unto thee my son, which hath ^ua dumb spirit; 18 and where-soever it taketh him, it ⁴dasheth him down: and he foameth, and grindeth his teeth, and pineth away: and I spake to thy disciples that they should cast it out; and ^vthey were not able. 19 And he answereth them and saith, O ^wfaithless generation, ^whow long shall I be with you? how long shall I bear with you? bring him unto me. 20 And they brought him unto him: and when he saw him, straightway the spirit ^{5x}tore him grievously; and he fell on the ground, and wallowed foaming. 21 And he asked his father, How long time is it since this hath come unto him? And he said, From a child. 22 And oft-times it hath cast him both into the fire and into the waters, to destroy him: but ^yif thou canst do anything, have compassion on us, and help us. 23 And Jesus said unto him, ^yIf thou canst! ^zAll things are possible to him that believeth. 24 Straightway the father of the child cried out, and said ⁶, I believe; ^ahelp thou mine unbelief. 25 And when Jesus saw that ^ba multitude came running together, he rebuked the unclean spirit, saying unto him, ^cThou dumb and deaf spirit, I command thee, come out of him, and enter no more into him. 26 And having cried out, and ^{5x}torn him much, he came out: and ^{the child} became as one dead; insomuch that the more part said, He is dead. 27 But Jesus ^dtook him by the hand, and raised him up; and he arose. 28 And when he was come ^einto the house, his disciples asked him privately, ⁷saying, We could not cast it out. 29 And he said unto them, This kind can come out by nothing, save by prayer⁸.

30^f And they went forth from thence, and passed through Galilee; and he would not that any man should know it. 31 For he taught his disciples, and said unto them, The Son of man is delivered up into the hands of men, and they shall kill him; and when he is killed, ^gafter three days he shall rise again. 32^h But they understood not the saying, and were afraid to ask him.

33 And ⁱthey came to Capernaum: and when he was in the house ^jhe asked them, What were ye reason-

³⁸ ^o John said unto him, ² Master, we saw one ^p casting out ³ devils in thy name: and ^q we forbade him, because he followed not us. ³⁹ But Jesus said, Forbid him not: for there is no man which shall do a ⁴ mighty work in my name, and be able quickly to speak evil of me. ⁴⁰ ^r For he that is not against us is for us. ⁴¹ For ^s whosoever shall give you a cup of water to drink, ⁵ ^t because ye are Christ's, verily I say unto you, he shall in no wise lose his reward. ⁴² And ^u whosoever shall cause one of ^v these little ones that believe ⁶ on me to stumble, ^w it were better for him if ⁷ a great millstone were hanged about his neck, and he were cast into the sea. ⁴³ ^x And if thy hand cause thee to stumble, cut it off: it is good for thee to enter into life maimed, rather than having thy two hands to go into ⁸ ^y hell, into ^z the unquenchable fire. ⁴⁵ ^a And if thy foot cause thee to stumble, cut it off: it is good for thee to enter into life halt, rather than having thy two feet to be cast into ⁸ ^y hell. ⁴⁷ ^b And if thine eye cause thee to stumble, cast it out: it is good for thee to enter into the kingdom of God with one eye, rather than having two eyes to be cast into ⁸ ^y hell; ⁴⁸ where ^c their worm dieth not, and ^d the fire is not quenched. ⁴⁹ For every one shall be salted with fire¹⁰. ⁵⁰ ^e Salt is good: ^f but if the salt have lost its saltiness, wherewith will ye season it? ⁹ Have salt in yourselves, and ^h be at peace one with another.

¹³ ^w And they brought unto him little children, that he should touch them: and the disciples ^x rebuked them. ¹⁴ But when Jesus saw it, he was moved with indignation, and said unto them, ^y Suffer the little children to come unto me; ^z forbid them not: for of such is the kingdom of God. ¹⁵ ^a Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall not ^b receive the kingdom of God as a little child, he shall in no wise enter therein. ¹⁶ And ^c he took them in his arms, and blessed them, ^d laying his hands upon them.

¹⁷ ^e And as he was going forth ¹² into the way, there ran one to him, and ^f kneeled to him, and asked him, Good ² Master, what shall I do that I may ⁹ inherit eternal life? ¹⁸ And Jesus said unto him, Why callest thou me good? none is good save one, even God. ¹⁹ Thou knowest the commandments, ^h Do not kill, Do not commit adultery. Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Do not defraud, Honour thy father and mother. ²⁰ And he said unto him, ¹ Master, ² all these things have I observed from my youth. ²¹ And Jesus ³ looking upon him ⁴ loved him, and said unto him, One thing thou lackest: go, ⁵ sell whatsoever thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have ⁶ treasure in heaven: and come, follow me. ²² But his countenance fell at the saying, and he went away sorrowful: for he was one that had great possessions.

²³ And Jesus ⁷ looked round about, and saith unto his disciples, ⁸ How hardly shall they that have riches enter into ⁹ the kingdom of God! ²⁴ And the disciples ¹⁰ were amazed at his words. But Jesus answereth again, and saith unto them, ¹¹ Children, ¹² how hard is it ¹³ for them ¹⁴ that trust in riches to enter into ¹⁵ the kingdom of God! ²⁵ It is easier for a camel to go through a needle's eye, than for a rich man to enter into ¹⁶ the kingdom of God. ²⁶ And they were astonished exceedingly, saying ¹⁷ unto him, Then who can be saved? ²⁷ Jesus ¹⁸ looking upon them saith, ¹⁹ With men it is impossible, but not with God: for all things are possible with God. ²⁸ Peter began to say unto him, Lo, ²⁰ we have left all, and have followed thee. ²⁹ Jesus said, Verily I say unto you, ²¹ There is no man that hath left house, or brethren, or sisters, or mother, or father, or children, or lands, for my sake, and ²² for the gospel's sake, ³⁰ but he shall receive a hundredfold ²³ now in this time, houses, and brethren, and sisters, and mothers, and children, and lands, ²⁴ with persecutions; and in ²⁵ the ²⁶ world to come eternal life. ³¹ But ²⁷ many ²⁸ that are first shall be last; and the last first.

³² And they were in the way, going up to Jerusalem; and ²⁹ Jesus was going before them: and ³⁰ they were amazed; ³¹ and they that followed were afraid. And he took again the twelve, and began to tell them the things that were to happen unto him, saying, ³³ Behold, ³⁴ we go up to Jerusalem; and the Son of man shall be delivered unto the chief priests and the scribes; and they shall ³⁵ condemn him to death, and shall ³⁶ deliver him unto the Gentiles: ³⁴ and they shall ³⁷ mock him, and shall ³⁸ spit upon him, and shall scourge him, and shall kill him; and ³⁹ after three days he shall rise again.

³⁵ And there come near unto him James and John, ³⁶ the sons of Zebedee, saying unto him, ³⁷ Master, we would that thou shouldest do for us ³⁸ whatsoever we shall ask of thee. ³⁶ And he said unto them, ³⁹ What would ye that I should do for you? ³⁷ And they said unto him, Grant unto us that we ⁴⁰ may sit, one on thy right hand, and one on ⁴¹ thy left hand, ⁴² in thy glory. ³⁸ But Jesus said unto them, ⁴³ Ye know not what ye ask. Are ye able ⁴⁴ to drink the cup that I drink? or ⁴⁵ to be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with? ³⁹ And they said unto him, We are able. And Jesus said unto them, ⁴⁰ The cup that I drink ⁴¹ ye shall drink; and with the baptism that I am baptized withal ⁴² shall ye be baptized: ⁴⁰ but to sit on my right hand or on ⁴³ my left hand is not mine to give: ⁴¹ but it is for ⁴² them for whom it hath been ⁴³ prepared. ⁴¹ And when the ten heard it, they began to be moved with indignation concerning James and John. ⁴² And Jesus called them to him, and saith unto them, Ye know that they which are accounted to rule over the Gentiles ⁴⁴ lord it over them; and their great ones exercise authority over them. ⁴³ But ⁴⁵ it is not so among you: but whosoever would become great among you, shall be your ⁴⁶ minister: ⁴⁴ and whosoever would be first among you, shall be ⁴⁷ servant of all. ⁴⁵ For verily the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but ⁴⁸ to minister, and ⁴⁹ to give his life a ransom for ⁵⁰ many.

⁴⁶ And they come to Jericho: and ⁴⁷ as he went out from Jericho, with his disciples and a great multitude, the son of Timæus, Bartimæus, ⁴⁸ a blind beggar, was sitting by the way side. ⁴⁷ And when he heard that it was ⁴⁹ Jesus of Nazareth, he began to cry out, and say, Jesus, thou son of David, have mercy on me. ⁴⁸ And many ⁵⁰ rebuked him, that he should hold his peace: but he cried out the more a great deal, Thou son of David, have mercy on me. ⁴⁹ And Jesus stood still, and said, Call ye him. And they call the blind man, saying unto him, ^o Be of good cheer: rise, he calleth thee. ⁵⁰ And he, casting away his ^p garment, sprang up, and came to Jesus. ⁵¹ And Jesus answered him, and said, ^q What wilt thou that I should do unto thee? And the blind man said unto him, ^r Rabboni, that I may receive my sight. ⁵² And Jesus said unto him, Go thy way; ^s thy faith hath ¹ made thee whole. And straightway he received his sight, and followed him in the way.

II ¹ And when they draw nigh unto Jerusalem, unto Bethphage and ^v Bethany, at ^w the mount of Olives, he sendeth ^x two of his disciples, ² and saith unto them, Go your way into the village that is over against you: and straightway as ye enter into it, ye shall find a colt tied, ^y whereon no man ever yet sat; loose him, and bring him. ³ And if any one say unto you, Why do ye this? say ye, The Lord hath need of him; and straightway he ² will send him ³ back hither. ⁴ And they went away, and found a colt tied at the door without in the open street; and they loose him. ⁵ And certain of them that stood there said unto them, What do ye, loosing the colt? ⁶ And they said unto them even as Jesus had said; and they let them go. ⁷ And they bring the colt unto Jesus, and cast on him their garments; and he sat upon him. ⁸ And many ^z spread their garments upon the way; and others ⁴ branches, which they had cut from the fields. ⁹ And they that went before, and they that followed, cried, ^a Hosanna; ^b Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord: ¹⁰ Blessed is ^c the kingdom that cometh, ^d the kingdom of ^e our father ^c David: ^f Hosanna ^j in the highest.

¹¹ ^g And he entered into Jerusalem, into the temple; and when he had looked round about upon all things, it being now eventide, ^h he went out unto Bethany with the twelve.

^j he hungered. ¹³ ^k And seeing a fig tree afar off having leaves, he came, if haply he might find anything thereon: and when he came to it, he found nothing but leaves; for ^l it was not the season of figs. ¹⁴ And he answered and said unto it, No man eat fruit from thee henceforward for ever. And his disciples heard it.

¹⁵ ^m And they come to Jerusalem: and he entered into the temple, and began to cast out them that sold and them that bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of ⁿ the money-changers, and the seats of them that sold ^o the doves; ¹⁶ and he would not suffer that any man should carry a vessel through the temple. ¹⁷ And he taught, and said unto them, Is it not written, ^p My house shall be called a house of prayer for all the nations? but ^q ye have made it a den of robbers. ¹⁸ And the chief priests and the scribes heard it, and ^r sought how they might destroy him: for they feared him, for ^s all the multitude was astonished at his teaching.

¹⁹ ^t And ⁵ every evening ⁶ he went forth out of the city.

²⁰ ^u And as they passed by in the morning, they saw the fig tree withered away from the roots. ²¹ And Peter calling to remembrance saith unto him, ^v Rabbi, behold, the fig tree which thou cursedst is withered away. ²² And Jesus answering saith unto them, ^w Have ^x faith in God. ²³ ^y Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall say unto this mountain, ^z Be thou taken up and cast into the sea; and shall not ^a doubt in his heart, but shall ^b believe that what he saith cometh to pass; he shall have it. ²⁴ Therefore I say unto you, ^c All things whatsoever ye pray and ask for, ^d believe that ye ^e have received them, and ye shall have them. ²⁵ And whensoever ^e ye stand praying, ^f forgive, ^g if ye have aught against any one; that ^h your Father also which is in heaven may forgive you your trespasses.

¹³ ^m And they send unto him certain of ⁿ the Pharisees and of ⁿ the Herodians, that they might ^o catch him in talk. ¹⁴ And when they were come, they say unto him, ⁵ Master, ^p we know that thou art true, and carest not for any one: for ^q thou regardest not the person of men, but of a truth teachest ^r the way of God: Is it lawful to give ^s tribute unto ^t Cæsar, or not? ¹⁵ Shall we give, or shall we not give? and the God of Jacob? ²⁷ He is not the God of the dead, but of the living: ye do greatly err.

²⁸ And one of the scribes came, and heard them questioning together, and knowing that he had answered them well, asked him, What commandment is the first of all? ²⁹ Jesus answered, The first is, ^k Hear, O Israel: ¹ The Lord our God, ¹ the Lord is one: ³⁰ and thou shalt love the Lord thy God ² with all thy heart, and ² with all thy soul, and ² with all thy mind, and ² with all thy strength. ³¹ ^m The second is this, ⁿ Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. There is none other commandment ^o greater than these. ³² And the scribe said unto him, Of a truth, ³ Master, thou hast well said that ¹ he is one; and ^p there is none other but he: ³³ and to love him with all the heart, and with all ^q the understanding, and with all the strength, and to love his neighbour as himself, ^r is much more than all ^s whole burnt offerings and sacrifices. ³⁴ And when Jesus saw that he answered discreetly, he said unto him, Thou art not far from the kingdom of God. ^t And no man after that durst ask him any question.

³⁵ ^u And Jesus answered and said, as ^v he taught in the temple, How say the scribes that ^w the Christ is the son of David? ³⁶ David himself said ^x in the Holy Spirit, ^y The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, Till I make thine enemies ⁴² the footstool of thy feet.

³⁷ David himself calleth him Lord; and ^a whence is he his son? And ⁵ the common people ^b heard him gladly.

⁴¹ ^h And he sat down over against ⁱ the treasury, and beheld how the multitude ^j cast ⁷ ^k money into the treasury: and many that were rich cast in much. ⁴² And there came ⁸ a poor widow, and she cast in two ¹ mites, which make a farthing. ⁴³ And he called unto him his disciples, and said unto them, Verily I say unto you, ^m This poor widow cast in more than all they which are casting into the treasury: ⁴⁴ for they all did cast in of their superfluity; but she of her ⁿ want did cast in all that she had, ^o even all her ^o living.

³ And as he sat on ^r the mount of Olives over against the temple, ^s Peter and James and John and ^t Andrew asked him ^u privately, ⁴ Tell us, ^v when shall these things be? and what ^{shall} be the sign when these things are all about to be accomplished? ⁵ And Jesus began to say unto them, ^w Take heed that no man lead you astray. ⁶ ^x Many shall come in my name, saying, ^y I am ^{he}; and shall lead many astray. ⁷ And when ye shall hear of wars and rumours of wars, ^z be not troubled: ^{these things} ^a must needs come to pass; but the end is not yet. ⁸ For ^b nation shall rise against nation, and ^c kingdom against kingdom: there shall be ^d earthquakes in divers places; there shall be ^e famines: these things are the beginning of travail.

⁹ ^f But ^g take ye heed to yourselves: for they shall deliver you up to ^h councils; and ⁱ in synagogues shall ye be beaten; and before ^j governors and ^k kings shall ye stand for my sake, ¹ for a testimony unto them. ¹⁰ And the gospel must first be preached ^m unto all the nations. ¹¹ And when they lead you to ^{judgement}, and deliver you up, ⁿ be not anxious beforehand what ye shall speak: but ^o whatsoever shall be given you in that hour, that speak ye: ^p for it is not ye that speak, but the Holy Ghost. ¹² ^q And brother

shall deliver up brother to death, and the father his child; and children shall rise up against parents, and ¹cause them to be put to death. ¹³ And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake: ^sbut he that endureth to the end, the same shall be saved.

¹⁴ But when ye see ^tthe abomination of desolation standing where he ought not ^u(let him that readeth understand), then let them that are in Judæa flee unto the mountains: ¹⁵ and ^vlet him that is on ^wthe housetop not go down, nor enter in, to take anything out of his house: ¹⁶ and let him that is in the field not return back to take his cloke. ¹⁷ But ^xwoe unto them that are with child and to them that give suck in those days! ¹⁸ And pray ye that it be not in the winter. ¹⁹ For those days shall be ^ytribulation, ^zsuch as there hath not been the like ^afrom the beginning of the creation which ^bGod created until now, and never shall be. ²⁰ And except the Lord had shortened the days, no flesh would have been saved: but for ^cthe elect's sake, whom ^dhe chose, he shortened the days. ²¹ And ^ethen if any man shall say unto you, Lo, here is the Christ; or, Lo, there; ²² believe ²it not: for there shall arise ^ffalse Christs and false prophets, and ^gshall shew signs and wonders, ^hthat they may lead astray, if possible, ⁱthe elect. ²³ But ^jtake ye heed: behold, ^kI have told you all things beforehand.

²⁸ Now from the fig tree learn ye parable: when her branch is now become tender, and putteth forth its leaves, ye know that the summer is nigh; ²⁹ even so ye also, when ye see these things coming to pass, know ye that ³he is nigh, even ^wat the doors. ³⁰ Verily I say unto you, This generation shall not pass away, until all these things be accomplished. ³¹ ^yHeaven and earth shall pass away: but ^zmy words shall not pass away. ³² But of that day or that hour ^aknoweth no one, not even the angels in heaven, ^bneither the Son, ^cbut the Father. ³³ ^dTake ye heed, ^ewatch ⁴and pray: for ye know not when the time is. ³⁴ ^fIt is as when a man, ^gsojourning in another country, having left his house, and given authority to his ⁵servants, ^hto each one his work, commanded also ⁱthe porter to watch. ³⁵ ^jWatch therefore: for ye know not when the lord of the house cometh, whether ^kat even, or ^kat midnight, or ^lat cockcrow, or ^min the morning; ³⁶ lest ⁿcoming suddenly he ^ofind you sleeping. ³⁷ And what I say unto you I say unto all, ^jWatch.

³ And while he was in ^uBethany in the house of Simon the leper, as he sat at meat, there came a woman having ⁶an alabaster cruse of ointment of ⁷spikenard very costly; and she brake the cruse, and poured it over his head. ⁴ But there were some that had indignation among themselves, saying, To what purpose hath this waste of the ointment been made? ⁵ For this ointment might have been sold for above three hundred ⁸pence, and ^vgiven to the poor. ⁶ And they ^wmur-mured against her. But Jesus said, Let her alone; why trouble ye her? she hath wrought a good work on me. ⁷ For ^xye have the poor always with you, and whensoever ^yye will ye can do them good: but ^zme ye have not always. ⁸ ^aShe hath done what she could: she hath anointed my body aforehand for ^bthe burying. ⁹And verily I say unto you, Wheresoever ^cthe gospel shall be preached throughout the whole world, that also which this woman hath done shall be spoken of ^dfor a memorial of her.

¹²^h And on ⁱthe first day of unleavened bread, when they ^jsacrificed the passover, his disciples say unto him, Where wilt thou that we go and make ready that thou mayest eat the passover? ¹³And he sendeth ^ktwo of his disciples, and saith unto them, Go into the city, and there shall meet you a man bearing a pitcher of water: follow him; ¹⁴and wheresoever he shall enter in, say to the goodman of the house, ^lThe ²Master saith, Where is my ^mguest-chamber, where I shall eat the passover with my disciples? ¹⁵And he will himself shew you ⁿa large upper room furnished and ready: and there make ready for us. ¹⁶And the disciples went forth, and came into the city, and found as he had said unto them: and they made ready the passover.

¹⁷^o And when it was evening he cometh with the twelve. ¹⁸And as they ³sat and were eating, ²Jesus said, Verily I say unto you, One of you shall betray me, even ^qhe that eateth with me. ¹⁹They began to be sorrowful, and to say unto him one by one, Is it I? ²⁰And he said unto them, It is ^rone of the twelve, ^qhe that dip-peth with me in the dish. ²¹For the Son of man goeth, ^seven as it is written of him: but ^twoe unto that man through whom the Son of man is betrayed! ^ugood were it ⁴for that man if he had not been born.

²²^v And as they were eating, he took ⁵bread, and when he had ^wblessed, he brake it, and gave to them, and said, Take ye: ^xthis is my body. ²³And he took a cup, and when he had ^ygiven thanks, he gave to them: and they all drank of it. ²⁴And he said unto them, ^xThis is my ^zblood of ⁶the ⁷covenant, which is shed for ^amany. ²⁵Verily I say unto you, I will no more drink of the fruit of the vine, until that day when I drink it new in the kingdom of God.

²⁶^b And when they had sung a hymn, ^cthey went out unto ^dthe mount of Olives.

²⁷And Jesus saith unto them, All ye shall be ⁸eoffended: for it is written, I will ^fsmite the shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered abroad. ²⁸Howbeit, after I am raised up, ^gI will go before you into Galilee. ²⁹But ^hPeter said unto him, Although all shall be ⁸eoffended, yet will not I. ³⁰And ⁱJesus saith unto him, Verily I say unto thee, that thou to-day, even this night, before ^jthe cock crow twice, shalt deny me thrice. ³¹But ^khe spake exceeding vehemently, If I must die with thee, I will not deny thee. And in like manner also said they all.

³²^l And they come ^eunto ⁹a place which was named Gethsemane: and he saith unto his disciples, Sit ye here, while I pray. ³³And he taketh with him ^mPeter and James and John, and began ⁿto be greatly amazed, and sore troubled. ³⁴And he saith unto them, ^oMy soul is exceeding sorrowful even unto death: abide ye here, and ^pwatch. ³⁵And he went forward a little, and fell on the ground, ^qand prayed that, if it were possible, ^rthe hour might pass away from him. ³⁶And he said, ^sAbba, Father, ^tall things are possible unto thee; remove ^uthis cup from me: ^vhowbeit not what I will, but what thou wilt. ³⁷And he cometh, and findeth them sleeping, and saith unto Peter, Simon, sleepest thou? couldest thou not watch one hour? ³⁸¹⁰^p Watch and ^wpray, that ye ^xenter not into temptation: the spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak. ³⁹And again he went away, and prayed, ^ysaying the same words. ⁴⁰And again he came, and found them sleeping, for ^ztheir eyes were very heavy; and ^athey wist not what to answer him. ⁴¹And he cometh the third time, and saith unto them, Sleep on now, and take your rest : ^b It is enough ; ^c the hour is come ; behold, ^d the Son of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners. 42 Arise, let us be going : behold, he that betrayeth me is at hand.

43 ^e And straightway, while he yet spake, cometh ^f Judas, one of the twelve, and with him a multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests and the scribes and the elders. 44 Now he that betrayed him had given them a token, saying, Whomsoever I shall kiss, that is he ; take him, and lead him away safely.

45 And when he was come, straightway he came to him, and saith, ^g Rabbi ; and ^h kissed him. 46 And they laid hands on him, and took him. 47 But a certain one of them that stood by drew his ⁱ sword, and smote the ^j servant of the high priest, and struck off his ear. 48 And Jesus answered and said unto them, Are ye come out, as against a robber, with swords and staves to seize me ? 49 ^k I was daily with you in the temple ^l teaching, and ye took me not : but ^m this is done that the scriptures might be fulfilled. 50 ⁿ And they all left him, and fled.

51 And a certain young man followed with him, having ^o a linen cloth cast about him, over ^p his naked body : and they lay hold on him ; 52 but he left the linen cloth, and fled naked.

53 ^q And ^r they led Jesus away to the high priest : and there come together with him all the chief priests and the elders and the scribes.

54 ^s And ^t Peter had followed him afar off, ^u even within, into ^v the court of the high priest ; and he was sitting with ^w the officers, and ^x warming himself in the light of the fire. 55 Now the chief priests and the whole ^y council sought witness against Jesus to put him to death ; and found it not. 56 ^z For many bare false witness against him, and their witness ^{aa} agreed not together.

57 And there stood up certain, and bare false witness against him, saying, 58 ^{ab} We heard him say, ^{ac} I will destroy this ^{ad} temple ^{ae} that is made with hands, and in three days I will build another ^{af} made without hands. 59 And not even so did their witness agree together. 60 And the high priest stood up in the midst, and asked Jesus, saying, Answerest thou nothing ? what is it which these witness against thee ? 61 But ^{ag} he held his peace, and answered nothing.

^{ah} Again the high priest asked him, and saith unto him, Art thou ^{ai} the Christ, the Son of ^{aj} the Blessed ?

62 And Jesus said, I am : and ^{ak} ye shall see the Son of man ^{al} sitting at the right hand of power, and ^{am} coming with the clouds of heaven.

63 And the high priest ^{an} rent his clothes, and saith, What further need have we of witnesses ? 64 Ye have heard ^{ao} the blasphemy : what think ye ? And they ^{ap} all condemned him to be ^{aq} worthy of death. 65 ^{ar} And some began ^{as} to spit on him, and ^{at} to cover his face, and to buffet him, and to say unto him, Prophecy : and the officers received him ^{au} with ^{av} blows of their hands.

66 ^{aw} And as Peter was beneath in ^{ax} the court, there cometh one of the maids of the high priest ; 67 and seeing Peter ^{ay} warming himself, she looked upon him, and saith, Thou also wast with ^{az} the Nazarene, ^{ba} even Jesus. 68 But he denied, saying,

^{bb} I neither know, nor understand what thou sayest : and he went out into the ^{bc} porch ; ^{bd} and ^{be} the cock crew. 69 And the maid saw him, and began again to say to them that stood by, This is ^{bf} one of them. 70 But he again denied it. And after a little while again they that stood by said to Peter, Of a truth thou art ^{bg} one of them ; for thou art a Galilæan. 71 But he began to curse, and to swear, I know not this man of whom ye speak. 72 And straightway ^{bh} the second time the cock crew. And Peter called to mind the word, how that Jesus said unto him, ^{bi} Before the cock crow twice, thou shalt ^{bj} deny me thrice. ^{bk} And when he thought thereon, he wept.

^{bl} And straightway in the 15 morning the chief priests with the elders and scribes, and the whole council, ^{bm} held a consultation, and ^{bn} bound Jesus, and ^{bo} carried him away, and ^{bp} delivered him up to ^{bq} Pilate. 2 ^{br} And Pilate asked him, ^{bs} Art thou the King of the Jews ? And he answering saith unto him, ^{bt} Thou sayest. 3 And the chief priests accused him of many things.

4 And Pilate again asked him, saying, ^g Answerest thou nothing? behold how many things they accuse thee of. 5 But Jesus ^g no more answered anything; inasmuch that Pilate marvelled.

6 ^h Now at ¹ the feast he used to release unto them one prisoner, whom they asked of him. 7 And there was one called Barabbas, ^l lying bound with them that had ⁱ made insurrection, ^j men who in the insurrection had committed murder. 8 And the multitude went up and began to ask him to do as he was wont to do unto them. 9 And Pilate answered them, saying, Will ye that I release unto you the King of the Jews? 10 For he perceived that ^k for envy the chief priests had delivered him up. 11 But the chief priests stirred up the multitude, that he should rather release Barabbas unto them. 12 And Pilate again answered and said unto them, What then shall I do unto him ^l whom ye call the King of the Jews? 13 And they cried out again, Crucify him. 14 And Pilate said unto them, Why, ^m what evil hath he done? But they cried out exceedingly, Crucify him. 15 And Pilate, wishing to content the multitude, released unto them Barabbas, and delivered Jesus, when he had ⁿ scourged him, to be crucified.

16 ^o And the soldiers led him away within ^p the court, which is ^q the ² Prætorium; and they call together the whole ^{3r} band. 17 And they clothe him with ^s purple, and plaiting a crown of thorns, they put it on him; 18 and they began to salute him, Hail, ^t King of the Jews! 19 And they smote his head with a reed, and ^u did spit upon him, and bowing their knees ^v worshipped him. 20 And when they had ^w mocked him, they took off from him ^s the purple, and put on him his garments. And they ^x lead him out to crucify him.

21 ^y And they ^{4z} compel one passing by, Simon of Cyrene, coming from the country, the father of Alexander and ^a Rufus, to go with them, that he might ^y bear his cross. 22 ^b And they bring him unto the place Golgotha, which is, being interpreted, The place of a skull. 23 And they offered him wine mingled with ^c myrrh: but he received it not. 24 And they crucify him, and ^d part his garments among them, casting lots upon them, what each should take. 25 And ^e it was the third hour, and they crucified him. 26 And the superscription of his accusation was written over, ^f THE KING OF THE JEWS. 27 And with him they crucify two ^g robbers; ^h one on his right hand, and one on his left. 28 And ⁱ they that passed by railed on him, ^j wagging their heads, and saying, ^k Ha! ^l thou that destroyest the ⁶ temple, and buildest it in three days, save thyself, 30 and come down from the cross. 31 In like manner also the chief priests mocking ^m him among themselves with the scribes said, ⁿ He saved others; ⁷ⁿ himself he cannot save. 32 Let ^o the Christ, ^p the King of Israel, now come down from the cross, that we may ^q see and believe. ^r And they that were crucified with him reproached him.

33 And when the sixth hour was come, there was darkness over the whole ^s land until the ninth hour. 34 And at the ninth hour Jesus ^s cried with a loud voice, ^t Eloi, Eloi, lama sabachthani? which is, being interpreted, My God, my God, ⁹ why hast thou forsaken me?

35 And some of them that stood by, when they heard it, said, Behold, he calleth Elijah. 36 And one ran, and filling a sponge full of ^u vinegar, put it on a reed, ^v and gave him to drink, saying, Let be; let us see whether Elijah cometh to take him down. 37 And Jesus ^w uttered a loud voice, and ^x gave up the ghost. 38 And ^y the veil of the ⁶ temple was rent in twain from the top to the bottom. 39 ^z And when the centurion, which stood by over against him, saw that he ¹⁰ so gave up the ghost, he said, ^a Truly this man was ^{11b} the Son of God. 40 And there were also ^c women beholding ^d from afar: among whom were both ^e Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James ^f the ¹² less and of Joses, and ^g Salome; 41 who, when he was in Galilee, followed him, and ^e ministered unto him; and many other

⁴² And when even was now come, because it was ^j the Preparation, that is, the day before the sabbath, ⁴³ there came Joseph of Arimathæa, a councillor of ^k honourable estate, who also himself ^l was looking for the kingdom of God; and he boldly went unto Pilate, and asked for the body of Jesus. ⁴⁴ And Pilate marvelled if he were already dead: and calling unto him ^m the centurion, he asked him whether he ¹ had been any while dead. ⁴⁵ And when he learned it of ^m the centurion, he granted the corpse to Joseph. ⁴⁶ And he bought ⁿ a linen cloth, and taking him down, wound him in the linen cloth, and ^o laid him in a tomb ^p which had been hewn out of a rock; and he rolled ^q a stone against the door of the tomb. ⁴⁷ And ^r Mary Magdalene and Mary the mother of Josès beheld where he was laid.

I ¹ And ^t when the sabbath was past, ^u Mary Magdalene, and ^v Mary the mother of James, and ^w Salome, ^v bought spices, that they might come and anoint him. ² And very early on the first day of the week, they come to the tomb when the sun was risen. ³ And they were saying among themselves, Who shall roll us away ^w the stone from the door of the tomb? ⁴ and looking up, they see that the stone is rolled back: for ^x it was exceeding great. ⁵ And ^y entering into the tomb, they saw ^z a young man sitting on the right side, ^a arrayed in ^b a white robe; and ^c they were amazed. ⁶ And he saith unto them, ^c Be not amazed: ye seek Jesus, ^d the Nazarene, which hath been crucified: he is risen; he is not here: behold, the place where they laid him! ⁷ But go, tell his disciples and Peter, ^e He goeth before you into Galilee: there shall ye see him, ^e as he said unto you. ⁸ And they went out, and fled from the tomb; for trembling and astonishment had come upon them:

and they said nothing to any one; for they were afraid.

⁹ Now when he was risen early on the first day of the week, ^f he appeared first to ^g Mary Magdalene, ^g from whom he had cast out seven ^h devils. ¹⁰ ^h She went and told them that had been with him, ⁱ as they ^j mourned and wept. ¹¹ And they, when they heard that he was alive, and had been seen of her ^k disbelieved.

¹² And after these things ^m he was manifested in ⁿ another form unto two of them, as they walked, on their way into the country. ¹³ ^o And they went away and told it unto the rest: neither believed they them.

¹⁹ So then the Lord Jesus, ^g after he had spoken unto them, ^h was received up into heaven, and ⁱ sat down at the right hand of God. ²⁰ And they went forth, and preached everywhere, ^j the Lord working with them, and confirming ^k the word ^l by the signs that followed. Amen.

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO S. LUKE.

I FORASMUCH as many have taken in hand to draw up a narrative concerning those matters which ^ahave been ¹fulfilled among us, ²even as they ^cdelivered them unto us, which ^dfrom the beginning were ^eeyewitnesses and ^fministers of ^gthe word, ³it seemed good to me also, having traced the course of all things accurately from the first, to write unto thee ^hin order, ⁱmost excellent ^jTheophilus; ⁴that thou mightest know ^kthe certainty concerning the ²things ³wherein ^lthou wast instructed.

5 THERE was ^min the days of Herod, king of Judæa, a certain priest named Zacharias, ⁿof ^othe course of Abijah: and he had a wife of the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elisabeth. 6 And they were both ^prighteous before God, ^qwalking in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord ^rblameless. 7 And they had no child, because that ^sElisabeth was barren, and ^tthey both were ^unow ⁴well stricken in years.

8 Now it came to pass, ^vwhile he executed the priest's office before God in the order of ^whis course, ^gaccording to the custom of the priest's office, his lot was ^wto enter into ^xthe ⁵temple of the Lord and burn incense. 10 And the whole multitude of the people ^ywere praying ^zwithout at the hour of incense. 11 And there appeared unto him an angel of the Lord standing on the right side of ^athe altar of incense. 12 And ^bZacharias was troubled when he saw ^{him}, and ^cfear fell upon him. 13 But the angel said unto him, Fear not, Zacharias: because ^dthy supplication is heard, and to take away my reproach among men.

26 Now in the sixth month the angel ^aGabriel was sent from God unto a city of Galilee, named ^aNazareth, 27 ^bto a virgin betrothed to a man whose name was Joseph, ^cof the house of David; and the virgin's name was Mary. 28 And he came in unto her, and said, Hail, thou ^dthat art ¹highly favoured, ^ethe Lord ^{is} with thee ². 29 But ^fshe was greatly troubled at the saying, and cast in her mind what manner of salutation this might be. 30 And the angel said unto her, Fear not, Mary: for ^gthou hast found ³favoured with God. 31 And behold, ^hthou shalt conceive in thy womb, and bring forth a son, and ⁱshalt call his name JESUS. 32 He shall be great, and ^jshall be called the Son of ^kthe Most High: and the Lord God ^lshall give unto him the throne of ^mhis father David: 33 and he shall reign over the house of Jacob ⁴for ever; and of his kingdom there shall be no end. 34 And Mary said unto the angel, How shall this be, seeing I know not a man? 35 And the angel answered and said unto her, ^oThe Holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of ^kthe Most High shall overshadow thee: wherefore also ⁵that which ⁶is to be born ⁷shall be called ^pholy, ^qthe Son of God. 36 And behold, Elisabeth thy kinswoman, she also hath conceived a son in her old age: and this is the sixth month with her ^rthat ⁸was called barren. 37 For ^sno word from God shall be void of power. 38 And Mary said, Behold, the ⁹handmaid of the Lord; be it unto me according to thy word. And ^tthe angel departed from her.

39 And Mary arose in these days and went into ^uthe hill country with haste, into a city of Judah; 40 and entered into the house of Zacharias and saluted Elisabeth. 41 And it came to pass, when Elisabeth heard the salutation of Mary, the babe leaped in her womb; and Elisabeth ^vwas filled with the Holy Ghost; 42 and she lifted up her voice with a loud cry, and said, w Blessed art thou among women, and ^xblessed ^{is} ^ythe fruit of thy womb. 43 And whence is this to me, that the mother of ^zmy Lord should come unto me? 44 For behold, when the voice of thy salutation came into mine ears, the babe leaped in my womb for joy. 45 And ^ablessed ^{is} she that ¹⁰^bbelieved; for there shall be a fulfilment of the things which have been spoken to her from the Lord. 46 And Mary said,

^cMy ^dsoul doth ^emagnify the Lord,

47 ^fAnd my ^dspirit hath rejoiced in ^gGod my Saviour.

48 For ^hhe hath looked upon the low estate of his ¹¹handmaiden: For behold, from henceforth all generations ⁱshall call me blessed.

49 For ^jhe that is mighty ^khath done to me great things; And ^lholy is his name.

50 And ^mhis mercy is unto generations and generations On them that fear him.

51 ⁿHe hath shewed strength with his arm;

^oHe hath scattered the proud ¹²in the imagination of their heart.

52 ^pHe hath put down princes from their thrones,

^qAnd hath exalted them of low degree.

53 ^rThe hungry he hath filled with good things;

And the rich ^she hath sent empty away.

54 He hath ^tholpen ¹Israel his servant,

^uThat he might remember mercy

55 ^v(As he spake unto our fathers) ^wToward Abraham and his seed for ever.

56 And Mary abode with her about three months, and returned unto her house.

57 Now Elisabeth's time was fulfilled that she should be delivered; and she brought forth a son. 58 And her neighbours and her kinsfolk heard that the Lord ^xhad magnified his mercy towards her; and they rejoiced with her. 59 And it came to pass ^yon the eighth day, that they came to circumcise the child; and they would have called him

6 Or, is begotten 7 Some ancient authorities insert of thee. 8 Or, is 9 Gr. bondmaid.
10 Or, believed that there shall be 11 Gr. bondmaiden. 12 Or, by Zacharias, after the name of his father. 60 And his mother answered and said, Not so; ^v but he shall be called John. 61 And they said unto her, There is none of thy kindred that is called by this name. 62 And ^z they made signs to his father, what he would have him called. 63 And he asked for ^a a writing tablet, and wrote, saying, ^v His name is John. 64 And they marvelled all. ^b And his mouth was opened immediately, and his tongue ^c loosed, and he spake, ^d blessing God. 65 And ^e fear came on all that dwelt round about them: and all these sayings were noised abroad throughout all ^f the hill country of Judæa. 66 And all that heard them ^g laid them up in their heart, saying, What then shall this child be? For ^h the hand of the Lord was with him.

67 And his father Zacharias ⁱ was filled with the Holy Ghost, and ^j prophesied, saying,

68 ^k Blessed be the Lord, ^l the God of Israel;

For he hath ^m visited and wrought ⁿ redemption for his people,

69 And ^o hath raised up ^p a horn of salvation for us

^q In the house of his servant David

70 (^r As ^s he spake by the mouth of his holy prophets which have been since the world began),

71 ^t Salvation from our enemies, and from the hand of all that hate us;

72 ^u To shew mercy towards our fathers,

And ^v to remember his holy ^w covenant;

73 ^x The oath which he sware unto Abraham our father,

74 To grant unto us that we being delivered out of the hand of our enemies

Should serve him ^y without fear,

75 ^z In holiness and righteousness before him ^a all our days.

76 Yea and thou, child, shalt be called ^b the prophet of ^c the Most High:

For ^d thou shalt go before the face of the Lord to make ready his ways;

77 To give knowledge of salvation unto his people

^e In the remission of their sins,

78 Because of the ^f tender mercy of our God,

^g Whereby ^h the dayspring ⁱ from on high ^j shall ^k visit us,

79 To ^l shine upon ^m them that sit in darkness and the shadow of death;

To guide our feet into ⁿ the way of ^o peace.

80 ^p And the child grew, and waxed strong in spirit, and was ^q in the deserts till the day of his shewing unto Israel.

^r Now it came to pass in those 2 days, there went out ^s a decree from ^t Cæsar Augustus, that all ^u the world should be ^v enrolled.

^w This was the first ^x enrolment made when Quirinius ^y was governor of Syria. 3 And all went to enrol themselves, every one to his own city. 4 And Joseph also went up

^z from Galilee, out of the city of ^a Nazareth, into Judæa, to ^b the city of David, which is called ^c Bethlehem, ^d because he was of the house and family of David; 5 to enrol himself with Mary, who was betrothed to him, being great with child. 6 And it came to pass, ^e while they were there, the days were fulfilled that she should be delivered.

7 And she brought forth her first-born son; and she ^f wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and ^g laid him in a manger, because there was no room for them in ^h the inn.

8 And there were shepherds in the same country abiding in the field, and keeping ⁱ watch by night over their flock. 9 And an angel of the Lord ^j stood by them, and ^k the glory of the Lord shone round about them: and they were sore afraid. 10 And the angel said unto them, Be not afraid; for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy which shall be to all ^l the people:

11 For ^m there is born to you this day in ⁿ the city of David ^o a Saviour, which is ^p ^q Christ ^r the Lord. 12 And ^s this ^t is the sign unto you; Ye shall find a babe ^u wrapped in swaddling clothes, and lying in a manger.

13 And suddenly there was with the angel ^v a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying,

"And on earth ^{1o} peace ²among ²men in whom he is well pleased.

15 And it came to pass, when the angels went away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this ³thing that is come to-pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us. 16 And they came with haste, and found both Mary and Joseph, and the babe ⁴lying in the manger. 17 And when they saw it, they made known concerning the saying which was spoken to them about this child.
18 And all that heard it wondered at the things which were spoken unto them by the shepherds. 19 But ⁵Mary kept all these ⁴sayings, pondering them in her heart. 20 And the shepherds returned, ⁶glorify-ing and praising God for all the things that they had heard and seen,
even as it was spoken unto them.

21 And ⁷when eight days were fulfilled for circumcising him, ⁸his name was called JESUS, which was so called by the angel before he was conceived in the womb.

22 And ⁹when the days of their purification according to the law of Moses were fulfilled, they brought him up to Jerusalem, ¹⁰to present him to the Lord 23 (as it is written in ¹¹the law of the Lord, ¹²Every male that openeth the womb shall be called holy to the Lord), 24 and to offer a sacrifice according to that which is said in ¹³the law of the Lord, ¹⁴A pair of turtledoves, or two young pigeons. 25 And behold, there was a man in Jerusalem, whose name was Simeon; and this man was ¹⁵righteous and ¹⁶devout, ¹⁷looking for ¹⁸the consolation of Israel: and the Holy Spirit was upon him. 26 And it had been revealed unto him by the Holy Spirit, that he should not ¹⁹see death, before he had seen ²⁰the Lord's Christ.
27 And he came ²¹in the Spirit into the temple: and when ²²the parents brought in the child Jesus, that they might do concerning him after the custom of the law, 28 then he received him into his arms, and ²³blessed God, and said,
29 Now ²⁴lettest thou thy ²⁵servant
depart, O ²⁶Lord,

²⁷According to thy word, ²⁸in
peace;

30 For ²⁹mine eyes have seen thy ³⁰salvation,

31 ³¹Which thou hast prepared before the face of all peoples;

32 ³²A light for ³³revelation to the Gentiles,

And ³⁴the glory of ³⁵thy people Israel.

33 And ³⁶his father and his mother were marvelling at the things which were spoken concerning him; 34 and Simeon blessed them, and said unto Mary his mother, Behold,
this ³⁷child is set ³⁸for the falling
and rising up of many in Israel;
and for a sign ³⁹which is spoken against; 35 yea and a sword shall pierce through thine own soul; that thoughts out of many hearts may be revealed. 36 And there was one Anna, ⁴⁰a prophetess, the daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Asher (she was ⁴¹of a great age, having lived with a husband seven years from her virginity, 37 and she had been a widow even for fourscore
and four years), which departed
not from the temple, ⁴²worshipping with ⁴³fastings and supplications night and day. 38 And coming up
at that very hour she gave thanks unto God, and spake of him to all them that were ⁴⁴looking for the redemption of Jerusalem. 39 And when they had accomplished all things that were according to ⁴⁵the law of the Lord, they returned into Galilee, to their own city ⁴⁶Naza-reth.

40 ⁴⁷And the child grew, and waxed strong, ⁴⁸filled with wisdom: and ⁴⁹the grace of God was upon him.

41 And ⁵⁰his parents went ⁵¹every year to Jerusalem at ⁵²the feast of the passover. 42 And when he was twelve years old, ⁵³they went up after the custom of the feast; 43 and when they had fulfilled ⁵⁴the days,
as they were returning, the boy Jesus tarried behind in Jerusalem;
and ⁵⁵his parents knew it not; 44 but supposing him to be in the company, they went a day's journey; and they sought for him among their kinsfolk and acquaintance: 45 and when they found him not, they returned to Jerusalem, seeking for him. 46 And

it came to pass, after three days they found him in the temple, ^jsitting in the midst of ^kthe ^ldoctors, both hearing them, and asking them questions: ⁴⁷and all that heard him were amazed at his understanding and his answers. ⁴⁸And when they saw him, they were astonished: and his mother said unto him, ²Son, why hast thou thus dealt with us? behold, ^jthy father and I sought thee sorrowing. ⁴⁹And he said unto them, How is it that ye sought me? wist ye not that ^mI must be ³in ^omy Father's house? ⁵⁰And ^pthey understood not the saying which he spake unto them. ⁵¹And he went down with them, and came to Nazareth; and he was subject unto them: and ^qhis mother kept all ^rthese ^ssayings in her heart.

⁵²And Jesus ^radvanced in wisdom and ^sstature, and in ⁶his favour with God and men.

¹Now in the fifteenth year of the reign of ^tTiberius Cæsar, ^uPontius Pilate ^vbeing governor of Judæa, and ^wHerod being tetrarch of Galilee, and his brother Philip tetrarch of the region of Ituræa and Trachonitis, and Lysanias tetrarch of Abilene, ²in ^xthe high-priesthood of Annas and ^yCaia-phas, ^zthe word of God came unto ^aJohn the son of Zacharias in ^bthe wilderness. ³And he came into all the region round about Jordan, preaching ^cthe baptism of repentance ^dunto remission of sins; ⁴as it is written in ^ethe book of the words of Isaiah the prophet,

^fThe voice of one crying in the wilderness,

^gMake ye ready the way of the Lord,

Make his paths straight.

⁵^hEvery valley shall be filled,

ⁱAnd every mountain and hill shall be brought low;

^jAnd the crooked shall become straight,

And the rough ways smooth;

⁶^kAnd all flesh shall see ^lthe salvation of God.

⁷He said therefore to the multitudes that went out to be baptized of him, ^mYe offspring of ⁿvipers, who warned you to flee from ^othe wrath to come? ⁸Bring forth therefore fruits ^pworthy of ⁷repentance,

and begin not to say within yourselves, ^qWe have Abraham to our father: for I say unto you, that God is able of ^rthese stones to raise up children unto Abraham. ⁹And even now is the axe also laid unto the root of the trees: ^severy tree therefore that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire. ¹⁰And the multitudes asked him, saying, ^tWhat then must we do? ¹¹And he answered and said unto them, ^uHe that hath two coats, let him impart to him that hath none; and he that hath food, let him do likewise. ¹²And ^vthere came also ⁸publicans to be baptized, and they said unto him, ⁹Master, ^twhat must we do? ¹³And he said unto them, ^wExtort no more than that which is appointed you. ¹⁴And ¹⁰^xsoldiers also asked him, saying, And we, ^twhat must we do? And he said unto them, Do violence to no man, neither ¹¹^wexact ^{anything} wrongfully; and be content with your ^ywages.

¹⁵And as the people were in expectation, and all men reasoned in their hearts concerning John, ^zwhether haply he were ^athe Christ; ¹⁶^bJohn answered, saying unto them all, I indeed baptize you with water; but ^cthere cometh he that is mightier than I, ^dthe latchet of whose shoes I am not ¹²worthy to unloose: he shall baptize you ¹³^ewith the Holy Ghost and ^{with} ^ffire: ¹⁷whose ^gfan is in his hand, thoroughly to cleanse his threshing-floor, and to ^hgather the wheat into his garner; ⁱbut the chaff he will burn up with ^junquenchable fire.

²¹Now it came to pass, when all the people were baptized, that, ⁿJesus also having been baptized, and praying, ^othe heaven was opened, ²²and ^pthe Holy Ghost descended in a bodily form, as a dove, upon him, and ^qa voice came out of heaven, ^rThou art my beloved Son; in thee I am well pleased.

^{1 e} And Jesus, ^ffull of the 4 Holy Spirit, ^greturned from the Jordan, and was led ^hby the Spirit in the wilderness during ⁱforty days, ^{2 j}being tempted of the devil. ⁱAnd he did eat nothing in those days: and when they were completed, ^khe hungered. 3 And the devil said unto him, If thou art ^lthe Son of God, command ^mthis stone that it become ⁶bread. 4 And Jesus answered unto him, ⁿIt is written, ^oMan shall not live by bread alone. 5 ^pAnd he led him up,

19 ^aTo proclaim the acceptable year of the Lord.

20 And he closed the ¹book, and gave it back to the attendant, and ^rsat down: and the eyes of all in the synagogue were ^sfastened on him. 21 And he began to say unto them, To-day ^thath ^uthis scripture been fulfilled in your ears. 22 And all bare him witness, and wondered at ^vthe words of grace which proceeded out of his mouth: and they said, ^wIs not this ^xJoseph's son?

23 And he said unto them, Doubtless ye will say unto me this parable, ^yPhysician, heal thyself: whatsoever we have heard done ^zat Capernaum, do also here in thine own country. 24 And he said, Verily I say unto you, ^aNo prophet is acceptable in his own country. 25 But of a truth I say unto you, There were many widows in Israel in the days of Elijah, when ^bthe heaven was shut up three years and six months, when there came a great famine over all the land; 26 and unto none of them was Elijah sent,

^cbut only to ²Zarephath, in the land of Sidon, unto a woman that was a widow. 27 And ^dthere were many lepers in Israel in the time of Elisha the prophet; and none of them was cleansed, ^ebut only Naaman the Syrian. 28 And they were all filled with wrath in the synagogue, as they heard these things; 29 and they rose up, and ^fcast him forth out of the city, and led him unto the brow of the hill whereon their city was built, that they might throw him down headlong. 30 But he ^gpassing through the midst of them went his way.

31 ^hAnd he ⁱcame down to Capernaum, a city of Galilee. And ^jhe was teaching them ^kon the sabbath day: 32 and ^lthey were astonished at his teaching; ^lfor his word was with authority. 33 And ^jin the synagogue there was a man, which had a spirit of an unclean ³devil; and he cried out with a loud voice, 34 ^mAh! ^mwhat have we to do with thee, thou Jesus of Nazareth? art thou come to destroy us? ⁿI know thee who thou art, ^othe Holy One of God. 35 And Jesus ^prebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him.

And when the ³devil had thrown him down in the midst, he came out of him, having done him no hurt. 36 And ²amazement came upon all, and they spake together, one with another, saying, What is ⁵this word? ²for with authority and power he commandeth the unclean spirits, and they come out. 37 And ^rthere went forth a rumour concerning him into every place of the region round about.

38 ^sAnd he rose up from the synagogue, and entered into the house of Simon. And ^tSimon's wife's mother was holden with a great fever; and they besought him for her. 39 And he stood over her, and ^urebuked the fever; and it left her: and immediately she rose up and ministered unto them.

40 And when the sun was setting, all they that had any sick with divers diseases brought them unto him; and ^vhe laid his hands on every one of them, and healed them. 41 ^wAnd ⁶devils also came out from many, ^xcrying out, and saying, Thou art ^ythe Son of God. And rebuking them, ^whe suffered them not to speak, because they knew that he was ^zthe Christ.

42 ^aAnd when it was day, he came out and went ^binto a desert place: and ^cthe multitudes sought after him, and came unto him, and would have stayed him, that he should not go from them. 43 But he said unto them, ^dI must ^epreach the ⁷good tidings of the kingdom of God to the other cities also: for therefore was I sent.

44 And he was preaching ^fin the synagogues of ⁸Galilee.

1 Now it came to pass, while ⁵the multitude pressed upon him and heard the word of God, that he was standing by ^hthe lake of Gennesaret; 2 ⁱand he saw two boats standing by the lake: but the fishermen had gone out of them, and were ^jwashing their nets. 3 And he entered into one of the boats, which was Simon's, and asked him to put out a little from the land. And ^khe sat down and taught the multitudes out of the boat. 4 And when he had left speaking, he said unto Simon, ^lPut out into the deep, and let down your nets for a draught. ⁵ And Simon answered and said, Master, ^m we toiled all night, and took nothing: but at thy word I will let down the nets. ⁶ And when they had this done, ⁿ they inclosed a great multitude of fishes; and ⁿ their nets were breaking; ⁷ and they beckoned unto ^o their partners in the other boat, that they should come and help them. And they came, and filled both the boats, so that they began to sink. ⁸ But Simon Peter, when he saw it, fell down at Jesus' knees, saying, ^p Depart from me; for ^q I am a sinful man, O Lord. ⁹ For he was amazed, and all that were with him, at the draught of the fishes which they had taken; ¹⁰ and so were also James and John, sons of Zebedee, which were partners with Simon. And Jesus said unto Simon, Fear not; from henceforth thou shalt ^{1r} catch men. ¹¹ And when they had brought their boats to land, ^s they left all, and followed him. ¹² And it came to pass, while he was in one of the cities; ^t behold, a man full of leprosy: and when he saw Jesus, he ^u fell on his face, and besought him, saying, Lord, ^v if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean. ¹³ And he stretched forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will; be thou made clean. And straightway the leprosy departed from him. ¹⁴ And he charged him ^w to tell no man: but go thy way, and shew ^x thyself to the priest, and ^y offer for thy cleansing, according as Moses commanded, ^z for a testimony unto them. ¹⁵ ^a But so much the more went abroad the report concerning him: and great multitudes came together to hear, and to be healed of their infirmities. ¹⁶ But ^b he withdrew himself in the deserts, and ^b prayed. ¹⁷ And it came to pass on one of those days, that he was teaching; and there were Pharisees and ^c doctors of the law sitting by, which were come out of every village of Galilee and Judæa and Jerusalem: and ^d the power of the Lord was with him ² to heal. ¹⁸ ^e And behold, men bring ^f on a bed a man that was palsied: and they sought to bring him in, and to lay him before him. ¹⁹ And not finding by what way they might bring him in because of the multitude, they went up to ^g the housetop, and let him down ^h through the tiles with his couch into the midst before Jesus. ²⁰ And ⁱ seeing their faith, he said, Man, ^j thy sins are forgiven thee. ²¹ And the scribes and the Pharisees began to reason, saying, Who is this that speaketh ^k blasphemies? ^l Who can forgive sins, but God alone? ²² But Jesus ^m perceiving their reasonings, answered and said unto them, ⁿ What reason ye in your hearts? ²³ Whether is easier to say, Thy sins are forgiven thee; or to say, Arise and walk? ²⁴ But that ye may know that ⁿ the Son of man hath ⁴ power on earth to forgive sins (he said unto him that was palsied), I say unto thee, Arise, and take up thy couch, and go unto thy house. ²⁵ And immediately he rose up before them, and took up that whereon he lay, and departed to his house, ^o glorifying God. ²⁶ And amazement took hold on all, and they ^o glorified God; and they were filled ^o with fear, saying, We have seen strange things to-day.

²⁷ ^p And after these things he went forth, and beheld ^q a publican, named ^r Levi, sitting at the place of toll, and said unto him, Follow me. ²⁸ And ^s he forsook all, and rose up and followed him. ²⁹ And Levi made him a great feast in his house: and there was a great multitude ^t of publicans and of others that were sitting at meat with them. ³⁰ And ⁵ the Pharisees and ^u their scribes murmured against his disciples, saying, ^v Why do ye eat and drink with the publicans and sinners? ³¹ And Jesus answering said unto them, They that are whole have no need of a physician; but they that are sick. ³² ^w I am not come to call the righteous ^x but sinners ^y to repentance. ³³ And they said unto him, ^z The disciples of John ^a fast often, and ^a make supplications; ^b likewise also the disciples of the Pharisees; but thine eat and drink. ³⁴ And Jesus said unto them, ^c Can ye make the sons of the bride-chamber fast, while the bridegroom is with them? ³⁵ But ^d the days will come; and when the bridegroom shall be taken away from them, ^e then will they fast in those days. 36 And he spake also a parable unto them; No man rendeth a piece from a new garment and putteth it upon an old garment; else he will rend the new, and also the piece from the new will not agree with the old. 37 And no man putteth new wine into old ^{1f} wine-skins; else the new wine will burst the skins, and itself will be spilled, and the skins will perish. 38 But new wine must be put into fresh wine-skins. 39 And no man having drunk old wine desireth new: for he saith, The old is ² good.

6 ^{1g} Now it came to pass on a sabbath, that he was going through the cornfields; and his disciples ^h plucked the ears of corn, and did eat, rubbing them in their hands. ² But certain of the Pharisees said, ⁱ Why do ye ^j that which it is not lawful to do on the sabbath day? ³ And Jesus answering them said, ^k Have ye not read even this, ^l what David did, when he was an hungred, he, and they that were with him; ⁴ how he entered into the house of God, and did take and eat ^m the shewbread, and gave also to them that were with him; ⁿ which it is not lawful to eat save for the priests alone? ⁵ And he said unto them, ⁿ The Son of man is lord of the sabbath.

⁶ And it came to pass on another sabbath, that ^o he entered into the synagogue ^p and taught: and there was a man there, and his right hand was withered. ⁷ And the scribes and the Pharisees ^q watched him, whether he would heal on the sabbath; ^r that they might find how to accuse him. ⁸ But ^s he knew their thoughts; and he said to the man that had his hand withered, Rise up, and stand forth in the midst. And he arose and stood forth. ⁹ And Jesus said unto them, I ask you, ^t Is it lawful on the sabbath to do good, or to do harm? to save a life, or to destroy it? ¹⁰ And ^u he looked round about on them all, and said unto him, Stretch forth thy hand. And ^v he did so: and his hand was restored. ¹¹ But they were filled with ^w madness; and communed one with another what they might do to Jesus.

¹² And it came to pass in these days, that ^x he went out into the mountain to pray; and he continued all night in prayer to God. ¹³ And when it was day, ^y he called his disciples: ^z and ^a he chose from them twelve, whom also he named ^b apostles; ¹⁴ Simon, ^c whom he also named Peter, and ^d Andrew his brother, and ^d James and John, and Philip and Bartholomew, ¹⁵ and ^e Matthew and Thomas, and James the son of Alphæus, and Simon which was called ^f the Zealot, ¹⁶ and ^g Judas the son of James, and Judas Iscariot, which was the traitor; ¹⁷ and ^h he came down with them, and stood on a level place, and ⁱ a great multitude of his disciples, and a great number of the people from all Judæa and Jerusalem, and the sea coast of ^j Tyre and Sidon, which came to hear him, and to be healed of their diseases; ¹⁸ and ^k they that were troubled with unclean spirits were healed. ¹⁹ And all the multitude ^l sought to touch him: for ^m power came forth from him: and healed them all.

²⁰ And ⁿ he lifted up his eyes on his disciples, ^o and said, Blessed are ye poor: for ^q yours is the kingdom of God. ²¹ ^r Blessed are ye that hunger now: for ye shall be filled. ^s Blessed are ye that weep now: for ye shall laugh. ²² Blessed are ye, when men shall hate you, and when they shall separate you from their company, and reproach you, and cast out your name as evil, for the Son of man's sake. ²³ ^x Rejoice in that day, and leap for joy: for behold, your reward is great in heaven: for ^y in the same manner did their fathers unto the prophets. ²⁴ ^z But woe unto you that are rich! ^a for ye ^b have received your consolation. ²⁵ Woe unto you, ye that are full now! for ^c ye shall hunger. Woe unto you, ye that laugh now! ^d for ye shall mourn and weep. ²⁶ Woe unto you, when all men shall speak well of you! for ^e in the same manner did their fathers to ^f the false prophets.

to my ¹servant, Do this, and he doeth it. ⁹And when Jesus heard these things, ^xhe marvelled at him, and turned and said unto the multitude that followed him, I say unto you, I have not found so great ^yfaith, no, not in Israel. ¹⁰And they that were sent, returning to the house, found the ¹servant whole.

¹¹And it came to pass ²soon afterwards, that he went to a city called Nain; and his disciples went with him, and a great multitude. ¹²Now when he drew near to the gate of the city, behold, there was carried out one that was dead, ^zthe only son of his mother, and she was a widow: and much people of the city was with her. ¹³And when the Lord saw her, ^ahe had compassion on her, and ^bsaid unto her, Weep not. ¹⁴And he came nigh and touched ^cthe bier: and the bearers stood still. And he said, Young man, I say unto thee, ^dArise. ¹⁵And he that was dead sat up, and began to speak. And ^ehe gave him to his mother. ¹⁶And fear took hold on all: and ^fthey glorified God, saying, ^gA great prophet is arisen among us: and, ^hGod hath visited his people. ¹⁷And this report went forth concerning him in the whole of Judæa, and all the region round about.

¹⁸And ^jthe disciples of John told him of all these things. ¹⁹And John calling unto him ³two of his disciples sent them to the Lord, saying, Art thou ^khe that cometh, or ^llook we for another? ²⁰And when the men were come unto him, they said, John the Baptist hath sent us unto thee, saying, Art thou ^khe that cometh, or ^llook we for another? ²¹In that hour, ^mhe cured many of diseases and ⁴ⁿplagues and evil spirits; and ^oon many that were blind he bestowed sight. ²²And he answered and said unto them, Go your way, and tell John what things ye have seen and heard; ^pthe blind receive their sight, the lame walk, ^qthe lepers are cleansed, and ^rthe deaf hear, ^sthe dead are raised up, ^tthe poor have ⁵good tidings preached to them. ²³And blessed is

he, whosoever shall ^ufind none occasion of stumbling in me.

²⁴And when the messengers of John were departed, he began to say unto the multitudes concerning John, What went ye out ^vinto the wilderness to behold? ^wa reed shaken with the wind? ²⁵But what went ye out to see? a man clothed in soft raiment? Behold, they which are gorgeously apparelled, and live delicately, are in kings' courts. ²⁶But what went ye out to see? ^xa prophet? Yea, I say unto you, and much more than a prophet. ²⁷This is he of whom it is written,

^yBehold, I send my messenger before thy face,

Who shall prepare thy way before thee.

²⁸I say unto you, Among them that are born of women there is none greater than John: yet he that is ⁶but little in the kingdom of God is greater than he. ²⁹^zAnd all the people when they heard, and ^athe publicans, justified God, ^{7a}being baptized with ^bthe baptism of John. ³⁰^cBut the Pharisees and ^dthe lawyers ^erejected for themselves ^fthe counsel of God, ⁸being not baptized of him. ³¹Whereunto then shall I liken the men of this generation, and to what are they like? ³²They are like unto children that sit in the marketplace, and call one to another; which say, We piped unto you, and ye did not dance; we wailed, and ye did not weep. ³³For John the Baptist is come ^geating no bread ^hnor drinking wine; and ye say, He hath a ⁹devil. ³⁴The Son of man is come ⁱeating and drinking; and ye say, Behold, a gluttonous man, and a winebibber, ^ja friend of publicans and sinners! ³⁵And ^kwisdom ¹⁰is justified of all her children.

³⁶And ^lone of the Pharisees desired him that he would eat with him. And he entered into the Pharisee's house, and sat down to meat. ³⁷^mAnd behold, a woman which was in the city, a sinner; and when she knew that he was sitting at meat in the Pharisee's house, she brought ¹¹an alabaster cruse of ointment, ³⁸and standing behind at his feet, weeping, she began to wet his feet with her tears, and ⁿwiped them

1^o kissed his feet, and anointed them with the ointment. 39 Now when the Pharisee which had bidden him saw it, he spake within himself, saying, ^pThis man, if he were ²a prophet, ^rwould have perceived who and what manner of woman this is which toucheth him, that she is a sinner. 40 And Jesus answering said unto him, Simon, I have somewhat to say unto thee. And he saith, ^sMaster, say on. 41 A certain lender had two debtors: the one owed five hundred ⁴s pence, and the other fifty. 42 ^tWhen they had not wherewith to pay, he ^ufor-gave them both. Which of them therefore will love him most? 43 Simon answered and said, He, I suppose, to whom he forgave the most. And he said unto him, Thou hast rightly judged. 44 And turning to the woman, he said unto Simon, Seest thou this woman? I entered into thine house, ^vthou gavest me no water for my feet: but ^wshe hath wetted my feet with her tears, and wiped them with her hair. 45 ^xThou gavest me no kiss: but she, since the time I came in, hath not ceased to ^ykiss my feet. 46 ^zMy head with oil thou didst not anoint: but she hath anointed my feet with ointment. 47 Wherefore I say unto thee, Her sins, ^awhich are many, are forgiven; for she loved much: but to whom little is forgiven, the same loveth little. 48 And he said unto her, ^bThy sins are forgiven. 49 And they that sat at meat with him began to say ^cwithin themselves, ^dWho is this that even forgiveth sins? 50 And he said unto the woman, ^eThy faith hath saved thee; ^fgo in peace.

8 And it came to pass soon afterwards, that he went about ^gthrough cities and villages, preaching and ^hbringing the ⁱgood tidings of the kingdom of God, and with him the twelve, ^jand ^kcertain women which had been healed of evil spirits and infirmities, ^lMary that was called Magdalene, ^mfrom whom seven ⁿdevils had gone out, ^oand ^pJoanna the wife of Chuza Herod's steward, and Susanna, and many others, which ministered unto ^qthem of their substance.

4¹ And when a great multitude came together, and they of every city resorted unto him, he spake by a parable: 5^m The sower went forth to sow his seed: and as he sowed, some fell by the way side; and it was trodden under foot, and the birds of the heaven devoured it. 6 And other fell on the rock; and as soon as it grew, ⁿit withered away, because it had no moisture. 7 And other fell amidst ^othe thorns; and the thorns grew with it, and choked it. 8 And other fell into the good ground, and grew, and brought forth fruit ^pa hundredfold. As he said these things, he cried, ^qHe that hath ears to hear, let him hear. 9 And his disciples asked him what this parable might be. 10 And he said, ^rUnto you it is given ^sto know ^tthe mysteries of the kingdom of God: but to the rest in parables; ^uthat seeing they may not see, and hearing they may not understand. 11^v Now the parable is this: The seed is ^wthe word of God. 12 And those by the way side are they that have heard; then cometh the devil, and taketh away the word from their heart, that they may not ^xbelieve and be saved. 13 And those on the rock ^yare they which, when they have heard, receive the word ^zwith joy; and these have no root, which ^afor a while believe, and in time of temptation ^bfall away. 14 And that which fell among the thorns, these are they that have heard, and ^cas they go on their way they are choked with ^dcares and riches and pleasures of this life, and bring no fruit to perfection. 15 And that in the good ground, these are such as in an honest and good heart, having heard the word, hold it fast, and ^ebring forth fruit ^fwith patience.

16^g And ^hno man, when he hath lighted a lamp, covereth it with a vessel, or putteth it under a bed; but putteth it on a stand, that they which enter in may see the light. 17ⁱ For nothing is hid, that shall not be made manifest; nor anything secret, that shall not be known and come to light. 18^j Take heed therefore how ye hear: ^kfor whosoever hath, to him shall be given; and whosoever hath not, from him shall

¹⁹ And there came to him his mother and ¹brethren, and they could not come at him for the crowd. ²⁰ And it was told him, Thy mother and thy brethren stand without, desiring to see thee. ²¹ But he answered and said unto them, My mother and my brethren are these ^m which hear the word of God, and do it.

²² Now it came to pass on one of those days, that he entered into a boat, himself and his disciples; and he said unto them, Let us go over unto the other side of ^o the lake: and they launched forth. ²³ But as they sailed he fell asleep: and there came down a storm of wind on ^o the lake; and they were filling with water, and were in jeopardy. ²⁴ And they came to him, and awoke him, saying, Master, master, we perish. And he awoke, and ^p rebuked the wind and the raging of the water: and they ceased, ^q and there was a calm. ²⁵ And he said unto them, Where is your faith? And being ^r afraid they ^s marvelled, saying one to another, Who then is this, that ^t he commandeth even the winds and the water, and they obey him?

²⁶ And they arrived at the country of the ² Gerasenes, which is over against Galilee. ²⁷ And when he was come forth upon the land, there met him a certain man out of the city, who had ³ devils; and for a long time he had worn no clothes, and abode not in any house, ^v but in the tombs. ²⁸ And when he saw Jesus, he ^w cried out, and fell down before him, and ^w with a loud voice said, ^x What have I to do with thee, Jesus, ^y thou Son of ^z the Most High God? I beseech thee, torment me not. ²⁹ For he commanded the unclean spirit to come out from the man. For ⁴ oftentimes it had seized him: and he was kept under guard, and bound with chains and fetters; and breaking the bands asunder, he was driven of the ⁵ devil ^a into the deserts. ³⁰ And Jesus asked him, What is thy name? And he said, ^b Legion; for many ³ devils were entered into him. ³¹ And they intreated him that he would not command them to depart into ^c the abyss. ³² Now there was there a herd of many swine feeding on the mountain: and they intreated him that he would give them leave to enter into them. And he gave them leave. ³³ And the ³ devils came out from the man, and entered into the swine: and the herd rushed down the steep into ^d the lake, and were choked. ³⁴ And when they that fed them saw what had come to pass, they fled, and told it in the city and in the country. ³⁵ And they went out to see what had come to pass; and they came to Jesus, and found the man, from whom the ³ devils were gone out, sitting, ^e clothed and in his right mind, ^f at the feet of Jesus: and they were afraid. ³⁶ And they that saw it told them how he that was possessed with ³ devils ^g was ⁶ made whole. ³⁷ And all the people of the country of the Gerasenes round about ^h asked him to depart from them; for they were holden with great fear: and he entered into a boat, and returned. ³⁸ But the man from whom the ³ devils were gone out prayed him that he might be with him: but he sent him away, saying, ³⁹ Return to thy house, and ⁱ declare how great things God hath done for thee. And he went his way, publishing throughout the whole city how great things Jesus had done for him.

⁴⁰ And as Jesus returned, the multitude ^j welcomed him; for they were all waiting for him. ⁴¹ And behold, there came a man named Jairus, and he was ¹ a ruler of the synagogue: and he fell down at Jesus' feet, and besought him to come into his house; ⁴² for he had ^m an only daughter, about twelve years of age, and she lay a dying. But as he went the multitudes ⁿ thronged him.

⁴³ And a woman ^o having an issue of blood twelve years, which ⁷ had spent all her ^p living upon physicians, and could not be healed of any, ⁴⁴ came behind him, and touched ^q the border of his garment: and ^r immediately the issue of her blood stanch'd. ⁴⁵ And Jesus said, Who is it that touched me? said, ¹and they that were with him, Master, the multitudes press thee and crush thee. 46 But Jesus said, Some one did touch me: for I perceived that ^spower had gone forth from me. 47 And when the woman saw that she was not hid, she came trembling, and falling down before him declared in the presence of all the people for what cause she touched him, and how she was healed immediately. 48 And he said unto her, Daughter, ^tthy faith hath ²made thee whole; ⁱgo in peace.

49 While he yet spake, there cometh one from ^uthe ruler of the synagogue's house, saying, Thy daughter is dead; ^vtrouble not ^wthe ³Master. 50 But Jesus hearing it, answered him, Fear not: only believe, and she shall be ⁴made whole. 51 And when he came to the house, he suffered not any man to enter in with him, save ^xPeter, and ^yJohn, and James, and the father of the maiden and her mother. 52 And all were weeping, and ^zbewailing her: but he ^asaid, Weep not; for ^bshe is not dead, but ^csleepeth. 53 And they laughed him to scorn, knowing that she was dead. 54 But he, ^dtaking her by the hand, called, saying, Maiden, ^earise. 55 And ^fher spirit returned, and she rose up immediately: and he commanded that something be given her to eat. 56 And her parents were amazed: but ^ghe charged them to tell no man what had been done.

9 ^hAnd he called the twelve together, and gave them power and authority over all ⁵devils, and to cure diseases. 2 ⁱAnd he sent them forth to ^jpreach the kingdom of God, and to heal ⁶the sick. 3 ^kAnd he said unto them, Take nothing for your journey, ⁷neither staff, nor wallet, nor bread, nor money; neither have two coats. 4 And into whatsoever house ye enter, there abide, and thence depart. 5 And as many as receive you not, when ye depart from that city, ^mshake off the dust from your feet ⁿfor a testimony ^oagainst them. 6 ^pAnd they departed, and went throughout the villages, preaching the gospel, and healing everywhere.

7 ^qNow ^rHerod the tetrarch heard of all that was done: and he was much perplexed, because that it was said by some, that ^sJohn was risen from the dead; 8 and ^tby some, that Elijah had appeared; and ^uby others, that one of the old prophets was risen again. 9 And Herod said, John I beheaded: but who is this, about whom I hear such things? And ^vhe sought to see him.

10 ^wAnd the apostles, when they were returned, declared unto him what things they had done. ^xAnd he took them, and withdrew apart to a city called Bethsaida. 11 But the multitudes perceiving it followed him: and he ^ywelcomed them, and ^zspake to them of the kingdom of God, and ^athem that had need of healing he healed. 12 And ^bthe day began to wear away; and the twelve came, and said unto him, ^cSend the multitude away, that they may go into the villages and country round about, and lodge, and get victuals: for we are here in a desert place. 13 But he said unto them, ^dGive ye them to eat. And they said, We have no more than ^efive loaves and two fishes; except we should go and buy food for all this people. 14 For they were about five thousand men. And he said unto his disciples, Make them ^fsit down in companies, about fifty each. 15 And they did so, and made them all ^gsit down. 16 And he took the five loaves and the two fishes, and ^hlooking up to heaven, ⁱhe blessed them, and brake; and gave to the disciples to set before the multitude. 17 And they did eat, and were all filled: and there was taken up that which remained over to them of broken pieces, twelve baskets.

18 ^jAnd it came to pass, as he was praying alone, the disciples were with him: and he asked them, saying, Who do the multitudes say that I am? 19 And they answering said, ^kJohn the Baptist; but others say, ^lElijah; and others, that one of the old prophets is risen again. 20 And he said unto them, But who say ye that I am? manded them to tell this to no man; ²² saying, ^k The Son of man must ^l suffer many things, and ^m be rejected of the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be killed, and ⁿ the third day be raised up. ²³ And he said unto all, If any man would come after me, let him ^o deny himself, and ^p take up his cross ^q daily, and follow me. ²⁴ For ^r whosoever would save his ^s life shall lose it; but whosoever shall lose his ^t life for my sake, the same shall save it. ²⁵ For what is a man profited, if he gain the whole world, and lose or forfeit his own self? ²⁶ For ^u whosoever shall be ashamed of me and of my words, of him shall the Son of man be ashamed, ^v when he cometh in ^w his own glory, and the glory of the Father, and of ^x the holy angels. ²⁷ But I tell you of a truth, There be some of them that stand here, which shall in no wise ^y taste of death, ^z till they see the kingdom of God.

²⁸ And it came to pass about eight days after these sayings, he took with him ^a Peter and John and James, and ^b went up into the mountain to pray. ²⁹ And as he was praying, the fashion of his countenance was ^c altered, and ^d his raiment became white and dazzling. ³⁰ And behold, there talked with him two men, which were Moses and Elijah; ³¹ who appeared in glory, and spake of his ^e decease which he was about to accomplish at Jerusalem. ³² Now Peter and they that were with him ^f were heavy with sleep: but ^g when they were fully awake, ^h they saw his glory, and the two men that stood with him. ³³ And it came to pass, as they were parting from him, Peter said unto Jesus, Master, it is good for us to be here; and let us make three ⁱ tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elijah: ^j not knowing what he said. ³⁴ And while he said these things, there came ^k a cloud and overshadowed them: and they feared as they entered into the cloud. ³⁵ And ^l a voice came out of the cloud, saying, ^m This is ⁿ my Son, ^o my chosen: ^p hear ye him. ³⁶ And when the voice ^q came, Jesus was found alone. ^r And they held their peace, and told no man in those days any of the things which they had seen.

³⁷ And it came to pass, on the next day, when they were come down from the mountain, a great multitude met him. ³⁸ And behold, a man from the multitude cried, saying, ^s Master, I beseech thee to look upon my son; for ^t he is mine only child: ³⁹ and behold, a spirit taketh him, and he suddenly crieth out; and it ^u teareth him that he foameth, and it hardly departeth from him, bruising him sorely. ⁴⁰ And I besought thy disciples to cast it out; and ^v they could not. ⁴¹ And Jesus answered and said, O faithless and ^w perverse generation, ^x how long shall I be with you, and bear with you? bring hither thy son. ⁴² And as he was yet a coming, the ^y devil ^z dashed him down, and ^{aa} tare him grievously. But Jesus ^{ab} rebuked the unclean spirit, and healed the boy, and ^{ac} gave him back to his father. ⁴³ And they were all astonished at ^{ad} the majesty of God.

^{ae} But while all were marvelling at all the things which he did, he said ^{af} unto his disciples, ⁴⁴ Let these words sink into your ears: ^{ag} for the Son of man shall be delivered up into the hands of men. ⁴⁵ But they understood not this saying, and ^{ah} it was concealed from them, that they should not perceive it: and they were afraid to ask him about this saying.

⁴⁶ And there arose a reasoning among them, which of them should be ^{ai} greatest. ⁴⁷ But when Jesus ^{aj} saw the reasoning of their heart, he took a little child, and set him by his side, ⁴⁸ and said unto them, ^{ak} Whosoever shall receive this little child in my name receiveth me: and ^{al} whosoever shall receive me receiveth him that sent me: for ^{am} he that is ^{an} least among you all, the same is great.

⁴⁹ And John answered and said, Master, we saw one ^{ao} casting out devils in thy name; and ^{ap} we forbade him, because he followeth not with us. ⁵⁰ But Jesus said unto him, Forbid him not: ^hfor he that is not against you is for you.

51 And it came to pass, when the days ¹were well-nigh come that ⁱhe should be received up, ^jhe stedfastly set his face ^kto go to Jerusalem, 52 and ^lsent messengers before his face: and they went, and entered into a village of ^mthe Samaritans, to make ready for him. 53 And ⁿthey did not receive him, because ^ohis face was as though he were going to Jerusalem. 54 And when his disciples James and John saw this, they said, Lord, wilt thou that we bid ^pfire to come down from heaven, and consume them ^{2q}? 55 But he turned, and rebuked them ^{3r}. 56 And they went to another village.

57 And as they went ^sin the way, ^ta certain man said unto him, I will follow thee whithersoever thou goest. 58 And Jesus said unto him, The foxes have holes, and the birds of the heaven have ^{4u} nests; but the Son of man hath not where to lay his head. 59 And he said unto another, Follow me. But he said, Lord, suffer me first to go and bury my father. 60 But he said unto him, Leave ^vthe dead to bury their own dead; but go thou and ^wpublish abroad the kingdom of God. 61 And another also said, I will follow thee, Lord; ^xbut first suffer me to bid farewell to them that are at my house. 62 But Jesus said unto him, ^yNo man, having put his hand to the plough, and looking back, is fit for the kingdom of God.

10 Now after these things the Lord appointed ^zseventy ⁵others, and ^asent them two and two before his face into every city and place, whither he himself was about to come. 2 ^bAnd he said unto them, The harvest is plenteous, but the labourers are few: ^cpray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he send forth labourers into his harvest. 3 Go your ways: ^dbehold, I send you forth as lambs in the midst of wolves. 4 ^eCarry no purse, no wallet, no shoes: and ^fsalute no man on the way. 5 And into whatsoever house ye shall ⁶enter, first say, ^gPeace be to this house.

6 And if ^ha son of peace be there, your peace shall rest upon ⁷him: but if not, ⁱit shall turn to you again. 7 And in that same house remain, eating and drinking such things as they give: for ^jthe labourer is worthy of his hire. Go not from house to house. 8 And into whatsoever city ye enter, and they receive you, eat such things as are set before you: 9 and heal the sick that are therein, and say unto them, ^kThe kingdom of God is come nigh unto you. 10 But into whatsoever city ye shall enter, and they receive you not, go out into the streets thereof and say, 11 ^lEven the dust from your city, that cleaveth to our feet, we do wipe off against you: howbeit know this, that ^mthe kingdom of God is come nigh. 12 ⁿI say unto you, ^oIt shall be more tolerable in ^pthat day for Sodom, than for that city. 13 Woe unto thee, Chorazin! woe unto thee, Bethsaida! for if the ⁸mighty works had been done in ^qTyre and Sidon, which were done in you, they would have repented long ago, sitting in sackcloth and ashes. 14 ^rHowbeit it shall be more tolerable for ^pTyre and Sidon in the judgement, than for you. 15 And thou, Capernaum, ^sshalt thou be exalted unto heaven? thou shalt be brought down unto ^tHades. 16 ^uHe that heareth you heareth me; and ^vhe that rejecteth you rejecteth me; and ^whe that rejecteth me rejecteth him that sent me.

17 And ^xthe seventy returned with joy, saying, Lord, ^yeven the ⁹devils are subject unto us in thy name. 18 And he said unto them, ^zI beheld Satan ^afallen as lightning from heaven. 19 Behold, I have given you authority ^bto tread upon serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of ^cthe enemy: and ^dnothing shall in any wise hurt you. 20 ^eHowbeit in this rejoice not, that the spirits are subject unto you; but rejoice that ^fyour names are written in heaven.

joined ¹i in the Holy Spirit, and said, I ²thank thee, O Father, ³Lord of heaven and earth, that ⁴thou didst hide these things from the wise and understanding, and didst ⁵reveal them unto babes: yea, Father; ⁶for so ⁷it was well-pleasing in thy sight. ⁸22ⁿ All things have been delivered unto me of my Father: and no one knoweth who the Son is, ⁹save the Father; and who the Father is, ¹⁰save the Son, and he ¹¹to whomsoever the Son willeth to reveal him. ¹²23 And turning to the disciples, he said privately, ¹³Blessed are the eyes which see the things that ye see: ¹⁴24 for I say unto you, ¹⁵that many prophets and kings desired to see the things which ye see, and saw them not; and to hear the things which ye hear, and heard them not.

¹⁶25^r And behold, a certain ¹⁷lawyer stood up and ¹⁸tempted him, saying, ¹⁹4 Master, what shall I do to ²⁰inherit eternal life? ²¹26 And he said unto him, What is written in the law? how readest thou? ²²27 And he answering said, ²³v Thou shalt love the Lord thy God ²⁴5 with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and ²⁵w thy neighbour as thyself. ²⁶28 And he said unto him, Thou hast answered right: ²⁷x this do, and thou shalt live. ²⁸29 But he, ²⁹y desiring to justify himself, said unto Jesus, And who is my neighbour? ³⁰30 Jesus made answer and said, A certain man ³¹z was going down from Jerusalem to Jericho; and he fell among robbers, which both stripped him and beat him, and departed, leaving him half dead. ³²31 And by chance a certain ³³a priest was going down that way: and when he saw him, he passed by on the other side. ³⁴32 And in like manner ³⁵a a Levite also, when he came to the place, and saw him, passed by on the other side. ³⁶33 But a certain ³⁷b Samaritan, as he journeyed, came where he was: and when he saw him, he was moved with compassion, ³⁸34 and came to him, and ³⁹c bound up his wounds, pouring on them ⁴⁰oil and wine; and he set him on his own beast, and brought him to an inn, and took care of him. ⁴¹35 And on the morrow he took out two ⁴²d pence, and gave them to the host, and said, Take care of him; and whatsoever thou spendest more, I, when I come back again, will repay thee. ⁴³36 Which of these three, thinkest thou, proved neighbour unto him that fell among the robbers? ⁴⁴37 And he said, He that shewed mercy on him. And Jesus said unto him, Go, and do thou likewise.

⁴⁵38 Now as they went on their way, he entered into a certain village: and a certain woman named ⁴⁶e Martha ⁴⁷f received him into her house. ⁴⁸39 And she had a sister called ⁴⁹g Mary, which also ⁵⁰sat at the Lord's feet, and heard his word. ⁵¹40 But Martha was ⁵²h cumbered about much serving; and she came up to him, and said, Lord, dost thou not care that my sister did leave me to serve alone? bid her therefore that she help me. ⁵³41 But the Lord answered and said unto her, ⁵⁴i Martha, Martha, thou art ⁵⁵anxious and troubled about many things: ⁵⁶j but one thing is needful: for Mary hath chosen ⁵⁷k the good part, which shall not be taken away from her.

⁵⁸1 And it came to pass, as II he was praying in a certain place, that when he ceased, one of his disciples said unto him, Lord, teach us to pray, even as John also taught ⁵⁹his disciples. ⁶⁰2 And he said unto them, ⁶¹m When ye pray, say, ⁶²10ⁿ Father, ⁶³o Hallowed be ⁶⁴p thy name. ⁶⁵q Thy kingdom come. ⁶⁶11 ⁶⁷3^r Give us ⁶⁸s day by day ⁶⁹12 our daily bread. ⁷⁰4 And ⁷¹t forgive us our sins; for we ourselves also forgive every one that is indebted to us. And ⁷²u bring us not into temptation ⁷³13.

⁷⁴5 And he said unto them, Which of you shall have a friend, and shall go unto him at midnight, and say to him, Friend, lend me three loaves; ⁷⁵6 for a friend of mine is come to me from a journey, and I have nothing to set before him; ⁷⁶7 and he from within shall answer and say, Trouble me not: the door is now shut, and my children are with me in bed; I cannot rise and give thee? ⁸I say unto you, Though he will not rise and give him, ^vbecause he is his friend, yet because of his importunity he will arise and give him ¹as many as he needeth. ⁹And I say unto you, ^wAsk, and ^xit shall be given you; ^yseek, and ye shall find; ^zknock, and it shall be opened unto you. ¹⁰For every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened. ¹¹And of which of you that is a father shall his son ask ^{2a}a loaf, and he give him ^aa stone? or a fish, and he for a fish give him a serpent? ¹²Or ^{if} he shall ask an egg, will he give him a scorpion? ¹³If ye then, ^bbeing evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children, how much more shall your heavenly Father ^cgive the Holy Spirit to them that ask him?

^{14d}And he was casting out a ³devil which was dumb. And it came to pass, when the ³devil was gone out, the dumb man spake; and the multitudes marvelled. ¹⁵But some of them said, ^{4e}By Beelzebub the prince of the ⁵devils casteth he out ⁵devils. ¹⁶And others, ^ftempting him, sought of him ^ga sign from heaven. ^{17h}But he, ⁱknowing their thoughts, said unto them, Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation; ⁶and a house divided against a house falleth. ¹⁸And if Satan also is divided against himself, how shall his kingdom stand? because ye say that I cast out ⁵devils ⁴by Beelzebub. ¹⁹And if I ⁴by Beelzebub cast out ⁵devils, ^jby whom do ^kyour sons cast them out? therefore shall they be your judges. ²⁰But if I by ^lthe finger of God cast out ⁵devils, then is ^mthe kingdom of God come upon you. ²¹When the strong man fully armed guardeth his own court, his goods are in peace: ²²ⁿbut when a stronger than he shall come upon him, and ^oovercome him, he taketh from him his ^pwhole armour wherein he trusted, and ^qdivideth his spoils. ^{23r}He that is not with me is against me; and he that gathereth not with me scattereth. ^{24s}The unclean spirit when ⁷he is gone out of the man, passeth through ^twaterless places, seeking rest; and finding none, ⁷he saith, I will turn back unto my house whence I came out. ²⁵And when ⁷he is come, ⁷he findeth it swept and garnished. ²⁶Then goeth ⁷he, and taketh to him seven other spirits more evil than ⁸himself; and they enter in and dwell there: and ^uthe last state of that man cometh worse than the first.

²⁷And it came to pass, as he said these things, ^va certain woman out of the multitude lifted up her voice, and said unto him, ^wBlessed is the womb that bare thee, and the breasts which thou didst suck. ²⁸But he said, Yea rather, ^xblessed are they ^ythat hear the word of God, and ^zkeep it.

²⁹And ^awhen the multitudes were gathering together unto him, he began to say, ^bThis generation is an evil generation: ^cit seeketh after a sign; and there shall no sign be given to it but the sign of Jonah. ³⁰For even as ^dJonah became a sign unto the Ninevites, so shall also the Son of man be to this generation. ^{31e}The queen of the south shall rise up in the judgement with the men of this generation, and ^fshall condemn them: for she came from the ends of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon; and behold, ^ga greater than Solomon is here. ^{32h}The men of Nineveh shall stand up in the judgement with this generation, and ⁱshall condemn it: for ⁱthey repented at the preaching of Jonah; and behold, ^ga greater than Jonah is here.

^{33j}No man, when he hath lighted a lamp, putteth it in a cellar, neither under the bushel, but on the stand, that they which enter in may see the light. ^{34k}The lamp of thy body is thine eye: when thine eye is single, thy whole body also is full of light; but when it is ^levil, thy body also is full of darkness. ^{35k}Look therefore whether the light that is in thee be not darkness. ³⁶If therefore thy whole body be full of light, having no part dark, it shall be wholly full of light, ^mas when the lamp with its bright shining doth give thee light.

³⁷Now as he spake, ⁿa Pharisee asketh him to ^{10o}dine with him: and he went in, and sat down to meat.

38 And when the Pharisee saw it, he marvelled ^p that he had not first washed before ¹ dinner. 39 And the Lord said unto him, ^q Now do ye Pharisees cleanse the outside of the cup and of the platter; but your inward part is full of ^r extortion and wickedness. 40 ^s Ye foolish ones, ^t did not he that made the outside make the inside also? 41 Howbeit ^u give for alms those things which ^v are within; and behold, ^w all things are clean unto you.

42 ^x But woe unto you Pharisees! for ^y ye tithe the mint and rue and every herb, and pass over ^z judgement and ^a the love of God: ^b but these ought ye to have done, and not to leave the other undone. 43 Woe unto you Pharisees! for ^c ye love the chief seats in the synagogues, and the salutations in ^d the market-places. 44 Woe unto you! ^e for ye are as the tombs which appear not, and the men that walk over them know it not.

45 And one of ^d the lawyers answering saith unto him, ^e Master, in saying this thou reproachest us also. 46 And he said, Woe unto you ^f lawyers also! for ^g ye lade men with burdens grievous to be borne, and ye yourselves touch not the burdens with one of your fingers. 47 ^h Woe unto you! for ye build the tombs of the prophets, and your fathers killed them. 48 ⁱ So ye are witnesses and ^j consent unto the works of ^k your fathers: for they killed them, and ye build their tombs. 49 Therefore also said ^l the wisdom of God, ^m I will send unto them ⁿ prophets and apostles; ^o and some of them they shall ^p kill and persecute; 50 that ^q the blood of all the prophets, which was shed ^r from the foundation of the world, may be ^s required of this generation; 51 from the blood of ^t Abel unto the blood of ^u Zachariah, who perished between ^v the altar and ^w the ^x sanctuary: yea, I say unto you, it shall be ^y required of this generation. 52 Woe unto you ^z lawyers! ^a for ye took away the key of ^b knowledge: ye ^c entered not in yourselves, and them that were entering in ye hindered.

12 ^e In the mean time, ^f when the many thousands of the multitude were gathered together, insomuch that they trode one upon another, he began to ^g say unto his disciples first of all, ^h Beware ye of ⁱ the leaven of the Pharisees, ^j which is hypocrisy. 2 ^k But there is nothing covered up, that shall not be revealed: and hid, that shall not be known. 3 Wherefore whatsoever ye have said in the darkness shall be heard in the light; and what ye have spoken in the ear in ^l the inner chambers shall be proclaimed upon ^m the house-tops. 4 And I say unto you ⁿ my friends, ^o Be not afraid of them which kill the body, and after that have no more that they can do. 5 But I will warn you whom ye shall fear: Fear him, ^p which after he hath killed hath ^q power to cast into ^r hell; yea, I say unto you, Fear him. 6 Are not five sparrows sold for two farthings? and ^s not one of them is forgotten in the sight of God. 7 But ^t the very hairs of your head are all numbered. Fear not: ^u ye are of more value than many sparrows. 8 And I say unto you, ^v Every one who shall confess ^w me before men, ^x him shall the Son of man also confess ^y before the angels of God: 9 but ^z he that denieth me in the presence of men ^a shall be denied ^b in the presence of the angels of God. 10 And ^c every one who shall speak ^d a word ^e against the Son of man, ^f it shall be forgiven him: but unto him that ^g blasphemeth against the Holy Spirit it shall not be forgiven. 11 ^h And when they ⁱ bring you before the synagogues, and ^j the rulers, and ^k the authorities, ^l be not anxious how or what ye shall answer, or what ye shall say: 12 ^m for the Holy Spirit shall teach you in that very hour what ye ought to say.

said unto him, ¹Master, bid my brother divide the inheritance with me. ¹⁴ But he said unto him, ²Man, ³who made me a judge or a divider over you? ¹⁵ And he said unto them, ¹Take heed, and keep yourselves from all covetousness: ²for a man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth. ¹⁶ And he spake a parable unto them, saying, ¹The ground of a certain rich man brought forth plentifully: ¹⁷ and he reasoned within himself, saying, ¹What shall I do, because I have not where to bestow my fruits? ¹⁸ And he said, This will I do: I will pull down my ¹barns, and build greater; and there will I bestow all my corn and my goods. ¹⁹ And I will say to my ³soul, ³Soul, thou hast much goods laid up ^mfor many years; take thine ease, ⁿeat, drink, be merry. ²⁰ But God said unto him, ^oThou foolish one, ¹this night ^{4p}is thy ³soul required of thee; and the things which thou hast prepared, ²whose shall they be? ²¹ So is he ^rthat layeth up treasure for himself, and is not rich toward God.

²² And he said unto his disciples, ^sTherefore I say unto you, ^tBe not anxious for ^{your} ⁵life, what ye shall eat; nor yet for your body, what ye shall put on. ²³ For the ⁵life is more than the food, and the body than the raiment. ²⁴ ^uConsider the ravens, that they sow not, neither reap; which have no store-chamber nor barn; and God feedeth them: ^vof how much more value are ye than the birds! ²⁵ And which of you by being anxious can add a cubit unto his ^{6w}stature? ²⁶ If then ye are not able to do even that which is least, why are ye anxious concerning the rest? ²⁷ Consider the lilies, how they grow: they toil not, neither do they spin; yet I say unto you, ^xEven Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these. ²⁸ But if God doth so clothe the grass in the field, which to-day is, and to-morrow is cast into the oven; how much more shall he clothe you, ^yO ye of little faith? ²⁹ And seek not ye what ye shall eat, and what ye shall drink, neither ^zbe ye of doubtful mind. ³⁰ For all these things ^ado the nations of the world seek after: but ^ayour Father knoweth that ye have need of these things. ³¹ Howbeit ^bseek ye ^{7c}his kingdom, ^dand these things shall be added unto you. ³² ^eFear not, little ^fflock; for ^git is your Father's good pleasure to give you ^hthe kingdom. ³³ ⁱSell that ye have, and ^jgive alms; ^kmake for yourselves purses which wax not old, ^{1a}a treasure in the heavens that faileth not, where no thief draweth near, neither moth destroyeth. ³⁴ ^mFor where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

³⁵ ⁿLet your loins be girded about, and ^oyour lamps burning; ³⁶ and be ye yourselves like unto men ^plooking for their lord, when he shall return from the marriage feast; that, when he cometh and ^qknocketh, they may straightway open unto him. ³⁷ ^rBlessed are those ³servants, whom the lord when he cometh shall find ^swatching: verily I say unto you, that ^the shall gird himself, and ^umake them sit down to meat, and shall come and serve them. ³⁸ And if he shall come in the second watch, and if in the third, and find ^{them} so, blessed are those ^{servants}. ³⁹ ^uBut know this, that if the master of the house had known in what hour ^vthe thief was coming, he would have watched, and not have left his house to be ^{10w}broken through. ⁴⁰ Be ye also ^xready: for in an hour that ye think not ^ythe Son of man cometh.

⁴¹ And Peter said, Lord, ^zspeak-est thou this parable unto us, or even unto all? ⁴² And the Lord said, Who then is ^{11a}the faithful and ^awise ^bsteward, whom his lord shall set over his household, to give them their portion of food in due season? ⁴³ ^cBlessed is that ¹²servant, whom his lord when he cometh shall find so doing. ⁴⁴ Of a truth I say unto you, that ^dhe will set him over all that he hath. ⁴⁵ But if that ¹²servant shall say in his heart, My lord ^edelayeth his coming; and shall begin to beat the menservants and the maidservants, and to eat and drink, and ^fto be drunken; ⁴⁶the lord of that ¹servant shall come ^gin a day when he expecteth not, and ^hin an hour when he knoweth not, and shall ²cut him asunder, and appoint his portion with the unfaithful. ⁴⁷^h And that ¹servant, which ⁱknew his lord's will, and ^jmade not ready, ⁱnor did according to his will, ^kshall be beaten with many stripes; ⁴⁸ⁱbut he that knew not, and did things worthy of stripes, ^mshall be beaten with few stripes. ⁿAnd to whomsoever much is given, of him shall much be required: and to whom they commit much, of him will they ask the more.

⁴⁹^o I came to cast fire upon the earth; and what will I, if it is already kindled? ⁵⁰But ^pI have a baptism to be baptized with; and how ^qam I straitened till it be accomplished! ⁵¹^rThink ye that I am come to give peace in the earth? ⁵²I tell you, ^sNay; but rather division: for there shall be from henceforth five in one house divided, three against two, and two against three. ⁵³They shall be divided, ^tfather against son, and son against father; mother against daughter, and daughter against her mother; mother in law against her daughter in law, and daughter in law against her mother in law.

⁵⁴And he said to the multitudes also, ^uWhen ye see ^va cloud rising in the west, straightway ye say, There cometh a shower; and so it cometh to pass. ⁵⁵And ^wwhen ye see a south wind blowing, ye say, There will be ^xa ³scorching heat; and it cometh to pass. ⁵⁶Ye hypocrites, ^xye know how to ⁴interpret the face of the earth and the heaven; but how is it that ye know not how to ⁴interpret this time? ⁵⁷And why even ^yof yourselves ^zjudge ye not what is right? ⁵⁸For ^aas thou art going with thine adversary before the magistrate, on the way give diligence to be quit of him; lest haply he hale thee unto the judge, and the judge shall deliver thee to the ⁵officer, and the ⁵officer shall cast thee into prison. ⁵⁹I say unto thee, ^bThou shalt by no means come out thence, till thou have paid the very last ^cmite.

⁶And he spake this parable; A certain man had ⁱa fig tree planted in his vineyard; and he came seeking fruit thereon, and found none. ⁷And he said unto the vinedresser, Behold, these three years I come seeking fruit on this fig tree, and find none: ^jcut it down; why doth it also cumber the ground? ⁸And he answering saith unto him, Lord, let it alone this year also, till I shall dig about it, and dung it: ⁹and if it bear fruit thenceforth, well; but if not, thou shalt cut it down.

¹⁰And ^khe was teaching in one of the synagogues on the sabbath day. ¹¹And behold, a woman which had ^la spirit of infirmity eighteen years; and she was bowed together, and could in no wise lift herself up. ¹²And when Jesus saw her, he called her, and said to her, Woman, thou art loosed from thine infirmity. ¹³And he ^mlaid his hands upon her: and immediately she was made straight, and ⁿglorified God. ¹⁴And ^othe ruler of the synagogue, being moved with indignation because Jesus ^phad healed on the sabbath, answered and said to the multitude, ^qThere are six days in which men ought to work: in them therefore come and be healed, and not on the day of the sabbath. ¹⁵But the Lord answered him, and said, Ye hypocrites, ^rdoth not each one of you on the sabbath loose his ox or his ass from the ⁷stall, and lead him away to watering? ¹⁶And ought not this woman, ^sbeing a daughter of Abraham, whom ^tSatan had bound, lo, these eighteen years, to have been loosed from this bond on the day of the sabbath? 17 And as he said these things, ^uall his adversaries were put to shame: and ^vall the multitude rejoiced for all the glorious things that were done by him.

18 ^wHe said therefore, Unto what is the kingdom of God like? and whereunto shall I liken it? 19 It is like unto ^xa grain of mustard seed, which a man took, and cast into his own garden; and it grew, and became a tree; and the birds of the heaven lodged in the branches thereof. 20 And again he said, Whereunto shall I liken the kingdom of God? 21 ^yIt is like unto leaven, which a woman took and hid in ^zthree ¹measures of meal, till it was ^aall leavened.

22 ^bAnd he went on his way through cities and villages, teaching, and ^cjourneying on unto Jerusalem. 23 And one said unto him, Lord, are they few ^dthat be saved? And he said unto them, 24 ^eStrive ^fto enter in by the narrow door: for many, I say unto you, shall seek to enter in, and shall not be ²able. 25 ^gWhen once the master of the house is risen up, and hath shut to the door, and ye begin to stand without, and to knock at the door, saying, ^hLord, open to us; and he shall answer and say to you, ⁱI know you not whence ye are; 26 then shall ye begin to say, ^jWe did eat and drink in thy presence, and thou didst teach in our streets; 27 and he shall say, I tell you, ^kI know not whence ye are, ^kdepart from me, all ye workers of iniquity. 28 ^lThere shall be the weeping and gnashing of teeth, when ye shall see ^lAbraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, and all the prophets, in the kingdom of God, and ^lyourselves cast forth without. 29 And ^lthey shall come from the east and west, and from the north and south, and ^mshall ³sit down in the kingdom of God. 30 And behold, ⁿthere are last which shall be first, and there are first which shall be last.

31 In that very hour there came certain Pharisees, saying to him, Get thee out, and go ^ohence: for ^pHerod would fain kill thee. 32 And he said unto them, Go and say to that fox, Behold, I cast out ⁴devils and perform cures to-day and to-morrow, and the third ²day ²I am perfected. 33 Howbeit ^rI ³must go on my way to-day and to-morrow, and the ²day following: for it cannot be that ^aa prophet perish out of Jerusalem. 34 ^uO Jerusalem, Jerusalem, ^vwhich killeth the prophets, and stoneth them that are sent unto her! ^whow often would I have ^xgathered ^ythy children together, ^zeven as a hen ^zgathereth her own brood ^aunder her wings, and ^bye would not! 35 Behold, ^cyour house is left unto you ^{desolate}: and I say unto you, Ye shall not see me, until ye shall say, ^dBlessed ^{is} he that cometh in the name of the Lord.

1 And it came to pass, ^ewhen I4 he went into the house of one of the rulers of the Pharisees on a sabbath to eat bread, that they were ^fwatching him. 2 And behold, there was before him a certain man which had the dropsy. 3 And Jesus answering spake unto ^gthe lawyers and Pharisees, saying, ^hIs it lawful to heal on the sabbath, or not? 4 But they held their peace. And he took him, and healed him, and let him go. 5 And he said unto them, ⁱWhich of you shall have ⁵an ass or an ox fallen into a well, and will not straightway draw him up on a sabbath day? 6 ^jAnd they could not answer again unto these things.

7 And he spake a parable unto those which were bidden, when he marked ^khow they chose out the chief seats; 8 saying unto them, When thou art bidden of any man to a marriage feast, ⁶sit not down in the chief seat; lest haply a more honourable man than thou be bidden of him, ⁹and he that bade thee and him shall come and say to thee, Give this man place; and then thou shalt begin with shame to take the lowest place. 10 But when thou art bidden, go and sit down in the lowest place; ^lthat when he that hath bidden thee cometh, he may say to thee, Friend, go up higher: then shalt thou have glory in the presence of all that sit at meat with thee. 11 For ^mevery one that exalteth himself shall be humbled;

and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.

¹² And he said to him also that had bidden him, When thou makest ⁿa dinner or a supper, call not thy friends, nor thy brethren, nor thy kinsmen, nor rich neighbours; ^olest haply they also bid thee again, and a recompense be made thee. ¹³ But when thou makest a feast, ^pbid ^qthe poor, the maimed, the lame, the blind: and thou shalt be blessed; ¹⁴ because they have not wherewith to recompense thee: for thou shalt be recompensed ^rin ^sthe resurrection of the just.

¹⁵ And when one of them that sat at meat with him heard these things, he said unto him, ^tBlessed is he that shall ^ueat bread in the kingdom of God. ¹⁶ But he said unto him, ^vA certain man ^wmade a great supper; and he bade many: ¹⁷ and he ^xsent forth his ¹servant at supper time to say to them that were bidden, Come; for all things are now ready. ¹⁸ And they all with one consent began to make excuse. The first said unto him, I have bought a field, and I must needs go out and see it: I pray thee have me excused. ¹⁹ And another said, I have bought five yoke of oxen, and I go to prove them: I pray thee have me excused. ²⁰ And another said, ^yI have married a wife, and therefore I cannot come. ²¹ And the ¹servant came, and told his lord these things. Then the master of the house being angry said to his ¹servant, Go out quickly into the streets and lanes of the city, and bring in hither ^zthe poor and maimed and blind and lame. ²² And the ¹servant said, Lord, what thou didst command is done, and yet there is room. ²³ And the lord said unto the ¹servant, Go out into the highways and hedges, and ^aconstrain them to come in, that my house may be filled. ²⁴ For I say unto you, that ^bnone of those men which were bidden shall taste of my supper.

²⁵ Now there went with him great multitudes: and he turned, and said unto them, ²⁶ ^cIf any man cometh unto me, and ^dhateth not his own father, and mother, and wife, and children, and brethren, and sisters, ^eyea, and his own life also, he cannot be my disciple. ²⁷ ^fWhosoever doth not ^gbear his own cross, and come after me, cannot be my disciple. ²⁸ For which of you, desiring to build a tower, doth not ^hfirst sit down and count the cost, whether he have wherewith to complete it? ²⁹ Lest haply, when he hath laid a foundation, and is not able to finish, all that behold begin to mock him, ³⁰ saying, This man began to build, and was not able to finish. ³¹ Or what king, as he goeth to encounter another king in war, will not ⁱsit down first and take counsel whether he is able ^jwith ten thousand to meet him that cometh against him with twenty thousand? ³² Or else, while the other is yet a great way off, he sendeth an ambassage, and asketh conditions of peace. ³³ ^kSo therefore whosoever he be of you that ^lrenounceth not all that he hath, he cannot be my disciple. ³⁴ ^mSalt therefore is good: ⁿbut if even the salt have lost its savour, wherewith shall it be seasoned? ³⁵ It is fit neither for the land nor for the dunghill: men cast it out. ^oHe that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

I Now all ^pthe publicans and sinners were drawing near unto him for to hear him. ² And both the Pharisees and the scribes ^qmurmured, saying, ^rThis man receiveth sinners, and ^seateth with them.

her friends and neighbours, saying, Rejoice with me, for I have found the piece which I had lost. 10 Even so, I say unto you, there is joy in the presence of ^b the angels of God over one sinner that repenteth.

11 And he said, A certain man had two sons: 12 and the younger of them said to his father, Father, give me ^c the portion of ¹ thy substance that falleth to me. And ^d he divided unto them ^e his living. 13 And not many days after the younger son gathered all together, and took his journey into a far country; and there he wasted his substance with ^f riotous living. 14 And when he had spent all, there arose a mighty famine in that country; and he began to be in want. 15 And he went and joined himself to one of the citizens of that country; and he sent him into his fields to feed swine. 16 And he

^g would fain have been filled with ² the husks that the swine did eat: and no man gave unto him. 17 But ^h when he ⁱ came to himself he said, How many hired servants of my father's have bread enough and to spare, and I perish here with hunger! 18 I will arise and go to my father, and will say unto him, Father, ^j I have sinned against ^k heaven, and in thy sight: 19 ^l I am no more worthy to be called thy son: make me as one of thy hired servants. 20 And he arose, and came to his father. But while he was yet afar off, his father saw him, and was moved with compassion, and ^m ran, and ⁿ fell on his neck, and ^o kissed him. 21 And the son said unto him, Father, I have sinned against heaven, and in thy sight: ¹ I am no more worthy to be called thy son. 22 But the father said to his ⁵ servants, Bring forth quickly ^p the best robe, and put it on him; and put ^q a ring on his hand, and ^r shoes on his feet: 23 and bring ^s the fatted calf, and kill it, and let us eat, and ^t make merry: 24 for this my son ^u was dead, and is alive again; he was lost, and is found. And they began to be merry. 25 Now his elder son was in the field: and as he came and drew nigh to the house, he heard music and dancing. 26 And he called to him one of the ^v servants, and inquired what these things might be. 27 And he said unto him, Thy brother is come; and thy father hath killed the fatted calf, because he hath received him safe and sound.

28 But he was angry, and would not go in: and his father came out, and intreated him. 29 But he answered and said to his father, Lo, these many years do I serve thee, and I never transgressed a commandment of thine: and yet thou never gavest me a kid, that I might ^v make merry with my friends: 30 but when this thy son came, ^w which hath devoured ^x thy living with harlots, thou killedst for him the fatted calf. 31 And he said unto him, ^y Son, thou art ever with me, and all that is mine is thine. 32 But it was meet ^v to make merry and be glad: for this thy brother ^z was dead, and is alive again; and ^{was} lost, and is found.

16 ¹ And he said also unto the disciples, There was a certain rich man, which had ^a a steward; and the same was accused unto him that he was wasting his goods. 2 And he called him, and said unto him, What is this that I hear of thee? render the account of thy ^b stewardship; for thou canst be no longer steward. 3 And the steward said within himself, What shall I do, seeing that my lord taketh away the stewardship from me? I have not strength to dig; to beg I am ashamed. 4 I am resolved what to do, that, when I am put out of the stewardship, they may receive me into their houses. 5 And calling to him each one of his lord's debtors, he said to the first, How much owest thou unto my lord? 6 And he said, A hundred ⁷ measures of oil. And he said unto him, Take thy ⁸ bond, and sit down quickly and write fifty. 7 Then said he to another, And how much owest thou? And he said, A hundred ⁹ measures of wheat. He saith unto him, Take thy ⁸ bond, and write fourscore. 8 And his lord commended ¹⁰ the unrighteous steward because he had done ^d wisely: for ^e the sons of this ¹¹ world are for their own generation ^d wiser than ^f the sons of the light. 9 And I say unto you, ^g Make to yourselves friends ¹ by means of ^h the mammon of unrighteousness; that, when it shall fail, they may receive you into the eternal tabernacles. ¹⁰ ⁱ He that is ^j faithful in a very little is faithful also in much: and he that is unrighteous in a very little is unrighteous also in much. ¹¹ If therefore ye have not been faithful in the unrighteous mammon, who will commit to your trust the true riches? ¹² And if ye have not been faithful in ^k that which is another's, who will give you that which is ² your own? ¹³ ^h No ³ servant can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon.

¹⁴ And ^l the Pharisees, who were ^m lovers of money, heard all these things; and they ⁿ scoffed at him. ¹⁵ And he said unto them, Ye are they that ^o justify yourselves in the sight of men; but ^p God knoweth your hearts: for that which is exalted among men ^q is an abomination in the sight of God. ¹⁶ ^r The law and the prophets were until John: from that time ^s the gospel of the kingdom of God is preached, and ^t every man entereth violently into it. ¹⁷ But ^u it is easier for heaven and earth to pass away, than for one tittle of the law to fall. ¹⁸ ^v Every one that putteth away his wife, and marrieth another, committeth adultery: and he that marrieth one that is put away from a husband committeth adultery.

¹⁹ Now there was a certain rich man, and he was clothed in ^w purple and fine linen, ^x faring sumptuously every day: ²⁰ and a certain beggar named Lazarus ^y was laid at his gate, full of sores, ²¹ and desiring to be fed with ^z the crumbs that fell from the rich man's table; yea, even the dogs came and licked his sores. ²² And it came to pass, that the beggar died, and that he was carried away by ^a the angels ^b into Abraham's bosom: and the rich man also died, and was buried. ²³ And in ^c Hades he lifted up his eyes, ^d being in torments, and ^e seeth Abraham afar off, and Lazarus ^b in his bosom. ²⁴ And he cried and said, ^f Father Abraham, have mercy on me, and send Lazarus, that he may dip the tip of his finger in water, and ^g cool my tongue; for ^h I am in anguish in this flame. ²⁵ But Abraham said, ⁵ Son, remember that ⁱ thou in thy lifetime receivedst thy good things, and Lazarus in like manner evil things: but now here he is comforted, and thou art in anguish. ²⁶ And ⁶ beside all this, between us and you there is a great gulf fixed, that they which would pass from hence to you may not be able, and that none may cross over from thence to us. ²⁷ And he said, I pray thee therefore, father, that thou wouldest send him to my father's house; ²⁸ for I have five brethren; that he may testify unto them, lest they also come into this place of torment. ²⁹ But Abraham saith, They have ^j Moses and the prophets; ^k let them hear them. ³⁰ And he said, Nay, ^l father Abraham: but if one go to them from the dead, they will repent. ³¹ And he said unto him, If they hear not ^j Moses and the prophets, ^m neither will they be persuaded, if one rise from the dead.

¹ And he said unto his disciples, ⁿ It is impossible but that ^o occasions of stumbling should come: but ^p woe unto him, through whom they come! ² ^q It were well for him if a millstone were hanged about his neck, and he were thrown into the sea, rather than that he should cause one of these little ones to stumble. ³ Take heed to yourselves: ^r if thy brother sin, ^s rebuke him; and if he repent, ^t forgive him. ⁴ And if he sin against thee ^u seven times in the day, and seven times turn again to thee, saying, I repent; thou shalt forgive him.

⁵ And ^v the apostles said unto the Lord, ^w Increase our faith. ⁶ And the Lord said, ^x If ye have faith as ^y a grain of mustard seed, ye would say unto this ^z sycamine tree, Be thou rooted up, and be thou planted in the sea; and it would have obeyed you. ⁷ But who is there of you, having a ⁷ servant plowing or keeping sheep, that will say unto him, when he is come in from the field, Come straightway and sit down to meat; ⁸ and will not rather say unto him, Make ready wherewith I may sup, and ^agird thyself, and serve me, till I have eaten and drunken; and afterward thou shalt eat and drink? ^gDoth he thank the ¹servant because he did the things that were commanded? ¹⁰Even so ye also, when ye shall have done all the things that are commanded you, say, We are ^bunprofitable ²servants; we have done that which it was our duty to do.

¹¹ And it came to pass, ³as they were on the way to Jerusalem, that ^dhe was passing ⁴through the midst of Samaria and Galilee. ¹² And as he entered into a certain village, there met him ten men that were lepers, ^ewhich stood afar off: ¹³ and they lifted up their voices, saying, Jesus, Master, have mercy on us. ¹⁴ And when he saw them, he said unto them, Go and ^fshew yourselves unto the priests. And it came to pass, as they went, they were cleansed. ¹⁵ And one of them, when he saw that he was healed, turned back, with a loud voice ^gglorifying God; ¹⁶ and ^hhe fell upon his face at his feet, giving him thanks: and he was ⁱa Samaritan. ¹⁷ And Jesus answering said, Were not ^jthe ten cleansed? but where are the nine? ¹⁸ ⁵ Were there none found that returned ^kto give glory to God, save this ⁶stranger? ¹⁹ And he said unto him, Arise, and go thy way: ^mthy faith hath ⁷made thee whole.

²⁰ And being asked by the Pharisees, ⁿwhen the kingdom of God cometh, he answered them and said, The kingdom of God ^ocometh not with observation: ²¹ neither ^pshall they say, Lo, here! or, There! for lo, the kingdom of God is ⁸within you.

²² And he said unto the disciples, ^rThe days will come, when ye shall desire ^sto see one of the days of the Son of man, and ye shall not see it. ²³ ^t And they shall say to you, Lo, there! Lo, here! go not away, nor follow after them: ²⁴ ^ufor as the lightning, when it lighteneth out of the one part under the heaven, shineth unto the other part under heaven; so shall the Son of man be ⁹in his day. ²⁵ But first ^wmust

he suffer many things and ^vbe rejected of this generation. ²⁶ ^x And as it came to pass in the days of ^yNoah, even so shall it be also in the days of the Son of man. ²⁷ ^z They ate, they drank, they married, they were given in marriage, until the day that Noah entered into the ark, and the flood came, and destroyed them all. ²⁸ Likewise even as it came to pass in the days of ^aLot; they ate, they drank, they bought, they sold, they planted, they builded; ²⁹ ^b but in the day that Lot went out from Sodom it rained fire and brimstone from heaven, and destroyed them all: ³⁰ after the same manner shall it be ^cin the day that the Son of man is revealed. ³¹ In that day, ^dhe which shall be on ^ethe house-top, and his goods in the house, let him not go down to take them away: and let him that is in the field likewise not return back. ³² ^f Remember Lot's wife. ³³ ^g Whosoever shall seek to ^hgain his ¹⁰life shall lose it: but whosoever shall lose his ¹⁰life shall ¹¹preserve it. ³⁴ I say unto you, In that night there shall be two men on one bed; the one shall be taken, and the other shall be left. ³⁵ ^j There shall be two women ^kgrinding together; the one shall be taken, and the other shall be left. ³⁷ And they answering say unto him, Where, Lord? And he said unto them, ^lWhere the body ^{is}, thither will the ¹³eagles also be gathered together.

18 ¹ And he spake a parable unto them to the end that they ought ^malways to pray, and not ⁿto faint; ² saying, There was in a city a judge, which ^ofeared not God, and regarded not man: and there was a widow in that city; ³ and she came oft unto him, saying, ¹⁴ Avenge me of mine adversary. ⁴ And he would not for a while: but afterward he said within himself, ^pThough I fear not God, nor regard man; ⁵ yet because this widow troubleth me, I will avenge her, lest she ¹⁵wear me out by her continual coming. ⁶ And the Lord said, Hear what ¹⁶^rthe unrighteous judge saith. ⁷ And ^sshall not God avenge ^this elect, ^uwhich cry to him day and night, and ^vhe is longsuffering over them? ⁸I say unto you, that he will avenge them ^wspeedily. Howbeit when the Son of man cometh, ^xshall he find ¹faith on the earth?

⁹And he spake also this parable
unto certain ^ywhich trusted ^zin themselves that they were righteous, ^aand set ²all others at nought:
¹⁰Two men ^bwent up into the temple to pray; the one a Pharisee, and the other a publican. ¹¹The Pharisee ^cstood and prayed ^dthus with himself, God, I thank thee, that I am not as the rest of men, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even as this publican. ¹²^eI fast twice in the week; ^fI give tithes of all that I get. ¹³But the publican, ^gstanding afar off, ^hwould not lift
up so much as his eyes unto heaven,
but ⁱsmote his breast, saying, God,
³ⁱbe merciful to me ⁴a sinner.
¹⁴I say unto you, This man went down to his house justified rather than the other: for ^jevery one that exalteth himself shall be humbled;
but he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.

¹⁵^kAnd they brought unto him
also their babes, that he should touch them: but when the disciples
saw it, they ^lrebuked them. ¹⁶But
Jesus called them unto him, saying, ^mSuffer the little children to come unto me, and ⁿforbid them not:
^mfor of such is the kingdom of God. ¹⁷^oVerily I say unto you, Whosoever shall not ^preceive the kingdom of God as a little child, he shall in no wise enter therein.

¹⁸^qAnd a certain ruler asked him, saying, Good ⁵Master, What shall I do to ^rinherit eternal life? ¹⁹And
Jesus said unto him, Why callest thou me good? none is good, save one, even God. ²⁰Thou knowest
the commandments, ^sDo not commit adultery, Do not kill, Do not steal,
Do not bear false witness, Honour thy father and mother. ²¹And he said, ^tAll these things have I observed from my youth up. ²²And
when Jesus heard it, he said unto him, One thing thou lackest yet: ^usell all that thou hast, and distribute unto the poor, and thou shalt have ^vtreasure in heaven: and come, follow me. ²³^wBut when he heard these things, he became exceeding sorrowful; for he was very rich. ²⁴And Jesus seeing him said, ^xHow hardly shall they that have riches enter into ^ythe kingdom of God! ²⁵For it is easier for a camel to enter in through a needle's eye, than for a rich man to enter into ^ythe kingdom of God.

²⁶And they that heard it said,
Then who can be saved? ²⁷But he said, ^zThe things which are impossible with men are possible with God. ²⁸And Peter said, Lo, ^awe have left ⁶our own, and followed thee. ²⁹And he said unto them, Verily I say unto you, ^bThere is no
man that hath left house, or wife,
or brethren, or parents, or children,
for the kingdom of God's sake, ³⁰who shall not receive ^cmanifold
more ^din this time, and in ^ethe ⁷world to come eternal life.

³¹^fAnd he took unto him the twelve, and said unto them, Behold, ^gwe go up to Jerusalem, and ^hall the things that are written ⁸by
the prophets shall be accomplished unto the Son of man. ³²For he shall be ⁱdelivered up unto the Gentiles, and shall be ^jmocked, and shamefully entreated, and ^kspit
upon: ³³and they shall scourge and kill him: and ^lthe third day he shall rise again. ³⁴^mAnd they understood none of these things; and ⁿthis saying was hid from them,
and they perceived not the things
that were said.

³⁵^oAnd it came to pass, as he drew nigh unto Jericho, a certain ^pblind man sat by the way side begging: ³⁶and hearing a multitude going by, he inquired what this meant. ³⁷And they told him,
that ^qJesus of Nazareth passeth
by. ³⁸And he cried, saying, Jesus, ^rthou son of David, have mercy on
me. ³⁹And they that went before ^srebuked him, that he should hold his peace: but he cried out the more a great deal, Thou son of David, have mercy on me. ⁴⁰And
Jesus stood, and commanded him to be brought unto him: and when he was come near, he asked him, ⁴¹^tWhat wilt thou that I should do unto thee? And he said, Lord, that I may receive my sight. ⁴²And Jesus said unto him, Receive thy sight: "thy faith hath^{1v} made thee whole. 43 And immediately he received his sight, and followed him, glorifying God: and "all the people, when they saw it, gave praise unto God.

1 And "he entered and 19 was passing through Jericho.

2 And behold, a man called by name Zacchæus; and he was a chief publican, and he was rich.

3 And "he sought to see Jesus who he was; and could not for the crowd, because he was little of stature.

4 And he ran on before, and climbed up into "a sycamore tree to see him: for he was to pass that way. 5 And when Jesus came to the place, he looked up, and said unto him, Zacchæus, make haste, and come down; for to-day "I must abide at thy house. 6 And he made haste, and came down, and "received him joyfully. 7 And when they saw it, they all "murmured, saying, He is gone in to lodge with a man that is a sinner. 8 And Zacchæus stood, and said unto the Lord, Behold,

Lord, the half of my goods "I give to the poor; and if I have "wrongfully exacted aught of any man, I restore "fourfold. 9 And Jesus said unto him, To-day is salvation come to this house, forasmuch as "he also is a son of Abraham. 10 For "the Son of man came to seek and to save that which was lost.

11 And as they heard these things, he added and spake a parable, because he was nigh to Jerusalem, and because "they supposed that the kingdom of God was immediately to appear. 12 He said therefore,

"A certain nobleman went into a far country, to receive for himself a kingdom, and to return. 13 And he called "ten "servants of his, and gave them ten "pounds, and said unto them, Trade ye herewith "till I come. 14 But "his citizens hated him, and sent an ambassage after him, saying, We will not that this man reign over us. 15 And it came to pass, when he was come back again, having received the kingdom, that he commanded these "servants, unto whom he had given the money, to be called to him, that he might know what they had gained by trading. 16 And the first came before him, saying, Lord, thy pound hath made ten pounds more.

17 And he said unto him, Well done, thou good "servant: because thou wast found "faithful in a very little,

"have thou authority over ten cities. 18 And the second came, saying, Thy pound, Lord, hath made five pounds. 19 And he said unto him also, Be thou also over five cities.

20 And "another came, saying, Lord, behold, here is thy pound, which I kept laid up in "a napkin: 21 for I feared thee, because thou art "an austere man: thou takest up "that thou layedst not down, and reapest that thou didst not sow. 22 He saith unto him, "Out of thine own mouth will I judge thee, "thou wicked "servant. Thou knewest that I am "an austere man, taking up that I laid not down, and reaping that I did not sow; 23 then wherefore gavest thou not my money into the bank, and "I at my coming should have required it with interest? 24 And he said unto them that stood by, Take away from him

the pound, and give it unto him that hath the ten pounds. 25 And they said unto him, Lord, he hath ten pounds. 26 I say unto you, that "unto every one that hath shall be given; but from him that hath not, even that which he hath shall be taken away from him. 27 Howbeit "these mine enemies, which would not that I should reign over them, bring hither, and "slay them before me.

28 And when he had thus spoken, "he went on before, "going up to Jerusalem.

29 "And it came to pass, when he drew nigh unto Bethphage and "Bethany, at the mount that is called "the mount of Olives, he sent "two of the disciples, 30 saying, Go your way into the village over against you; in the which as ye enter ye shall find a colt tied, "whereon no man ever yet sat:

loose him, and bring him. 31 And if any one ask you, Why do ye loose him? thus shall ye say, The Lord hath need of him. 32 And they that were sent went away, and found "even as he had said unto them. 33 And as they were loosing the colt,

Why loose ye the colt? 34 And they said, The Lord hath need of him.

35 And they brought him to Jesus: and they threw their garments upon the colt, and set Jesus thereon.

36 And as he went, they spread their garments in the way. 37 And as he was now drawing nigh, even at the descent of the mount of Olives, o the whole multitude of the disciples began to rejoice and praise God with a loud voice h for all the mighty works which they had seen; 38 saying, i Blessed is the King that cometh in the name of the Lord: peace in heaven, and k glory in the highest. 39 And some of the Pharisees from the multitude said unto him, 2 Master, rebuke thy disciples. 40 And he answered and said, I tell you that, if these shall hold their peace, m the stones will cry out.

41 And when he drew nigh, he saw the city and o wept over it, 42 saying, 3 If thou hadst known in this day, even thou, the things which belong unto peace! but now they are hid from thine eyes. 43 For r the days shall come upon thee, when thine enemies s shall cast up a 4 bank about thee, and t compass thee round, and keep thee in on every side, 44 and shall dash thee to the ground, and thy children within thee; and v they shall not leave in thee one stone upon another; because thou knewest not w the time of thy x visitation.

45 And he entered into the temple, and began to cast out them that sold, 46 saying unto them, It is written, z And my house shall be a house of prayer: but a ye have made it a den of robbers.

47 And he was teaching daily in the temple. c But the chief priests and the scribes and the principal men of the people sought to destroy him: 48 and they could not find what they might do; for the people all hung upon him, listening.

1 And it came to pass, on 20 one of the days, e as he was teaching the people in the temple, and preaching the gospel, f there came upon him the chief priests and the scribes with the elders; 2 and they spake, saying unto him, Tell us: g By what authority doest thou these things?

or who is he that gave thee this authority? 3 And he answered and said unto them, I also will ask you a 5 question; and tell me: 4 The baptism of John, was it h from heaven, or from men? 5 And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven; he will say, i Why did ye not believe him? 6 But if we shall say, From men; all the people will stone us: for they be persuaded that John was j a prophet. 7 And they answered, that they knew not whence it was. 8 And Jesus said unto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I do these things.

9 And he began to speak unto the people this parable: A man planted a a vineyard, and m let it out to husbandmen, and n went into another country for a long time. 10 And at the season he sent unto the husbandmen a 6 servant, that m they should give him of the fruit of the vineyard: o but the husbandmen beat him, and sent him away empty. 11 And p he sent yet another 6 servant: and him also they beat, and q handled him shamefully, and sent him away empty. 12 And he sent yet a third: and him also they wounded, and cast him forth. 13 And the lord of the vineyard said, What shall I do? I will send my r beloved son: it may be they will reverence him. 14 But when the husbandmen saw him, they reasoned one with another, saying, s This is the heir: t let us kill him, that the inheritance may be ours. 15 And they u cast him forth out of the vineyard, and killed him. What therefore will the lord of the vineyard do unto them? 16 He will w come and destroy these husbandmen, and x will give the vineyard unto others. And when they heard it, they said, 7 God forbid. 17 But he y looked upon them, and said, What then is this that is written, z The stone which the builders rejected,

The same was made the head of the corner?

18 Every one that falleth on that stone shall be broken to pieces; but b on whomsoever it shall fall, c it will scatter him as dust.

priests sought to lay hands on him in that very hour; and they feared the people: for they perceived that he spake this parable against them.

²⁰ And they ^f watched him, and sent forth spies, which ^g feigned themselves to be righteous, that they might ^h take hold of his speech, so as to deliver him up to the rule and to the authority of ⁱ the governor. ²¹ And they asked him, saying, ¹ Master, ^j we know that thou sayest and teachest rightly, and ^k acceptest not the person of any, but of a truth teachest ^l the way of God: ²² Is it lawful for us to give ^m tribute unto ⁿ Cæsar, or not? ²³ But he perceived their ^o craftiness, and said unto them, ²⁴ Shew me ^p a ² penny. Whose image and superscription hath it? And they said, Cæsar's. ²⁵ And he said unto them, Then ^q render unto Cæsar the things that are Cæsar's, and unto God the things that are God's. ²⁶ And they were not able ^r to take hold of the saying before the people: and they marvelled at his answer, and held their peace.

²⁷ And there came to him certain of ^s the Sadducees, ^t they which say that there is no resurrection; and they asked him, ²⁸ saying, ¹ Master, Moses wrote unto us, ^u that if a man's brother die, having a wife, and he be childless, his brother should take the wife, and raise up seed unto his brother. ²⁹ There were therefore seven brethren: and the first took a wife, and died childless; ³⁰ and the second; ³¹ and the third took her; and likewise the seven also left no children, and died. ³² Afterward the woman also died. ³³ In the resurrection therefore whose wife of them shall she be? for the seven had her to wife. ³⁴ And Jesus said unto them, ^v The sons of this ³ world ^w marry, and ^w are given in marriage: ³⁵ but they that are ^x accounted worthy to attain to ^y that ³ world, and the resurrection from the dead, ^z neither marry, ^z nor are given in marriage: ³⁶ for ^a neither can they die any more: for they are ^b equal unto the angels; and ^c are ^d sons of God, being ^e sons of the resurrection. ³⁷ But that the dead are raised, ^f even Moses shewed ^g in ^h the place concerning the Bush, when he

calleth ⁱ the Lord the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob. ³⁸ Now he is not the God of the dead, but of the living: for all ^j live unto him. ³⁹ And certain of the scribes answering ^k said, ¹ Master, thou hast well said. ⁴⁰ For ^l they durst not any more ask him any question.

⁴¹ And he said unto them, How say they that ⁿ the Christ is ⁿ David's son? ⁴² For David himself saith in the book of Psalms,

^o The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand,

⁴³ Till I make thine enemies ^p the footstool of thy feet.

⁴⁴ David therefore calleth him Lord, and ^q how is he his son?

²¹ And he looked up, ⁴ and saw the rich men that were ^x casting their gifts into ^y the treasury. ² And he saw a certain poor widow casting in thither two ^z mites. ³ And he said, Of a truth I say unto you, ^a This poor widow cast in more than they all: ⁴ for all these did of their superfluity cast in unto the gifts: but she of her ^b want did cast in all ^c the living that she had.

⁵ And as some spake of the temple, how it was adorned with goodly stones and ^e offerings, he said, ⁶ As for these things which ye behold, ^f the days will come, in which there shall not be left here one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down. ⁷ And they asked him, saying, ¹ Master, ^g when therefore shall these things be? and what shall be the sign when these things are about to come to pass? ⁸ And he said, ^h Take heed that ye be not led astray: for ⁱ many shall come in my name, saying, ^j I am he; and, ^k The time is at hand: go ye not after them. ⁹ And when ye shall hear of wars and tumults, be not ^l terrified: for these things ^m must needs come to pass first; but the end is not immediately.

10 Then said he unto them, ⁿ Nation shall rise against nation, and ^o kingdom against kingdom: 11 and there shall be great ^p earthquakes, and in divers places ^q famines and pestilences; and there shall be ^r terrors and great ^s signs from heaven. 12 But before all these things, ^t they shall lay their hands on you, and shall persecute you, delivering you up to ^u the synagogues and ^v prisons, 13 ^w bringing you before ^x kings and ^y governors for my name's sake. 14 It shall turn unto you for a testimony. 15 Settle it therefore in your hearts, ^a not to meditate beforehand how to answer: 16 for ^b I will give you a mouth and ^c wisdom, which all your adversaries shall not be able to withstand or ^d to gainsay. 17 But ye shall be delivered up ^e even by parents, and brethren, and kinsfolk, and friends; and ^f some of you ^g shall they cause to be put to death. 18 And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake. 19 And ^h not a hair of your head shall perish. 20 In your ⁱ patience ^j ye shall win your ^k souls.

21 But ^l when ye see Jerusalem compassed with armies, then know that ^m her desolation is at hand. 22 Then let them that are in Judæa flee unto the mountains; and let them that are in the midst of her depart out; and let not them that are in the country enter therein. 23 For these are ⁿ days of ^o vengeance, ^p that all things which are written may be fulfilled. 24 Woe unto them that are with child and to them that give suck in those days! for there shall be great distress upon the ^q land, and ^r wrath unto this people. 25 And they shall fall by the edge of the sword, and ^s shall be led captive into all the nations: and ^t Jerusalem shall be trodden down of the Gentiles, ^u until the times of the Gentiles be fulfilled. 26 And ^v there shall be signs in sun and moon ^w and stars; and upon the earth ^x distress of nations, in perplexity for the roaring of the sea and the billows; 27 men

^y fainting for fear, and for expectation of the things which are coming on ^z the world: for ^a the powers of the heavens shall be shaken. 28 And then shall they see ^b the Son of man coming in a cloud ^c with power and great glory. 29 But when these things begin to come to pass, look up, and ^d lift up your heads; because ^e your redemption draweth nigh.

30 And he spake to them a parable: Behold the fig tree, and all the trees: 31 when they now shoot forth, ye see it and know ^f of your own selves that the summer is now nigh. 32 Even so ye also, when ye see these things coming to pass, know ye that the kingdom of God is nigh. 33 Verily I say unto you, This generation shall not pass away, till all things be accomplished. 34 Heaven and earth shall pass away: but ^g my words shall not pass away.

35 But take heed to yourselves, ^h lest haply ⁱ your hearts be overcharged with surfeiting, and drunkenness, and ^j cares of this life, and ^k that day come on you suddenly ^l as a snare: 36 for ^m so shall it come ⁿ upon all them that dwell on the face of all the earth. 37 But ^o watch ye at every season, ^p making supplication, that ye may ^q prevail to escape all these things that shall come to pass, and ^r to stand before the Son of man.

38 And ^s every day he was teaching in the temple; and ^t every night he went out, and lodged in the mount that is called ^u the mount of Olives. 39 And ^v all the people came early in the morning to him in the temple, to hear him.

1 Now the feast of unleavened bread drew nigh, which is called ^w the Passover. 2 And the chief priests and the scribes ^x sought how they might put him to death; for they feared the people. 3 And ^y Satan entered into ^z Judas who was called Iscariot, being of the number of the twelve. 4 And he went away, and communed with the chief priests and ^a captains, how he might deliver him unto them. 5 And they were glad, and covenanted to give him money. 6 And he consented, and sought opportunity

g Matt. 26. 20.
Mark 14. 17.

14 ^g And when the hour was come, he sat down, and the apostles with him. 15 And he said unto them, With desire I have desired to eat this passover with you before I suffer: 16 for I say unto you, I will not eat of it, ^h until it be fulfilled in the kingdom of God. 17 And he received a cup, and ⁱ when he had given thanks, he said, Take this, and divide it among yourselves: 18 ^j for I say unto you, I will not drink from henceforth of the fruit of the vine, ^k until the kingdom of God shall come. 19 ^k And he took ³ bread, and ⁱ when he had given thanks, he brake it, and gave to them, saying, ^l This is my body ⁴ which is given for you: this do in remembrance of me. 20 And the cup in like manner after supper, saying, ^l This cup is ^m the new ⁵ⁿ covenant in my blood, even that which is poured out for you. 21 ^o But behold, the hand of him that betrayeth me is ^p with me on the table. 22 For the Son of man indeed goeth, ^q as it hath been determined: but woe unto that man through whom he is betrayed! 23 And they began to question among themselves, which of them it was that should do this thing.

24 And ^r there arose also a contention among them, which of them is accounted to be ⁶ greatest. 25 ^s And he said unto them, The kings of the Gentiles ^t have lordship over them; and they that have authority over them are called ^u Benefactors. 26 ^v But ye shall not be so: but ^u he that is the greater among you, let him become as the younger; and he that is chief, as he that doth serve. 27 For whether is greater, ^w he that ⁷ sitteth at meat, or he that serveth? is not he that ⁷ sitteth at meat? but ^x I am in the midst of you as he that serveth. 28 But ye are they which have continued with me ^y in my temptations; 29 and ^{8z} I appoint unto you a kingdom, even as my Father appointed unto me, 30 ^a that ye may eat and drink at my table in my kingdom; and ^b ye shall sit on thrones judging ^c the twelve tribes of Israel. 31 Simon, Simon, behold, ^d Satan ⁹ asked to have you, ^e that he might sift you as wheat: 32 but ^f I made supplication for thee, that thy faith fail not: and do thou, when once thou hast turned again, ^g stablish thy brethren. 33 And he said unto him, Lord, with thee I am ready to go both ^h to prison and ⁱ to death. 34 ^j And he said, I tell thee, Peter, the cock shall not crow this day, until thou shalt thrice deny that thou knowest me.

35 And he said unto them, ^k When I sent you forth without purse, and wallet, and shoes, lacked ye anything? And they said, Nothing. 36 And he said unto them, But now, he that hath a purse, let him take it, and likewise a wallet: ¹⁰ and he that hath none, let him sell his cloke, and buy a sword. 37 For I say unto you, that ^l this which is written must be fulfilled in me, ^m And he was reckoned with transgressors: for ⁿ that which concerneth me hath ¹¹ fulfilment. 38 And they said, Lord, behold, here are two ^o swords. And he said unto them, ^p It is enough.

39 ^q And he came out, and went, ^r as his custom was, unto ^s the mount of Olives; and the disciples also followed him. 40 ^t And when he was at ^u the place, he said unto

53 When ^hI was daily with you in the temple, ye stretched not forth your hands against me: but this is ⁱyour hour, and ^jthe power of darkness.

54 ^kAnd they seized him, and led him away, and brought him into the high priest's house. ^lBut Peter followed afar off. 55 ^mAnd when they had kindled a fire in the midst of ⁿthe court, and had sat down together, Peter sat in the midst of them. 56 And a certain maid seeing him as he sat in the light of the fire, and looking stedfastly upon him, said, This man also was with him. 57 But he denied, saying, Woman, I know him not. 58 And after a little while another saw him, and said, Thou also art one of them. But Peter said, Man, I am not. 59 And after the space of about one hour another ^oconfidently affirmed, saying, Of a truth this man also was with him: for he is a Galilæan. 60 But Peter said, Man, I know not what thou sayest. And immediately, while he yet spake, the cock crew. 61 And the Lord turned, and ^plooked upon Peter. And Peter remembered the word of the Lord, how that he said unto him, ^qBefore the cock crow this day, thou shalt ^rdeny me thrice. 62 And he went out, and wept bitterly.

63 ^sAnd the men that held ³Jesus mocked him, and beat him. 64 ^sAnd they blindfolded him, and asked him, saying, 'Prophecy: ^twho is he that struck thee? 65 And many other things spake they against him, ^ureviling him.

66 ^vAnd as soon as it was day, ^wthe assembly of the elders of the people was gathered together, both chief priests and scribes; and they led him away into their ^xcouncil, ^ysaying, 67 ^zIf thou art ^athe Christ, tell us. 23 ¹And the whole company of them rose up, and brought him before Pilate. 2 And they began to accuse him, saying, We found this man ^fperverting our nation, and ^gforbidding to give tribute to ^hCæsar, and saying that he himself is ⁵Christ ⁱa king. 3 ^jAnd Pilate asked him, saying, ^kArt thou the King of the Jews? 4 Or, Ye say it,

he asked whether the man were a Galilæan. ⁷ And when he knew that he was of ^o Herod's jurisdiction, he sent him unto Herod, who himself also was at Jerusalem in these days.

⁸ Now when Herod saw Jesus, he was exceeding glad: ^p for he was of a long time desirous to see him, ^q because he had heard concerning him; and he hoped ^r to see some ¹ miracle done by him. ⁹ And he questioned him in many words; but he answered him nothing. ¹⁰ And the chief priests and the scribes stood, vehemently accusing him. ¹¹ And Herod with his soldiers ^s set him at nought, and ^t mocked him, and ^u arraying him in gorgeous apparel sent him back to Pilate. ¹² And ^v Herod and Pilate became friends with each other that very day: for before they were at enmity between themselves.

¹³ And Pilate called together the chief priests and ^w the rulers and the people, ¹⁴ and said unto them, Ye brought unto me this man, ^x as one that perverteth the people: and behold, I, ^y having examined him before you, ^z found no fault in this man touching those things whereof ye accuse him: no, nor yet Herod: ¹⁵ for ^a he sent him back unto us; and behold, nothing worthy of death hath been done by him. ¹⁶ ^b I will therefore chastise him, and release him. ¹⁸ ^c But they cried out altogether, saying, ^d Away with this man, and release unto us Barabbas: ¹⁹ one who for a certain insurrection made in the city, and ^e for murder, was cast into prison. ²⁰ And Pilate spake unto them again, desiring to release Jesus; ²¹ but they shouted, saying, Crucify, crucify him. ²² And he said unto them the third time, Why, ^f what evil hath this man done? ^g I have found no cause of death in him: ^h I will therefore chastise him and release him. ²³ But they were instant with loud voices, asking that he might be crucified. And their voices prevailed. ²⁴ And Pilate ⁱ gave sentence that what they asked for should be done. ²⁵ And he released him that ^j for insurrection and murder had been cast into prison, whom they asked for;

^k but Jesus he delivered up to their will.

²⁶ ^l And when they led him away, they laid hold upon one Simon of Cyrene, coming from the country, and laid on him the cross, to bear it after Jesus.

²⁷ And there followed him a great multitude of the people, and of women who ^m bewailed and lamented him. ²⁸ But Jesus turning unto them said, ⁿ Daughters of Jerusalem, weep not for me, but weep for yourselves, and for your children. ²⁹ For behold, ^o the days are coming, in which they shall say, ^p Blessed are the barren, and the wombs that never bare, and the breasts that never gave suck. ³⁰ ^q Then shall they begin to say to the mountains, Fall on us; and to the hills, Cover us. ³¹ For ^r if they do these things in ^s the green tree, what shall be done in ^t the dry?

³² ^u And there were also two others, malefactors, led with him to be put to death.

³³ ^v And when they came unto the place which is called ³ The skull, there they crucified him, and the malefactors, ^w one on the right hand and the other on the left. ³⁴ ^x And Jesus said, Father, ^y forgive them; ^z for they know not what they do. ^a And parting his garments among them, they cast lots. ³⁵ And ^b the people stood beholding. ^c And ^d the rulers also ^e scoffed at him, saying, ^f He saved others; ^g let him save himself, ^h if this is ⁱ the Christ of God, ^j his chosen. ³⁶ And the soldiers also mocked him, coming to him, ^k offering him vinegar, ³⁷ and saying, ^l If thou art ^m the King of the Jews, save thyself. ³⁸ ^k And there was also a superscription over him, THIS IS ^j THE KING OF THE JEWS.

³⁹ And ^l one of the malefactors which were hanged ^m railed on him, saying, Art not thou ⁿ the Christ? save thyself and us. ⁴⁰ But the other answered, and rebuking him said, Dost thou not even fear God, seeing thou art in the same condemnation? ⁴¹ And we indeed justly; for we receive the due reward of ⁴⁴ And it was now about the sixth hour, and a darkness came over the whole ² land until the ninth hour, ³ the sun's light failing : ⁴⁵ and ^s the veil of the ⁴ temple was rent in the midst. ⁴⁶ And ^t when Jesus had cried with a loud voice, he said, Father, ^u into thy hands I ^x commend my spirit : and having said this, ^y he gave up the ghost. ⁴⁷ And ^z when the centurion saw what was done, ^a he glorified God, saying, Certainly this was a righteous man. ⁴⁸ And all the multitudes that came together to this sight, when they beheld the things that were done, returned ^b smiting their breasts. ⁴⁹ And all ^c his acquaintance, and ^d the women that were with him from Galilee ^e stood afar off, seeing these things.

⁵⁰ And behold, a man named Joseph, who was a councillor, a good man and a righteous ⁵¹ (he had not consented to their counsel and deed), ^a man of Arimathæa, a city of the Jews, who ^g was looking for the kingdom of God : ⁵² this man went to Pilate, and asked for the body of Jesus. ⁵³ And he took it down, and wrapped it in a linen cloth, and ^h laid him in a tomb that was hewn in stone, ⁱ where never man had yet lain. ⁵⁴ And it was the day of ^j the Preparation, and the sabbath ⁶ drew on. ⁵⁵ And ^k the women, ⁷ which had come with him out of Galilee, followed after, and beheld the tomb, and how his body was laid. ⁵⁶ And they returned, and ^m prepared spices and ointments.

And on the sabbath they rested ⁿ according to the commandment.

24 ¹ But on the first day of the week, at early dawn, they came unto the tomb, ^p bringing the spices which they had prepared. ² And they found ^q the stone rolled away from the tomb. ³ And they entered in, and found not the body ⁷ of the Lord Jesus. ⁴ And it came to pass, while they were perplexed thereabout, behold, ^r two ^s men stood by them in dazzling apparel : ⁵ and as they were ^t affrighted, and bowed down their faces to the earth, they said unto them, Why seek ye ^u the living among the dead? ⁶ He is not here, but is risen : remember how he spake unto you ^v when he was yet in Galilee, ⁷ saying that the Son of man ^w must be delivered up into the hands of sinful men, and ^x be crucified, and ^y the third day rise again. ⁸ And ^z they remembered his words, ⁹ and returned ¹⁰ from the tomb, and ^a told all these things to the eleven, and to all the rest. ¹⁰ Now they were ^b Mary Magdalene, and ^c Joanna, and Mary the mother of James : and the other women with them told these things unto the apostles. ¹¹ And these words appeared in their sight as idle talk ; and ^d they disbelieved them. ¹² ¹¹ But ^e Peter arose, and ran unto the tomb ; and stooping and looking in, he seeth ^f the linen cloths by themselves ; and he ¹² departed to his home, wondering at that which was come to pass.

¹³ And behold, ^g two of them were going that very day to a village named Emmaus, which was threescore furlongs from Jerusalem. ¹⁴ And they communed with each other of all these things which had happened. ¹⁵ And it came to pass, while they communed and questioned together, that Jesus himself drew near, and went with them. ¹⁶ ^h But their eyes were holden that they should not know him. ¹⁷ And he said unto them, ¹³ What communications are these that ye have one with another, as ye walk? And they stood still, looking sad. ¹⁸ And one of them, named Cleopas, answering said unto him, ¹⁴ Dost thou alone sojourn in Jerusalem and not know the things which are come to pass there in these days? ¹⁹ And he said unto them, What things? priests and ^mour rulers delivered him up to be condemned to death, and crucified him. ²¹ But we hoped that it was he ⁿwhich should redeem Israel. Yea and beside all this, it is now ^othe third day since these things came to pass. ²² Moreover certain women of our company amazed us, ^phaving been early at the tomb; ²³ and ^qwhen they found not his body, they came, saying, that ^rthey had also seen a vision of angels, which said that he was alive. ²⁴ ^sAnd certain of them that were with us went to the tomb, and found it even so as the women had said: but him they saw not. ²⁵ And he said unto them, O foolish men, and slow of heart to believe ¹in all that the prophets have spoken! ²⁶ ^tBehoved it not ^uthe Christ to suffer these things, and to enter into ^vhis glory? ²⁷ And ^wbeginning from ^xMoses and from ^yall the prophets, he interpreted to them in all the scriptures the things concerning himself. ²⁸ And they drew nigh unto the village, whither they were going: and ^zhe made as though he would go further. ²⁹ And they constrained him, saying, Abide with us: for it is toward evening, and ^athe day is now far spent. And he went in to abide with them. ³⁰ And it came to pass, when he had sat down with them to meat, he took the ² bread, and ^b blessed it, and brake, and gave to them. ³¹ ^cAnd their eyes were opened, and they knew him; and ^dhe vanished out of their sight. ³² And they said one to another, ^eWas not our heart burning within us, while he spake to us in the way, while he ^fopened to us the scriptures? ³³ And they rose up that very hour, and returned to Jerusalem, and ^gfound the eleven gathered together, and ^hthem that were with them, ³⁴ saying, The Lord is risen indeed, and ⁱhath appeared to Simon. ³⁵ And they rehearsed the things ^jthat happened in the way, and ^khow he was known of them in ^lthe breaking of the bread.

³⁶ And as they spake these things, ¹he himself stood in the midst of them, ³and saith unto them, Peace ^{be} unto you. ³⁷ But they were ^mterrified and ⁿaffrighted, and ^osupposed that they beheld a spirit. ³⁸ And he said unto them, Why are ye troubled? and wherefore do reasonings arise in your heart? ³⁹ See my hands and my feet, that it is I myself: ^phandle me, and see; for a spirit hath not flesh and bones, as ye behold me having. ⁴⁰ ⁴And when he had said this, ^qhe shewed them his hands and his feet. ⁴¹ And while they still disbelieved ^rfor joy, and wondered, ^she said unto them, Have ye here anything to eat? ⁴² And they gave him a piece of a broiled fish ⁵. ⁴³ And he took it, and ^tdid eat before them.

⁴⁴ And he said unto them, ^uThese are my words which I spake unto you, while I was yet with you, ^vhow that all things must needs be fulfilled, which are written in the law of Moses, and the prophets, and ^wthe psalms, concerning me. ⁴⁵ Then ^xopened he their mind, that they might understand the scriptures; ⁴⁶ and he said unto them, Thus ^yit is written, ^zthat the Christ should suffer, and ^arise again from the dead the third day; ⁴⁷ and that ^brepentance ⁶and remission of sins should be preached ^cin his name ^dunto all the ⁷nations, ^ebeginning from Jerusalem. ⁴⁸ ^fYe are witnesses of these things. ⁴⁹ And behold, I send forth ^gthe promise of my Father upon you: but tarry ye in the city, until ye ^hbe clothed with ⁱpower ^jfrom on high.

⁵⁰ And ^khe led them out until ^lthey were over against ¹Bethany: and he lifted up his hands, and blessed them. ⁵¹ And it came to pass, while he blessed them, ^mhe parted from them, ⁸and was carried up into heaven. ⁵² And they ⁹ⁿworshipped him, and ^kreturned to Jerusalem ^owith great joy: ⁵³ and ^pwere continually in the temple, ^q blessing God.

¹ ^a In the beginning was ^b the Word, and ^c the Word was with God, and ^d the Word was God. ² The same was in the beginning with God. ³ ^e All things were made ^f by him; and without him ^g was not anything made that hath been made. ⁴ ^h In him was life; and ⁱ the life was the light of men. ⁵ And ^j the light shineth in the darkness; and the darkness ^k apprehended it not. ⁶ There came a man, ^l sent from God, whose name was ^m John. ⁷ The same came ⁿ for witness, that he might bear witness of the light, ^o that all might believe through him. ⁸ ^p He was not the light, but ^q came ^r that he might bear witness of the light. ⁹ ^s There was ^t the true light, ^u even the light which lighteth ^v every man, ^w coming into the world. ¹⁰ He was in the world, and ^x the world was made ^y by him, and ^z the world knew him not. ¹¹ He came unto ^{aa} his own, and ^{ab} they that were his own ^{ac} received him not. ¹² But as many as received him, ^{ad} to them gave he the right ^{ae} to become ^{af} children of God, ^{ag} even to them ^{ah} that believe on his name: ¹³ which ^{ai} were ^{aj} born, ^{ak} not of ^{al} blood, ^{am} nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God. ¹⁴ And ^{an} the Word ^{ao} became flesh, and ^{ap} dwelt among us (and ^{aq} we beheld his glory, glory as of ^{ar} the only begotten from the Father), full of ^{as} grace and ^{at} truth. ¹⁵ ^{au} John beareth witness of him, and crieth, saying, ^{av} This was he of whom I said, ^{aw} He that cometh after me is become before me: for he was ^{ax} before me. ¹⁶ For of ^{ay} his fulness we all received, and ^{az} grace for grace. ¹⁷ For ^{ba} the law was given ^{bb} by Moses; ^{bc} grace and truth came ^{bd} by Jesus Christ. ¹⁸ ^{be} No man hath seen God at any time; ^{bf} the only begotten Son, which is in the bosom of the Father, ^{bg} he hath declared ^{bh} him. ¹⁹ And this is the witness of John, when the Jews sent unto him from Jerusalem priests and Levites to ask him, ^{bi} Who art thou? ²⁰ And ^{bj} he confessed, and denied not; and he confessed, I am not the Christ. ²¹ And they asked him, What then? ²² Art thou Elijah? And he saith, I am not. Art thou ^{bk} the prophet? And he answered, No. ²³ They said therefore unto him, Who art thou? that we may give an answer to them that sent us. What sayest thou of thyself? ²⁴ He said, I am ^{bl} the voice of one crying in the wilderness, Make straight the way of the Lord, as said Isaiah the prophet. ²⁵ And they had been sent from the Pharisees. ²⁶ And they asked him, and said unto him, ^{bm} Why then baptizest thou, if thou art not the Christ, neither Elijah, neither the prophet? ²⁷ John answered them, saying, ^{bn} I baptize ^{bo} with water: in the midst of you standeth one whom ye know not, ^{bp} even ^{bq} he that cometh after me, the latchet of whose shoe I am not worthy to unloose. ²⁸ These things were done in ^{br} Bethany beyond Jordan, where John was baptizing. ²⁹ On the morrow he seeth Jesus coming unto him, and saith, Behold, ^{bs} the Lamb of God, which ^{bt} taketh away the sin ^{bu} of the world! ³⁰ This is he of whom I said, ^{bv} After me cometh a man which is become before me: for he was ^{bw} before me. ³¹ And I knew him not; but that he should be made manifest to Israel, ^{bx} for this cause came I baptizing ^{by} with water. ³² And John ^{bz} bare witness, saying, ^{ca} I have beheld the Spirit descending as a dove out of heaven; and ^{cb} it abode upon him. ³³ And I knew him not: but ^ghe that sent me to baptize ^hwith water, he said unto me, Upon whomsoever thou shalt see the Spirit descending, and abiding upon him, ⁱthe same is he that baptizeth ^hwith the Holy Spirit. 34 And I have seen, and have borne witness that this is the Son of God.

35 Again on the morrow John was standing, and two of his disciples; 36 and he looked upon Jesus as he walked, and saith, Behold, ^jthe Lamb of God! 37 And the two disciples heard him speak, and they followed Jesus. 38 And Jesus turned, and beheld them following, and saith unto them, ^kWhat seek ye? And they said unto him, ^lRabbi (which is to say, being interpreted, ^mMaster), where abidest thou? 39 He saith unto them, Come, and ye shall see. They came therefore and saw where he abode; and they abode with him that day: it was about the tenth hour. 40 ^mOne of the two that heard John speak, and followed him, was Andrew, Simon Peter's brother. 41 He findeth first his own brother Simon, and saith unto him, We have found ⁿthe Messiah (which is, being interpreted, ^o³ Christ). 42 He brought him unto Jesus. Jesus looked upon him, and said, Thou art Simon the son of ^pJohn: thou shalt be called ^qCephas (which is by interpretation, ^r⁵ Peter).

43 On ^sthe morrow he was minded ^tto go forth into Galilee, and he findeth Philip: and Jesus saith unto him, Follow me. 44 Now ^uPhilip was from Bethsaida, of the city of Andrew and Peter. 45 Philip findeth ^vNathanael, and saith unto him, We have found him, of whom ^wMoses in the law, and the prophets, did write, Jesus ^xof Nazareth, ^ythe son of Joseph. 46 And Nathanael said unto him, ^zCan any good thing come out of Nazareth? Philip saith unto him, Come and see. 47 Jesus saw Nathanael coming to him, and saith of him, Behold, ^aan Israelite indeed, ^bin whom is no guile! 48 Nathanael saith unto him, Whence ^cknowest thou me? Jesus answered and said unto him, Before Philip called thee, when thou wast under the fig tree, I saw thee. 49 Nathanael answered him, ^dRabbi, ^ethou art the Son of God; thou art ^fKing of Israel. 50 Jesus answered and said unto him, Because I said unto thee, I saw thee underneath the fig tree, believest thou? thou shalt see greater things than these. 51 And he saith unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Ye shall see ^gthe heaven opened, and ^hthe angels of God ascending and descending upon ⁱthe Son of man.

1 And ^jthe third day there was 2 a marriage in ^kCana of Galilee; and the mother of Jesus was there: 2 and Jesus also was bidden, and ^lhis disciples, to the marriage. 3 And when the wine failed, the mother of Jesus saith unto him, They have no wine. 4 And Jesus saith unto her, ^mWoman, ⁿwhat have I to do with thee? ^omine hour is not yet come. 5 His mother saith unto the servants, Whatsoever he saith unto you, do it. 6 Now there were six waterpots of stone set there ^pafter the Jews' manner of purifying, containing two or three ^qfirkins apiece. 7 Jesus saith unto them, Fill the waterpots with water. And they filled them up to the brim. 8 And he saith unto them, Draw out now, and bear unto the ^rruler of the feast. And they bare it. 9 And when the ruler of the feast tasted ^sthe water ^tnow become wine, and knew not whence it was (but the servants which had drawn the water knew), the ruler of the feast calleth the bridegroom, 10 and saith unto him, Every man setteth on first the good wine; and when men have drunk freely, then that which is worse: thou hast kept the good wine until now. 11 This beginning of his signs did Jesus in Cana of Galilee, and manifested ^uhis glory; and ^vhis disciples believed on him.

12 After this he went down to Capernaum, he, and his mother, and ^whis brethren, and his disciples: and there they abode not many days.

13 And ^xthe passover of the Jews was at hand, and Jesus ^ywent up to Jerusalem. 14 ^zAnd he found in the temple those that sold oxen and sheep and doves, and the changers of money sitting: 15 and he made a scourge of cords, and cast all out

1 Or, in 2 Or, Teacher 3 That is, Anointed. 4 Gr. Joanes: called in Matt. 16. 17, Jonah. 5 That is, Rock or Stone. 6 Or, steward 7 Or, that it had become of the temple, both the sheep and the oxen; and he poured out the changers' money, and overthrew their tables; 16 and to them that sold the doves he said, Take these things hence; make not ^ymy Father's house a house of merchandise. 17 His disciples remembered that it was written, ^zThe zeal of thine house shall eat me up. 18 The Jews therefore answered and said unto him, ^aWhat sign shewest thou unto us, seeing that thou doest these things? 19 Jesus answered and said unto them, ^bDestroy this ¹temple, and in three days ^cI will raise it up. 20 The Jews therefore said, Forty and six years was this ¹temple in building, and wilt thou raise it up in three days? 21 But he spake of ^dthe ¹temple of his body. 22 When therefore he was raised from the dead, ^ehis disciples remembered that he spake this; and they believed ^fthe scripture, and the word which Jesus had said.

23 Now when he was in Jerusalem at the passover, during the feast, many believed on his name, ^gbeholding his signs which he did. 24 But Jesus ^hdid not trust himself unto them, for that ⁱhe knew all men, 25 and because he needed not that any one should bear witness concerning ²man; for ⁱhe himself knew what was in man.

1 Now there was a man of the Pharisees, named ^jNicodemus, ^ka ruler of the Jews: 2 the same came unto him ^lby night, and said to him, ^mRabbi, ⁿwe know that thou art a teacher come from God: for no man can do these signs that thou doest, ^oexcept God be with him. 3 Jesus answered and said unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be ^pborn ^qanew, he cannot ^rsee the kingdom of God. 4 Nicodemus saith unto him, How can a man be born when he is old? can he enter a second time into his mother's womb, and be born? 5 Jesus answered, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born ^sof water and the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God. 6 ^tThat which is born of the flesh is ^uflesh; and that which is born of the Spirit ^vis spirit. 7 ^wMarvel not that I said unto thee, Ye must be born

^{3x}anew. 8 ^yThe wind bloweth ^zwhere it listeth, and thou hearest the voice thereof, but knowest not whence it cometh, and whither it goeth: so is every one that is born of the Spirit. 9 Nicodemus answered and said unto him, ^aHow can these things be? 10 Jesus answered and said unto him, Art thou the teacher of Israel, ^band understandest not these things? 11 Verily, verily, I say unto thee, ^cWe speak that we do know, and bear witness of that we have seen; and ^eye receive not our witness. 12 If I told you earthly things, and ye believe not, how shall ye believe, if I tell you heavenly things? 13 And ^dno man hath ascended into heaven, but ^ehe that descended out of heaven, ^feven the Son of man, ^gwhich is in heaven. 14 And ^has Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of man ⁱbe lifted up: 15 that whosoever ^jbelieveth may ^kin him ^lhave eternal life.

16 For ^mGod so loved ⁿthe world, ^mthat he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth on him should not ^operish, but have eternal life. 17 For ^pGod sent not the Son into the world ^qto judge the world; but that the world should be saved through him. 18 ^rHe that believeth on him is not judged: he that believeth not hath been judged already, because he hath not ^sbelieved on the name of the only begotten Son of God. 19 ^tAnd this is the judgement, that ^uthe light is come into the world, and ^vmen loved the darkness rather than the light; for ^wtheir works were evil. 20 ^wFor every one that ^xdoeth ill hateth the light, and cometh not to the light, ^ylest his works should be ^zreproved. 21 But he that ^zdoeth the truth ^zcometh to the light, that his works may be made manifest, ^athat they have been wrought in God.

22 After these things came Jesus and his disciples into the land of Judæa; and there he tarried with them, and ^abaptized. 23 And John also was baptizing in Ænon near to ^bSalim, because there ^cwas much water there: and they came, and were baptized. 24 For ^cJohn was not yet cast into prison. 25 There arose therefore a questioning on the part of John's disciples with a Jew about ^dpurifying. ²⁶And they came unto John, and said to him, ^eRabbi, he that was with thee beyond Jordan, ^fto whom thou hast borne witness, behold, the same baptizeth, and ^gall men come to him. ²⁷John answered and said, ^hA man can receive nothing, ⁱexcept it have been given him ^jfrom heaven. ²⁸Ye yourselves bear me witness, that I said, ^kI am not the Christ, but, that ^lI am sent before him. ²⁹^mHe that hath the bride is the bridegroom: but ⁿthe friend of the bridegroom, which standeth and heareth him, ^orejoiceth greatly because of the bridegroom's voice: this my joy therefore is fulfilled. ³⁰^pHe must increase, but I must decrease. ³¹^qHe that cometh from above ^ris above all: he that is of the earth is of the earth, and of the earth ^she speaketh: ¹^the that cometh from heaven ^ris above all. ³²^uWhat he hath seen and heard, of that he beareth witness; ^vand no man receiveth his witness. ³³He that hath received his witness ^whath set his seal to ^{this}, ^xthat God is true. ³⁴For he whom ^yGod hath sent speaketh the words of God: for he giveth not the Spirit ^zby measure. ³⁵^aThe Father loveth the Son, and ^bhath given all things into his hand. ³⁶^cHe that believeth on the Son hath eternal life; but ^dhe that ²^eobeyeth not the Son shall not ^fsee life, but the wrath of God abideth on him.

4 When therefore the Lord knew how that the Pharisees had heard that Jesus was making and ^gbaptizing more disciples than John ²(although Jesus himself baptized not, but his disciples), ³he left Judæa, and departed ^hagain into Galilee. ⁴And ⁱhe must needs pass through Samaria. ⁵So he cometh to a city of Samaria, called Sychar, near to the parcel of ground ^jthat Jacob gave to his son Joseph: ⁶and Jacob's ³well was there. Jesus therefore, ^kbeing wearied with his journey, sat ⁴^lthus by the ³well. It was about the sixth hour. ⁷There cometh a woman of Samaria to draw water: Jesus saith unto her, ^kGive me to drink. ⁸For his disciples were gone away into the city to buy food. ⁹The Samaritan woman therefore saith unto him, How is it that thou, being a Jew, askest drink of me, which am a Samaritan woman? (⁵^mFor Jews have no dealings with Samaritans.) ¹⁰Jesus answered and said unto her, If thou knewest the gift of God, and who it is that saith to thee, Give me to drink; thou wouldest have asked of him, and he would have given thee ⁿliving water. ¹¹The woman saith unto him, ⁶Sir, thou hast nothing to draw with, and the well is deep: from whence then hast thou that living water? ¹²^oArt thou greater than our father Jacob, ^pwhich gave us the well, and drank thereof himself, and his sons, and his cattle? ¹³Jesus answered and said unto her, Every one that drinketh of this water shall thirst again: ¹⁴but ^qwhosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him ^rshall never thirst; but the water that I shall give him shall become ^sin him a well of water springing up unto eternal life. ¹⁵The woman saith unto him, ⁶Sir, ^tgive me this water, that I thirst not, neither come all the way hither to draw. ¹⁶Jesus saith unto her, Go, ^ucall thy husband, and come hither. ¹⁷The woman answered and said unto him, I have no husband. Jesus saith unto her, Thou saidst well, I have no husband: ¹⁸for thou hast had five husbands; and he whom thou now hast is not thy husband: this hast thou said truly. ¹⁹The woman saith unto him, ⁶Sir, I perceive that ^vthou art ^wa prophet. ²⁰^xOur fathers worshipped in ^ythis mountain; and ye say, that ^zin Jerusalem is ^athe place where men ought to worship. ²¹Jesus saith unto her, ^bWoman, believe me, ^cthe hour cometh, when ^dneither in this mountain, nor in Jerusalem, shall ye worship the Father. ²²^eYe worship that which ye know not: ^fwe worship that which we know: for ^gsalvation is ^hfrom the Jews. ²³But ^hthe hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father ⁱin spirit and ^jtruth: ⁷for such doth the Father

1 Some ancient authorities read he that cometh from heaven beareth witness of what he hath seen and heard. 2 Or, believeth not 3 Gr. spring: and so in ver. 14; but not in ver. 11, 12. 4 Or, as he was 5 Some ancient authorities omit For Jews have no dealings with Samaritans. 6 Or, Lord 7 Or, for such the Father also seeketh

^k Cp. ch. 6. ^k seek to be his worshippers. 24¹ God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship in spirit and truth. 25 The woman saith unto him, I know that ^l Messiah cometh (which is called Christ): when he is come, ^m he will declare unto us all things. 26 Jesus saith unto her, ⁿ I that speak unto thee am he.

27 And upon this ^o came his disciples; and they marvelled that he was speaking with a woman; yet no man said, What seekest thou? or, Why speakest thou with her? 28 So the woman left her waterpot, and went away into the city, and saith to the men, 29 Come, see a man, ^p which told me all things that ever I did: can this be the Christ? 30 They went out of the city, and were coming to him. 31 In the mean while the disciples prayed him, saying, ^q Rabbi, eat. 32 But he said unto them, I have meat to eat that ye know not. 33 The disciples therefore said one to another, ^r Hath any man brought him ought to eat? 34 Jesus saith unto them, ^s My meat is ^t to do the will of him that sent me, and ^u to accomplish his work. 35 Say not ye, There are yet four months, and then cometh the harvest? behold, I say unto you, Lift up your eyes, and look on the fields, ^v that they are ² white already unto harvest. 36 He that reapeth receiveth wages, and gathereth fruit unto life eternal; that ^w he that soweth and ^x he that reapeth ^y may rejoice together. 37 For herein is the saying true, ^z One soweth, and another reapeth. 38 I sent you to reap ^a that whereon ye have not laboured: others have laboured, ^b and ye are entered into their labour.

39 And ^c from that city many of the Samaritans believed on him ^d because of the word of the woman, ^e who testified, He told me all things that ever I did. 40 So when the Samaritans came unto him, they besought him to abide with them: and he abode there two days. 41 And many more believed ^f because of his word; 42 and they said to the woman, Now we believe, not because of thy speaking: for we have heard for ourselves, ^g and know that this is indeed ^h the Saviour ⁱ of the world.

43 And after ^j the two days he went forth from thence into Galilee.

44 For Jesus himself testified, ^k that a prophet hath no honour in his own country. 45 So when he came into Galilee, the Galilæans received him, ^l having seen all the things that he did in Jerusalem at the feast: for ^m they also went unto the feast.

46 He came therefore again unto ⁿ Cana of Galilee, ^o where he made the water wine. And there was a certain ^p nobleman, whose son was sick at Capernaum. 47 When he heard that Jesus ^q was come out of Judæa into Galilee, he went unto him, and besought him that he would come down, and heal his son; for he was at the point of death. 48 Jesus therefore said unto him, ^r Except ye see signs and wonders, ye will in no wise believe. 49 The ^s nobleman saith unto him, ^t Sir, come down ^r ere my child die. 50 Jesus saith unto him, Go thy way; thy son liveth. The man believed the word that Jesus spake unto him, and he went his way. 51 And as he was now going down, his ^u servants met him, saying, that his son lived. 52 So he inquired of them the hour when he began to amend. They said therefore unto him, Yesterday at the seventh hour the fever left him. 53 So the father knew that it was at that hour in which Jesus said unto him, Thy son liveth: and himself believed, ^v and his whole house. 54 ^t This is again the second sign that Jesus did, having come out of Judæa into Galilee.

1 After these things there was ^a ⁶ a ^u feast of the Jews; and Jesus went up to Jerusalem.

2 Now there is in Jerusalem by ^v the sheep gate a pool, which is called in Hebrew ⁷ Bethesda, having five porches. 3 In these lay a multitude of them that were sick, blind, halt, ^w withered⁸. 5 And a certain man was there, which had been thirty and eight years in his infirmity. 6 When Jesus saw him

4 Or, Lord. 5 Gr. bondservants. 6 Many ancient authorities read the feast. 7 Some ancient authorities read Bethsaida, others, Bethzatha. 8 Many ancient authorities insert, wholly or in part, waiting for the moving of the water: 4 for an angel of the Lord went down at certain seasons into the pool, and troubled the water: whosoever then first after the troubling of the water stepped in was made whole, with whatsoever disease he was holden.

lying, and knew that he had been now a long time in that case, he saith unto him, Wouldest thou be made whole? 7 The sick man answered him, ¹Sir, I have no man, ²when the water is troubled, to put me into the pool: but while I am coming, another steppeth down before me. 8 Jesus saith unto him, ³Arise, take up thy bed, and walk. 9 ⁴And straightway the man was made whole, and took up his bed and walked.

⁵Now it was the sabbath on that day. 10 So the Jews said unto him that was cured, It is the sabbath, and ⁶it is not lawful for thee to take up thy bed. 11 But he answered them, He that made me whole, the same said unto me, Take up thy bed, and walk. 12 They asked him, Who is the man that said unto thee, Take up thy bed, and walk? 13 But he that was healed wist not who it was: for ⁷Jesus had conveyed himself away, a multitude being in the place. 14 Afterward Jesus findeth him in the temple, and said unto him, Behold, thou art made whole: ⁸sin no more, ⁹lest a worse thing befall thee. 15 The man went away, and told the Jews that it was Jesus which had made him whole. 16 And for this cause did the Jews ¹⁰persecute Jesus, ¹¹because he did these things on the sabbath. 17 But Jesus answered them, My Father worketh even until now, and I work. 18 For this cause therefore do the Jews ¹²sought the more to kill him, ¹³because he not only ¹⁴brake the sabbath, but also called God ¹⁵his own Father, ¹⁶making himself equal with God.

19 Jesus therefore answered and said unto them,

Verily, verily, I say unto you, ¹⁷The Son ¹⁸can do nothing of himself, but what he seeth the Father doing: for what things soever he doeth, these the Son also doeth in like manner. 20 For ¹⁹the Father loveth the Son, and sheweth him all things that himself doeth: and ²⁰greater works than these will he shew him, that ²¹ye may marvel. 21 For as the Father ²²raiseth the dead and ²³quickeneth them, even so ²⁴the Son also quickeneth ²⁵whom he will. 22 For neither ²⁶doth the Father judge any man, but he ²⁷hath given all judgement unto the Son; 23 that all may honour the Son, even as they ²⁸honour the Father. ²⁹He that honoureth not the Son honoureth not the Father which sent him. 24 Verily, verily, I say unto you, ³⁰He that heareth my word, and ³¹believeth him that sent me, hath eternal life, and ³²cometh not into judgement, but ³³hath passed out of death into life. 25 Verily, verily, I say unto you, ³⁴The hour cometh, and now is, when ³⁵the dead shall hear ³⁶the voice of the Son of God; and they that hear ³⁷shall live. 26 For as the Father hath life in himself, ³⁸even so gave he to the Son also to have life in himself: 27 and he ³⁹gave him authority to execute judgement, because he is ⁴⁰the Son of man. 28 Marvel not at this: for ⁴¹the hour cometh, in which ⁴²all that are in the tombs shall hear his voice, 29 and shall come forth; ⁴³they that have done good, unto the resurrection of life; and they that have ⁴⁴done ill, unto the resurrection of judgement.

30 ⁴⁵I can of myself do nothing: as I hear, I judge: and ⁴⁶my judgement is righteous; because ⁴⁷I seek not mine own will, ⁴⁸but the will of him that sent me. 31 ⁴⁹If I bear witness of myself, my witness is not true. 32 It is ⁵⁰another that beareth witness of me; and ⁵¹I know that the witness which he witnesseth of me is true. 33 ⁵²Ye have sent unto John, and he hath borne witness unto the truth. 34 But ⁵³the witness which I receive is not from man: howbeit I say these things, that ye may be saved.

35 ⁵⁴He was the lamp that burneth and ⁵⁵shineth: and ⁵⁶ye were willing to rejoice for a season in his light. 36 But ⁵⁷the witness which I have is greater than that of John: for ⁵⁸the works which the Father hath given me ⁵⁹to accomplish, the very works that I do, ⁶⁰bear witness of me, that ⁶¹the Father hath sent me. 37 And the Father which sent me, ⁶²he hath borne witness of me. Ye have neither heard his voice at any time, ⁶³nor seen his form. 38 And ⁶⁴ye have not his word abiding in you: for whom he sent, him ye believe not. 39^{1e} Ye search the scriptures, because ye think that in them ye have eternal life; and ^fthese are they which bear witness of me; 40 and ^gye will not come to me, that ye may have life. 41^h I receive not glory from men. 42 But ⁱI know you, that ye have not ^jthe love of God in yourselves. 43 I am come ^kin my Father's name, and ^lye receive me not: ^mif another shall come in his own name, him ye will receive. 44 How can ye believe, which receive glory one of another, and ⁿthe glory that cometh from ^othe only God ye seek not? 45 Think not that I will accuse you to the Father: there is one that accuseth you, even Moses, ^pon whom ye have set your hope. 46 For if ye believed Moses, ye would believe me; for ^qhe wrote of me. 47 But ^rif ye believe not his writings, how shall ye believe my words?

6 ¹After these things ^sJesus went away to the other side of ^tthe sea of Galilee, which is the sea of Tiberias. 2 And a great multitude followed him, because they beheld the signs which he did on them that were sick. 3 And Jesus went up into ^uthe mountain, and there he sat with his disciples. 4 Now ^vthe passover, the ^xfeast of the Jews, was at hand. 5 Jesus therefore ^ylifting up his eyes, and seeing that a great multitude cometh unto him, saith unto ^zPhilip, Whence are we to buy ³bread, that these may eat? 6 And this he said to prove him: for he himself knew what he would do. 7^a Philip answered him, Two hundred ⁴pennyworth of ³bread is not sufficient for them, that every one may take a little. 8 One of his disciples, ^bAndrew, Simon Peter's brother, saith unto him, 9 There is a lad here, which hath five ^cbarley loaves, and two fishes: but ^cwhat are these among so many? 10 Jesus said, Make the people sit down. ^aNow there was much grass in the place. So the men sat down, in number about five thousand. 11 Jesus therefore took the loaves; and ^ehaving given thanks, he distributed to them that were set down; likewise also of the fishes as much as they would.

12 And when they were filled, he saith unto his disciples, Gather up the broken pieces which remain over, that nothing be lost. 13 So they gathered them up, and filled twelve baskets with broken pieces from the five barley loaves, which remained over unto them that had eaten. 14 When therefore the people saw the ⁵sign which he did, they said, ^fThis is of a truth ^gthe prophet ^hthat cometh into the world.

15ⁱ Jesus therefore perceiving that they were about to come and take him by force, to make him king, ^jwithdrew again into ^kthe mountain himself alone.

16 And when evening came, his disciples went down unto the sea; 17 and they entered into a boat, and were going over the sea unto Capernaum. And it was now dark, and Jesus had not yet come to them. 18 And the sea was rising by reason of a great wind that blew. 19 When therefore they had rowed about five and twenty or thirty furlongs, they behold Jesus walking on the sea, and drawing nigh unto the boat: and they were afraid. 20^l But he saith unto them, It is I; be not afraid. 21 They were willing therefore to receive him into the boat: and straightway the boat was at the land whither they were going.

22 On the morrow the multitude which stood on the other side of the sea saw that there was none other ^{6m}boat there, save one, and that Jesus entered not with his disciples into the boat, but that his disciples went away alone 23 (howbeit there came ⁷boats from Tiberias nigh unto the place where they ate the bread after the Lord ⁿhad given thanks): 24^o when the multitude therefore saw that Jesus was not there, neither his disciples, they themselves got into the ⁷boats, and ^pcame to Capernaum, seeking Jesus. 25 And when they found him on the other side of the sea, they said unto him, ^qRabbi, when camest thou hither? 26 Jesus answered them and said, Verily, verily, I say unto you, ^rYe seek me, not because ye saw ^ssigns, but because ye ate of the loaves, and were filled. 27^t Work not for the meat which perisheth, but for ^uthe meat which abideth unto eternal life, which ^vthe Son of man shall give unto you: for ^whim the Father, even God, hath ^xsealed. 28 They said therefore unto him, What must we do, that we may work ^ythe works of God? 29 Jesus answered and said unto them, This is the work of God, ^zthat ye believe on him whom ^{1a}he hath sent. 30 They said therefore unto him, ^bWhat then doest thou for a sign, that we may see, and believe thee? what workest thou? 31^c Our fathers ate the manna in the wilderness; as it is written, ^dHe gave them bread out of heaven to eat. 32 Jesus therefore said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, It was not Moses that gave you the bread out of heaven; but my Father giveth you the true bread out of heaven. 33 For the bread of God is ^ethat which cometh down out of heaven, and giveth life unto the world. 34 They said therefore unto him, ^fLord, evermore give us this bread. 35 Jesus said unto them, ^gI am the bread of life: ^hhe that cometh to me shall not hunger, and he that believeth on me shall never thirst. 36 But ⁱI said unto you, that ye have seen me, and yet believe not. 37^j All that which ^kthe Father giveth me shall come unto me; and ^lhim that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out. 38 For ^mI am come down from heaven, not to do ⁿmine own will, but ^othe will of him ^othat sent me. 39 And ^pthis is the will of him that sent me, that of ^qall that which he hath given me ^rI should lose nothing, but ^sshould raise it up at the last day. 40 For this is the will of my Father, that every one that ^tbeholdeth the Son, and ^ubelieveth on him, ^vshould have eternal life; and ²I will raise him up at the last day.

41 The Jews therefore murmured concerning him, because he said, ^wI am the bread which came down out of heaven. 42 And they said, ^xIs not this Jesus, ^ythe son of Joseph, whose father and mother ^zwe know? how doth he now say, I am come down out of heaven? 43 Jesus answered and said unto them, Murmur not among yourselves. 44 No man can come to me, except the Father which sent me ^adraw him: and ^bI will raise him up in the last day. 45 It is written in the prophets, ^cAnd they shall all be ^dtaught of God. ^eEvery one that hath heard from the Father, and hath learned, cometh unto me. 46^f Not that any man hath seen the Father, save ^ghe which is from God, he ^hhath seen the Father. 47 Verily, verily, I say unto you, ⁱHe that believeth hath eternal life. 48^j I am the bread of life. 49^k Your fathers did eat the manna in the wilderness, and ^lthey died. 50^m This is the bread which cometh down out of heaven, that a man may eat thereof, ⁿand not die. 51 I am the living bread ^owhich came down out of heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live for ever: yea and the bread which I will give is ^pmy flesh, ^qfor the life of the world.

52 The Jews therefore ^rstrove one with another, saying, ^sHow can this man give us his flesh to eat? 53 Jesus therefore said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Except ye eat the flesh of ^tthe Son of man and drink his blood, ye ^uhave not life in yourselves. 54 He that eateth my flesh and drinketh my blood ^vhath eternal life; and ^wI will raise him up at the last day. 55 For my flesh is ^xmeat indeed, and my blood is ^ydrink indeed. 56 He that eateth my flesh and drinketh my blood ^zabideth in me, and I in him. 57 As ^athe living Father ^bsent me, and ^cI live because of the Father; so he that eateth me, he also shall live because of me. 58^d This is the bread which came down out of heaven: not as the fathers did eat, and died: he that eateth this bread shall live for ever. 59 These things said he in ^ethe synagogue, as he taught ^fin Capernaum.

60^g Many therefore of his disciples, when they heard this, said, This is ^ha hard saying; who can hear ⁱit? 61 But Jesus ^jknowing in himself that his disciples murmured at this, said unto them, Doth this cause you to stumble? 62 What then if ye should behold ^kthe Son of man ^lascending ^mwhere he was before? 63 ^jIt is the spirit that quickeneth; ^kthe flesh profiteth nothing: ^lthe words that I have spoken unto you are spirit, and are life. 64 But ^mthere are some of you that believe not. For Jesus ^fknew from the beginning who they were that believed not, and ⁿwho it was that should betray him. 65 And he said, For this cause have I said unto you, ^othat no man can come unto me, except it be given unto him of the Father.

66 ^pUpon this many of his disciples went back, and walked no more with him. 67 Jesus said therefore unto ^qthe twelve, Would ye also go away? 68 Simon Peter answered him, Lord, to whom shall we go? thou ¹hast ^rthe words of eternal life. 69 And ^swe have believed and know that ^tthou art ^uthe Holy One of God. 70 Jesus answered them, ^vDid not I choose you ^qthe twelve, and one of you is ^wa devil? 71 Now he spake of Judas ^xthe son of Simon Iscariot, for ^yhe it was that should betray him, being one of the twelve.

7 And after these things Jesus walked in Galilee: for he would not walk in Judæa, because ^zthe Jews sought to kill him. 2 Now the ^afeast of the Jews, ^bthe feast of tabernacles, was at hand. 3 ^cHis brethren therefore said unto him, Depart hence, and go into Judæa, that ^dthy disciples also may behold thy works which thou doest. 4 For no man doeth anything in secret, ²and himself seeketh to be known openly. If thou doest these things, ^emanifest thyself to the world. 5 ^fFor even ^ghis brethren did not believe on him. 6 Jesus therefore saith unto them, ^hMy time is not yet come; but your time is alway ready. 7 The world cannot hate you; but ⁱme it hateth, because I testify of it, that ^jits works are evil. 8 Go ye up unto the feast: I go not up ³yet unto this feast; because ^kmy time is not yet fulfilled. 9 And having said these things unto them, he abode still in Galilee.

10 But when ^lhis brethren were gone up unto the feast, then went he also up, not publicly, but as it were in secret. 11 ^mThe Jews therefore ⁿsought him at the feast, and said, Where is he? 12 And there was much ^omurmuring among the multitudes concerning him: ^psome said, He is a good man; others said, Not so, but he ^qleadeth the multitude astray. 13 Howbeit no man spake openly of him ^rfor fear of the Jews.

14 But when it was now the midst of the feast Jesus went up ^sinto the temple, and taught. 15 The Jews therefore ^tmarvelled, saying, How knoweth this man letters, having never learned? 16 Jesus therefore answered them, and said, ^uMy teaching is not mine, but his ^vthat sent me. 17 ^wIf any man willet to do his will, ^xhe shall know of the teaching, whether it be of God, or whether I ^yspeak from myself. 18 He that speaketh from himself ^zseeketh his own glory: but he that seeketh the glory of him that sent him, the same is true, and no unrighteousness is in him. 19 ^aDid not Moses give you the law, and yet none of you doeth the law? ^bWhy seek ye to kill me? 20 The multitude answered, ^cThou hast a ^ddevil: who seeketh to kill thee? 21 Jesus answered and said unto them, I did ^eone work, and ye all ^fmarvel. 22 For this cause hath ^gMoses given you circumcision (not that it is of Moses, but ^hof the fathers); and on the sabbath ye circumcise a man. 23 If a man receiveth circumcision on the sabbath, that the law of Moses may not be broken; ⁱare ye wroth with me, because I made a man every whit whole on the sabbath? 24 ^jJudge not according to appearance, but judge righteous judgement.

25 Some therefore of them of Jerusalem said, Is not this he whom ^kthey seek to kill? 26 And lo, ^lhe speaketh openly, and they say nothing unto him. Can it be that ^mthe rulers indeed know that this is the Christ? 27 Howbeit ⁿwe know this man ^owhence he is: but when the Christ cometh, ^pno one knoweth whence he is. 28 Jesus therefore cried ^qin the temple, teaching and saying, ^rYe both know me, and know whence I am; and ^sI am not come of myself, but ^the that sent me is true, ^uwhom ye know not. 29^s I know him; because I am ^tfrom him, and ^uhe sent me. 30^v They sought therefore to take him: and ^wno man laid his hand on him, ^xbecause his hour was not yet come. 31 But ^yof the multitude many believed on him; and they said, ^zWhen the Christ shall come, will he do more signs than those which this man hath done? 32 The Pharisees heard the multitude ^amurmuring these things concerning him; and the chief priests and the Pharisees sent ^bofficers to take him. 33 Jesus therefore said, ^cYet a little while am I with you, and ^dI go unto him that sent me. 34^e Ye shall seek me, and shall not find me: and where I am, ye cannot come. 35 The Jews therefore said among themselves, Whither will this man go that we shall not find him? ^fwill he go unto ^gthe Dispersion ^hamong ⁱthe Greeks, and teach the Greeks? 36 What is this word that he said, ^jYe shall seek me, and shall not find me: and where I am, ye cannot come?

37 Now ^jon the last day, the great day of the feast, Jesus stood and cried, saying, ^kIf any man thirst, let him ^lcome unto me, and drink. 38 He that believeth on me, ^mas the scripture hath said, ⁿout of his belly shall flow rivers of ^oliving water. 39 But ^pthis spake he of the Spirit, ^qwhich they that believed on him were to receive: ^rfor the Spirit was not yet ^sgiven; ^tbecause Jesus was not yet ^uglorified. 40^v Some of the multitude therefore, when they heard these words, said, This is of a truth ^wthe prophet. 41 Others said, This is ^xthe Christ. But some said, What, ^ydoth the Christ come out of Galilee? 42 Hath not the scripture said that the Christ cometh ^zof the seed of David, and ^afrom Bethlehem, the village ^bwhere David was? 43 So there arose ^ca division in the multitude because of him. 44^d And some of them would have taken him; but no man laid hands on him.

45^e The officers therefore came to the chief priests and Pharisees;

and they said unto them, Why did ye not bring him? 46 The officers answered, ^fNever man so spake. 47 The Pharisees therefore answered them, ^gAre ye also led astray? 48^h Hath any of the rulers believed on him, or of the Pharisees? 49 But this multitude which knoweth not the law are accursed. 50ⁱ Nicodemus saith unto them (he that came to him before, being one of them), 51^j Doth our law judge a man, except it first ^khear from himself and know what he doeth? 52 They answered and said unto him, ^lArt thou also of Galilee? Search, and ^msee that ⁿout of Galilee ariseth no prophet.

53⁴ [And they went every man unto his own house: ¹but Jesus went unto the mount of Olives. ²And ⁿearly in the morning he came again into the temple, and all the people came unto him; and ^ohe sat down, and taught them. ³And the scribes and the Pharisees bring a woman taken in adultery; and having set her in the midst, ⁴they say unto him, ⁵Master, this woman hath been taken in adultery, in the very act. ⁵Now ^pin the law Moses commanded us ^qto stone such: what then sayest thou of her? ⁶And this they said, ^rtempting him, ^sthat they might have whereof to accuse him. But Jesus stooped down, and with his finger wrote on the ground. ⁷But when they continued asking him, he lifted up himself, and said unto them, ^tHe that is without sin among you, let him ^ufirst cast a stone at her. ⁸And again he stooped down, and with his finger wrote on the ground. ⁹And they, when they heard it, went out one by one, beginning from the eldest, even unto the last: and Jesus was left alone, and the woman, where she was, in the midst. ¹⁰And Jesus lifted up himself, and said unto her, Woman, where are they? did no man condemn thee? ¹¹And she said, Noman, Lord. And Jesus said, ^vNeither do I condemn thee: go thy way; from henceforth ^wsin no more.]

12^x Again therefore Jesus spake unto them, saying, ^yI am the light of the world: he that ^zfolloweth me shall not ^awalk in the darkness, but shall have the light of life. 13 The Pharisees therefore said unto him, ^bThou bearest witness of thyself; thy witness is not true. 14 Jesus answered and said unto them, Even if I bear witness of myself, ^cmy witness is true; for I know ^dwhence I came, and ^ewhither I go; but ^fye know not whence I come, or whither I go. 15^y Ye judge after the flesh; ^hI judge no man. 16 Yea and if I judge, ⁱmy judgement is true; for ^jI am not alone, but I and the Father that sent me. 17 Yea and ^kin your law it is written, that the witness of two men is true. 18 I am he that beareth witness of myself, and ^lthe Father that sent me beareth witness of me. 19 They said therefore unto him, Where is thy Father? Jesus answered, ^mYe know neither me, nor my Father: ⁿif ye knew me, ye would know my Father also. 20 These words spake he in ^othe treasury, as he taught in the temple: and ^pno man took him; because ^qhis hour was not yet come.

21 He said therefore again unto them, ^rI go away, and ^sye shall seek me, and ^tshall die in your sin: whither I go, ye cannot come. 22 The Jews therefore said, ^uWill he kill himself, that he saith, Whither I go, ye cannot come? 23 And he said unto them, ^vYe are from beneath; I am from above: ^wye are of this world; ^xI am not of this world. 24 I said therefore unto you, that ye ^yshall die in your sins: for ^zexcept ye believe that ^{1a}I am ^{he}, ye shall die in your sins. 25 They said therefore unto him, ^bWho art thou? Jesus said unto them, ^{2c}Even that which I have also spoken unto you from the beginning. 26 I have many things to speak and to judge concerning you: howbeit ^dhe that sent me is true; and ^ethe things which I heard from him, these speak I ^{3f}unto the world. 27 They perceived not that ^ghe spake to them of the Father. 28 Jesus therefore said, When ye have ^hlifted up the Son of man, ⁱthen shall ye know that ^{4j}I am ^{he}, and ^{that} ^kI do nothing of myself, but ^las the Father taught me, I speak these things. 29 And ^mhe that sent me is with me; ⁿhe hath not left me alone; for ⁿI do always the things that are pleasing to him. 30 As he spake these things, ^omany believed on him.

31 Jesus therefore said to those Jews which had believed him, ^pIf ye abide in my word, ^{then} are ye truly my disciples; 32 and ye shall ^qknow the truth, and the truth ^rshall make you free. 33 They answered unto him, ^sWe be Abraham's seed, and have never yet been in bondage to any man: how sayest thou, Ye shall be made free? 34 Jesus answered them, Verily, I say unto you, ^tEvery one that committeth sin is the bondservant of sin. 35 And ^uthe bondservant abideth not in the house for ever: ^vthe son abideth for ever. 36 If therefore ^wthe Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed. 37 I know that ye are Abraham's seed; yet ^xye seek to kill me, because my word ⁵hath not free course in you. 38^y I speak the things which I have seen with ⁶my Father: and ye also do the things which ye heard ^zfrom ^{your} father. 39 They answered and said unto him, ^aOur father is Abraham. Jesus saith unto them, ^bIf ye ⁷were Abraham's children, ⁸ye would do the works of Abraham. 40 But now ^cye seek to kill me, a man that hath told you the truth, ^dwhich I heard from God: this did not Abraham. 41 Ye do the works of your father. They said unto him, ^eWe were not born of fornication; we have ^fone Father, ^{even} God. 42 Jesus said unto them, ^gIf God were your Father, ye would love me: for ^hI came forth and ⁱam come from God; for ^jneither have I come of myself, but ^khe sent me. 43^l Why do ye not ⁹understand my speech? ^{Even} because ^mye cannot hear my word. 44ⁿ Ye are of ^{your} father the devil, and the lusts of your father it is your will to do. ^oHe was a murderer from the beginning, and ^{10p}stood not in the truth, because there is no truth in him. ¹When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his own: for he is a liar, and the father thereof. ⁴⁵But because I say the truth, ye believe me not. ⁴⁶Which of you convicteth me of sin? If I say truth, why do ye not believe me? ⁴⁷He that is of God heareth the words of God: ^sfor this cause ye hear them not, because ^tye are not of God. ⁴⁸The Jews answered and said unto him, Say we not well that thou art a Samaritan, and ^uhast a ²devil? ⁴⁹Jesus answered, I have not a ²devil; but ^vI honour my Father, and ye dishonour me. ⁵⁰But ^wI seek not mine own glory: there is one that seeketh and judgeth. ⁵¹Verily, verily, I say unto you, ^xIf a man keep my word, he shall never ^ysee death. ⁵²The Jews said unto him, Now we know that thou hast a ²devil. ^zAbraham is dead, and the prophets; and ^athou sayest, If a man keep my word, he shall never ^btaste of death. ⁵³Art thou greater than our father Abraham, which is dead? and the prophets are dead: whom makest thou thyself? ⁵⁴Jesus answered, ^dIf I glorify myself, my glory is nothing: ^eit is my Father that glorifieth me; ^fof whom ye say, that he is your God; ⁵⁵and ^gye have not known him: ^hbut I know him; and if I should say, I know him not, I shall be ⁱlike unto you, ^ja liar: but I know him, and keep his word. ⁵⁶^kYour father Abraham ^lrejoiced ^{3m}to see my day; and ⁿhe saw it, and was glad. ⁵⁷The Jews therefore said unto him, Thou art not yet fifty years old, and hast thou seen Abraham? ⁵⁸Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Before Abraham ⁴was, ^oI am. ⁵⁹^pThey took up stones therefore to cast at him: but ^qJesus ⁵hid himself, and went out of the temple ^{6r}.

² And his disciples asked him, saying, ^sRabbi, ^twho did sin, ^uthis man, or ^vhis parents, that he should be born blind? ³ Jesus answered, Neither did this man sin, nor his parents: but ^wthat the works of God should be made manifest in him. ⁴ We must ^xwork the works of him that sent me, ^ywhile it is day: the night cometh, when no man can work. ⁵ When I am in the world, ^zI am the light of the world. ⁶ When he had thus spoken, ^ahe spat on the ground, and made clay of the spittle, ^{7b}and anointed his eyes with the clay, ⁷and said unto him, Go, wash in ^cthe pool of Siloam (which is by interpretation, Sent). He went away therefore, and washed, and ^dcame seeing. ⁸ The neighbours therefore, and they which saw him aforetime, that he was a beggar, said, ^eIs not this he that sat and begged? ⁹ Others said, It is he: others said, No, but he is like him. He said, I am he. ¹⁰ They said therefore unto him, How then were thine eyes opened? ¹¹ He answered, ^fThe man that is called Jesus made clay, and anointed mine eyes, and said unto me, Go to Siloam, and wash: so I went away and washed, and I received sight. ¹² And they said unto him, Where is he? He saith, I know not.

¹³ They bring to the Pharisees him that aforetime was blind. ¹⁴ Now it was the sabbath on the day when Jesus made the clay, and opened his eyes. ¹⁵ ^hAgain therefore the Pharisees also asked him how he received his sight. And he said unto them, He put clay upon mine eyes, and I washed, and do see. ¹⁶ Some therefore of the Pharisees said, This man is not ⁱfrom God, ^jbecause he keepeth not the sabbath. But others said, ^kHow can a man that is a sinner do such signs? And ^lthere was a division among them. ¹⁷ They say therefore unto the blind man again, What sayest thou of him, in that he opened thine eyes? And he said, ^mHe is a prophet. ¹⁸ ⁿThe Jews therefore did not believe concerning him, that he had been blind, and had received his sight, until they called the parents of him that had received his sight, ¹⁹and asked them, saying, Is this your son, who ye say was born blind? how then doth he now see? ²⁰ His parents answered and said, We know that this is our son, and that he was born blind: ²¹but how he now seeth, we know not; or who opened his eyes, we know not: ask him; he is of age; he shall speak for himself. ²²These things said his parents, ^obecause they feared the Jews: for ^pthe Jews had agreed already, that if any man should ^qconfess him to be Christ, ^rhe should be put out of the synagogue. ²³Therefore said his parents, ^sHe is of age; ask him. ²⁴So they called a second time the man that was blind, and said unto him, ^tGive glory to God: we know that ^uthis man is a sinner. ²⁵He therefore answered, Whether he be a sinner, I know not: one thing I know, that, whereas I ^vwas blind, now I see. ²⁶They said therefore unto him, What did he to thee? how opened he thine eyes? ²⁷He answered them, ^wI told you even now, and ye did not hear: wherefore would ye hear it again? would ye also become his disciples? ²⁸And they reviled him, and said, Thou art his disciple; but ^xwe are disciples of Moses. ²⁹We know that God hath spoken unto Moses: but as for this man, ^ywe know not whence he is. ³⁰The man answered and said unto them, Why, herein is ^zthe marvel, that ^aye know not whence he is, and ^yet he opened mine eyes. ³¹We know that ^bGod heareth not sinners: but ^cif any man be a worshipper of God, and do his will, him he heareth. ³²Since the world began it was never heard that any one opened the eyes of a man born blind. ³³^dIf this man were not from God, he could do nothing. ³⁴They answered and said unto him, ^eThou wast altogether born in sins, and dost thou teach us? And they ^fcast him out. ³⁵Jesus heard that they had cast him out; and finding him, he said, Dost thou believe on ^{1g}the Son of God? ³⁶He answered and said, ^hAnd who is he, Lord, that I may believe on him? ³⁷Jesus said unto him, Thou hast both seen him, and ⁱhe it is that speaketh with thee. ³⁸And he said, Lord, I believe. And he worshipped him. ³⁹And Jesus said, ^jFor judgement came I into this world, ^kthat they which see not may see; and ^lthat they which see may become blind.

⁴⁰Those of the Pharisees which were with him heard these things, and said unto him, ^mAre we also blind? ⁴¹Jesus said unto them, If ye were blind, ⁿye would have no sin: but now ye say, We see: your sin remaineth.

¹Verily, verily, I say unto IO you, He that entereth not by the door into the fold of the sheep, but climbeth up some other way, the same is a thief and a robber. ²But he that entereth in by the door is ²the shepherd of the sheep. ³To him the porter openeth; and the sheep hear his voice: and he calleth his own sheep by name, and leadeth them out. ⁴When he hath put forth all his own, he goeth before them, and the sheep follow him: for they know his voice. ⁵And ^oa stranger will they not follow, but will flee from him: for they know not the voice of strangers. ⁶This ^{3p}parable spake Jesus ^qunto them: but they ^runderstood not what things they were which he spake unto them.

⁷Jesus therefore said unto them again, Verily, verily, I say unto you, ^sI am the door of the sheep. ⁸All that came before me are thieves and robbers: but the sheep did not hear them. ⁹I am the door: by me if any man enter in, ^the shall be saved, and shall ^ugo in and go out, and ^vshall find pasture. ¹⁰The thief cometh not, but that he may steal, and ^wkill, and destroy: I came that they may have life, and may ^{4x}have it abundantly. ¹¹^yI am the good shepherd: the good shepherd ^zlayeth down his life for the sheep. ¹²He that is ^aa hireling, and not a shepherd, whose own the sheep are not, beholdeth the wolf coming, and ^bleaveth the sheep, and fleeth, and the wolf snatcheth them, and ^cscattereth them: ¹³he fleeth because ^dhe is a hireling, and ^ecareth not for the sheep. ¹⁴^fI am the good shepherd; and ^gI know mine own, and ^hmine own know me, ¹⁵ⁱeven as the Father knoweth me, and I know the Father; and ^jI lay down my life for the sheep. ¹⁶And ^kother sheep I have, which are not of this fold: ^lthem also I must ^{5m}bring, and ⁿthey shall hear my voice; and ⁶they shall become ^oone flock, ^pone

shepherd. 17^a Therefore doth the Father love me, ^rbecause ^sI lay down my life, that I may take it again. 18^t No one ¹taketh it away from me, but ^sI lay it down ^uof myself. I have ²power to lay it down, and ^vI have ²power to take it again. ^wThis commandment received I from my Father.

19^x There arose a division again among the Jews because of these words. 20 And many of them said, ^yHe hath a ³devil, and ^zis mad; why hear ye him? 21 Others said, These are not the sayings of one possessed with a ³devil. ^aCan a ³devil open the eyes of the blind?

22^d And it was the feast of ^bthe dedication at Jerusalem: it was winter; 23 and Jesus was walking in the temple ^cin Solomon's porch. 24 The Jews therefore came round about him, and said unto him, How long dost thou hold us in suspense? If thou art ^dthe Christ, ^etell us plainly. 25 Jesus answered them, I told you, and ye believe not: ^fthe works that I do ^gin my Father's name, these bear witness of me. 26 But ^hye believe not, because ye are not of my sheep. 27ⁱ My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me: 28 and ^jI give unto them eternal life; and ^kthey shall never perish, and ^lno one shall snatch them out of my hand. 29^m My Father, ⁿwhich hath given them unto me, ^ois greater than all; and no one is able to snatch ⁶them out of ^pthe Father's hand. 30^q I and the Father are one. 31^r The Jews took up stones again to stone him. 32 Jesus answered them, Many good works have I shewed you from the Father; for which of those works do ye stone me? 33 The Jews answered him, For a good work we stone thee not, but ^sfor blasphemy; and because that thou, being a man, ^tmakest thyself God. 34 Jesus answered them, Is it not written in ^uyour law, ^vI said, Ye are gods? 35 If he called them gods, unto whom the word of God came (and the scripture cannot be ^wbroken), 36 say ye of him, whom ^xthe Father ^ysanctified and ^zsent into the world, Thou blasphemest; because ^aI said, I am ^{the}Son of God? 37^b If I do not the works of my Father, believe me not. 38 But if I do them, ^cthough ye believe not me, believe the works: that ye may know and understand that ^dthe Father is in me, and I in the Father. 39^e They sought again to take him: and ^fhe went forth out of their hand.

40 And he went away again beyond Jordan into the place ^gwhere John was at the first baptizing; and there he abode. 41 And many came unto him; and they said, John indeed did no sign: but ^hall things whatsoever John spake of this man were true. 42 And ⁱmany believed on him there.

II Now a certain man was sick, Lazarus of Bethany, of the village of ^jMary and her sister Martha. 2 And ^kit was that Mary which anointed the Lord with ointment, and wiped his feet with her hair, whose brother Lazarus was sick. 3 The sisters therefore sent unto him, saying, Lord, behold, ^lhe whom thou lovest is sick. 4 When Jesus heard it, he said, ^mthis sickness is not unto death, but for ⁿthe glory of God, that the Son of God may be glorified thereby. 5 Now ^oJesus loved Martha, and her sister, and Lazarus. 6 When therefore he heard that he was sick, ^phe abode at that time two days in the place where he was. 7 Then after this he saith to the disciples, ^qLet us go into Judæa again. 8 The disciples say unto him, ^rRabbi, ^sthe Jews were but now seeking to stone thee; and goest thou thither again? 9 Jesus answered, ^tAre there not twelve hours in the day? ^uIf a man walk in the day, he stumbleth not, because he seeth the light of this world. 10 But ^vif a man walk in the night, he stumbleth, because the light is not ^win him. 11 These things spake he: and after this he saith unto them, Our friend Lazarus ^xis fallen asleep; but I go, that I may awake him out of sleep. 12 The disciples therefore said unto him, Lord, if he is fallen asleep, he will ^yrecover. 13 Now Jesus had spoken of his death: but they thought that he spake of taking rest in sleep. 14 Then Jesus therefore said unto them plainly, Lazarus is dead. 15 And I am glad for your sakes

that I was not there, to the intent ye may believe; nevertheless let us go unto him. ¹⁶ Thomas therefore, who is called ¹ Didymus, said unto his fellow-disciples, Let us also go, ² that we may die with him.

¹⁷ So when Jesus came, he found that he had been in the tomb ^a four days already. ¹⁸ Now Bethany was nigh unto Jerusalem, about fifteen furlongs off; ¹⁹ and many of the Jews had come to Martha and Mary, ^b to console them concerning their brother. ²⁰ ^c Martha therefore, when she heard that Jesus was coming, went and met him: but Mary still sat in the house. ²¹ Martha therefore said unto ^d Jesus, Lord, ^e if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died. ²² And even now I know that, whatsoever thou shalt ask of God, ^f God will give thee. ²³ Jesus saith unto her, Thy brother shall rise again. ²⁴ ^g Martha saith unto him, I know that he shall rise again in ^h the resurrection at that day. ²⁵ Jesus said unto her, ⁱ I am the resurrection, and ^j the life: he that believeth on me, ^k though he die, ^l yet shall he live: ²⁶ and whosoever liveth and believeth on me ^m shall never die. Believest thou this? ²⁷ She saith unto him, Yea, Lord: ⁿ I have believed that ^o thou art the Christ, the Son of God, ^{even} ^p he that cometh into the world. ²⁸ And when she had said this, she went away, and called Mary ² her sister secretly, saying, ^q The ³ Master is here, and calleth thee. ²⁹ And she, when she heard it, arose quickly, and went unto him. ³⁰ (Now Jesus was not yet come into the village, but was still in the place where Martha met him.) ³¹ The Jews then ^r which were with her in the house, and were comforting her, when they saw Mary, that she rose up quickly and went out, followed her, supposing that she was going unto the tomb to ^s weep there. ³² Mary therefore, when she came where Jesus was, and saw him, fell down at his feet, saying unto him, ^t Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died. ³³ When Jesus therefore saw her ^u weeping, and the Jews ^{also} ^v weeping which came with her, he ⁶ ^t groaned in the spirit, and ⁷ was ^u troubled, ³⁴ and said, Where have ye laid him? They say unto him, Lord, come and see. ³⁵ ^v Jesus wept. ³⁶ The Jews therefore said, Behold ^w how he loved him! ³⁷ But some of them said, Could not this man, ^x which opened the eyes of him that was blind, ^y have caused that this man also should not die? ³⁸ Jesus therefore again ⁸ ^z groaning in himself cometh to the tomb. Now it was ^a a cave, and ^b a stone lay ⁹ against it. ³⁹ Jesus saith, Take ye away the stone. Martha, the sister of him that was dead, saith unto him, Lord, by this time he stinketh: for ^c he hath been ^{dead} four days. ⁴⁰ Jesus saith unto her, ^d Said I not unto thee, that, if thou believedst, thou shouldest see ^e the glory of God? ⁴¹ So they took away the stone. And Jesus ^f lifted up his eyes, and said, Father, I thank thee that thou hearest me. ⁴² And ^g I knew that thou hearest me always: but ^h because of the multitude which standeth around I said it, ⁱ that they may believe that thou didst send me. ⁴³ And when he had thus spoken, he cried with a loud voice, Lazarus, come forth. ⁴⁴ ^j He that was dead came forth, ^k bound hand and foot with ¹⁰ grave-clothes; and ^l his face was bound about with a napkin. Jesus saith unto them, Loose him, and let him go.

⁴⁵ ^m Many therefore of the Jews, ⁿ which came to Mary and ^o beheld ¹¹ that which he did, believed on him. ⁴⁶ But some of them went away to the Pharisees, and told them the things which Jesus had done.

⁴⁷ The chief priests therefore and the Pharisees ^p gathered ^q a council, and said, ^r What do we? for this man doeth many signs. ⁴⁸ If we let him thus alone, all men will believe on him: and ^s the Romans will come and take away both our ^t place and our nation. ⁴⁹ But a certain one of them, ^u Caiaphas, ^v being high priest that year, said unto them, Ye know nothing at all, ⁵⁰ nor do ye take account that ^w it is expedient for you that one man should die for the people, and that the whole nation perish not. ⁵¹ Now thus he said not of himself: but ^a being high priest that year, ^v he prophesied that Jesus should die for the nation; ⁵² and ^z not for the nation only, but ^a that he might also gather together into one the children of God that are scattered abroad. ⁵³ So from that day forth they ^b took counsel that they might put him to death.

⁵⁴ Jesus therefore ^c walked no more openly among the Jews, but departed thence into the country near to the wilderness, into a city called ^d Ephraim; and there he tarried with the disciples. ⁵⁵ Now ^e the passover of the Jews was at hand: and ^f many went up to Jerusalem out of the country before the passover, ^g to purify themselves. ⁵⁶ ^h They sought therefore for Jesus, and spake one with another, as they stood in the temple, What think ye? That he will not come to the feast? ⁵⁷ Now the chief priests and the Pharisees had given commandment, that, if any man knew where he was, he should shew it, that they might take him.

¹ ⁱ Jesus therefore six days before ^j the passover came to Bethany, ^k where Lazarus was, whom Jesus raised from the dead. ² So they made him a supper there: and ^l Martha served; but Lazarus was one of them that sat at meat with him. ³ ^m Mary therefore took a pound of ointment of ¹ spikenard, very precious, and anointed the feet of Jesus, and wiped his feet with her hair: and the house was filled with the odour of the ointment. ⁴ But Judas Iscariot, one of his disciples, which should betray him, saith, ⁵ Why was not this ointment sold for three hundred ² pence, and ⁿ given to the poor? ⁶ Now this he said, not because he cared for the poor; but because he was a thief, and ⁿ having the ³ bag ⁴ took away what was put therein. ⁷ Jesus therefore said, ⁵ Suffer her to keep it against the day of my burying. ⁸ For the poor ye have always with you; but me ye have not always.

⁹ The ^o common people therefore of the Jews learned that he was there: and they came, not for Jesus' sake only, but that they might see Lazarus also, ^p whom he had raised from the dead. ¹⁰ ^q But the chief priests took counsel that they might put Lazarus also to death; ¹¹ because that ^r by reason of him many of the Jews went away, and believed on Jesus.

¹² On the morrow ⁶ ^s a great multitude that had come to the feast, when they heard that Jesus was coming to Jerusalem, ¹³ took the branches of ^t the palm trees, and went forth to meet him, and cried out, ^u Hosanna: Blessed ^v is he that cometh in the name of the Lord, even ^w the King of Israel. ¹⁴ And Jesus, having found a young ass, sat thereon; as it is written, ¹⁵ ^x Fear not, daughter of Zion: behold, thy King cometh, sitting on an ass's colt. ¹⁶ ^y These things understood not his disciples at the first: but ^z when Jesus was glorified, then ^a remembered they that these things were written of him, and that they had done these things unto him. ¹⁷ ^b The multitude therefore that was with him when he called Lazarus out of the tomb, and raised him from the dead, bare witness. ¹⁸ For this cause also the multitude went and met him, ^c for that they heard that he had done this sign. ¹⁹ The Pharisees therefore said among themselves, ⁷ ^d Behold how ye prevail nothing: lo, ^e the world is gone after him.

²⁰ Now there were certain ^f Greeks ^g among those that went up to worship at the feast: ²¹ these therefore came to ^h Philip, which was of Bethsaida of Galilee, and asked him, saying, Sir, we would see Jesus. ²² Philip cometh and telleth ⁱ Andrew: Andrew cometh, and Philip, and they tell Jesus. ²³ And Jesus answereth them, saying, ^j The hour is come, ^k that the Son of man should be glorified. ²⁴ Verily, verily, I say unto you, ^l Except a grain of wheat fall into the earth and die, it abideth by itself alone; but if it die, it beareth much fruit. ²⁵ ^m He that loveth his ⁸ life loseth it; and ⁿ he that ^o hateth his ⁸ life in this world shall keep it unto life eternal. ²⁶ If any man serve me, let him ^p follow me; and ^q where I am,

there shall also my servant be: ^rif any man serve me, ^shim will the Father honour. ²⁷^tNow is my soul troubled; and what shall I say? Father, ^usave me from ^vthis ¹hour. But ^wfor this cause came I unto ^vthis hour. ²⁸Father, glorify thy name. There came therefore ^aa voice out of heaven, saying, I have both glorified it, and will glorify it again. ²⁹The multitude therefore, that stood by, and heard it, said that it had thundered: others said, ^vAn angel hath spoken to him. ³⁰Jesus answered and said, ^zThis voice hath not come for my sake, but for your sakes. ³¹^aNow is ²the judgement of this world: now shall ^bthe prince of this world ^cbe cast out. ³²And I, ^dif I be lifted up ³from the earth, ^ewill draw ^fall men unto myself. ³³But this he said, ^gsignifying by what manner of death he should die. ³⁴The multitude therefore answered him, We have heard out of the law that ^hthe Christ abideth for ever: and how sayest thou, ⁱThe Son of man must be lifted up? who is this Son of man? ³⁵Jesus therefore said unto them, ^jYet a little while is ^kthe light ⁴among you. ¹Walk while ye have the light, that darkness ^movertake you not: and ⁿhe that walketh in the darkness knoweth not whither he goeth. ³⁶While ye have the light, believe on the light, that ye may become ^osons of light. ¹These things spake Jesus, and he departed and ⁵hid himself from them. ³⁷But though he had done so many signs before them, yet they believed not on him: ³⁸^athat the word of Isaiah the prophet might be fulfilled, which he spake, ^rLord, who hath believed our report? And to whom hath the arm of the Lord been revealed? ³⁹For this cause they ^scould not believe, for that Isaiah said again, ⁴⁰^tHe hath blinded their eyes, and he ^uhardened their heart; Lest they should see with their eyes, and perceive with their heart, And should turn, And I should heal them. ⁴¹These things said Isaiah, because ^vhe saw his glory; and ^whe spake of him. ⁴²Nevertheless ^xeven of the rulers many believed on him; but ^ybecause of the Pharisees they did not ^zconfess ⁶^ait, lest they should be ²put out of the synagogue: ⁴³^bfor they loved the glory of men more than the glory of God.

⁴⁴And Jesus cried and said, ^cHe that believeth on me, believeth not on me, but ^don him that sent me. ⁴⁵And ^ehe that ^fbeholdeth me beholdeth him that sent me. ⁴⁶^gI am come a light into the world, that whosoever believeth on me may not abide in the darkness. ⁴⁷And if any man ^hhear my sayings, and keep them not, ⁱI judge him not: for ^jI came not to judge the world, but to save the world. ⁴⁸^kHe that rejecteth me, and receiveth not my sayings, hath one that judgeth him: ¹the word that I spake, the same shall judge him ^min the last day. ⁴⁹For ⁿI spake not from myself; but the Father ^owhich sent me, he hath given me a ^pcommandment, what I should say, and what I should speak. ⁵⁰And I know that his commandment is life eternal: the things therefore which I speak, even as the Father hath said unto me, so I speak.

¹Now ^abefore ^rthe feast of the passover, Jesus knowing that ^shis hour was come that he ^tshould depart out of this world unto the Father, ^uhaving loved ^vhis own which were in the world, he loved them ⁷unto the end. ²And during supper, ^wthe devil having already put into the heart of Judas Iscariot, Simon's son, to betray him, ³Jesus, knowing ^xthat the Father had given all things into his hands, and that ^yhe came forth from God, and ^zgoeth unto God, ⁴riseth from supper, and layeth aside his garments; and he took a towel, and ^agirded himself. ⁵Then he ^bpour-eth water into the bason, and began to wash the disciples' feet, and to wipe them with the towel wherewith he was girded. ⁶So he cometh to Simon Peter. He saith unto him, Lord, dost thou wash my feet? ⁷^cJesus answered and said unto him, What I do ^dthou knowest not now; but thou shalt understand hereafter. ⁸^ePeter saith unto him,

Thou shalt never wash my feet. Jesus answered him, ⁷If I wash thee not, thou hast no part with me. ⁹Simon Peter saith unto him, Lord, not my feet only, but also my hands and my head. ¹⁰Jesus saith to him, He that is bathed needeth not ¹⁰save to wash his feet, but is clean every whit: and ¹¹ye are clean, ¹¹but not all. ¹¹⁷For he knew him that should betray him; therefore said he, Ye are not all clean.

¹²So when he had washed their feet, and ¹²taken his garments, and ¹²sat down again, he said unto them, ¹²Know ye what I have done to you? ¹³^mYe call me, ¹³^mMaster, and, Lord: and ye say well; for so I am. ¹⁴If I then, the Lord and the ¹⁴Master, have washed your feet, ¹⁴ye also ought to wash one another's feet. ¹⁵For I have given you an example, ¹⁵that ye also should do as I have done to you. ¹⁶Verily, verily, I say unto you, ¹⁶A ¹⁶servant is not greater than his lord; neither ¹⁶one that is sent greater than he that sent him. ¹⁷If ye know these things, ¹⁷be blessed are ye if ye do them. ¹⁸^sI speak not of you all: I know ¹⁸whom I ¹⁸have chosen: but ¹⁸that the scripture may be fulfilled, ¹⁸He that eateth ¹⁸my bread lifted up his heel against me. ¹⁹From henceforth ¹⁹I tell you before it come to pass, that, when it is come to pass, ¹⁹ye may believe that ¹⁹I am ¹⁹he. ²⁰Verily, verily, I say unto you, ²⁰He that receiveth whomsoever I send receiveth me; and he that receiveth me receiveth him that sent me.

²¹When Jesus had thus said, ²¹he was troubled in the spirit, and testified, and said, ²¹Verily, verily, I say unto you, that ²¹one of you shall betray me. ²²^cThe disciples looked one on another, doubting of whom he spake. ²³There was at the table reclining ²³in Jesus' bosom ²³one of his disciples, whom Jesus loved. ²⁴Simon Peter therefore beckoneth to him, and saith unto him, Tell ²⁴us who it is of whom he speaketh. ²⁵^fHe leaning back, ²⁵as he was, on Jesus' breast saith unto him, Lord, who is it? ²⁶Jesus therefore answereth, ²⁶He it is, for whom I shall ²⁶dip the sop, and give it him. So when he had dipped the sop, he taketh and ⁷giveth it to Judas, ⁷the son of Simon Iscariot. ²⁷And after the sop, then ²⁷entered Satan into him. Jesus therefore saith unto him, ²⁷That thou doest, do quickly. ²⁸Now no man at the table knew for what intent he spake this unto him. ²⁹For some thought, ²⁹because Judas had the ²⁹bag, that Jesus said unto him, Buy what things we have need of ²⁹for the feast; or, that he should ²⁹give something to the poor. ³⁰He then having received the sop went out straightway: ³⁰and it was night.

³¹When therefore he was gone out, Jesus saith, ³¹Now ³¹is the Son of man glorified, and ³¹God ³¹is glorified in him; ³²and ³²God shall glorify him in himself, and ³²straightway shall he glorify him. ³³Little children, ³³yet a little while I am with you. Ye shall seek me: and ³³as I said unto the Jews, Whither I go, ye cannot come; so now I say unto you. ³⁴^aA new commandment ³⁴I give unto you, ³⁴that ye love one another; ³⁴even as I have loved you, that ye also love one another. ³⁵^bBy this shall all men know that ye are my disciples, if ye have love one to another.

³⁶Simon Peter saith unto him, Lord, whither goest thou? ³⁶Jesus answered, Whither I go, ³⁶thou canst not follow me now; ³⁶but thou shalt follow afterwards. ³⁷^fPeter saith unto him, Lord, why cannot I follow thee even now? I will lay down my life for thee. ³⁸Jesus answereth, Wilt thou lay down thy life for me? Verily, verily, I say unto thee, ³⁸The cock shall not crow, till thou hast denied me thrice.

¹^hLet not your heart be ¹troubled: ¹²ⁱye believe in God, believe also in me. ²In ²my Father's house are many ²mansions; if it were not so, I would have told you; for ²I go to prepare a place for you. ³And if I go and prepare a place for you, I come again, and will receive you ³unto myself; that ³where I am, ³there ye may be also. ⁴¹⁴And whither I go, ye know the way. ⁵ⁿThomas saith unto him, Lord,

o we know not whither thou goest ;
how know we the way? 6 Jesus
saith unto him, I am ^p the way, and ^q the truth, and ^r the life: no one cometh unto the Father, but ^s by me. 7 ^t If ye had known me, ye would have ^u known my Father also:
from henceforth ye know him, and ^v have seen him. 8 ^w Philip saith unto him, Lord, ^x shew us the Father, and it sufficeth us. 9 Jesus saith unto him, Have I been so long time with you, and dost thou not know me, Philip? ^y he that hath seen me hath seen the Father; how sayest thou, Shew us the Father?
10 Believest thou not that ^z I am in the Father, and the Father in me?
the words that I say unto you ^a I speak not from myself: but the Father abiding in me doeth his works. 11 Believe me that ^b I am in the Father, and the Father in me:
or else ^c believe me for the very works' sake. 12 Verily, verily, I say unto you, ^d He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater ^e works than these shall he do; because I ^f go unto the Father. 13 And ^g whatsoever ye shall ask in my name, that will I do, that ^h the Father may be glorified in the Son. 14 ⁱ If ye shall ask ^j me anything in my name, that will I do. 15 ^k If ye love me, ye will ^l keep my commandments.
16 And I will ^m pray the Father,
and he shall give you another ⁿ Comforter, that he may be with you for ever, 17 ^o even ^p the Spirit of truth: ^q whom the world cannot receive; for it beholdeth him not,
neither knoweth him: ye know him; for he abideth with you, and ^r shall be in you. 18 I will not leave you ^s desolate: ^t I come unto
you. 19 ^u Yet a little while, and
the world beholdeth me no more;
but ^v ye behold me: ^w because I live, ^x ye shall live also. 20 ^y In that day ye shall know that ^z I am in my Father, and ^a ye in me,
and ^b I in you. 21 ^c He that hath my commandments, and ^d keepeth them, he it is that loveth me: and ^e he that loveth me ^f shall be loved
of my Father, and I will love him,

and will ^g manifest myself unto him.
22 ^h Judas (not Iscariot) saith unto him, Lord, what is come to pass
ⁱ that thou wilt manifest thyself
unto us, and not unto the world?
23 Jesus answered and said unto him, ^j If a man love me, he will keep my word: and my Father will love him, and ^k we will come unto him, and ^l make our abode
with him. 24 He that loveth me not keepeth not my words: and ^m the word which ye hear is not mine, but the Father's who sent me.

25 These things have I spoken unto you, while ⁿ yet abiding with
you. 26 But the ^o Comforter, ^p even the Holy Spirit, ^q whom the Father will send in my name, ^r he shall teach you all things, and ^s bring to your remembrance all that I said unto you. 27 ^t Peace I leave with you; ^u my peace I give unto you:
not as the world giveth, give I unto you. ^v Let not your heart be troubled, neither ^w let it be fearful.
28 ^x Ye heard how I said to you, ^y I go away, and I come unto you. If ye loved me, ye would have rejoiced, because I ^z go unto the Father: for ^a the Father is greater than I. 29 And ^b now I have told you before it come to pass, that,
when it is come to pass, ye may believe. 30 I will no more speak much with you, for ^c the prince of the world cometh: and ^d he hath nothing in me; 31 but ^e that the world may know that I love the Father, and ^f as the Father gave me commandment, even so I do.
Arise, let us go hence.

32 I am the ^g true vine, and 15 my Father is ^h the husband-
man. 2 ⁱ Every branch in me
that beareth not fruit, ^j he taketh
it away: and every ^k branch that beareth fruit, he cleanseth it, ^l that it may bear more fruit. 3 Already ^m ye are clean ⁿ because of the word which I have spoken unto you.
4 ^o Abide ^p in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, except it abide in the vine; so neither can ye, except ye abide in me. 5 I am the vine, ^q ye are the branches: He that abideth in me,

b guide you into all the truth: for he shall not speak from himself; but ^cwhat things soever he shall hear, these shall he speak: and he shall declare unto you the things that are to come. 14 He shall ^dglorify me: for he shall take of mine, and shall declare it unto you. 15 ^eAll things whatsoever the Father hath are mine: ^ftherefore said I, that he taketh of mine, and shall declare it unto you. 16 ^gA little while, and ye behold me no more; and ^hagain a little while, and ye shall see me. 17 ⁱSome of his disciples therefore said one to another, What is this that he saith unto us, ^jA little while, and ye behold me not; and again a little while, and ye shall see me: and, ^kBecause I go to the Father? 18 They said therefore, What is this that he saith, A little while? ^lWe know not what he saith. 19 ^mJesus perceived that they were desirous to ask him, and he said unto them, Do ye inquire among yourselves concerning this, that I said, A little while, and ye behold me not, and again a little while, and ye shall see me? 20 Verily, verily, I say unto you, that ⁿye shall weep and lament, but ^othe world shall rejoice: ye shall be sorrowful, but ^pyour sorrow shall be turned into joy. 21 ^qA woman when she is in travail hath sorrow, because her hour is come: but when she is delivered of the child, she remembereth no more the anguish, for the joy that a man is born into the world. 22 ^rAnd ye therefore now have sorrow: but ^sI will see you again, and ^tyour heart shall rejoice, and your joy no one taketh away from you. 23 And ^uin that day ye shall ^vask me nothing. Verily, verily, I say unto you, ^wIf ye shall ask anything of the Father, ^xhe will give it you in my name. 24 Hitherto have ye asked nothing in my name: ^yask, and ye shall receive, ^zthat your joy may be fulfilled.

25 These things have I spoken unto you in ^{2a}proverbs: ^bthe hour cometh, when I shall no more speak unto you in ^{2a}proverbs, but shall tell you plainly of the Father. 26 In that day ye shall ask in my name: and I say not unto you, that I will ^{3c}pray the Father for you; 27 ^dfor the Father himself loveth you, because ^eye have loved me, and ^fhave believed that I came forth from the Father. 28 ^gI came out from the Father, and am come into the world: again, ^hI leave the world, and go unto the Father. 29 His disciples say, Lo, now speakest thou plainly, and speakest no ⁴ⁱproverb. 30 Now know we that ^jthou knowest all things, and needest not that any man should ask thee: by this we believe that ^kthou camest forth from God. 31 Jesus answered them, Do ye now believe? 32 Behold, ^lthe hour cometh, yea, is come, that ^mye shall be scattered, every man to ⁿhis own, and ^oshall leave me alone: ^pand yet I am not alone, because the Father is with me. 33 These things have I spoken unto you, that ^qin me ye may have peace. ^rIn the world ye have ^stribulation: but ^tbe of good cheer; ^uI have overcome the world.

17 These things spake Jesus; ⁱand ^vlifting up his eyes to heaven, he said, Father, ^wthe hour is come; ^xglorify thy Son, that the Son may ^yglorify thee: 2 even as ^zthou gavest him authority over all flesh, that ^awhatsoever thou hast given him, ^bto them he should give eternal life. 3 ^cAnd this is life eternal, ^dthat they should know thee ^ethe only ^ftrue God, and ^ghim whom thou didst send, even Jesus Christ. 4 I ^hglorified thee on the earth, ⁱhaving accomplished the work which thou hast given me to do. 5 And now, O Father, ^jglorify thou me with thine own self with the glory ^kwhich I had with thee ^lbefore the world was. 6 ^mI manifested thy name unto the men ⁿwhom thou gavest me out of the world: ^othine they were, and thou gavest them to me; and they have kept thy word. 7 Now they know that all things ^owhatsoever thou hast given me are from thee: 8 for ^pthe words which thou gavest me I have given unto them; and they received them, and knew of a truth that ^qI came forth from thee, and ^rthey believed that thou didst send me. 9 I ^spray for them: ^tI ⁵pray not for the world,

18 When Jesus had spoken these words, ^whe went forth with his disciples over ^xthe brook ^yKidron, where was a garden, into the which he entered, himself and his disciples. 2 Now Judas also, which betrayed him, knew ^ythe place: for ^zJesus oft-times resorted thither with his disciples. 3 ^aJudas then, having received the ^bband of soldiers, and officers from the chief priests and the Pharisees, cometh thither with lanterns and torches and weapons. 4 Jesus therefore, ^bknowing all the things that were coming upon him, went forth, and saith unto them, ^cWhom seek ye? 5 They answered him, Jesus of Nazareth. Jesus saith unto them, I am ^{he}. And Judas also, which betrayed him, was standing with them. 6 ^dWhen therefore he said unto them, I am ^{he}, they went backward, and fell to the ground. 7 Again therefore he asked them, ^cWhom seek ye? And they said, Jesus of Nazareth. 8 Jesus answered, I told you that I am ^{he}: if therefore ye seek me, let these go their way: 9 ^ethat the word might be fulfilled which he spake, Of those whom thou hast given me I lost not one. 10 Simon Peter therefore ^fhaving a sword drew it, and struck the high priest's ^gservant, and cut off his right ear. Now the ^gservant's name was Malchus. 11 Jesus therefore said unto Peter, Put up the sword into the sheath: ^gthe cup which the Father hath given me, shall I not drink it?

12 So the ^hband and the ⁱchief captain, and the officers of the Jews, seized Jesus and bound him, 13 and ^hled him to ⁱAnnas first; for he was father in law to ^jCaiaphas, which was high priest that year. 14 Now Caiaphas was he which gave counsel to the Jews, ^kthat it was expedient that one man should die for the people.

¹⁵^l And Simon Peter followed Jesus, and ^{so} ^{did} another disciple. Now that disciple was known unto the high priest, and entered in with Jesus into the court of the high priest; ¹⁶^m but Peter was standing at the door without. So the other disciple, which was known unto the high priest, went out and spake unto her that kept the door, and brought in Peter. ¹⁷ⁿ The maid therefore that kept the door saith unto Peter, Art thou also ^{one} of this man's disciples? He saith, I am not. ¹⁸ Now the ¹ servants and the officers were standing ^{there}, having made ² a fire of coals; for it was cold; and they were warming themselves: and ^o Peter also was with them, standing and warming himself.

¹⁹^p The high priest therefore asked Jesus of his disciples, and of his teaching. ²⁰ Jesus answered him, I have spoken ^q openly ^r to the world; I ever taught in ³ synagogues, and in the temple, where all the Jews come together; and ^s in secret spake I nothing. ²¹ Why askest thou me? ask them that have heard ^{me}, what I spake unto them: behold, these know the things which I said. ²² And when he had said this, one of the officers standing by struck Jesus ⁴ with his hand, ^u saying, Answerest thou the high priest so? ²³ Jesus answered him, If I have spoken evil, bear witness of the evil: but if well, why smitest thou me? ²⁴^v Annas therefore sent him bound unto ^w Caiaphas the high priest.

fore went out unto them, and saith, What accusation bring ye against this man? ³⁰ They answered and said unto him, If this man were not an evil-doer, we should not have delivered him up unto thee. ³¹ Pilate therefore said unto them, ^g Take him yourselves, and judge him according to your law. The Jews said unto him, It is not lawful for us to put any man to death: ³²^h that the word of Jesus might be fulfilled, which he spake, ⁱ signifying by what manner of death he should die.

³³^j Pilate therefore entered again into the ⁵ palace, and called Jesus, and said unto him, ^k Art thou the King of the Jews? ³⁴ Jesus answered, Sayest thou this of thyself, or did others tell it thee concerning me? ³⁵ Pilate answered, Am I a Jew? Thine own nation and the chief priests delivered thee unto me: what hast thou done? ³⁶ Jesus answered, ^l My kingdom ^m is not of this world: if my kingdom were of this world, ⁿ then would my ⁶ servants fight, that ^o I should not be delivered to the Jews: but now is my kingdom not from hence. ³⁷ Pilate therefore said unto him, Art thou a king then? Jesus answered, ⁷^p Thou sayest that I am a king. ^q To this end have I been born, and to this end ^r am I come into the world, that ^s I should bear witness unto the truth. ^t Every one that is ^u of the truth ^v heareth my voice. ³⁸ Pilate saith unto him, What is truth?

And when he had said this, ^w he went out again unto the Jews, and saith unto them, ^x I find no crime in him. ³⁹^y But ye have a custom, that I should release unto you one at the passover: will ye therefore that I release unto you the King of the Jews? ⁴⁰ They cried out therefore again, saying, ^z Not this man, but Barabbas. Now Barabbas was a robber.

¹ Then Pilate therefore took 19 Jesus, and ^a scourged him. ²^b And the soldiers plaited a crown of thorns, and put it on his head, and arrayed him in a purple garment; ³ and they came unto him, and said, Hail, King of the Jews! and they struck him ⁸^c with

And Pilate saith unto them, ^f Behold, the man! ⁶ When therefore the chief priests and the officers saw him, they cried out, saying, Crucify him, crucify him. Pilate saith unto them, ^g Take him yourselves, and crucify him: for ^h I find no crime in him. ⁷ The Jews answered him, We have a law, and ⁱ by that law he ought to die, because ^j he made himself the Son of God. ⁸ When Pilate therefore heard this saying, ^k he was the more afraid; ⁹ and ^l he entered into the ¹ palace again, and saith unto Jesus, ^m Whence art thou? But ⁿ Jesus gave him no answer. ¹⁰ Pilate therefore saith unto him, Speakest thou not unto me? knowest thou not that I have ² power to release thee, and have ² power to crucify thee? ¹¹ Jesus answered him, ^o Thou wouldest have no ² power against me, except it were given thee from above: therefore ^p he that delivered me unto thee ^q hath greater sin. ¹² Upon this ^r Pilate sought to release him: but the Jews cried out, saying, If thou release this man, thou art not Cæsar's friend: ^s every one that maketh himself a king ³ speaketh against Cæsar. ¹³ When Pilate therefore heard these words, he brought Jesus out, and sat down on ^t the judgement-seat at a place called The Pavement, but in Hebrew, Gabbatha. ¹⁴ Now it was ^u the Preparation of the passover: it was about the sixth hour. And he saith unto the Jews, ^v Behold, your King! ¹⁵ They therefore cried out, ^w Away with him, away with him, crucify him. Pilate saith unto them, Shall I crucify your King? The chief priests answered, We have no king but Cæsar. ¹⁶ ^x Then therefore he ^y delivered him unto them to be crucified.

They took Jesus therefore: ¹⁷ and ^z he went out, ^a bearing the cross for himself, unto the place called The place of a skull, which is called in Hebrew Golgotha: ¹⁸ ^b where they crucified him, and with him

two others, on either side one, and Jesus in the midst. ¹⁹ And Pilate ^c wrote a title also, and put it on the cross. And there was written, JESUS OF NAZARETH, THE KING OF THE JEWS. ²⁰ This title therefore read many of the Jews: ^d for ^a the place where Jesus was crucified was nigh to the city: and it was written in Hebrew, and in Latin, and in Greek. ²¹ The chief priests of the Jews therefore said to Pilate, Write not, The King of the Jews; but, that he said, I am King of the Jews. ²² Pilate answered, ^e What I have written I have written.

²³ ^f The soldiers therefore, when they had crucified Jesus, took his garments, and made four parts, to every soldier a part; and also the ⁵ coat: now the ⁵ coat was without seam, woven from the top throughout. ²⁴ They said therefore one to another, Let us not rend it, but cast lots for it, whose it shall be: ^g that the scripture might be fulfilled, which saith,

^h They parted my garments among them,

And upon my vesture did they cast lots.

These things therefore the soldiers did. ²⁵ ⁱ But there were standing by the cross of Jesus his mother, and his mother's sister, Mary the wife of Clopas, and Mary Magdalene. ²⁶ When Jesus therefore saw his mother, and ^j the disciple standing by, whom he loved, he saith unto his mother, ^k Woman, behold, thy son! ²⁷ Then saith he to the disciple, Behold, thy mother! And from that hour the disciple took her unto ^l his own home.

²⁸ After this Jesus, knowing that all things are now ^m finished, ^g that the scripture might be accomplished, saith, ⁿ I thirst. ²⁹ There was set there a vessel full of vinegar: ^o so they put a sponge full of the vinegar upon hyssop, and brought it to his mouth. ³⁰ When Jesus therefore had received the vinegar, he said, ^p It is finished: and he bowed his head, and ^q gave up his spirit.

³¹ The Jews therefore, because it was ^r the Preparation, ^s that the bodies should not remain on the cross upon the sabbath (for the day of that sabbath was ^ta high day), asked of Pilate that their legs might be broken, and that they might be taken away. ³²The soldiers therefore came, and brake the legs of the first, and of the other ^uwhich was crucified with him: ³³but when they came to Jesus, and saw that he was dead already, they brake not his legs: ³⁴howbeit one of the soldiers with a spear pierced his side, and straightway there came out ^vblood and water. ³⁵And ^whe that hath seen hath borne witness, and ^xhis witness is true: and he knoweth that he saith true, ^ythat ye also may believe. ³⁶^zFor these things came to pass, that the scripture might be fulfilled, ^aA bone of him ^bshall not be ¹broken. ³⁷And again another scripture saith, ^cThey shall look on him whom they pierced.

³⁸^dAnd after these things Joseph of Arimathæa, being a disciple of Jesus, but secretly ^efor fear of the Jews, asked of Pilate that he might take away the body of Jesus: and Pilate gave him leave. He came therefore, and took away his body. ³⁹And there came also ^fNicodemus, he who at the first came to him by night, ^gbringing a ²mixture of ^hmyrrh and aloes, about a hundred pound weight. ⁴⁰So they took the body of Jesus, and ⁱbound it in ^jlinen cloths with the spices, as the custom of the Jews is to bury. ⁴¹Now in the place where he was crucified there was a ^kgarden; and ^lin the garden a new tomb ^mwherein was never man yet laid. ⁴²There then because of the Jews' ⁿPreparation (^ofor the tomb was nigh at hand) they laid Jesus.

and came first to the tomb; ⁵and stooping and looking in, he seeth ^uthe linen cloths lying; yet entered he not in. ⁶Simon Peter therefore also cometh, following him, and entered into the tomb; and he beholdeth the linen cloths lying, ⁷and ^vthe napkin, that was upon his head, not lying with the linen cloths, but rolled up in a place by itself. ⁸Then entered in therefore the other disciple also, ^wwhich came first to the tomb, and he saw, and believed. ⁹For as yet ^xthey knew not the scripture, ^ythat he must rise again from the dead. ¹⁰So the disciples went away again unto their own home.

¹¹But Mary was standing without at the tomb weeping: so, as she wept, she stooped and looked into the tomb; ¹²and ^zshe beholdeth ^atwo angels in white sitting, one at the head, and one at the feet, where the body of Jesus had lain. ¹³And they say unto her, ^bWoman, why weepest thou? She saith unto them, ^cBecause they have taken away my Lord, and I know not where they have laid him. ¹⁴When she had thus said, she turned herself back, and ^dbeholdeth Jesus standing, and ^eknew not that it was Jesus. ¹⁵Jesus saith unto her, ^fWoman, why weepest thou? ^gwhom seekest thou? She, supposing him to be ^hthe gardener, saith unto him, Sir, if thou hast borne him hence, tell me where thou hast laid him, and I will take him away. ¹⁶Jesus saith unto her, Mary. She turneth herself, and saith unto him in Hebrew, ⁱRabboni; which is to say, ^jMaster. ¹⁷Jesus saith to her, ^kTouch me not; for I am not yet ascended unto the Father: but go unto ^lmy brethren, and say to them, ^mI ascend unto my Father and your Father, and ⁿmy God and your God. ¹⁸Mary Magdalene ^mcometh and telleth the disciples, I have seen the Lord; and how that he had said these things unto her.

¹⁹ⁿWhen therefore it was evening, ^oon that day, the first day of the week, and ^pwhen the doors were shut where the disciples were, ^qfor fear of the Jews, Jesus came and stood in the midst, and saith unto them, ^rPeace be unto you. 20 And when he had said this, ^she shewed unto them his hands and his side. ^tThe disciples therefore were glad, when they saw the Lord. ²¹ Jesus therefore said to them again, Peace be unto you: as ^uthe Father hath sent me, ^veven so send I you. ²² And when he had said this, he ^wbreathed on them, and saith unto them, ^xReceive ye the ¹Holy Ghost: ²³^ywhose soever sins ye forgive, they are forgiven unto them; whose soever sins ye retain, they are retained.

²⁴ But ^zThomas, one of the twelve, called ²Didymus, was not with them when Jesus came. ²⁵ The other disciples therefore said unto him, We have seen the Lord. But he said unto them, ^aExcept I shall see in his hands the print of the nails, and put my finger into the print of the nails, and put my hand into his side, I will not believe.

²⁶ And after eight days again his disciples were within, and Thomas with them. Jesus cometh, ^bthe doors being shut, and stood in the midst, and said, ^bPeace be unto you. ²⁷ Then saith he to Thomas, ^cReach hither thy finger, and see my hands; and reach hither thy hand, and put it into my side: and be not faithless, but believing. ²⁸ Thomas answered and said unto him, ^dMy Lord and my God. ²⁹ Jesus saith unto him, Because thou hast seen me, ^ethou hast believed: ^eblessed are they that have not seen, and yet have believed.

³⁰ ^fMany other signs therefore did Jesus ^gin the presence of the disciples, which are not written in this book: ³¹ ^hbut these are written, that ye may ⁱbelieve that Jesus is the Christ, ^jthe Son of God; and that believing ^kye may have life ⁱin his name.

¹ After these things Jesus ²¹ ^mmanifested himself ⁿagain to the disciples at ^othe sea of Tiberias; and he manifested himself on this wise. ² There were together Simon Peter, and ^pThomas called ²Didymus, and Nathanael of ^qCana in Galilee, and ^rthe sons of Zebedee, and two other of his disciples. ³ Simon Peter saith unto them, I go a fishing. They say unto him, We also come with thee. They went forth, and entered into the boat; and ^sthat night they took nothing. ⁴ But when day was now breaking, Jesus stood on the beach: howbeit the disciples ^tknew not that it was Jesus. ⁵ ^uJesus therefore saith unto them, Children, have ye aught to eat? They answered him, No. ⁶ ^vAnd he said unto them, Cast the net on the right side of the boat, and ye shall find. They cast therefore, and now they were not able to draw it for the multitude of fishes. ⁷ That disciple therefore ^wwhom Jesus loved saith unto Peter, It is the Lord. So when Simon Peter heard that it was the Lord, ^xhe girt his coat about him (for he was ^ynaked), and ^zcast himself into the sea. ⁸ But the other disciples came in ^athe little boat (for they were not far from the land, but about two hundred cubits off), dragging the net full of fishes. ⁹ So when they got out upon the land, they see ^aa fire of coals there, and ^bfish laid thereon, and ^bbread. ¹⁰ Jesus saith unto them, Bring of the fish which ye have now taken. ¹¹ Simon Peter therefore went ⁷up, and drew the net to land, full of great fishes, a hundred and fifty and three: and for all there were so many, the net was not rent. ¹² Jesus saith unto them, ^bCome and ^cbreak your fast. And ^dnone of the disciples durst inquire of him, Who art thou? knowing that it was the Lord. ¹³ Jesus cometh, and ^etaketh the ^bbread, and giveth them, and the fish likewise. ¹⁴ ^fThis is now the third time that Jesus was manifested to the disciples, after that he was risen from the dead.

¹⁵ So when they had ^gbroken their fast, Jesus saith to Simon Peter, ^hSimon, ⁱson of ⁹John, ¹⁰ ^jlovest thou me more than these? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord; thou knowest that I ¹¹love thee. He saith unto him, Feed ^kmy lambs. ¹⁶ He saith to him again a second time, Simon, ^{son} of ⁹John, ¹⁰ ^jlovest thou me? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord; thou knowest that I ¹¹love thee. He saith unto him, ^lTend ^kmy sheep. ¹⁷ He saith unto him the third time, Simon, ^{son} of ⁹John, ¹¹ ^jlovest thou me? Peter was grieved because he said unto him ^mthe third

¹⁵ And in these days Peter stood up in the midst of ^kthe brethren, and said (and there was a multitude of ^lpersons gathered together, about a hundred and twenty), ¹⁶ Brethren, ^mit was needful that the scripture should be fulfilled, which the Holy Ghost spake before by the mouth of David concerning Judas, ⁿwho was guide to them that took Jesus. ¹⁷ For ^ohe was numbered among us, and received his ⁴portion in ^pthis ministry. ¹⁸ (Now this man ^qobtained a field with ^rthe reward of his iniquity; and falling headlong, he burst asunder in the midst, and all his bowels gushed out. ¹⁹ And it became known to all the dwellers at Jerusalem; insomuch that ^sin their language that field was called Akeldama, that is, The field of blood.) ²⁰ For it is written in the book of Psalms,

^tLet his habitation be made desolate,

And let no man dwell therein: and,

^uHis ⁵office let another take.

²¹ Of the men therefore which have accompanied with us ^vall the time that the Lord Jesus ^wwent in and went out ⁶among us, ²² ^xbeginning from the baptism of John, unto the day that ^yhe was received up from us, of these must one become ^za witness with us of his resurrection. ²³ And they put forward two, Joseph called ^aBarsabbas, who was surnamed ^bJustus, and ^cMatthias. ²⁴ And ^dthey prayed, and said, Thou, Lord, ^ewhich knowest the hearts of all men, shew of these two the one whom thou hast chosen, ²⁵ to take the place in ^fthis ministry and ^gapostleship, from which Judas fell away, that he might go to his own place. ²⁶ And they gave lots ⁷for them; and the lot fell upon Matthias; and he was numbered with the eleven apostles.

¹ And when ^hthe day of Pentecost ⁸was now come, they were all together in one place.

² And suddenly there came from heaven a sound as of ⁱthe rushing of a mighty wind, and ^jit filled all the house where they were sitting. ³ And there appeared unto them tongues ⁹parting asunder, ^klike as of fire; and it sat upon each one of them. ⁴ And they were all ^lfilled with the Holy Spirit, and began ^mto speak with other tongues, ⁿas the Spirit gave them utterance.

⁵ Now there were dwelling at Jerusalem Jews, devout men, from every nation under heaven. ⁶ And ^owhen this sound was heard, the multitude came together, and were confounded, because that every man heard them speaking in his own language. ⁷ And ^pthey were all amazed and marvelled, saying, Behold, are not all these which speak ^qGalilæans? ⁸ And how hear we, every man in our own language, wherein we were born? ⁹ Parthians and ^rMedes and ^sElamites, and the dwellers in Mesopotamia, in Judæa and Cappadocia, in Pontus and Asia, ¹⁰ in Phrygia and Pamphylia, in Egypt and the parts of Libya about Cyrene, and sojourners from Rome, both Jews and ^tproselytes, ¹¹ Cretans and Arabians, we do hear them speaking in our tongues the mighty works of God. ¹² And ^uthey were all amazed, and were perplexed, saying one to another, What meaneth this? ¹³ But others ^vmocking said, They are filled with new wine.

¹⁴ But Peter, standing up with the eleven, lifted up his voice, and spake forth unto them, saying, Ye men of Judæa, and all ye that dwell at Jerusalem, be this known unto you, and give ear unto my words. ¹⁵ For these are not drunken, as ye suppose; ^wseeing it is but the third hour of the day; ¹⁶ but this is that which hath been spoken ¹⁰ by the prophet Joel;

And your young men shall see visions,
And your old men shall dream dreams:
18 Yea and on my ¹servants and on my ²handmaidens in those days
Will I pour forth of my Spirit; and ^bthey shall prophesy.
19 And I will shew wonders in the heaven above,
And signs on the earth beneath; Blood, and fire, and vapour of smoke:
20 ^cThe sun shall be turned into darkness,
And the moon into blood,
Before ^dthe day of the Lord come,
That great and notable day:
21 And it shall be, that ^ewhosoever shall call on the name of the Lord shall be saved.
22 Ye men of Israel, hear these words: Jesus of Nazareth, ^fa man approved of God unto you ^gby ^hmighty works and wonders and signs, which ⁱGod did by him in the midst of you, even as ye yourselves know; 23 him, ^jbeing delivered up by ^kthe determinate counsel and ^lforeknowledge of God, ^mye by the hand of ⁿlawless men did crucify and slay: 24 ^owhom God raised up, having loosed the pangs of death: because ^pit was not possible that he should be holden of it.
25 For David saith concerning him, ^qI beheld the Lord always before my face;
For he is on my right hand, that I should not be moved:
26 Therefore my heart was glad, and my tongue rejoiced;
Moreover my flesh also shall ^rdwell ^sin hope:
27 Because thou wilt not leave my soul in ^tHades, ^uNeither wilt thou give thy ^vHoly One to ^wsee corruption.
28 Thou madest known unto me the ways of life;
Thou shalt make me full of gladness ^xwith thy countenance.
29 Brethren, I may say unto you freely of ^ythe patriarch David, ^zthat he both died and ^awas buried, and ^bhis tomb is with us unto this

day. 30 ^aBeing therefore a prophet, and knowing that ^bGod had sworn with an oath to him, that of the fruit of his loins ^che would set one upon his throne; 31 he foreseeing this spake of the resurrection of the Christ, that ^dneither was he left in Hades, nor did his flesh see corruption. 32 This Jesus did ^eGod raise up, ^fwhereof we all are witnesses. 33 ^gBeing therefore ^hby the right hand of God exalted, and having received of ⁱthe Father ^jthe promise of the Holy Ghost, ^khe hath poured forth this, which ye see and hear. 34 For ^lDavid ascended not into the heavens: but he saith himself,

^lThe Lord said unto my Lord,
Sit thou on my right hand,

35 Till I make thine enemies the footstool of thy feet.

36 Let ^mall the house of Israel therefore know assuredly, that ⁿGod hath made him ^oboth Lord and Christ, this Jesus ^pwhom ye crucified.

37 Now when ^qthey heard this, they were pricked in their heart, and said unto Peter and the rest of the apostles, Brethren, ^rwhat shall we do? 38 And Peter said unto them, ^sRepent ye, and ^tbe baptized every one of you ^uin the name of Jesus Christ ^vunto the remission of your sins; and ye shall receive ^wthe gift of the Holy Ghost. 39 For ^xto you is the promise, and ^yto your children, and to all ^zthat are afar off, even ^aas many as the Lord our God shall call unto him. 40 And with many other words he testified, and exhorted them, saying, ^bSave yourselves from this ^ccrooked generation. 41 They then ^dthat received his word were baptized: and ^ethere were added unto them in that day about three thousand souls. 42 And ^fthey continued stedfastly in the apostles' ^gteaching and ^hfellowship, in ⁱthe breaking of bread and the prayers.

43 And fear came upon every soul: and ^jmany wonders and signs were done ^kby the apostles ^l14.

44 And all that believed were together, and ^mhad all things common; ⁴⁵and ⁱthey sold their possessions and goods, and parted them to all, according as any man had need. ⁴⁶And day by day, ^jcontinuing stedfastly ^kwith one accord in the temple, and ^lbreaking bread at home, they did take their food ^mwith gladness and singleness of heart, ⁴⁷praising God, and ⁿhaving favour with all the people. And the Lord ^oadded ¹to them ^pday by day those that ^qwere being saved.

¹ Now Peter and John were ³going up into the temple at ^rthe hour of prayer, ^tbeing the ninth hour. ²And a certain man ^uthat was lame from his mother's womb was carried, ^vwhom they laid daily at the door of the temple which is called Beautiful, ^wto ask alms of them that entered into the temple; ³who seeing Peter and John about to go into the temple, asked to receive an alms. ⁴And Peter, fastening his eyes upon him, with John, said, Look on us. ⁵And he gave heed unto them, expecting to receive something from them. ⁶But Peter said, ^xSilver and gold have I none; but what I have, that give I thee. ^yIn the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, walk. ⁷And he took him by the right hand, and raised him up: and immediately his feet and his ankle-bones received strength. ⁸And ^zleaping up, he stood, and began to walk; and he entered with them into the temple, walking, and leaping, and praising God. ⁹And ^aall the people saw him walking and praising God: ¹⁰and they took knowledge of him, that it was he which sat for alms at the Beautiful Gate of the temple: and they were filled with wonder and amazement at that which had happened unto him.

¹¹ And ^bas he held Peter and John, all the people ran together unto them in ^cthe ²porch that is called Solomon's, greatly wondering. ¹²And when Peter saw it, he answered unto the people, Ye men of Israel, why marvel ye at this ³man? or why fasten ye your eyes on us, as though by our own power or godliness we had made him to walk? ¹³^dThe God of Abraham, and of Isaac, and of Jacob, ^ethe

God of our fathers, ^fhath glorified his ⁴Servant Jesus; whom ^gye delivered up, and ^hdenied before the face of Pilate, ⁱwhen he had determined to release him. ¹⁴But ye denied ^jthe Holy and ^kRighteous One, and ^lasked for a murderer to be granted unto you, ¹⁵and killed ^mthe ⁵Prince of life; ⁿwhom God raised from the dead; ^owhereof we are witnesses. ¹⁶And ⁷by ^pfaith in his name hath ^qhis name made this man strong, whom ye behold and know: yea, the faith which is ^rthrough him hath given him this perfect soundness in the presence of you all. ¹⁷And now, brethren, I wot that ^sin ignorance ye did it, as did also your rulers. ¹⁸But the things which God ^tforeshewed ^uby the mouth of all the prophets, that ^vhis Christ should ^wsuffer, he thus fulfilled. ¹⁹^xRepent ye therefore, and ^yturn again, that ^zyour sins may be blotted out, that so there may come seasons of refreshing from the presence of the Lord; ²⁰and that he may send the Christ ^awho hath been appointed for you, even Jesus: ²¹^bwhom the heaven must receive until the times of ^crestoration of all things, whereof ^dGod spake by the mouth of his holy prophets which have been since the world began. ²²Moses indeed said, ^eA prophet shall the Lord God raise up unto you from among your brethren, ^flike unto me; ^gto him shall ye hearken in all things whatsoever he shall speak unto you. ²³And it shall be, that every soul, which shall not hearken to that prophet, ^hshall be utterly destroyed from among the people. ²⁴Yea and ⁱall the prophets from Samuel and them that followed after, as many as have spoken, they also told of these days. ²⁵^jYe are the sons of the prophets, and of ^kthe covenant which God ^lmade with your fathers, saying unto Abraham, ^mAnd in thy seed shall all the families of the earth be blessed. ²⁶Unto you ⁿfirst God, having ^oraised up his Servant, sent him ^pto bless you, ^qin turning away every one of you from your iniquities.

1 And as they spake unto the 4 people, ¹the priests and ²the captain of the temple and ³the Sadducees came upon them, 2 being sore troubled because they taught the people, and proclaimed ⁴in Jesus the resurrection from the dead. 3 And they laid hands on them, and ⁵put them in ward unto the morrow: for it was now eventide. 4 But many of them that heard the word believed; and ⁶the number of the men came to be about five thousand.

5 And it came to pass on the morrow, that their rulers and elders and scribes were gathered together in Jerusalem; 6 and ⁷Annas the high priest was there, and ⁸Caiaphas, and John, and Alexander, and as many as were of the kindred of the high priest. 7 And when they had set them in the midst, they inquired, ⁹By what power, or ¹⁰in what name, have ye done this? 8 Then Peter, ¹¹filled with the Holy Ghost, said unto them, Ye rulers of the people, and elders, 9 if we this day are examined ¹²concerning a good deed done to an impotent man, ¹³by what means this man is ¹⁴made whole; 10 be it known unto you all, and to all the people of Israel, that ¹⁵in the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whom ye crucified, ¹⁶whom God raised from the dead, even in ¹⁷him doth this man stand here before you whole. 11 ¹⁸He is the stone which was ¹⁹set at nought of you the builders, which was made the head of the corner. 12 And ²⁰in none other is there ²¹salvation: for ²²neither is there any other ²³name under heaven, that is given among men, wherein we must be saved.

13 ²⁴Now when they beheld the boldness of Peter and John, and had perceived that they were unlearned and ignorant men, they marvelled; and they took knowledge of them, that they had been with Jesus. 14 And seeing the man which was healed ²⁵standing with them, ²⁶they could say nothing against it. 15 But when they had commanded them to go aside out of the council, they conferred among themselves, 16 saying, ²⁷What shall we do to these men? for that indeed ²⁸a notable ²⁹miracle hath been wrought through them, is manifest to all that dwell in Jerusalem; and we cannot deny it. 17 But that it spread no further among the people, let us threaten them, ³⁰that they speak henceforth to no man in this name. 18 And they called them, and charged them not to speak at all nor teach in the name of Jesus. 19 But Peter and John answered and said unto them, ³¹Whether it be right in the sight of God to hearken unto you rather than unto God, judge ye: 20 for ³²we cannot but speak the things which ³³we saw and heard. 21 And they, when they had further threatened them, let them go, finding nothing how they might punish them, ³⁴because of the people; for all men glorified God ³⁵for that which was done. 22 For the man was more than forty years old, on whom this ³⁶miracle of healing was wrought.

23 And being let go, they came to their own company, and reported all that the chief priests and the elders had said unto them. 24 And they, when they heard it, lifted up their voice to God ³⁷with one accord, and said, O ³⁸Lord, ³⁹thou that didst make the heaven and the earth and the sea, and all that in them is: 25 ⁴⁰who by the Holy Ghost, by the mouth of our father David thy servant, didst say,

 at his feet, and gave up the ghost:
 and the young men came in and found her dead, and they carried her out and buried her by her husband. 11 And ^kgreat fear came upon the whole church, and upon
 all that heard these things.

12 And ^lby the hands of the apostles were many signs and wonders wrought among the people; and they were all ^mwith one accord in came together the multitude from the cities round about Jerusalem, ^tbringing sick folk, and them that were vexed with unclean spirits:

 and they were healed every one.

 and all they that were with him (which is the sect of ^uthe Saddu-

 by night ^yopened the prison doors,
 and brought them out, and said,

 and there were the more added to them, believing on the Lord

keepers standing at the doors: but when we had opened, we found no man within. ^f24 Now when ^fthe captain of the temple and the chief priests heard these words, they were much perplexed concerning them whereunto this would grow. ^g25 And there came one and told them, Behold, the men whom ye put in the prison ^gare in the temple standing and teaching the people. ^h26 Then went ^hthe captain with the officers, and brought them, but without violence; for ⁱthey feared the people, lest they should be stoned. ⁱ27 And when they had brought them, they set them before the council. And the high priest asked them, ^j28 saying, ^jWe straitly charged you not to teach in this name: and behold, ye have filled Jerusalem with your teaching, and ^kintend to bring this man's blood upon us. ^k29 But Peter and the apostles answered and said, ^kWe must obey God rather than men. ^m30 ^mThe God of our fathers ⁿraised up Jesus, ⁿwhom ye slew, hanging him on ^pa tree. ^q31 ^qHim did God exalt ^lwith his right hand to be ^ra Prince and ^sa Saviour, ^tfor to ^ugive repentance to Israel, and ^uremission of sins. ^u32 And ^vwe are witnesses² of these ^uthings; ^uand ^wso ^{is} the Holy Ghost, ^xwhom God hath given to them that obey him. ^u33 But they, when they heard this, ^vwere cut to the heart, and were minded to slay them. ^u34 But there stood up one in the council, a Pharisee, named ^zGamaliel, ^aa doctor of the law, had in honour of all the people, and commanded to put the men forth a little while. ^u35 And he said unto them, Ye men of Israel, take heed to yourselves as touching these men, what ye are about to do. ^u36 For ^bbefore these days rose up Theudas, ^cgiving himself out to be somebody; to whom a number of men, about four hundred, joined themselves: who was slain; and all, as many as obeyed him, were dispersed, and came to nought. ^u37 After this man rose up Judas of Galilee in the days of ^dthe enrolment, and drew away some of the people after him: he also perished; and all, as many as obeyed him, were scattered abroad. ^u38 And now I say unto you, Refrain from these men, and let them alone: for ^eif this counsel or this work be of men, it will be overthrown: ^u39 but ^fif it is of God, ye will not be able to overthrow them; ^glest haply ye be found even to be fighting against God. ^u40 And to him they agreed: and ^hwhen they had called the apostles unto them, ⁱthey beat them and charged them not to speak in the name of Jesus, and let them go. ^u41 They therefore departed from the presence of the council, ^jrejoicing that they were counted worthy ^kto suffer dishonour for ^lthe Name. ^u42 And every day, ^min the temple and at home, they ceased not to teach and to ⁿpreach ^oJesus as the Christ.

6 ^uNow in these days, ^pwhen the number of the disciples was multiplying, there arose a murmuring of ^uthe ^uGrecian Jews against the Hebrews, because their widows were neglected in ^rthe daily ministration. ^u2 And the twelve called the multitude of the disciples unto them, and said, It is not ^ufit that we should forsake the word of God, and ^userve tables. ^u3 ^uLook ye out therefore, brethren, from among ye seven men ^uof good report, ^ufull of the Spirit and of wisdom, whom we may appoint over this business. ^u4 But ^uwe will continue stedfastly in prayer, and in the ministry of the word. ^u5 And the saying pleased the whole multitude: and they chose Stephen, ^wa man full of faith and ^xof the Holy Spirit, and ^yPhilip, and Prochorus, and Nicanor, and Timon, and Parmenas, and Nicolas ^za proselyte of Antioch: ^u6 whom they set before the apostles: and ^awhen they had prayed, ^bthey laid their hands on them.

^u8 And Stephen, full of grace and ^fpower, wrought great wonders and signs among the people. ^u9 But there arose certain of them that were of the synagogue called the synagogue of the Libertines, and of the Cyrenians, and of the Alexandrians, and of them of Cilicia and Asia, disputing with Stephen. ^u10 And ^uthey were not able to withstand the wisdom and the Spirit by which he spake. ¹¹Then ^hthey suborned men, which said, We have heard him speak blasphemous words against Moses, and against God. ¹²And they stirred up the people, and the elders, and the scribes, and came upon him, and seized him, and brought him into the council, ¹³and ⁱset up ^jfalse witnesses, which said, This man ceaseth not to speak words against ^kthis holy place, and the law: ¹⁴for we have heard him say, that this Jesus of Nazareth ⁱshall destroy this place, and shall ^mchange ⁿthe customs which Moses delivered unto us. ¹⁵And all that sat in the council, fastening their eyes on him, saw his face ^oas it had been the face of an angel.

7 And the high priest said, Are these things so? ²And he said,

^pBrethren and fathers, hearken. ^qThe God ^rof glory appeared unto our father Abraham, when he was in Mesopotamia, ^sbefore he dwelt in Haran, ³and said unto him, ^tGet thee out of thy land, and from thy kindred, and come into the land which I shall shew thee. ⁴^sThen came he out of the land of the Chaldeans, and dwelt in Haran: and from thence, ^uwhen his father was dead, ^vGod removed him into this land, wherein ye now dwell: ⁵and he gave him none inheritance in it, no, not so much as to set his foot on: and he promised ^wthat he would give it to him in possession, and to his seed after him, ^xwhen as yet he had no child. ⁶And God spake on this wise, that ^yhis seed should ^zsojourn in a strange land, and that they should bring them into bondage, and entreat them evil, ^afour hundred years. ⁷And the nation to which they shall be in bondage ^bwill I judge, said God: and after that shall they come forth, ^cand serve me in this place. ⁸And ^dhe gave him the covenant of circumcision: and ^eso Abraham begat Isaac, and ^fcircumcised him the eighth day; and ^gIsaac begat Jacob, and ^hJacob the twelve patriarchs. ⁹And the patriarchs, ⁱmoved with jealousy against Joseph, ^jsold him into Egypt: and ^kGod was with him, ^land delivered him out of all his afflictions, and ^mgave him favour and wisdom before Pharaoh king of Egypt; and ⁿhe made him governor over Egypt and all his house. ¹¹Now ^othere came a famine over all Egypt and Canaan, and great affliction: and our fathers found no sustenance. ¹²^oBut when Jacob heard that there was corn in Egypt, he sent forth our fathers the first time. ¹³And ^pat the second time ^qJoseph was made known to his brethren; and ^rJoseph's race became manifest unto Pharaoh. ¹⁴And ^sJoseph sent, and called to him Jacob his father, and all his kindred, ^tthreescore and fifteen souls. ¹⁵And ^uJacob went down into Egypt; and ^vhe died, himself, ^wand our fathers; ¹⁶and ^xthey were carried over unto Shechem, and laid in the tomb that ^yAbraham bought for a price in silver of the sons of ¹Hamor in Shechem. ¹⁷But ^zas the time of the promise drew nigh, which God vouchsafed unto Abraham, ^athe people grew and multiplied in Egypt, ¹⁸till there arose another king over Egypt, ^bwhich knew not Joseph. ¹⁹^cThe same dealt subtilly with our race, and evil entreated our fathers, ^dthat ²they should cast out their babes to the end they might not ³live. ²⁰^eAt which season Moses was born, and was ^fexceeding fair; and he was nourished three months in his father's house: ²¹and ^gwhen he was cast out, Pharaoh's daughter took him up, and nourished him for her own son. ²²And Moses ^hwas instructed in ⁱall the wisdom of the Egyptians; and he was ^jmighty in his words and works. ²³But when he was well-nigh forty years old, it came into his heart ^kto visit his brethren the children of Israel. ²⁴And seeing one of them suffer wrong, he defended him, and avenged him that was oppressed, smiting the Egyptian: ²⁵and he supposed that his brethren understood how that God by his hand was giving them ^ldeliverance; but they understood not. ²⁶^lAnd the day following he appeared unto them as they strove, and would have set them at one again, saying, Sirs, ye are brethren; why do ye wrong one to another? ²⁷But he that did his neighbour wrong thrust him away, saying,

m Who made thee a ruler and a judge over us? 28 Wouldest thou kill me, as thou killedst the Egyptian yesterday? 29 n And Moses fled at this saying, and became a sojourner in the land of Midian, o where he begat two sons. 30 And when forty years were fulfilled, p an angel appeared to him q in the wilderness of mount Sinai, in a flame of fire in a bush. 31 And when Moses saw it, he wondered at the sight: and as he drew near to behold, there came a voice of the Lord, 32 r I am the God of thy fathers, the God of Abraham, and of Isaac, and of Jacob. And Moses trembled, and durst not behold. 33 And the Lord said unto him, s Loose the shoes from thy feet: for the place whereon thou standest is holy ground. 34 t I have surely seen the affliction of my people which is in Egypt, and u have heard their groaning, and v I am come down to deliver them: w and now come, I will send thee into Egypt. 35 This Moses whom they refused, x saying, Who made thee a ruler and a judge? him hath God sent to be both a ruler and a 1 deliverer y with the hand of the angel which appeared to him in the bush. 36 z This man led them forth, having wrought a wonders and signs b in Egypt, and c in the Red sea, and d in the wilderness e forty years. 37 This is that Moses, which said unto the children of Israel, f A prophet shall God raise up unto you from among your brethren, 2 like unto me. 38 This is he g that was in the 3h church in the wilderness with 4 the angel which spake to him in the mount Sinai, and with our fathers: j who received k living l oracles to give unto us: 39 to whom our fathers would not be obedient, but thrust him from them, and m turned back in their hearts unto Egypt, 40 saying unto Aaron, n Make us gods which shall go before us: for as for this Moses, which led us forth out of the land of Egypt, we wot not what is become of him. 41 And o they made a calf in those days, and brought a sacrifice unto the idol, and p rejoiced in q the works of their hands. 42 But r God turned, and s gave them up to serve t the

v Forty years in the wilderness, O house of Israel?

50 Did not my hand make all these things?
51 l Ye stiffnecked and m uncircumcised in heart and ears, ye do always resist the Holy Ghost: n as your fathers did, so do ye. 52 o Which of the prophets did not your fathers persecute? and they killed them which shewed before of the coming of p the Righteous One; q of whom ye have now become betrayers and murderers; 53 ye who received the law r as it was ordained by angels, and s kept it not.
54 Now when they heard these things, t they were cut to the heart, and they u gnashed on him with their teeth. 55 But he, v being full of the Holy Ghost, looked up steadfastly into heaven, and saw w the glory of God, and Jesus standing x on the right hand of God, 56 and said, Behold, I see ^v the heavens opened, and ^z the Son of man standing ^x on the right hand of God. 57 But they cried out with a loud voice, and stopped their ears, and rushed upon him with one accord; 58 and ^a they cast him out of the city, and ^b stoned him: and ^c the witnesses laid down their garments ^d at the feet of a young man named Saul. 59 And they stoned Stephen, ^e calling upon the Lord, and saying, Lord Jesus, ^f receive my spirit. 60 And he ^g kneeled down, and cried with a loud voice, ^h Lord, lay not this sin to their charge. And when he had said this, ⁱ he fell 8 asleep. 1 And ^j Saul was ^k consenting unto his death.

And there arose on that day a great persecution against the church which was in Jerusalem; and ^l they were all scattered abroad throughout the regions of Judæa and Samaria, except the apostles. 2 And devout men buried Stephen, and ^m made great lamentation over him. 3 But ⁿ Saul laid waste the church, entering into every house, and ^o haling men and women committed them to prison.

4 ^p They therefore that were scattered abroad went about preaching the word. 5 And ^q Philip went down to the city of Samaria, and proclaimed unto them the Christ. 6 ^r And the multitudes gave heed with one accord unto the things that were spoken by Philip, when they heard, ^s and saw the signs which he did. 7 ¹ For from many of those which had ^t unclean spirits, they came out, crying with a loud voice: and many that were palsied, and that were lame, were healed. 8 And ^u there was much joy in that city.

9 But there was a certain man, Simon by name, which beforetime in the city ^v used sorcery, and amazed the ² people of Samaria, ^w giving out that himself was some great one: 10 to whom they all gave heed, from the least to the greatest, saying, ^x This man is that power of God which is called ^y Great. 11 And they gave heed to him, because that of long time he had ^z amazed them with his sorceries. 12 But when ^a they believed

Philip preaching good tidings ^b concerning the kingdom of God and the name of Jesus Christ, ^a they were baptized, both men and women. 13 And Simon also himself believed: and being baptized, he continued with Philip; and ^c beholding signs and ^d great ³ miracles wrought, ^e he was amazed.

14 Now when ^f the apostles which were at Jerusalem heard that ^g Samaria had received the word of God, they sent unto them Peter and John: 15 who, when they were come down, prayed for them, ^h that they might receive the Holy Ghost: 16 for ⁱ as yet he was ^j fallen upon none of them: only ^k they had been baptized into the name of the Lord Jesus. 17 Then ^l laid they their hands on them, and ^m they received the Holy Ghost. 18 Now when Simon saw that through the laying on of the apostles' hands the ⁴ Holy Ghost was given, he offered them money, 19 saying, Give me also this power, that on whomsoever I lay my hands, he may receive the Holy Ghost. 20 But Peter said unto him, ⁿ Thy silver perish with thee, because thou hast thought to obtain the gift of God ^o with money. 21 Thou hast neither part nor lot in this ⁵ matter: for ^p thy heart is not right before God. 22 Repent therefore of this thy wickedness, and pray the Lord, ^q if perhaps the thought of thy heart shall be forgiven thee. 23 For I see that thou ⁶ art in ^s the gall of bitterness and in ^t the bond of iniquity. 24 And Simon answered and said, ^u Pray ye for me to the Lord, that none of the things which ye have spoken come upon me.

25 They therefore, when they had testified and spoken the word of the Lord, returned to Jerusalem, and ^v preached the gospel to many villages of the Samaritans.

26 But ^w an angel of the Lord spake unto Philip, saying, Arise, and go ⁷ toward the south unto the way that goeth down from Jerusalem unto Gaza: the same is desert. 27 And he arose and went: and behold, ^x a man of ^y Ethiopia, a eunuch of great authority under Candace, queen of the Ethiopians, ^z who was over all her treasure, ^a who had come

1 Or, For many of those which had unclean spirits that cried with a loud voice came forth. 2 Gr. nation. 3 Gr. powers. 4 Some ancient authorities omit Holy. 5 Gr. word 6 Or, wilt become gall (or, a gall root) of bitterness and a bond of iniquity. 7 Or, at noon to Jerusalem for to worship; 28 and he was returning and sitting in his chariot, and was reading the prophet Isaiah. 29 And ^bthe Spirit said unto Philip, Go near, and join thyself to this chariot. 30 And Philip ran to him, and heard him reading Isaiah the prophet, and said, Understandest thou what thou readest? 31 And he said, ^cHow can I, except some one shall ^dguide me? And ^ehe besought Philip to come up and sit with him. 32 Now the place of the scripture which he was reading was this,

^fHe was led as a sheep to the slaughter;
And as a lamb before his shearer is dumb,

So he openeth not his mouth:

33 In his ^ghumiliation his judgment was taken away:

His generation who shall declare?

For his life is taken from the earth.

34 And the eunuch answered Philip, and said, I pray thee, of whom speaketh the prophet this? of himself, or of some other? 35 And Philip opened his mouth, and ^hbeginning from this scripture, ⁱpreached unto him Jesus. 36 And as they went on the way, they came unto a certain water; and the eunuch saith, Behold, here is water; ^jwhat doth hinder me to be baptized? 37 And he commanded the chariot to stand still: and they both went down into the water, both Philip and the eunuch; and he baptized him. 38 And when they came up out of the water, ^kthe Spirit of the Lord ^lcaught away Philip; and the eunuch saw him no more, for he went on his way rejoicing. 39 But Philip was found at Azotus: and passing through he preached the gospel to all the cities, till he came to Cæsarea.

9 But Saul, ^myet ⁿbreathing threatening and slaughter against the disciples of the Lord, went unto ^othe high priest, 2 and asked of him letters to Damascus ^punto the synagogues, that if he found any that were of ^qthe Way, whether men or women, he might bring them bound to Jerusalem. 3 And as he journeyed, it came to pass that he drew nigh unto Damascus: and suddenly there shone round about him a light out of heaven: 4 and he fell upon the earth, and heard a voice saying unto him, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou ^sme? 5 And he said, Who art thou, Lord? And he said, I am Jesus ^twhom thou persecutest: 6 but ^urise, and enter into the city, and it shall be told thee ^vwhat thou must do. 7 And ^wthe men that journeyed with him stood speechless, ^xhearing the ^yvoice, but beholding no man. 8 And Saul arose from the earth; and when his eyes were opened, ^zhe saw nothing; and they led him by the hand, and brought him into Damascus. 9 And he was three days without sight, and did neither eat nor drink.

10 Now there was a certain disciple at Damascus, named ^aAnanias; and the Lord said unto him in a vision, Ananias. And he said, ^bBehold, I am here, Lord. 11 And the Lord said unto him, Arise, and go to the street which is called Straight, and inquire in the house of Judas for one named Saul, a man ^cof Tarsus: for behold, he prayeth; 12 and he hath seen a man named Ananias coming in, and ^dlaying his hands on him, that he might receive his sight. 13 But Ananias answered, Lord, I have heard from many of this man, ^ehow much evil he did to ^fthy ^gsaints at Jerusalem: 14 and here he hath authority from ^hthe chief priests to bind all that ⁱcall upon thy name. 15 But the Lord said unto him, Go thy way: for ^jhe is ^ka ^lchosen vessel unto me, to bear my name ^mbefore the Gentiles and ⁿkings, and the children of Israel: 16 for ^oI will shew him how many things ^phe must suffer ^qfor my name's sake. 17 And ^rAnanias departed, and entered into the house; and ^slaying his hands on him said, Brother Saul, the Lord, even Jesus, who appeared unto thee in the way which thou camest, hath sent me, that thou mayest receive thy sight, and ^tbe filled with the Holy Ghost. 18 And straightway there fell from his eyes as it were scales, and ^uhe received his sight; and ^vhe arose and was baptized; 19 and ^whe took food and was strengthened.

And ^xhe was certain days with the disciples which were at Damascus. ²⁰ And straightway in the synagogues he proclaimed Jesus, ^v that he is the Son of God. ²¹ And all that heard him were amazed, and said, Is not this he ^w that in Jerusalem ^a made havock of them which called on this name? and he had come hither for this intent, that he might bring them bound before the chief priests. ²² But Saul ^v increased the more in strength, and ^a confounded the Jews which dwelt at Damascus, proving ^a that this is the Christ.

²³ And ^b when many days were fulfilled, the Jews took counsel together to kill him: ²⁴ but their ^c plot became known to Saul. And ^d they watched the gates also day and night that they might kill him: ²⁵ but his disciples took him by night, and ^e let him down through the wall, lowering him in a basket.

²⁶ And ^f when he was come to Jerusalem, he assayed to join himself to the disciples: and they were all afraid of him, not believing that he was a disciple. ²⁷ But ^g Barnabas took him, and ^h brought him to the apostles, and declared unto them ⁱ how he had seen the Lord in the way, and that he had spoken to him, and ^j how at Damascus he had ^k preached boldly in the name of Jesus. ²⁸ And he was with them ^l going in and going out at Jerusalem, ²⁹ preaching boldly in the name of the Lord: and he spake and disputed against ^m the ¹ Grecian Jews; but ⁿ they went about to kill him. ³⁰ And when ^o the brethren knew it, they brought him down to Cæsarea, and sent him forth ^p to Tarsus.

³² And it came to pass, ^t as Peter went throughout all parts, he came down also to the saints which dwelt at ^u Lydda. ³³ And there he found a certain man named Æneas, which had kept his bed eight years; for he was palsied. ³⁴ And Peter said unto him, Æneas, ^v Jesus Christ healeth thee: arise, and make thy bed. And straightway he arose. ³⁵ ^w And all that dwelt at Lydda and in ^x Sharon saw him, and ^y they turned to the Lord.

³⁶ Now there was at ^z Joppa a certain disciple named Tabitha, which by interpretation is called ⁴ Dorcas: this woman was full of ^a good works and almsdeeds which she did. ³⁷ And it came to pass in those days, that she fell sick, and died: and when they had washed her, they laid her in ^b an upper chamber. ³⁸ And as Lydda was nigh unto Joppa, the disciples, hearing that Peter was there, sent two men unto him, intreating him, ^c Delay not to come on unto us. ³⁹ And Peter arose and went with them. And when he was come, they brought him into ^d the upper chamber: and all the widows stood by him weeping, and shewing the coats and garments which Dorcas made, while she was with them. ⁴⁰ But Peter ^e put them all forth, and ^f kneeled down, and prayed; and turning to the body, ^g he said, Tabitha, arise. And she opened her eyes; and when she saw Peter, she sat up. ⁴¹ And he gave her his hand, and raised her up; and calling the saints and widows, he presented her alive. ⁴² And it became known throughout all Joppa: and ^h many believed on the Lord. ⁴³ And it came to pass, that he abode many days in Joppa ⁱ with one Simon a tanner.

IO Now there was a certain man in Cæsarea, Cornelius by name, a centurion of ^j the band called the Italian ⁵ band, ² a devout man, and ^k one that feared God with all his house, who gave much alms to the people, and prayed to God alway. ³ ¹ He saw in a vision openly, as it were ^m about the ninth hour of the day, ⁿ an angel of God coming in unto him, and saying to him, Cornelius. ⁴ And he, fastening his eyes upon him, and being affrighted, said, What is it, Lord? And he said unto him, Thy prayers and thine alms ^o are gone up ^p for a memorial before God. ⁵ And now send men to Joppa, and fetch one Simon, who is surnamed Peter: ⁶ he lodgeth ^q with one Simon a tanner, whose house is by the sea side. ⁷ And when the angel that spake unto him was departed, he called two of his ^r household-servants, and a devout soldier of them that waited on him continually; 8 and having rehearsed all things unto them, he sent them to Joppa.

9 Now on the morrow, as they were on their journey, and drew nigh unto the city, ^sPeter went up ^tupon the housetop to pray, about ^uthe sixth hour: 10 and he became hungry, and desired to eat: but while they made ready, he fell into ^va trance; 11 and he beholdeth ^wthe heaven opened, and a certain vessel descending, as it were a great sheet, let down by four corners upon the earth: 12 wherein were all manner of fourfooted beasts and creeping things of the earth and fowls of the heaven. 13 And there came a voice to him, Rise, Peter; kill and eat. 14 But Peter said, Not so, Lord; ^xfor I have never eaten anything that is ^ycommon and ^zunclean. 15 And a voice came unto him again the second time, ^aWhat God hath cleansed, make not thou common. 16 And this was done thrice: and straightway the vessel was received up into heaven.

17 Now while Peter was much perplexed in himself what ^bthe vision which he had seen might mean, behold, ^cthe men that were sent by Cornelius, having made inquiry for Simon's house, stood before the gate, 18 and called and asked whether Simon, which was surnamed Peter, were lodging there. 19 And while Peter thought on ^bthe vision, ^dthe Spirit said unto him, Behold, three men seek thee. 20 But arise, and get thee down, and ^ego with them, nothing doubting: for I have sent them. 21 And Peter went down to the men, and said, Behold, I am he whom ye seek: what is the cause wherefore ye are come? 22 And they said, Cornelius a centurion, a righteous man and ^fone that feareth God, and well reported of by all the nation of the Jews, was warned of God by ^ga holy angel to send for thee into his house, and ^hto hear words from thee. 23 So he called them in and lodged them.

And on the morrow he arose and went forth with them, and ⁱcertain of ^jthe brethren from Joppa accompanied him. 24 And on the morrow ^lthey entered into Cæsa-

rea. And Cornelius was waiting for them, having called together his kinsmen and his near friends. 25 And when it came to pass that Peter entered, Cornelius met him, and ^kfell down at his feet, and ^lworshipped him. 26 But Peter raised him up, saying, ^mStand up; I myself also am a man. 27 And as he talked with him, he went in, and findeth many come together: 28 and he said unto them, Ye yourselves know ⁿhow that it is an unlawful thing for a man that is a Jew ⁿto join himself or come unto one of another nation; and ^oyet unto me hath God shewed that I should not call any man common or unclean: 29 wherefore also I came without gainsaying, when I was sent for. I ask therefore with what intent ye sent for me. 30 And Cornelius said, ^pFour days ago, until this hour, I was keeping ^qthe ninth hour of prayer in my house; and behold, ^ra man stood before me in bright apparel, 31 and saith, Cornelius, ^sthy prayer is heard, and thine alms are had in remembrance in the sight of God. 32 Send therefore to Joppa, and call unto thee Simon, who is surnamed Peter; he lodgeth in the house of Simon a tanner, by the sea side. 33 Forthwith therefore I sent to thee; and thou hast well done that thou art come. Now therefore we are all here present in the sight of God, to hear all things that have been commanded thee of the Lord. 34 And Peter opened his mouth, and said,

Of a truth I perceive that ^tGod is no ^urespector of persons: 35 but ^tin every nation he that feareth him, and ^vworketh righteousness, is acceptable to him. 36 ^w3 The word which he sent unto the children of Israel, ^xpreaching ^ygood tidings of ^ypeace by Jesus Christ (^zhe is Lord of all)—37 that saying ye yourselves know, which was published throughout all Judæa, ^abeginning ^bfrom Galilee, after the baptism which John preached; 38 ^{even} Jesus of Nazareth, how that ^cGod anointed him ^dwith the Holy Ghost and with ^epower: who went about doing good, and healing all ^fthat were oppressed of the devil; ^gfor God was with him. 39 And ^hwe are witnesses of all things which he did both in the country of the Jews, and in Jerusalem; ⁱwhom also they slew, hanging him on a tree. 40 ^jHim God raised up ^kthe third day, and gave him to be ^lmade manifest, 41 ^mnot to all the people, but unto ⁿwitnesses that were chosen before of God, even to us, ^owho did eat and drink with him after he rose from the dead. 42 And ^phe charged us to preach unto the people, and to testify ^qthat this is he which is ordained of God to be the Judge ^rof quick and dead. 43 ^sTo him bear ^tall the prophets witness, that ^uthrough his name ^vevery one that believeth on him shall receive ^wremission of sins.

44 While Peter yet spake these words, ^xthe Holy Ghost fell on all them which heard the word. 45 And ^ythey of the circumcision which believed were amazed, as many as came with Peter, because that on the Gentiles also ^zwas poured out ^athe gift of the Holy Ghost. 46 For they heard them ^bspeak with tongues, and magnify God. Then answered Peter, 47 ^cCan any man forbid the water, that these should not be baptized, which have received the Holy Ghost ^das well as we? 48 And he ^ecommanded them ^fto be baptized in the name of Jesus Christ. Then prayed they him to tarry certain days.

II Now the apostles and ^gthe brethren that were in Judæa heard that the Gentiles also had received the word of God. 2 And when Peter was come up to Jerusalem, they ^hthat were of the circumcision contended with him, 3 saying, ⁱThou wentest in to men uncircumcised, and didst ^jeat with them. 4 But Peter began, and expounded the matter unto them in order, saying, 5 ^kI was in the city of Joppa praying: and in a trance I saw a vision, a certain vessel descending, as it were a great sheet let down from heaven by four corners; and it came even unto me: 6 upon the which when I had fastened mine eyes, I considered, and saw the fourfooted beasts of the earth and wild beasts and creeping things and fowls of the heaven. 7 And I heard also a voice saying unto me, Rise, Pêter; kill and eat. 8 But I said, Not so, Lord: for nothing common or unclean hath ever entered into my mouth. 9 But a voice answered the second time out of heaven, What God hath cleansed, make not thou common. 10 And this was done thrice: and all were drawn up again into heaven. 11 And behold, forthwith three men stood before the house in which we were, having been sent from Cæsarea unto me. 12 And the Spirit bade me go with them, ^lmaking no distinction. And ^mthese six brethren also accompanied me; and we entered into the man's house: 13 and he told us how he had seen the angel standing in his house, and saying, Send to Joppa, and fetch Simon, whose surname is Peter; 14 ⁿwho shall speak unto thee words, whereby ^othou shalt be saved, thou and all thy house. 15 And as I began to speak, ^pthe Holy Ghost fell on them, ^qeven as on us at the beginning. 16 And I remembered the word of the Lord, how that he said, ^rJohn indeed baptized with water; but ye shall be baptized ¹with the Holy Ghost. 17 If then ^sGod gave unto them ^tthe like gift as he did also unto us, ^uwhen we believed on the Lord Jesus Christ, ^vwho was I, ^wthat I could withstand God? 18 And when they heard these things, they held their peace, and ^xglorified God, saying, ^yThen to the Gentiles also hath God ^zgranted ^arepentance unto life.

19 ^bThey therefore that were scattered abroad upon the tribulation that arose about Stephen travelled as far as Phœnicia, and Cyprus, and Antioch, speaking the word to none save only to Jews. 20 But there were some of them, men of Cyprus and Cyrene, who, when they were come to Antiôch, spake unto the ^{2c}Greeks also, ^dpreaching the Lord Jesus. 21 And ^ethe hand of the Lord was with them: and a great number that believed ^fturned unto the Lord. 22 And the report concerning them came to the ears of the church which was in Jerusalem: and they sent forth Barnabas as far as Antioch: 23 who, when he was come, and had seen ^gthe grace of God, was glad; and he exhorted them all, ¹that ^hwith purpose of heart they would cleave unto the Lord: ²⁴for he was a good man, and ⁱfull of the Holy Ghost and of faith: and much people ^jwas added unto the Lord. ²⁵And he went forth to ^kTarsus to seek for Saul: ²⁶and when he had found him, he brought him unto Antioch. And it came to pass, that even for a whole year they were gathered together ²with the church, and taught much people; and that the disciples were called ^lChristians first in Antioch.

²⁷Now in these days there came down ^mprophets from Jerusalem unto Antioch. ²⁸And there stood up one of them named ⁿAgabus, and signified ^oby the Spirit that there should be a great ^pfamine over all ³the world: which came to pass in the days of ^qClaudius. ²⁹And the disciples, every man according to his ability, determined ^rto send ⁴relief unto ^sthe brethren that dwelt in Judæa: ³⁰^twhich also they did, sending it to ^uthe elders by the hand of Barnabas and Saul.

I Now about that time Herod the king put forth his hands to afflict certain of the church.

²And he killed ^vJames the brother of John ^wwith the sword. ³And when he saw ^xthat it pleased the Jews, he proceeded to seize Peter also. And those were ^ythe days of unleavened bread. ⁴And when he had taken him, he put him ^zin prison, and delivered him to four ^aquaternions of soldiers to guard him; intending after the Passover to bring him forth to the people. ⁵Peter therefore was kept in the prison: but prayer was made earnestly ^bof the church unto God for him.

⁶And when Herod was about to bring him forth, the same night Peter was sleeping between two soldiers, ^cbound with two chains: and guards before the door kept the prison. ⁷And behold, ^dan angel of the Lord ^estood by him, and a light shined in the cell: and ^fhe smote Peter on the side, and awoke him, saying, Rise up quickly. And ^ghis chains fell off from his hands. ⁸And the angel said unto him, Gird thyself, and ^hbind on thy sandals.

¹ Some ancient authorities read that they would cleave unto the purpose of their heart in the Lord.
² Gr. in. ³ Gr. the inhabited earth. ⁴ Gr. for ministry. ⁵ Or, through ⁶ Gr. led away to death.

And he did so. And he saith unto him, Cast thy garment about thee, and follow me. ⁹And he went out, and followed; and he wist not that it was true which was done ⁵by the angel, but ⁱthought he saw a vision. ¹⁰And when they were past the first and the second ward, they came unto the iron gate that leadeth into the city; ^jwhich opened to them of its own accord: and they went out, and passed on through one street; and straightway the angel departed from him. ¹¹And when Peter ^kwas come to himself, he said, Now I know of a truth, that ^lthe Lord hath sent forth his angel and ^mdelivered me out of the hand of Herod, and from all the expectation of the people of the Jews. ¹²And when he had considered the thing, he came to the house of Mary the mother of ⁿJohn whose surname was Mark; where many were gathered together and ^owere praying. ¹³And when he knocked at the door of the gate, ^pa maid came to answer, named Rhoda. ¹⁴And when she knew Peter's voice, she opened not the gate ^qfor joy, but ran in, and told that Peter stood before the gate. ¹⁵And they said unto her, Thou art mad. But she confidently affirmed that it was even so. And they said, It is ^rhis angel. ¹⁶But Peter continued knocking: and when they had opened, they saw him, and were amazed. ¹⁷But he, ^sbeckoning unto them with the hand to hold their peace, declared unto them how the Lord had brought him forth out of the prison. And he said, Tell these things unto ^tJames, and to ^uthe brethren. And he departed, and went to another place. ¹⁸Now as soon as it was day, there was no small stir among the soldiers, what was become of Peter. ¹⁹And when Herod had sought for him, and found him not, he examined the guards, and ^vcommanded that they should be ⁶put to death. And he went down from Judæa to Cæsarea, and tarried there.

²⁰Now he was highly displeased with them of Tyre and Sidon: and they came with one accord to him, and, ^whaving made Blastus the king's chamberlain their friend, they asked for peace, because ^x their country was fed from the king's country. 21 And upon a set day Herod arrayed himself in royal apparel, and sat on the ¹ throne, and made an oration unto them. 22 And the people shouted, saying, The voice of a god, and not of a man. 23 And immediately ^z an angel of the Lord smote him, because ^a he gave not God the glory: and ^b he was eaten of worms, and gave up the ghost.

24 But ^c the word of God grew and multiplied.

25 ^d And Barnabas and Saul returned ² from Jerusalem, when they had fulfilled their ministration, taking with them ^e John whose surname was Mark.

13 ¹ Now there were at Antioch, in the church that was there, ^f prophets and ^g teachers, ^h Barnabas, and Symeon that was called Niger, and ⁱ Lucius of Cyrene, and Manaen the foster-brother of ^j Herod the tetrarch, and Saul. 2 And as they ministered to the Lord, and fasted, ^k the Holy Ghost said, ^l Separate me Barnabas and Saul ^l for the work whereunto I have called them. 3 Then, when they had fasted and ^m prayed and laid their hands on them, ⁿ they sent them away.

4 So they, being sent forth ^o by the Holy Ghost, went down to Seleucia; and from thence they sailed to Cyprus. 5 And when they were at Salamis, they proclaimed the word of God ^p in the synagogues of the Jews: and they had also ^q John as their ^r attendant. 6 And when they had gone through the whole island unto Paphos, they found a certain ^s sorcerer, ^t a false prophet, a Jew, whose name was Bar-Jesus; 7 which was with ^u the proconsul, Sergius Paulus, a man of understanding. The same called unto him Barnabas and Saul, and sought to hear the word of God. 8 But Elymas the ^v sorcerer (for so is his name by interpretation) ^v withstood them, seeking to turn aside ^w the proconsul from the faith. 9 But Saul, who is also called Paul, ^x filled with the Holy Ghost, fastened his eyes on him, 10 and said, O full of all guile and all ^y villany, thou ^z son of the devil, thou enemy of all righteousness, wilt thou not cease ^a to pervert ^b the right ways of the Lord? 11 And now, behold, ^c the hand of the Lord is upon thee, and thou shalt be blind, not seeing the sun ^d for a season. And immediately there fell on him a mist and a darkness; and he went about seeking ^e some to lead him by the hand. 12 Then the proconsul, when he saw what was done, believed, being astonished at ^f the teaching of the Lord.

13 Now Paul and his company set sail from Paphos, and came to Perga in Pamphylia: and ^g John departed from them and returned ^h to Jerusalem. 14 But they, passing through from Perga, came to Antioch of Pisidia; and ⁱ they went into the synagogue ^j on the sabbath day, and sat down. 15 And after ^k the reading of ^l the law and the prophets ^m the rulers of the synagogue sent unto them, saying, Brethren, if ye have any ⁿ word of exhortation for the people, say on. 16 And Paul stood up, and ^o beckoning with the hand said,

Men of Israel, and ^p ye that fear God, hearken. 17 ^q The God of this people Israel ^r chose our fathers, and ^s exalted the people ^t when they sojourned in the land of Egypt, and ^u with a high arm led he them forth out of it. 18 And for about the time of ^v forty years ^w suffered he their manners in the wilderness. 19 And ^x when he had destroyed ^y seven nations in the land of Canaan, ^z he gave them their land for an inheritance, for about four hundred and fifty years: 20 and after these things ^a he gave them judges until ^b Samuel the prophet. 21 And afterward ^c they asked for a king: and ^d God gave unto them Saul ^e the son of Kish, a man of the tribe of Benjamin, for the space of forty years. 22 And ^f when he had removed him, ^g he raised up David to be their king; to whom also he bare witness, and said, ^h I have found David the son of Jesse, ⁱ a man after my heart, ^j who shall do all my ^k will. 23 ^k Of this man's seed hath God ^l according to promise brought unto Israel ^m a Saviour, Jesus; 24 ⁿ when John had first preached ^o before his ^o coming

41 ^x Behold, ye despisers, and wonder, and ^{2y} perish;

For I work a work in your days, A work which ye shall in no wise believe, if one declare it unto you.

42 And as they went out, they besought that these words might be spoken to them the next sabbath.

43 Now when the synagogue broke up, many of the Jews and of the ^z devout ^a proselytes followed Paul and Barnabas: who, speaking to them, urged them ^b to continue in ^c the grace of God.

44 And the next sabbath almost the whole city was gathered together to hear the word of ³ God.

45 ^d But ^e when the Jews saw the multitudes, they were filled with ^f jealousy, and contradicted the things which were spoken by Paul, and ^{4g} blasphemed. 46 And Paul and Barnabas spake out boldly, and said, It was necessary that the word of God should ^h first be spoken to you. ⁱ Seeing ye thrust it from you, and judge yourselves ^j unworthy of eternal life, lo, we ^k turn to the Gentiles. 47 ^l For so hath the Lord commanded us, saying,

^m I have set thee ⁿ for a light of the Gentiles,

That thou shouldest be for ^o salvation unto the uttermost part of the earth.

48 And as the Gentiles heard this, they were glad, and ^p glorified the word of ³ God: and as many as were ordained to eternal life believed.

49 And the word of the Lord was spread abroad throughout all the region. 50 ^q But the Jews urged on the devout ^r women of honourable estate, and the chief men of the city, and ^s stirred up a persecution against Paul and Barnabas, and ^t cast them out of their borders. 51 But they ^u shook off the dust of their feet against them, and came unto Iconium. 52 And the disciples were filled ^v with joy and ^w with the Holy Ghost.

of Greeks believed. ² But the Jews that were ² disobedient stirred up the souls of the Gentiles, and made them evil affected against ^a the brethren. ³ Long time therefore they tarried there speaking boldly in ^b the Lord, which bare witness unto ^c the word of his grace, ^d granting signs and wonders to be done by their hands. ⁴ But the multitude of the city ^e was divided; and ^f part held with the Jews, and part with the apostles. ⁵ And when there was made an onset both of the Gentiles and of the Jews with their rulers, ^g to entreat them shamefully, and ^h to stone them, ⁱ they became aware of it, and ^j fled unto the cities of Lycaonia, ^k Lystra and Derbe, and the region round about: ⁷ and there they preached the gospel.

⁸ And at Lystra there sat a certain man, impotent in his feet, ^k a cripple from his mother's womb, who never had walked. ⁹ The same heard Paul speaking: who, fastening his eyes upon him, and ^l seeing that he had faith to be ^m made whole, ¹⁰ said with a loud voice, Stand upright on thy feet. And he ⁿ leaped up and walked. ¹¹ And when the multitudes saw what Paul had done, they lifted up their voice, saying in the speech of Lycaonia, ^o The gods are come down to us in the likeness of men. ¹² And they called Barnabas, ² Jupiter; and Paul, ³ Mercury, because he was the chief speaker. ¹³ And the priest of ² Jupiter whose temple was before the city, brought oxen and garlands unto the gates, and ^a would have done sacrifice with the multitudes. ¹⁴ But when the apostles, Barnabas and Paul, heard of it, they ^r rent their garments, and sprang forth among the multitude, crying out ¹⁵ and saying, Sirs, ^s why do ye these things? We also are men ^t of like ⁴ passions with you, and bring you good tidings, that ^u ye should turn from these ^v vain things unto ^w the living God, ^x who made the heaven and the earth and the sea, and all that in them is: ¹⁶ who in the generations gone by ^y suffered all the nations ^z to walk in their own ways. ¹⁷ And yet ^a he left not himself without witness, in that he ^b did good, and ^c gave you from heaven rains and ^d fruitful seasons, filling your hearts with ^e food and ^f gladness. ¹⁸ And with these sayings scarce restrained they the multitudes from doing sacrifice unto them.

¹⁹ But there came Jews thither from Antioch and Iconium: and having persuaded the multitudes, ^h they stoned Paul, and dragged him out of the city, supposing that he was dead. ²⁰ But as the disciples stood round about him, he rose up, and entered into the city: and on the morrow he went forth with Barnabas to Derbe. ²¹ And when they had preached the gospel to that city, and had ⁱ made many disciples, they returned to Lystra, and to Iconium, and to Antioch, ²² confirming the souls of the disciples, exhorting them ^k to continue in ^l the faith, and that ^m through many tribulations we must enter into the kingdom of God. ²³ And when they had ⁿ appointed for them ^o elders in every church, and had prayed with fasting, ^p they commended them to the Lord, on whom they had believed. ²⁴ And they passed through Pisidia, and came to Pamphylia. ²⁵ And when they had spoken the word in Perga, they went down to Attalia; ²⁶ and thence they sailed to Antioch, ^q from whence they had been ^r committed to the grace of God for the work which they had fulfilled. ²⁷ And when they were come, and had gathered the church together, ^s they rehearsed all things that God had done with them, and ^t how that he had ^u opened ^v a door of faith unto the Gentiles. ²⁸ And they tarried no little time with the disciples.

¹ And certain men came ¹⁵ down from Judæa and taught ^x the brethren, saying, Except ye be ^y circumcised ^z after the custom of Moses, ye cannot be saved. ² And when Paul and Barnabas had no small dissension and ^a questioning with them, ^b the brethren appointed that Paul and Barnabas, and certain other of them, should go up to Jerusalem unto ^c the apostles and elders about this question. ³ They therefore, ^d being brought on their way by the church, passed through both Phœnicia and Samaria, ^e de-clar^{ing} the conversion of the Gentiles: and ^fthey caused great joy unto all ^gthe brethren. 4 And ^hwhen

they were come to Jerusalem, they were received of the church and ⁱthe apostles and the elders, and ^ethey rehearsed all things that God had done with them. 5 But there rose up certain of ^jthe sect of the Pharisees who believed, saying, ^kIt is needful ^lto circumcise them, and to charge them to keep the law of Moses.

6 ^mAnd ⁱthe apostles and the elders were gathered together to consider of this matter. 7 And when
there had been much ⁿquestioning,
Peter rose up, and said unto them,

Brethren, ye know how that ^{1a}a good while ago God made choice among you, ^othat by my mouth the Gentiles should hear ^pthe word of ^qthe gospel, and believe. 8 And God, ^rwhich knoweth the heart, ^sbare them witness, ^tgiving them
the Holy Ghost, even as he did unto us; 9 and ^uhe made no distinction between us and them, ^vcleansing
their hearts ^wby faith. 10 Now therefore why ^xtempt ye God, ^ythat
ye should put a yoke upon the neck of the disciples, ^zwhich neither our fathers nor we were able to bear?
11 But we ^abelieve that we shall be ^bsaved through ^cthe grace of the Lord Jesus, ^uin like manner as they.

12 And all the multitude kept silence; and they hearkened unto Barnabas and Paul ^drehearsing what signs and wonders God had wrought among the Gentiles by them. 13 And after they had held their peace, ^eJames answered, saying,

Brethren, hearken unto me:
14 ^fSymeon hath rehearsed how first God did visit the Gentiles, to take out of them ^ga people for his name.

15 And to this agree the words of the prophets; as it is written,

16 ^hAfter these things I will return,
And I will build again the tabernacle of David, which is fallen;
And I will build again the ruins thereof,
And I will set it up:

17 That the residue of men ⁱmay
seek after the Lord,

And all the Gentiles, ^jupon
whom my name is called,

18 Saith the Lord, ²who maketh
these things ^kknown from the beginning of the world.

19 Wherefore ^lmy judgement is,
that we trouble not them which from among the Gentiles ^mturn to God; 20 but that we ⁿwrite unto them, ^othat they abstain from ^pthe
pollutions of idols, and from ^qfornication, and from ^rwhat is strangled,
and from ^sblood. 21 For Moses from generations of old hath in every city them that preach him, ^tbeing
read in the synagogues every sabbath.

22 Then it seemed good to ^uthe apostles and the elders, with the whole church, to choose men out of their company, and send them to Antioch with Paul and Barnabas;
namely, Judas called ^vBarsabbas,
and ^wSilas, chief men among ^xthe brethren: 23 and they wrote thus by them, ^yThe apostles and the elder brethren unto ^zthe brethren which are of the Gentiles in Antioch and Syria and Cilicia, ^agreeting: 24 For-asmuch as we have heard that ^bcertain ^cwhich went out from us have ^dtroubled you with words, subverting your souls; to whom we gave no commandment; 25 it seemed good unto us, having come ^eto one accord, to choose out men and send them unto you with our ^fbeloved Barnabas and Paul, 26 ^gmen that have ^hhazarded their lives for the name of our Lord Jesus Christ.

27 We have sent therefore ⁱJudas and Silas, who themselves also shall tell you the same things by word of mouth. 28 For it seemed good ^jto the Holy Ghost, and ^kto us, ^lto lay upon you no greater burden than these necessary things; 29 ^mthat ye abstain from ⁿthings sacrificed to idols, and from blood, and from things strangled, and from fornication; from which if ye keep yourselves, it shall be well with you.
^oFare ye well.

30 So they, when they were dismissed, came down to Antioch; and having gathered the multitude together, they delivered the epistle.
31 And when they had read it,
they rejoiced for the ^pconsolation.
32 And Judas and Silas, being themselves also ^qprophets, ^rexhorted ^sthe brethren with many words, and

36 And after some days Paul said unto Barnabas, Let us return now and visit l the brethren n in every city wherein we proclaimed the word of the Lord, and see how they fare. 37 And Barnabas was minded to take with them a John also, who was called Mark. 38 But Paul thought not good to take with them him r who withdrew from them from Pamphylia, and went not with them to the work. 39 And there arose s a sharp contention, so that they parted asunder one from the other, and t Barnabas took Mark with him, and sailed away unto Cyprus; 40 but Paul chose Silas, and went forth, u being commended by v the brethren to w the grace of the Lord. 41 And he went through Syria and Cilicia, x confirming the churches.

16 And he came also to Derbe and to Lystra: and behold, a certain disciple was there, named y Timothy, z the son of a Jewess which believed; but his father was a Greek. 2 The same was well reported of by a the brethren that were at Lystra and Iconium. 3 Him would Paul have to go forth with him; and he b took and circumcised him because of the Jews that were in those parts: for they all knew that his father was a Greek. 4 And as they went on their way through the cities, they delivered them c the decrees for to keep, d which had been ordained of e the apostles and elders that were at Jerusalem. 5 f So the churches were strengthened in g the faith, and increased in number h daily.

6 And i they went through the region of Phrygia and Galatia, having been forbidden of the Holy Ghost to speak the word in Asia; 7 and when they were come over against Mysia, they assayed to go into Bithynia; and j the Spirit of Jesus suffered them not; 8 and passing by Mysia, they came down k to Troas. 9 And a vision appeared to Paul in the night; There was a man of Macedonia standing, beseeching him, and saying, Come over into Macedonia, and help us. 10 And when he had seen the vision, straightway l we sought to go forth into Macedonia, concluding that God had called us for to preach the gospel unto them.

11 Setting sail therefore from Troas, we m made a straight course to Samothrace, and the day following to Neapolis; 12 and from thence to n Philippi, which is a city of Macedonia, the first of the district, o a Roman colony: and we were in this city tarrying certain days. 13 And p on the sabbath day we went forth without the gate q by a river side, where we supposed there was a place of prayer; and we r sat down, and spake unto the women which were come together. 14 And a certain woman named Lydia, a seller of purple, of the city of Thyatira, s one that worshipped God, heard us: t whose u heart the Lord opened, to give heed unto the things which were spoken by Paul. 15 And when she was baptized, v and her household, she besought us, saying, If ye have judged me to be faithful to the Lord, come into my house, and abide there. And she w constrained us.

16 And it came to pass, as we were going to x the place of prayer, that a certain maid having y a spirit of z divination met us, a which brought her masters much gain by soothsaying. 17 The same following after Paul and us b cried out, saying, These men are c servants of d the Most High God, which proclaim unto you e the way of salvation. 18 And this she did for many days. But Paul, being sore troubled, turned and said to the spirit, f I charge thee g in the name of Jesus Christ to come out of her. And h it came out that very hour.

19 But i when her masters saw that the hope of their gain was j gone, they laid hold on Paul and Silas, and k dragged them into the marketplace before the rulers, 20 and when they had brought them unto the l magistrates, they said, These men, being Jews, do exceedingly trouble our city, 21 and k set forth customs which it is not lawful for us to receive, or to observe, ¹being Romans. 22 And the multitude rose up together against them: and the ¹magistrates rent their garments off them, and commanded ^mto beat them with rods. 23 And when they had laid many stripes upon them, they cast them into prison, charging the jailor to keep them safely: 24 who, having received such a charge, cast them into the inner ⁿprison, and made their feet fast in ^othe stocks. 25 But ^pabout midnight Paul and Silas were praying and singing hymns unto God, and the prisoners were listening to them; 26 and suddenly ^qthere was a great earthquake, so that the foundations of the prison-house were shaken: and immediately ^rall the doors were opened; and ^severy one's bands were loosed. 27 And the jailor being roused out of sleep, and seeing the prison doors open, drew his sword, and ^twas about to kill himself, supposing that the prisoners had escaped. 28 But Paul cried with a loud voice, saying, Do thyself no harm: for we are all here. 29 And he called for lights, and sprang in, and, trembling for fear, ^ufell down before Paul and Silas, 30 and brought them out, and said, Sirs, ^vwhat must I do to be ^wsaved? 31 And they said, ^xBelieve on the Lord Jesus, and thou shalt be saved, thou ^yand thy house. 32 And they spake the word of ^zthe Lord unto him, with all that were in his house. 33 And he took them ^athe same hour of the night, and washed their stripes; and ^awas baptized, he and all his, immediately. 34 And he brought them up into his house, and set ^bmeat before them, and ^crejoiced greatly, with all his house, ^dhaving believed in God.

35 But when it was day, the ¹magistrates sent the ^eserjeants, saying, Let those men go. 36 And the jailor reported the words to Paul, saying, The ¹magistrates have sent to let you go: now therefore come forth, and go in peace. 37 But Paul said unto them, They have beaten us publicly, ^funcondemned, men that are Romans, and have cast us into prison; and do they now cast us out privily? nay verily;

but let them come themselves and bring us out. 38 And the ⁵serjeants reported these words unto the ¹magistrates: and ^dthey feared, when they heard that they were Romans; 39 and they came and besought them; and when they had brought them out, ^ethey asked them to go away from the city. 40 And they went out of the prison, and entered into the house of ^fLydia: and when they had seen ^gthe brethren, they ⁶comforted them, and departed.

17 ⁱNow when they had passed through Amphipolis and Apollonia, they came to ^hThessalonica, where was a synagogue of the Jews: 2 and Paul, ⁱas his custom was, went in unto them, and for three ⁷sabbath days reasoned with them ^jfrom the scriptures, 3 ^kopening and alleging, that it behoved ^lthe Christ to suffer, and ^mto rise again from the dead; and that this Jesus, whom, said he, I proclaim unto you, is the Christ. 4 And ⁿsome of them were persuaded, and consorted with Paul and Silas; and of the devout ^oGreeks ^pa great multitude, and of the chief women not a few. 5 ^qBut the Jews, being moved with ^rjealousy, took unto them ^scertain vile fellows of the rabble, and gathering a crowd, set the city on an uproar; and assaulting the house of ^tJason, they sought to bring them forth to the people. 6 And when they found them not, ^uthey dragged Jason and certain brethren before the rulers of the city, crying, These that have turned ⁸the world upside down are come hither also; 7 whom Jason hath received: and these all act contrary to ^vthe decrees of Cæsar, saying that there is ^wanother king, one Jesus. 8 And they troubled the multitude and the rulers of the city, when they heard these things. 9 And when they had taken security from Jason and the rest, they let them go.

10 And ^xthe brethren immediately sent away Paul and Silas by night unto Berea: who when they were come thither ^ywent into the synagogue of the Jews. 11 Now these were more noble than those in Thessalonica, in that they received the word with all readiness of mind,

^a examining the scriptures daily, whether these things were so. ¹² ^a Many of them therefore believed; also of the Greek ^b women of honourable estate, and of men, not a few. ¹³ But when the Jews of Thessalonica had knowledge that the word of God was proclaimed of Paul at Berea also, they came thither likewise, stirring up and ^c troubling the multitudes. ¹⁴ And then ^d immediately the brethren sent forth Paul to go as far as to the sea: and Silas and ^e Timothy abode there still. ¹⁵ But ^f they that conducted Paul brought him as far as ^g Athens: and receiving a commandment unto Silas and Timothy ^h that they should come to him with all speed, they departed.

¹⁶ Now while Paul waited for them at Athens, his spirit was ⁱ provoked within him, as he beheld the city ^j full of idols. ¹⁷ So ^k he reasoned in the synagogue with the Jews and the devout persons, and in the marketplace every day with them that met with him. ¹⁸ And certain also of the Epicurean and Stoic philosophers encountered him. And some said, ^l What would this babbler say? other some, He seemeth to be a setter forth of strange ^m gods: because ⁿ he preached ^o Jesus and the resurrection. ¹⁹ And they took hold of him, and brought him ² unto ³ the Areopagus, saying, May we know what this ^p new teaching is, which is spoken by thee? ²⁰ For thou bringest certain ^q strange things to our ears: we would know therefore what these things mean.

²¹ (Now all the Athenians and the strangers sojourning there ⁴ spent their time in nothing else, but either to tell or to hear some new thing.) ²² And Paul stood in the midst of the Areopagus, and said,

Ye men of Athens, in all things I perceive that ye are somewhat ⁵ superstitious. ²³ For as I passed along, and observed the ^s objects of your worship, I found also an altar with this inscription, ⁶ ^t TO AN UNKNOWN GOD. ^u What therefore ye worship ^v in ignorance, this set I forth unto you. ²⁴ ^w The God that made the world and all things therein, he, being ^x Lord of heaven and earth, ⁷ dwelleth not in ^y temples made with hands; ²⁵ neither is he served by men's hands, ⁸ as though he needed anything, seeing he himself ^z giveth to all ^a life, and breath, and all things; ²⁶ and ^b he made of one every nation of men for to dwell ^c on all the face of the earth, ^d having determined ^e their appointed seasons, and ^e the bounds of their habitation; ²⁷ ^f that they should seek God, if haply ^g they might feel after him, and find him, ^h though he is not far from each one of us: ²⁸ for ⁱ in him we live, and move, and have our being; as certain even of ^j your own poets have said, For we are also his offspring. ²⁹ ^k Being then the offspring of God, ^l we ought not to think that ⁸ the Godhead is like unto gold, or silver, or stone, graven by art and device of man. ³⁰ ^m The times of ignorance therefore ⁿ God overlooked; but ^o now he ⁹ ^p commandeth men that they should all everywhere repent: ³¹ inasmuch as he hath appointed ^q a day, in the which ^r he will judge ¹⁰ the world ^s in righteousness ¹¹ by ¹² the man whom he hath ordained; ^t whereof he hath given assurance unto all men, ^u in that he hath raised him from the dead.

³² Now when they heard of ^v the resurrection of the dead, ^w some mocked; but others said, ^x We will hear thee concerning this yet again. ³³ Thus Paul went out from among them. ³⁴ But certain men clave unto him, and believed: among whom also was Dionysius ^y the Areopagite, and a woman named Damaris, and others with them.

18 ¹ After these things he departed from Athens, and came to Corinth. ² And he found a certain Jew named ^z Aquila, a man of Pontus by race, lately come from Italy, with his wife ^a Priscilla, because ^b Claudius had commanded all the Jews to depart from Rome: and he came unto them; ³ and ^b because he was of the same trade, he abode with them, and they wrought; for by their trade they were tentmakers. ⁴ And ^c he reasoned in the synagogue

Lord Jesus. 6 And ^h when Paul had laid his hands upon them, the Holy Ghost came on them; and ⁱ they spake with tongues, and ^j prophesied. 7 And they were in all about twelve men.

8 And ^k he entered into the synagogue, and spake boldly for the space of three months, reasoning and persuading ^l as to the things ^l concerning the kingdom of God.

9 ^m But when some were hardened and ⁿ disobedient, speaking evil of ^o the Way before the multitude, he departed from them, and separated the disciples, reasoning daily in the school of Tyrannus. 10 And this continued for the space of ^p two years; so that ^q all they which dwelt in Asia heard the word of the Lord, both Jews and Greeks. 11 And ^r God wrought special ^l miracles by the hands of Paul: 12 ^r inasmuch that unto the sick were carried away from his body handkerchiefs or aprons, and the diseases departed from them, and ^s the evil spirits went out. 13 But certain also of the strolling Jews, ^t exorcists, ^u took upon them to name over them which had the evil spirits the name of the Lord Jesus, saying, ^v I adjure you by Jesus whom Paul preacheth.

14 And there were seven sons of one Sceva, a Jew, a chief priest, which did this. 15 And the evil spirit answered and said unto them, ^w Jesus I ² know, and Paul I know; but who are ye? 16 And the man in whom the evil spirit was leaped on them, and mastered both of them, and prevailed against them, so that they fled out of that house ^x naked and wounded. 17 And this became known to all, both Jews and Greeks, that dwelt at Ephesus; and fear fell upon them all, and ^y the name of the Lord Jesus was magnified. 18 Many also of them that had believed came, ^z confessing, and declaring their deeds. 19 And not a few of them that practised ³ curious arts brought their books together, and burned them in the sight of all: and they counted the price of them, and found it fifty thousand ^a pieces of silver. 20 So ^b mightily grew the word of the Lord and prevailed.

21 Now after these things were ended, Paul purposed in the spirit,

^c when he had passed through ^d Macedonia and Achaia, ^e to go to Jerusalem, saying, After I have been there, ^f I must also see Rome. 22 And having sent into Macedonia two of them that ^g ministered unto him, ^h Timothy and ⁱ Erastus, he himself stayed in Asia ^j for a while.

23 And about that time ^k there arose no small stir concerning ^l the Way. 24 For a certain man named Demetrius, a silversmith, which made silver shrines of ⁴ Diana, ^m brought no little business unto the craftsmen; 25 ^m whom he gathered together, with the workmen of like occupation, and said, Sirs, ye know that by this business we have our wealth. 26 And ye see and hear, that not alone at Ephesus, but almost throughout all Asia, this Paul hath persuaded and turned away much people, ⁿ saying that ^o they be no gods, which are made with hands: 27 and not only is there danger that this our trade come into disrepute; but also that the temple of the ^p great goddess ⁴ Diana be made of no account, and that she should even be deposed from her magnificence, whom all Asia and ⁵ the world worshippeth. 28 And when they heard this, they were filled with wrath, and cried out, saying, ^p Great ^{is} ⁴ Diana of the Ephesians. 29 And the city was filled with the confusion: and they rushed with one accord into the theatre, having seized ^q Gaius and ^r Aristarchus, men of Macedonia, Paul's ^s companions in travel. 30 And when Paul was minded to enter in unto the people, the disciples suffered him not. 31 And certain also of the ⁶ chief officers of Asia, being his friends, sent unto him, and besought him not to adventure himself into the theatre. 32 ^t Some therefore cried one thing, and some another: for the assembly was in confusion; and the more part knew not wherefore they were come together. 33 ⁷ And they brought Alexander out of the multitude, the Jews putting him forward. And Alexander ^u beckoned with the hand, and would have made a defence unto the people. 34 But when they perceived that he was a Jew, all with one voice about the space of ^zhe kneeled down, and prayed with them all. 37 And ^athey all wept sore, and ^bfell on Paul's neck, and ^bkissed him, 38 sorrowing most of all for ^cthe word which he had spoken, that they should behold his face no more. And ^dthey brought him on his way unto the ship.

36 And when he had thus spoken,

21 And when it came to pass that ^ewe were parted from them, and had set sail, we ^fcame with a straight course unto Cos, and the next day unto Rhodes, and from thence unto Patara: 2 and having found a ship crossing over unto Phœnicia, we went aboard, and set sail. 3 And when we had come in sight of Cyprus, leaving it on the left hand, we sailed unto Syria, and landed at Tyre: for there the ship was to unlade her burden. 4 And having found the disciples, we tarried there seven days: and these said to Paul ^gthrough the Spirit, that he should not set foot in Jerusalem. 5 And when it came to pass that we had accomplished the days, we departed and went on our journey; and they all, with wives and children, ^hbrought us on our way, till we were out of the city: and ⁱkneeling down on the beach, we prayed, 6 and bade each other farewell; and we went on board the ship, but they returned home again.

7 And when we had finished the voyage from Tyre, we arrived at Ptolemais; and we saluted ^jthe brethren, and abode with them one day. 8 And on the morrow we departed, and came unto Cæsarea: and entering into the house of ^kPhilip ^lthe evangelist, who was one of the seven, we abode with him. 9 Now this man had four daughters, virgins, ^mwhich did prophesy. 10 And as we tarried there ⁿmany days, there came down from Judæa a certain prophet, named ^oAgabus. 11 And coming to us, and ^ptaking Paul's girdle, he bound his own feet and hands, and said, ^qThus saith the Holy Ghost, ^rSo shall the Jews at Jerusalem bind the man that owneth this girdle, and ^sshall deliver him into the hands of the Gentiles. 12 And when we heard these things, both we and they of that place ^tbesought him not to go up to Jerusalem. 13 Then Paul

15 And after these days we ¹took up our baggage, and went up to Jerusalem. 16 And there went with us also certain of the disciples from Cæsarea, bringing with them one Mnason of Cyprus, an early disciple, with whom we should lodge.

17 And when we were come to Jerusalem, ^xthe brethren received us gladly. 18 And the day following Paul went in with us unto ^yJames; and all ^zthe elders were present. 19 And when he had saluted them, ^ahe rehearsed one by one ^bthe things which God had wrought among the Gentiles by his ^cministry. 20 And they, when they heard it, ^dglorified God; and they said unto him, Thou seest, brother, how many ^ethousands there are among the Jews of them which have believed; and they are all ^fzealous for the law: 21 and they have been informed concerning thee, that thou teachest all ^gthe Jews which are among the Gentiles to forsake Moses, ^htelling them ⁱnot to circumcise their children, neither ^jto walk after ^kthe customs. 22 What is it therefore? they will certainly hear that thou art come. 23 Do therefore this that we say to thee: We have four men ^lwhich have a vow on them; 24 these take, and ^mpurify thyself with them, and be at charges for them, ⁿthat they may shave their heads: and all shall know that there is no truth in the things whereof they have been informed concerning thee; but that thou thyself also walkest orderly, keeping the law. 25 But as touching the Gentiles which have believed, ^owe ³wrote, giving judgement that they should keep themselves from things sacrificed to idols, and from blood, and from what is strangled, and from fornication. 26 Then Paul ⁴took the men, and the next day ^mpurifying himself with them ^owent into the temple, declaring the fulfilment of the days of purification, until ^pthe offering was offered for every one of them.

27 And when ^pthe seven days were almost completed, ^qthe Jews from Asia, ^rwhen they saw him in the temple, stirred up all the multitude, and laid hands on him, 28 crying out, Men of Israel, help: This is the man, that ^steacheth all men everywhere against the people, and ^tthe law, and ^uthis place: and moreover he brought Greeks also into the temple, and ^vhath defiled ^tthis holy place. 29 For they had before seen with him in the city ^vTrophimus the Ephesian, whom they supposed that Paul had brought into the temple. 30 And all the city was moved, and the people ran together: and they laid hold on Paul, and ^wdragged him out of the temple: and straightway the doors were shut. 31 ^wAnd as they were seeking to kill him, tidings came up to the ⁵chief captain of ^xthe ⁶band, that all Jerusalem was in confusion. 32 And forthwith ^yhe took soldiers and centurions, and ran down upon them: and they, when they saw the chief captain and the soldiers, left off beating Paul. 33 Then the chief captain came near, and laid hold on him, and commanded him ^zto be bound ^awith two chains; and inquired who he was, and what he had done. 34 And ^bsome shouted one thing, some another, among the crowd: and when he could not know the certainty for the uproar, he commanded him to be brought into ^cthe castle. 35 And when he came upon the stairs, so it was, that he was borne of the soldiers for the violence of the crowd; 36 for the multitude of the people followed after, crying out, ^dAway with him.

37 And as Paul was about to be brought into the castle, he saith unto the chief captain, May I say something unto thee? And he said, Dost thou know Greek? 38 Art thou not then ^ethe Egyptian, which before these days stirred up to sedition and led out ^finto the wilderness the four thousand men of the Assassins? 39 But Paul said, ^gI am a Jew, of Tarsus in Cilicia, a citizen of no mean city: and I beseech thee, give me leave to speak unto the people. 40 And when he had given him

³⁰ But on the morrow, ^l desiring to know the certainty, wherefore he was accused of the Jews, he loosed him, and commanded the chief priests and all the council to come together, and brought Paul down, and set him before them.

¹ And Paul, looking stedfastly on the council, said,

23 Brethren, ^m I have lived before God in all good conscience until this day. ² And the high priest ⁿ Ananias commanded them that stood by him ^o to smite him on the mouth. ³ Then said Paul unto him, God shall smite thee, thou ^p whited ^q wall: and sittest thou to judge me according to the law, and ^r commandest me to be smitten ^r contrary to the law? ⁴ And they that stood by said, Revilest thou ^s God's high priest? ⁵ And Paul said, ^t I wist not, brethren, that he was high priest: for it is written, ^u Thou shalt not speak evil of a ruler of thy people. ⁶ But when Paul perceived that the one part were ^v Sadducees, and the other Pharisees, he cried out in the council, Brethren, ^w I am a Pharisee, a son of Pharisees: ^x touching the ^y hope and resurrection of the dead I am called in question. ⁷ And when he had so said, there arose a dissension between the Pharisees and Sadducees: and the assembly was divided. ⁸ For the Sadducees ^z say that there is no resurrection, neither angel, nor spirit: but the Pharisees confess both. ⁹ And there arose a great clamour: and some of ^a the scribes of the Pharisees' part stood up, and strove, saying, ^b We find no evil in this man: and what ^c if a spirit hath spoken to him, or an angel? ¹⁰ And when there arose a great dissension, the chief captain, fearing lest Paul should be torn in pieces by them, commanded the soldiers to go down and take him by force from among them, and bring him into ^d the castle.

¹¹ And ^e the night following ^f the Lord stood by him, and said, ^g Be of good cheer: for ^h as thou hast testified concerning me at Jerusalem, so must thou ⁱ bear witness also at Rome.

¹² And when it was day, ^j the Jews banded together, and ^k bound themselves under a curse, saying that they would neither eat nor drink till they had killed Paul. ¹³ And they were more than forty which made this conspiracy. ¹⁴ And they came to the chief priests and the elders, and said, We have bound ourselves under a great curse, to taste nothing until we have killed Paul. ¹⁵ Now therefore do ye with the council signify to the chief captain that he bring him down unto you, as though ye would judge of his case more exactly: and we, or ever he come near, are ready to slay him. ¹⁶ But ^l Paul's sister's son heard of their lying in wait, ¹ and he came and entered into ^m the castle, and told Paul. ¹⁷ And Paul called unto him one of the centurions, and said, Bring this young man unto the chief captain: for he hath something to tell him. ¹⁸ So he took him, and brought him to the chief captain, and saith, Paul ⁿ the prisoner called me unto him, and asked me to bring this young man unto thee, who hath something to say to thee. ¹⁹ And the chief captain took him by the hand, and going aside asked him privately, What is that thou hast to tell me? ²⁰ And he said, ^o The Jews have agreed to ask thee to bring down Paul to-morrow unto the council, as though thou wouldest inquire somewhat more exactly concerning him. ²¹ Do not thou therefore yield unto them: for there lie in wait for him of them more than forty men, which ^p have bound themselves under a curse, neither to eat nor to drink till they have slain him: and now are they ready, looking for the promise from thee. ²² So the chief captain let the young man go, charging him, Tell no man that thou hast signified these things to me. ²³ And he called unto him two of the centurions, and said, Make ready two hundred soldiers to go as far as Cæsarea, and horsemen threescore and ten, and spearmen two hundred, at the third hour of the night: ²⁴ and he bade them provide beasts, that they might set Paul thereon, and bring him safe unto ^q Felix ^r the governor. ²⁵ And he wrote a letter after this form:

excellent governor Felix, [†]greeting. ²⁷“This man was seized by the Jews, and ^vwas about to be slain of them, ^wwhen I came upon them with the soldiers, and rescued him, ^whaving learned that he was a Roman. ²⁸And ^xdesiring to know the cause wherefore they accused him, ¹I brought him down unto their council: ²⁹whom I found to be accused ^yabout questions of their law, but ^zto have nothing laid to his charge worthy of death or of bonds. ³⁰And ^awhen it was shewn to me ^bthat there would be a plot against the man, I sent him to thee forthwith, ^ccharging his accusers also to speak against him before thee.²

³¹So the soldiers, as it was commanded them, took Paul, and brought him by night to Antipatris. ³²But on the morrow they left the horsemen to go with him, and returned to ^dthe castle: ³³and they, when they came to Cæsarea, and delivered the letter to the governor, presented Paul also before him. ³⁴And when he had read it, he asked of what ^eprovince he was; and when he understood ^fthat he was of Cilicia, ³⁵I will hear thy cause, said he, ^gwhen thine accusers also are come: and he commanded him to be kept in Herod's ^hpalace.

¹And ⁱafter five days the 24 high priest ^jAnanias came down with certain elders, and ^kwith an orator, one Tertullus; and they informed ^kthe governor against Paul. ²And when he was called, Tertullus began to accuse him, saying,

Seeing that by thee we enjoy much ^lpeace, and that by thy ^lprovidence evils are corrected for this nation, ³we accept it in all ways and in all places, ^mmost excellent Felix, with all thankfulness. ⁴But, that I be not further tedious unto thee, I intreat thee to hear us of thy clemency a few words. ⁵For we have found this man ⁿa pestilent fellow, and ^oa mover of insurrections among all the Jews throughout ⁴the world, and a ring-leader of ^pthe sect of the Nazarenes: ⁶who moreover assayed to profane the temple: on whom also we laid hold: ⁵⁸from whom thou wilt be able, by examining him thyself, to take knowledge of all these things, whereof we accuse him. ⁹And the Jews also joined in the charge, affirming that these things were so.

¹⁰And when the governor had beckoned unto him to speak, Paul answered,

Forasmuch as I know that thou hast been of many years a judge unto this nation, I do cheerfully make my defence: ¹¹seeing that thou canst take knowledge, that ^rit is not more than twelve days since I ^swent up ^tto worship at Jerusalem: ¹²and ^uneither in the temple did they find me disputing with any man or stirring up a crowd, nor in the synagogues, nor in the city. ¹³^vNeither can they prove to thee the things whereof they now accuse me. ¹⁴But this I confess unto thee, that after ^wthe Way which they call ^xa sect, ^yso serve I ^zthe God of our fathers, believing all things which are ^aaccording to the law, and which are written in the prophets: ¹⁵^bhaving ^chope toward God, which these also themselves ⁷look for, that there shall be ^da resurrection ^eboth of the just and unjust. ¹⁶Herein do I also ^fexercise myself to have a conscience ^gvoid of offence toward God and men alway. ¹⁷Now ^hafter ⁸many years ⁱI came to bring alms to ^jmy nation, and ^kofferings: ¹⁸⁹amidst which they found me ^lpurified in the temple, with no crowd, nor yet with tumult: but ^mthere were certain Jews from Asia — ¹⁹ⁿwho ought to have been here before thee, and to make accusation, if they had aught against me. ²⁰Or else let these men themselves say what wrong-doing they found, when I stood before the council, ²¹except it be for this one voice, ^othat I cried standing among them, Touching the resurrection of the dead I am called in question before you this day.

²²But Felix, having more exact knowledge concerning ^pthe Way,

¹ Some ancient authorities omit I brought him down unto their council. ² Many ancient authorities add Farewell. ³ Gr. Prætorium. ⁴ Gr. the inhabited earth. ⁵ Some ancient authorities insert and we would have judged him according to our law. ⁷ But the chief captain Lysias came, and with great violence took him away out of our hands, ⁸ commanding his accusers to come before thee. ⁶ Or, heresy ⁷ Or, accept ⁸ Or, some ⁹ Or, in presenting which

sias the chief captain shall come down, I will determine your matter. ²³ And he gave order to the centurion that he ^ashould be kept in charge, and should have indulgence; and ^rnot to forbid any of his friends to minister unto him.

²⁴ But after certain days, Felix came with Drusilla, ¹his wife, which was a Jewess, and sent for Paul,
and heard him concerning ^sthe faith ^tin Christ Jesus. ²⁵ And as he reasoned ^uof righteousness, and ²tem-perance, and the judgement to come, Felix was terrified, and answered, Go thy way for this time;
and ^vwhen I have a convenient season, I will call thee unto me. ²⁶ He hoped withal ^wthat money would be given him of Paul: wherefore
also he sent for him the oftener,
and communed with him. ²⁷ But when two years were fulfilled, Felix was succeeded by Porcius ^xFestus;
and ^ydesiring to gain favour with the Jews, ^zFelix left Paul in bonds.

25 come into ^athe province, after three days went up to Jerusalem from Cæsarea. ² And the chief priests and the principal men of the Jews ^binformed him against Paul; ³ and they besought him, asking favour against him, that he would send for him to Jerusalem;
^claying wait to kill him on the way.
⁴ Howbeit Festus answered, that Paul was kept in charge at Cæsarea,
and that he himself was about to depart ^dthither shortly. ⁵ Let them therefore, saith he, which are of power among you, go down with me, and if there is anything amiss
in the man, let them accuse him.

⁶ And when he had tarried among them not more than eight or ten days, he went down unto Cæsarea;
and on the morrow he sat on ^dthe judgement-seat, and commanded Paul to be brought. ⁷ And when he was come, the Jews which had come down from Jerusalem stood round about him, bringing against him many and grievous charges, ^ewhich they could not prove;
⁸ while Paul said in his defence,
Neither ^fagainst ^gthe law of the Jews, nor against the temple, nor ^hagainst Cæsar, have I sinned at

all. ⁹ But Festus, ⁱdesiring to gain
favour with the Jews, answered
Paul, and said, Wilt thou go up to Jerusalem, and there be judged of these things before me? ¹⁰ But Paul said, I am standing before Cæsar's ^jjudgement-seat, where I ought to be judged: to the Jews have I done no wrong, as thou also very well knowest. ¹¹ If then I am a wrong-doer, and have committed anything worthy of death, I refuse
not to die: but if none of those things
is ^ktrue, whereof these accuse me, no man can ^lgive me up unto them.
^kI appeal unto Cæsar. ¹² Then Festus, when he had conferred with the council, answered, Thou hast appealed unto Cæsar: unto Cæsar shalt thou go.

¹³ Now when certain days were passed, Agrippa the king and Bernice arrived at Cæsarea, ⁵and saluted Festus. ¹⁴ And as they tarried
there many days, Festus laid Paul's case before the king, saying, ^lThere is a certain man left a prisoner by Felix: ¹⁵ ^mabout whom, when I was at Jerusalem, the chief priests
and the elders of the Jews informed ^{me}, asking for sentence against him.
¹⁶ ⁿTo whom I answered, that it is not the custom of the Romans to give up any man, ^obefore that the accused have the accusers face to face, and have had opportunity to make his defence concerning the matter laid against him. ¹⁷ ^pWhen
therefore they were come together
here, I made no delay, but on the next day sat down on ^qthe judgement-seat, and commanded the man to be brought. ¹⁸ Concerning whom,
when the accusers stood up, they brought no charge of such evil
things as I supposed; ¹⁹ but ^rhad certain questions against him of their own ⁶s religion, and of ^tone
Jesus, who was dead, whom Paul affirmed to be alive. ²⁰ And I, being perplexed how to inquire concerning these things, ^uasked whether he would go to Jerusalem, and there be judged of these matters. ²¹ But ^vwhen Paul had appealed to be kept for the decision of ⁷^w the emperor, I commanded him to be kept till I should send him to Cæsar. ²² And ^xAgrippa said unto Festus, I also ⁸could wish to hear the man myself.

23 So on the morrow, when ^y Agrippa was come, and Bernice, with great pomp, and they were entered into the place of hearing, with the chief captains, and the principal men of the city, at the command of Festus Paul was brought in. 24 And Festus saith, King Agrippa, and all men which are here present with us, ye behold this man, about whom ^z all the multitude of the Jews made suit to me, both at Jerusalem and here, ^a crying that he ought not to live any longer.

25 But I found that ^b he had committed nothing worthy of death: and ^c as he himself appealed to ^{1 d} the emperor I determined to send him. 26 Of whom I have no certain thing to write unto my lord. Wherefore I have brought him forth before you, and specially before thee, king Agrippa, that, after examination had, I may have somewhat to write. 27 For it seemeth to me unreasonable, in sending a prisoner, not withal to signify the charges against him.

28 And ^e Agrippa said unto Paul, Thou art permitted to speak for thyself. Then Paul stretched forth his hand, and made his defence:

29 I think myself happy, king Agrippa, that I am to make my defence before thee this day ^f touching all the things whereof I am accused by the Jews: 30 especially because thou art expert in all ^g customs and ^h questions which are among the Jews: wherefore I beseech thee to hear me patiently. 4 ⁱ My manner of life then from my youth up, which was from the beginning among ^j mine own nation, and at Jerusalem, know all the Jews; 5 having knowledge of me from the first, if they be willing to testify, how that ^k after the straitest ^l sect of our ^m religion I lived ⁿ a Pharisee. 6 And now I stand ^o here to be judged for the hope of ^p the promise made of God unto our fathers; 7 ^q unto which ^r promise ^s our twelve tribes, earnestly serving God night and day, hope to ^t attain. And concerning this hope ^u I am accused by the Jews, O king! 8 Why is it judged

'incredible with you, if God doth raise the dead? 9 ^v I verily thought with myself, that I ought to do many things contrary to the name of ^w Jesus of Nazareth. 10 And ^x this I also did in Jerusalem: and I both shut up many of the saints in prisons, having received authority from the chief priests, and ^y when they were put to death, I gave my vote against them. 11 And ^z punishing them oftentimes in all the synagogues, I strove to make them ^a blaspheme; and ^b being exceedingly mad against them, I ^c persecuted them even unto foreign cities. 12 ³ Whereupon ^d as I journeyed to Damascus with the authority and commission of the chief priests, 13 at midday, O king, I saw on the way a light from heaven, above the brightness of the sun, shining round about me and them that journeyed with me. 14 And when we were all fallen to the earth, I heard a voice saying unto me ^e in the Hebrew language, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? it is hard for thee to kick against ^f the goad. 15 And I said, Who art thou, Lord? And the Lord said, I am Jesus whom thou persecutest. 16 But arise, and ^g stand upon thy feet: for to this end have I appeared unto thee, ^h to appoint thee a minister and a witness both of the things ⁱ wherein thou hast seen me, and of the things wherein I will appear unto thee; 17 ^h delivering thee from the people, and from the Gentiles, ⁱ unto whom I ^j send thee, 18 ^k to open their eyes, ^l that they may turn ^m from darkness to light, and from ⁿ the power of Satan unto God, that they may receive ^o remission of sins and ^p an inheritance among them that are sanctified ^q by faith in me. 19 Wherefore, O king Agrippa, I was not disobedient unto ^r the heavenly vision: 20 but ^s declared both ^t to them of Damascus first, and ^u at Jerusalem, and throughout all the country of Judæa, and also ^v to the Gentiles, that they should ^w repent and ^x turn to God, doing works ^y worthy of ^z repentance. 21 For this cause ^a the Jews seized me in the temple, and assayed to kill me. 22 ^b Having ²⁴And as he thus made his defence, Festus saith with a loud voice, Paul, ^jthou art mad; thy much learning doth turn thee to madness. ²⁵But Paul saith, I am not mad, ^kmost excellent Festus; but speak forth ^lwords of truth and ^msoberness. ²⁶For ⁿthe king knoweth of these things, unto whom also I speak freely: for I am persuaded that none of these things is hidden from him; for this hath not been done in a corner. ²⁷King Agrippa, believest thou the prophets? I know that thou believest. ²⁸And Agrippa said unto Paul, With but little persuasion thou wouldest fain make me ^oa Christian. ²⁹And Paul said, I would to God, that whether with little or with much, not thou only, but also all that hear me this day, ^pmight become such as I am, except ^qthese bonds.

³⁰And the king rose up, and ^rthe governor, and Bernice, and they that sat with them: ³¹and when they had withdrawn, they spake one to another, saying, ^sThis man doeth nothing worthy of death or of bonds. ³²And Agrippa said unto Festus, ^tThis man might have been set at ^uliberty, if he had not appealed ^vunto Cæsar.

¹And when it was determined ^wthat ^xwe should sail for Italy, they delivered Paul and certain other prisoners to a centurion named Julius, of the ^yAugustan ^zband. ²And embarking in a ship of Adramyttium, which was about to sail unto the places on the coast of Asia, we put to sea, ^aAristarchus, a Macedonian of Thessalonica, being with us. ³And the next day we touched at Sidon; and ^bJulius ^ctreated Paul kindly, and ^dgave him leave to go unto his friends and ^erefresh himself. ⁴And putting to sea from thence, we sailed under the lee of Cyprus, because the winds were contrary. ⁵And when we had sailed across the sea which is off Cilicia and Pamphylia, we came to Myra, ^ea city of Lycia. ⁶And there the centurion found ^ea ship of Alexandria sailing for Italy; and he put us therein. ⁷And when we had sailed slowly many days, and were come with difficulty over against Cnidus, the wind not ^ffurther suffering us, we sailed under the lee of Crete, over against Salmone; ⁸and with difficulty coasting along it we came unto a certain place called Fair Havens; nigh whereunto was the city of Lasea.

⁹And when much time was spent, and the voyage was now dangerous, because ^fthe Fast was now already gone by, Paul admonished them, ¹⁰and said unto them, Sirs, I perceive that the voyage will be with ^ginjury and much loss, not only of the lading and the ship, but also of our lives. ¹¹But the centurion gave more heed to ^hthe master and to the owner of the ship, than to those things which were spoken by Paul. ¹²And because the haven was not commodious to winter in, the more part advised to put to sea from thence, if by any means they could reach Phoenix, and winter there; ^{which} is a haven of Crete, looking ⁱnorth-east and south-east. ¹³And when the south wind blew softly, supposing that they had obtained their purpose, they weighed anchor and sailed along Crete, close in shore. ¹⁴But after no long time there ⁱbeat down from it a tempestuous wind, which is called Euraquilo: ¹⁵and when the ship was caught, and could not face the wind, we gave way to it, and were driven. ¹⁶And running under the lee of a small island called ^jCauda, we were able, with difficulty, to secure the boat: ¹⁷and when they had hoisted it up, they used helps, under-girding the ship; and, fearing lest they should ^jbe cast upon the Syrtis, they lowered the gear, and so were driven. ¹⁸And as we laboured exceedingly with the storm, the next day they began ^kto throw the freight overboard; ¹⁹and the third day they cast out with their own hands the ⁸tackling of the ship. ²⁰And when neither sun nor stars shone upon us for many days, and no small tempest lay on us, all hope that we should be saved was now taken away.

21 And when they had been long without food, then Paul stood forth in the midst of them, and said, Sirs, ^lye should have hearkened unto me, and not have set sail from Crete, and have gotten this ^linjury and loss. 22 And now I exhort you to be of ^mgood cheer: for there shall be no loss of life among you, but only of the ship. 23 For ⁿthere ^ostood by me this night ^pan angel of the God ^qwhose I am, ^rwhom also I serve, 24 saying, Fear not, Paul; ^sthou must stand before Cæsar: and lo, ^tGod hath granted thee all them that sail with thee. 25 Wherefore, sir, be of good cheer: for ^uI believe God, that it shall be even so as it hath been spoken unto me. 26 Howbeit ^vwe must be ^wcast upon a certain island.

27 But when the fourteenth night was come, as we were driven to and fro in the sea of Adria, about midnight the sailors surmised that they were drawing near to some country; 28 and they sounded, and found twenty fathoms: and after a little space, they sounded again, and found fifteen fathoms. 29 And fearing lest haply we should be ^xcast ashore on rocky ground, they let go four anchors from the stern, and ⁱwished for the day. 30 And as the sailors were seeking to flee out of the ship, and had lowered ^ythe boat into the sea, under colour as though they would lay out anchors from the foreship, 31 Paul said to the centurion and to the soldiers, Except these abide in the ship, ye cannot be saved. 32 Then the soldiers cut away the ropes of the boat, and let her fall off. 33 And while the day was coming on, Paul besought them all to take some food, saying, This day is the fourteenth day that ye wait and continue fasting, having taken nothing. 34 Wherefore I beseech you to take some food: for this is for your safety: for ^zthere shall not a hair perish from the head of any of you. 35 And when he had said this, and had taken bread, ^ahe gave thanks to God in the presence of all: and he brake it, and began to eat.

36 Then were they all of ^bgood cheer, and themselves also took food. 37 And we were in all in the ship ²two hundred threescore and sixteen ^csouls. 38 And when they had eaten enough, they lightened the ship, ^dthrowing out the wheat into the sea. 39 And when it was day, ^ethey knew not the land: but they perceived a certain bay with a beach, and they took counsel whether they could ³drive the ship upon it. 40 And casting off the anchors, they left them in the sea, at the same time loosing the bands of the rudders; and hoisting up the foresail to the wind, they made for the beach. 41 But lighting upon a place where two seas met, ^fthey ran the vessel aground; and the foreship struck and remained unmoveable, but the stern began to break up by the violence of the waves. 42 And ^gthe soldiers' counsel was to kill the prisoners, lest any of them should swim out, and escape. 43 But the centurion, ^hdesiring to save Paul, stayed them from their purpose; and commanded that they which could swim should cast themselves overboard, and get first to the land: 44 and the rest, some on planks, and some on other things from the ship. And so it came to pass, that ⁱthey all escaped safe to the land.

28 1 And when we were escaped, ^jthen we knew that ^kthe island was called ⁴Melita. 2 And ^lthe barbarians shewed us no common ^mkindness: for they kindled a fire, and received us all, because of the present rain, and because of the cold. 3 But when Paul had gathered a bundle of sticks, and laid them on the fire, a viper came out ⁵by reason of the heat, and fastened on his hand. 4 And when ⁿthe barbarians saw the beast hanging from his hand, they said one to another, ^oNo doubt this man is a murderer, whom, though he hath escaped from the sea, ^pyet ^qJustice hath not suffered to live. 5 Howbeit he ^rshook off the beast into the fire, and took no harm. 6 But they expected that he would have swollen, or fallen down dead suddenly: but when they were long in expectation, and beheld nothing amiss come to him, ^sthey changed their minds, and ^tsaid that he was a god.

⁷ Now in the neighbourhood of that place were lands belonging to the chief man of the island, named Publius; who received us, and entertained us three days courteously. ⁸ And it was so, that the father of Publius lay sick of fever and dysentery: unto whom Paul entered in, and ^uprayed, and ^vlaying his hands on him healed him. ⁹ And when this was done, the rest also which had diseases in the island came, and were cured: ¹⁰ who also honoured us with many honours; and when we sailed, they put on board such things as we needed.

¹¹ And after three months we set sail in ^wa ship of Alexandria, which had wintered in the island, whose sign was ^{1x}The Twin Brothers. ¹² And touching at Syracuse, we tarried there three days. ¹³ And from thence we ²made a circuit, and arrived at Rhegium: and after one day a south wind sprang up, and on the second day we came to Puteoli: ¹⁴ where we found ^ybrethren, and were intreated to tarry with them seven days: and so we came to Rome. ¹⁵ And from thence ^ythe brethren, when they heard of us, came to meet us as far as The Market of Appius, and The Three Taverns: whom when Paul saw, ^zhe thanked God, and took courage.

¹⁷ And it came to pass, that after three days he called together ⁴those that were the chief of the Jews: and when they were come together, he said unto them, I, brethren, ^bthough I had done nothing against the people, or ^cthe customs of our fathers, yet was delivered prisoner from Jerusalem into the hands of the Romans: ¹⁸ who, when they had examined me, ^ddesired to set me at liberty, ^ebecause there was no cause of death in me. ¹⁹ But when the Jews spake against it, I was constrained ^fto appeal unto Cæsar; not that I had aught to accuse ^gmy nation of. ²⁰ For this cause therefore did I ⁵intreat you to see and to speak with me: for ^hbecause of ⁱthe hope of Israel I am bound with ^jthis ^kchain. ²¹ And they said unto him, We neither received letters from Judæa concerning thee, nor did any of ⁱthe brethren come hither and report or speak any harm of thee. ²² But we desire to hear of thee what thou thinkest: for as concerning this ^msect, it is known to us that everywhere ⁿit is spoken against.

²³ And when they had appointed him a day, they came to him into his lodging in great number; ^oto whom he expounded the matter, testifying ^pthe kingdom of God, and ^qpersuading them concerning Jesus, ^rboth from the law of Moses and from the prophets, from morning till evening. ²⁴ And ^ssome believed the things which were spoken, and some disbelieved. ²⁵ And when they agreed not among themselves, they departed, after that Paul had spoken one word, ^tWell spake the Holy Ghost ⁶by Isaiah the prophet unto your fathers, ²⁶saying,

^uGo thou unto this people, and say,

^vBy hearing ye shall hear, and shall in no wise understand; And seeing ye shall see, and shall in no wise perceive:

²⁸ Be it known therefore unto you, that ^ythis ^zsalvation of God ^ais sent unto the Gentiles: ^bthey will also hear. ⁷

³⁰ And he abode two whole years in his own hired dwelling, and ^creceived all that went in unto him, ³¹^dpreaching ^ethe kingdom of God, and teaching the things concerning the Lord Jesus Christ ^fwith all boldness, ^gnone forbidding him.

I PAUL, ^aa ¹servant of Jesus Christ, ^bcalled to be an apostle, ^cseparated unto the gospel of God, ²which ^dhe promised afore ^eby his prophets in the holy scriptures, ³concerning his Son, ^fwho was born of the seed of David ^gaccording to the flesh, ⁴who was ^hdeclared to be the Son of God ⁱwith power, according to the spirit of holiness, by the resurrection of the dead; even Jesus Christ our Lord, ⁵through whom ^jwe received grace and ^kapostleship, ^lunto obedience ^mof faith ⁿamong all the nations, for his name's sake: ⁶among whom are ye also, ^ocalled to be Jesus Christ's: ⁷to all that are in Rome, beloved of God, called to be saints: ^pGrace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

⁸First, ^qI thank my God through Jesus Christ for you all, ^rthat your faith is proclaimed throughout the whole world. ^sFor God is my witness, ^twhom I serve in my spirit in the gospel of his Son, ^uhow unceasingly I make mention of you, ^valways in my prayers making request, if by any means now at length I may be prospered ^wby the will of God to come unto you. ^xFor ^yI long to see you, that I may impart unto you some spiritual gift, to the end ye may be established; ^zthat is, that I with you may be comforted in you, ^{aa}each of us by the other's faith, both yours and mine. ^{ab}And I would not have you ignorant, brethren, that ^{ac}oftentimes I purposed to come unto you (and ^{ad}was hindered hitherto), that I might have some ^{ae}fruit in you also, even as in the rest of the Gentiles. ^{af}I am debtor both to Greeks and to ^{ag}Barbarians, both to the wise and to the foolish. ^{ah}So, ^{ai}as much as in me is, I am ready to preach the gospel to you also that are in Rome. ^{aj}For ^{ak}I am not ashamed of the gospel: for it is ^{al}the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth; to the Jew ^{am}first, and also to ^{an}the Greek. ^{ao}For therein is revealed ^{ap}a righteousness of God ^{aq}by faith unto faith: ^{ar}as it is written, But the righteous shall live ^{as}by faith.

^{at}For ^{au}the wrath of God ^{av}is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness and unrighteousness of men, who ^{aw}hold down the truth in unrighteousness; ^{ax}because ^{ay}that which may be known of God is manifest in them; for God manifested it unto them. ^{az}For the invisible things of him since the creation of the world are clearly seen, ^{ba}being perceived through the things that are made, even his everlasting power and divinity; ^{bb}that they may be without excuse: ^{bc}because that, knowing God, they glorified him not as God, neither gave thanks; but ^{bd}became vain in their reasonings, and their senseless heart was darkened. ^{be}Professing themselves to be wise, they became fools, ^{bf}and changed the glory of ^{bg}the incorruptible God for the likeness of an image of corruptible man, and of birds, and fourfooted beasts, and creeping things.

^{bh}Wherefore ^{bi}God gave them up in the lusts of their hearts unto uncleanness, that their bodies should be ^{bj}dishonoured among themselves: ^{bk}for that they exchanged the truth of God for ^{bl}a lie, and worshipped and served the creature rather than the Creator, ^{bm}who is blessed ^{bn}for ever. Amen.

^{bo}For this cause ^{bp}God gave them up unto ^{bq}vile passions: for their women changed the natural use into that which is against nature; ^{br}and likewise also the men, leaving the natural use of the woman, burned in their lust one toward another, ^{bs}men with men working unseemliness, and receiving in themselves that recompense of their error which was due.

^{bt}And even as they ^{bu}refused to

¹ Wherefore thou art ^f without excuse, O man, whosoever thou art that judgest: for ^g wherein thou judgest ² another, thou condemnest thyself; for thou that judgest dost practise the same things. ² ³ And we know that the judgement of God is according to truth against them that practise such things. ³ And reckonest thou this, O man, who judgest them that practise such things, and doest the same, that thou shalt escape the judgement of God? ⁴ Or despisest thou ^h the riches of his goodness and ⁱ forbearance and ^j longsuffering, ^k not knowing that the goodness of God leadeth thee to repentance? ⁵ but after thy hardness and impenitent heart ^l treasurest up for thyself ^m wrath in the day of wrath and revelation of the righteous judgement of God; ⁶ ⁿ who will render to every man according to his works: ⁷ to them that ^o by patience in well-doing seek for glory and honour and incorruption, eternal life: ⁸ but unto them that are factious, and ^p obey not the truth, but obey unrighteousness, shall be wrath and indignation, ⁹ tribulation and anguish, ^q upon every soul of man that worketh evil, of the Jew ^r first, and also of the Greek; ¹⁰ but glory and honour and ^s peace to every man that worketh good, ^t to the Jew first, and also to the Greek: ¹¹ for "there is no respect of persons with God. ¹² For as many as have sinned ^u without law shall also perish without law: and as many as have sinned under law shall be judged by law; ¹³ for ^v not the hearers of a law are ⁴ just before God, but the doers of a law shall be ⁵ justified: ¹⁴ for when Gentiles which have no law do ^x by nature the things of the law, these, having no law, are a law unto themselves; ¹⁵ in that they shew the work of the law ^y written in their hearts, their conscience bearing witness therewith, and their ⁶ thoughts one with another accusing or else excusing them; ¹⁶ ^z in the day when God ⁷ shall judge ^a the secrets of men, ^b according to my gospel, ^z by Jesus Christ.

heart, in ^sthe spirit, not in the letter; ^xwhose praise is not of men, but of God.

3 ¹What advantage then hath the Jew? or what is the profit of circumcision? ²Much every way: first of all, that ^ythey were intrusted with ^zthe oracles of God.

³For ^awhat if some were without faith? ^bshall their want of faith make of none effect the faithfulness of God? ⁴¹God forbid: yea, ^clet God be found true, but ^devery man a liar; as it is written,

^eThat thou mightest be justified in thy words,

And mightest prevail when thou ^fcomest into judgement.

⁵But if our unrighteousness commendeth the righteousness of God, what shall we say? Is God unrighteous who visiteth ^gwith wrath? (^hI speak after the manner of men.)

⁶God forbid: for then how shall ⁱGod judge the world? ⁷²But if the truth of God through my lie abounded unto his glory, ^jwhy am I also still judged as a sinner? ⁸and

why not (as we be slanderously reported, and as some affirm that we say), ^kLet us do evil, that good may come? whose condemnation is just.

⁹What then? ³are we in worse case than they? No, in no wise: for we before laid to the charge both ^lof Jews and ^mGreeks, that they are all ⁿunder sin; ¹⁰as it is written,

^oThere is none righteous, no, not one;

¹¹There is none that understandeth,

There is none that seeketh after God;

¹²They have all turned aside, they are together become unprofitable;

There is none that doeth good, no, not so much as one:

¹³^pTheir throat is ^qan open sepulchre;

With their tongues they have used deceit:

^rThe poison of asps is under their lips:

¹⁴^sWhose mouth is full of cursing and bitterness:

¹⁵^tTheir feet are swift to shed blood;

¹⁶Destruction and misery are in their ways;

¹⁷And ^uthe way of peace have they not known:

¹⁸^vThere is no fear of God before their eyes.

¹⁹Now we know that what things soever ^wthe law saith, it speaketh to them that are under the law;

^xthat every mouth may be stopped, and ^yall the world may be brought under the judgement of God: ²⁰because ⁴²by ⁵the works of the law shall no flesh be ⁶justified in his sight: for ^{7a}through the law cometh the knowledge of sin. ²¹But

now apart from the law ^ba righteousness of God ^chath been manifested, ^dbeing witnessed by the law and the prophets; ²²even the righteousness of God ^ethrough faith ⁸in

Jesus Christ unto all ⁹them that believe; ^ffor there is no distinction;

²³for ^gall have sinned, and fall short of the glory of God; ²⁴^hbeing justified freely ⁱby his grace ^jthrough the redemption that is in Christ Jesus: ²⁵whom God ¹⁰^kset forth ¹¹to be ^la propitiation, through ¹²faith, ^mby his blood, to shew his righteousness, because of the passing over of ⁿthe sins done aforetime, in ^othe forbearance of God; ²⁶for the shewing, I say, of his righteousness at this present season: that he might himself be ^pjust, and the ^pjustifier of him that ¹³hath faith ⁸in Jesus. ²⁷^qWhere then is the glorying? It is excluded. By what manner of law? of works? Nay: but by a law of faith. ²⁸¹⁴We reckon therefore that a man is justified by faith ^rapart from ⁵the works of the law. ²⁹Or ^sis God the God of Jews only? is he not the God of Gentiles also? Yea, of Gentiles also: ³⁰if so be that ^tGod is one, and he shall justify the circumcision ⁴by faith, and ^uthe uncircumcision ¹⁵through faith. ³¹Do we then make ¹⁶the law of none effect ¹⁵through faith? God forbid: nay, we establish ¹⁶the law.

¹What then shall we say ¹⁷that Abraham, ^vour forefather according to the flesh, hath found? ²For if Abraham was justified ¹by works, he hath whereof to glory; but ^wnot toward God.

³For what saith the scripture? ^aAnd Abraham believed God, and it was reckoned unto him for righteousness.

⁴Now ^yto him that worketh, the reward is not reckoned as of grace, but as of debt. ⁵But to him that worketh not, but ^zbelieveth on him that justifieth the ungodly, his faith is reckoned for righteousness.

⁶Even as David also pronounceth blessing upon the man, unto whom God reckoneth righteousness apart from works, ⁷saying,

^aBlessed are they whose iniquities are forgiven,

And whose sins are covered.

⁸ Blessed is the man to whom the Lord will not ^breckon sin.

⁹Is this blessing then pronounced upon ^cthe circumcision, or upon the uncircumcision also? for ^dwe say, To Abraham his faith was reckoned for righteousness.

¹⁰How then was it reckoned? when he was in circumcision, or in uncircumcision? Not in circumcision, but in uncircumcision:

¹¹and ^ehe received the sign of circumcision, a seal of the righteousness of the faith which he had while he was in uncircumcision:

that ^fhe might be the father of all them that believe, though they be in uncircumcision, that righteousness might be reckoned unto them;

¹²and the father of circumcision to them who not only are of the circumcision, but who also walk in the steps of that faith of our father Abraham which he had in uncircumcision.

¹³For not ²through the law was ^gthe promise to Abraham or to his seed, ^hthat he should be heir of the world, but through the righteousness of faith.

¹⁴For ⁱif they which are of the law be heirs, faith is made void, and the promise is made of none effect:

¹⁵for ^jthe law worketh wrath; but ^kwhere there is no law, ^lneither is there transgression.

¹⁶For this cause it is of faith, ^mthat it may be according to grace; ⁿto the end that the promise may be sure to all the seed; not to that only which is of the law, but to that also which is of the faith of Abraham, ^owho is the father of us all ¹⁷(as it is written, ^pA father of many nations have I made thee) before him whom he believed, even God, ^qwho quickeneth the dead, and calleth ^rthe things that are not, as though they were.

¹⁸Who in hope believed against hope, to the end that he might become a father of many nations, according to that which had been spoken, ^sSo shall thy seed be.

¹⁹And without being weakened in faith he considered his own body ³now ^tas good as dead (^uhe being about a hundred years old), and ^vthe deadness of Sarah's womb:

²⁰yea, looking unto the promise of God, he wavered not through unbelief, but waxed strong through faith, giving glory to God, ²¹and being fully assured that, what he had promised, ^whe was able also to perform.

²²Wherefore also it was reckoned unto him for righteousness.

²³Now ^xit was not written for his sake alone, that it was reckoned unto him; ²⁴but for our sake also, unto whom it shall be reckoned, ^ywho believe on ^zhim that raised Jesus our Lord from the dead,

²⁵^awho was delivered up for our trespasses, and was raised ^bfor our justification.

¹Being therefore justified ⁵¹by faith, ⁴let us have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ; ²through whom also we have ^chad our access ⁵by faith into this grace ^fwherein we stand; and ⁶let us ⁷rejoice in hope of the glory of God.

³And not only so, but ⁸let us also ⁷h rejoice in our tribulations: knowing that tribulation ⁱworketh patience; ⁴and patience, probation; and probation, hope: ⁵and ^jhope putteth not to shame; because the love of God ^khath been shed abroad in our hearts through the ⁹Holy Ghost which was given unto us.

⁶For ^lwhile we were yet weak, in due season ^mChrist died for the ungodly. ⁷For scarcely for a righteous man will one die: for peradventure for ¹⁰the good man some one would even dare to die.

⁸But ⁿGod commendeth his own love toward us, in that, ^owhile we were yet sinners, Christ died for us.

⁹Much more then, being now justified ¹¹^pby his blood, shall we be saved from ^athe wrath of God through him. ¹⁰For if, ^rwhile we were enemies, ^swe were reconciled to God through the death of his Son, much more, being reconciled, shall we be saved ¹¹by ^this life; ¹¹and not only so, ²but we also rejoice in God through our Lord Jesus Christ, through whom we have now received ^uthe reconciliation.

¹²Therefore, as ^vthrough one man sin entered into the world, and ^wdeath through sin; and ^xso death passed unto all men, for that ^yall sinned:—¹³for until the law sin was in the world: but ^zsin is not imputed when there is no law. ¹⁴Nevertheless death reigned from Adam until Moses, even over them that had not sinned ^aafter the likeness of Adam's transgression, ^bwho is a figure of ^chim that was to come.

¹⁵But not as the trespass, so also ⁱs the free gift. For if by the trespass of the one the many died, much more did the grace of God, and the gift by the grace of the one man, Jesus Christ, abound unto ^dthe many. ¹⁶And not as through one that sinned, ^{so} is the gift: for ^ethe judgement ^{came} of one unto condemnation, but the free gift ^{came} of many trespasses unto ^{3f}justification. ¹⁷For if, by the trespass of the one, death reigned through the one; much more shall they that receive the abundance of grace and ⁴of the gift of righteousness ^greign in life through the one, even Jesus Christ. ¹⁸So then as ^hthrough one trespass ^{the judgement came} unto all men to condemnation; even so through one act of righteousness ^{the free gift came} unto ⁱall men to ^jjustification of life. ¹⁹For as through the one man's ^kdisobedience the many were made sinners, even so through the ^lobedience of the one shall the many be made righteous. ²⁰And ^{5m}the law came in beside, that the trespass might abound; but where sin abounded, ⁿgrace did abound more exceedingly: ²¹that, ^oas sin reigned in death, even so might ^pgrace reign through righteousness unto eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord.

We who ^rdied to sin, how shall we any longer live therein? ³Or are ye ignorant that all we ^swho were baptized ^tinto Christ Jesus were baptized into his death? ⁴We were ^uburied therefore with him through baptism into death: that like as ^vChrist was raised from the dead through ^wthe glory of the Father, so we also might walk in ^xnewness of life. ⁵For ^yif we have become ⁶united with ^{him} by ^zthe likeness of his death, we shall be also ^{by the likeness} of his resurrection; ⁶knowing this, that ^aour old man ^bwas crucified with ^{him}, that ^cthe body of sin might be done away, that so we should no longer be in bondage to sin; ⁷for ^dhe that hath died ^eis justified from sin. ⁸But ^fif we died with Christ, we believe that we shall also live with him; ⁹knowing that ^gChrist being raised from the dead dieth no more; ^hdeath no more hath dominion over him. ¹⁰For ⁷the death that he died, he died unto sin ⁸ⁱonce: but ⁷the life that he liveth, he liveth unto God. ¹¹Even so reckon ye also yourselves to be ^jdead unto sin, but alive unto God in Christ Jesus.

¹²Let not ^ksin therefore reign in your mortal body, that ye should obey the lusts thereof: ¹³ⁱneither present your members unto sin ^{as} ^{9m}instruments of unrighteousness; but ⁿpresent yourselves unto God, as alive from the dead, and your members ^{as} ⁹instruments of righteousness unto God. ¹⁴For ^osin shall not ^phave dominion over you: for ye are not under law, but under grace.

¹⁵What then? ^ashall we sin, ^rbecause we are not under law, but under grace? God forbid. ¹⁶Know ye not, that ^sto whom ye present yourselves ^{as} ¹⁰servants unto obedience, his ¹⁰servants ye are whom ye obey; whether of sin unto death, or of obedience unto righteousness? ¹⁷But ^tthanks be to God, ¹¹that, whereas ye were ¹⁰servants of sin, ye became obedient from the heart to that ^{12u}form of teaching whereunto ye were delivered; ¹⁸and ^vbeing made free from sin, ^wye became ¹⁰servants of righteousness. ¹⁹^wI speak after the manner of men be-

1 Gr. in. 2 Gr. but also glorying. 3 Gr. an act of righteousness. 4 Some ancient authorities omit of the gift 5 Or, law 6 Or, united with the likeness. 7 Or, with the likeness 7 Or, in that 8 Gr. once for all. 9 Or, weapons 10 Gr. bondservants. 11 Or, that ye were . . . but ye became 12 Or, pattern cause of the infirmity of your flesh : for ^yas ye presented your members ^{as} servants unto uncleanness and to iniquity unto iniquity, even so now present your members ^{as} servants to righteousness unto sanctification. 20 For ^awhen ye were ¹servants of sin, ye were free in regard of righteousness. 21 ^bWhat fruit then had ye at that time in the things ^cwhereof ye are now ashamed? ^dfor the end of those things is death. 22 But now ^ebeing made free from sin, and ^fbecome servants to God, ^gye have your fruit unto sanctification, and ^hthe end eternal life. 23 ⁱFor the wages of sin is death; but the free gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord.

1 Or are ye ignorant, brethren 7 (for I speak to men that know ²the law), how that the law hath dominion over a man for so long time as he liveth? 2 For ^jthe woman that hath a husband is bound by law to the husband while he liveth; but if the husband die, she is discharged from the law of the husband. 3 So then if, while the husband liveth, ^kshe be joined to another man, she shall be called an adulteress: but if the husband die, she is free from the law, so that she is no adulteress, though she be joined to another man. 4 Wherefore, my brethren, ^lye also were made dead ^mto the law ⁿthrough the body of Christ; that ye should be joined to another, even to him who was raised from the dead, ^othat we might bring forth fruit unto God. 5 For when we were in the flesh, the ³sinful passions, which were through the law, wrought ^pin our members ^qto bring forth fruit unto death. 6 But now we have been discharged from the law, having died to that wherein we were holden; so that we serve ^rin newness of ^sthe spirit, and not in oldness of the letter.

7 What shall we say then? Is the law sin? God forbid. Howbeit, ^tI had not known sin, except through ²the law: for I had not known ⁴coveting, except ^uthe law had said, Thou shalt not ⁴covet: 8 but sin, ^vfinding occasion, wrought in me through the commandment all manner of ⁴coveting: ^wfor apart from ²the law sin ^{is} dead. 9 And I was alive apart from ²the law once: but when the commandment came, sin revived, and I died; 10 and the commandment, ^xwhich was unto life, this I found to be unto death: 11 for sin, ^yfinding occasion, through the commandment ^zbeguiled me, and through it slew me. 12 So that ^athe law is holy, and the commandment holy, and righteous, and good. 13 Did then that which is good become death unto me? God forbid. But sin, that it might be shewn to be sin, by working death to me through that which is good;—that through the commandment sin might become exceeding sinful. 14 For we know that the law is spiritual: but I am carnal, ^bsold under sin. 15 For that which I ⁵do I know not: for ^cnot what I would, that do I practise; but what I hate, that I do. 16 But if what I would not, that I do, I consent unto ^dthe law that it is good. 17 So now ^eit is no more I that ⁵do it, but sin which dwelleth in me. 18 For I know that ^fin me, that is, in my flesh, dwelleth no good thing: for to will is present with me, but to ⁵do that which is good ^{is} not. 19 ^gFor the good which I would I do not: but the evil which I would not, that I practise. 20 But if what I would not, that I do, ^hit is no more I that ⁵do it, but sin which dwelleth in me. 21 I find then ⁶the law, that, to me who would do good, evil is present. 22 For ⁱI delight ⁷in the law of God after ^jthe inward man: 23 but I see ^ka different law in my members, warring against the law of my mind, and bringing me into captivity ⁸under the law of sin which is in my members. 24 O wretched man that I am! who shall deliver me out of ⁹the body of this death? 25 ¹⁰^mI thank God through Jesus Christ our Lord. So then I myself with the mind serve the law of God; but with the flesh the law of sin.

8 ¹There is therefore now no condemnation to them that are in Christ Jesus. 2 For the law of ⁿthe Spirit of life in Christ Jesus ^omade me free from the law of sin and of death. 3 For ^pwhat the law could not do, ¹¹^qin that it was weak through the flesh, ^r God, sending his own Son ^s in the likeness of ¹ sinful flesh ² and ^t as an offering for sin, condemned sin in the flesh: ⁴ that ^u the ³ ordinance of the law might be fulfilled in us, ^v who walk not after the flesh, but after the spirit. ⁵ For ^w they that are after the flesh do mind ^x the things of the flesh; but they that are after the spirit ^y the things of the spirit. ⁶ For ^z the mind of the flesh is death; but the mind of the spirit is life and peace: ⁷ because the mind of the flesh is ^a enmity against God; for it is not subject to the law of God, ^b neither indeed can it be: ⁸ and they that are in the flesh cannot please God. ⁹ But ye are not in the flesh, but in the spirit, if so be that ^c the Spirit of God dwelleth in you. But ^d if any man hath not ^e the Spirit of Christ, he is none of his. ¹⁰ And if Christ is in you, the body is dead because of sin; but the spirit is life because of righteousness. ¹¹ But if the Spirit of ^f him that raised up Jesus from the dead dwelleth in you, he that raised up Christ Jesus from the dead shall quicken also your mortal bodies ⁴ ^g through his Spirit that dwelleth in you. ¹² So then, brethren, we are debtors, ^h not to the flesh, to live after the flesh: ¹³ for if ye live after the flesh, ye must die; but if by the spirit ye ⁱ mortify the ⁶ deeds of the body, ye shall live. ¹⁴ For as many as are ^j led by the Spirit of God, these are ^k sons of God. ¹⁵ For ^l ye received not ^m the spirit of bondage again unto fear; but ye received the spirit of ⁿ adoption, whereby we cry, ^o Abba, Father. ¹⁶ ^p The Spirit himself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are children of God: ¹⁷ and if children, then ^q heirs; heirs of God, and joint-heirs with Christ; ^r if so be that we suffer with him, that we may be also glorified with him. ¹⁸ For I reckon that the sufferings of this present time ^s are not worthy to be compared with ^t the glory which shall be revealed to us-ward. ¹⁹ For the earnest expectation of the creation waiteth for ^u the revealing of the sons of God. ²⁰ For the creation ^u was subjected to vanity, not of its own will, but ^v by reason of him who subjected it, ²¹ ^r in hope that ^w the creation itself also shall be delivered from the bondage of corruption into the liberty of the glory of the children of God. ²² For we know that ^x the whole creation ^y groaneth and travaileth in pain ³ together until now. ²³ And not only so, but ourselves also, which have ^z the firstfruits of the Spirit, ^a even we ourselves groan within ourselves, ^b waiting for our adoption, to wit, ^c the redemption of our body. ²⁴ For ^d by hope were we saved: but ^e hope that is seen is not hope: ⁹ for who ¹⁰ hopeth for that which he seeth? ²⁵ But if we hope for that which we see not, then do we with ^d patience wait for it. ²⁶ And in like manner the Spirit also helpeth our infirmity: for ^f we know not how to pray as we ought; but ^g the Spirit himself maketh intercession for us with groanings which cannot be uttered; ²⁷ and ^h he that searcheth the hearts knoweth what is ⁱ the mind of the Spirit, ¹¹ because he ^j maketh intercession for the saints ^k according to the will of God. ²⁸ And we know that to them that love God ¹² all things work together ^l for good, even to ^m them that are called according to his purpose. ²⁹ For whom he ⁿ foreknew, he also ^o foreordained ^p to be conformed to the image of his Son, that he might be ^q the firstborn among many brethren: ³⁰ and whom he foreordained, them he also called: and whom he called, them he also ^r justified: and whom he justified, them he also ^s glorified. ³¹ What then shall we say to these things? ^t If God is for us, who is against us? ³² ^u He that spared not his own Son, but ^v delivered him up for us all, how shall he not also with him freely give us all things? ³³ Who shall lay anything to the charge of God's elect? ¹³ ^w It is God that justifieth; ³⁴ ^x who is he that shall condemn? ¹⁴ It is Christ Jesus that died, yea rather, that was raised from the dead, ^y who is at the right hand of God, ^z who also maketh intercession for us. ³⁵ Who shall separate us from the love ¹ of Christ? shall tribulation, or anguish, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or sword? ³⁶ Even as it is written,

^a For thy sake ^b we are killed all the day long;

We were accounted as sheep for the slaughter.

³⁷ Nay, in all these things we are more than ^c conquerors through ^d him that loved us. ³⁸ For I am persuaded, that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor things present, nor things to come, nor powers, ³⁹ nor height, nor depth, nor any other ² creature, shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord.

¹ ^e I say the truth in Christ, I lie not, my conscience bearing witness with me in the Holy Ghost, ² that I have great sorrow and unceasing pain in my heart. ³ For ^f I could ³ wish that I myself were ^g anathema from Christ for my brethren's sake, my kinsmen ^h according to the flesh: ⁴ who are ⁱ Israelites; whose is ^j the adoption, and ^k the glory, and ^l the covenants, and ^m the giving of the law, and ⁿ the service of God, and ^o the promises; ⁵ whose are ^p the fathers, and of whom is Christ as concerning the flesh, ⁴ ^q who is over all, ^r God blessed ⁵ for ever. Amen. ⁶ But it is not as though the word of God hath come to nought. For they are not all Israel, which are of Israel: ⁷ neither, ^s because they are Abraham's seed, are they all children: but, ^t In Isaac shall thy seed be called. ⁸ That is, it is not the children of the flesh that are children of God; but ^u the children of the promise are reckoned for a seed. ⁹ For this is a word of promise, ^v According to this season will I come, and Sarah shall have a son. ¹⁰ And not only so; but ^w Rebecca also having conceived by one, even by our father Isaac — ¹¹ for the children being not yet born, neither having done anything good or bad, that the purpose of God according to election might stand, not of works, but of ^x him that calleth, ¹² it was said unto her, ^y The elder shall serve the younger. ¹³ Even as it is written, ^z Jacob I loved, but Esau I hated.

¹⁴ What shall we say then? ^a Is there unrighteousness with God? God forbid. ¹⁵ For he saith to Moses, ^b I will have mercy on whom I have mercy, and I will have compassion on whom I have compassion. ¹⁶ So then it is not of him that willeth, nor of him that runneth, but of God that hath mercy. ¹⁷ For the scripture saith unto Pharaoh, ^c For this very purpose did I raise thee up, that I might shew in thee my power, and that my name might be published abroad in all the earth. ¹⁸ So then he hath mercy on whom he will, and whom he will ^d he hardeneth.

¹⁹ Thou wilt say then unto me, Why doth he still find fault? For ^e who withstandeth his will? ²⁰ Nay but, O man, who art thou ^f that repliest against God? ^g Shall the thing formed say to him that formed it, Why didst thou make me thus? ²¹ Or ^h hath not the potter a right over the clay, from the same lump to make ⁱ one part a vessel unto honour, and another unto dishonour? ²² What if God, willing to shew his wrath, and to make his power known, endured with much longsuffering ^j vessels of wrath ^k fitted unto destruction: ²³ ⁶ and that he might make known ^l the riches of his glory upon vessels of mercy, which he ^m afore prepared unto glory, ²⁴ even us, whom he also ⁿ called, ^o not from the Jews only, but also from the Gentiles? ²⁵ As he saith also in Hosea,

^p I will call that my people, which was not my people;
 And her beloved, which was not beloved.

²⁶ ^q And it shall be, that in the place where it was said unto them, Ye are not my people,
 There shall they be called sons of ^r the living God.

²⁷ And Isaiah crieth concerning Israel, ^s If the number of the children of Israel be as the sand of the sea, ^t it is the remnant that shall be saved: ²⁸ for the Lord will execute ¹ Some ancient authorities read of God. ² Or, creation ³ Or, pray ⁴ Some modern interpreters place a full stop after flesh, and translate, He who is God over all be (is) blessed for ever: or, He who is over all is God, blessed for ever. Others punctuate, flesh, who is over all. God be (is) blessed for ever. ⁵ Gr. unto the ages. ⁶ Some ancient authorities omit and.

his word upon the earth, finishing it and cutting it short. 29 And, as Isaiah hath said before,

"Except ^v the Lord of Sabaoth had left us a seed,

^w We had become as Sodom, and had been made like unto Gomorrah.

30 What shall we say then? ^x That the Gentiles, which followed not after righteousness, attained to righteousness, even ^y the righteousness which is of faith: 31 but Israel, ^z following after a law of righteousness, ^a did not arrive at that law. 32 Wherefore? ¹ Because they sought it not by faith, but as it were by works. They stumbled at ^b the stone of stumbling; 33 even as it is written,

^c Behold, I lay in Zion ^d a stone of stumbling and a rock of offence:

^e And he that believeth on ² him shall not be ^f put to shame.

IO Brethren, my heart's ³ desire and my supplication to God is for them, that they may be saved. 2 For I bear them witness that ^g they have a zeal for God, ^h but not according to knowledge. 3 For being ignorant of ⁱ God's righteousness, and seeking to establish their own, they did not subject themselves to the righteousness of God. 4 For ^j Christ is the end of the law unto righteousness to every one that believeth. 5 For ^k Moses writeth that ^l the man that doeth the righteousness which is of the law shall live thereby. 6 But ^m the righteousness which is of faith saith thus, ⁿ Say not in thy heart, Who shall ascend ^o into heaven? (that is, ~~to~~ ^p to bring Christ down:) 7 or, Who shall descend into the ^q abyss? (that is, ^r to bring Christ up from the dead.) 8 But what saith it? ^s The word is nigh thee, in thy mouth, and in thy heart: that is, the word of faith, which we preach: 9 ^t because if ^u thou shalt ^v confess with thy mouth Jesus ^w as Lord, and shalt ^x believe in thy heart ^y that God raised him from the dead, ^z thou shalt be saved: 10 for with the heart man believeth unto righteousness; and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation. 11 For the scripture saith, ^a Whosoever believeth on him shall not be put to shame. 12 ^v For there is no distinction between Jew and Greek: for ^w the same Lord is Lord of all, and is ^x rich unto all that call upon him: 13 for, ^y Whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved. 14 How then shall they call on him in whom they have not believed? and how shall they believe in him ^z whom they have not heard? and how shall they hear ^a without a preacher? 15 and how shall they preach, except they be sent? even as it is written, ^b How beautiful are the feet of them that bring ^c glad tidings of good things!

16 But ^d they did not all hearken to the ^e glad tidings. For Isaiah saith, ^f Lord, who hath believed our report? 17 So ^g belief cometh of hearing, and hearing by the word of Christ. 18 But I say, Did they not hear? Yea, verily,

^h Their sound went out ⁱ into all the earth,

And their words unto the ends of ^j the world.

19 But I say, Did Israel not know? First Moses saith,

^k I will ^l provoke you to jealousy with that which is no nation,

With a nation ^m void of understanding will I anger you.

20 And Isaiah is very bold, and saith,

ⁿ I was found of them that sought me not;

I became manifest unto them that asked not of me.

21 But as to Israel he saith, ^o All the day long did I spread out my hands unto a disobedient and gainsaying people.

II I say then, ^p Did God cast off his people? God forbid.

For ^q I also am an Israelite, of the seed of Abraham, of the tribe of Benjamin. 2 ^r God did not cast off his people which he ^s foreknew. Or wot ye not what the scripture saith ^t of Elijah? how he pleadeth with God against Israel, 3 ^u Lord, they have killed thy prophets, they have digged down thine altars: and I am left alone, and they seek my life. 4 But what saith the answer of God unto him? ^v I have left for myself seven thousand men, who have not bowed the knee to Baal.

1 Or, Because, doing it not by faith, but as it were by works, they stumbled pleasure. 4 Or, that 5 Some ancient authorities read confess the word with thy mouth, that Jesus is Lord. 6 Or, a gospel 7 Or, gospel 8 Gr. the inhabited earth. 9 Or, in

5 Even so then at this present time also there is ^sa remnant according to the election of grace. 6 ^tBut if it is by grace, it is no more of works: otherwise grace is no more grace. 7 What then? ^uThat which Israel seeketh for, that he obtained not; but the election obtained it, and the rest ^vwere hardened: 8 according as it is written, ^wGod gave them a spirit of stupor, ^xeyes that they should not see, and ears that they should not hear, unto this very day. 9 And David saith,

^yLet their table be made a snare, and a trap,
And a stumblingblock, and a recompense unto them:

10 Let their eyes be darkened, that they may not see,
And bow thou down their back alway.

11 I say then, Did they stumble that they might fall? God forbid: but by their ^{1z}fall ^asalvation is come unto the Gentiles, for to provoke them to jealousy. 12 Now if their fall is the riches of the world, and their loss the riches of the Gentiles; how much more their fullness?

13 But I speak to you that are Gentiles. Inasmuch then as ^bI am an apostle of Gentiles, I glorify my ministry: 14 if by any means I may provoke to jealousy them that are my flesh, and ^cmay save some of them. 15 For if the casting away of them is ^dthe reconciling of the world, what shall the receiving of them be, but life from the dead? 16 And ^eif the firstfruit is holy, so is the lump: and if the root is holy, so are the branches. 17 But if ^fsome of the branches were broken off, and thou, ^gbeing a wild olive, wast grafted in among them, and didst become partaker with them ²of the root of the fatness of the olive tree; 18 glory not over the branches: but if thou gloriest, it is not thou that bearest the root, but the root thee. 19 Thou wilt say then, Branches were broken off, that I might be grafted in. 20 Well; by their unbelief they were broken off, and thou ^hstandest by thy faith. ⁱBe not highminded, but ^jfear: 21 for if God spared not the natural branches, neither will he spare thee.

22 Behold then the goodness and severity of God: toward them that fell, severity; but toward thee, God's goodness, ^kif thou continue in his goodness: otherwise ^lthou also shalt be cut off. 23 And ^mthey also, if they continue not in their unbelief, shall be grafted in: for God is able to graft them in again. 24 For if thou wast cut out of that which is by nature a wild olive tree, and wast grafted contrary to nature into a good olive tree: how much more shall these, which are the natural branches, be grafted into their own olive tree?

25 For I would not, brethren, have you ignorant of this mystery, ⁿlest ye be wise in your own conceits, that ^oa hardening in part hath befallen Israel, ^puntil the fulness of the Gentiles be come in; 26 and so all Israel shall be saved: even as it is written,

^qThere shall come out ^rof Zion the Deliverer;

He shall turn away ^sungodliness from Jacob:

27 And this is ^tmy ^ucovenant unto them,

^vWhen I shall take away their sins.

28 As touching the gospel, they are enemies for your sake: but as touching the election, they are ^wbeloved for the fathers' sake. 29 For the gifts and ^xthe calling of God are ^ywithout repentance. 30 For as ye ^zin time past were disobedient to God, but now have obtained mercy by their disobedience, 31 even so have these also now been disobedient, that by the mercy shewn to you they also may now obtain mercy. 32 For God ^ahath put up all unto disobedience, that he might have mercy upon all.

33 O the depth ^bof the riches both of ^cthe wisdom and the knowledge of God! ^dhow unsearchable are his judgements, and his ways past tracing out! 34 For ^ewho hath known the mind of the Lord? or ^fwho hath been his counsellor? 35 or ^gwho hath first given to him, and it shall be recompensed unto him again? 36 For ^hof him, and through him, and unto him, are all things. ⁱTo him be the glory ^jfor ever. Amen.

I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, ^hto present your bodies ⁱa living sacrifice, holy, ¹acceptable to God, which is your ²reasonable ³service. 2 And ^jbe not fashioned according to this ⁴world: but be ye transformed by ^kthe renewing of your mind, that ye may ^lprove what is ⁵the good and ¹acceptable and perfect will of God.

3 For I say, ^mthrough the grace that was given me, to every man that is among you, ⁿnot to think of himself more highly than he ought to think; but so to think as to think soberly, ^oaccording as God hath dealt to each man ^pa measure of faith.

4 For ^qeven as we have many members in one body, and all the members have not the same office: 5 so we, ^rwho are many, ^sare one body in Christ, and severally ^tmembers one of another. 6 And ^uhaving gifts differing according to the grace that was given to us, whether ^vprophecy, let us prophesy ^waccording to the proportion of ⁶our faith; 7 or ^xministry, let us give ourselves to our ministry; or he that teacheth, to his teaching; 8 or he that exhorteth, to his exhorting: he that giveth, let him do it with ^yliberality; ^zhe that ruleth, with diligence; he that sheweth mercy, with ^acheerfulness.

9 ^bLet love be without hypocrisy. ^cAbhor that which is evil; cleave to that which is good. 10 In ^dlove of the brethren be tenderly affectioned one to another; ^ein honour preferring one another; 11 in diligence not slothful; ^f fervent in spirit; ^gserving ⁸the Lord; 12 ^hrejoicing in hope; ⁱpatient in tribulation; ^jcontinuing stedfastly in prayer; 13 ^kcommunicating to the necessities of the saints; ^lgiven to hospitality. 14 ^mBless them that persecute you; bless, and curse not.

15 ⁿRejoice with them that rejoice; weep with them that weep. 16 ^oBe of the same mind one toward another. ^pSet not your mind on high things, but ¹⁰condescend to ¹¹things that are lowly. ^qBe not wise in your own conceits. 17 ^rRender to no man evil for evil. ^sTake thought for things honourable in the sight of all men. 18 If it be possible, as much as in you lieth, ^tbe at peace with all men. 19 ^uAvenge not yourselves, beloved, but give place unto ¹²wrath: for it is written, ^vVengeance belongeth unto me; I will recompense, saith the Lord. 20 But ^wif thine enemy hunger, feed him; if he thirst, give him to drink: for in so doing thou shalt heap coals of fire upon his head. 21 Be not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good.

I Let every soul ^wbe in subjection to the higher powers: for ^xthere is no power but of God; and the powers that be are ordained of God. 2 Therefore he that resisteth the power, withstandeth the ordinance of God: and they that withstand shall receive to themselves judgement. 3 For rulers are not a terror to the good work, but to the evil. And wouldest thou have no fear of the power? do that which is good, and thou shalt have ^ypraise from the same: 4 for ¹³he is a minister of God to thee for good. But if thou do that which is evil, be afraid; for ¹³he beareth not the sword in vain: for ¹³he is a minister of God, ^aan avenger for wrath to him that doeth evil. 5 Wherefore ^{ye} must needs be in subjection, not only because of the wrath, but also ^bfor conscience sake. 6 For for this cause ye pay tribute also; for they are ministers of God's service, attending continually upon this very thing. 7 ^cRender to all their dues: tribute to whom tribute is due; custom to whom custom; fear to whom fear; honour to whom honour.

8 ^dOwe no man anything, save to love one another: for ^ehe that loveth ¹⁴his neighbour hath fulfilled ¹⁵the law. 9 For this, ^fThou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not kill, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not covet, and if there be any other commandment, it is summed up in this word, namely, ^gThou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. 10 Love worketh no ill to his neigh-

¹¹ And this, knowing the season, that now it is high time for you ⁱto awake out of sleep: ^jfor now is ²salvation nearer to us than when we first believed. ¹²^kThe night is far spent, and the day is at hand:

let us therefore ^lcast off ^mthe works of darkness, and ⁿlet us put on the armour of light. ¹³^oLet us walk honestly, as in the day; ^pnot in revelling and drunkenness, not in chambering and wantonness, ^qnot in strife and jealousy. ¹⁴But ^rput ye on the Lord Jesus Christ, and make not provision for the flesh, ^sto fulfil the lusts thereof.

¹ But ^thim that is weak in I faith receive ye, yet not ³to doubtful disputations. ²^uOne man hath faith to eat all things: but he that is weak eateth herbs.

³ Let not him that eateth set at nought him that eateth not; and ^vlet not him that eateth not judge

him that eateth: for God hath received him. ⁴^wWho art thou that judgest the ⁴servant of another?

to his own lord he standeth or falleth. Yea, he shall be made to stand; for the Lord hath power to make him stand.

⁵^xOne man esteemeth one day above another: another esteemeth every day alike. ^yLet each man be fully assured in his own mind.

⁶ He that regardeth the day, regardeth it unto the Lord: and he that eateth, eateth unto the Lord, for ^zhe giveth God thanks; and he that eateth not, unto the Lord he eateth not, and giveth God thanks.

⁷ For ^anone of us liveth to himself, and none dieth to himself. ⁸ For whether we live, we live unto the Lord; or whether we die, we die unto the Lord: ^bwhether we live therefore, or die, we are the Lord's.

⁹ For to this end Christ ^cdied, and lived again, that he might be Lord ^dof both the dead and the living.

¹⁰ But thou, why dost thou judge thy brother? or thou again, why dost thou set at nought thy brother?

for ^dwe shall all stand before ^ethe judgement-seat of God. ¹¹ For it is written,

^fAs I live, saith the Lord, to me every knee shall bow,

And every tongue shall ⁵confess to God.

¹² So then ^geach one of us shall give account of himself to God.

¹³^hLet us not therefore judge one another any more: but judge ye this rather, ⁱthat no man put a stumblingblock in his brother's way, or an occasion of falling. ¹⁴ I know, and am persuaded in the Lord Jesus, ^jthat nothing is unclean of itself: ^ksave that to him who accounteth anything to be unclean, to him it is unclean.

¹⁵ For if because of meat thy brother is grieved, ^lthou walkest no longer in love.

^mDestroy not with thy meat him for whom Christ died. ¹⁶ⁿLet not then your good be evil spoken of: ¹⁷^ofor the kingdom of God is not eating and drinking, but ^prighteousness and ^qpeace and joy in the Holy Ghost.

¹⁸ For he that herein serveth Christ is ^rwell-pleasing to God, and approved of men. ¹⁹ So then ⁶let us ^sfollow after things which make for peace, and things whereby we may ^tedify one another.

²⁰^uOverthrow not for meat's sake the work of God. ^vAll things indeed are clean; howbeit ^wit is evil for that man who eateth with offence. ²¹^xIt is good not to eat flesh, nor to drink wine, nor to do anything whereby thy brother stumbleth ⁷.

²² The faith which thou hast, have thou to thyself before God. ^yHappy is he that judgeth not himself in that which he ⁸approveth. ²³ But he that doubteth is condemned if he eat, because he eateth not of faith; and whatsoever is not of faith is sin. ⁹

⁴ For ^ewhatsoever things were written aforetime were written for our ^flearning, that through patience and through ^gcomfort of the scriptures we might have hope. ⁵ Now the God of patience and of comfort grant you ^hto be of the same mind

one with another according to Christ Jesus: 6 that with one accord ye may with one mouth glorify ⁱthe God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ. 7 Wherefore receive ye one another, even as Christ also received ¹you, to the glory of God. 8 For I say that Christ ^jhath been made a minister of the circumcision for the truth of God, that ^khe might confirm the promises given unto the fathers, ^gand ^lthat the Gentiles might glorify God for his mercy; as it is written, ^mTherefore will I ²give praise unto thee among the Gentiles, And sing unto thy name.

10 And again he saith,

ⁿRejoice, ye Gentiles, with his people.

11 And again,

^oPraise the Lord, all ye Gentiles; And let all the peoples praise him.

12 And again, Isaiah saith,

^pThere shall be ^qthe root of Jesse,

And he that ariseth to rule over the Gentiles;

^rOn him shall the Gentiles hope.

13 Now the God of hope fill you with all ^sjoy and peace in believing, that ye may abound in hope, in the power of the Holy Ghost.

14 And ^tI myself also am persuaded of you, my brethren, that ye yourselves are full of goodness, filled with ^uall knowledge, able also to admonish one another. 15 But I write the more boldly unto you in some measure, as putting you again in remembrance, ^vbecause of the grace that was given me of God, 16 that I should be ^wa minister of Christ Jesus unto the Gentiles, ^xministering the gospel of God, that ^ythe offering up of the Gentiles might be made acceptable, being sanctified by the Holy Ghost. 17 I have therefore ^zmy glorying in Christ Jesus ^ain things pertaining to God. 18 For I will not dare to speak of any ^bthings save those ^bwhich Christ wrought through me, ^cfor the obedience of the Gentiles, by word and deed, 19 ^din the power of ^ethe Holy Ghost; so that ^efrom Jerusalem, and round about ^feven unto Illyricum, I have ^ffully preached the gospel of Christ; 20 yea, ⁷making it my aim so to preach the gospel, not where Christ was already named, ⁹that I might not build upon another man's foundation; 21 but, as it is written,

^hThey shall see, to whom no tidings of him came, And they who have not heard shall understand.

22 Wherefore also ⁱI was hindered these many times from coming to you: 23 but now, having no more any place in these regions, and ^jhaving these many years a longing to come unto you, 24 whensoever I go ^kunto Spain (for I hope to see you in my journey, and ^lto be brought on my way thitherward by you, if first in some measure I shall have been satisfied with your company) — 25 but now, I say, ^mI go unto Jerusalem, ministering unto the saints. 26 For ⁿit hath been the good pleasure of Macedonia and Achaia to make a certain contribution for the poor among the saints that are at Jerusalem. 27 Yea, it hath been their good pleasure; and their debtors they are. For if the Gentiles have been made partakers of their spiritual things, ^othey owe it to them also to minister unto them in carnal things. 28 When therefore I have accomplished this, and have sealed to them this fruit, I will go on by you ^punto Spain. 29 And I know that, when I come unto you, I shall come in the fulness of the blessing of Christ.

30 Now I beseech you, brethren, by our Lord Jesus Christ, and by ^qthe love of the Spirit, that ye ^rstrive together with me in your prayers to God for me; 31 ^sthat I may be delivered from them that are disobedient in Judæa, and that ^tmy ministration which I have for Jerusalem may be acceptable to the saints; 32 that I may come unto you in joy through the will of God, and together with you ^ufind rest. 33 Now ^vthe God of peace be with you all. 3 Salute ^y Prisca and Aquila my fellow-workers in Christ Jesus, 4 who for my life laid down their own necks; unto whom not only I give thanks, but also all the churches of the Gentiles: 5 and salute ^z the church that is in their house. Salute Epænetus my beloved, who is ^a the firstfruits of Asia unto Christ. 6 Salute Mary, who bestowed much labour on you. 7 Salute Andronicus and ¹ Junias, my kinsmen, and my ^b fellow-prisoners, who are of note among the apostles, who also have been in Christ before me. 8 Salute Ampliatus my beloved in the Lord. 9 Salute Urbanus our fellow-worker in Christ, and Stachys my beloved. 10 Salute Apelles the approved in Christ. Salute them ^c which are of the household of Aristobulus. 11 Salute Herodion my kinsman. Salute them of the household of Narcissus, which are in the Lord. 12 Salute Tryphæna and Tryphosa, who labour in the Lord. 17 Now I beseech you, brethren, mark them which are causing the divisions and occasions of stumbling, ^f contrary to the ² doctrine which ye learned: and ^g turn away from them. 18 For they that are such serve not our Lord Christ, but ^h their own belly; and ⁱ by their smooth and fair speech they beguile the hearts of the innocent. 19 For ^j your obedience is come abroad unto all men. I rejoyce therefore over you: but I would have you ^k wise unto that which is good, and simple unto that which is evil. 20 And ^l the God of peace ^m shall bruise Satan under your feet shortly.

ⁿ The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you.

21 ^o Timothy my fellow-worker saluteth you; and ^p Lucius and ^q Jason and ^r Sosipater, my kinsmen. 22 I Tertius, ^s who write the epistle, salute you in the Lord. 23 ^t Gaius my host, and of the whole church, saluteth you. ^u Erastus the treasurer of the city saluteth you, and Quartus the brother.⁴

25 ^v Now to him that is able to stablish you ^w according to my gospel and the preaching of Jesus Christ, ^x according to the revelation of the mystery ^y which hath been kept in silence through ^z times eternal, 26 but ^a now is manifested, and ^b by the scriptures of the prophets, according to the commandment of the eternal God, is made known unto all the nations ^b unto obedience ⁷ of faith; 27 to ^c the only wise God, through Jesus Christ, ^{8 d} to whom be the glory ⁹ for ever. I PAUL, ^a called to be an apostle of Jesus Christ ^b through the will of God, and ^c Sosthenes ^d our brother, ^e unto the church of God which is at Corinth, even them that are ^f sanctified in Christ Jesus, ^g called to be saints, with all that ^h call upon the name of our Lord Jesus Christ in every place, their Lord and ours: ⁱ Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

4 I ^j thank ^k my God always concerning you, for the grace of God which was given you in Christ Jesus; ^l 5 that in everything ^m ye were enriched in him, in all ⁿ utterance and all knowledge; ^o 6 even as ^p the testimony of Christ was confirmed in you: ^q 7 so that ye come behind in no gift; ^r waiting for the revelation of our Lord Jesus Christ; ^s 8 who shall also confirm you unto the end, that ye be ^t unproveable ^u in the day of our Lord Jesus Christ. ^v 9 God is faithful, through whom ye were called into ^w the fellowship of his Son Jesus Christ our Lord.

10 Now I beseech you, brethren, through the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all speak the same thing, and that there be no ^x divisions among you; but that ye be perfected together ^y in the same mind and in the same judgement. 11 For it hath been signified unto me concerning you, my brethren, by them which are of the household of Chloe, that there are ^z contentions among you. 12 Now this I mean, that ^a each one of you saith, I am of Paul; and I of ^b Apollos; and I of ^c Cephas; and I of Christ. 13 ^d Is Christ divided? was Paul crucified for you? or were ye ^e baptized into the name of Paul? 14 ^f I thank God that I baptized none of you, save ^g Crispus and ^h Gaius; 15 lest any man should say that ye were baptized into my name. 16 And I baptized also ⁱ the household of Stephanas: besides, I know not whether I baptized any other. 17 For Christ sent me not to baptize, but to preach the gospel: ^j not in wisdom of words, lest the cross of Christ should be made void.

18 For the word of the cross is to ^k them that are perishing ^l foolishness; but unto us ^m which are being saved it is ⁿ the power of God. 19 For it is written,

^o I will destroy the wisdom of the wise,
 And the prudence of the prudent will I reject.

20 ^p Where is the wise? ^q where is the scribe? where is the disputer of this ^r world? ^s hath not God made foolish the wisdom of the world? 21 For seeing that in the wisdom of God the world through its wisdom knew not God, it was God's good pleasure through the foolishness of the ^t preaching to save them that believe. 22 Seeing that ^u Jews ask for signs, and Greeks seek after wisdom: 23 but we preach ^v Christ ^w crucified, unto Jews a stumbling-block, and unto Gentiles foolishness; 24 but unto ^x them that are called, both Jews and Greeks, Christ ^y the power of God, and ^z the wisdom of God. 25 Because the foolishness of God is wiser than men; and the weakness of God is stronger than men.

26 For ^a behold your calling, brethren, how that ^b not many wise after the flesh, not many mighty, not many noble, ^c are called: 27 but ^d God chose the foolish things of the world, that he might put to shame them that are wise; and ^e God chose the weak things of the world, that he might put to shame the things that are strong; 28 and the base things of the world, and the things that are despised, did God choose, yea ^f and the ^g things that are not, that he might ^h bring to nought the things that are: 29 ⁱ that no flesh should glory before God. ³⁰ But of him are ye in Christ Jesus, who was made unto us ^uwisdom from God, ¹and ^vrighteousness and ^wsanctification, and ^xredemption: ³¹ that, according as it is written, ^yHe that glorieth, let him glory in the Lord.

¹ And I, brethren, when I ²came unto you, ^zcame not with excellency of ²speech or of wisdom, proclaiming to you ^athe ³mystery of God. ² For I determined not to know anything among you, save ^bJesus Christ, and him crucified. ³ And ^cI was with you ^din weakness, and in fear, and in much trembling. ⁴ And my ²speech and my ^epreaching were not in persuasive words of wisdom, but in demonstration of ^fthe Spirit and of power: ⁵ that your faith should not ⁵stand in the wisdom of men, but ^gin the power of God.

⁶ Howbeit we speak wisdom among ^hthe ⁶perfect: yet ⁱa wisdom not of this ⁷world, nor of the rulers of this ⁷world, ^jwhich are coming to nought: ⁷ but we speak God's wisdom in a mystery, even the wisdom that hath been hidden, ^kwhich God foreordained before the worlds unto our glory: ⁸ which none of ^lthe rulers of this world knoweth: for ^mhad they known it, they would not have crucified ⁿthe Lord of glory: ⁹ but as it is written,

^o Things which eye saw not, and ear heard not,

And which entered not into the heart of man,

Whatsoever things God ^pprepared ^qfor them that love him.

¹⁰ ⁸ But unto us ^rGod revealed ⁹them through the Spirit: for the Spirit searcheth all things, yea, ^sthe deep things of God. ¹¹ ^tFor who among men knoweth the things of a man, ^usave the spirit of the man, which is in him? even so the things of God none knoweth, save the Spirit of God. ¹² But ^vwe received, not ^wthe spirit of the world, but the spirit which is of God; that we might know the things that are freely given to us by God. ¹³ Which things also we speak, not ^xin words which man's wisdom teacheth, but which the Spirit teacheth; ¹⁰ ¹¹ y comparing spiritual things with spiritual. ¹⁴ Now the ^znatural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God: for they are ^afoolishness unto him; and ^bhe cannot know them, because they are spiritually ¹²judged. ¹⁵ But he that is ^cspiritual ¹³judgeth all things, and he himself is ¹²judged of no man. ¹⁶ ^dFor who hath known the mind of the Lord, that he should instruct him? But ^ewe have the mind of Christ.

¹ And I, brethren, could not ³speak unto you as unto ^fspiritual, but as unto ^gcarnal, as unto ^hbabes in Christ. ² ⁱI fed you with milk, not with meat; for ^jye were not yet able to bear it: nay, not even now are ye able; ³ for ye are yet carnal: for whereas there is among you ^kjealousy and strife, are ye not carnal, and walk after the manner of men? ⁴ For ^lwhen one saith, I am of Paul; and another, I am of Apollos; ^mare ye not men? ⁵ What then is Apollos? and what is Paul? ⁿMinisters through whom ye believed; and ^oeach as the Lord gave to him. ⁶ ^pI planted, ^qApollos watered; ^rbut God gave the increase. ⁷ So then ^sneither is he that planteth anything, neither he that watereth; but God that giveth the increase. ⁸ Now he that planteth and he that watereth are one: but each ^tshall receive his own reward according to his own labour. ⁹ For we are ^uGod's fellow-workers: ye are God's ¹⁴husbandry, ^vGod's building.

¹⁰ ^wAccording to the grace of God which was given unto me, as a wise masterbuilder I laid a ^xfoundation; and ^yanother buildeth thereon. But let each man take heed how he buildeth thereon. ¹¹ For ^zother foundation can no man lay ^athan that which is laid, ^bwhich is Jesus Christ. ¹² But if any man buildeth on the foundation gold, silver, costly stones, wood, hay, stubble; ¹³ ^ceach man's work shall be made manifest: for ^dthe day shall declare it, because it is revealed ^ein fire; ¹⁵ and ^fthe fire itself shall prove each man's work of what sort it is. 14 If any man's work shall abide which he built thereon, ^g he shall receive a reward. 15 If any man's work shall be burned, he shall suffer loss: but he himself shall be saved; ^h yet so as through fire.

16 ⁱ Know ye not that ye are a ¹ temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you? 17 If any man destroyeth the ¹ temple of God, him shall God destroy; for ^j the ¹ temple of God is holy, ² which temple ye are.

18 ^k Let no man deceive himself. ^l If any man thinketh that he is wise among you in this ³ world, let him become a fool, that he may become wise. 19 For ^m the wisdom of this world is foolishness with God. For it is written, ⁿ He that taketh the wise in their craftiness: 20 and again, ^o The Lord knoweth the reasonings of the wise, that they are vain. 21 Wherefore ^p let no one glory in men. For ^q all things are yours; 22 whether Paul, or Apollos, or Cephas, or the world, or life, or death, or things present, or things to come; all are yours; 23 and ^r ye are Christ's; and ^s Christ is God's.

1 Let a man so account of us, 4 as of ministers of Christ, and ^t stewards of the mysteries of God. 2 Here, moreover, it is required in stewards, that a man be found faithful. 3 But with me it is a very small thing that I should be ^u judged of you, or of man's ^v judgement: yea, ^w I ⁶ judge not mine own self. 4 For ^x I know nothing against myself; ^y yet am I not hereby justified: but he that ⁷ judgeth me is the Lord. 5 Wherefore ^w judge nothing before the time, ^x until the Lord come, ^y who will both bring to light the hidden things of darkness, and make manifest the counsels of the hearts; and ^z then shall each man have his praise from God.

6 Now these things, brethren, I have in a figure transferred to myself and Apollos for your sakes; that in us ye might learn not to go beyond the things which are written; that no one of you ^a be puffed up for the one against the other. 7 For who maketh thee to differ?

and ^b what hast thou that thou didst not receive? but if thou didst receive it, why dost thou glory, as if thou hadst not received it? 8 Already are ye filled, already ye are become rich, ye have reigned without us: yea and I would that ye did reign, that we also might reign with you. 9 For, I think, God hath set forth us the apostles last of all, ^c as men doomed to death: for we ^d are made a spectacle unto the world, ^e and to angels, and to men. 10 ^e We are fools for Christ's sake, but ^f ye are wise in Christ; ^g we are weak, but ye are strong; ye have glory, but we have dishonour. 11 Even unto this present hour ^h we both hunger, and thirst, and are naked, and ⁱ are buffeted, and ^j have no certain dwellingplace; 12 and we ^k toil, working with our own hands: ^l being reviled, we bless; ^m being persecuted, we endure; 13 being defamed, we intreat: ⁿ we are made as the ⁹ filth of the world, ^o the offscouring of all things, even until now.

14 I write not these things ^p to shame you, but to admonish you ^q as my beloved children. 15 For ^r though ye should have ten thousand tutors in Christ, yet have ye not many fathers: for in Christ Jesus ^s I begat you through the gospel. 16 I beseech you therefore, ^t be ye imitators of me. 17 For this cause ^u have I sent unto you Timothy, ^v who is my beloved and faithful child in the Lord, who shall put you in remembrance of my ways which be in Christ, ^w even as I teach everywhere in every church. 18 Now some are ^x puffed up, ^y as though I were not coming to you. 19 But ^z I will come to you shortly, if the Lord will; and I will know, not the word of them which are puffed up, but the power. 20 For ^a the kingdom of God is not in word, but in power. 21 What will ye? ^b shall I come unto you with a rod, or in love and a spirit of meekness?

1 It is actually reported that 5 there is ^c fornication among you, and such fornication as is not even among the Gentiles, ^d that one of you hath his father's wife. 2 And ^e ye are puffed up, and ^f did not rather mourn, that he that had done this deed might be taken away from among you. ³ For I verily, ^g being absent in body but present in spirit, have already, as though I were present, judged him that hath so wrought this thing, ⁴ ^h in the name of our Lord Jesus, ye being gathered together, and my spirit, with the power of our Lord Jesus, ⁵ ⁱ to deliver such a one unto Satan for the destruction of the flesh, ^j that the spirit may be saved ^k in the day of the Lord ¹ Jesus. ⁶ ^l Your glorying is not good. Know ye not that ^m a little leaven leaveneth the whole lump? ⁷ Purge out the old leaven, that ye may be a new lump, even as ye are unleavened. For our pass-over also hath been sacrificed, ⁿ even Christ: ⁸ wherefore let us ² keep the feast, ^o not with old leaven, neither with ^p the leaven of malice and wickedness, but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth.

⁹ I wrote unto you in my epistle ^q to have no company with fornicators; ^r ¹⁰ ^s not altogether with ^t the fornicators of this world, or with the covetous and extortioners, or with idolaters; ^u for then must ye needs go out of the world: ^v ¹¹ but ^w now I write unto you not to keep company, if any man ^x that is named a brother be a fornicator, or covetous, or an idolater, or a reviler, or a drunkard, or an extortioner; with such a one no, not to eat. ¹² For what have I to do with judging ^y them that are without? ^z Do not ye judge them that are within, ¹³ whereas they that are without God judgeth? ^{aa} Put away the wicked man from among yourselves.

them to judge who are of no account in the church? ⁵ ^{ba} I say ^{bb} this to move you to shame. Is it so, that there cannot be ^{bc} found among you one wise man, who shall be able to decide between his brethren, ⁶ but brother goeth to law with brother, and that before unbelievers? ⁷ Nay, already it is altogether ^{bd} a defect in you, that ye have lawsuits one with another. ^{ce} Why not rather take wrong? why not rather be defrauded? ⁸ Nay, but ye yourselves do wrong, and defraud, and that ^{de} your brethren. ⁹ Or know ye not that the unrighteous shall not inherit the kingdom of God? Be not deceived: ^{ef} neither fornicators, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor effeminate, nor abusers of themselves with men, ^{fg} nor thieves, nor covetous, nor drunkards, nor revilers, nor extortioners, shall inherit the kingdom of God. ¹¹ And ^{fh} such were some of you: but ^{gi} ye ¹⁰ were washed, but ^{gh} ye were sanctified, but ^{gi} ye were justified in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, and in the Spirit of our God.

¹² ^{gj} All things are lawful for me; but not all things are expedient. All things are lawful for me; but I will not be brought under the power of any. ¹³ ^{hk} Meats for the belly, and the belly for meats: but God shall bring to nought both it ^{il} and them. But the body is not for fornication, but ^{im} for the Lord; and ⁱⁿ the Lord for the body: ¹⁴ and ^{io} God both raised the Lord, and ^{ip} will raise up us ^{iq} through his power. ¹⁵ Know ye not that ^{jr} your bodies are members of Christ? shall I then take away the members of Christ, and make them members of a harlot? God forbid. ¹⁶ Or know ye not that he that is joined to a harlot is one body? for, ^{js} The twain, saith he, shall become one flesh. ¹⁷ But he that is joined unto the Lord ^{jt} is one spirit. ¹⁸ ^{ku} Flee fornication. Every sin that a man doeth is without the body; but he that committeth fornication ^{kv} sinneth against his own body. ¹⁹ Or ^{lw} know ye not that your body is a ¹¹ temple of the ¹² Holy Ghost which is in you, which ye have from God? and ^{lx} ye are not your own; ²⁰ ^{ly} for ye were bought with a price: ^z glorify God therefore in your body.

1 Now concerning the things whereof ye wrote: ^a It is good for a man not to touch a woman. 2 But, because of fornications, let each man have his own wife, and let each woman have her own husband. 3 Let the husband render unto the wife her due: and likewise also the wife unto the husband. 4 The wife hath not power over her own body, but the husband: and likewise also the husband hath not power over his own body, but the wife. 5 Defraud ye not one the other, except it be by consent for a season, that ye may give yourselves unto prayer, and may be together again, ^d that Satan tempt you not because of your incontinency. 6 But this I say by way of permission, ^e not of commandment. 7 Yet ^f I would that all men were ^g even as I myself. Howbeit ^h each man hath his own gift from God, ⁱ one after this manner, and another after that.

8 But I say to the unmarried and to widows, ^j It is good for them if they abide ^k even as I. 9 But if they have not continency, ^l let them marry: for it is better to marry than to burn. 10 But unto the married ^m I give charge, ⁿ yea not I, but the Lord, ^o That the wife depart not from her husband 11 (but and if she depart, ^p let her remain unmarried, or else be reconciled to her husband); and ^q that the husband leave not his wife. 12 But to the rest say I, not the Lord: If any brother hath an unbelieving wife, and she is content to dwell with him, let him not leave her. 13 And the woman which hath an unbelieving husband, and he is content to dwell with her, let her not leave her husband. 14 For the unbelieving husband is sanctified in the wife, and the unbelieving wife is sanctified in the brother: ^r else were your children unclean; but now are they holy. 15 Yet if the unbelieving departeth, let him depart: the brother or the sister is not under bondage in such cases: but God hath called ^s us ^t in peace. 16 For how knowest thou, O wife, ^u whether thou shalt save thy husband? or how knowest thou, O husband, whether thou shalt save thy wife?

17 Only, ^v as the Lord hath distributed to each man, as God hath called each, so let him walk. ^w And so ordain I in ^x all the churches. 18 Was any man called being circumcised? let him not become uncircumcised. Hath any been called in uncircumcision? ^y let him not be circumcised. 19 Circumcision is nothing, and uncircumcision is nothing; but ^z the keeping of the commandments of God. 20 Let each man abide in that calling wherein he was called. 21 Wast thou called being a bondservant? care not for it: ^a but if thou canst become free, use ^b it rather. 22 For he that was called in the Lord, being a bondservant, is ^c the Lord's freedman: likewise he that was called, being free, is ^d Christ's bondservant. 23 Ye were bought with a price; ^e become not bondservants of men. 24 Brethren, ^f let each man, wherein he was called, therein abide with God.

25 Now concerning virgins ^g I have no commandment of the Lord: but I give my judgement, as ^h one that hath obtained mercy of the Lord to be ⁱ faithful. 26 I think therefore that this is good by reason of the present distress, ^j namely, that ^k it is good for a man ^l to be as he is. 27 Art thou bound unto a wife? seek not to be loosed. Art thou loosed from a wife? seek not a wife. 28 But and if thou marry, thou hast not sinned; and if a virgin marry, she hath not sinned. Yet such shall have tribulation in the flesh: and I would spare you. 29 But this I say, brethren, ^m the time ⁿ is shortened, that henceforth ^o both those that have wives may be as though they had none; 30 and those that weep, as though they wept not; and those that rejoice, as though they rejoiced not; and those that buy, ^p as though they possessed not; 31 and those that use the world, as not ^q abusing it: for ^r the fashion of this world passeth away. 32 But I would have you to be ^s free from cares. ^t He that is unmarried is careful for the things of the Lord, how he may please the Lord: 33 but he that is married is careful for the things of the world, how he may please his ¹ wife. 34 And there is a difference also between the wife and the virgin. She that is unmarried is careful for the things of the Lord, that she may be holy both in body and in spirit: but she that is married is careful for the things of the world, how she may please her husband. 35 And this I say for your own profit; not that I may ² cast a ² snare upon you, but for that which is seemly, and that ye may attend upon the Lord without distraction. 36 But if any man thinketh that he behaveth himself unseemly toward his ³ virgin daughter, if she be ⁴ past the flower of her age, and if need so requireth, let him do what he will; he sinneth not; let them marry. 37 But he that standeth stedfast in his heart, having no necessity, but hath power as touching his own will, and hath determined this in his own heart, to keep his own ³ virgin daughter, shall do well. 38 So then both he that giveth his own ³ virgin daughter in marriage ⁵ doeth well; and he that giveth her not in marriage shall do better. 39 ⁶ A wife is bound for so long time as her husband liveth; but if the husband be ⁴ dead, she is free to be married to whom she will; only ⁷ in the Lord. 40 But she is happier if she abide as she is, ⁸ after my judgement: and I think ⁹ that I also have the Spirit of God.

8 ¹ Now concerning ² things sacrificed to idols: We know that we all have ³ knowledge. Knowledge ⁴ puffeth up, ⁵ but love ⁵ edifieth. ^{2b} If any man thinketh that he knoweth anything, ⁶ he knoweth not yet as he ought to know; ³ but if any man loveth God, ⁷ the same is known of him. 4 Concerning therefore the eating of things sacrificed to idols, we know that ⁸ no idol is anything in the world, and that ⁹ there is no God but one. 5 For though there be ⁹ that are called gods, whether in heaven or on earth; as there are gods many, and lords many; 6 yet ¹⁰ to us there is one God, the Father, ¹¹ of whom are all things, and we unto him; and ¹² one Lord, Jesus Christ, through whom are all things, and we ¹³ through him. 7 Howbeit in all men there is not that knowledge: but some, ¹⁴ being used until now to the idol, eat as of a thing sacrificed to an idol; and ¹⁵ their conscience being weak is defiled. 8 But ¹⁶ meat will not commend us to God: neither, if we eat not, ¹⁷ are we the worse; nor, if we eat, ¹⁸ are we the better. 9 But take heed ¹⁹ lest by any means this ²⁰ liberty of yours become a stumblingblock ²¹ to the weak. 10 For if a man see thee which hast knowledge sitting at meat in ²² an idol's temple, will not his conscience, if he is weak, ²³ be emboldened to eat things sacrificed to idols? 11 For ²⁴ through thy knowledge he that is weak ²⁵ perisheth, the brother for whose sake Christ died. 12 And thus, sinning against the brethren, and ²⁶ wounding their conscience when it is weak, ²⁷ ye sin against Christ. 13 Wherefore, ²⁸ if meat maketh my brother to stumble, I will eat no flesh for evermore, that I make not my brother to stumble.

1 ¹ Am I not free? ² am I not ³ an apostle? ⁴ have I not seen Jesus our Lord? ⁵ are not ye my work in the Lord? 2 If to others I am not an apostle, yet at least I am to you: for ⁶ the seal of mine apostleship are ye in the Lord. 3 My defence to them that examine me is this. ⁷ Have we no right to eat and to drink? ⁸ Have we no right to lead about a wife that is a ⁹ believer, even as the rest of the apostles, and ¹⁰ the brethren of the Lord, and ¹¹ Cephas? 6 Or I only and Barnabas, have we not a right to forbear working? 7 ¹² What soldier ever serveth at his own charges? ¹³ who planteth a vineyard, and eateth not the fruit thereof? or who feedeth a flock, and eateth not of the milk of the flock? 8 Do I speak these things after the manner of men? or saith not the law also the same? 9 For it is written in the law of Moses, ¹⁴ Thou shalt not muzzle the ox when he treadeth out the corn. Is it for the oxen that God careth, 10 or ¹⁵ saith he it altogether for our sake? Yea, ¹⁶ for our sake it was written: because ¹⁷ he that ploweth ought to plow in hope, and he that thresheth, to thresh in hope of partaking. ¹¹ If we sowed unto you spiritual things, is it a great matter if we shall reap your carnal things? ¹² If others partake of this right over you, do not we yet more? Nevertheless ^k we did not use this right; but we bear all things, ^l that we may cause no hindrance to the gospel of Christ. ¹³ Know ye not that ^m they which minister about sacred things eat of the things of the temple, and they which wait upon the altar have their portion with the altar? ¹⁴ Even so did the Lord ordain that ⁿ they which proclaim the gospel should live of the gospel. ¹⁵ But ^o I have used none of these things: and I write not these things that it may be so done in my case: for it were good for me rather to die, than that any man should make ^p my glorying void. ¹⁶ For if I preach the gospel, I have nothing to glory of; for ^q necessity is laid upon me; for woe is unto me, if I preach not the gospel. ¹⁷ For if I do this of mine own will, I have a reward: but if not of mine own will, I have ^r a stewardship intrusted to me. ¹⁸ What then is my reward? That, when I preach the gospel, ^s I may make the gospel without charge, so as not to ^t use to the full my right in the gospel. ¹⁹ For ^u though I was free from all men, ^v I brought myself under bondage to all, that I might ^w gain the more. ²⁰ And ^x to the Jews I became as a Jew, that I might gain Jews; to them that are under the law, as under the law, not being myself under the law, that I might gain them that are under the law; ²¹ to ^y them that are without law, ^z as without law, not being without law to God, but ^a under law to Christ, that I might gain them that are without law. ²² ^b To the weak I became weak, that I might gain the weak: ^c I am become all things to all men, that ^d I may by all means save some. ²³ And I do all things for the gospel's sake, ^e that I may be a joint partaker thereof. ²⁴ Know ye not that they which run in a ^f race run all, but one receiveth ^g the prize? Even so ^h run, that ye may attain. ²⁵ And every man that ⁱ striveth in the games is temperate in all things. Now they do it to receive a corruptible crown; but we ^j an incorruptible. ²⁶ I therefore so run, as not uncertainly; so ²⁷ I fight I, as not ^k beating the air: ²⁷ but I ³¹ buffet my body, and ^m bring it into bondage: lest by any means, after that I have preached to others, ⁿ I myself should be ^o rejected.

¹ For I would not, brethren, IO have you ignorant, how that our fathers were all under ^p the cloud, and all ^q passed through the sea; ² and were all baptized ⁴ unto Moses in the cloud and in the sea; ³ and ^r did all eat the same ^s spiritual meat; ⁴ and ^t did all drink the same spiritual drink: for they drank of a spiritual rock that followed them: and the rock was Christ. ⁵ Howbeit with most of them God was not well pleased: for ^u they were overthrown in the wilderness. ⁶ Now ^v these things were our examples, to the intent we should not lust after evil things, as ^w they also lusted. ⁷ Neither be ye idolaters, ^x as were some of them; as it is written, ^y The people sat down to eat and drink, and rose up to play. ⁸ Neither let us commit fornication, ^a as some of them committed, and ^b fell in one day three and twenty thousand. ⁹ Neither let us tempt the ^c Lord, ^a as some of them tempted, and ^d perished by the serpents. ¹⁰ Neither murmur ye, ^e as some of them murmured, and ^f perished by ^g the destroyer. ¹¹ Now these things happened unto them ^h by way of example; and ⁱ they were written for our admonition, ⁱ upon whom the ends of the ages are come. ¹² Wherefore ^j let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall. ¹³ There hath no temptation taken you but such as man can bear: but ^k God is faithful, ^l who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able; but will with the temptation make also the way of escape, that ye may be able to endure it.

¹⁴ Wherefore, my beloved, ^m flee from idolatry. ¹⁵ I speak ⁿ as to wise men; judge ye what I say. ¹⁶ The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not a ^o communion of the blood of Christ? ^p The ^q bread which we break, is it not a ^o communion of the body of Christ? ¹⁷ seeing that we, who are many, are one ² bread, ³ one body: for we all partake ³ of the one ² bread. ¹⁸ Behold Israel ⁷ after the flesh: ⁸ have not they which eat the sacrifices communion with the altar? ¹⁹ What say I then? that a thing sacrificed to idols is anything, or that ¹ an idol is anything? ²⁰ But I say, that the things which the Gentiles sacrifice, ^u they sacrifice to ^{4 v} devils, and not to God: and I would not that ye should have communion with ⁴ devils. ²¹ ^w Ye cannot drink the cup of the Lord, and ^x the cup of ⁴ devils: ye cannot partake of the table of the Lord, and of ^v the table of ⁴ devils. ²² Or ^z do we provoke the Lord to jealousy? ^a are we stronger than he?

²³ ^b All things are lawful; but all things are not expedient. All things are lawful; but all things ⁵ edify not. ²⁴ ^c Let no man seek his own, but each his neighbour's good. ²⁵ ^d Whatsoever is sold in the shambles, eat, asking no question for conscience sake; ²⁶ for ^e the earth is the Lord's, and the fulness thereof. ²⁷ If one of them that believe not biddeth you to a feast, and ye are disposed to go; ^f whatsoever is set before you, eat, asking no question for conscience sake. ²⁸ But if any man say unto you, This hath been offered in sacrifice, eat not, for his sake that shewed it, and for conscience sake: ²⁹ conscience, I say, ^g not thine own, but the other's; for ^h why is my liberty judged by another conscience? ³⁰ ⁶ If I by grace partake, why am I evil spoken of for that ⁱ for which I give thanks? ³¹ Whether therefore ye eat, or drink, or ^j whatsoever ye do, do all to the glory of God. ³² ^k Give no occasion of stumbling, either to Jews, or to Greeks, or to ^l the church of God: ³³ even as ^m I also please all men in all things, ⁿ not seeking mine own profit, but the profit of the many, that they may be saved. ¹ ^o Be ye imitators of me, even as I also am of Christ.

II ² Now I praise you ^p that ye remember me in all things, and ^q hold fast the traditions, ^r even as I delivered them to you. ³ But I would have you know, that ^s the head of every man is Christ; and ^t the head of the woman is the man; and ^u the head of Christ is God. ⁴ Every man praying or ^v prophesying, having his head covered, dishonoureth his head. ⁵ But every woman praying or ^w prophesying ^x with her head unveiled dishonoureth her head: for it is one and the same thing ^y as if she were shaven. ⁶ For if a woman is not veiled, let her also be shorn: but if it is a shame to a woman to be shorn or shaven, let her be veiled. ⁷ For a man indeed ought not to have his head veiled, forasmuch as ^z he is the image and glory of God: but ^a the woman is the glory of the man. ⁸ For ^b the man is not of the woman; but the woman of the man: ⁹ for neither was the man created for the woman; but ^c the woman for the man: ¹⁰ for this cause ought the woman to ⁷ have a sign of authority on her head, ^d because of the angels. ¹¹ Howbeit ^e neither is the woman without the man, nor the man without the woman, in the Lord. ¹² For as the woman is of the man, so is the man also by the woman; but ^f all things are of God. ¹³ Judge ye ⁸ in yourselves: is it seemly that a woman pray unto God unveiled? ¹⁴ Doth not even nature itself teach you, that, if a man have long hair, it is a dishonour to him? ¹⁵ But if a woman have long hair, it is a glory to her: for her hair is given her for a covering. ¹⁶ But ⁹ if any man seemeth to be contentious, we have no such custom, neither ^h the churches of God.

¹⁷ But in giving you this charge, I praise you not, that ye come together not for the better but for the worse. ¹⁸ For first of all, when ye come together ⁹ in the church, ⁱ I hear that ¹⁰ divisions exist among you; and I partly believe it. ¹⁹ For ^j there must be also ¹¹ heresies among you, ^k that they which are approved may be made manifest among you. ²⁰ When therefore ye assemble yourselves together, it is not possible to eat the Lord's supper: ²¹ for in your eating each one taketh before other his own supper; and one is hungry, and ^l another is drunken. ²² What? have ye not houses to eat and to drink in? or despise ye ^m the 1 church of God, and ⁿ put them to shame that ² have not? What shall I say to you? ³ shall I praise you in this? I praise you not. 23 For ^o I received of the Lord that which also I delivered unto you, how that ^p the Lord Jesus in the night in which he was betrayed took bread; 24 and when he had given thanks,

he brake it, and said, This is my body, which ⁴ is for you: this do in remembrance of me. 25 In like manner also the cup, after supper, saying, This cup is the new ⁵ covenant in my blood: this do, as oft as ye drink it, in remembrance of me.
26 For as often as ye eat this bread,
and drink the cup, ye proclaim the Lord's death ⁶ till he come. 27 Wherefore ^r whosoever shall eat the bread
or drink the cup of the Lord ^s un-worthily, shall be guilty of ^t the body and the blood of the Lord.
28 But ^u let a man prove himself,
and so let him eat of the bread, and drink of the cup. 29 For he that eateth and drinketh, eateth and drinketh judgement unto himself,
if he ^v discern not the body. 30 For this cause many among you are weak and sickly, and not a few ^w sleep. 31 But ^x if we ^y discerned
ourselves, we should not be judged.
32 But ^z when we are judged, ^a we are chastened of the Lord, that we may not be ^b condemned with the world. 33 Wherefore, my brethren,
when ye come together to eat, wait
one for another. 34 ^c If any man is hungry, ^d let him eat at home; that your coming together be not unto judgement. And the rest ^e will I set in order ^f whensoever I come.

12 Now ^g concerning spiritual gifts, brethren, I would not have you ignorant. 2 Ye know that ^h when ye were Gentiles
ⁱ ye were led away unto ^j those dumb idols, howsoever ye might be led. 3 Wherefore I give you to understand, that ^k no man speaking in the Spirit of God saith, Jesus is ^l anathema; and ^m no man can say, Jesus is Lord, but in the Holy Spirit.

4 Now ⁿ there are diversities of gifts, but ^o the same Spirit. 5 And ^p there are diversities of ministra-tions, and ^q the same Lord. 6 And there are diversities of workings,

but ^r the same God, who worketh
all things in all. 7 But ^s to each one is given the manifestation of the Spirit to profit withal. 8 For to one is given through the Spirit the word of ^t wisdom; and to another the word of ^u knowledge, according to the same Spirit: 9 to another ^v faith,
in the same Spirit; and to another
^w gifts of healings, in the one Spirit;
10 and to another ^x workings of ^y miracles; and to another ^z prophecy;
and to another ^a discernings of spirits: to another ^b divers kinds of tongues; and to another ^c the interpretation of tongues: 11 but all these worketh the one and the same Spirit, ^d dividing to each one severally ^e even as he will.

12 For as ^f the body is one, and hath many members, and all the members of the body, being many,
are one body; ^g so also is Christ.
13 For ^h in one Spirit were we all baptized into one body, whether ⁱ Jews or Greeks, whether bond or free; and ^j were all made to drink of one Spirit. 14 For the body is not one member, but many. 15 If the foot shall say, Because I am not the hand, I am not of the body; it is not therefore not of the body.
16 And if the ear shall say, Because I am not the eye, I am not of the body; it is not therefore not of the body. 17 If the whole body were an eye, where were the hearing?
If the whole were hearing, where were the smelling? 18 But now ^k hath God set the members each one of them in the body, ^l even as it pleased him. 19 And if they were all one member, where were the body? 20 But now they are many members, but one body. 21 And the eye cannot say to the hand, I have no need of thee: or again the head to the feet, I have no need of
you. 22 Nay, much rather, those members of the body which seem to be more feeble are necessary:
23 and those parts of the body,
which we think to be less honourable, upon these we ^m bestow more abundant honour; and our un-comely parts have more abundant comeliness; 24 whereas our comely parts have no need: but God tempered the body together, giving more abundant honour to that part

which lacked; 25 that there should be no ^gschism in the body; but that the members should have the same care one for another. 26 And whether one member suffereth, all the members suffer with it; or one member is ¹honoured, ^hall the members rejoice with it. 27 Now ⁱye are the body of Christ, and ²severally ^jmembers thereof. 28 And ^kGod hath set some in the church, first ^lapostles, secondly ^mprophets, thirdly ⁿteachers, then ^omiracles, then ^pgifts of healings, ^qhelps, ^rgovernments, ^sdivers kinds of tongues. 29 Are all apostles? are all prophets? are all teachers? are all workers of ³miracles? 30 have all gifts of healings? do all speak with tongues? do all interpret? 31 But ^tdesire earnestly the greater gifts. And a still more excellent way shew I unto you.

13 If I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, but have not love, I am become sounding brass, or a clanging cymbal. 2 And if I have the gift of ^uprophecy, and know all mysteries and all knowledge; and if I have all faith, ^vso as to remove mountains, but have not love, I am nothing. 3 And ^wif I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and ^xif I give my body ^yto be burned, but have not love, it profiteth me nothing. 4 ^zLove suffereth long, and ^ais kind; love ^benvieth not; love vaunteth not itself, ^cis not puffed up, ^ddoth not behave itself unseemly, ^eseeketh not its own, is not provoked, ^ftaketh not account of evil; ^grejoiceth not in unrighteousness, but ^hrejoiceth with the truth; ⁱbeareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, ^jendureth all things. 8 Love never faileth: but whether there be prophecies, they shall be done away; whether there be tongues, they shall cease; whether there be knowledge, it shall be done away. 9 For ^kwe know in part, and we prophesy in part: 10 but ^lwhen that which is perfect is come, that which is in part shall be done away. 11 When I was a child, I spake as a child, I felt as a child, I thought as a child: now that I am become a man, I have put away childish things. 12 For ^mnow we see in a mirror, ⁿdarkly; but ^othen face to face: now I know in part; but then shall I ^pknow even as also ^qI have been ^rknown. 13 But now abideth faith, hope, love, these three; 10 and the ^sgreatest of these is love.

14 Follow after love; yet ^tdesire earnestly ^uspiritual gifts, but rather that ye may ^vprophesy. 2 For ^whe that speaketh in a tongue speaketh not unto men, but unto God; for no man ^xunderstandeth; but in the spirit he speaketh mysteries. 3 But he that prophesieth speaketh unto men edification, and comfort, and consolation. 4 He that speaketh in a tongue ^yedifieth himself; but he that prophesieth ^zedifieth the church. 5 Now I would have you all speak with tongues, but ^arather that ye should prophesy: and greater is he that prophesieth than he that speaketh with tongues, except he interpret, that the church may receive edifying. 6 But now, brethren, if I come unto you speaking with tongues, what shall I ^bprofit you, unless I speak to you either by way of ^crevelation, or of knowledge, or of prophesying, or of ^dteaching? 7 Even things without life, giving a voice, whether pipe or harp, if they give not a distinction in the sounds, how shall it be known what is piped or harped? 8 For ^eif the trumpet give an uncertain voice, who shall prepare himself for war? 9 So also ye, unless ye utter by the tongue speech easy to be understood, how shall it be known what is spoken? for ye will be ^fspeaking into the air. 10 There are, it may be, so many kinds of voices in the world, and ^gno kind is without signification. 11 If then I know not the meaning of the voice, I shall be to him that speaketh ^ha barbarian, and he that speaketh will be a barbarian ⁱunto me. 12 So also ye, since ye are zealous of ^jspiritual gifts, seek that ye may abound unto the edifying of the church. 13 Wherefore let him that speaketh in a tongue pray that he may interpret. 14 For if I pray in a tongue, my spirit prayeth, but my understanding is unfruitful. ¹⁵ What is it then? I will pray with the spirit, and I will pray with the understanding also: ^w I will sing with the spirit, and I will sing ^x with the understanding also. ¹⁶ Else if thou bless with the spirit, how shall he that filleth the place of ¹ the unlearned say ^y the Amen at ^z thy giving of thanks, seeing he knoweth not what thou sayest? ¹⁷ For thou verily givest thanks well, but the other is not ² edified. ¹⁸ I thank God, I speak with tongues more than you all: ¹⁹ howbeit in the church I had rather speak five words with my understanding, than ten thousand words in a tongue.

²⁰ Brethren, ^a be not children in mind: howbeit in malice ^b be ye babes, but in mind be ^c men. ²¹ ^d In the law it is written, ^e By men of strange tongues and by the lips of strangers will I speak unto this people; and not even thus will they hear me, saith the Lord. ²² Wherefore tongues are for a sign, not to them that believe, but to the unbelieving: but prophesying ^f is for a sign, not to the unbelieving, but to them that believe. ²³ If therefore the whole church be assembled together, and all speak with tongues, and there come in men unlearned or unbelieving, ^g will they not say that ye are mad? ²⁴ But if all prophesy, and there come in one unbelieving or unlearned, he is ^h reproved by all, he is judged by all; ²⁵ ⁱ the secrets of his heart are made manifest; and so ^j he will fall down on his face and worship God, ^k declaring that God is ^l among you indeed.

²⁶ What is it then, brethren? When ye come together, each one hath ^j a psalm, hath ^k a teaching, hath ^k a revelation, hath ^l a tongue, hath ^m an interpretation. ⁿ Let all things be done unto edifying. ²⁷ If any man speaketh in ^l a tongue, let it be by two, or at the most three, and that in turn; and let one interpret: ²⁸ but if there be no interpreter, let him keep silence in the church; and let him speak to himself, and to God. ²⁹ And let the prophets speak ^{by} two or three, and let the others ⁶ discern. ³⁰ But if a revelation be made to another sitting by, ^p let the first keep silence. ³¹ For ye all can prophesy one by one, that all may learn, and all may be ⁷ comforted; ³² and the spirits of the prophets are subject to the prophets; ³³ for God is not a God of ^q confusion, but of peace; as in ^r all the churches of the saints.

³⁴ ^s Let the women keep silence in the churches: for it is not permitted unto them to speak; but ^t let them be in subjection, as also saith ^u the law. ³⁵ And if they would learn anything, let them ask their own husbands at home: for it is shameful for a woman to speak in the church. ³⁶ What? was it from you that the word of God went forth? or came it unto you alone?

³⁷ ^v If any man thinketh himself to be a prophet, or spiritual, let him take knowledge of the things which I write unto you, that they are the commandment of the Lord. ³⁸ But if any man is ignorant, let him be ignorant.

¹ Now I make known unto you, brethren, the gospel ^z which I preached unto you, which also ye received, ^a wherein also ye stand, ² by which also ^b ye are ⁹ saved; I make known, I say, ¹⁰ in what words I preached it unto you, if ye ^c hold it fast, ^d except ye believed ¹¹ in vain. ³ For ^e I delivered unto you first of all that which also I received, how that Christ died ^f for our sins ⁹ according to the scriptures; ⁴ and that he was buried; and that he hath been raised ^h on the third day ⁱ according to the scriptures; ⁵ and that ^j he appeared to Cephas; then ^k to the twelve; ⁶ then he appeared ^l to above five hundred brethren at once, of whom the greater part remain until now, but some are fallen asleep; ⁷ then he appeared to ^m James; then ⁿ to all the apostles; ⁸ and last of all, as unto one born out of due time, ⁹ he appeared to me also. ⁹ For ^p I am the least of the apostles, that am not meet to be called an apostle, because ^aI persecuted the church of God. ¹⁰But by the grace of God I am what I am: and his grace which was bestowed upon me was not found ¹vain; but ^rI laboured more abundantly than they all: ^syet not I, but the grace of God which was with me. ¹¹Whether then it be I or they, so we preach, and so ye believed.

¹²Now if Christ is preached that he hath been raised from the dead, ^thow say some among you that there is no resurrection of the dead? ¹³But if there is no resurrection of the dead, ^uneither hath Christ been raised: ¹⁴and if Christ hath not been raised, then is our preaching ¹vain, ²your faith also is ¹vain. ¹⁵Yea, and we are found false witnesses of God; because we witnessed of God that ^vhe raised up ³Christ: whom he raised not up, if so be that the dead are not raised. ¹⁶For if the dead are not raised, neither hath Christ been raised: ¹⁷and if Christ hath not been raised, your faith is vain; ^wye are yet in your sins. ¹⁸Then they also which ^xare fallen asleep in Christ have perished. ¹⁹⁴If in this life only we have hoped in Christ, ^ywe are of all men most pitiable.

²⁰But now ^zhath Christ been raised from the dead, ^athe firstfruits of them that are asleep. ²¹For since ^bby man came death, ^cby man came also the resurrection of the dead. ²²For ^das in Adam all die, so also in ³Christ shall all be made alive. ²³But each in his own order: Christ the firstfruits; ^ethen they that are Christ's, ^fat his ⁵coming. ²⁴Then cometh the end, when he shall deliver up ^gthe kingdom to ⁶God, even the Father; when he shall have abolished ^hall rule and all authority and power. ²⁵For he must reign, ⁱtill he hath put all his enemies under his feet. ²⁶The last enemy that shall be ^jabolished is death. ²⁷For, ^kHe put all things in subjection under his feet. ⁷But when he saith, All things are put in subjection, it is evident that he is excepted who did subject all things unto him. ²⁸And when ^lall things have been subjected unto him, then shall the Son also himself be subjected to him that did subject all things unto him, that ^mGod may be all in all.

²⁹Else what shall they do which are baptized for the dead? If the dead are not raised at all, why then are they baptized for them? ³⁰why do ⁿwe also stand in jeopardy every hour? ³¹I protest by ⁸^othat glorying in you, brethren, which I have in Christ Jesus our Lord, ^pI die daily. ³²If after the manner of men ^qI fought with beasts at Ephesus, ⁹what doth it profit me? If the dead are not raised, ^rlet us eat and drink, ^sfor to-morrow we die. ³³^tBe not deceived: ^uEvil company doth corrupt good manners. ³⁴¹⁰^vAwake up righteously, and sin not; for ^wsome have no knowledge of God: ^xI speak this to move you to shame.

³⁵But some one will say, ^yHow are the dead raised? and with what manner of body do they come? ³⁶Thou foolish one, ^zthat which thou thyself sowest is not quickened, except it die: ³⁷and that which thou sowest, thou sowest not the body that shall be, but a bare grain, it may chance of wheat, or of some other kind; ³⁸but God giveth it a body even as it pleased him, and to each seed a body of its own. ³⁹All flesh is not the same flesh: but there is one flesh of men, and another flesh of beasts, and another flesh of birds, and another of fishes. ⁴⁰There are also celestial bodies, and bodies terrestrial: but the glory of the celestial is one, and the glory of the terrestrial is another. ⁴¹There is one glory of the sun, and another glory of the moon, and another glory of the stars; for one star differeth from another star in glory. ⁴²^aSo also is the resurrection of the dead. It is sown in corruption; it is raised in incorruption: ⁴³it is sown in dishonour; ^bit is raised in glory: it is sown in weakness; it is raised in power: ⁴⁴it is sown a ^cnatural body; it is raised a spiritual body. If there is a natural body, there is also a spiritual body. ⁴⁵So also it is written, ^dThe first man Adam

Adam became a f life-giving spirit. 46 Howbeit that is not first which is spiritual, but that which is natural; then that which is spiritual. 47 g The first man is of the earth, h earthy: i the second man is of heaven. 48 As is the earthy, such are they also that are earthy: and as is the heavenly, j such are they also that are heavenly. 49 And k as we have borne the image of the earthy, l we shall also bear the image of the heavenly.

50 Now this I say, brethren, that m flesh and blood n cannot inherit the kingdom of God; neither doth corruption inherit incorruption. 51 Behold, I tell you a mystery: o We shall not all sleep, p but we shall all be changed, 52 in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trump: for q the trumpet shall sound, and r the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed. 53 For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and s this mortal must put on immortality. 54 But when t this corruptible shall have put on incorruption, and this mortal shall have put on immortality, then shall come to pass the saying that is written, u Death is swallowed up v in victory. 55 w O death, where is thy victory? O death, where is thy sting? 56 The sting of death is sin; and x the power of sin is the law: 57 but thanks be to God, y which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ. 58 z Wherefore, my beloved brethren, be ye stedfast, unmoveable, always abounding in a the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that b your labour is not c vain in the Lord.

16 d Now concerning e the collection for the saints, as I gave order to the churches of Galatia, so also do ye. 2 Upon f the first day of the week let each one of you lay by him in store, g as he may prosper, h that no collections be made when I come. 3 And when I arrive, i whomsoever ye shall approve by letters, them will I send to carry your bounty unto Jerusalem: 4 and if it be meet for me to go also, they shall go with me. 5 But j I will come unto you, when

I shall have passed through k Macedonia; for l I do pass through Macedonia; 6 but with you it may be that I shall abide, or even winter, that ye may m set me forward on my journey whithersoever I go. 7 For I do not wish to see you now n by the way; for I hope to tarry a while with you, o if the Lord permit. 8 But I will tarry at Ephesus until p Pentecost; 9 for q a great door and effectual is opened unto me, and r there are many adversaries.

10 Now s if Timothy come, see that he be with you without fear; for t he worketh u the work of the Lord, as I also do: 11 let no man therefore despise him. But v set him forward on his journey w in peace, that he may come unto me: for I expect him with the brethren. 12 But as touching x Apollos the brother, I besought him much to come unto you with the brethren: and it was not at all y his will to come now; but he will come when he shall have opportunity.

13 z Watch ye, a stand fast in the faith, b quit you like men, c be strong. 14 d Let all that ye do be done in love.

15 Now I beseech you, brethren (ye know e the house of Stephanas, that it is f the firstfruits of Achaia, and that they have set themselves g to minister unto the saints), 16 h that ye also be in subjection unto such, and to every one that helpeth in the work and laboureth. 17 And I rejoice at the i coming of Stephanas and Fortunatus and Achaicus: for j that which was lacking on your part they supplied. 18 For they k refreshed my spirit and yours: l acknowledge ye therefore them that are such.

19 The churches of Asia salute you. m Aquila and Prisca salute you much in the Lord, with n the church that is in their house. 20 All the brethren salute you. o Salute one another with a holy kiss.

21 p The salutation of me Paul with mine own hand. 22 If any man loveth not the Lord, let him be q anathema. r Maranatha. 23 s The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ be with you. 24 My love be with you all in Christ Jesus. Amen.

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO THE CORINTHIANS.

I PAUL, ^aan apostle of Christ Jesus ^bthrough the will of God, and ^cTimothy ¹our brother, unto the church of God which is at Corinth, ^dwith all the saints which are in the whole of Achaia: 2 ^eGrace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 ^fBlessed ^{be} the ^gGod and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies and ^hGod of all comfort; 4 ⁱwho comforteth us in all our affliction, that we may be able to comfort them that are in any affliction, through the comfort wherewith we ourselves are comforted of God. 5 For ^jas the sufferings of Christ abound unto us, even so our comfort also aboundeth through Christ. 6 But ^kwhether we be afflicted, it is for your comfort and salvation; or whether we be comforted, it is for your comfort, which worketh in the patient enduring of the same sufferings which we also suffer: 7 and our hope for you is steadfast; knowing that, ^las ye are partakers of the sufferings, so also are ye of the comfort. 8 For we would not have you ignorant, brethren, concerning ^mour affliction which befell us in Asia, that we were weighed down exceedingly, beyond our power, insomuch that we despaired even of life: 9 ²yea, we ourselves have had the ⁿanswer of death within ourselves, that we ^oshould not trust in ourselves, ^pbut in God ^qwhich raiseth the dead: 10 ^rwho delivered us out of so great a death, and will deliver: ^son whom we have ^tset our hope that he will also still deliver us; 11 ^uye also helping together on our behalf by your supplication; that, ^vfor the gift bestowed upon us by means of many, thanks may be given by many persons on our behalf.

12 For our glorying is this, ^wthe testimony of our conscience, that in holiness and ^xsincerity of God, ^ynot in fleshly wisdom but in the grace of God, we behaved ourselves in the world, and more abundantly to you-ward. 13 For we write none other things unto you, than what ye read or even acknowledge, and I hope ye will acknowledge unto the end: 14 as also ye did acknowledge us ^zin part, that ^awe are your glorying, even as ^bye also are ours, ^cin the day of our Lord Jesus.

15 And in this confidence ^dI was minded to come before unto you, that ye might have ^ea second ^fbenefit; 16 and by you ^gto pass into Macedonia, and again from Macedonia to come unto you, and of you to be set forward on my journey unto Judæa. 17 When I therefore was thus minded, did I shew fickleness? or the things that I purpose, do I purpose ^haccording to the flesh, that with me there should be the yea yea and the nay nay? 18 But as ⁱGod is faithful, ^jour word toward you is not yea and nay. 19 For ^kthe Son of God, Jesus Christ, who was preached among you ^lby us, even ^mby me and ⁿSilvanus and Timothy, was not yea and nay, but ^oin him is yea. 20 For ^phow many soever be the promises of God, in him is the yea: wherefore also through him is ^qthe Amen, unto the glory of God through us. 21 Now he that stablisheth us with you ^rin Christ, and ^sanointed us, is God; 22 ^twho also ^usealed us, and ^vgave us the earnest of the Spirit in our hearts.

23 But ^wI call God for a witness upon my soul, that ^xto spare you I forbore to come unto Corinth. 24 Not that we ^yhave lordship over your faith, but are helpers of your joy: for ^zby ^afaith ye stand. 1 ^bBut I determined this ^cfor myself, ^dthat I would not come again to you with sorrow. 2 For ^eif I make you sorry, who then is he that maketh me glad,

but he that is made sorry by me?
 3 And I wrote this very thing, lest, when I came, I should have sorrow from them of whom I ought to rejoice; ^whaving confidence in you all, that my joy is the joy of you all. 4 For out of much affliction and anguish of heart ^xI wrote unto you with many tears; not that ye should be made sorry, but that ye might know the love which I have more abundantly unto you.

5 But ^yif any hath caused sorrow, ^zhe hath caused sorrow, not to me, but ^ain part (that I press not too heavily) to you all. 6 Sufficient to such a one is ^bthis punishment which was inflicted by ¹the many; 7 so that contrariwise ^cye should 2 rather forgive him and comfort him, lest by any means such a one should be swallowed up with his overmuch sorrow. 8 Wherefore I beseech you to confirm your love toward him. 9 For to this end also did I write, that I might know ^dthe proof of you, ^{3e}whether ye are obedient in all things. 10 But to whom ye forgive anything, I for-give also: for what I also have forgiven, if I have forgiven anything, for your sakes have I forgiven it in the ⁴person of Christ; 11 that no advantage may be gained over us by Satan: for ^fwe are not ignorant of his devices.

12 Now when ^gI came to Troas for the gospel of Christ, and when ^ha door was opened unto me in the Lord, 13 ⁱI had no relief for my spirit, because I found not Titus my brother: but taking my leave of them, I went forth into Macedonia. 14 But ^jthanks be unto God, which always ^kleadeth us in triumph in Christ, and maketh manifest through us ^lthe savour of his knowledge in every place. 15 For we are a sweet savour of Christ unto God, in ^mthem that are being saved, and in ⁿthem that are perishing; 16 ^oto the one a savour from death unto death; ^oto the other a savour from life unto life. And ^pwho is sufficient for these things? 17 For we are not as the many, ^q5 corrupting the word of God: but as of sincerity, but as of God, in the sight of God, speak we in Christ.

1^r Are we beginning again to commend ourselves? or need we, ^sas do some, ^tepistles of commendation to you or from you? 2^u Ye are our epistle, written in our hearts, known and read of all men; 3 being made manifest that ye are an epistle of Christ, ministered by us, written not with ink, but with the Spirit of ^vthe living God; not in ^wtables of stone, but in ^xtables that are ^yhearts of flesh. 4 And ^zsuch confidence have we through Christ to God-ward: 5 ^anot that we are sufficient of ourselves, to account anything as from ourselves; but ^bour sufficiency is from God; 6 who also made us sufficient as ^cministers of ^da new ^ecovenant; not of ^ethe letter, but of the spirit: for the letter killeth, but ^fthe spirit giveth life. 7 But if ^gthe ministration of death, ⁷written, and engraven on stones, came ⁸with glory, ^hso that the children of Israel could not look stedfastly upon the face of Moses for the glory of his face; which glory ⁹ⁱwas passing away: 8 how shall not rather the ministration of the spirit be with glory? 9¹⁰ For if ^jthe ministration of condemnation is glory, much rather doth ^kthe ministration of righteousness exceed in glory. 10 For verily that which hath been made glorious hath not been made glorious in this respect, by reason of the glory that surpasseth. 11 For if that which ¹¹passeth away was ¹²with glory, much more that which remaineth ^{is} in glory.

12 Having therefore such a hope, ^lwe use great boldness of speech, 13 and are not as Moses, ^mwho put a veil upon his face, that the children of Israel should not look stedfastly ¹³on the end of that which ⁹was passing away: 14 but ⁿtheir ¹⁴minds were ^ohardened: for until this very day ^pat the reading of ^qthe old ^ecovenant the same veil ¹⁵remaineth unlifted; which veil is done away in Christ. 15 But unto this day, whensoever Moses is read, a veil lieth upon their heart. 16 But whensoever ^{16r}it shall turn to the Lord, ^sthe veil is taken away. 17 Now the Lord is the Spirit: and where ^tthe Spirit of the Lord is, there is ^uliberty. 18 But we all, with unveiled face ^vreflecting as a mirror ^wthe glory of the Lord, ^xare transformed into the same image ^yfrom glory to glory, even as from ^zthe Lord the Spirit.

1 Therefore seeing we have 4 ^zthis ministry, even as ^awe obtained mercy, we faint not: 2 but we have renounced ^bthe hidden things of shame, not walking in craftiness, nor ^chandling the word of God deceitfully; but ^dby the manifestation of the truth ^ecommending ourselves to every man's conscience in the sight of God. 3 But and ^fif our gospel is veiled, ^git is veiled in ^hthem that are perishing: 4 in whom ⁱthe god of this ³world ^jhath blinded the ^kminds of the unbelieving, ^lthat ^mthe ⁿlight of ^othe gospel of the glory of Christ, ^pwho is the image of God, should not dawn upon them. 5 For ^mwe preach not ourselves, but Christ Jesus as Lord, and ⁿourselves as your ⁷servants ⁸for Jesus' sake. 6 Seeing it is God, that said, ^oLight shall shine out of darkness, ^pwho shined in our hearts, to give ^qthe ⁶light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ.

7 But we have this treasure in ^rearthen vessels, ^sthat the exceeding greatness of the power may be of God, and not from ourselves; 8 we are ^tpressed on every side, yet not straitened; perplexed, yet not unto despair; 9 pursued, yet ^unot forsaken; ^vsmitten down, yet not destroyed; 10 ^walways bearing about in the body the ¹⁰dying of Jesus, ^xthat the life also of Jesus may be manifested in our body. 11 For we which live are alway delivered unto death for Jesus' sake, that the life also of Jesus may be manifested in our mortal flesh. 12 So then ^ydeath worketh in us, but life in you. 13 But having ^zthe same spirit of faith, according to that which is written, ^aI believed, and therefore did I speak; we also believe, and therefore also we speak; 14 knowing that ^bhe which raised up ¹¹the Lord Jesus ^cshall raise up us also with Jesus, and shall ^dpresent us with you. 15 For ^eall things are for your sakes, that ^fthe grace, being multiplied through ¹²the many, may cause the thanksgiving to abound ^gunto the glory of God.

16 Wherefore we faint not; but ^hthough our outward man is decaying, yet ⁱour inward man ^jis renewed day by day. 17 For ^kour light affliction, which is for the moment, worketh for us more and more exceedingly an eternal weight of glory; 18 ^lwhile we look not at the things which are seen, but at the things which are not seen: for the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are not seen are eternal.

1 For we know that if ^mthe 5 earthly house of our ¹³ⁿtabernacle be dissolved, we have a building from God, ^oa house not made with hands, eternal, in the heavens. 2 For verily in this ^pwe groan, longing to be ^qclothed upon with our habitation which is from heaven; 3 if so be that being clothed we shall not be found naked. 4 For indeed we that are in this ¹³tabernacle do groan, ¹⁴being burdened; not for that ^rwe would be unclothed, but that we would be clothed upon, that what is mortal ^smay be swallowed up of life. 5 Now he that wrought us for this very thing is God, ^twho gave unto us the earnest of the Spirit. 6 Being therefore always of good courage, and knowing that, ^uwhilst we are at home in the body, we are absent from the Lord 7 (for ^vwe walk by faith, not ^wby ¹⁵sight); 8 we are of good courage, I say, and ^xare willing rather to be absent from the body, and to be at home with the Lord. 9 Wherefore also we ¹⁶make it our aim, whether at home or absent, to be ^ywell-pleasing unto him. 10 For ^zwe must all be made manifest before the judgement-seat of Christ; ^athat each one may receive the things done ¹⁷in the body, according to what he hath done, whether it be good or bad.

11 Knowing therefore ^b the fear of the Lord, we persuade men, but ^c we are made manifest unto God; and I hope that we are made manifest also in your consciences. 12 ^d We are not again commending ourselves unto you, but ^e speak as giving you occasion of glorying on our behalf, that ye may have wherewith to answer them that glory in appearance, and not in heart. 13 For whether we ^f are beside ourselves, it is unto God; or whether we are of sober mind, it is unto you. 14 For the love of Christ ^g constraineth us; because we thus judge, that ^h one died for all, therefore all died; 15 and he died for all, ⁱ that they which live should no longer live unto themselves, but ^j unto him who for their sakes died and rose again. 16 Wherefore we henceforth ^k know no man after the flesh: even though we have known Christ after the flesh, yet now we know ^l him so no more. 17 Wherefore if any man is ^m in Christ, ⁿ he is ^o a new creature: ^p the old things are passed away; behold, they are become new. 18 But all things are of God, ^q who reconciled us to himself through Christ, and gave unto us ^r the ministry of reconciliation; 19 to wit, that God was in Christ reconciling the world unto himself, ^s not reckoning unto them their trespasses, and having ^t committed unto us ^u the word of reconciliation.

20 ^v We are ambassadors therefore on behalf of Christ, ^w as though God were intreating by us: we beseech ^x you on behalf of Christ, be ye reconciled to God. 21 ^y Him who knew no sin ^z he made ^a to be sin on our behalf; that we might become ^b the righteousness of God in him.

6 ^c And ^d working together with him ^e we intreat also ^f that ye receive not the grace of God in vain 2 (for he saith,

^g At an acceptable time I hearkened unto thee,

And in a day of salvation did I succour thee:

behold, ^h now is the ⁱ acceptable time; behold, now is the day of salvation): 3 ^j giving no occasion of stumbling in anything, that our ministration be not blamed; 4 but in everything commending ourselves, ^k as ministers of God, ^l in much patience, ^m in afflictions, ⁿ in necessities, in distresses, 5 ^o in stripes, in imprisonments, ^p in tumults, in labours, in watchings, in fastings; 6 ^q in pureness, ^r in knowledge, in longsuffering, in kindness, ^s in the ^t Holy Ghost, in ^u love unfeigned, 7 in ^v the word of truth, ^w in the power of God; 8 by ^x the armour of righteousness on the right hand and on the left, 8 by glory and dishonour, ^y by evil report and good report; as deceivers, and yet true; 9 as unknown, and yet well known; ^z as dying, and behold, we live; ^a as chastened, and not killed; 10 ^b as sorrowful, yet always rejoicing; ^c as poor, yet making many rich; ^d as having nothing, and yet possessing all things.

11 Our mouth is open unto you, O Corinthians, ^e our heart is enlarged. 12 Ye are not straitened in us, but ^f ye are straitened in your own affections. 13 Now ^g for a recompense in like kind (I speak ^h as unto my children), be ye also enlarged.

14 ⁱ Be not unequally yoked with unbelievers: for ^j what fellowship have righteousness and iniquity? or ^k what communion hath light with darkness? 15 And ^l what concord hath Christ with ^m Belial? or what portion hath a believer with an unbeliever? 16 And what agreement hath a ⁿ temple of God with idols? for ^o we are a ^p temple of the living God; even as God said, ^q I will dwell in them, and ^r walk in them; and ^s I will be their God, and they shall be my people. 17 Wherefore

^t Come ye out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord,

And touch no unclean thing;

And I will receive you,

18 ^u And will be to you a Father,

And ye shall be to me sons and daughters,

saith the Lord Almighty. 1 Having

7 therefore these promises, beloved, ^v let us cleanse ourselves from all defilement of flesh and spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of God.

1 Or, were 2 Or, there is a new creation this book. 3 Or, placed in us 4 Or, Holy Spirit: and so throughout 5 Gr. through. 6 Gr. Beliar. 7 Or, sanctuary

² ¹ ² Open your hearts to us: ^o we wronged no man, we corrupted no man, we took advantage of no man.

³ I say it not to condemn you: for I have said before, that ^p ye are in our hearts to die together and live together. ⁴ Great is my boldness of speech toward you, great is ^r my glorying on your behalf: ^s I am filled with comfort, I overflow with joy in all our affliction.

⁵ For even ^t when we were come into Macedonia, our flesh had no relief, but we were afflicted on every side; ^u without were fightings, within were fears. ⁶ Nevertheless ^v he that comforteth the lowly, even God, ^w comforted us by the ² coming of Titus; ⁷ and not by his ² coming only, but also by the comfort wherewith he was comforted in you, while he told us your longing, your mourning, your zeal for me; so that I rejoiced yet more. ⁸ For ^x though I made you sorry with my epistle, I do not regret it, though ^y I did regret; ³ for I see that that epistle made you sorry, though but for a season. ⁹ Now I rejoice, not that ye were made sorry, but ^z that ye were made sorry unto repentance: for ye were made sorry after a godly sort, that ye might suffer loss by us in nothing. ¹⁰ For ^a godly sorrow worketh repentance ⁴ unto salvation, a repentance which bringeth no regret: but ^b the sorrow of the world worketh death. ¹¹ For behold, this selfsame thing, that ye were made sorry after a godly sort, what earnest care it wrought in you, yea, what clearing of yourselves, yea, what indignation, yea, what fear, yea, what longing, yea, ^c what zeal, yea, what avenging! In everything ye approved yourselves to be pure in the matter. ¹² So although I wrote unto you, I wrote not for his cause ^d that did the wrong, nor for his cause that suffered the wrong, but that your earnest care for us might be made manifest unto you in the sight of God. ¹³ Therefore ^e we have been comforted: and in our comfort we joyed the more exceedingly for the joy of Titus, because his spirit ^f hath been refreshed by you all. ¹⁴ For ^g if in anything I have gloried to him on your behalf, I was not put to shame; but as we spake all things to you ^h in truth, so our glorying also, which I made before Titus, was found to be truth.

¹⁵ And his inward affection is more abundantly toward you, whilst he remembereth ⁱ the obedience of you all, how with fear and trembling ye received him. ¹⁶ I rejoice that in everything ^j I am of good courage concerning you.

⁸ ¹ Moreover, brethren, we make known to you the grace of God which hath been ^k given in the churches of Macedonia; ² how that in much proof of affliction the abundance of their joy and ^l their deep poverty abounded unto the riches of their ⁵ liberality. ³ For ^m according to their power, I bear witness, yea and beyond their power, they gave of their own accord, ⁴ beseeching us with much intreaty ⁿ in regard of this grace and the fellowship in ^o the ministering to the saints: ⁵ and this, not as we had hoped, but first they ^p gave their own selves to the Lord, and to us by the will of God. ⁶ Inasmuch that ^q we exhorted Titus, that as he had made a beginning before, so he would also complete in you ^r this grace also. ⁷ But as ^s ye abound in everything, in faith, and utterance, and knowledge, and in all earnestness, and in ⁶ your love to us, ^t see that ye abound in this grace also. ⁸ ^u I speak not by way of commandment, but as proving through the earnestness of others the sincerity also of your love. ⁹ For ye know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that, ^v though he was rich, yet for your sakes he became poor, that ye through his poverty might become rich. ¹⁰ And herein ^w I give my judgement: for ^x this is expedient for you, who were the first to make a beginning ^y a year ago, not only to do, but also to will. ¹¹ But now complete the doing also; that as there was the readiness to will, so there may be the completion also out of your ability. ¹² For if the readiness is there, it is acceptable ^z according as a man hath, not according as he hath not. ¹³ For I say not this, that others may be eased, and ye distressed: ¹⁴ but by equality; your abundance being a supply at this present time for ^a their want, that their abundance also may become a supply for ^a your want; that there may be equality: ¹⁵ as it is written, ^b He that gathered much had nothing over; and he that gathered little had no lack.

¹⁶ But ^c thanks be to God, ^d which putteth the same earnest care for you into the heart of Titus. ¹⁷ For indeed ^e he accepted our exhortation; but being himself very earnest, he went forth unto you of his own accord. ¹⁸ And we have sent together with him ^f the brother whose praise in the gospel is spread through ^g all the churches; ¹⁹ and not only so, but who was also ^h appointed by the churches to travel with us in the matter of ⁱ this grace, which is ministered by us ^j to the glory of the Lord, and to shew our readiness: ²⁰ avoiding this, that any man should blame us in the matter of this bounty which is ministered by us: ²¹ for ^k we take thought for things honourable, ^l not only in the sight of the Lord, but also in the sight of men. ²² And we have sent with them our brother, whom we have many times proved earnest in many things, but now much more earnest, by reason of the great confidence which he hath in you. ²³ Whether any inquire about Titus, he is ^m my partner and my fellow-worker to you-ward; or our brethren, they are ⁿ the ¹ messengers of the churches, they are the glory of Christ. ²⁴ ² Shew ye therefore unto them in the face of the churches the proof of your love, and of ^o our glorying on your behalf.

⁶ But this I say, ^z He that soweth sparingly shall reap also sparingly; and he that soweth ⁷ bountifully shall reap also ⁷ bountifully. ⁷ Let each man do according as he hath purposed in his heart; ^a not ⁸ grudgingly, or of necessity: for ^b God loveth a cheerful giver. ⁸ And ^c God is able to make all grace abound unto you; that ye, having always all sufficiency in everything, may abound unto every good work: ⁹ as it is written,

^d He hath scattered abroad, he hath given to the poor;
His righteousness abideth for ever.

¹⁰ And he that supplieth ^e seed to the sower and bread for food, shall supply and multiply your seed for sowing, and ^f increase the fruits of your righteousness: ¹¹ ^g ye being enriched in everything unto all ⁹ liberality, which worketh ^h through us thanksgiving to God. ¹² For the ministration of this service not only filleth up the measure of ⁱ the wants of the saints, but aboundeth also through many thanksgivings unto God; ¹³ seeing that through the proving of you by this ministration ^j they glorify God for the obedience of your ^k confession unto the gospel of Christ, and for the ⁹ liberality of your contribution unto them and unto all; ¹⁴ while they themselves also, with supplication on your behalf, long after you by reason of the exceeding grace of God in you. ¹⁵ ^l Thanks be to God for his unspeakable gift.

IO treat you by the ⁿ meekness and ^o gentleness of Christ, I who in your presence am lowly among you, but being absent am of good courage toward you: ² yea, I beseech you, ^p that I may not when present shew courage with the confidence wherewith I count to be bold against ^q some, which count of us as if we walked according to the flesh. ³ For though we walk in the flesh, we do not war according to the flesh ⁴(for ^rthe weapons of ^sour warfare are not of the flesh, but ^tmighty ^ubefore God ^vto the casting down of strong holds); ⁵casting down ¹imaginations, and ^wevery high thing that is exalted against the knowledge of God, and bringing every thought into captivity to ^xthe obedience of Christ; ⁶and ^ybeing in readiness to avenge all disobedience, ^zwhen your obedience shall be fulfilled. ⁷^{2a}Ye look at the things that are before your face. ^bIf any man trusteth in himself that he is Christ's, let him consider this again with himself, that, even as ^che is Christ's, ^dso also are we. ⁸For though I should glory somewhat abundantly concerning ^eour authority (which the Lord gave for building you up, and not for casting you down), I shall not be put to shame: ⁹that I may not seem as if I would terrify you by my letters. ¹⁰For, His letters, they say, are weighty and strong; but ^fhis bodily presence is weak, and ^ghis speech of no account. ¹¹Let such a one reckon this, that, what we are in word by letters when we are absent, such ^{are} we also in deed when we are present. ¹²For we are not bold ^hto number or ⁱcompare ourselves with certain of them that ^jcommend themselves: but they themselves, measuring themselves by themselves, and comparing themselves with themselves, are ^jwithout understanding. ¹³But we will not glory ^kbeyond ^{our} measure, but ^laccording to the measure of the ⁴province which God apportioned to us as a measure, ^mto reach even unto you. ¹⁴For we stretch not ourselves overmuch, as though we reached not unto you: for ⁿwe ⁵came even as far as unto you in the gospel of Christ: ¹⁵not glorying beyond ^{our} measure, ^{that is}, in other men's labours; but having hope that, ^oas your faith groweth, we shall be ^pmagnified in you according to our ⁴province unto ^{further}abundance, ¹⁶so as to preach the gospel even unto the parts beyond you, ^{and} not to glory in another's ⁴province in regard of things ready to our hand. ¹⁷But ^qhe that glorieth, let him glory in the Lord. ¹⁸For ^rnot he that commendeth himself is approved, but ^swhom the Lord commendeth.

II ¹Would that ye could bear with me in a little foolishness: ⁶may indeed bear with me. ²For I am jealous over you with ^{7a}a godly jealousy: for ^tI espoused you to one husband, ^uthat I might present you ^vas a pure virgin to Christ. ³But I fear, lest by any means, ^was the serpent beguiled Eve in his craftiness, your ^sminds ^xshould be corrupted from the ^ysimplicity and the ^zpurity that is toward Christ. ⁴For if he that cometh ^apreacheth another Jesus, whom we did not preach, or ^{if} ye receive a different spirit, which ye did not receive, or ^ba different gospel, which ye did not accept, ye do well to bear with ^{him}. ⁵For I reckon that ^cI am not a whit behind ⁹the very chiefest apostles. ⁶But ^dthough ^Ibe rude in speech, ^eyet ^{am} I not in knowledge; nay, in everything ^fwe have made ^{it} manifest among all men to you-ward. ⁷Or ^gdid I commit a sin in abasing myself that ye might be exalted, because ^hI preached to you the gospel of God for nought? ⁸I robbed other churches, taking wages ^{of} them that I might minister unto you; ⁹and when I was present with you and was ⁱin want, ^jI was not a burden on any man; for the brethren, when they came from Macedonia, ^ksupplied the measure of my want; and in everything I kept myself ^lfrom being burdensome unto you, and ^{so} will I keep ^{myself}. ¹⁰^mAs the truth of Christ is in me, ⁿno man shall stop me of this glorying in the regions of Achaia. ¹¹Wherefore? ^obecause I love you not? ^pGod knoweth. ¹²But what I do, that I will do, ^qthat I may cut off ¹⁰occasion from them which desire an occasion; that wherein they glory, they may be found even as we. ¹³For such men are ^rfalse apostles, ^sdeceitful workers, ^tfashioning themselves into apostles of Christ. ¹⁴And no marvel; for even Satan fashioneth himself into ^uan angel of light. ¹⁵It is no great thing

therefore if his ministers also fashion themselves as ^vministers of righteousness; ^wwhose end shall be according to their works.

¹⁶ I say again, ^xLet no man think me foolish; but if ^{ye}do, yet as foolish receive me, that I also may glory a little. ¹⁷ That which I speak, ^yI speak not after the Lord, but as in foolishness, ^zin this confidence of glorying. ¹⁸ Seeing that ^amany glory after the flesh, I will glory also. ¹⁹ For ye bear with the foolish gladly, ^bbeing wise yourselves. ²⁰ For ye bear with a man, if he ^cbringeth you into bondage, ^dif he devoureth you, if he taketh you captive, if he exalteth himself, ^eif he smiteth you on the face. ²¹ I speak by way of disparagement, ^fas though we had been weak. Yet whereinsoever any is bold (I speak in foolishness), I am bold also. ²² Are they Hebrews? ^gso am I. Are they Israelites? so am I. Are they the seed of Abraham? so am I. ²³ Are they ^hministers of Christ? (I speak as one beside himself) ⁱI more; in labours more abundantly, ^jin prisons more abundantly, ^kin stripes above measure, ^lin deaths oft. ²⁴ Of the Jews five times received I ^mforty stripes save one. ²⁵ Thrice was I ⁿbeaten with rods, ^oonce was I stoned, thrice I ^psuffered shipwreck, a night and a day have I been in the deep; ²⁶ in journeyings often, in perils of rivers, in perils of robbers, ^qin perils from ^{my} ¹countrymen, ^rin perils from the Gentiles, ^sin perils in the city, in perils in the wilderness, in perils in the sea, in perils among false brethren; ²⁷ ^tin labour and travail, in watchings often, ^uin hunger and thirst, in fastings often, in cold and nakedness. ²⁸ ²Beside those things that are without, there is that which presseth upon me daily, anxiety for ^vall the churches. ²⁹ ^wWho is weak, and I am not weak? who is made to stumble, and I burn not? ³⁰ ^xIf I must needs glory, I will glory of the things that concern my weakness. ³¹ ^yThe God and Father of the Lord Jesus, ^zhe who is blessed ³for evermore, ^aknoweth that I lie not. ³² In Damascus the governor under ^bAretas the king ^cguarded the city of the Damascenes, in order to take me: ³³ ^dand through a window was I let down in a basket by the wall, and escaped his hands.

¹ ⁴I must needs glory, though I it is not expedient; but I will come to visions and ^erevelations of the Lord. ² I know a man ^fin Christ, fourteen years ago (whether in the body, I know not; or whether out of the body, I know not; ^gGod knoweth), such a one ^hcaught up even to ⁱthe third heaven. ³ And I know such a man (whether in the body, or apart from the body, I know not; ^gGod knoweth), ⁴how that he was caught up into ^jParadise, and heard unspeakable words, which it is not lawful for a man to utter. ⁵ On behalf of such a one will I glory: but on mine own behalf I will not glory, ^ksave in ^{my} weaknesses. ⁶ For if I should desire to glory, ⁱI shall not be foolish; for I shall speak the truth: but I forbear, lest any man should account of me above that which he seeth me ^{to be}, or heareth from me. ⁷ And by reason of the exceeding greatness of the revelations — wherefore, ^mthat I should not be exalted overmuch, there was given to me ⁿa ⁵thorn in the flesh, ^oa messenger of Satan to buffet me, that I should not be exalted overmuch. ⁸ Concerning this thing I besought the Lord ^pthrice, that it might depart from me. ⁹ And he hath said unto me, ^qMy grace is sufficient for thee: for ^r^{my} power is made perfect in weakness. Most gladly therefore will I rather glory in my weaknesses, that ^sthe strength of Christ may ⁶rest upon me. ¹⁰ Wherefore ^tI take pleasure in weaknesses, in injuries, in necessities, in persecutions, in distresses, ^ufor Christ's sake: for ^vwhen I am weak, then am I strong.

¹¹ ^wI am become foolish: ye compelled me; for I ought to have been commended of you: for ^xin nothing was I behind ⁷the very chiefest apostles, ^ythough I am nothing. ¹² Truly ^zthe signs of an apostle were wrought among you ^ain all patience, by signs and wonders and ⁸mighty works. ¹³ For what is there wherein ye were made inferior to the rest of the churches, except it be that ^b I myself was not a burden to you? forgive me this wrong.

¹⁴ Behold, ^c this is the third time I am ready to come to you; and I will not be a burden to you: for ^d I seek not yours, but you: for ^e the children ought not to lay up for the parents, but ^f the parents for the children. ¹⁵ And ^g I will most gladly spend and be ¹ spent for your souls. If ^h I love you more abundantly, am I loved the less? ¹⁶ But be it so, ⁱ I did not myself burden you; but, being crafty, I caught you with guile. ¹⁷ Did I take advantage of you ^j by any one of them whom I have sent unto you? ¹⁸ ^k I exhorted Titus, and I sent ^l the brother with him. Did Titus take any advantage of you? walked we not by the same Spirit? walked we not in the same steps?

^m In the sight of God speak we in Christ. But ⁿ all things, beloved, are for your edifying. ²⁰ For I fear, lest by any means, ^o when I come, I should find you not such as I would, and should myself be found of you such as ye would not; lest by any means there should be strife, jealousy, wraths, factions, backbitings, whisperings, swellings, ³ tumults; ²¹ lest, when I come again, my God should humble me before you, and I should mourn for many of them ^p that have sinned heretofore, and repented not of the uncleanness and ^q fornication and lasciviousness which they committed.

and I do say ⁴ beforehand, ⁵ as when I was present the second time, so now, being absent, to ^v them that have sinned heretofore, and to all the rest, that, ^w if I come again, I will not spare; ³ seeing that ye seek a proof of Christ ^x that speaketh in me; who to you-ward is not weak, but ^y is powerful in you: ⁴ for ^z he was crucified through weakness, yet he ^a liveth through the power of God. For ^b we also are weak ⁶ in him, but ^c we shall live with him through the power of God toward you. ⁵ Try your own selves, whether ye be in the faith; ^d prove your own selves. Or know ye not as to your own selves, that ^e Jesus Christ is in you? unless indeed ye be reprobate. ⁶ But I hope that ye shall know that we are not reprobate. ⁷ Now we pray to God that ye do no evil; not that we may appear approved, but that ye may do that which is honourable, ⁷ though we be as reprobate. ⁸ For we can do nothing against the truth, but for the truth. ⁹ For we rejoice, when ^f we are weak, and ye are strong: this we also pray for, even ^g your perfecting. ¹⁰ For this cause I write these things while absent, ^h that I may not when present deal ⁱ sharply, according to ^j the authority which the Lord gave me for building up, and not for casting down.

¹¹ ^k Finally, brethren, ⁸ farewell. ¹ Be perfected; be comforted; ^m be of the same mind; ⁿ live in peace: and the God of love and ^o peace shall be with you. ¹² ^p Salute one another with a holy kiss.

¹³ ^q All the saints salute you.

¹⁴ ^r The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, and ^s the love of God, and ^t the communion of the Holy Ghost, be with you all.

I PAUL,^a an apostle^b not from men, neither through¹ man, but^c through Jesus Christ, and God the Father,^d who raised him from the dead),² and all^e the brethren which are with me, unto^f the churches of Galatia: ³ Grace to you and peace^{2h} from God the Father, and our Lord Jesus Christ,⁴ⁱ who gave himself for our sins, that he might deliver us out of this present^j evil³ world, according to the will of^k our God and Father: ⁵ to whom^{be} the glory⁴ for ever and ever. Amen.

⁶ I marvel that ye are^l so quickly removing from^m him that called you in the grace of Christ untoⁿ a different gospel; ⁷ ^o which is not another^{gospel}: only^h there are some that trouble you, and would pervert the gospel of Christ. ⁸ But though we, or^q an angel from heaven, should preach⁵ unto you any gospel⁶ other than that which we preached unto you, ^r let him be anathema. ⁹ As we have said before, so say I now again, If any man preacheth unto you any gospel other than that which ye received, ^s let him be anathema. ¹⁰ For am I now persuading men, or God? or am I seeking^t to please men? if I were still pleasing men, I should not be a^{7t} servant of Christ.

¹¹ For^u I make known to you, brethren, as touching^v the gospel which was preached by me, that it is not after man. ¹² ^w For neither did I receive it from¹ man, nor was I taught it, but^{it came to me} ^x through revelation of Jesus Christ. ¹³ For ye have heard of^y my manner of life in time past^z in the Jews' religion, how that beyond measure^a I persecuted the church of God, and made havock of it: ¹⁴ and I advanced in the Jews' religion beyond many of mine own age⁸ among my countrymen, being more exceedingly^b zealous for^c the traditions of my fathers. ¹⁵ But when it was the good pleasure of God,^d who separated me, even^e from my mother's womb, and^f called me through his grace, ¹⁶ to reveal his Son in me, ^g that I might preach him among the Gentiles; immediately I conferred not with flesh and blood: ¹⁷ neither went I up to Jerusalem to them which were apostles before me: but I went away into Arabia; and again I returned unto Damascus.

¹⁸ Then^h after three yearsⁱ I went up to Jerusalem to^j visit Cephas, and tarried with him fifteen days. ¹⁹ But other of the apostles saw I none,¹⁰ save James^j the Lord's brother. ²⁰ Now touching the things which I write unto you, behold,^k before God, I lie not. ²¹ ^l Then I came into the regions of Syria and Cilicia. ²² And I was still unknown by face unto^m the churches of Judæa which were in Christ: ²³ but they only heardⁿ say, He that once persecuted us now preacheth the faith of which he once made havock; ²⁴ and they glorified God in me.

¹ Then¹¹ after the space of 2 fourteen yearsⁿ I went up again to Jerusalem with Barnabas, taking Titus also with me. ² And I went up by revelation; and I laid before them the gospel which^o I preach among the Gentiles, but privately before them^p who¹² were of repute,^q lest by any means I should be running, or^r had run, in vain. ³ But not even Titus who was with me, being a Greek,^s was compelled to be circumcised: ⁴ ¹³ ^t and that because of the false brethren privily brought in, who^u came in privily to spy out^v our liberty which we have in Christ Jesus, ^w that they might bring us into bondage: ⁵ to whom we gave place in the way of subjection, no, not for an hour; that^x the truth of the gospel might continue with you. ⁶ But from those^y who¹² were reputed to be somewhat¹⁴ whatsoever they were, it

1 Or, a man 2 Some ancient authorities read from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ. 3 Or, age 4 Gr. unto the ages of the ages. 5 Some ancient authorities omit unto you. 6 Or, contrary to that 7 Gr. bondservant. 8 Gr. in my race. 9 Or, become acquainted with. 10 Or, but only 11 Or, in the course of 12 Or, are 13 Or, but it was because of 14 Or, what they once were maketh no matter to me: ²God accepteth not man's person) — they, I say, who were of repute ^aimparted nothing to me: ⁷but contrariwise, when they saw that I had been ^bintrusted with ^cthe gospel of the uncircumcision, even as Peter with the gospel of the circumcision ⁸(for he that wrought for Peter unto the apostleship of the circumcision wrought for me also unto the Gentiles); ⁹and when they perceived ^dthe grace that was given unto me, James and Cephas and John, they ^ewho ¹were reputed to be ^epillars, ^fgave to me and Barnabas the right hands of fellowship, that we should go unto the Gentiles, and they unto the circumcision; ¹⁰only they would that we should remember the poor; ^gwhich very thing I was also zealous to do.

¹¹But ^hwhen Cephas came to Antioch, I resisted him ⁱto the face, because he stood condemned. ¹²For before that certain came from James, ^jhe did eat with the Gentiles: but when they came, he drew back and separated himself, fearing ^kthem that were of the circumcision. ¹³And the rest of the Jews dissembled likewise with him; inso-much that even Barnabas was carried away with their dissimulation. ¹⁴But when I saw that they ^lwalked not uprightly according to ^mthe truth of the gospel, I said unto Cephas ⁿbefore them all, If thou, being a Jew, ^olivest as do the Gentiles, and not as do the Jews, how compellest thou the Gentiles to live as do the Jews? ¹⁵We being Jews by nature, and not ^psinners of the Gentiles, ¹⁶yet knowing that ^qa man is not justified by ²the works of the law, ³^rsave through faith in Jesus Christ, even we believed on Christ Jesus, that we might be justified by faith in Christ, and not by the works of the law: ^sbecause by the works of the law shall no flesh be justified. ¹⁷But if, while we sought to be justified in Christ, we ourselves also were found ^tsinners, is Christ a minister of sin? God forbid. ¹⁸For if I build up again those things which I destroyed, I prove myself a transgressor. ¹⁹For I through ⁴the law ^udied unto ⁴the law, that I might ^vlive unto God.

²⁰I have been ^wcrucified with Christ; ⁵yet I live; and yet no longer I, but Christ liveth ^xin me: and that life which I now live in the flesh I live in faith, the faith which is in the Son of God, ^ywho loved me, and ^zgave himself up for me. ²¹I do not make void the grace of God: for ^aif righteousness is through ⁴the law, ^bthen Christ died for nought.

¹O foolish Galatians, who did ³^cbewitch you, ^dbefore whose eyes Jesus Christ was openly ^eset forth crucified? ²This only would I learn from you, ^fReceived ye the Spirit by ²the works of the law, or by ^gthe ⁶hearing of faith? ³Are ye so foolish? ^hhaving begun in the Spirit, ⁷are ye now perfected in the flesh? ⁴ⁱDid ye suffer so many things in vain? if it be indeed in vain. ⁵He therefore that supplieth to you the Spirit, and ^jworketh ⁸miracles ⁹among you, doeth he it ^kby ²the works of the law, or by the ⁶hearing of faith? ⁶Even as ^lAbraham believed God, and it was reckoned unto him for righteousness. ⁷¹⁰Know therefore that ^mthey which be of faith, the same are ⁿsons of Abraham. ⁸And the scripture, foreseeing that ^oGod ¹¹would justify the ¹²Gentiles by faith, preached the gospel beforehand unto Abraham, saying, ^pIn thee shall all the nations be blessed. ⁹So then they which be of faith are blessed with the faithful Abraham. ¹⁰For as many as are of ²the works of the law are ^qunder a curse: for it is written, ^rCursed is every one which continueth not in ^sall things that are written in the book of the law, to do them. ¹¹Now that ^tno man is justified ¹²by the law in the sight of God, is evident: for, ^uThe righteous shall live by faith; ¹²and the law is not of faith; but, ^vHe that doeth them shall live in them. ¹³Christ ^wredeemed us from the curse of the law, having become a curse for us: for it is written, ^xCursed is every one that hangeth ^yon a tree: ¹⁴that ^zupon the Gentiles might come the blessing of Abraham in Christ Jesus; that ^awe might receive ^bthe promise of the Spirit through faith.

manner of men: ^aThough it be but a man's ¹covenant, yet when it hath been confirmed, no one maketh it void, or addeth thereto. ¹⁶Now ^eto Abraham were ^fthe promises spoken, and to his seed. He saith not, And to seeds, as of many; but as of one, ^gAnd to thy seed, which is Christ. ¹⁷Now this I say; A ¹covenant confirmed beforehand by God, the law, which came ^hfour hundred and thirty years after, doth not disannul, so as ⁱto make the promise of none effect. ¹⁸For if the inheritance is of the law, it is no more of promise: but ^jGod hath granted it to Abraham by promise. ¹⁹What then is the law? ^kIt was added because of transgressions, ^ltill the seed should come to whom the promise hath been made; and ^mit was ⁿordained through angels ⁿby the hand of a mediator. ²⁰Now ^oa mediator is not ^{a mediator} of one; but ^pGod is one. ²¹Is the law then against the promises of God? God forbid: for ^qif there had been a law given which could make alive, verily righteousness would have been of the law. ²²Howbeit the scripture ^rhath shut up all things under sin, that ^sthe promise by faith in Jesus Christ might be given ^tto them that believe.

²³But before ²faith came, we were kept in ward under the law, ^ushut up unto the faith which should afterwards be revealed. ²⁴So that ^vthe law hath been our ^wtutor ^{to bring us unto Christ}, ^xthat we might be justified by faith. ²⁵But now that faith is come, we are no longer under a tutor. ²⁶For ^yye are all sons of God, through faith, in Christ Jesus. ²⁷For as many of you as ^zwere baptized ^ainto Christ did ^bput on Christ. ²⁸^cThere can be neither Jew nor Greek, there can be neither bond nor free, ^dthere can be no male and female: for ^eye all are one ^{man} in Christ Jesus. ²⁹And ^fif ye are Christ's, then are ye Abraham's seed, ^gheirs according to promise.

¹But I say that so long as the

4 heir is a child, he differeth nothing from a bondservant, though he is lord of all; ²but is under guardians and stewards until the term appointed of the father.

³So we also, when we were children, ^hwere held in bondage under ⁱthe ³rudiments of the world: ⁴but ^jwhen the fulness of the time came, God sent forth his Son, ^kborn ^lof a woman, born ^munder the law, ⁵that he might ⁿredeem them which were under the law, that we might receive ^othe adoption of sons. ⁶And because ye are sons, God sent forth ^pthe Spirit of his Son into our hearts, crying, Abba, Father. ⁷So that thou art no longer a bondservant, but a son; and if a son, then ^qan heir through God.

⁸Howbeit at that time, ^rnot knowing God, ye ^swere in bondage to them which by nature ^tare no gods: ⁹but now that ye have come to know God, or rather ^uto be known of God, ^vhow turn ye back again to ^wthe weak and beggarly ³rudiments, whereunto ye desire to be in bondage over again? ¹⁰^xYe observe days, and months, and seasons, and years. ¹¹I am afraid of you, ^ylest by any means I have bestowed labour upon you in vain.

¹²^zI beseech you, brethren, be as I am, for I am as ye are. ^aYe did me no wrong: ¹³but ye know that ^bbecause of an infirmity of the flesh I preached the gospel unto you ^cthe ⁴first time: ¹⁴and that which was a temptation to you in my flesh ye despised not, nor ⁵rejected; but ye received me ^das an angel of God, ^{even} ^eas Christ Jesus. ¹⁵Where then is that gratulation ⁶of yourselves? for I bear you witness, that, if possible, ye would have plucked out your eyes and given them to me. ¹⁶So then am I become your enemy, because ^fI ⁷tell you the truth? ¹⁷They zealously seek you in no good way; nay, they desire to shut you out, that ye may seek them. ¹⁸But it is good to be zealously sought in a good matter at all times, and ^gnot only when I am present with you. ¹⁹^hMy little children, ⁱof whom I am again in travail until Christ ^jbe formed in you, ²⁰yea, I could wish to be present with you now, and to change my voice; for I am perplexed about you.

²¹Tell me, ye that desire to be under the law, do ye not hear the law? ²²For it is written, that Abraham had two sons, ^kone by the handmaid, and ^lone by the freewoman. ^m23 Howbeit ^mthe son by the handmaid is born after the flesh; but ⁿthe son by the freewoman is born through promise. ^o24 Which things contain an allegory: for these women are two ^ocovenants; ^pone from mount Sinai, bearing children unto bondage, which is Hagar. ^q25¹ Now this Hagar is mount Sinai in Arabia, and answereth to the Jerusalem that now is: for she is in bondage with her children. ^r26 But ^rthe Jerusalem that is above is free, which is our mother. ^s27 For it is written,

^rRejoice, thou barren that bearest not;

Break forth and cry, thou that travailest not:

For more are the children of the desolate than of her which hath the husband.

^t28 Now ^twe, brethren, ^uas Isaac was, ^uare children of promise. ^v29 But as then he that was born after the flesh ^vpersecuted him that was born after the Spirit, ^veven so it is now. ^w30 Howbeit what saith the scripture? ^wCast out the handmaid and her son: for the son of the handmaid shall not inherit with the son of the freewoman. ^x31 Wherefore, brethren, we are not children of a handmaid, but ^xof the freewoman.

^b2 Behold, I Paul say unto you, that, ^bif ye receive circumcision, ^cChrist will profit you nothing.

^c3 Yea, I testify again to every man that receiveth circumcision, that ^dhe is a debtor to do the whole law.

^d4 Ye are ^dsevered from Christ, ^eye who would be justified by the law; ^eye are fallen away from grace.

^f5 For we through the Spirit by faith ^fwait for the hope of righteousness. ^f6 For in Christ Jesus ^gneither circumcision availeth anything, nor uncircumcision; but ^gfaith

^h5 working through love. ^h7^m Ye were running well; who did hinder you that ye should not obey ⁱthe truth? ⁱ8 This persuasion came not of ^jhim that calleth you. ^j9^p A little leaven leaveneth the whole

lump. ^k10^q I have confidence to you-ward in the Lord, that ye will be ^knone otherwise minded: but ^lhe that troubleth you shall bear his judgement, whosoever he be. ^l11 But I, brethren, if I still preach circumcision, ^mwhy am I still persecuted? then hath ^mthe stumbling-block of the cross been done away. ^m12 I would that ⁿthey which unsettle you would even ⁿcut themselves off.

ⁿ13 For ye, brethren, were called ⁿfor freedom; ^oonly ^ouse not your freedom for an occasion to the flesh, but through love ^pbe servants one to another. ^p14 For ^pthe whole law is fulfilled in one word, even in this; ^qThou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. ^q15 But if ye ^rbite and devour one another, take heed that ye be not consumed one of another.

^r16 But I say, ^rWalk by the Spirit, and ye shall not fulfil ^sthe lust of the flesh. ^s17 For ^sthe flesh lusteth against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh; for these are contrary the one to the other; ^tthat ye may not do the things that ye would. ^t18 But if ye are ^tled by the Spirit, ^uye are not under the law. ^u19 Now ^uthe works of the flesh are manifest, which are these, fornication, uncleanness, lasciviousness, ^v20 idolatry, sorcery, enmities, strife, jealousies, wraths, factions, divisions, ^w21 heresies, ^w21 envyings, drunkenness, revellings, and such like: of the which I ^x8 forewarn you, even as I did ^x8 forewarn you, that ^ythey which practise such things shall not inherit the kingdom of God. ^y22 But ^ythe fruit of the Spirit is ^zlove, joy, peace, longsuffering, ^zkindness, goodness, faithfulness, ^a23 ^ameekness, ^a23 ^atemperance: ^bagainst such there is no law. ^b24 And they that are of Christ Jesus ^chave crucified the flesh with the ^cpassions and the lusts thereof.

^e6 Brethren, ^eeven if a man be overtaken in any trespass, ^fye which are spiritual, restore such a one in ^fa spirit of meekness; looking to thyself, lest thou also be tempted. ^g2^y Bear ye one another's burdens, and ^zso fulfil ^athe law of Christ. ³For ^bif a man thinketh himself to be something, ^cwhen he is nothing, he deceiveth himself. ⁴But let each man ^dprove his own work, and then shall he have his glorying in regard of himself alone, and not of ¹his neighbour. ⁵For ^eeach man shall bear his own ²burden. ⁶But ^flet him that is taught in the word communicate unto him that teacheth in all good things. ⁷^gBe not deceived; ^hGod is not mocked: for ⁱwhatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap. ⁸For ^jhe that soweth unto his own flesh ^kshall of the flesh reap corruption; but ^lhe that soweth unto the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap eternal life. ⁹And ^mlet us not be weary in well-doing: for in due season we shall reap, ⁿif we faint not. ¹⁰So then, ^oas we have opportunity, let us ^pwork that which is good toward all men, and especially toward them that are ^qof the household of the faith.

¹¹ See with how large letters I ³ have written unto you ^r with mine own hand. ¹²^s As many as desire to make a fair show in the flesh, ^t they compel you to be circumcised; only ^u that they may not be persecuted ⁴ for the cross of Christ. ¹³ For not even they who ⁵ receive circumcision do themselves keep ⁶ the law; but they desire to have you circumcised, that they may glory in your flesh. ¹⁴ But far be it from me to glory, ^v save in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, through ⁷ which the world ^w hath been crucified unto me, and I unto the world. ¹⁵ For ^x neither is circumcision anything, nor uncircumcision, but ^y a new ⁸ creature. ¹⁶ And as many as shall walk by this rule, ^z peace ^{be} upon them, and mercy, and upon ^a the Israel of God.

^{1j} And you did he quicken, when 2 ye were ^kdead through your trespasses and sins, ²ⁱwherein aforetime ye walked according to the ^lcourse of this world, according to ^mthe prince of the power of the air, of the spirit that now worketh in ⁿthe sons of disobedience; ³among whom we also all once lived in ^othe lusts of our flesh, doing the desires of the flesh and of the mind, and ^pwere by nature ^qchildren of wrath, even as the rest: — ⁴but God, being ^rrich in mercy, ^sfor his great love wherewith he loved us, ⁵even ^twhen we were dead through our trespasses, ^uquickened us together ^vwith Christ (^wby grace have ye been saved), ⁶and raised us up with him, and ^xmade us to sit with him in the heavenly places, in Christ Jesus: ⁷that in the ages to come he might shew the exceeding ^yriches of his grace in ^zkindness toward us in Christ Jesus: ⁸for ^{aa}by grace have ye been saved ^{ab}through faith; and that ^{ac}not of yourselves: ^{ad}it is the gift of God: ^{ae}not of works, ^{af}that no man should glory. ¹⁰For ^{ag}we are his workmanship, ^{ah}created in Christ Jesus ^{ai}for good works, ^{aj}which God afore prepared ^{ak}that we should walk in them.

¹¹ Wherefore remember, that aforetime ye, the Gentiles in the flesh, who are called Uncircumcision by that which is called ^kCircumcision, in the flesh, made by hands; ¹²that ye were at that time separate from Christ, ^malienated from the commonwealth of Israel, and strangers from ⁿthe covenants of the promise, ^ohaving no hope and without God in the world. ¹³But now in Christ Jesus ye that once were ^pfar off are made nigh ^qin the blood of Christ. ¹⁴For ^rhe is our peace, ^swho made both one, and brake down the middle wall of partition, ¹⁵having abolished ^tin his flesh the enmity, even the law of commandments contained in ^uordinances; that he might create in himself of the twain one ^vnew man, ^wmaking peace; ¹⁶and might ^xreconcile them both in one body unto God through the cross, having slain the enmity thereby: ¹⁷and he came and ^ypreached peace to you that were ^zfar off, and peace to them that were ^{aa}nigh: ¹⁸for ^{ab}through him we both have ^{ac}our access in ^{ad}one Spirit unto the Father. ¹⁹So then ye are no more ^{ae}strangers and sojourners, but ye are ^{af}fellow-citizens with the saints, and ^{ag}of the household of God,

20^g being built upon the foundation of the ^hapostles and prophets, ⁱChrist Jesus himself being ^jthe chief corner stone; 21^k in whom 1 each several building, fitly framed together, groweth into ^la holy 2 temple in the Lord; 22 in whom ^mye also are builded together ⁿfor a habitation of God in the Spirit.

3 For this cause I Paul, ^othe prisoner of Christ Jesus ^pin behalf of you Gentiles, — 2 if so be that ye have heard of ^qthe ^rdispensation of ^sthat grace of God which was given me to you-ward; 3^t how that ^uby revelation was made known unto me the mystery, ^vas I wrote afore in few words, 4^w whereby, when ye read, ye can perceive my understanding in ^xthe mystery of Christ; 5 which in other generations was not made known unto the sons of men, as it hath now been revealed unto his holy apostles and prophets in the Spirit; 6 ^yto wit, that the Gentiles are ^zfellows-heirs, and ^afellow-members of the body, and ^bfellow-partakers of the promise in Christ Jesus through the gospel, 7^c whereof I was made ^da minister, according to the gift of ^ethat grace of God which was given me ^faccording to the working of his power. 8 Unto me, ^gwho am less than the least of all saints, was this grace given, ^hto preach unto the Gentiles the ⁱunsearchable ^jriches of Christ; 9 and ^kto ^lmake all men see what is the ^mdispensation of the mystery ⁿwhich from all ages hath been hid in God ^owho created all things; 10 to the intent that now unto ^pthe principalities and the powers ^qin the heavenly places ^rmight be made known through the church the manifold ^swisdom of God, 11^t according to the ^ueternal purpose which he purposed in Christ Jesus our Lord: 12 in whom we have ^vboldness and ^waccess in ^xconfidence through ^your ^zfaith in him. 13 Wherefore I ask that ^aye faint not at my tribulations ^bfor you, ^cwhich ^dare your glory.

14 For this cause I bow my knees unto the Father, 15 from whom ^wevery ^xfamily in heaven and on earth is named, 16 that he would grant you, according to ^athe riches of his glory, ^bthat ye may be strengthened with power through his Spirit in ^cthe inward man; 17^d that Christ may dwell in your hearts through faith; to the end that ye, being ^erooted and ^fgrounded in love, 18 may be strong to ^gapprehend with all the saints what is the breadth and length and ^hheight and depth, 19 and to know the love of Christ ⁱwhich passeth knowledge, that ^jye may be filled unto all ^kthe fulness of God.

20^l Now unto ^mhim that is able to do exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think, ⁿaccording to the power that worketh in us, 21^o unto him ^pbe the glory in the church and in Christ Jesus unto ^qall generations for ever and ever. Amen.

1 I therefore, ^mthe prisoner in the Lord, beseech you to ⁿwalk worthily of ^othe calling wherewith ye were called, 2 with all ^plowliness and ^qmeekness, with ^rlongsuffering, ^sforbearing one another in love; 3 giving diligence to keep the unity of the Spirit in ^tthe bond of peace. 4 There is ^uone body, and ^vone Spirit, even as also ye were called in one ^whope of your calling; 5^x one Lord, ^yone faith, ^zone baptism, 6^a one God and Father of all, ^bwho is over all, and through all, and in all. 7 But ^cunto each one of us was ^dthe grace given ^eaccording to the measure of the gift of Christ. 8 Wherefore he saith, ^fWhen he ascended on high, ^ghe led captivity captive, And gave gifts unto men.

9 (^hNow this, He ascended, what is it but that he also descended ⁱinto the lower parts of the earth? 10 He that descended is the same also that ^jascended ^kfar above all the heavens, that he might ^lfill all things.) 11 And ^mhe gave some ⁿto be ^oapostles; and some, prophets; and some, ^pevangelists; and some, ^qpastors and teachers; 12^r for the perfecting of the saints, unto the work of ministering, unto ^sthe building up of ^tthe body of Christ: 13 till we all attain unto ^uthe unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto "a fullgrown man, unto the measure of the stature of "the fulness of Christ: 14 that we may be no longer children, "tossed to and fro and carried about with every wind of doctrine, by the sleight of men, in craftiness, after "the wiles of error; 15 but 1 "speaking truth in love, may "grow up in all things into him, which is "the head, even Christ; 16 "from whom all the body fitly framed and knit together 2 through that which every joint supplieth, "according to the working in due measure of each several part, maketh the increase of the body unto the building up of itself in love.

17 This I say therefore, and "testify in the Lord, "that ye no longer walk as the Gentiles also walk, "in the vanity of their mind, 18 "being darkened in their understanding, "alienated from the life of God because of the ignorance that is in them, because of "the hardening of their heart; 19 who "being past feeling "gave themselves up to lasciviousness, 3 to work all uncleanness with 4 greediness. 20 But ye did not so "learn Christ; 21 if so be that "ye heard him, and "were taught in him, even as truth is in Jesus: 22 that ye "put away, as concerning your former manner of life, "the old man, which waxeth corrupt after "the lusts of deceit; 23 and that ye "be renewed in the spirit of your mind, 24 and put on "the new man, 5 which after God hath been "created in righteousness and holiness of truth.

25 Wherefore, putting away falsehood, "speak ye truth each one with his neighbour: for "we are members one of another. 26 "Be ye angry, and sin not: let not the sun go down upon your 6 wrath: 27 "neither give place to the devil. 28 Let him that stole steal no more: but rather "let him labour, "working with his hands the thing that is good, "that he may have whereof to give to him that hath need. 29 "Let no corrupt speech proceed out of your mouth, but such as is good for "edifying as the need may be, that it may give "grace to them that hear. 30 And "grieve not the Holy Spirit of God, "in whom ye were sealed unto the day of "redemption. 31 "Let all bitterness, and wrath, and anger, and clamour, and railing, be put away from you, with all "malice: 32 and "be ye kind one to another, tenderhearted, "forgiving each other, even as God also in Christ forgave 8 you.

1 "Be ye therefore imitators of God, as beloved children; 2 and "walk in love, "even as Christ also loved you, and "gave himself up for 9 us, "an offering and a sacrifice to God for "an odour of a sweet smell. 3 But "fornication, and all uncleanness, or covetousness, "let it not even be named among you, as becometh saints; 4 "nor filthiness, nor foolish talking, or jesting, "which are not befitting: but rather "giving of thanks. 5 For this ye know of a surety, that "no fornicator, nor unclean person, nor covetous man, "which is an idolater, hath any inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and God. 6 "Let no man "deceive you with empty words: for because of these things cometh "the wrath of God upon "the sons of disobedience. 7 Be not ye therefore "partakers with them; 8 for "ye were once "darkness, but are now light in the Lord: "walk as children of light 9 (for "the fruit of the light is in all goodness and righteousness and truth), 10 "proving what is well-pleasing unto the Lord; 11 and "have no fellowship with the "unfruitful "works of darkness, but rather even 10 "reprove them; 12 for the things which are done by them in secret "it is a shame even to speak of. 13 But "all things when they are 11 reprov'd are made manifest by the light: for everything that is made manifest is light. 14 Wherefore "he saith, "A wake, thou that sleepest, and "arise from the dead, and "Christ shall shine upon thee.

15 "Look therefore carefully how ye walk, not as unwise, but as wise; 16 12 "redeeming the time, because "the days are evil. 17 Wherefore be ye not foolish, but understand what

^s the will of the Lord is. ¹⁸ And ^t be not drunken with wine, wherein is ^u riot, but ^v be filled ¹ with the Spirit;
¹⁹ speaking ² one to another in ^w psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing and making melody
 with your heart to the Lord;
²⁰ ^x giving thanks always for all things ^y in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ to ³ God, even the Father; ²¹ ^z subjecting yourselves
 one to another in the fear of Christ.

²² ^a Wives, ^b be in subjection unto your own husbands, ^c as unto the Lord. ²³ For ^d the husband is the head of the wife, as ^e Christ also is the head of the church, ^f being ^g himself
 the saviour of the body. ²⁴ But as the church is subject to Christ, ⁴ so let the wives also ^{be} to their husbands ⁹ in everything. ²⁵ ^h Husbands, love your wives, even as Christ also loved the church, and ⁱ gave himself up for it; ²⁶ that he might sanctify it, having cleansed
 it by ^j the ⁵ washing of water ^k with the word, ²⁷ ^l that he might present
 the church to himself a glorious church, ^m not having spot or wrinkle
 or any such thing; but that it should be holy and without blemish.
²⁸ Even so ought ⁿ husbands also to love their own wives as their own bodies. He that loveth his own wife loveth himself: ²⁹ for no man ever hated his own flesh; but nourisheth and cherisheth it, even as Christ also the church; ³⁰ because ^o we are members of his body.
³¹ ^p For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife; and ^q the twain shall become one flesh. ³² This mystery is great: but I speak in regard of Christ and of the church.
³³ Nevertheless do ye also severally ^r love each one his own wife even as himself; and let the wife see that she ^s fear her husband.

6 ¹ ^t Children, obey your parents
 in the Lord: for this is right.

² ^u Honour thy father and mother (which is the first commandment with promise), ³ that it may be well with thee, and thou ⁶ mayest live long on the ⁷ earth. ⁴ And,
 ye fathers, provoke not your children to wrath: ^v but nurture them

in the chastening and admonition
 of the Lord.

⁵ ⁸ ^w Servants, be obedient unto them that according to the flesh are your ⁹ masters, with fear and trembling, ^x in singleness of your heart, ^y as unto Christ; ⁶ not in the way of eyeservice, as ^z men-pleasers;
 but as ⁸ servants of Christ, doing
 the will of God from the ¹⁰ heart;
⁷ with good will doing service, as unto the Lord, and not unto men:
⁸ ^a knowing that whatsoever good thing each one doeth, the same shall
 he receive again from the Lord, ^b whether he be bond or free. ⁹ And,
 ye ⁹ masters, do the same things unto them, ^c and forbear threatening:
 knowing that ^d both their Master
 and yours is in heaven, and ^e there is no respect of persons with him.

¹⁰ ¹¹ Finally, ¹² ^f be strong in the Lord, and in ⁹ the strength of his might. ¹¹ ^h Put on ⁱ the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to stand against ^j the wiles of the devil. ¹² For ^k our wrestling is not against flesh and blood, but against ^l the principalities, against the powers, against ^m the world-rulers of ⁿ this darkness, against ^o the spiritual hosts of wickedness ^p in the heavenly places. ¹³ Wherefore ^q take up the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to withstand in ^r the evil day, and, having done all, to stand. ¹⁴ Stand therefore, ^s having girded your loins with truth, and ^t having put on the breastplate of righteousness, ¹⁵ and ^u having shod your feet with the preparation of the gospel of peace; ¹⁶ withal taking up ^v the shield of faith, wherewith ye shall be able to quench all ^w the fiery darts of ^x the evil one.
¹⁷ And take ^y the helmet of salvation, and ^z the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God: ¹⁸ ^a with all prayer and supplication praying
^b at all seasons ^c in the Spirit, and ^d watching thereunto in all perseverance and ^e supplication for all the saints, ¹⁹ and ^f on my behalf,
 that utterance may be given unto me ¹³ in opening my mouth, to make known ^g with boldness ⁹ the mystery of the gospel, ²⁰ for which I ^h am

I PAUL and Timothy, ²servants of Christ Jesus, to all the ^asaints in Christ Jesus which are at Philippi, with the ^bbishops and ^cdeacons: 2 ^dGrace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 ^eI thank my God ^fupon all my remembrance of you, 4 always in every supplication of mine on behalf of you all making my supplication with joy, 5 ^gfor your fellowship in furtherance of the gospel from the first day until now; 6 being confident of this very thing, that he which began ^ha good work in you ⁱwill perfect it until ^jthe day of Jesus Christ: 7 even as it is right for me to be thus minded on behalf of you all, because 4 I have you ^kin my heart, inasmuch as, both ^lin my bonds and in ^mthe defence and confirmation of the gospel, ye all are ⁿpartakers with me of grace. 8 For ^oGod is my witness, ^phow I long after you all in the tender mercies of Christ Jesus. 9 And this I pray, that ^qyour love may abound yet more and more ^rin knowledge and all discernment; 10 so that ye may ^sapprove the things that are excellent; ^tthat ye may be sincere and void of offence unto ^uthe day of Christ; 11 being filled with ^vthe ^wfruits of righteousness, which are ^xthrough Jesus Christ, ^yunto the glory and praise of God.

12 Now I would have you know, brethren, that the things which happened unto me have fallen out rather unto ^ythe progress of the gospel; 13 so that ^zmy bonds became manifest in Christ ⁷throughout the whole prætorian guard, and ^ato all the rest; 14 and that most of the brethren in the Lord, ⁸being confident through my bonds, are more abundantly bold ^bto speak the word of God without fear. 15 ^cSome indeed preach Christ even of envy and strife; and some also of good will: 16 the one do it of love, ^dknowing that I am set for ^ethe defence of the gospel: 17 but the other proclaim Christ ^fof faction, not sincerely, thinking to raise up affliction for me in my bonds. 18 What then? only that in every way, whether in pretence or in truth, Christ is proclaimed; and therein I rejoice, yea, and will rejoice. 19 For I know that this shall turn to my salvation, ^gthrough your supplication and ^hthe supply of ⁱthe Spirit of Jesus Christ, 20 according to my earnest expectation and hope, ^jthat in nothing shall I be put to shame, but that with all ^kboldness, as always, ^{so} now also Christ ^lshall be magnified in my body, ^mwhether by life, or by death. 21 For to me ⁿto live is Christ, and to die is gain. 22 ^oBut if to live in the flesh, — if this is the fruit of my work, then ¹⁰what I shall choose ¹¹I wot not. 23 ^oBut I am in a strait betwixt the two, having the desire ^pto depart and ^qbe with Christ; for it is very far better: 24 yet to abide in the flesh is more needful for your sake. 25 And ^rhaving this confidence, ^sI know that I shall abide, yea, and abide with you all, for your ¹progress and ^ujoy ¹in the faith; ²⁶that ^vyour glorying may abound in Christ Jesus in me through my presence with you again. ²⁷Only ^{2w}let your manner of life be ^xworthy of the gospel of Christ: that, whether I come and see you or be absent, I may hear of your state, ^ythat ye stand fast in one spirit, with ^zone soul ^astriving ³for the faith of the gospel; ²⁸and in nothing affrighted by the adversaries: which is for them ^ban evident token of perdition, but ^cof your salvation, and that from God; ²⁹because to you ^dit hath been granted in the behalf of Christ, not only to believe on him, but also ^eto suffer in his behalf: ³⁰having the same ^econflict which ^fye saw in me, and now hear to be in me.

2 If there is therefore any comfort in Christ, if any consolation of ^glove, if any ^hfellowship of the Spirit, if any ⁱtender mercies and compassions, ^{2j}fulfil ye my joy, that ye be ^kof the same mind, having the same love, being of one accord, ⁴of one mind; ³doing nothing through ^lfaction or through ^mvainglory, but ⁿin lowliness of mind each counting other better than himself; ^{4o}not looking each of you to his own things, but each of you also to the things of others. ^{5p}Have this mind in you, which was also in Christ Jesus: ^{6q}who, ⁵being in ^rthe form of God, counted it not ^{6s}a prize to be on an equality with God, ⁷but ^temptied himself, taking the form of a ^{7u}servant, ^{8v}being made in the likeness of men; ⁸and being found in fashion as a man, he humbled himself, ^wbecoming obedient even unto death, ^xyea, the death of the cross. ^{9y}Wherefore also ^zGod ^ahighly exalted him, and gave unto him ^bthe name which is above every name; ¹⁰that in the name of Jesus ^cevery knee should bow, ^dof things in heaven and things on earth and ⁹*things* under the earth, ¹¹and that ^eevery tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is ^fLord, to the glory of God the Father.

¹²So then, my beloved, ^geven as ye have always ^hobeyed, not ¹⁰as in my presence only, but now much more in my absence, work out your own salvation with fear and trembling; ¹³for ⁱit is God which worketh in you both to will and to work, for ^jhis good pleasure. ¹⁴Do all things ^kwithout murmurings and ^ldisputings; ¹⁵that ye may be blameless and harmless, ^mchildren of God ⁿwithout blemish ^oin the midst of ^pa crooked and perverse generation, among whom ye are seen ^qas ¹¹lights in the world, ¹⁶holding forth ^rthe word of life; that ^sI may have whereof to glory in ^tthe day of Christ, that ^uI did not run in vain neither labour in vain. ¹⁷Yea, and if I am ^{12v}offered upon the sacrifice and ^wservice of your faith, I joy, and rejoice with you all: ¹⁸and in the same manner do ye also joy, and rejoice with me.

¹⁹But I hope in the Lord Jesus ^xto send Timothy shortly unto you, that I also may be of good comfort, when I know your state. ²⁰For I have no man ^ylikeminded, who will care ¹³truly for your state. ²¹For they all ^zseek their own, not the things of Jesus Christ. ²²But ye know ^athe proof of him, that, ^bas a child serveth a father, ^{so} ^che served with me in furtherance of the gospel. ²³Him therefore I hope to send forthwith, so soon as I shall see how it will go with me: ²⁴but ^dI trust in the Lord that I myself also shall come shortly. ²⁵But I counted it necessary to send to you ^eEpaphroditus, my brother and fellow-worker and ^ffellow-soldier, and your ^{14g}messenger and ^hminister to my need; ²⁶since he longed ¹⁵after you all, and was sore troubled, because ye had heard that he was sick: ²⁷for indeed he was sick nigh unto death: but God had mercy on him; and not on him only, but on me also, that I might not have sorrow upon sorrow. ²⁸I have sent him therefore the more diligently, that, when ye see him again, ye may rejoice, and that I may be the less sorrowful. ²⁹ⁱReceive him therefore in the Lord with all joy ; and ^jhold such in honour : ³⁰ because ^kfor the work of ¹Christ he came nigh unto death, hazarding his life ^lto supply that which was lacking in your service toward me.

¹ Finally, my brethren, ^{2m}re-
3 joice in the Lord. ⁿTo write the same things to you, to me indeed is not irksome, but for you it is safe. ² Beware of ^othe dogs, beware of ^pthe evil workers, beware of the concision : ³ for ^qwe are the circumcision, ^rwho worship ^sby the Spirit of God, and ^tglory in Christ Jesus, and have no confidence in the flesh : ^{4u} though I myself might have confidence even in the flesh : if any other man ³thinketh to have confidence in the flesh, I yet more : ^{5v} circumcised the eighth day, ^wof the stock of Israel, ^xof the tribe of Benjamin, ^ya Hebrew of Hebrews ; as touching the law, ^za Pharisee ; ^{6z} as touching zeal, ^apersecuting the church ; ^bas touching the righteousness which is in the law, found blameless. ⁷ Howbeit ^cwhat things were ⁴gain to me, ^dthese have I counted loss for Christ. ⁸ Yea verily, and I count all things to be loss for ^ethe excellency of ^fthe knowledge of Christ Jesus my Lord : for whom I ^gsuffered the loss of all things, and do count them but ⁵dung, that I may gain Christ, ⁹and be found in him, ⁶not having ^ha righteousness of mine own, even that which is of the law, but ⁱthat which is through faith in Christ, the righteousness which is of God ⁷by faith : ^{10j} that I may know him, and ^kthe power of his resurrection, and ^lthe fellowship of his sufferings, becoming conformed unto his death ; ¹¹ if by any means I may ^mattain unto the resurrection from the dead. ¹² Not that I have already ⁿobtained, or ^oam already made perfect : but I press on, if so be that I may ⁸apprehend that for which also I was apprehended by Christ Jesus. ¹³ Brethren, I count not myself ⁹yet to have apprehended : but one thing I do, ^pforgetting the things which are behind, and stretching forward to the things which are before, ¹⁴ I press on toward the goal unto ^athe prize of the ¹⁰ high ^rcalling of God in Christ Jesus. ¹⁵ Let us therefore, as many as be ^sperfect, be thus minded : and if in anything ^tye are otherwise minded, ^ueven this shall God reveal unto you : ¹⁶ only, whereunto we have already attained, ^vby that same rule let us walk.

¹⁷ Brethren, ^wbe ye imitators together of me, and mark them which so walk ^xeven as ye have us for an ensample. ¹⁸ For ^ymany walk, of whom I told you often, and now tell you ^zeven weeping, that they are the enemies of the cross of Christ : ^{19a} whose end is perdition, ^bwhose god is the belly, and ^cwhose glory is in their shame, who ^dmind earthly things. ²⁰ For ^eour ¹¹ citizenship is in heaven ; ^ffrom whence also we ^gwait for a Saviour, the Lord Jesus Christ : ²¹ who shall fashion anew ^hthe body of our humiliation, that it may be ⁱconformed to the body of his glory, ^jaccording to the working whereby he is able even ^kto subject all things unto himself.

4 loved and ^llonged for, ^mmy joy and ⁿcrown, so ^ostand fast in the Lord, my beloved.

² I exhort Euodia, and I exhort Syntyche, to be ^pof the same mind in the Lord. ³ Yea, I beseech thee also, true yokefellow, help these women, for they laboured with me in the gospel, with Clement also, and the rest of my fellow-workers, ^qwhose names are in the book of life.

^{412r} Rejoice in the Lord alway : again I will say, ¹² Rejoice. ⁵ Let your ^{13s} forbearance be known unto all men. ^t The Lord is at hand. ^{6u} In nothing be anxious ; ^v but in everything by prayer and supplication ^wwith thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God. ⁷ And ^xthe peace of God, ^ywhich passeth all understanding, shall guard your hearts and your thoughts in Christ Jesus.

⁸ Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are ¹⁴honourable, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are ¹ of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, ² think on these things. ⁹ The things which ye both learned and ² received and heard and saw ^a in me, these things do: and ^b the God of peace shall be with you.

¹⁰ But I ³ rejoice in the Lord greatly, that now at length ^c ye have revived your thought for me; ⁴ wherein ye did indeed take thought, but ye lacked opportunity. ¹¹ Not that I speak in respect of want: for I have learned, in whatsoever state I am, therein to be ^d content. ¹² I know how to be abased, and I know also how to abound: in everything and in all things have I learned the secret both to be filled and ^e to be hungry, both to abound and ^f to be in want. ¹³ I can do all things ^g in him that strengtheneth me. ¹⁴ Howbeit ye did well, that ^h ye had fellowship with my affliction. ¹⁵ And ye yourselves also know, ye Philippians, that ⁱ in the beginning of the gospel, when I departed from Macedonia, ^j no church had fellowship with me in the matter of giving and receiving, but ye only; ¹⁶ for even in Thessalonica ye sent once and again unto my need. ¹⁷ ^k Not that I seek for the gift; but I seek for ^l the fruit that increaseth to your account. ¹⁸ But I have all things, and abound: I am filled, ^m having received from Epaphroditus the things that came from you, ⁿ an odour of a sweet smell, ^o a sacrifice acceptable, well-pleasing to God. ¹⁹ And my God ^p shall fulfil every need of yours ^q according to his riches in glory in Christ Jesus. ²⁰ Now unto ^r our God and Father be ^s the glory ^t for ever and ever. Amen.

²¹ Salute every saint in Christ Jesus. ^u The brethren which are with me salute you. ²² ^v All the saints salute you, especially they that are of Cæsar's household.

²³ ^w The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO THE COLOSSIANS.

¹ PAUL, ^a an apostle of Christ I Jesus ^b through the will of God, and Timothy ^c our brother, ² ^d to the ^e saints and faithful brethren in Christ which are at Colossæ: ^e Grace to you and peace from God our Father. ³ We give thanks to God the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, praying always for you, ⁴ having heard of ^f your faith in Christ Jesus, and of ^g the love which ye have toward all the saints, ⁵ because of ^h the hope ⁱ which is laid up for you in the heavens, whereof ye heard before in ^j the word of the truth of the gospel, ⁶ which is come unto you; even as it is also ^k in all the world ^l bearing fruit and increasing, as it doth in you also, since the day ye ^m heard and knew ⁿ the grace of God in truth; ⁷ even as ye learned of ^o Epaphras our beloved ^p fellow-servant, who is ^q a faithful minister of Christ on ^r our behalf, ^s who also declared unto us your ^t love in the Spirit.

⁹ For this cause we also, ^u since the day we heard it, ^v do not cease to pray and make request for you, that ^w ye may be filled with ^x the knowledge of his will in all ^y spiritual wisdom and understanding, ¹⁰ ^z to walk worthily of the Lord ^{aa} unto all pleasing, ^{ab} bearing fruit in every good work, and increasing ¹¹ ¹² strengthened ¹³ with all power, according to the might of his glory, unto ^{ac} all patience and longsuffering ^b with joy; ¹² ^c giving thanks unto the Father, who made ¹³ us meet to be partakers of ^d the inheritance of the saints in light; ¹³ who ^e delivered us out of ^f the power of darkness, and translated us into ^g the kingdom of ^h the Son of his love; ¹⁴ ⁱ in whom we have our redemption, the forgiveness of our sins: ¹⁵ ^jwho is the image of ^kthe invisible God, ¹the firstborn of all creation; ¹⁶for in him were all things created, ^min the heavens and upon the earth, things visible and things invisible, whether ⁿthrones or ^odominions or principalities or powers; all things have been created ^pthrough him, and unto him; ¹⁷and ^qhe is before all things, and ^rin him all things ^{1s}consist. ¹⁸And ^the is the head of the body, the church: who is ^uthe beginning, ^vthe first-born from the dead; ²that in all things he might have the preeminence. ¹⁹³For it was the good pleasure of the Father that ^win him should all the ^xfulness dwell; ²⁰and ^ythrough him to reconcile all things ⁴unto ⁵himself, ^zhaving made peace ^athrough the blood of his cross; through him, ^{I say}, whether things upon the earth, or things in the heavens. ²¹^bAnd you, being in time past alienated and enemies in your mind ^cin your evil works, yet now ⁶hath he reconciled ²²^din the body of his flesh through death, ^eto present you holy and without blemish and ^funreproveable before him: ²³^gif so be that ye continue in the faith, ^hgrounded and stedfast, and not moved away from ⁱthe hope of the gospel which ye heard, which was preached ^jin all creation under heaven; ^kwhereof I Paul was made a minister.

²⁴Now ¹I rejoice in my sufferings for your sake, and ^mfill up on my part ⁿthat which is lacking of the afflictions of Christ in my flesh ^ofor his body's sake, which is the church; ²⁵^pwhereof I was made a minister, according to ^qthe ^rdispensation of God which was given me to you-ward, ^sto fulfil the word of God, ²⁶^teven ^uthe mystery which hath been hid ⁸from all ages and generations: but now hath it been manifested to his saints, ²⁷^vto whom God was pleased to make known what is ^wthe riches of the glory of ^xthis mystery among the Gentiles, which is Christ in you, ^ythe hope of glory: ²⁸whom we proclaim, admonishing every man and teaching every man in all wisdom, that

^wwe may present every man ^xperfect in Christ; ²⁹whereunto ^yI labour also, ^zstriving ^aaccording to his working, which worketh in me ⁹mightily.

¹For I would have you know ²^bhow greatly I ^zstrive for you, and for them at Laodicea, and for as many as have not seen my face in the flesh; ²that ^ctheir hearts may be comforted, they ^dbeing knit together in love, and unto all riches of the ¹⁰full assurance of understanding, that they may know ^ethe mystery of God, ¹¹^{even} Christ, ³^fin whom are all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge hidden. ⁴This I say, ^gthat no one may delude you with persuasiveness of speech. ⁵For ^hthough I am absent in the flesh, yet am I with you in the spirit, joying and beholding your ⁱorder, and ^jthe stedfastness of your faith in Christ.

⁶^kAs therefore ye received Christ Jesus the Lord, ^{so} walk in him, ⁷^lrooted and ^mbuilt up in him, and ⁿstablished ¹²in your faith, even ^oas ye were taught, abounding ¹³^pin thanksgiving.

⁸¹⁴Take heed lest there shall be any one that maketh spoil of you through his ^qphilosophy and ^rvain deceit, after ^sthe tradition of men, after the ¹⁵^trudiments of the world, and not after Christ: ⁹for ^uin him dwelleth all the fulness of the God-head ^vbodily, ¹⁰and ^win him ye are made full, who is ^xthe head of all principality and power: ¹¹in whom ^yye were also circumcised with a circumcision not made with hands, in ^zthe putting off of the body of the flesh, in the circumcision of Christ; ¹²^ahaving been buried with him in baptism, wherein ^bye were also raised with him through faith in ^cthe working of God, ^cwho raised him from the dead. ¹³^dAnd you, being dead through your trespasses and the uncircumcision of your flesh, you, ^{I say}, ^edid he quicken together with him, having forgiven us all our trespasses; ¹⁴^fhaving blotted out ¹⁶^gthe bond written in ordinances that was against us, which was contrary to us: and he hath taken it out of the way, nail-

ing it to the cross; ¹⁵ ¹ having put off from himself the principalities and the powers, ^h he made a show of them openly, ⁱ triumphing over them in it.

¹⁶ Let no man therefore ^j judge you ^k in meat, or in drink, or in respect of ^l a feast day or ^m a new moon or a sabbath day: ¹⁷ ⁿ which are a shadow of the things to come; but ^o the body is Christ's. ¹⁸ Let no man ^p rob you of your prize ² ^q by a voluntary humility and worshipping of the angels, ³ ^r dwelling in the things which he hath ⁴ seen, vainly ^s puffed up by ^t his fleshly mind, ¹⁹ and ^u not ^v holding fast the Head, from whom all the body, being supplied and knit together through the joints and bands, increaseth with the increase of God.

¹ If then ye were raised together with Christ, seek ^f the things that are above, where Christ is, ^g seated on the right hand of God. ² ^h Set your mind on the things that are above, not on the things that are upon the earth. ³ For ⁱ ye died, and your life is hid with Christ in God. ⁴ When Christ, ^j who is ⁷ our life, ^k shall be manifested, then shall ye also with him be manifested ^l in glory.

malice, railing, ^v shameful speaking out of your mouth: ⁹ ^w lie not one to another; seeing that ^x ye have put off ^y the old man with his doings, ¹⁰ and ^z have put on ^a the new man, ^b which is being renewed unto knowledge ^c after the image of him that ^d created him: ¹¹ ^e where there cannot be Greek and Jew, circumcision and uncircumcision, barbarian, ^f Scythian, bondman, freeman: but Christ is ^g all, and in all.

¹² ^h Put on therefore, as ⁱ God's elect, holy and beloved, ^j a heart of compassion, ^k kindness, ^l humility, meekness, longsuffering; ¹³ ^m forbearing one another, and ⁿ forgiving each other, ^o if any man have a complaint against any; ^k even as ¹¹ the Lord forgave you, so also do ye: ¹⁴ and above all these things ^p put on ^q love, which is ^o the bond of ^p perfectness. ¹⁵ And let ^q the peace of Christ ¹² rule in your hearts, to the which also ye were called ^r in one body; and ^s be ye thankful. ¹⁶ Let ^t the word of ¹³ Christ dwell in you richly in all wisdom; teaching and admonishing ¹⁴ one another ^u with psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing ^v with grace in your hearts unto God. ¹⁷ And ^w whatsoever ye do, in word or in deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus, ^x giving thanks to God the Father through him.

¹⁸ ^y Wives, be in subjection to your husbands, as ^z is fitting in the Lord. ¹⁹ Husbands, love your wives, and ^a be not bitter against them. ²⁰ Children, obey your parents ^b in all things, for this is well-pleasing in the Lord. ²¹ Fathers, provoke not your children, that they be not discouraged. ²² ¹⁵ Servants, obey ^b in all things them that are your ¹⁶ masters according to the flesh; not with eyeservice, as men-pleasers, but in singleness of heart, fearing the Lord: ²³ ^c whatsoever ye do, work ¹⁷ heartily, ^d as unto the Lord, and not unto men; ²⁴ knowing that from the Lord ^e ye shall receive the recompense of the inheritance: ^f ye serve the Lord Christ. ²⁵ For he that doeth wrong shall ¹⁸ receive again for the wrong that he hath

THE FIRST EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO THE THESSALONIANS.

I PAUL, and ^a Silvanus, and Timothy, unto the church of the ^b Thessalonians in God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ: ^c Grace to you and peace.

² We give thanks to God always for you all, ^e making mention of you in our prayers; ³ remembering ^d without ceasing ^f your work of faith and labour of ^g love and ^h patience of hope in our Lord Jesus Christ, before ⁱ our God and Father; 4 knowing, ^j brethren beloved of God, ^k your election, ⁵ how that ^l our gospel came not unto you in word only, but also in power, and

^m in the ¹⁰ Holy Ghost, and ⁿ in much ¹¹ assurance; even as ye know ^o what manner of men we shewed ourselves toward you for your sake. 6 And ^p ye became imitators of us, ^q and of the Lord, ^r having received the word in much affliction, ^s with ^t joy of the ¹⁰ Holy Ghost; 7 so that ye became an ensample to all that believe in Macedonia and in Achaia. 8 For from you hath ^u sounded forth the word of the Lord, not only in Macedonia and Achaia, but ^v in every place your faith to God-ward is gone forth; so that we need not to speak anything. 9 For they themselves report concerning us what manner of ^w entering in we had unto you; and how ^x ye turned unto God ^y from idols, to serve a living and ^z true God, ¹⁰ and ^a to wait for his Son ^b from heaven, ^c whom he raised from the dead, even Jesus, ^d which delivereth us from ^e the wrath to come.

2 For yourselves, brethren, know our ^f entering in unto you, ^g that it hath not been found vain: ² but having suffered before, and been shamefully entreated, as ye know, ^h at Philippi, ⁱ we waxed bold in our God ^j to speak unto you the gospel of God in much ^k conflict. 3 For ^l our exhortation is not of ^m error, nor of ⁿ uncleanness, nor ^o in guile: 4 but even as we have been approved of God ^p to be intrusted with the gospel, so we speak; not as ^q pleasing men, but God ^r which proveth our hearts. 5 For neither at any time were we found using words of flattery, as ye know, nor a cloke of covetousness, ^s God is witness; 6 ^t nor seeking glory of men, neither from you, nor from others, ^u when we might have ^v been ^w burdensome, as ^x apostles of Christ. 7 But we were ^y gentle in the midst of you, ^z as when a nurse cherisheth her own children: 8 even so, being affectionately desirous of you, we were well pleased to impart unto you, not the gospel of God only, ^a but also our own souls, because ye were become very dear to us. 9 For ye remember, brethren, ^b our labour and travail: ^c working night and day, that we might not burden any of you, we preached unto you the gospel of God. 10 Ye are witnesses, and ^d God also, ^e how holily and righteously and unblameably we behaved ourselves toward you that believe: 11 as ye know how we dealt with each one of you, ^f as a father with his own children, exhorting you, and encouraging you, and ^g testifying, 12 to the end that ^h ye should walk worthily of God, ⁱ who ^j calleth you into ^k his own kingdom and glory.

13 And for this cause ^k we also thank God without ceasing, that, when ye received from us ^l the word of the message, even the word of God, ye accepted it ^m not as the word of men, but, as it is in truth, the word of God, ⁿ which also worketh in you that believe. 14 For ye, brethren, ^o became imitators of ^p the churches of God which are in Judæa in Christ Jesus: for ^q ye also suffered the same things of your own countrymen, ^r even as they did of the Jews; 15 ^s who both killed the Lord Jesus and ^t the prophets, and drave out us, and please not God, and ^u are contrary to all men; 16 ^v forbidding us to speak to the Gentiles that they may be saved; ^w to fill up their sins alway: but ^x the wrath is come upon them to the uttermost.

17 But we, brethren, being bereaved of you for ^y a short season, ^z in presence, not in heart, endeavoured the more exceedingly ^a to see your face with great desire: 18 because we would fain have come unto you, I Paul once and again; and Satan ^b hindered us. 19 For what is our hope, or ^c joy, or crown of glorying? ^d Are not even ye, before our Lord Jesus at his ^e coming? 20 For ye are our glory and our joy.

1 Wherefore when we could no longer forbear, we thought ^f it good ^g to be left behind at Athens alone; 2 and ^h sent Timothy, ⁱ our brother and ^j God's minister in the gospel of Christ, to establish you, and to comfort you concerning your faith; 3 that no man be moved by these afflictions; for yourselves know that ^k hereunto we are appointed. 4 For verily, when we were with you, we told you ^l beforehand that we are to suffer affliction; ^m even as it came to pass, and ye know. 5 For this cause I also, ⁿ when I could no longer forbear, ^o sent that I might know your faith, ^p lest by any means ^q the tempter had tempted you, and ^r our labour should be in vain. 6 But ^s when Timothy came even now unto us from you, and brought us glad tidings of ^t your faith and love, and ^u that ye have good remembrance of us always, ^v longing to see us, even as we also to see you; 7 for this cause, brethren, ^w we were comforted over you in all our distress and affliction through your faith: 8 for now we live, if ye ^x stand fast in the Lord. 9 For ^y what thanksgiving can we render again unto God for you, for all the joy wherewith we joy for your sakes before our God; 10 ^unight and day praying exceedingly ^vthat we may see your face, and ^wmay perfect that which is lacking in your faith?

11 Now may ^xour God and Father himself, and our Lord Jesus, ^ydirect our way unto you: 12 and the Lord ^zmake you to increase and abound in love ^aone toward another, and toward all men, even as we also ^bdo toward you; 13 to the end he may ^cstablish your hearts unblameable in holiness before ^dour God and Father, at ^ethe ^fcoming of our Lord Jesus ^gwith all his saints.²

4 Finally then, brethren, we beseech and exhort you in the Lord Jesus, that, as ye ^hreceived of us ⁱhow ye ought to walk and ^jto please God, even as ye do walk,—that ye ^kabound more and more. 2 For ^lye know what ^mcharge we gave you through the Lord Jesus. 3 For this is the will of God, ⁿeven ^oyour sanctification, ^pthat ye abstain from fornication; 4 that each one of you know how to possess himself of his own ^qvessel in sanctification and ^rhonour, 5 not in ^sthe passion of lust, ^teven as the Gentiles ^uwhich know not God; 6 that no man ^vtransgress, and ^wwrong his brother in the matter: because the Lord is ^xan avenger in all these things, as also we ^yforewarned you and testified. 7 For ^zGod called us not for ^aunclean-ness, but in sanctification. 8 Therefore ^bhe that rejecteth, rejecteth not man, but God, ^cwho giveth his Holy Spirit unto you.

9 But concerning ^dlove of the brethren ^eye have no need that one write unto you: for ye yourselves are ^ftaught of God ^gto love one another; 10 for indeed ^hye do it toward all the brethren which are in all Macedonia. But we exhort you, brethren, that ye ⁱabound more and more; 11 and that ye ^jstudy ^kto be quiet, and ^lto do your own business, and ^mto work with your hands, even as we charged you; 12 that ye may ⁿwalk honestly toward them ^othat are without, and may have need of nothing.

13 But we would not have you ignorant, brethren, concerning them that fall asleep; ^pthat ye sorrow not, even as the rest, ^qwhich have no hope. 14 For ^rif we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so ^sthem also that are fallen asleep ^tin Jesus will God bring with him.

15 For this we say unto you ^uby the word of the Lord, that ^vwe that are alive, that are left unto ^wthe ^xcoming of the Lord, shall in no wise precede them that are fallen asleep. 16 For ^ythe Lord himself shall descend ^zfrom heaven, ^awith a shout, with the voice of ^bthe archangel, and ^cwith the trump of God: and ^dthe dead in Christ shall rise first: 17 then we that are alive, that are left, shall together with them be ^ecaught up ^fin the clouds, to meet the Lord in the air: and so ^gshall we ever be with the Lord. 18 Wherefore ^h^x comfort one another with these words.

5 But concerning ⁱthe times and the seasons, brethren, ^jye have no need that aught be written unto you. 2 For yourselves know perfectly that ^kthe day of the Lord so cometh as a thief in the night. 3 When they are saying, Peace and safety, then ^lsudden destruction cometh upon them, ^mas travail upon a woman with child; and they shall in no wise escape. 4 But ye, brethren, ⁿare not in darkness, that that day should overtake you ^oas a thief: 5 for ye are all ^psons of light, and sons of the day: we are not of the night, nor of darkness; 6 so then ^qlet us not sleep, as do the rest, but let us ^rwatch and ^sbe sober. 7 For they that sleep sleep in the night; and they that be drunken ^tare drunken in the night. 8 But let us, since we are of the day, be sober, ^uputting on the breastplate of ^vfaith and love; and for a helmet, the hope of salvation. 9 For God appointed us not unto ^wwrath, but ^xunto the obtaining of salvation through our Lord Jesus Christ, 10 ^ywho died for us, that, whether we ^zwake or

I ^a PAUL, and Silvanus, and Timothy, unto the church of the Thessalonians in God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ; 2 Grace to you and peace from God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 ^b We are bound to give thanks to God alway for you, brethren, even as it is meet, for that your faith groweth exceedingly, and the love of each one of you all toward one another aboundeth; 4 so that ^c we ourselves glory in you ^d in the churches of God for your patience and faith ^e in all your persecutions and in the afflictions which ye endure; 5 ^f which is ^g a manifest token of the righteous judgement of God; to the end that ye may be ^h counted worthy of the kingdom of God, for which ye also suffer: 6 if so be that it is ⁱ a righteous thing with God ^j to recompense affliction to them that afflict you, 7 and to you that are afflicted ^k rest with us, ^l at the revelation of the Lord Jesus from heaven ^m with the angels of his power 8 ⁿ in flaming fire, rendering vengeance to them ^o that know not

God, and to them that ^p obey not the gospel of our Lord Jesus: 9 who shall suffer punishment, ^q even eternal destruction ^r from the face of the Lord and from the glory of his might, 10 ^s when he shall come ^t to be glorified in his saints, and to be marvelled at in all them that believed (because our ^u testimony unto you ^v was believed) in ^w that day. 11 To which end we also ^x pray alway for you, that our God may ^y count you worthy of your calling, and fulfil every ^z desire of goodness and ^a every ^b work of faith, with power; 12 that the name of our Lord Jesus ^c may be glorified in you, and ye in him, according to the grace of our God and the Lord Jesus Christ.

1 Now we beseech you, brethren, ^d touching ^e the ⁴ coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, and our ^f gathering together unto him; 2 to the end that ye be not quickly shaken from your mind, nor yet ^g be troubled, either ^h by spirit, or ⁱ by word, or ^j by epistle as from us, as that ^k the day of the Lord is ^{now} present; 3 ^h let no man beguile you in any wise: for it will not be, except the falling away come first, and the man of ¹sin be revealed, ^kthe son of perdition, ⁴he that opposeth and exalteth himself against all that is called God or ²that is worshipped; so that he sitteth in the ³temple of God, ^msetting himself forth as God. ⁵Remember ye not, that, when I was yet with you, I told you these things? ⁶And now ye know that which restraineth, to the end that he may be revealed in his own season. ⁷For ⁿthe mystery of lawlessness ^odoth already work: ⁴only there is one that restraineth now, until he be taken out of the way. ⁸And then shall be revealed ^pthe lawless one, whom the Lord ⁵Jesus ^qshall ⁶slay with ^rthe breath of his mouth, and bring to nought by ^sthe manifestation of his ⁷coming; ⁹*even he*, whose ⁷coming is according to the working of Satan ^twith all ⁸power and signs and lying wonders, ¹⁰and with all deceit of unrighteousness for ^uthem that are perishing; because they received not the love of the truth, that they might be saved. ¹¹And for this cause ^vGod sendeth them a working of error, that they should believe ^wa lie: ¹²that they all might be judged ^xwho believed not the truth, but ^yhad pleasure in unrighteousness.

¹³But ^zwe are bound to give thanks to God alway for you, ^abrethren beloved of the Lord, for that God chose you ^bfrom the beginning ^cunto salvation ^din sanctification of the Spirit and ¹⁰belief of the truth: ¹⁴whereunto he called you through ^eour gospel, ^cto the obtaining of the glory of our Lord Jesus Christ. ¹⁵So then, brethren, ^fstand fast, and hold ^gthe traditions which ye were taught, whether ^hby word, or ^hby epistle of ours.

¹⁶Now our Lord Jesus Christ himself, and God our Father ⁱwhich loved us and gave us eternal comfort and good ^jhope through grace, ¹⁷comfort your hearts and ^kstablish them in every good work and word.

¹Finally, brethren, ^lpray for 3 us, that ^mthe word of the Lord may run and be glorified, even as also it is with you; ²and ⁿthat we may be delivered from unreasonable and evil men; for ^oall have not ¹¹faith. ³But ^pthe Lord is faithful, who shall stablish you, and ^qguard you from ¹²the evil one. ⁴And ^swe have confidence in the Lord touching you, that ye both do and will do the things which we command. ⁵And the Lord ^tdirect your hearts into the love of God, and into the patience of Christ.

⁶Now we command you, brethren, ^uin the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, ^vthat ye withdraw yourselves from every ^wbrother ^xthat walketh disorderly, and not after the tradition which ¹³they received of us. ⁷For yourselves know ^yhow ye ought to imitate us: for ^zwe behaved not ourselves disorderly among you; ⁸neither did we eat bread for nought at any man's hand, but ^ain labour and travail, working night and day, that we might not burden any of you: ⁹^bnot because we have not the right, but to make ourselves ^can ensample unto you, that ye should imitate us. ¹⁰For even when we were with you, this we commanded you, ^dif any will not work, neither let him eat. ¹¹For we hear of some ^ethat walk among you disorderly, that work not at all, but are ^fbusybodies. ¹²Now them that are such we command and exhort in the Lord Jesus Christ, that with quietness they work, and eat their own bread. ¹³But ye, brethren, ^gbe not weary in well-doing. ¹⁴And if any man obeyeth not our word by this epistle, note that man, ^hthat ye have no company with him, to the end that he may be ashamed. ¹⁵And ⁱyet ^jcount him not as an enemy, but ^kadmonish him as a brother.

¹⁶Now ^kthe Lord of peace himself ^lgive you peace at all times in all ways. ^mThe Lord be with you all.

¹⁷ⁿThe salutation of me Paul with mine own hand, which is the token in every epistle: so I write. ¹⁸^oThe grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all.

I PAUL, ^aan apostle of Christ Jesus ^baccording to the commandment of ^cGod our Saviour, and Christ Jesus ^dour hope; 2 unto Timothy, ^emy true child in faith: ^fGrace, mercy, peace, from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Lord.

3 ^gAs I exhorted thee to tarry at Ephesus, when I was going into Macedonia, that thou mightest charge certain men not ^hto teach a different doctrine, 4 neither ⁱto give heed to fables and endless ^jgenealogies, the which minister ^kquestionings, rather than ^la ¹dispensation of God which is in faith; so do I now. 5 But the end of the charge is love ^mout of a pure heart and ⁿa good conscience and ^ofaith unfeigned: 6 from which things some having ^{2p}swerved have turned aside unto ^qvain talking; 7 desiring to be teachers of the law, ^rthough they understand neither what they say, nor whereof they confidently affirm. 8 But we know that ^sthe law is good, if a man use it lawfully, 9 as knowing this, that ^tlaw is not made for a righteous man, but for the lawless and unruly, for the ungodly and sinners, for the unholy and profane, for ³murderers of fathers and ³murderers of mothers, for man-slayers, 10 for fornicators, for abusers of themselves with men, for men-stealers, for liars, for false swearers, and if there be any other thing contrary to ^uthe ⁴sound ⁵doctrine; 11 according to ^vthe gospel of the glory of ^wthe blessed God, ^xwhich was committed to my trust.

12 I thank him ^ythat ⁶enabled me, even Christ Jesus our Lord, for that he counted me faithful, ^zappointing me to ^{his}service; 13 though I was before a blasphemer, and ^{aa}a persecutor, and injurious: howbeit ^bI obtained mercy, ^cbecause I did it ignorantly in unbelief; 14 and ^dthe grace of our Lord abounded exceedingly with ^efaith and love which is in Christ Jesus. 15 ^fFaithful is the saying, and worthy of all accep-tation, that Christ Jesus ^gcame into the world to save sinners; ^hof whom I am chief: 16 howbeit for this cause I obtained mercy, that in me as chief might Jesus Christ shew forth all his longsuffering, for an ensample of them which should hereafter believe on him unto eternal life. 17 Now unto ⁱthe King ⁷eternal, ^jincorruptible, ^kinvisible, ^lthe only God, ^mbe honour and glory ⁸for ever and ever. Amen.

18 This charge ⁿI commit unto thee, my child Timothy, according to ^othe prophecies which ⁹went before on thee, that by them thou mayest ^pwar the good warfare; 19 ^qholding faith and a good conscience; which some having thrust from them ^rmade shipwreck concerning the faith: 20 of whom is ^sHymenæus and ^tAlexander; whom I ^udelivered unto Satan, that they might be taught not to ^vblaspheme.

1 I exhort therefore, first of 2 all, ¹⁰that supplications, prayers, intercessions, thanksgivings, be made for all men; 2 ^wfor kings and all that are in high place; that we may lead a tranquil and quiet life in all godliness and ^xgravity. 3 This is good and ^yacceptable in the sight of ^zGod our Saviour; 4 who willet ^{aa}that all men should be saved, and ^bcome to ^cthe knowledge of the truth. 5 For ^dthere is one God, one mediator also between God and men, himself man, Christ Jesus, 6 ^ewho gave himself a ransom for all; ^fthe testimony to be borne ^gin its own times; 7 ^hwhereunto I was appointed a ¹¹preacher and an apostle (ⁱI speak the truth, I lie not), ^ja teacher of the Gentiles in faith and truth.

8 I desire therefore that the men pray ^kin every place, ^llifting up ^mholy hands, without wrath and 12 disputing. 9 In like manner, ⁿthat women adorn themselves in modest apparel, with shamefastness and sobriety; not with braided hair, and gold or pearls or costly raiment; 10 ^obut (which becometh women professing godliness) through good works. 11 Let a woman learn in quietness ^p with all subjection. 12 ^a But I permit not a woman to teach, nor to have dominion over a man, but to be in quietness. 13 ^r For Adam was first formed, ^s then Eve; 14 and Adam was not beguiled, but ^t the woman being beguiled hath fallen into transgression: 15 but she shall be saved through ^{1u} the child-bearing, if they continue in ^v faith and love and sanctification with sobriety.

3 ¹ ^{2w} Faithful is the saying, If a man seeketh ^x the office of a ³ bishop, he desireth a good work. 2 ^v The ³ bishop therefore must be without reproach, ^z the husband of one wife, ^a temperate, soberminded, orderly, ^b given to hospitality, ^c apt to teach; 3 ⁴ no brawler, no striker; but ^d gentle, not contentious, ^e no lover of money; 4 one that ruleth well his own house, ^f having his children in subjection with all gravity; 5 (but if a man knoweth not how to rule his own house, how shall he take care of ^x the church of God?) 6 not a novice, lest ^g being puffed up he fall into the ⁵ condemnation of the devil. 7 Moreover he must have good testimony from ^h them that are without; lest he fall into reproach and ⁱ the snare of the devil. 8 ^j Deacons in like manner must be grave, not doubletongued, ^k not given to much wine, ^l not greedy of filthy lucre; 9 ^m holding the mystery of the faith in ⁿ a pure conscience. 10 And ^o let these also first be proved; then let them serve as deacons, if they be blameless. 11 ^p Women in like manner must be grave, not slanderers, temperate, ^q faithful in all things. 12 Let deacons be ^r husbands of one wife, ^r ruling their children and their own houses well. 13 For ^s they that have served well as deacons gain to themselves a good standing, and great boldness in the faith which is in Christ Jesus.

14 These things write I unto thee, hoping to come unto thee shortly; 15 but if I tarry long, that thou mayest know ⁶ how men ought to behave themselves in ^t the house of God, which is the Church of the living God, the pillar and ⁷ ground of the truth. 16 And without controversy great is the mystery of godliness; ^{8u} He who was manifested in the flesh, justified in the spirit, ^v seen of angels, ^w preached among the nations, ^x believed on in the world, ^y received up in glory.

1 But ^z the Spirit saith expressly, that ^a in later times some shall fall away from the faith, giving heed to ^b seducing spirits and doctrines of ⁹ devils, 2 through the hypocrisy of ^c men that speak lies, ^{10d} branded in their own conscience as with a hot iron; 3 ^e forbidding to marry, and commanding ^f to abstain from meats, ^g which God created ^h to be received with thanksgiving by them that believe and know the truth. 4 For ⁱ every creature of God is good, and ^j nothing is to be rejected, if it be ^h received with thanksgiving: 5 for it is sanctified ^k through the word of God and prayer.

6 ^l If thou put the brethren in mind of these things, thou shalt be a good minister of Christ Jesus, nourished in the words of the faith, and of the good doctrine which thou hast ^m followed until now: 7 but refuse profane and old wives' ⁿ fables. And ^o exercise thyself unto godliness: 8 for ^p bodily exercise is profitable ¹¹ for a little; but godliness ^q is profitable for all things, ^r having promise of the life which now is, and of that which is to come. 9 ^s Faithful is the saying, and worthy of all acceptance. 10 For to this end we labour and strive, because we have our hope set on the living God, ^t who is the Saviour of all men, specially of them that believe. 11 ^u These things command and teach. 12 ^v Let no man despise thy youth; but ^w be thou an ensample to them that believe, in word, in manner of life, in love, in faith, in purity. 13 Till I come, give heed to reading, to exhortation, to teaching. 14 ^x Neglect not the gift that is in thee, which was given thee ^y by prophecy, ^z with the laying on of the hands of ^a the presbytery. 15 Be diligent in these things; give thyself wholly to them; that thy ^b progress may be manifest unto

all. 16^c Take heed to thyself, and to thy teaching. Continue in these things; for in doing this thou shalt save ^d both thyself and ^e them that hear thee.

1^f Rebuke not an elder, but 5 exhort him as a father; ^g the younger men as brethren: 2 the elder women as mothers; the younger as sisters, in all purity. 3 Honour widows ^h that are widows indeed. 4 But if any widow hath children or grandchildren, let them learn first ⁱ to shew piety towards their own family, and to requite their parents: for ^j this is acceptable in the sight of God. 5 Now she ^k that is a widow indeed, and desolate, hath her hope set on God, and ^l continueth in supplications and prayers night and day. 6 But ^m she that giveth herself to pleasure is ⁿ dead while she liveth. 7 ^o These things also command, that they may be without reproach. 8 But if any provideth not for his own, and specially ^p his own household, he hath ^q denied the faith, and is worse than an unbeliever. 9 Let none be enrolled as a widow under threescore years old, having been ^r the wife of one man, 10 well reported of for good works; if she hath brought up children, if she hath ^r used hospitality to strangers, if she ^s hath washed the saints' feet, if she hath ^t relieved the afflicted, if she hath ^u diligently followed every good work. 11 But younger widows refuse: for when they ^v have waxed wanton against Christ, they desire to marry; 12 having condemnation, because they have rejected their first faith. 13 And withal they learn also to be idle, going about from house to house; and not only idle, but ^w tattlers also and ^x busybodies, speaking things which they ought not. 14 I desire therefore that ^y the younger ¹ widows marry, bear children, ^z rule the household, ^a give none occasion to the adversary for reviling: 15 ^b for already some are turned aside after Satan. 16 If any woman that believeth hath widows, let her relieve them, and let not the church be burdened; that it may relieve them ^c that are widows indeed.

17 Let the elders ^d that rule well be counted worthy of ^e double honour, especially those who labour in the word and in teaching. 18 For the scripture saith, ^f Thou shalt not muzzle the ox when he treadeth out the corn. And, ^g The labourer is worthy of his hire. 19 Against an elder receive not an accusation, except ^h at the mouth of two or three witnesses. 20 Them that sin ⁱ reprove in the sight of all, ^j that the rest also may be in fear. 21 ^k I charge thee in the sight of God, and Christ Jesus, and the elect angels, that thou observe these things without ² prejudice, ^l doing nothing by partiality. 22 ^m Lay hands ⁿ hastily on no man, neither ^o be partaker of other men's sins: keep thyself pure. 23 Be no longer a drinker of water, but ^p use a little wine ^q for thy stomach's sake and thine often infirmities. 24 Some men's sins are evident, going before unto judgement; and some men also they follow after. 25 In like manner also ^r there are good works that are evident; and ^s such as are otherwise cannot be hid.

6 ¹ Let as many as are ⁴ servants under the yoke count their own masters worthy of all honour, ^t that the name of God and the doctrine be not blasphemed. 2 And they that have believing masters, let them not despise them, because they are ^u brethren; but let them serve them the rather, because they that ⁵ partake of the benefit are believing and beloved. ^v These things teach and exhort.

3 If any man ^w teacheth a different doctrine, and consenteth not to ⁶ ^x sound words, even the words of our Lord Jesus Christ, and to the doctrine ^y which is according to godliness; 4 ^z he is puffed up, ^a knowing nothing, but ⁷ doting about ^b questionings and ^c disputes of words, whereof cometh envy, strife, railings, evil surmisings, 5 wranglings of men ^d corrupted in mind and bereft of the truth, ^e supposing that godliness is a way of gain. 6 But ^f godliness ^g with contentment is great gain: 7 for ^h we brought nothing into the world, for neither can we carry anything out; 8 but ⁱ having food and covering ⁸ we shall be therewith content. 9 But they that desire to be rich fall into a temptation and ^ka snare and many foolish and hurtful lusts, such as ^ldrown men in destruction and perdition. ¹⁰For the love of money is a root of ^mall ¹kinds of evil: which some reaching after have been led astray from the faith, and have pierced themselves through with many sorrows.

¹¹But thou, ⁿO man of God, ^oflee these things; and ^pfollow after righteousness, godliness, faith, love, patience, meekness. ¹²^qFight the good fight of the faith, ^rlay hold on the life eternal, ^swhereunto thou wast called, and didst confess ^tthe good confession in the sight of many witnesses. ¹³^uI charge thee in the sight of God, who ²quickneth all things, and of Christ Jesus, ^vwho before Pontius Pilate witnessed ^tthe good confession; ¹⁴that thou keep the commandment, without spot, without reproach, until ^wthe appearing of our Lord Jesus Christ: ¹⁵which ^xin ³its own times he shall shew, who is ^ythe blessed and

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO TIMOTHY.

¹PAUL, ^aan apostle of Christ Jesus ¹⁰^bby the will of God, according to ^cthe promise of the life which is in Christ Jesus, ²to Timothy, ^dmy beloved child: ^eGrace, mercy, peace, from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Lord.

³I thank God, ^gwhom I serve from my forefathers ^hin a pure conscience, ⁱhow unceasing is my remembrance of thee in my supplications, night and day ⁴^jlonging to see thee, ^kremembering thy tears, that I may be filled with ¹¹joy; ⁵having been reminded of ^lthe unfeigned faith that is in thee; which dwelt first in thy grandmother Lois, and ^mthy mother Eunice; and, I am persuaded, in thee also. ⁶For the which cause I put thee in remembrance ⁿthat thou ¹²stir up the gift of God, which is in thee through the laying on of my hands. ⁷For God gave us not ^aa spirit of fearfulness; but ^vof power and love and ¹³discipline. ⁸^qBe not ashamed therefore of ^rthe testimony of our Lord, nor of ^sme his prisoner: but ^tsuffer hardship with the gospel according to the power of God; ⁹^uwho saved us, and ^vcalled us with a holy calling, ^wnot according to our works, but according to ^vhis own purpose and grace, which was given us in Christ Jesus ^xbefore times eternal, ¹⁰but hath now ^ybeen manifested by ^zthe appearing of our Saviour Christ Jesus, ^awho abolished death, and ^bbrought life and

incorruption to light through the gospel, ¹¹ whereunto I was appointed a ¹ preacher, and an apostle, and a teacher. ¹² For the which cause I suffer also these things: yet ^f I am not ashamed; for ^g I know him whom I have believed, and I am persuaded that he is able to guard ^{2h} that which I have committed unto him against ⁱ that day. ^{13j} Hold ^k the pattern of ^{3l} sound words ^m which thou hast heard from me, in ⁿ faith and love which is in Christ Jesus. ¹⁴ ^{4h} That good thing which was committed unto thee guard through the ⁵ Holy Ghost ^o which dwelleth in us.

¹⁵ This thou knowest, that ^p all that are in Asia turned away from me; of whom are Phygelus and Hermogenes. ¹⁶ The Lord grant mercy unto ^q the house of Onesiphorus: for he oft ^r refreshed me, and was not ashamed of ^s my chain; ¹⁷ but, when he was in Rome, ^t he sought me diligently, and found me ¹⁸ (the Lord grant unto him to find mercy of the Lord in ^u that day); and in how many things he ^v ministered at Ephesus, thou knowest very well.

¹ Thou therefore, ^w my child, ² ^x be strengthened in the grace that is in Christ Jesus. ² And the things ^y which thou hast heard from me among many witnesses, the same ^z commit thou to faithful men, ^a who shall be able to teach others also. ³ ^{6b} Suffer hardship with me, as ^c a good soldier of Christ Jesus. ⁴ No soldier on service ^d entangleth himself in the affairs of this life; that he may please him who enrolled him as a soldier. ⁵ And if also a man ^e contend in the games, he is not ^f crowned, except he have contended lawfully. ⁶ ^g The husbandman that laboreth must be the first to partake of the fruits. ⁷ Consider what I say; for the Lord shall give thee understanding in all things. ⁸ Remember Jesus Christ, ^h risen from the dead, ⁱ of the seed of David, ^j according to my gospel: ⁹ ^k wherein I suffer hardship ^l unto bonds, as a malefactor; but ^m the word of God is not bound. ¹⁰ Therefore ⁿ I endure all things for the

elect's sake, that they also may obtain ^o the salvation which is in Christ Jesus with ^p eternal glory. ¹¹ ^q Faithful is the ⁷ saying: For ^r if we died with him, we shall also ^s live with him: ¹² ^t if we endure, we shall also reign with him: ^u if we shall deny him, he also will deny us: ¹³ ^v if we are faithless, ^w he abideth faithful; for ^x he cannot deny himself.

¹⁴ Of these things put them in remembrance, ^y charging them in the sight of ⁸ the Lord, that they ^z strive not about words, ^a to no profit, to the subverting of them that hear. ¹⁵ Give diligence to present thyself approved unto God, a workman ^b that needeth not to be ashamed, ⁹ handling aright the word of truth. ¹⁶ But ^c shun ^d profane babblings: for they will proceed further in ungodliness, ¹⁷ and their word will ¹⁰ eat as doth a gangrene: of whom is ^e Hymenæus and Philetus; ¹⁸ men who concerning the truth ^f have ¹¹ erred, ⁹ saying that ¹² the resurrection is past already, and overthrow the faith of some. ¹⁹ Howbeit the firm foundation of God standeth, having this seal, ^h The Lord knoweth them that are his: and, Let every one ⁱ that nameth the name of the Lord depart from unrighteousness. ²⁰ Now in ^j a great house there are not only vessels of gold and of silver, but also of wood and of earth; and ^k some unto honour, and some unto dishonour. ²¹ ^l If a man therefore purge himself from these, he shall be a vessel unto honour, sanctified, meet for the master's use, ^m prepared unto every good work. ²² But ⁿ flee ^o youthful lusts, and follow after righteousness, faith, love, peace, with ^p them that call on the Lord ^q out of a pure heart. ²³ But foolish and ignorant ^r questionings refuse, knowing that they gender strifes. ²⁴ And ^s the Lord's ¹³ servant must not strive, but ^t be gentle towards all, ^u apt to teach, forbearing, ²⁵ ^v in meekness ¹⁴ correcting them that oppose themselves; ^w if peradventure God may give them repentance ^x unto the knowledge of the truth, ²⁶ and they may ¹⁵ recover them-

d Cp. Eph. 6. 4. ^e the sacred writings ^f which are able to make thee wise unto salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus. ¹⁶ ^{4g} Every scripture inspired of God ^{is} also profitable for teaching, for reproof, for correction, for ⁵ instruction which is in righteousness: ¹⁷ that ^h the man of God may be complete, ⁱ furnished completely ^j unto every good work.

i ^{6k} I charge thee in the sight of God, and of Christ Jesus, ⁴ ^l who shall judge the quick and the dead, and by ^m his appearing and his kingdom; ² preach the word; be instant in season, out of season; ⁷ⁿ reprove, rebuke, ^o exhort, with all longsuffering and teaching. ^{3p} For the time will come when they will not endure ^q the ⁸ sound ⁹ doctrine; but, having itching ears, will heap to themselves teachers after their own lusts; ⁴ and ^r will turn away their ears from the truth, and ^s turn aside unto fables. ⁵ But ^t be thou sober in all things, ^u suffer hardship, do the work of ^v an evangelist, ^w fulfil thy ministry. ⁶ For ^z I am already being ¹⁰ offered, and the time of my ^y departure is come. ^{7z} I have fought the good fight, ^a I have finished the course, I have kept the faith: ⁸ henceforth there is ^b laid up for me ^c the crown of righteousness, which the Lord, ^d the righteous judge, shall give to me at ^e that day: and not only to me, but also to all them ^f that have loved his appearing.

g ⁹ Do thy diligence to come shortly unto me: ¹⁰ for ^h Demas ⁱ forsook me, ^j having loved ^k this present ¹¹ world, and went to Thessalonica; Crescens to ¹² Galatia, ^l Titus to Dalmatia. ¹¹ ⁱ Only Luke is with me. Take ^m Mark, and bring him with thee: for he is useful to me for ministering. ¹² But ⁿ Tychicus I sent to Ephesus. ¹³ The cloke that I left at Troas with Carpus, bring when thou comest, and the books, especially the parchments. ¹⁴ ^o Alexander the copper-smith ¹³ did me much evil: ^p the Lord will render to him according to his works: ¹⁵ of whom be thou ware also; for he greatly withstood our words. ¹⁶ At my first defence no one took my part, but all forsook me: ^q may it not be laid to their account. ¹⁷ But ^r the Lord stood by me, and ^{14s} strengthened me; that through me ^t the ¹⁵ message might be fully proclaimed, and ^u that all the Gentiles might hear: and ^v I was delivered ^w out of the mouth of the lion. ¹⁸ ^x The Lord will deliver me

¹ PAUL, a ² servant of God, I and ^a an apostle of Jesus Christ, according to the faith of God's elect, and ^b the knowledge of the truth ^c which is according to godliness, ² ^d in hope of eternal life, which God, ^e who cannot lie, ^f promised ^g before times eternal; ³ but ^h in ³ his own seasons manifested his word in ⁱ the ⁴ message, ^j where-with I was intrusted ^k according to the commandment of God our Saviour; ⁴ to Titus, ^l my true child after ^m a common faith: ⁿ Grace and peace from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Saviour.

own, said, Cretans are alway liars, evil beasts, idle ⁹ gluttons. ¹³ This testimony is true. For which cause ^d reprove them ^e sharply, that they ^f may be ¹⁰ sound in the faith, ¹⁴ ^g not giving heed to Jewish fables, and ^h commandments of men ⁱ who turn away from the truth. ¹⁵ ^j To the pure all things are pure: but to them that are defiled and ^k unbelieving nothing is pure; but both ^l their mind and their conscience are defiled. ¹⁶ ^m They profess that they know God; but by their works they ⁿ deny him, being abominable, and disobedient, and unto every good work ^o reprobate.

¹ But speak thou the things 2 which befit ^p the ⁷ sound ⁸ doctrine: ² that aged men be temperate, grave, soberminded, ¹⁰ ^p sound in faith, in love, in patience; ³ ^q that aged women likewise be reverent in demeanour, ^r not slanderers ^s nor enslaved to much wine, teachers of that which is good; ⁴ that they may train the young women to love their husbands, to love their children, ⁵ ^t to be soberminded, ^u chaste, ^v workers at home, kind, ^v being in subjection to their own husbands, ^w that the word of God be not blasphemed: ⁶ ^x the younger men likewise exhort to be soberminded: ⁷ in all things shewing thyself ^y an ensample of good works; in thy doctrine ^z shewing uncorruptness, ^a gravity, ⁸ ^b sound speech, that cannot be condemned; ^c that he that is of the contrary part may be ashamed, having no evil thing to say of us. ⁹ ^d Exhort ¹¹ servants to be in subjection to their own masters, and to be well-pleasing ^e in all things; not gainsaying; ¹⁰ not purloining, ⁷ but shewing all good fidelity; ⁹ that they may adorn the doctrine of God our Saviour in all things. ¹¹ For ^h the grace of God ¹ⁱ hath appeared, bringing salvation ^j to all men, ¹² instructing us, to the intent that, denying ungodliness and ^k worldly lusts, ^l we should live soberly and righteously and godly in ^m this present ² world; ¹³ ⁿ looking for the blessed ^o hope and ^p appearing of the glory ³ of our great ^q God and Saviour Jesus Christ; ¹⁴ ^r who gave himself for us, that he might ^s redeem us from all iniquity, and ^t purify unto himself ^a a people for his own possession, ^u zealous of good works.

¹⁵ These things speak and exhort and ^v reprove with all ⁴ authority. ^w Let no man despise thee.

¹ Put them in mind ^x to be in ³ subjection to rulers, to authorities, to be obedient, ^y to be ready unto every good work, ^{2z} to speak evil of no man, ^a not to be contentious, to be gentle, ^b shewing all meekness toward all men. ³ For ^c we also were aforetime foolish, disobedient, deceived, serving divers lusts and pleasures, living in malice and envy, hateful, hating one another. ⁴ But when ^d the kindness of God our Saviour, and his love toward man, appeared, ^{5e} not by works ^{done} in righteousness, which we did ourselves, but ^f according to his mercy he saved us, through ^g the ⁵ washing of regeneration ⁶ and ^h renewing of the ⁷ Holy Ghost, ⁶ which he ⁱ poured out upon us richly, through Jesus Christ our Saviour; ⁷ that, ^j being justified by his grace, we might be made ^{8k} heirs ^l according to the hope of eternal life. ^{8m} Faithful is the saying, and concerning these things I will that thou affirm confidently, to the end that they which have believed God may be careful ⁿ to ⁹ maintain good works. These things are good and profitable unto men: ⁹ but ^o shun foolish ^p questionings, and ^q genealogies, and strifes, and fightings about the law; for ^r they are unprofitable and vain. ¹⁰ A man that is ¹⁰ heretical ^s after a first and second admonition ^{11t} refuse; ¹¹ knowing that such a one is perverted, and sinneth, being self-condemned.

¹² When I shall send Artemas unto thee, or ^u Tychicus, give diligence to come unto me ^v to Nicopolis: for there I have determined to winter. ¹³ Set forward Zenas the lawyer and ^w Apollos on their journey diligently, that nothing be wanting unto them. ¹⁴ And let our people also learn ^x to ⁹ maintain good works for necessary ¹² uses, that they be not ^y unfruitful.

¹⁵ All that are with me salute thee. Salute them that love us in faith.

⁵ And didst set him over the works of thy hands:

8 Thou didst put all things in subjection under his feet.

For in that he subjected all things unto him, he left nothing that is not subject to him. But now ² we see not yet all things subjected to him. 9 But we behold him ^r who hath been made ^a a little lower than the angels, even Jesus, ^s because of the suffering of death ^t crowned with glory and honour, that by the grace of God he should ^u taste death ^v for every man. 10 For it ^w became him, ^x for whom are all things, and through whom are all things, ⁶ in bringing many sons ^y unto glory, to make the ⁷ ^z author of their salvation ^a perfect through sufferings. 11 For both ^b he that sanctifieth and ^c they that are sanctified ^d are all of one: for which cause he is not ashamed to call them ^e brethren, 12 saying,

^f I will declare thy name unto my brethren,

In the midst of the ⁸ congregation will I sing thy praise.

13 And again, ^h I will put my trust in him. And again, ⁱ Behold, I and the children ^j which God hath given me. 14 Since then the children are sharers in ⁹ flesh and blood, he also himself in like manner ^k partook of the same; that ^l through death he ¹⁰ might ^m bring to nought ⁿ him that ¹¹ had the power of death, that is, the devil; 15 and ¹⁰ might deliver all them who ^o through fear of death were all their lifetime subject to bondage. 16 For verily not of angels doth he take hold, but he ^p taketh hold of the seed of Abraham. 17 Wherefore it behoved him in all things ^q to be made like unto his brethren, ^r that he might be a merciful and faithful high priest ^s in things pertaining to God, to make propitiation for the sins of the people. 18 ¹² For ¹³ in that he himself hath suffered ^t being tempted, he is able to succour them that are tempted.

1 Wherefore, holy brethren, 3 partakers of ^u a heavenly calling, consider ^v the Apostle and High Priest of our confession, even Jesus; 2 who was faithful to him that ¹⁴ appointed him, ^w as also was Moses in all ¹⁵ his house. 3 For he hath been counted worthy of more glory than Moses, by so much as he that ¹built the house hath more honour than the house. ⁴For every house is ¹builded by some one; but ²he that ¹built all things is God. ⁵And Moses indeed was faithful in all ²his house ²as a servant, ^afor a testimony of those things which were afterward to be spoken; ⁶but Christ ^bas a son, over ²his house; ^cwhose house are we, if we hold fast our boldness and the glorying of our hope firm ^dunto the end. ⁷Wherefore, even as the Holy Ghost saith,

^eTo-day if ye shall hear his voice,

⁸ Harden not your hearts, as in the provocation,

Like as in the day of the temptation in the wilderness,

⁹ ³Wherewith your fathers tempted me by proving me,

And saw my works ^fforty years.

¹⁰ Wherefore I was displeased with this generation,

And said, They do alway err in their heart:

But they did not know my ways;

¹¹ ^gAs I sware in my wrath,

⁴They shall not enter into my rest.

¹² Take heed, brethren, lest haply there shall be in any one of you an evil heart of unbelief, in falling away from ^hthe living God: ¹³but ⁱexhort one another day by day, so long as it is called To-day; lest any one of you be hardened by ^jthe deceitfulness of sin: ¹⁴for we are become partakers ⁵of Christ, ^kif we hold fast the beginning of our confidence firm unto the end: ¹⁵while it is said, ^eTo-day if ye shall hear his voice, Harden not your hearts, as in the provocation.

¹⁶ For ^lwho, when they heard, did provoke? nay, did not ^mall they that came out of Egypt by Moses?

¹⁷ And with whom was he displeased forty years? was it not with them that sinned, ⁿwhose ⁶carcasses fell in the wilderness? ¹⁸And to whom sware he that ^othey should not enter into his rest, but to them that were disobedient? ¹⁹And we see that ^pthey were not able to enter in because of unbelief.

¹Let us fear therefore, lest ⁴haply, a promise being left of entering into his rest, any one of you should seem ^qto have come short of it. ²For indeed we have had ⁷good tidings preached unto us, even as also they: but ^rthe word of hearing did not profit them, because ⁸they were not united by faith with them that heard. ³For we which have believed do enter into that rest; even as he hath said,

^tAs I sware in my wrath,

⁴They shall not enter into my rest:

although the works were finished from the foundation of the world.

⁴For he hath said somewhere of the seventh day on this wise, ^uAnd God rested on the seventh day from all his works; ⁵and in this place again,

⁴They shall not enter into my rest.

⁶ Seeing therefore it remaineth that some should enter therein, and they to whom ¹⁰the good tidings were before preached ^wfailed to enter in because of disobedience, ⁷he again defineth a certain day, ¹¹saying in David, after so long a time, To-day, as it hath been before said,

^eTo-day if ye shall hear his voice, Harden not your hearts.

⁸ For if ¹²^vJoshua had given them rest, he would not have spoken afterward of another day. ⁹There remaineth therefore a sabbath rest for the people of God. ¹⁰For he that is entered into his rest hath himself also ^zrested from his works, as God did from his. ¹¹Let us therefore give diligence to enter into that rest, ^athat no man fall ¹³after the same example of disobedience. ¹²For ^bthe word of God is living, and ^cactive, and ^dsharper than any ^etwo-edged sword, and piercing even to the dividing of soul and spirit, of both joints and marrow, and ^fquick to discern the thoughts and intents of the heart. ¹³And ^gthere is no creature that is not manifest in his sight: but all things are ^hnaked and laid open before the eyes of him with whom we have to do.

15 For we have not a high priest¹ that cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities; but one that hath been in all points² tempted like as we are, ³yet without sin. 16⁴ Let us therefore draw near with boldness unto the throne of grace, that we may receive mercy, and may find grace to help us in time of need.

1 For every high priest, being⁵ taken from among men, ⁶is appointed for men⁷ in things pertaining to God, ⁸that he may offer both gifts and sacrifices for sins: 2⁹ who can bear gently with the ignorant and erring, for that he himself also ¹⁰is compassed with infirmity; 3 and by reason thereof is bound, ¹¹as for the people, so also for himself, to offer for sins. 4 And ¹²no man taketh the honour unto himself, but when he is called of God, ¹³even as was Aaron. 5 So Christ also ¹⁴w glorified not himself to be made a high priest, but he that spake unto him,

¹⁵Thou art my Son,

This day have I begotten thee:

6 as he saith also in another place,

¹⁶Thou art a priest for ever

After the order of Melchizedek.

7 Who in the days of his flesh, ¹⁷having offered up prayers and supplications ¹⁸with strong crying and tears unto him¹⁹ that was able to save him²⁰ from death, and ²¹having being heard for his godly fear, 8 though²² ²³he was a Son, yet²⁴ learned obedience by the things which he suffered; 9 and ²⁵having been made perfect, he became unto all them that obey him the ²⁶author of eternal salvation; 10 named of God a high priest²⁷ after the order of Melchizedek.

11 Of ²⁸whom we have many things to say, and ²⁹hard of interpretation, seeing ye are become dull of hearing. 12 For when by reason of the time ye ought to be teachers, ye have need again³⁰ that some one teach you the rudiments of³¹ the ³²first principles of the oracles of God; and are become such as have need of³³ milk, and not of solid food. 13 For every one that partaketh of milk is without experience of the word of righteousness; for he is ³⁴a babe. 14 But solid food is for³⁵ fullgrown men, even those who by reason of use have their senses exercised³⁶ to discern good and evil.

6 1 Wherefore³⁷ let us³⁸ cease to speak of³⁹ the first principles of Christ, and press on unto⁴⁰ perfection; not laying again a foundation of repentance⁴¹ from dead works, and of faith toward God, 2⁴² of⁴³ the teaching of⁴⁴ baptisms, and of⁴⁵ laying on of hands, and of⁴⁶ resurrection of the dead, and of⁴⁷ eternal judgement. 3 And this will we do, ⁴⁸if God permit. 4 For as touching those⁴⁹ who were once enlightened⁵⁰ and tasted of⁵¹ the heavenly gift, and ⁵²were made partakers of the Holy Ghost, 5 and ⁵³tasted the good word of God, and the powers of⁵⁴ the age to come, 6 and ⁵⁵then fell away, ⁵⁶it is impossible to renew them again unto repentance; ⁵⁷seeing⁵⁸ ⁵⁹they crucify to themselves the Son of God afresh, and put him to an open shame. 7 For⁶⁰ the land which hath drunk the rain that cometh oft upon it, and bringeth forth herbs meet for them for whose sake it is also tilled, receiveth blessing from God: 8 but ⁶¹if it beareth thorns and thistles, it is rejected and nigh unto a curse; ⁶²whose end is to be burned.

9 But, beloved, we are persuaded better things of you, and things that⁶³ accompany salvation, though we thus speak: 10 for⁶⁴ God is not unrighteous to forget⁶⁵ your work and the love which ye shewed toward his name, in that ye⁶⁶ ministered unto the saints, and still do minister. 11 And we desire that each one of you may shew the same diligence unto the⁶⁷ fulness⁶⁸ of hope even to the end: 12 that ye be not sluggish, but⁶⁹ imitators of them who through faith and patience inherit the promises.

13 For when God made promise to Abraham, since he could swear by none greater, ⁷⁰he sware by himself, 14 saying, ⁷¹Surely blessing I will bless thee, and multiplying I will multiply thee. 15 And thus,

^l having patiently endured, he obtained the promise. ¹⁶ For men swear by the greater: and in every dispute of theirs ^m the oath is final for confirmation. ¹⁷ Wherein God, being minded to shew more abundantly unto ⁿ the heirs of the promise ^o the immutability of his counsel, ^{1p} interposed with an oath: ¹⁸ that by two immutable things, in which ^q it is impossible for God to lie, we may have a strong encouragement, who have fled for refuge to lay hold of the hope ^r set before us; ¹⁹ which we have as an anchor of the soul, ^a hope both sure and stedfast and entering into that which is ^s within the veil; ²⁰ ^t whither as a forerunner Jesus entered for us, ^u having become a high priest for ever after the order of Melchizedek.

¹¹ Now if there was perfection through the Levitical priesthood (for under it hath the people received the law), what further need was there that another priest should arise after the order of Melchizedek, and not be reckoned after the order of Aaron? ¹² For the priesthood being changed, there is made of necessity a change also ² of the law. ¹³ For he of whom these things are said ³ belongeth to another tribe, from which no man hath given attendance at the altar. ¹⁴ For it is evident that our Lord hath sprung ^q out of Judah; as to which tribe Moses spake nothing concerning priests. ¹⁵ And what we say is yet more abundantly evident, if after the likeness of Melchizedek there ariseth another priest, ¹⁶ who hath been made, not after the law of a carnal commandment, but after the power of an ⁴ endless life: ¹⁷ for it is witnessed of him,

^h Thou art a priest for ever

After the order of Melchizedek. ¹⁸ For there is a disannulling of a foregoing commandment ⁱ because of its weakness and unprofitableness ¹⁹ (for ^j the law made nothing perfect), and a bringing in thereupon of ^k a better hope, through which ^l we draw nigh unto God. ²⁰ And inasmuch as it is not without the taking of an oath ²¹ (for they indeed have been made priests without an oath; but he with an oath ⁵ by him that saith ⁶ of him,

^m The Lord swear and will not repent himself,

Thou art a priest for ever);

²² by so much also hath Jesus become the surety of ⁿ a better ⁷ covenant. ²³ And they indeed have been made priests many in number, because that by death they are hindered from continuing: ²⁴ but he, because he abideth ^o for ever, ⁸ hath his priesthood ⁹ unchangeable. ²⁵ Wherefore also he is able to save ¹⁰ to the uttermost ^p them that draw near unto God ^q through him, seeing he ever liveth ^r to make intercession for them.

²⁶ For such a high priest became us, ^s holy, guileless, undefiled, ^t separated from sinners, and ^u made higher than the heavens; ²⁷ who needeth not daily, like those high priests, to offer up sacrifices, ^v first for his own sins, and then for the sins of the people: for this he did ^w once for all, when he offered up himself. ²⁸ For the law appointeth men high priests, ^x having infirmity; but the word of the oath, which was after the law, appointeth a Son, ^y perfected for evermore.

8 ¹ Now ² in the things which we are saying the chief point is this: We have such a high priest,

^z who sat down on the right hand of the throne of the Majesty in the heavens, ² a minister of ³ the sanctuary, and of ^a the true tabernacle, which the Lord ^b pitched, not man. ³ For ^c every high priest is appointed to offer both gifts and sacrifices: wherefore ^d it is necessary that this high priest also have somewhat to offer. ⁴ Now if he were on earth, he would not be a priest at all, seeing there are those who offer the gifts according to the law; ⁵ who serve that which is ^e a copy and ^f shadow of the heavenly things, even as Moses is warned of God when he is about to ⁴ make the tabernacle: for, ^g See, saith he, that thou make all things according to the pattern that was shewed thee in the mount. ⁶ But now hath he obtained a ministry ^h the more excellent, by how much also he is ⁱ the mediator of ^j a better ⁵ covenant, which hath been enacted upon better promises. ⁷ ^k For if that first covenant had been faultless, then would no place have been sought for a second. ⁸ For finding fault with them, he saith,

¹ Behold, the days come, saith the Lord,

That I will ⁶ make a new ⁵ covenant with the house of Israel and with the house of Judah;

⁹ Not according to the ⁵ covenant that I made with their fathers In the day that I took them by the hand to lead them forth out of the land of Egypt; For they continued not in my ⁵ covenant, And I regarded them not, saith the Lord.

¹⁰ ^m For this is the ⁵ covenant that ⁷ I will make with the house of Israel

After those days, saith the Lord;

I will put my laws into their mind,

And ⁿ on their heart also will I ⁿ write them: ⁿ Cp. 2 Cor. 3. 3.

And I will be to them a God, And they shall be to me a people:

¹¹ And they shall not teach every man his fellow-citizen, And every man his brother, saying, Know the Lord:

For ^o all shall know me, From the least to the greatest of them. ^o Isai. 54. 13. John 6. 45. 1 John 2. 27.

¹² For I will be merciful to their iniquities,

^p And their sins will I remember no more. ^p ch. 10. 17. Rom. 11.27.

¹³ In that he saith, A new covenant, he hath made the first old. But ^q that which is becoming old and waxeth aged is nigh unto vanishing away. ^q Cp. 2 Cor. 5. 17.

9 had ordinances of divine service, and ^r its sanctuary, a sanctuary of this world. ² For there was ^s a tabernacle prepared, the first, wherein ^t were ¹ the candlestick, and ^u the table, and ^v the shewbread; which is called the Holy place. ³ And after ^w the second veil, the tabernacle which is called the Holy of holies; ⁴ having a golden ¹⁰ ^x censer, and

^y the ark of the covenant overlaid round about with gold, wherein

¹¹ was ^z a golden pot holding the manna, and ^a Aaron's rod that budded, and ^b the tables of the covenant; ⁵ and above it ^c cherubim of glory overshadowing ¹² ^d the mercy-seat; of which things we cannot now speak severally. ⁶ Now these things having been thus prepared, ^e the priests go in continually into the first tabernacle, accomplishing the services; ⁷ but into the second ^f the high priest alone, ¹ once in the year, not without blood, ^g which he offereth for himself, and for the ¹³ errors of the people: ⁸ the Holy Ghost this signifying, that

^h the way into the holy place hath not yet been made manifest, while

as the first tabernacle is yet standing; ⁹ which ⁱ is a parable for the time now present; according to which are offered both gifts and sacrifices ^j that cannot, as touching

the conscience, make the worshipper

perfect, ¹⁰ being only (with ^j meats and drinks and ^k divers washings) carnal ordinances, imposed until a time of reformation.

¹¹ But Christ having come a high priest ^l of ¹ the good things to come, through ^m the greater and more perfect tabernacle, ⁿ not made with hands, that is to say, not of this creation, ¹² nor yet through ^o the blood of goats and calves, but ^p through his own blood, ^q entered in ^r once for all into the holy place, ^s having obtained eternal redemption. ¹³ For if ^t the blood of goats and bulls, and ^u the ashes of a heifer sprinkling them that have been defiled, sanctify unto the cleanness of the flesh : ¹⁴ how much more shall ^v the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit ^w offered himself without blemish unto God, ^x cleanse ² your conscience ^y from dead works ^z to serve the living God? ¹⁵ And for this cause he is ^a the mediator of a new ³ covenant, ^b that a death having taken place for the redemption of the transgressions that were under the first ³ covenant, ^c they that have been called may ^d receive the promise of the eternal inheritance. ¹⁶ For where a ³ testament is, there must of necessity ⁴ be the death of him that made it. ¹⁷ For ^e a ³ testament is of force ⁵ where there hath been death : ⁶ for doth it ever avail while he that made it liveth? ¹⁸ Wherefore even the first covenant hath not been dedicated ^f without blood. ¹⁹ For when every commandment had been spoken by Moses unto all the people according to the law, he took ^g the blood of the calves and the goats, ^h with water and scarlet wool and hyssop, and sprinkled both the book itself, and all the people, ²⁰ saying, ⁱ This is the blood of the ³ covenant which God commanded to you-ward. ²¹ Moreover ^j the tabernacle and all the vessels of the ministry he sprinkled in like manner with the blood. ²² And according to the law, I may almost say, all things are cleansed with blood, and ^k apart from shedding of blood there is no remission.

²³ It was necessary therefore that ^l the copies of the things in the heavens should be cleansed with these ;

but the heavenly things themselves with better sacrifices than these. ²⁴ For Christ entered not into a holy place ^m made with hands, like in pattern to the true; but into heaven itself, now to appear before the face of God ⁿ for us : ²⁵ nor yet that he should offer himself often ; as ^o the high priest entereth into ^p the holy place year by year with blood not his own ; ²⁶ else must he often have suffered since the foundation of the world : but now ^q once ^r at the ⁷ end of the ages ^s hath he been manifested to put away sin ⁸ by the sacrifice of himself. ²⁷ And inasmuch as ^t it is ⁹ appointed unto men once to die, and ^u after this cometh judgement ; ²⁸ so Christ also, having been once offered ^v to bear the sins of ^w many, shall appear ^x a second time, ^y apart from sin, to them that ^z wait for him, unto salvation.

¹ For the law having ^a a shadow ^b of the good things to come, not the very image of the things, ¹⁰ ^c they can never with the same sacrifices year by year, which they offer continually, make perfect them that draw nigh. ² Else would they not have ceased to be offered, because the worshippers, having been once cleansed, would have had no more conscience of sins? ³ But ^d in those sacrifices ^e there is a remembrance made of sins year by year. ⁴ For ^f it is impossible that the blood of bulls and goats should take away sins. ⁵ Wherefore ^g when he cometh into the world, he saith,

^h Sacrifice and offering thou wouldest not,
But a body didst thou prepare for me ;

⁶ In whole burnt offerings and sacrifices for sin thou hadst no pleasure :

⁷ Then said I, Lo, I am come (In the roll of the book it is written of me)

To do thy will, O God.

⁸ Saying above, ^h Sacrifices and offerings and whole burnt offerings and sacrifices for sin thou wouldest not, neither hadst pleasure therein (the which are offered according to the law), ⁹ then hath he said, ⁱ Lo, I am come to do thy will. He tak-

eth away the first, that he may establish the second. ¹⁰ By which will ^jwe have been sanctified through the offering of ^kthe body of Jesus Christ ^lonce for all. ¹¹ And every ²priest indeed standeth ^mday by day ministering and ⁿoffering oftentimes the same sacrifices, the ^owhich can never take away sins: ¹² but he, when he had offered one sacrifice for ³sins for ever, ^psat down on the right hand of God; ¹³ from henceforth expecting ^qtill his enemies be made the footstool of his feet. ¹⁴ For by one offering ^rhe hath perfected for ever them that are sanctified. ¹⁵ And the Holy Ghost also beareth witness to us: for after he hath said,

¹⁶ ^sThis is the ⁴covenant that ⁵I will make with them

After those days, saith the Lord; I will put my laws on their heart,

And upon their mind also will I write them;

then saith he,

¹⁷ ^tAnd their sins and their iniquities will I remember no more.

¹⁸ Now where remission of these is, there is no more offering for sin.

¹⁹ ^uHaving therefore, brethren, boldness to enter into ^vthe holy place by the blood of Jesus, ²⁰ by ^wthe way which he dedicated for us, a new and living way, through ^xthe veil, that is to say, his flesh; ²¹ and ^{having} ^ya great priest over the house of God; ²² let us draw near with a true heart in ⁶fulness of faith, having our hearts ^zsprinkled ^afrom an evil ⁷conscience, and our body ^bwashed with pure water: ²³ let us hold fast the confession of our hope that it waver not; for ^dhe is faithful that promised: ²⁴ and ^elet us consider one another to provoke unto love and good works; ²⁵ ^fnot forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the custom of some is, but exhorting ^{one another}; and ^gso much the more, as ye see ^hthe day drawing nigh.

²⁶ For ⁱif we sin wilfully ^jafter that we have received the knowledge of the truth, ^kthere remaineth no more a sacrifice for sins, ²⁷ ^lbut a certain fearful expectation of judgement, and ^ma ⁸fierceness of fire which shall devour the adversaries. ²⁸ ⁿA man that hath set at nought Moses' law dieth without compassion ^oon the word of two or three witnesses: ²⁹ of how much sorer punishment, think ye, shall he be judged worthy, ^pwho hath trodden under foot the Son of God, and hath counted ^qthe blood of the covenant, ^rwherewith he was sanctified, ⁹an unholy thing, and ^shath done despite unto the Spirit of grace? ³⁰ For we know him that said, ^tVengeance belongeth unto me, I will recompense. And again, ^uThe Lord shall judge his people. ³¹ ^vIt is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God.

³² But call to remembrance the former days, in which, after ^wye were enlightened, ye endured ^xa great conflict of sufferings; ³³ partly, being made ^ya gazingstock both by reproaches and afflictions; and partly, becoming partakers with them that were so used. ³⁴ For ^zye both had compassion on them that were in bonds, and ^atook joyfully the spoiling of your possessions, knowing ¹⁰ ^bthat ¹¹ye yourselves have ^ca better possession and an abiding one. ³⁵ Cast not away therefore your boldness, which hath great ^drecompense of reward. ³⁶ For ^eye have need of patience, that, ^fhaving done the will of God, ye may ^greceive the promise.

³⁷ For ^hyet a very little while, ⁱHe that cometh shall come, and shall not tarry.

³⁸ ^jBut ¹²my righteous one shall live by faith:

And if he shrink back, my soul hath no pleasure in him.

³⁹ But we are not ¹³of them that shrink back unto perdition; but of them that have faith unto the ¹⁴saving of the soul.

I Now faith is ¹⁵the assurance of ^{things} hoped for, the ¹⁶proving of ^kthings not seen.

² For therein the elders had witness borne to them. ³ By faith we understand that ^lthe ¹⁷worlds have been framed by the word of God, so that what is seen hath not been made out of ^mthings which do appear. ⁴ By faith ⁿ Abel offered unto God ^o a more excellent sacrifice than Cain, through which he had witness borne to him that he was righteous, ¹ God bearing witness ² in respect of his gifts; and ^p through it he being dead yet ^q speaketh. ⁵ By faith ^r Enoch was translated that he should not see death; and he was not found, because God translated him: for before his translation he hath had witness borne to him that he had been well-pleasing unto God: ⁶ and without faith it is impossible to be well-pleasing unto him: for he that cometh to God ^s must believe that he is, ^s and that he is a rewarder of them that seek after him. ⁷ By faith ^t Noah, being warned of God concerning ^u things not seen as yet, moved with godly fear, ^t prepared an ark to the saving of his house; through which he condemned the world, and became heir of ^v the righteousness which is according to faith. ⁸ By faith ^w Abraham, when he was called, obeyed to go out unto a place ^x which he was to receive for an inheritance; and he went out, not knowing whither he went. ⁹ By faith he became a sojourner in ^y the land of promise, as in a land not his own, ^z dwelling in tents, ^a with Isaac and Jacob, the heirs with him of the same promise: ¹⁰ for he looked for ^b the city which hath ^c the foundations, ^d whose ^d builder and maker is God. ¹¹ By faith even ^e Sarah herself received power to conceive seed when she was past age, since she counted ^f him faithful who had promised: ¹² wherefore also there sprang of one, and ^g him as good as dead, ^h so many as the stars of heaven in multitude, and as the sand, which is by the sea shore, innumerable.

¹³ These all died ⁱ in faith, ⁱ not having received the promises, but ^j having seen them and greeted them from afar, and ^k having confessed that they were ^l strangers and pilgrims on the earth. ¹⁴ For they that say such things make it manifest that they are seeking after a country of their own. ¹⁵ And if indeed they had been mindful of that country from which they went out, ^m they would have had opportunity to return. ¹⁶ But now they desire a better country, that is, a heavenly: wherefore God is not ashamed of them, ⁿ to be called their God: for ^o he hath prepared for them a city.

¹⁷ By faith ^p Abraham, being tried, ^q offered up Isaac: yea, he that had gladly received the promises was offering up his only begotten son; ¹⁸ even he ^r to whom it was said, ^r In Isaac shall thy seed be called: ¹⁹ ^r accounting that God ^s is able to raise up, even from the dead; from whence he did also in a parable receive him back. ²⁰ By faith ^s Isaac blessed Jacob and Esau, even concerning things to come. ²¹ By faith ^t Jacob, when he was a dying, blessed each of the sons of Joseph; and ^u worshipped, leaning upon the top of his staff. ²² By faith ^v Joseph, when his end was nigh, made mention of the departure of the children of Israel; and gave commandment concerning his bones. ²³ By faith ^w Moses, when he was born, was hid three months by his parents, because they saw he was a goodly child; and they were not afraid of ^x the king's commandment. ²⁴ By faith Moses, when he was grown up, ^y refused to be called the son of Pharaoh's daughter; ²⁵ ^z choosing rather to be evil entreated with the people of God, than to enjoy ^a the pleasures of sin for a season; ²⁶ ^b accounting the reproach of ^b Christ greater riches than the treasures of Egypt: for he looked unto ^c the recompense of reward. ²⁷ By faith he ^d forsook Egypt, ^e not fearing the wrath of the king: for he endured, ^f as seeing him who is invisible. ²⁸ By faith ^g he ^g kept the passover, and the sprinkling of the blood, that the destroyer of the firstborn should not touch them. ²⁹ By faith ^h they passed through the Red sea as by dry land: which the Egyptians assaying to do were swallowed up. ³⁰ By faith ⁱ the walls of Jericho fell down, after they had been compassed about for seven days. ³¹ By faith ^j Rahab the harlot perished not with them that were disobedient, ^k having received the spies with peace. ³² And what shall I more say? for the time will fail me if I tell of ¹Gideon, ^mBarak, ⁿSamson, ^oJephthah; of ^pDavid and ^qSamuel and the prophets: ³³ who through faith subdued kingdoms, wrought righteousness, ^robtained promises, ^sstopped the mouths of lions, ³⁴ quenched the power of fire, escaped the edge of the sword, from weakness were made strong, ^uwaxed mighty in war, ^vturned to flight armies of aliens. ³⁵ ^vWomen received their dead by a resurrection: and others ^wwere ¹tortured, not accepting ²their deliverance; ^xthat they might obtain a better resurrection: ³⁶ and others had trial of ^ymockings and scourgings, yea, more-over of ^zbonds and imprisonment: ³⁷ ^athey were stoned, they were sawn asunder, they were tempted, ^bthey were slain with the sword: ^cthey went about in sheepskins, in goatskins; being destitute, afflicted, evil entreated ³⁸ (of whom the world was not worthy), ^dwandering in deserts and mountains and caves, and the holes of the earth. ³⁹ And these all, ^ehaving had witness borne to them through their faith, ^freceived not the promise, ⁴⁰ God having ^gprovided some better thing concerning us, ^hthat apart from us they should not be made perfect.

12 Therefore let us also, seeing we are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, lay aside ⁴every weight, and ^gthe sin which ⁵doth so easily beset us, and ^hlet us run ⁱwith patience the race that is ^jset before us, ²looking unto Jesus the ⁶author and perfecter of our faith, ¹who for the joy that was set before him endured the cross, despising ^mshame, and ⁿhath sat down at the right hand of the throne of God. ³ For ^oconsider him that hath endured such gainsaying of sinners against ⁷themselves, that ye wax not weary, ^pfainting in your souls. ⁴ Ye have not yet resisted unto blood, striving against sin: ⁵ and ye have forgotten the exhortation, which reasoneth with you as with sons,

^q My son, ^rregard not lightly the chastening of the Lord,

Nor faint when thou art reproved of him;

⁶ For ^swhom the Lord loveth he chasteneth,

And scourgeth every son whom he receiveth.

⁷ ⁸ It is for chastening that ye endure; ^tGod dealeth with you as with sons; for what son is there whom his father chasteneth not? ⁸ But if ye are without chastening, ^uwhereof all have been made partakers, then are ye bastards, and not sons.

⁹ Furthermore, we had the fathers of our flesh to chasten us, and we gave them reverence: shall we not much rather be in subjection unto ^vthe Father of ⁹spirits, ^wand live? ¹⁰ For they verily for a few days chastened us as seemed good to them; but he for our profit, ^xthat we may be partakers of his holiness.

¹¹ All chastening seemeth ^yfor the present to be not joyous, but grievous: yet afterward it yieldeth ^zpeaceable fruit unto them that have been exercised thereby, even the fruit of righteousness. ¹² Wherefore ¹⁰ lift up the hands that hang down, and the palsied knees; ¹³ and ^bmake straight paths for your feet, that that which is lame be not ¹¹ turned out of the way, ^cbut rather be healed.

¹⁴ ^d Follow after peace with all men, and the ^esanctification ^fwithout which no man shall see the Lord: ¹⁵ looking carefully ¹² lest there be any man that ¹³ ^g falleth short of the grace of God; lest any ^h root of bitterness springing up trouble you, and thereby the many be defiled; ¹⁶ ¹² lest there be any ⁱ fornicator, or profane person, as Esau, ^j who for one mess of meat sold his own birthright. ¹⁷ For ye know that even when ^k he afterward desired to inherit the blessing, he was rejected (for he found no ^l place of repentance), though he sought it diligently with tears.

¹⁸ For ye are not come unto ¹⁴ ^m a mount that might be touched, and that burned with fire, and unto blackness, and darkness, and tempest, ¹⁹ and ⁿ the sound of a trumpet, and the voice of words; ^o which voice they that heard intreated that no word more should be spoken

unto them: ²⁰for they could not endure that which was enjoined, ²¹If even a beast touch the mountain, it shall be stoned; ²¹and ²²so fearful was the appearance, that Moses said, I exceedingly fear and quake: ²²but ye are come unto ²³mount Zion, and unto the city of the living God, ²⁴the heavenly Jerusalem, ¹and to ²⁵innumerable hosts of angels, ²⁶to the general assembly and ²⁷church of the first-born who are ²⁸enrolled in heaven, and to ²⁹God the Judge of all, and to the spirits of just men made perfect, ³⁰and to Jesus ³¹the mediator of a new ³²covenant, and to ³³the blood of sprinkling ³⁴that speaketh better ³⁵than that of Abel. ²⁵See that ye refuse not him that speaketh. For ³⁶if they escaped not, when they refused him that warned them on earth, much more shall not we escape, who turn away from him ³⁷that warneth from heaven: ²⁶^bwhose voice then shook the earth: but now he hath promised, saying, ³⁸Yet once more will I make to tremble not the earth only, but also the heaven. ²⁷And this word, Yet once more, signifieth ³⁹the removing of those things that are shaken, as of things that have been made, that those things which are not shaken may remain. ²⁸Wherefore, receiving ⁴⁰a kingdom that cannot be shaken, ²⁹let us have ⁴¹grace, whereby we may offer service well-pleasing to God with ⁴²reverence and awe: ²⁹for our ⁴³God is a consuming fire.

13 ¹Let ⁴⁴love of the brethren continue. ²Forget not to shew love unto strangers: for thereby ⁴⁵some have entertained angels unawares. ³Remember them that are in bonds, as bound with them; that they are evil entreated, as being yourselves also in the body. ⁴Let marriage be had in honour among all, and let the bed be undefiled: ⁴⁶for fornicators and adulterers God will judge. ⁵Be ye ⁴⁷free from the love of money; ⁶content with such things as ye have: for himself hath said, ⁴⁸I will in no wise fail thee, neither will I in any wise forsake thee. ⁶So that with good courage we say,

⁷The Lord is my helper; ⁸I will not fear: What shall man do unto me? ⁷Remember them ⁹that had the rule over you, which spake unto you the word of God; and considering the issue of their ¹⁰life, ¹¹imitate their faith. ⁸Jesus Christ is ¹²the same yesterday and to-day, ⁹yea and ¹⁰for ever. ⁹Be not ¹³carried away by divers and strange teachings: for it is good that the heart be established by grace; ¹⁰not by meats, wherein they that ¹¹occupied themselves were not profited. ¹⁰We have an altar, ¹²whereof they have no right to eat which serve the tabernacle. ¹¹For ¹³the bodies of those beasts, whose blood is brought into the holy place ¹²by the high priest as an offering for sin, are burned ¹⁴without the camp. ¹²Wherefore Jesus also, that he might sanctify the people ¹⁵through his own blood, ¹⁶suffered ¹⁷without the gate. ¹³Let us therefore go forth unto him without the camp, bearing ¹⁸his reproach. ¹⁴For ¹⁹we have not here an abiding city, but we seek after the city which is to come. ¹⁵Through him ¹³then let us offer up ²⁰a sacrifice of praise to God continually, that is, ²¹the fruit of lips which make confession to his name. ¹⁶But to do good and ²²to communicate forget not: for with such ²³sacrifices God is well pleased. ¹⁷Obeys them ²⁴that have the rule over you, and submit to them: ²⁵for they watch in behalf of your souls, as they that shall ²⁶give account; ²⁷that they may do this with joy, and not with ²⁸grief: for this were unprofitable for you. ¹⁸Pray for us: for we are persuaded that we have a good conscience, desiring to live honestly in all things. ¹⁹And I exhort you the more exceedingly to do this, ³⁰that I may be restored to you the sooner. ²⁰Now ³¹the God of peace, ³²who brought again from the dead ³³the great shepherd of the sheep ³⁴with ³⁵the blood of the eternal covenant, even our Lord Jesus, ²¹make you perfect in every good ³⁶thing to do his will, ³⁷working in ³⁸us that which is well-pleasing in his sight,

1 ^a JAMES, a ² servant of God I and ^b of the Lord Jesus Christ, to ^c the twelve tribes which are of ^d the Dispersion, ³ greeting.

2 ^e Count it all joy, my brethren, when ye fall into ^f manifold ⁴ temptations; 3 knowing that ^g the proof of your faith ^h worketh patience. 4 And let patience have ⁱ its perfect work, that ye may be ^j perfect and entire, lacking in nothing.

5 But ^k if any of you lacketh wisdom, ^l let him ask of God, ^m who giveth to all liberally and upbraideth not; and it shall be given him. 6 But ⁿ let him ask in faith, ^o nothing doubting: for he that doubteth is like ^p the surge of the sea driven by the wind and tossed. 7 For let not that man think ⁵ that he shall receive anything of the Lord; 8 ^q a doubleminded man, ^r unstable in all his ways.

9 But let the brother of low degree glory in his high estate: 10 and ^s the rich, in that he is made low: because ^t as the flower of the grass he shall pass away. 11 For the sun ariseth with the scorching wind, and ^u withereth the grass; and the flower thereof falleth, and the grace of the fashion of it perisheth: so also shall the rich man fade away in his goings.

12 ^v Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he hath been approved, he shall receive ^w the crown of life, ^x which ^y the Lord promised to them that love him. 13 ^z Let no man say when he is tempted, I am tempted ⁶ of God: for God ⁷ cannot be tempted with ⁸ evil, and he himself tempteth not man: 14 but each man is ⁹ tempted, when he is drawn away by his own lust, and enticed. 15 Then the lust, ^y when it hath conceived, beareth sin: and ^z the sin, when it is full-grown, bringeth forth death. 16 Be not deceived, my beloved brethren. 17 ^a Every good ¹⁰ gift and every perfect boon is from above, coming down from ^b the Father of lights, ^c with whom can be no variation, neither shadow that is cast by turning. 18 ^d Of his own will he ^e brought us forth by the word of truth, ^f that we should be a kind of ^g firstfruits of his creatures.

19 ¹¹ ^h Ye know ^{this}, my beloved brethren. But let every man ⁱ be swift to hear, ^j slow to speak, ^k slow to wrath: 20 for the wrath of man worketh not the righteousness of God. 21 Wherefore ^l putting away all filthiness and overflowing of ^m wickedness, receive ⁿ with meekness the ¹³ implanted word, ^o which is able to save your souls. 22 But be ye ^p doers of the word, and not hearers only, deluding your own selves. 23 For if any one is a hearer of the word, and not a doer, he is like unto a man beholding ¹⁴ his natural face in a mirror: 24 for he beholdeth himself, and goeth away, and straightway forgetteth what manner of man he was. 25 But he that looketh into the perfect law, ^p the ^{law} of liberty, and so continueth, being not a hearer that forgetteth, but a doer that worketh, ^q this man shall be blessed in his doing. 26 If any man ¹⁵ thinketh himself to be religious, ^r while he bridleth not his tongue but deceiveth his heart, this man's religion is vain. 27 Pure religion and undefiled before our God and Father is this, to visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and to keep himself unspotted from the world.

2 My brethren, hold not the faith of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Lord of glory, with respect of persons. 2 For if there come into your synagogue a man with a gold ring, in fine clothing, and there come in also a poor man in vile clothing; 3 and ye have regard to him that weareth the fine clothing, and say, Sit thou here in a good place; and ye say to the poor man, Stand thou there, or sit under my footstool; 4 are ye not divided in your own mind, and become judges with evil thoughts? 5 Harken, my beloved brethren; did not God choose them that are poor as to the world to be rich in faith, and heirs of the kingdom which he promised to them that love him? 6 But ye have dishonoured the poor man. Do not the rich oppress you, and themselves drag you before the judgement-seats? 7 Do not they blaspheme the honourable name by the which ye are called? 8 Howbeit if ye fulfil the royal law, according to the scripture, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself, ye do well: 9 but if ye have respect of persons, ye commit sin, being convicted by the law as transgressors. 10 For whosoever shall keep the whole law, and yet stumble in one point, he is become guilty of all. 11 For he that said, Do not commit adultery, said also, Do not kill. Now if thou dost not commit adultery, but killest, thou art become a transgressor of the law. 12 So speak ye, and so do, as men that are to be judged by a law of liberty. 13 For judgement is without mercy to him that hath shewed no mercy: mercy glorieth against judgement.

14 What doth it profit, my brethren, if a man say he hath faith, and have not works? can that faith save him? 15 If a brother or sister be naked, and in lack of daily food, and one of you say unto them, Go in peace, be ye warmed and filled; and yet ye give them not the things needful to the body; what doth it profit? 17 Even so faith, if it have not works, is dead in itself. 18 Yea, a man will say, Thou hast faith, and I have works: shew me thy faith apart from thy works, and I by my works will shew thee my faith. 19 Thou believest that God is one; thou doest well: the devils also believe, and shudder. 20 But wilt thou know, O vain man, that faith apart from works is barren? 21 Was not Abraham our father justified by works, in that he offered up Isaac his son upon the altar? 22 Thou seest that faith wrought with his works, and by works was faith made perfect; 23 and the scripture was fulfilled which saith, And Abraham believed God, and it was reckoned unto him for righteousness; and he was called the friend of God. 24 Ye see that by works a man is justified, and not only by faith. 25 And in like manner was not also Rahab the harlot justified by works, in that she received the messengers, and sent them out another way? 26 For as the body apart from the spirit is dead, even so faith apart from works is dead.

3 Be not many teachers, my brethren, knowing that we shall receive heavier judgement. 2 For in many things we all stumble. If any stumbleth not in word, the same is a perfect man, able to bridle the whole body also. 3 Now if we put the horses' bridles into their mouths, that they may obey us, we turn about their whole body also. 4 Behold, the ships also, though they are so great, and are driven by rough winds, are yet turned about by a very small rudder, whither the impulse of the steersman willeth. 5 So the tongue also is a little member, and boasteth great things. Behold, how much wood is kindled by how small a fire! 6 And the tongue is a fire: the world of iniquity among our members is the tongue, which defileth the whole body, and setteth

1 Or, do ye, in accepting persons, hold the faith . . . glory? 2 Or, assembly 3 Or, do ye not make distinctions 4 Or, among yourselves 5 Gr. which was called upon you. 6 Or, But some one will say 7 Some ancient authorities read there is one God. 8 Gr. demons. 9 Or, Seest thou . . . perfect? 10 Gr. greater. 11 Or, how great a forest 12 Or, a fire, that world of iniquity: the tongue is among our members that which &c. 13 Or, that world of iniquity, the tongue, is among our members that which &c.

on fire the wheel of ¹ nature, and is set on fire by hell. ⁷ For every ² kind of beasts and birds, of creeping things and things in the sea, is tamed, and hath been tamed ³ by ⁴ mankind: ⁸ but the tongue can no man tame; it is a restless evil, it is ^m full of deadly poison. ⁹ Therewith bless we the Lord and Father; and therewith curse we men, ⁿ which are made after the likeness of God: ¹⁰ out of the same mouth cometh forth blessing and cursing. My brethren, these things ought not so to be. ¹¹ Doth the fountain send forth from the same opening sweet water and bitter? ¹² can a fig tree, my brethren, yield olives, or a vine figs? neither can salt water yield sweet.

¹³ Who is wise and understanding among you? ^o let him shew by his good life his works ^p in meekness of wisdom. ¹⁴ But if ye have bitter ^q jealousy and faction in your heart, glory not and lie not against the truth. ¹⁵ This wisdom is not ^r a wisdom that cometh down from above, but is earthly, ^s sensual, ^t devilish. ¹⁶ For where jealousy and faction are, there is confusion and every vile deed. ¹⁷ But ^u the wisdom that is from above is first pure, then ^v peaceable, ^w gentle, easy to be intreated, ^x full of mercy and good fruits, without ^y variance, ^z without hypocrisy. ¹⁸ And ^a the fruit of righteousness ^b is sown in peace ^c for them that make peace.

¹ Whence come wars and 4 whence come fightings among you? come they not hence, even of your pleasures ^c that war in your members? ² Ye lust, and have not: ye kill, and ^d covet, and cannot obtain: ye fight and war; ye have not, because ye ask not. ³ Ye ask, and receive not, because ye ask ^e amiss, that ye may spend it in your pleasures. ⁴ ^e Ye adulteresses, know ye not that the friendship of the world is enmity with God? ^f Whosoever therefore would be a friend of the world maketh himself an enemy of God. ⁵ Or think ye that the scripture ¹⁰ speaketh in vain? ¹¹ ^g Doth the spirit ^h which ¹² he made to dwell in us long unto envying? ⁶ But ⁱ he giveth ¹³ more grace. Wherefore the scripture saith, ^j God resisteth the proud, but ^k giveth grace to the humble. ⁷ Be subject therefore unto God; but ^l resist the devil, and he will flee from you. ⁸ ¹ Draw nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you. ^m Cleanse your hands, ye sinners; and ⁿ purify your hearts, ^o ye doubleminded. ⁹ ^p Be afflicted, and mourn, and weep: let your laughter be turned to mourning, and your joy to heaviness. ¹⁰ ^q Humble yourselves in the sight of the Lord, and he shall exalt you.

¹¹ ^r Speak not one against another, brethren. He that speaketh against a brother, or ^s judgeth his brother, speaketh against the law, and judgeth the law: but if thou judgest the law, thou art not a doer of the law, but a judge. ¹² One only is ^t the lawgiver and ^u judge, even he who is able to save and ^v to destroy: but ^w who art thou that judgest thy neighbour?

¹³ Go to now, ye that say, ^x To-day or to-morrow we will go into this city, and spend a year there, and trade, and get gain: ¹⁴ whereas ye know not what shall be on the morrow. What is your life? For ^y ye are a vapour, that appeareth for a little time, and then ^z vanisheth away. ¹⁵ ¹⁴ For that ye ought to say, ^a If the Lord will, we shall both live, and do this or that. ¹⁶ But now ye glory in your vauntings: ^b all such glorying is evil. ¹⁷ ^c To him therefore that knoweth to do good, and doeth it not, to him it is sin.

¹ Go to now, ^d ye rich, weep 5 and howl for your ^e miseries that are coming upon you. ² ^f Your riches are corrupted, and ^g your garments are moth-eaten. ³ Your gold and your silver are rusted; and their rust shall be for a testimony ¹⁵ against you, and shall eat your flesh as fire. ⁴ Ye have laid up your treasure ^h in the last days. ⁴ Behold, ⁱ the hire of the labourers who mowed your fields, which is of you kept back by fraud, crieth out: and ^j the cries of them

⁷ Be patient therefore, brethren, until the ¹ coming of the Lord. Behold, the husbandman waiteth for the precious fruit of the earth, being patient over it, until ² it receive ^q the early and latter rain. ⁸ Be ye also patient; ^r stablish your hearts: for the ¹ coming of the Lord ^s is at hand. ⁹ Murmur not, brethren, one against another, ^t that ye be not judged: behold, ^u the judge standeth ^v before the doors. ¹⁰ Take, brethren, for an example of suffering and of patience, ^w the prophets who spake in the name of the Lord. ¹¹ Behold, we call them blessed which endured: ye have heard of ^x the ³ patience of Job, and have seen ^y the end of the Lord, how that ^z the Lord is full of pity, and merciful.

¹² But above all things, my brethren, ^a swear not, neither by the heaven, nor by the earth, nor by any other oath: but ⁴ let your yea be yea, and your nay, nay; that ye fall not under judgement.

¹³ Is any among you suffering? let him pray. Is any cheerful? let him ^b sing praise. ¹⁴ Is any among you sick? let him call for the elders of the church; and let them pray over him, ⁵ ^c anointing him with oil in the name of the Lord: ¹⁵ and the prayer of faith shall save him that is sick, and the Lord shall raise him up; and ^d if he have committed sins, it shall be forgiven him. ¹⁶ ^e Confess therefore your sins one to another, and pray one for another, ^f that ye may be healed. ^g The supplication of a righteous man availeth much in its working. ¹⁷ Elijah was a man ^h of like ⁶ passions with us, and ⁱ he prayed ⁷ fervently that it might not rain; and it rained not on the earth for ^j three years and six months. ¹⁸ ^k And he prayed again; and the heaven gave rain, and the earth brought forth her fruit.

¹⁹ My brethren, ^l if any among you do err from the truth, and one ^m convert him; ²⁰ ⁸ let him know, that he which converteth a sinner from the error of his way ⁿ shall save a soul from death, and ^o shall cover a multitude of sins.

THE FIRST EPISTLE GENERAL OF PETER.

¹ PETER, an apostle of Jesus Christ, to the elect who are sojourners of ^a the Dispersion in Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia, and Bithynia, ² according to ^b the foreknowledge of God the Father, ^c in sanctification of the Spirit, unto obedience and ^d sprinkling of the blood of Jesus Christ: ^e Grace to you and ^f peace be multiplied.

³ ^g Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who ^h according to his great mercy ⁱ begat us again unto a living hope ^j by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, ^k unto ^l an inheritance incorruptible, and undefiled, and ^m that fadeth not away, ⁿ reserved in heaven for you, ⁵ who by the power of God are guarded ⁿ through faith unto a salvation ^o ready to be revealed in the last time. ⁶ Wherein ye greatly rejoice, though now for a little while, if need be, ye have been put to grief in ^p manifold ^q temptations, ⁷ that ^r the proof of your faith, being more precious than gold that perisheth ^s though it is proved by ^t fire, might be found unto ^u praise and glory and honour at the revelation of Jesus Christ: ⁸ ^u whom not having seen ye love; ^v on whom, though now ye see him not, yet believing, ye rejoice greatly with joy unspeakable and ¹⁰ full of glory: ⁹ receiving ^w the end of your faith, even the salvation of your souls. ¹⁰ Concerning which salva-

11 Beloved, I beseech you ^jas sojourners and pilgrims, ^kto abstain from fleshly lusts, ^lwhich war against the soul; ^m12 having your behaviour seemly among the Gentiles; that, wherein they speak against you as evil-doers, ⁿthey may by your good works, which they behold, glorify God in ^othe day of visitation.

13 ^pBe subject to every ^q1 ordinance of man for the Lord's sake: whether it be to the king, as supreme; ^r14 or unto governors, as sent ^s2 by him ^t9 for vengeance on evil-doers and ^ufor praise to them that do well. ^v15 For so is the will of God, ^wthat by well-doing ye should put to silence the ignorance of foolish men: ^x16 ^yas free, and not ^z3 using your freedom for a cloke of ^{aa}4 wickedness, but ^{ab}as bondservants of God. ^{ac}17 Honour all men. ^{ad}Love the brotherhood. ^{ae}Fear God. Honour the king.

18 ^{af}5 ^{ag}Ye Servants, be in subjection to your masters with all fear; not only to the good and gentle, but also to the froward. ^{ah}19 For this is ^{ai}6 acceptable, ^{aj}if for conscience ^{ak}7 toward God a man endureth griefs, suffering wrongfully. ^{al}20 For what glory is it, if, when ye sin, and are buffeted ^{am}for it, ye shall take it patiently? but ^{an}if, when ye do well, and suffer ^{ao}for it, ye shall take it patiently, this is ^{ap}6 acceptable with God. ^{aq}21 For ^{ar}hereunto were ye called: ^{as}because Christ also suffered for you, ^{at}leaving you an example, that ye should follow his steps: ^{au}22 ^{av}who did no sin, neither was guile found in his mouth: ^{aw}23 ^{ax}who, when he was reviled, reviled not again; when he suffered, threatened not; but ^{ay}committed ^{az}himself to him that judgeth righteously: ^{ba}24 ^{bb}who his own self ^{bc}9 bare our sins in his body upon the tree, that we, ^{bd}having died unto sins, ^{be}might live unto righteousness; ^{bf}by whose ^{bg}10 stripes ye were healed. ^{bh}25 For ^{bi}ye were going astray like sheep; but are now returned unto ^{bj}the Shepherd and ^{bk}11 Bishop of your souls.

1 In like manner, ye wives, ³be in subjection to your own husbands; that, even if any obey not the word, ⁿthey may without the word ^obe gained by the ¹²behaviour of their wives; ²beholding your ^pchaste ¹²behaviour ^{coupled}with fear. ³Whose ^{adorn}ing ^qlet it not be the outward adorning of plaiting the hair, and of wearing jewels of gold, or of putting on apparel; ⁴but ^{let it be}the hidden man of the heart, in the incorruptible ^{apparel}of a meek and quiet spirit, which is in the sight of God of great price. ⁵For after this manner aforetime the holy women also, who hoped in God, adorned themselves, being in subjection to their own ¹³husbands: ⁶as Sarah obeyed Abraham, ^scalling him lord: whose children ye now are, if ye do well, and ^tare not ¹⁴put in fear by any terror.

⁷Ye husbands, in like manner, dwell with ^{your wives} according to knowledge, giving honour ¹⁵unto the woman, as unto the weaker ^vvessel, as being also joint-heirs of the grace of life; to the end that your prayers be not hindered.

⁸Finally, ^wbe ye all likeminded, ¹⁶compassionate, ^xloving as brethren, ^ytenderhearted, ^zhumble-minded: ⁹not rendering evil for evil, or reviling for reviling; but contrariwise ^bblessing; for ^chereunto were ye called, that ye should inherit a blessing. ¹⁰For,

^aHe that would love life,
 And see good days,
 Let him refrain his tongue from evil,
 And his lips that they speak no guile:

11 And let him turn away from evil, and do good;

Let him seek peace, and pursue it.

12 For the eyes of the Lord are upon the righteous,
 And his ears unto their supplication:

But the face of the Lord is upon them that do evil.

13 And ^ewho is he that will harm you, if ye be zealous of that which is good? ¹⁴But and if ye should suffer for righteousness' sake, blessed ^{are}ye: and ⁹fear not their fear, ^hneither be troubled; ¹⁵but ⁱsanctify in your hearts Christ as Lord: ^{being}ready always to give answer to every man that asketh

you a reason concerning the hope that is in you, yet ^kwith meekness and ^lfear: ¹⁶^mhaving a good conscience; that, ⁿwherein ye are spoken against, they may be put to shame who revile your good manner of life in Christ. ¹⁷For ^oit is better, if the will of God should so will, that ye suffer for well-doing than for evil-doing. ¹⁸Because Christ also ^{1p}suffered for sins ^qonce, the righteous for the unrighteous, ^rthat he might bring us to God; being put to death ^sin the flesh, but quickened ^tin the spirit; ¹⁹in which also he went and ^upreached unto the spirits in prison, ²⁰which aforetime were disobedient, ^vwhen the longsuffering of God waited in the days of Noah, ^wwhile the ark was a preparing, ²wherein few, that is, ^xeight souls, were saved through water: ²¹which also ³after a true likeness ^xdoth now save you, even baptism, not the putting away of the filth of the flesh, but ^ythe ⁴interrogation of a good conscience toward God, ^zthrough the resurrection of Jesus Christ; ²²^awho is on the right hand of God, having gone into heaven; ^bangels and authorities and powers being made subject unto him.

¹Forasmuch then as ^cChrist 4 suffered in the flesh, ^darm ye yourselves also with the same ⁵mind; for ^ehe that hath suffered in the flesh ^fhath ceased ⁶from sin; ²^gthat ⁷ye no longer should live ^hthe rest of your time in the flesh to ⁱthe lusts of men, but ^jto the will of God. ³For the time past ^kmay suffice ^lto have wrought the desire of the Gentiles, and to have walked in lasciviousness, lusts, winebibbings, revellings, carousings, and abominable idolatries: ⁴wherein they think it strange that ye run not with them into the same ⁸excess of ^mriot, ⁿspeaking evil of you: ⁵who shall give account to him that is ready ^oto judge the quick and the dead. ⁶For unto this end ^{9p}was the gospel preached even to the dead, that they might be judged according to men in the flesh, but live according to God in the spirit.

⁷But ^qthe end of all things is at hand: be ye therefore of sound mind, and ^rbe sober ^sunto ¹⁰prayer: ⁸above all things being fervent in your love among yourselves; for ^tlove covereth a multitude of sins: ⁹^uusing hospitality one to another without murmuring: ¹⁰^vaccording as each hath received a gift, ministering it among yourselves, ^was good stewards of the manifold grace of God; ¹¹if any man speaketh, speaking as it were ^xoracles of God; if any man ministereth, ministering ^yas of the strength which God supplieth: that in all things ^zGod may be glorified through Jesus Christ, ^awhose is the glory and ^bthe dominion ¹¹for ever and ever. Amen.

¹²Beloved, think it not strange concerning ^cthe fiery trial among you, which cometh upon you to prove you, as though a strange thing happened unto you: ¹³but ^dinsomuch as ye are partakers of Christ's sufferings, rejoice; that ^eat the revelation of his glory also ye may rejoice with exceeding joy. ¹⁴^fIf ye are reproached ^{12g}for the name of Christ, blessed are ye; because the Spirit of glory and the Spirit of God resteth upon you. ¹⁵For ^hlet none of you suffer as a murderer, or a thief, or an evil-doer, or ⁱas a meddler in other men's matters: ¹⁶but ^hif a man suffer as a ^jChristian, let him not be ashamed; but let him glorify God ⁹in this name. ¹⁷For the time is come for judgement ^kto begin at the house of God: and ^lif it begin first at us, what shall be the end of them that ^mobey not the gospel of God? ¹⁸And ⁿif the righteous is scarcely saved, where shall the ungodly and sinner appear? ¹⁹Wherefore let them also that suffer according to the will of God ^ocommit their souls in well-doing unto a faithful Creator.

¹The elders therefore among 5 you I exhort, ^pwho am a fellow-elder, and ^qa witness of the sufferings of Christ, who am also a partaker of the glory that shall be revealed: ²^rTend the flock of God which is among you, ¹³exercising

¹ But ^p there arose false prophets also among the people, as ^q among you also there shall be false teachers, who shall ^r privily bring in ¹⁰ destructive heresies, ^r denying even the Master ^s that bought them, bringing upon themselves swift destruction. ² And many shall follow their lascivious doings; by reason of whom the way of the truth ^t shall be evil spoken of. ³ And ^u in covetousness shall they ^v with feigned words ^w make merchandise of you: ^x whose sentence now from of old lingereth not, and their destruction slumbereth not. ⁴ For if God spared not ^y angels when they sinned, but ¹¹ cast them down to ¹² hell, and ^z committed them to ^{13a} pits of darkness, ^b to be reserved unto judgement; ⁵ and spared not the ancient world, but ^c preserved Noah with seven others, ^{14a} a preacher of righteousness, when he brought ^d a flood upon the world of the

ungodly; ⁶ and ^e turning the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah into ashes condemned them with an overthrow, ^f having made them an example unto those that should ^g live ungodly; ⁷ and ^h delivered righteous Lot, sore distressed by the lascivious life of the wicked ⁸ (for ⁱ that righteous man dwelling among them, in seeing and hearing, ^{15j} vexed his righteous soul from day to day with their lawless deeds): ⁹ ^k the Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptation, and to keep the unrighteous under punishment unto the day of judgement; ¹⁰ but chiefly ^l them that walk after the flesh in the lust of defilement, and ^m despise dominion. tion; for of ¹whom a man is overcome, of the same is he also brought into bondage. ²⁰For if, ⁱafter they have escaped the defilements of the world ^jthrough the knowledge of ²the Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, they are again entangled therein and overcome, ^kthe last state is become worse with them than the first. ²¹For ^lit were better for them not to have known the way of righteousness, than, after knowing it, to turn back from ^mthe holy commandment delivered unto them. ²²It has happened unto them according to the true proverb, The ⁿdog turning to his own vomit again, and the sow that had washed to wallowing in the mire.

¹This is now, beloved, the 3 second epistle that I write unto you; and in both of them ^oI stir up your sincere mind by putting you in remembrance; ^p²that ye should remember the words which were spoken before by ^qthe holy prophets, and the commandment of the Lord and Saviour through your apostles: ^r3 knowing this first, that ^s³in the last days mockers shall come with mockery, ^twalking after their own lusts, ⁴and ^usaying, Where is the promise of ^vhis ⁴coming? for, from the day that the fathers fell asleep, all things continue as they were from the beginning of the creation. ⁵For this they wilfully forget, that there were heavens from of old, and an earth ^vcompacted out of water and ⁵amidst water, ^wby the word of God; ⁶by which means the world that then was, ^xbeing overflowed with water, ^yperished: ⁷but ^zthe heavens that now are, and the earth, by the same word have been ⁶stored up for fire, being reserved against the day of judgement and ^adestruction of ungodly men.

⁸But forget not this one thing, beloved, that one day is with the Lord as a thousand years, and ^ba thousand years as one day. ⁹^cThe Lord is not slack concerning his promise, ^das some count slackness; but ^eis longsuffering to you-ward, ^fnot wishing that any should perish, but ^gthat all should come to repentance. ¹⁰But ^hthe day of the Lord will come as a thief; in the which ⁱthe heavens shall pass away with a great noise, and ^jthe ⁷elements shall be dissolved with fervent heat, and the earth and the works that are therein shall be ⁸burned up. ¹¹Seeing that these things are thus all to be dissolved, ^kwhat manner of persons ought ye to be in ^{all} holy living and godliness, ¹²^llooking for and ⁹earnestly desiring the ⁴coming of the day of God, by reason of which the heavens being on fire shall be dissolved, and ^mthe ⁷elements shall melt with fervent heat? ¹³But, according to his promise, we look for ⁿnew heavens and a new earth, ^owherein dwelleth righteousness.

I ¹THAT which was ^bfrom the beginning, that ^cwhich we have heard, that ^dwhich we have seen with our eyes, ^ethat which we beheld, and ^four hands handled, concerning the ¹Word of life ²(and ^gthe life ^hwas manifested, and we have seen, and ⁱbear witness, and declare unto you the life, the eternal life, ^awhich was with the Father, and ^hwas manifested unto us); ³cthat which we have seen and heard declare we unto you also, that ye also may have fellowship with us: yea, and ^jour fellowship is with the Father, and with his Son Jesus Christ: ⁴and these things we write, ^kthat ²our joy may be fulfilled.

⁵And this is the message which we have heard from him, and announce unto you, that ^mGod is light, and in him is no darkness at all. ⁶If we say that we have fellowship with him, and walk in the darkness, we lie, and ^odo not the truth: ⁷but ^pif we walk in the light, ^qas he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and ^rthe blood of Jesus his Son cleanseth us from all sin. ⁸If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and ^tthe truth is not in us. ⁹If we confess our sins, he is ^vfaithful and righteous to forgive us our sins, and ^rto cleanse us from all unrighteousness. ¹⁰If we say that we have not sinned, ^wwe make him a liar, and ^xhis word is not in us.

¹My little children, these ²things write I unto you, that ye may not sin. And if any man sin, ^vwe have an ³advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous: ²and ^ahe is the propitiation for our sins; and not for ours only, but ^balso for the whole world. ³And hereby know we that we know him, if we ^ckeep his commandments. ⁴He that saith, I know him, and keepeth not his commandments, ^dis a liar, and ^dthe truth is not in him: ⁵but whoso ^ekeepeth his word, in him verily hath ^fthe love of God been perfected. ^gHereby know we that we are in him: ⁶he that saith he ^habideth in him ⁱought himself also to walk even as he walked.

⁷Beloved, ^jno new commandment write I unto you, but ^kan old commandment ^lwhich ye had from the beginning: the old commandment is the word which ye heard.

¹⁵Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. ^xIf any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him. ¹⁶For all that is in the world, ^ythe lust of the flesh, and ^zthe lust of the eyes, and ^athe vainglory of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world. ¹⁷And ^bthe world passeth away, and the lust thereof: but he that doeth the will of God abideth for ever.

 4 Or, I wrote

¹⁸ Little children, ^cit is the last hour: and as ye heard that ^dantichrist cometh, even now have there arisen ^emany antichrists; ^fwhereby we know that it is the last hour.

¹⁹ They went out from us, but they were not of us; for ^hif they had been of us, they would have continued with us: but they went out, ⁱthat they might be made manifest ¹how that they all are not of us. ²⁰ And ye have ^jan anointing from ^kthe Holy One, ²and ^lye know all things. ²¹ I have not written unto you because ye know not the truth, but because ye know it, and ³because no lie is of the truth. ²² Who is the liar but ^mhe that denieth that Jesus is the Christ? This is ^dthe antichrist, even he that denieth the Father and the Son.

²³ ⁿWhosoever denieth the Son, the same hath not the Father: he that confesseth the Son hath the Father also. ²⁴ As for you, let that abide in you ^owhich ye heard from the beginning. If that which ye heard from the beginning abide in you, ^pye also shall abide in the Son, and in the Father. ²⁵ And this is the promise which he promised ⁴us, even ²the life eternal. ²⁶ These things have I written unto you concerning ^rthem that would lead you astray. ²⁷ And as for you, ^sthe anointing which ye received of him abideth in you, and ^tye need not that any one teach you; but as his anointing teacheth you concerning all things, ⁵and ^uis true, and is no lie, and even as it taught you, ⁶ye abide in him. ²⁸ And now, my little children, abide in him; that, ^vif he shall be manifested, ^wwe may have boldness, and not be ashamed ⁷before him at his ⁸^xcoming. ²⁹ If ye know that ^yhe is righteous, ⁹ye know that ^zevery one also that doeth righteousness is begotten of him.

¹ Behold ^awhat manner of 3 love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called ^bchildren of God: and such we are. For this cause ^cthe world knoweth us not, because ^dit knew him not. ² Beloved, ^enow are we ^bchildren of God, and ^fit is not yet made manifest what we shall be.

We know that, ⁹if ¹⁰he shall be manifested, ^hwe shall be like him; for ⁱwe shall see him even as he is.

³ And every one that hath this hope ^jset on him ^kpurifieth himself, even as he is pure. ⁴ Every one that doeth sin doeth also lawlessness: and ^lsin is lawlessness. ⁵ And ye know that ^mhe was manifested to ¹¹ⁿtake away sins; and ^oin him is no sin. ⁶ Whosoever abideth in him sinneth not: ^pwhosoever sinneth hath not seen him, neither ¹²knoweth him. ⁷ My little children, ²let no man lead you astray: ^rhe that doeth righteousness is righteous, even as he is righteous: ⁸^she that doeth sin is of the devil; for the devil sinneth from the beginning. To this end was the Son of God manifested, ^tthat he might destroy the works of the devil. ⁹ ^uWhosoever is begotten of God doeth no sin, because his seed abideth in him: and he cannot sin, because he is begotten of God. ¹⁰ In this the children of God are manifested, and the children of the devil: whosoever doeth not righteousness is not of God, ^vneither he that ^wloveth not his brother. ¹¹ For ^xthis is the message which ye heard from the beginning, ^ythat we should love one another: ¹² not as ^zCain was of the evil one, and slew his brother. And wherefore slew he him? ^aBecause his works were evil, and his brother's righteous.

¹³ Marvel not, brethren, ^bif the world hateth you. ¹⁴ We know that ^cwe have passed out of death into life, because we love the brethren. He that loveth not abideth in death. ¹⁵ ^dWhosoever hateth his brother is a murderer: and ye know that ^eno murderer hath eternal life abiding in him. ¹⁶ Hereby know we love, because ^fhe laid down his life for us: and ^gwe ought to lay down our lives for the brethren. ¹⁷ But ^hwhoso hath the world's goods, and beholdeth his brother in need, and ⁱshutteth up his compassion from him, ^jhow doth the love of God abide in him? ¹⁸ My little children, let us not ^klove in word, neither with the tongue; but in deed and ^ltruth. ¹⁹ Hereby shall we know that we are of the truth, and shall

¹ assure our heart before him, ²⁰ whereinsoever our heart condemn us; because God is greater than our heart, and knoweth all things. ²¹ Beloved, ^m if our heart condemn us not, ⁿ we have boldness toward God; ²² and ^o whatsoever we ask, we receive of him, because we keep his commandments, and ^p do the things that are pleasing in his sight. ²³ And this is his commandment, ^q that we should ² believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ, and ^r love one another, ^s even as he gave us commandment. ²⁴ And ^t he that keepeth his commandments abideth in him, and he in him. And ^u hereby we know that he abideth in us, by the Spirit which he gave us.

⁷ Beloved, ^l let us love one another: for love is of God; and ^m every one that loveth is begotten of God, and knoweth God. ⁸ He that loveth not knoweth not God; for ^o God is love. ⁹ Herein was the love of God manifested ⁴ in us, that ^p God hath sent his only begotten Son into the world, that we might live through him. ¹⁰ Herein is love, ^q not that we loved God, ^p but that he loved us, and sent his Son to be ^r the propitiation for our sins. ¹¹ Beloved, if God so loved us, we also ought to love one another.

¹² No man hath beheld God at any time: if we love one another, God abideth in us, and ^t his love is perfected in us: ¹³ hereby know we that we abide in him, and he in us, because he hath given us of his Spirit. ¹⁴ And ^v we have beheld and bear witness that ^w the Father hath sent the Son to be the Saviour of ^x the world. ¹⁵ Whosoever shall confess that Jesus is the Son of God, God abideth in him, and he in God. ¹⁶ And ^z we know and have believed the love which God hath ⁴ in us. ^a God is love; and ^b he that abideth in love abideth in God, and God abideth in him. ¹⁷ Herein ^c is love made perfect with us, that ^d we may have boldness in the day of judgement; because ^e as he is, even so are we in this world. ¹⁸ There is no fear in love: but ^f perfect love casteth out fear, because fear hath punishment; and he that feareth is not ^c made perfect in love. ¹⁹ We love, because he first loved us. ²⁰ If a man say, I love God, and ^h hateth his brother, he is a liar: for he that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, ⁵ cannot love God ^j whom he hath not seen. ²¹ And ^k this commandment have we from him, that ⁱ he who loveth God love his brother also.

¹ Whosoever believeth that ⁵ Jesus is the Christ ^o is begotten of God: and ^p whosoever loveth him that begat loveth him also that is begotten of him. ² Hereby we know that we love the children of God, when we love God, and do his commandments. ³ For ^r this is the love of God, that we ^s keep his commandments: and ^t his commandments are not grievous. ⁴ For ^u whatsoever is begotten of God overcometh the world: and this is the victory that hath overcome the world, ^v even our faith. ⁵ And who is he that overcometh the world, but he that believeth ^w that Jesus is the Son of God? ⁶ This is he that came ^x by water and blood, even Jesus Christ; not ⁶ with the water only, but ⁶ with the water and ⁶ with the blood. ⁷ And ^y it is the Spirit that beareth witness, because ^z the Spirit is the truth. ⁸ For there are three who bear witness, the Spirit, and the water, and the blood:

and the three agree in one. ⁹ a If we receive the witness of men, the witness of God is greater: for the witness of God is this, ^b that he hath borne witness concerning his Son. ¹⁰ He that believeth on the Son of God ^c hath the witness in him: he that believeth not God ^d hath made him a liar; ^e because he hath not believed in the witness that God hath borne concerning his Son. ¹¹ And the witness is this, that God gave unto us ^f eternal life, and ^g this life is in his Son. ¹² ^h He that hath the Son hath the life; he that hath not the Son of God hath not the life.

¹³ ⁱ These things have I written unto you, that ye may know that ye have eternal life, even unto you that ^j believe on the name of the Son of God. ¹⁴ And this is ^k the boldness which we have toward him, that, ^l if we ask anything according to his will, he heareth us: ¹⁵ and if we know that he heareth us whatsoever we ask, we know that we have the petitions which we have asked of him. ¹⁶ If any man see his brother sinning a sin not unto death, ¹ he shall ask, and ^m God will give him life for them that sin not unto death. ⁿ There is ² a sin unto death: ^o not concerning this do I say that he should make request. ¹⁷ ^p All unrighteousness is sin: and there is ² a sin not unto death.

¹⁸ We know that ^q whosoever is begotten of God sinneth not; but ^r he that was begotten of God ^s keepeth ³ ^t him, and the evil one toucheth him not. ¹⁹ We know that we are of God, and ^u the whole world lieth in the evil one. ²⁰ And we know that the Son of God is come, and ^v hath given us an understanding, that we know ^w him that is true, and we are in him that is true, even in his Son Jesus Christ.  against him a railing judgement, but said; ^y The Lord rebuke thee.
 10^z But these rail at whatsoever things they know not: and what they understand naturally, like the creatures without reason, in these things are they ² destroyed. ¹¹ Woe unto them! for they went in ^a the way of Cain, and ³ ran riotously ^b in the error of Balaam for hire, and ^c perished in the gainsaying of Ko-
 rah. ¹² These are they who are ⁴ hidden rocks ^d in your love-feasts

^l for whom the blackness of darkness hath been reserved for ever.
 14 And to these also Enoch, ^m the seventh from Adam, prophesied,

 with ⁶ ten thousands of his holy ones, ¹⁵ ^o to execute judgement
 upon all, and to convict all the un-godly of all their works of ungodliness which they have ^p ungodly wrought, and of all ^q the hard things which ungodly sinners have spoken against him. ¹⁶ These are murderers, complainers, ^r walking after their lusts (and ^s their mouth speaketh great swelling words), ^t shewing respect of persons for the sake of advantage.

¹⁷ But ye, beloved, ^u remember ye the words which have been spoken before by the apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ; ¹⁸ how that they said to you, ^v In the last time
 there shall be mockers, walking after ⁷ their own ungodly lusts.
 19 These are they who make separations, ⁸ ^w sensual, ^x having not the Spirit. ²⁰ But ye, beloved, ^y building up yourselves on your most holy faith, ^z praying in the Holy Spirit, ²¹ ^a keep yourselves in the ^d the fire; and on some have mercy

^e with fear; hating even ^f the garment spotted by the flesh.

²⁴ ^g Now unto him that is able ^h to guard you from stumbling, and
ⁱ to set you before the presence of

⁸ I am the Alpha and the Omega, saith ⁴ the Lord God, ⁵ ^v which is and which was and ⁶ which is to come, the Almighty.

⁹ I John, your brother and ^z partaker with you in ^a the tribulation and ^b kingdom and ^c patience which are in Jesus, was in the isle that is called Patmos, ^d for the word of God and the testimony of Jesus.

¹⁰ ^e I was in the Spirit ^f on the Lord's day, and I heard behind me a great voice, ^g as of a trumpet

¹¹ saying, ^h What thou seest, write in a book, and send ⁱ it to the seven churches; unto Ephesus, and unto Smyrna, and unto Pergamum, and unto Thyatira, and unto Sardis, and unto Philadelphia, and unto Laodicea. ¹² And I turned to see the voice which spake with me. And having turned I saw ^j seven golden

⁷ candlesticks; ¹³ and in the midst of the ⁷ candlesticks ^j one like unto

⁸ ^k a son of man, ^l clothed with a garment down to the foot, and ^m girt about at the breasts with a golden girdle. ¹⁴ And his head and ⁿ his hair were white as white wool, ^{white} as snow; and ^o his eyes were as a flame of fire; ¹⁵ and ^p his feet like unto burnished brass, as if it had been refined in a furnace; and

^q his voice as the voice of many waters. ¹⁶ And ^r he had in his right hand seven stars: and ^s out of his mouth proceeded a sharp two-edged sword: and ^t his countenance was as the sun shineth ^u in his strength.

¹⁷ And ^v when I saw him, I fell at his feet as one dead. And ^w he laid his right hand upon me, ^w saying, Fear not; ^x I am the first and the last, ¹⁸ and the Living one; and ^y I will give thee ^b the crown of life.

¹¹ ^c He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches. ^c He that overcometh shall not be hurt of ^d the second death.

¹² And to the angel of the church
in Pergamum write ;

These things saith he that hath ^e the sharp two-edged sword : ¹³ I know where thou dwellest, even ^f where Satan's throne is : and thou holdest fast my name, and didst not ^g deny my faith, even in the days ¹ of Antipas ^h my witness, my faithful one, who was killed among you, where Satan dwelleth. ¹⁴ But I have a few things against thee, because thou hast there some that hold the teaching of ⁱ Balaam,
who taught Balak to cast a stumblingblock before the children of Israel, ^j to eat things sacrificed to idols, and ^k to commit fornication.

¹⁵ So hast thou also some that hold the teaching of ^l the Nicolaitans in like manner. ¹⁶ Repent therefore ;
or else ^m I come to thee quickly,
and ⁿ I will make war against them
with ^e the sword of my mouth.
¹⁷ ^c He that hath an ear, let him
hear what the Spirit saith to the churches. ^c To him that overcometh, to him will I give of ^o the hidden manna, and I will give him
a white stone, and upon the stone ^p a new name written, ^q which no
one knoweth but he that receiveth
it.

¹⁸ And to the angel of the church
in Thyatira write ;

These things saith the Son of God, ^r who hath his eyes like a flame of fire, and his feet are like unto burnished brass : ¹⁹ ^s I know thy works, and thy love and faith and ministry and patience, and that thy last works are more than the first. ²⁰ But I have this against thee, that thou sufferest ² the woman ^t Jezebel, which calleth herself a prophetess ; and she teacheth
and seduceth my servants ^u to commit fornication, and ^u to eat things sacrificed to idols. ²¹ And I gave her time that she should repent ;
and ^v she willeth not to repent of her fornication. ²² Behold, I do cast her into a bed, and them that commit adultery with her into great tribulation, except they repent of ³ her works. ²³ And I will kill her children with ⁴ death ; and all the churches shall know that I am he ^w which searcheth the reins and hearts : and ^x I will give unto each one of you according to your works.

²⁴ But to you I say, to the rest that are in Thyatira, as many as have not this teaching, which know not ^y the deep things of Satan, as they say ; I ^z cast upon you none other burden. ²⁵ Howbeit ^a that which ye have, hold fast till I come.
²⁶ And ^b he that overcometh, and he that keepeth my works ^c unto the end, ^d to him will I give authority over the nations : ²⁷ and ^e he shall ^f rule them with a rod of ⁵ iron, ^g as the vessels of the potter are broken to shivers ; as I also have received of my Father : ²⁸ and I will give him ^h the morning star.
²⁹ ^b He that hath an ear, let him
hear what the Spirit saith to the churches.

¹ And to the angel of the 3 church in Sardis write ;

These things saith he ⁱ that hath the seven Spirits of God, and the seven stars : I know thy works,
that thou hast a name ^j that thou livest, ^k and thou art dead. ² Be thou watchful, and stablish the things that remain, which were ready to die : for I have ⁶ found no works of thine ^l fulfilled before my God. ³ ^m Remember therefore how thou hast received, and didst hear ; and keep it, and repent. If therefore thou shalt not watch, ⁿ I will come ^o as a thief, and thou shalt not know what hour I will come upon thee. ⁴ But thou hast
a few ^p names in Sardis which did not ^q defile their garments : and they shall walk with me ^r in white ;
for they are ^s worthy. ⁵ ^t He that overcometh shall thus be arrayed
in white garments ; and I will in no wise ^u blot his name out of ^v the book of life, and ^w I will confess his name before my Father, and before his angels. ⁶ ^t He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith

in Philadelphia write ;

God; and ^othey serve him day and night in his temple: and he that sitteth on the throne ^pshall spread his tabernacle over them. ¹⁶^qThey shall hunger no more, neither thirst any more; neither ^rshall the sun strike upon them, nor any heat: ¹⁷for the Lamb which is in the midst of the throne ^sshall be their shepherd, and shall guide them unto fountains of ^twaters of life: and ^uGod shall wipe away every tear from their eyes.

8 And when he opened ^vthe seventh seal, there followed a silence in heaven about the space of half an hour. ²And I saw ^wthe seven angels ^xwhich stand before God; and there were given unto them seven trumpets.

³And another angel came and stood ¹^yover the altar, having a golden censer; and there was given unto him much incense, that he should ²add it unto ^zthe prayers of all the saints upon ^athe golden altar which was before the throne. ⁴And ^bthe smoke of the incense, ³with the prayers of the saints, went up before God out of the angel's hand. ⁵And the angel ⁴taketh the censer; and ^che filled it with the fire of the altar, and cast it ⁵upon the earth: and ^dthere followed ^ethunders, and voices, and lightnings, and an earthquake.

⁶And the seven angels which had the seven trumpets prepared themselves to sound.

⁷And the first sounded, and there followed ^fhail and ^gfire, mingled with blood, and they were cast ⁵upon the earth: and ^hthe third part of the earth was burnt up, and the third part of ⁱthe trees was burnt up, and all green grass was burnt up.

⁸And the second angel sounded, and as it were ^ja great mountain burning with fire was cast into the sea: and the third part of the sea ^kbecame blood; ⁹and there died the third part of the creatures which were in the sea, ^{even} they that had life; and the third part of ^lthe ships was destroyed.

¹⁰And the third angel sounded, and ^mthere fell from heaven a great star, burning as a torch, and it fell upon the third part of the rivers, and upon ⁿthe fountains of the waters; ¹¹and the name of the star is called Wormwood: and the third part of the waters ^obecame wormwood; and many men died of the waters, ^pbecause they were made bitter.

¹²And the fourth angel sounded, and the third part of ^qthe sun was smitten, and the third part of the moon, and the third part of the stars; that the third part of them should be darkened, and the day should not shine for the third part of it, and the night in like manner.

¹³And I saw, and I heard ⁶an eagle, flying in mid heaven, saying with a great voice, ^rWoe, woe, woe, for them that dwell on the earth, by reason of the other voices of the trumpet of the three angels, who are yet to sound.

¹And the fifth angel sounded, 9 and ^sI saw a star from heaven fallen unto the earth: and there was given to him ^tthe key of the pit of ^uthe abyss. ²And he opened the pit of the abyss; and there went up ^va smoke out of the pit, as the smoke of a great furnace; and ^wthe sun and the air were darkened by reason of the smoke of the pit. ³And out of the smoke came forth ^xlocusts upon the earth; and power was given them, as the scorpions of the earth have power.

⁴And it was said unto them ^ythat they should not hurt ^zthe grass of the earth, neither any green thing, neither any tree, but only such men as have not ^athe seal of God on their foreheads. ⁵And it was given them that they should not kill them, but that they should be tormented ^bfive months: and their torment was as the torment of a scorpion, when it striketh a man.

⁶And in those days ^cmen shall seek death, and shall in no wise find it; and they shall desire to die, and death fleeth from them. ⁷And ^dthe ⁷shapes of the locusts were like unto horses prepared for war; and ^eupon their heads as it were crowns like unto gold, and their faces were ^fas men's faces. ⁸And they had hair as the hair of women, and ^gtheir teeth were as the teeth of lions. ⁹And they had breastplates, as it were breastplates of iron; and

ed; and ^u there followed great voices in heaven, and they said, ^v The kingdom of the world is become the kingdom of our Lord, and of ^w his Christ: and ^x he shall reign ⁴ for ever and ever. ¹⁶ And the four and twenty elders, ^y which sit before God on their thrones, ^z fell upon their faces, and worshipped God, ¹⁷ saying, We give thee thanks, O Lord God, the Almighty, ^a which art and which wast; because thou hast taken thy great power, and ^b didst reign. ¹⁸ And the nations were wroth, and ^c thy wrath came, and ^d the time of the dead to be judged, and the time to give their reward to thy servants the prophets, and to the saints, and to ^e them that fear thy name, the small and the great; and ^f to destroy them that destroy the earth.

¹⁹ And ^g there was opened the temple of God that is in heaven; and there was seen in his temple ^h the ark of his ⁵ covenant; and there followed lightnings, and voices, and thunders, and an earthquake, and ⁱ great hail.

dragon warred and his angels; 8 and they prevailed not, neither was their place found any more in heaven. 9 And ^ythe great dragon was cast down, ^zthe old serpent, he that is called the Devil and Satan, ^athe deceiver of the whole ¹world; ^bhe was cast down to the earth, and his angels were cast down with him. 10 And I heard a great voice in heaven, saying, ²Now is come ^cthe salvation, and the power, and the kingdom of our God, and the authority of his Christ: for the accuser of our brethren is cast down, ^dwhich accuseth them before our God day and night. 11 And ^ethey overcame him because of the blood of the Lamb, and because of the word of their testimony; and ^fthey loved not their life ^geven unto death. 12 Therefore ^hrejoice, O heavens, and ye that ⁱdwell in them. ^jWoe for the earth and for the sea: because the devil is gone down unto you, having great wrath, ^kknowing that he hath but a short time.

13 And when the dragon saw that he was cast down to the earth, he persecuted ^kthe woman which brought forth the man child. 14 And there were given to the woman the two ^lwings of the great eagle, that she might fly ^minto the wilderness unto her place, where she is nourished ⁿfor a time, and times, and half a time, from the face of the serpent. 15 And the serpent cast out of his mouth after the woman water ^oas a river, that he might cause her to be carried away by the stream. 16 And the earth helped the woman, and the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed up the river which the dragon cast out of his mouth. 17 And the dragon waxed wroth with the woman, and went away ^pto make war with the rest of ^qher seed, ^rwhich keep the commandments of God, and hold ^sthe testimony of Jesus: ^tand he stood upon the sand of the sea.

And I saw ^ta beast coming up out of the sea, ^uhaving ten horns and seven heads, and on his horns ten diadems, and upon his heads ^vnames of blasphemy. 2 And the beast which I saw was ^wlike

unto a leopard, and his feet were as ^xthe feet of ^ya bear, and his mouth as the mouth of ^za lion: and ^athe dragon gave him his power, and ^bhis throne, and great authority. 3 And I saw one of his heads as though it had been ^csmitten unto death; and his death-stroke was healed: and ^dthe whole earth wondered after the beast; 4 and they worshipped the dragon, because he gave his authority unto the beast; and they worshipped the beast, saying, ^eWho is like unto the beast? and who is able to war with him? 5 and there was given to him ^fa mouth speaking great things and blasphemies; and there was given to him authority ^gto continue ^hforty and two months. 6 And he opened his mouth for blasphemies against God, to blaspheme his name, and his tabernacle, ⁱeven them that ^jdwell in the heaven. 7 ^kAnd it was given unto him ^lto make war with the saints, and to overcome them: and there was given to him authority over every tribe and people and tongue and nation. 8 And all ^mthat dwell on the earth shall worship him, ⁿevery one whose name hath not been ^owritten in ^pthe book of life of ^qthe Lamb ^rthat hath been slain from the foundation of the world. 9 ^kIf any man hath an ear, let him hear. 10 ^sIf any man ^tis for captivity, into captivity he goeth: ^uif any man shall kill with the sword, with the sword must he be killed. ^vHere is the patience and the faith of the saints.

11 And ^oI saw another beast coming up out of the earth; and he had two horns like unto a lamb, and he spake as a dragon. 12 And he exerciseth all the authority of the first beast in his sight. And he maketh the earth and them that dwell therein to worship the first beast, ^pwhose death-stroke was healed. 13 And ^qhe doeth great signs, that he should even ^rmake fire to come down out of heaven upon the earth in the sight of men. 14 And ^she deceiveth them that dwell on the earth by reason of the signs which it was given him to do in the sight of the beast; saying to them that dwell on the

He that hath understanding, let him count the number of the beast; for it is the number ^aof a man: and his number is ²Six hundred and sixty and six.

14 ^bAnd I saw, and behold, ^bthe Lamb standing on ^cthe mount Zion, and with him ^da hundred and forty and four thousand, ^ehaving his name, and the name of his Father, written ^fon their foreheads. 2 And I heard a voice from heaven, ^gas the voice of many waters, and ^has the voice of a great thunder: and the voice which I heard was as the voice of ⁱharpers harping with their harps: 3 and they sing as it were ^ja new song before the throne, and before the four living creatures and the elders: and ^kno man could learn the song save the hundred and forty and four thousand, even they that had been purchased out of the earth. 4 These are they which were not defiled with women; for ^lthey are virgins. These are they ^mwhich follow the Lamb whithersoever he goeth. These were purchased from among men, to be ⁿthe firstfruits unto God and unto the Lamb. 5 And ^oin their mouth was found no lie: they are ^pwithout blemish. 6 And I saw another angel ^qflying in mid heaven, having an eternal gospel to proclaim unto ^rthem that ³dwell on the earth, and unto every nation and tribe and tongue and people; 7 and he saith with a great voice, ^sFear God, and ^tgive him glory; for the hour of his judgement is come: and ^uworship him that made the heaven and the earth and sea and ^vfountains of waters.

8 And another, a second angel, followed, saying, ^wFallen, fallen is ^xBabylon the great, ^ywhich hath made all the nations to drink of ^zthe wine of the wrath of her fornication.

9 And another angel, a third, followed them, saying with a great voice, If any man ^aworshippeth the beast and his image, and receiveth ^ba mark on his forehead, or upon his hand, 10 he also shall drink ^cof the wine of the wrath of God, ^dwhich is ⁴prepared unmixed in the cup of his anger; and ^ehe shall be tormented with fire and brimstone in the presence of the holy angels, and in the presence of the Lamb: 11 and ^fthe smoke of their torment goeth up ⁵for ever and ever; and ^gthey have no rest day and night, they that ^aworship the beast and his image, and whoso receiveth the mark of his name. 12 ^hHere is the patience of the saints, they that ⁱkeep the commandments of God, and the faith of Jesus.

13 And I heard a voice from heaven saying, Write, ^jBlessed are the dead ^kwhich die ⁶in the Lord from henceforth: yea, saith the Spirit, ^lthat they may rest from their labours; for ^mtheir works follow with them.

sharp sickle, saying, Send forth thy sharp sickle, and gather the clusters of the vine of the earth; ¹for her grapes are fully ripe. ¹⁹And the angel cast his sickle into the earth, and gathered the ¹vintage of the earth, and cast it into the "winepress, the great winepress, of the wrath of God. ²⁰And ^othe winepress was trodden ^wwithout the city, and there came out blood from the winepress, even unto the bridles of ^xthe horses, as far as a thousand and six hundred furlongs.

15 ¹And ^yI saw another sign in heaven, great and marvellous, ^zseven angels having seven plagues, which are the last, for in them is finished the wrath of God.

²And I saw ^aas it were a glassy sea mingled with fire; and them ^bthat come victorious from the beast, and from his image, and from ^cthe number of his name, standing ²by the glassy sea, ^dhaving harps of God. ³And they sing ^ethe song of Moses ^fthe servant of God, and the song of the Lamb, saying, ^gGreat and marvellous are thy works, O Lord God, the Almighty; ^hrighteous and true are thy ways, ⁱthou King of the ³ages. ⁴Who shall not fear, O Lord, and glorify thy name? for thou only art ^kholy; for ^lall the nations shall come and worship before thee; for thy righteous acts have been made manifest.

⁵And after these things I saw, and ^mthe temple of ⁿthe tabernacle of the testimony in heaven was opened: ⁶and there came out from the temple ^othe seven angels that had the seven plagues, arrayed ⁴with ^pprecious stone, ^qpure and bright, and ^rgirt about their breasts with golden girdles. ⁷And one of ^sthe four living creatures gave unto the seven angels seven ^tgolden bowls full of the wrath of God, ^uwho liveth ⁵for ever and ever. ⁸And ^vthe temple was filled with smoke from the glory of God, and from his power; and ^wnone was able to enter into the temple, till the seven plagues of the seven angels should be finished.

16 ¹And I heard a great voice out of the temple, saying to ^xthe seven angels, Go ye, and ^ypour out ^zthe seven bowls of the wrath of God into the earth.

²And the first went, and poured out his bowl into the earth; and ⁶it became a noisome and grievous ^asore upon the men which had ^bthe mark of the beast, and which worshipped his image.

³And the second poured out his bowl into the sea; and ⁶^cit became blood as of a dead man; and ^devery ⁷living soul died, even the things that were in the sea.

⁴And the third poured out his bowl into ^ethe rivers and the fountains of the waters; ⁸and ⁶^fit became blood. ⁵And I heard the angel of the waters saying, ^gRighteous art thou, ^hwhich art and which wast, ⁱthou Holy One, because thou didst thus ⁹judge: ⁶for ^jthey poured out the blood of ^ksaints and prophets, and ^lblood hast thou given them to drink: ^mthey are worthy. ⁷And I heard ⁿthe altar saying, Yea, O Lord God, the Almighty, ^otrue and righteous are thy judgements.

⁸And the fourth poured out his bowl upon the sun; and it was given unto ¹⁰it to scorch men ^pwith fire. ⁹And men were scorched with great heat: and ^qthey blasphemed the name of the God which hath the power over these plagues; and ^rthey repented not ^sto give him glory.

¹⁰And the fifth poured out his bowl upon ^tthe throne of the beast; and ^uhis kingdom was darkened; and they gnawed their tongues for pain, ¹¹and they blasphemed ^vthe God of heaven because of their pains and ^wtheir sores; and ^rthey repented not of their works.

¹²And the sixth poured out his bowl upon ^xthe great river, the river Euphrates; and ^ythe water thereof was dried up, ^zthat the way might be made ready for the kings that come ^afrom the sunrising. ¹³And I saw coming out of the mouth of ^bthe dragon, and out of the mouth of ^cthe beast, and out of the mouth of ^dthe false prophet, three ^eunclean spirits, as it were

God, the Almighty. 15 (Behold, ^kI come as a thief. ^lBlessed is he that watcheth, and keepeth his garments, ^mlest he walk naked, and gathered them together into the place which is called in Hebrew Har-^o Magedon.

17 And the seventh poured out his bowl upon ^pthe air; and there came forth a great voice out of the temple, from the throne, saying, ^qIt is done: 18 and there were ^rlightnings, and voices, and thunders;
and ^sthere was a great earthquake, ^tsuch as was not since ⁴there were men upon the earth, so great an earthquake, so mighty. 19 And ^uthe great city ^vwas divided into three parts, and the cities of the nations fell: and ^wBabylon the great ^xwas remembered in the sight of God, ^yto give unto her the cup of the wine of the fierceness of his wrath. 20 And ^zevery island fled away, and the mountains were not found. 21 And ^agreat hail, every stone about the weight of a talent, cometh down out of heaven upon
men: and ^bmen blasphemed God
because of ^cthe plague of the hail;
for the plague thereof is exceeding great.

1 And there came ^done of 17 the seven angels that had ^ethe seven bowls, and spake with me, saying, Come hither, I will shew thee the judgement of ^fthe great harlot ^gthat sitteth upon many waters; ²^hwith whom the kings of the earth committed fornication,
and ⁱthey that dwell in the earth ^jwere made drunken with the wine
of her fornication. 3 And ^khe carried me away in the Spirit ^linto a wilderness: and I saw a woman sitting upon ^ma scarlet-coloured beast, ⁵full of ⁿnames of blasphemy,
^ohaving seven heads and ten horns.
4 And the woman ^pwas arrayed in purple and scarlet, and ^qdecked with gold and precious stone and pearls, having in her hand ^ra golden cup full of abominations, ⁷even the unclean things of her fornication, 5 and upon her forehead a name

written, ^sMYSTERY, ^tBABYLON THE GREAT, THE MOTHER OF THE HAR-
LOTS AND OF THE ABOMINATIONS
OF THE EARTH. 6 And I saw the woman drunken ^uwith the blood of the saints, and with the blood of ^vthe ⁹martyrs of Jesus. And when I saw her, I wondered with a great wonder. 7 And the angel said unto me, Wherefore didst thou wonder?
I will tell thee ^wthe mystery of the woman, and of the beast that carrieth her, which hath the seven heads and the ten horns. 8 The beast that thou sawest ^xwas, and is not; and ^yis about to come up out of ^zthe abyss, ¹⁰and ^ato go into perdition. And ^bthey that dwell on the earth shall wonder, they whose name hath not been written ¹¹in ^cthe book of life ^dfrom the foundation of the world, when they behold
the beast, how that ^ehe was, and is not, and ¹²shall come. 9 ^eHere is the ¹³mind which hath wisdom. The seven heads are seven mountains,
on which the woman sitteth: ¹⁰and ¹⁴they are seven kings; the five are fallen, the one is, the other is not yet come; and when he cometh, he must continue a little while. 11 And the beast ^fthat was, and is not, is himself also an eighth, and is of the seven; and he goeth into perdition. 12 And ^gthe ten horns that thou sawest are ten kings, which have received no kingdom as yet;
but they receive authority as kings,
with the beast, ^hfor one hour.
13 These have one mind, and they give their power and authority unto the beast. 14 These ⁱshall war against the Lamb, and ^jthe Lamb shall overcome them, for he is ^kLord
of lords, and ^kKing of kings; and they also shall overcome that are with him, ^lcalled and chosen and faithful. 15 And he saith unto me, ^mThe waters which thou sawest,
where the harlot sitteth, are peoples, and multitudes, and nations,
and tongues. 16 And ^gthe ten horns
which thou sawest, and the beast, ⁿthese shall hate the harlot, and shall make her ^odesolate and ^pna-ked, and ^qshall eat her flesh, and ^rshall burn her utterly with fire.

17 For ^s God did put in their hearts to do his mind, and ^t to give their kingdom unto the beast, until the words of God should be accomplished. 18 And the woman whom thou sawest is ^u the great city, which ¹ reigneth over the kings of the earth.

18 After these things I saw ^v another angel coming down out of heaven, having great authority; and ^w the earth was lightened with his glory. 2 And he cried with a mighty voice, saying, ^x Fallen, fallen is Babylon the great, and is become ^y a habitation of ² devils, and a ³ hold ^z of every unclean spirit, and a ³ hold ^a of every unclean and hateful bird. 3 For ^{4 b} by ⁵ the wine of the wrath of her fornication all the nations are fallen; and ^c the kings of the earth committed fornication with her, and ^d the merchants of the earth waxed rich by the power of her ⁶ wantonness.

4 And I heard another voice from heaven, saying, ^e Come forth, my people, out of her, that ye have no fellowship with her sins, and that ye receive not of her plagues: 5 for ^f her sins ⁷ have reached even unto heaven, and ^g God hath remembered her iniquities. 6 ^h Render unto her even as she rendered, and double ⁱ unto her ^j the double according to her works: ^j in the cup which she mingled, mingle unto her double. 7 ^k How much soever she glorified herself, and waxed ⁸ wanton, so much give her of torment and mourning: for she saith in her heart, ^l I sit a queen, and am no widow, and shall in no wise see mourning. 8 Therefore ^m in one day shall her plagues come, death, and mourning, and famine; and ⁿ she shall be utterly burned with fire; for ^o strong is ⁹ the Lord God which judged her. 9 And ^p the kings of the earth, who committed fornication and lived ¹⁰ wantonly with her, shall weep and wail over her, when they look upon the smoke of her burning, 10 ^q standing afar off for the fear of her torment, saying, Woe, woe, ^r the great city, Babylon, the strong city! for ^u in one hour is thy judgement come. 11 And ^v the merchants of the earth weep and mourn over her, for no man buyeth their ¹¹ merchandise any more; ¹² ¹¹ merchandise of gold, and silver, and precious stone, and pearls, and fine linen, and purple, and silk, and scarlet; and all thyine wood, and every vessel of ivory, and every vessel made of most precious wood, and of brass, and iron, and marble; ¹³ and cinnamon, and ¹² spice, and incense, and ointment, and frankincense, and wine, and oil, and fine flour, and wheat, and cattle, and sheep; and ^{merchandise} of horses and chariots and ¹³ slaves; and ¹⁴ souls of men. 14 And the fruits which thy soul lusted after are gone from thee, and all things that were dainty and sumptuous are perished from thee, and ^{men} shall find them no more at all. 15 ^w The merchants of these things, who were made rich by her, ^x shall stand afar off for the fear of her torment, weeping and mourning; 16 saying, Woe, woe, the great city, ^y she that was arrayed in fine linen and purple and scarlet, and ¹⁵ decked with gold and precious stone and pearl! 17 for ^z in one hour so great riches ^a is made desolate. And ^b every shipmaster, and every one that saileth any whither, and mariners, and as many as ¹⁶ gain their living by sea, stood afar off, 18 and ^c cried out ^d as they looked upon the smoke of her burning, saying, ^e What ^{city} is like the great city? 19 And they cast ^f dust on their heads, and cried, weeping and mourning, saying, Woe, woe, the great city, ^g wherein were made rich all that had their ships in the sea by reason of her costliness! for ^h in one hour is she made desolate. 20 ⁱ Rejoice over her, thou heaven, and ye saints, and ^j ye apostles, and ye prophets; for ^k God hath judged your judgement on her.

21 And ¹⁷ ^l a strong angel ^m took up a stone as it were a great millstone, and cast it into the sea, saying, Thus with a mighty fall shall Babylon, ⁿ the great city, be cast down, and shall be found no more at all. 22 And ^o the voice of harpers and minstrels and flute-players and 20 ¹ And I saw an angel coming down out of heaven, ^whaving the key of ^athe abyss and a great chain ¹ in his hand. ² And he laid hold on ^vthe dragon, the old serpent, which is the Devil and Satan, and ^zbound him for a thousand years, ³ and cast him into ^athe abyss, and shut ^{it}, and ^asealed ^{it} over him, that ^bhe should deceive the nations no more, until the thousand years should be finished: after this he must be loosed for a little time.

⁴ And I saw ^cthrones, and ^dthey sat upon them, and ^ejudgement was given unto them: and ⁱI saw ^fthe souls of them that had been beheaded for the testimony of Jesus, and for the word of God, and ^gsuch as worshipped not the beast, neither his image, and received not the mark upon their forehead and upon their hand; and ^hthey lived, and ⁱreigned with Christ a thousand years. ⁵ The rest of the dead lived not until the thousand years should be finished. This is the first resurrection. ⁶ ^jBlessed and holy is he that hath part in the first resurrection: over these ^kthe second death hath no ²power; but they shall be ^lpriests of God and of Christ, and ^mshall reign with him ^aa thousand years.

¹¹ And I saw a great white throne, and him that sat upon it, from whose face ^vthe earth and the heaven fled away; and ^zthere was found no place for them. ¹² And I saw the dead, the great and the small, standing before the throne; and ^abooks were opened: and another book was opened, which is ^bthe book of life: and ^cthe dead were judged out of the things which were written in the books, ^daccording to their works. ¹³ And the sea gave up the dead which were in it; and ^edeath and Hades gave up the dead which were in them: and they were judged every man ^daccording to their works. ¹⁴ And ^edeath and Hades ^fwere cast into the lake of fire. This is ^gthe second death, even the lake of fire. ¹⁵ And if any was not found written in the book of life, ^hhe was cast into the lake of fire.

See Preface to New Testament.*

CLASSES OF PASSAGES.

- I. Strike out "S." (i.e. Saint) from the title of the Gospels and from the heading of the pages.
- II. Strike out "the Apostle" from the title of the Pauline Epistles, and "of Paul the Apostle" from the title of the Epistle to the Hebrews; strike out the word "General" from the title of the Epistles of James, Peter, 1 John, and Jude; and let the title of the Revelation run "The Revelation of John."
- III. For "Holy Ghost" adopt uniformly the rendering "Holy Spirit."
- IV. At the word "worship" in Matt. ii. 2, etc., add the marginal note "The Greek word denotes an act of reverence, whether paid to man (see chap. xviii. 26) or to God (see chap. iv. 10)."
- V. Put into the text uniformly the marginal rendering "through" in place of "by" when it relates to prophecy, viz. in Matt. ii. 5, 17, 23; iii. 3; iv. 14; viii. 17; xii. 17; xiii. 35; xxi. 4; xxiv. 15; xxvii. 9; Luke xviii. 31; Acts ii. 16; xxviii. 25.
- VI. For "tempt" ("temptation") substitute "try" or "make trial of" ("trial") wherever enticement to what is wrong is not evidently spoken of; viz. in the following instances: Matt. iv. 7; xvi. 1; xix. 3; xxii. 18, 35; Mark viii. 11; x. 2; xii. 15; Luke iv. 12; x. 25; xi. 16; xxii. 28; John viii. 6; Acts v. 9; xv. 10; 1 Cor. x. 9; Heb. iii. 8, 9; 1 Pet. i. 6.
- VII. Substitute modern forms of speech for the following archaisms, viz. "who" or "that" for "which" when used of persons; "are" for "be" in the present indicative; "know" "knew" for "wot" "wist"; "drag" or "drag away" for "hale."
- VIII. Substitute for "devil" ("devils") the word "demon" ("demons") wherever the latter word is given in the margin (or represents the Greek words δαίμων, δαμονιον); and for "possessed with a devil" (or "devils") substitute either "demoniac" or "possessed with a demon" (or "demons").
- IX. After "baptize" let the marg. "Or, in" and the text "with" exchange places.
- X. Let the word "testament" be everywhere changed to "covenant" (without an alternate in the margin), except in Heb. ix. 15-17.
- XI. Wherever "patience" occurs as the rendering of ὑπομονή add "steadfastness" as an alternate in the margin, except in 2 Cor. i. 6; James v. 11; Luke viii. 15; Heb. xii. 1.
- XII. Let ἀσάριον (Matt. x. 29; Luke xii. 6) be translated "penny," and δηνάριον "shilling," except in Matt. xxii. 19; Mark xii. 15; Luke xx. 24, where the name of the coin, "a denarius," should be given.
- XIII. Against the expression "the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ" add the marginal rendering "Or, God and the Father" etc.; viz. in Rom. xv. 6; 2 Cor. i. 3; xi. 31; Eph. i. 3; Col. i. 3; 1 Pet. i. 3. And against the expression "our God and Father" add the marg. "Or, God and our Father"; viz. in Gal. i. 4; Phil. iv. 20; 1 Thess. i. 3; iii. 11, 13; Jas. i. 27. And against the expression "his God and Father" add the marg. "Or, God and his Father", viz. in Rev. i. 6.
- XIV. Let the use of "fulfil" be confined to those cases in which it denotes "accomplish," "bring to pass," or the like.
